TOWN AND COUNTRY.

The C. L. Company are doing some fencing near the store this spring. A few hitching posts will save that fence. Only seven divorce cases at this time of year—fourteen persons, that are reported to affirm that "marriage is a failure."

The Prospector office is now in the hands of the carpenters and they are skilled in making rackets. It won't last always. A Fitzburg editor says: "Husbands are not made to order. We'll bet he can't convince most wives that they are not."

Purify the blood, tone the nerves, and give strength to the weakened organs and body by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla now. When you purchase meat from Weibig Thompson you can depend on it being good and price as reasonable as any market.

Several drinks this week were picked up. About 5 o'clock yesterday morning we saw one chap measuring his length on Oak Street.

Remember, our suits are made in the plain figure at W. L. Stone, and we have lots of them. You can buy them now for 10 per cent. less.

Remember, the Norwegian-Danish concert, next Saturday night. The program is one of the finest ever brought out in this city.

No. 2 abductor in W. L. had No. 2 broke yesterday making a haul worth of $100. It will probably be heard of again to some purpose.

Several parties from Griefsmark are here attending court this week. J. S. Bennett, Fred Lee and others.

Commissioner Oberg is having the grade lowered on Main street, and one of which he caught and hung to the dirt and stones taken from the street and laid up Oak street, between Cedar and Maple.

There is something of a rumour brewing in regard to what Justice of the Peace will occupy a certain room in the court house. The board may settle the matter probably, when they meet.

Highway Commissioners will soon begin to order the Overseers to begin road work. They cannot get any tonnage or even time late in the season, provided they have the right kind of men to do the work.

D. J. Ward, printer, decorator and paper hanger, is ready for contracts in his line. He is agent for American Will paper, American Chicago, Will paper and paper at New York and Chicago prices.

The trial of John W. Jochim, ex-convict of state, for misbehavior in office resulted in a disagreement of the jury. As no one of the Me. J. jury was a juror, the case should be dismissed.

We learn that the social given at Thompson, Saturday evening, was largely attended and everybody was pleased with the way it was conducted.

At the recent teacher's examination, April 12th, the only applicant from Sney, Geo. Washly Moore, passed very high. Her average was ninety-seven and a half. She speaks exceedingly well of her teacher, Principal Thibault.

Special meeting of the Chapter No. 54 of O. S. will be held on Saturday afternoon, April 21st. Refreshments will be served. A cordial invitation is extended to all Masons and their Families.

Several of our ex-convicts are here attending court this week. J. S. Bennett, Fred Lee and others.

Many men are now working hard, some of them on jobs that they never work at before. Hadn't time to give away preferences as to what a man will do.

The concert at the Norwegian-Danish church next Saturday evening, at 8 o'clock, is one of the best of a good sort.

Read the enclosed advertisement of the C. L. Co. store on the 14th page of this paper. It is a new departure and means business through and through.

The talk now is that the village committee should be held in the open house, so that all can get in and express their preference as to who shall have the preference.

Don't wait until the last week in June and then begin to talk about a celebration on the 4th of July. It takes time to arrange for such demonstrations.

Go to Weibig & Thompson's for the best cuts of beef, veal and pork. They render their own lard and guarantee the purity. Everything as cheap as the cheapest.

A slight change in the time of the United Lumber here now. (Going east) the time of leaving here is 11:30 a. m. and west at 2:10 p. m. They arrive here 20 minutes earlier.

Two weeks ago advertised money to loan and apply to the bank. The bank was not open at the time and we were unable to know what the time of day he had put in his general notes. He knocked us clear out of saying that a 11-pound daughter had just arrived at his house. We tipped our hat and exclaimed "Blessed be the name of our Lord Jesus Christ!"

Rev. Mr. Tomsson will be here next week to take charge of the Norwegian-Danish church, in place of the Rev. Mr. Larson, who has accepted a call to some church in Wisconsin.

Monday we noticed that dirt was being hauled to fill up the low places on Oak street lying between Maple and Cedar streets. It will take many loads to bring it up to grade.

There are many asking when the Hunter will be out on the market. We have heard that he is in. Our report could not find out; but we presume the time is not far distant.

Oak street which properly graded will be one of the finest streets in the city, and the time is not far distant when the people from the country out of all will enter the city that way.

Congressman Holman was in town writing on the 14th. He says: "The Congress in session as late as June 15th will be fatal to Democratic prospects next year." Holman is wrong.

A Detroit man who voted for tariff reform said "it will be damned" if he ever admits he voted wrong. Says that "a lot of this depression is the tariff's fault." States was caused by the tariff's fault.

