Ex-Governor Andrew C. Curtin Ex-Gavernor Androw C. Cartin, the war governor of Pennsylthin the war governor of Pennsylyanio, who is now in his 78 year, looks back on a politicely caree of unusuan length. As long age as 7838 he had won a reputation as public speaker, and in 1848 he was one of the presidential electors on the Zaghary Taylow ticket. His influence in bringing about the nomination of Abraham Lincolu, and his distinguished services during file-mr are well known. The exgovernor is often seen in Philadelphia, but his health of late has given_his friends some concern.

A bemocratic organ says hard times are periodic, somewhat like seyenteen-year locusts. Weli, yes; that's so, and by a singular coincidence the bemocratic party comes to the surface nitie alond of the hard times, last as the grains error out of the ground before the swarms of locusta appear. Defineering is the larva of hard times.
