TOWN AND COUNTRY.
The fish business here is really at a standstill.
Remember the G. I. R. meeting Friday evening.

Pigjars are working on the Keystone House.

Station street is being ditched and put in good shape.

Norman McDonald, of Cooks, was in theory, Monday.

We learn that Mr. Atwood lost one of his horses yesterday.

The rain last night did a great deal of good to growing crops.

It looks as though the Hunter will remain tied up for some time.

Some repairs were made to the rudder of the tug Elmer, yesterday.

The grading of Arbutus and Garden avenues is going forward nicely.

Mrs. Ethan Gorham, who was ill portion of last week, is improving.

James Alanson, of the Green Bay Conneaut, came with train of grain for the Green Bay Mill, Saturday morning.

Mr. W. H. Miller, of Cleveland, and Mr. C. H. Fyeld, of the dock, or the owners, H. W. & C. H. Hart.

There is talk of another excursion or two soon. One to the Beavers, to Mackinac and perhaps another to Petoskey.

A joint committee of the Macabees and Eastern Star are to have a meeting to talk over an excursion to the Beavers.

"Jack" O'Brien, manager of the Star Opera House, left on one of the Hart boats, Sunday, for Port Huron, where he will visit relatives. Before his return he will visit Bradford, Indiana.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Weston and daughter, May, of Painted Post, New York, came on the boat yesterday afternoon, and are staying at the Ocean Winnebago. They will remain about four weeks.

Turley Hayes expects to leave Detroit for the upper Indiana on a fishing excursion.

The residence occupied by Bert, on Oak street, between Lake and Division streets, looks handsome in its new coat of paint.

Passengers on the Biel speak very highly of Capt. and Mrs. Woolridge. They are most hospitable people and have a host of friends.

John Stoen, who for some time has been foreman of the Booth Co.'s packing house in this city, resigned his position Monday last.

Montague Hall, who has been staying for a few weeks on the banks of Indian Lake, is running vagrant.

Painter Ward is painting the exterior wood work of Orr Bros. & Co.'s meat market.

The base ball boys are practicing every day for the game next Saturday afternoon.

The return of the tariff bill to the House will not add to the popularity of the bill.

Klagstad & Co. are doing a good business at their store, corner Lake and Oak streets.

Henry McCullough, having a deafness of hearing and ditching down now or his best side.

A gentleman from Fairport is in charge of the Booth Co.'s warehouse.

We still hope that the Driving Park will open to horses and carriages on opening days.

The Bush will leave for Tonawanda, N. Y., Friday evening, unless some thing unforeseen occurs.

The back-hands of the great spring meadow birds are broken, look for great improvement in business.

N. L. Casper, of the firm of Casper Bros., went over to Gardner, yesterday, on a business trip.

F. S. Dimbar, of Cleveland, and Howard Culver, of Corliss, spent yesterday afternoon at the store of Casper Bros.

John L. Crockett, Jr. and Guy

E. Broughton, of Buffalo, are making the round trip on the Bush.

Miss Modell Boerner, for some time with Rose Bros., is now in the jewelry store of Lewis & Mills.

William Maxwell, of the Bush, returned from a business trip to Chicago, yesterday afternoon.

Blumrosen Bros. are advertising a July clearing sale of all spring and summer goods. Read their new ad.

They are now busy on the court house and it will soon throw off that old tumbled down appearance.

If you have a job of painting to do you can secure the services of a first class man by applying at this office.

Lost—A Cashmere baby carriage spread with flowers in corner worked with silk. Reward $100 if found.

The Orangeman in and about Stoltz Ste Marie to celebrate the 12th of July in an appropriate manner at the "Soo."

John Ness moved his family yesterday for Petoskey to visit with her mother, Mr. Rosenthal, one of the leading merchants of that city. She was accompanied by her children.

Remember the special meeting of the village council, Friday evening, for the purpose of talking over the matter of fire protection for the village. All tax payers are requested to attend.

A. S. Byers was down from the Colony yesterday and made us a short call. He reported all quiet and prosperous in the settlement with good prospects of remunerative crops.

"Jack" O'Brien, manager of the Star Opera House, left on one of the Hart boats, Sunday, for Port Huron, where he will visit relatives. Before his return he will visit Bradford, Indiana.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Weston and daughter, May, of Painted Post, New York, came on the boat yesterday afternoon, and are staying at the Ocean Winnebago. They will remain about four weeks.