Supervisors are busy now making their assessments of property for taxes. If you think they place the value too high go before the Board of Review, on April 24th, and have the matter adjusted. That is the only time when kicking does any good.

allow him to swim between the splines, one of which he caught and hung to until fished out by the bystanders. The latest social fad is known as a "distortion social." The way it works is this: A committee of six appoints to access fines, and none but them infracton has cost him or her two dollars. There are fines for comitate, awkwardness at the table, for married men talking to other men's wives and for not being mostly everything. If a person thinks a fine unjust he appeals to a jury, but the juryman cost two cents each. Try one, ladies, there should be money in it and a lather of fun.

An examination for teachers will be held at the Court House, on Friday and Saturday, the twenty-fifth and twenty-sixth of May. The examination will begin at nine o'clock, on the morning of the twenty-seventh, and close at noon the following day.

Teachers' Institute. The institute began its work Monday forenoon in the central building. Prof. Putnam in the charge, assisted by Mrs. Kimball. The attendance consisted of Messrs. W. Stever, Jeremiah A. Hayes, Abner C. Yoder, David C. Byers, Jacob L. Barnhart and the Misses Agnes Forshar, Anna H. Town, Susie B. Miller, Estlin Gilman, Bradshaw, Helen, Lizzy Miller, Maud Smith, Kate H. Hynes, Amanda M. Robbins, Mary O'Neil, Lucie Overton, Gertrude A. Shiner, Margie Mohler, Nellie Ramsey, Belle O'Neil, Emma Tuttle, Mary I. Foley, Mary McCallan, Eva L. Orr, Gertrude H. Davies, Eva L. Kibler, Edith F. Hedrick, Ethel Theobor, Stella B. Dodge, Selie Dunlop, Mary Saunders and Zula Rhodes.

The lecture given last evening at the Presbyterian church, by Prof. Putnam 54 D. S. will have been there as was fairly well attended, but not had as many as should have been there, and every teacher present had left kindly the great responsibility that rested upon them in training the youthful mind, farable, high, and as an educator stands very high with the people of this state. The music given by the choir was excellent, and was given by the choir, was given by the choir, was given by the choir.

Prof. Putnam, Sup. of Instruction will speak in the same house tonight, at the Court House, on Friday evening, the 21st. Those who are attending the daily Sessions of the Institute, consider them a great help to the teachers of this county. It would be well to meet the fathers again at their meetings.

Milo Gilboe contemplates the erection of a frame residence this summer. Milo is one of those good-hearted farmers. He is a native of this county, and has a full force of men now on his section, and work there in property even and work there in property even.

W. W. Gray, Supervisor, is now attending to the duties of his office, as of yore, and probably will for many years.

We hear that Paul Hulsecher and D. Patterson are open the Eagle Hotel May 1st. Will say more about it in the future. The saw-mill Schlosser & Figgie is being repaired for a season's cutting and will probably begin operations in June. It's only last week the little Robin with its rusty breast possessed courage enough to warble notes of glad spring time. We are informed by old sugar maker that his mill will be ready to make a burnt taste. We are sorry to report the illness of Mrs. Peter Shamba. She has been suffering for a long time from rheumatism and is gripe. We hope that we may be able to make a favorable report before long. Maurice O'Brien rented the Eagle Hotel last week, and moved back to Erley and Saffler's residence, where he will be found at all times by transients who desire to hire a lively rig to remove to some place. I will go home when I can go home where else. We have one of our gang with as much money as would buy the heart of a lady elephant. Newsy bright my light. Tuesday morning Joseph Puntanen and Miss Rank were visited in their rooms at the Catholic church. The contracting parties are well known here, and very much respected by all who have known them. The serbo, along with the other community organizations, will have a young couple. J. F. Black, Geo. Kohler, T. O'Brien, J. R. Thomsen, D. Koonbury, J. Brusso and Pat. Lyford, all of Lake and St. Ignace, departed from here last Saturday night for the Sturgeon River drive; as these boys are professional drivers there will be no trouble finding the key to a jam of logs.

J. P. Hulsecher offers a liberal reward to any one who gives intelligent information as to who kept by the road side while watching the intruder steal his bag of beer last Tuesday night. Paul you can put your hand on him—ours will be a cigar.

Gray & House are now engaged with their drilling machine putting wells in the vicinity of Garden. Sol Spill-nick is doing the blacksmith work. These gentlemen know their business and from away back, and any one doing a well put down on him we will do well to consult the above.

