Complaint is sometimes made that one social event receives more extended notice in a newspaper than another similar event of equal or perhaps greater importance. This is undoubtedly true and it is easily explained. Better facilities for getting information are extended to one class than in the other. There are many demands upon a reporter's time and he has little to spare in looking up society news, except such as comes directly in his way. When details of social news are to be obtained without much effort, or better still, brought to him, he is gladly obliged. Otherwise the mention is necessarily brief and lacking in detail. Those who complain have the remedy in their own hands.—Ex. "The long needed codification of the pension laws is about to be undertaken, bills for that purpose have been favorably reported to both houses of congress. The laws relating to pensions and pensioners have been so frequently amended that great confusion exists, and none but experts can determine precisely what they provide. Their codification would simplify the process of procuring pensions, and assist the worthy soldiers to make their claims. It will not be a popular move with the pension attorneys, however, who are growing fat upon the fees they procure by reason of their familiarity with the intricacies of the laws; but the pensioners rather than the pension hunters should be consulted in such of the total number of people in the United States in 1890, 62,429,250, 59,299 percent, or 37,129,564, were single, and 35,666,686 were married. The widows numbered 2,970,052, or 4.70 percent of the divorced 129,996, and information was obtained about 70,214. It is a measure of the frequency of divorces in Chicago, that city has 1,073 divorced women and 576 divorced men, more than New York and Brooklyn combined. Philadelphia has more divorced people than New York.—Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

If you wish to do any kind of painting, either indoors or outdoors, Vitas Bros' paint, and don't let your dealer give you any other. It will go farther and it stands the weather better than any sold in Manistique. Sold by Middlebrook & Rose. It cost no more than other paints.

Some people buy Fruit Trees of any agent that comes along, then kick themselves afterwards because the trees die. One great trouble is the trees are exposed to the sun and wind to long before the purchaser gets them, then not knowing just how to care for them they die after they are set out. Now if you want to overcome this difficulty and get satisfaction, patronize home trade and call on GREENWOOD & SON, Manistique, Mich. They have their trees in a house and they will sell them to you.

and then will undoubtedly be shocked to hear that analogy is being used by the Paris municipal council for roadways. This sounds almost like a dream of order and magnificence, yet it is true. A portion of the Rue Lafayette has been pulled up, and workmen are laying down blocks of real Brazilian mahogany of a fine texture and color. It is, however, an expensive material for roadways, but it is expected that the extra outlay will be more than compensated by the greater durability of the mahogany.—Mississippi Valley Lumberman.

Hereafter the room occupied by the Casper Bros. will contain dry goods and furniture exclusively. M. L. Egan, one of the proprietors will have charge of the business, assisted by C. H. Rappin, an experienced clerk at the head of the clothing department, and Miss West will have charge of the dry goods, shoes, Miss Jeffrey an experienced milliner will conduct the millinery department, and Miss Taylor will be cashier for both the stores.

By the appearance of a mirage over the big millinery yesterday afternoon, many were given an opportunity to see the statue of early descending High Island, in an inverted position, mapped against a clear, blue sky. At almost any time from noon until noon, the down sea Coast point presented a beautiful picture, its verdant tress, equally as bright with their tops pointing downward. The small boats, showing their heights and the atmosphere was so clear that with the naked eye one could see the little fish boats gliding easily over the water like ordinary gulls, and they were also reflected quite what they called a mirror, above. In many places the phenomenal mirage is uncommon, but is so along the entire coast. The mirage is due to the mirage and landmasses have ventured their opinions regarding it and all of them, or nearly all, differ.