One of our political office seekers says he will begin electioneering in the fall of '94 so as to gain a foot-hold in the spring election in '95. That is, if there is a great deal of self at the bottom of it all. It requires but the little brains and less wit to set up a political campaign during these days of defeat.

Mr. Dawson, of Detroit, was here on Monday. Mr. Goshel, of Doyle, was a caller, yesterday. Millard Duell, of Thompson, was here, Monday. Gilmore C. Cooper, of Doyle, was a caller on Saturday. Supervisor Neveaux, of Doyle, was in the city, Monday.

Sup't. McCallum was over from Thompson, yesterday. John Patterson, of Thompson, was in the city on Monday last. Prof. Voyer of Coles, is here this week, attending the Institute.

Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong, of Thompson, were in the city on Monday last. Attorney, M. Foster, was about to be called to return to Manistique to live.

Simon Bousher, Sr., and Telle Farley, of Thompson, were in the city, Monday. Charles Barnham, of Thompson, was in the city, Monday. Charles Barnham, of Thompson, was in the city, Monday.

Rev. J. M. Moore arrived back from the 20th of May evening; having preached there on Sunday. Jack Hannell, blacksmith, was summoned to his former home in Ontario on account of the severe illness of his father. Thomas Jochim stepped over yesterday here with his parents. He is now on the run between Gladstone and the Sun. Mrs. Scie Dune, of Corinne and Miss Mary Saunders, of Gould City, Mackinac county, are here attending the Institute. Ed. Jones, Editor of the "Scenery Enterprise," and John Redman spent Friday and Saturday with friends here and left for home Sunday morning. Hon. J. W. McMillan, of the 'Soe was here at the opening of court, yesterday. He always enjoys a good practice in this county, where he has a host of friends. D. W. Bennett, of Thompson, left today for Detroit. Mr. B. has been in ill-health and it is thought that a rest and change of location for a short time will do him good. Thanks for a pleasant call yesterday from one of our friends, L. C. Beardsley, and were greatly pleased at specimens of work on which he has been engaged during the past winter. Let us be an industrious student in mechanics.

Arrest of a Poacher While Slaughtering Buffalo in Yellowstone Park
A Washington special says George S. Anderson, captain Sixth United States cavalry and acting superintendent of the Yellowstone park, has made a report of what is considered the most important arrest and capture ever made in the park. He says:
"Some time since one of my snowshoe parties got on the trail of a man who, on a straggling creek, near Pelican. The trail was old when discovered, and in consequence it was not followed. About the same time a man, sometimes to be seen at Howell of Cook City, passed my station of Soda Butte in the night and went on into Cook. I know that in the condition of the snow he was not carrying out any trophies, and determined to make further search of the Pelican. On the 6th inst. I started out a party consisting of Captain Booth, Lieutenant Forsyth, E. Burgess, the scout, two sergeants and Hayes, the park photographer. On the 11th inst. Captain Booth, Lieutenant Forsyth, Burgess and Sergeant Fricko arrived at the lake. The most morning in a terrific storm Burgess and the scout started across to the Pelican country and camped about two miles northeast of Fern Lake. The next morning he found near his camp a cache of six buffalo scalps and skulls, three good skins and three more that the hair had been partially taken off, being made into beds. The trail was three days old, and about noon of that day he ran into a fresh trail, which he followed to a lodge erected near the mouth of Astrington creek. While there he heard several shots, and saw the culprit throw in the middle of the Pelican valley.
"He rode performed an act of bravery that deserves special mention and recognition. The poacher was undoubtedly armed with a repeating rifle. It was equally certain that he was a desperate character, and would resist arrest, even to the point of taking life. The only arm that Burgess and the scout carried was a single army revolver. Notwithstanding the serious risk, they both set out for the poacher's lodge, and in a skirmish his buffalo that he did not see Burgess until he was within 10 or 20 feet of him. He then started for his rifle but on an order from Burgess stopped and surrendered. Near him were the bodies of five buffalo, fresh killed. That night he was taken to the Lake hotel and subsequently brought to this place, where I now hold him confined in the guardhouse, awaiting your orders in the case. He was brought in by Burgess and one man of my party on the evening of the 10th."
A TRAGEDY IN TURKEY.
Example of the Criminals Practiced Against Armenians in the Sultan's Domain
Stories multiply of the fearful persecution of the Armenians in the Sultan's domain. Here is an example, and there are many similar.
The Kurds attacked the Armenian village of Horovf and demanded that the beautiful daughter of the priest be delivered to them. The girl, hearing that the villagers intended to comply with the order to convey further satisfaction,