Some of the prominent republicans of this city think that the county convention for the nomination of county officers should not be called until about three or four weeks before election. Others think that six weeks should be allowed for the campaign.

Mr. Beaumont, a grocer, and son, daughter on Twenty-second street, came on the boat yesterday.

They left on the early boat for Bay City on Tuesday morning. Both the competing parties are well known in this city, and have a host of young friends who wish a pleasant and successful future.

Cap. De La Garde arrived in this city, yesterday afternoon, by train from Buffalo. He reported a contingent of Tracy's army moving toward Washington over the M. C. C. R. The train consisted of twelve freight cars, and carried 600 of the toughest looking characters he ever saw in one train. It was only a short distance from the straits. The party came from the vicinity of Seattle, Wash., and were pulled over the D. S. & A. from Duluth.

To say that the men of Manistique are a hard lot of fellows is putting it too strong. On Monday evening last two great big men stood on the walk on Oak street and saw a young lady fall off a horse and never offered to help her up. And will they call themselves cowards.

Turnley Hayes expects to leave Detroit for the upper Indiana on a fishing excursion.

Semi-Weekly Pioneer.

A VISIT TO THE BIG SPRING.

A "Sojourner" writes up Kitchi-ki-ki in an interesting manner and did not forget the Hinawatha Village Association.

Several Sojourners visited Manistique last Saturday and returned Sunday. That night there was a meeting of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Dutton, of Manistique; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McAllister, of Thompson and others. The principal feature of the trip was a visit to Kitchi-ki-ki, the Big Spring, the most celebrated of the process to test the Chippewas. This spring is really one of the wonders of Michigan and is the most remarkable in the state. The visitors from the Sojourners made a trip on Sunday morning with Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Dutton, Postmaster and Mrs. A. S. Parmenter, Mrs. Alice Kindall Superintendent of the Manual Training schools, and W. H. Hill, of the Chicago Lumber Co. A party of six miles to Thompson along a typical road lined with almost every variety of timber, and then left the forest on the party trail, which led through numerous and interesting opportunities to drink in the exhilarating air of the woods. At Thompson which is made up of the operations of the Delta Lumber Co., where Governor Nichols' treasurer, the party was joined by Capt. McAllister, of that company. Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Bonnard, Mr. and Mrs. B. Finch and Miss Eliza Bonnard, all of Munising, were also with the party at the start of their city. A special car and engine were ready, on which the party started after certain mysterious packages were smuggled aboard. Engine Finch preceded at the throttle, and away the train sped, up and down grades, almost steep enough to walk over, and then along sharp curves, emerging for a distance of nine miles. At the "Whitewater" camp a stop was made for dinner, and the way the good things prepared by Mrs. Edward Smith were stored away was a joint compliment to the skill of that excellent cook and to the appealing influences of the surroundings. After dinner the train ran down to the mill at Tahquamenon, where the logs are pulled out of the river to be handled to the mill at that point. While looking over the model arrangements for doing the work required, it is learned from Capt. McAllister, that the Delta Lumber Co. makes about 250,000,000 feet of lumber annually. The spring is now in sight for about five years more. The company has 18 miles of logging railroad and every mile of timberland in the possession of the best and most economical manager. Whether the Sojourners contemplated to attack the red pine or hemlock and balsam, the party, however, did not go to severing it and to tell that the rivers frequently pass through the Indians' river at that point, with their pike poles, but did investigate long enough to see a fish caught in the lake, which said a few days before a trout had taken in the water, a sturgeon weighing 100 pounds, portions of which are cleared and under cultivation. Waller points. For a while it is quiet, but the tussle to see whether the big fish wouldn't take its assailant, but the driver was a husky chip and he finally triumphed.

Kitchi-ki-ki was reached about 1:30 o'clock p. m. The big spring is nearly circular and is about 300 feet in diameter. It is 65 feet deep, a great deal of water, air and green as emerald. When the sun shines and the wind blows it ripples the surface of the water, at least six distinct shades of green, varying from the lightest to the darkest, are to be seen. It is asserted that under certain conditions properly favorable all of the prismatic rays are reflected. The water so clear that a penny or a dime may be watched in its flight to the bottom. There is a peculiar property of magnifying possessed by the spring makes the objects look several times its real size. The grains of sand can plainly be seen in the bottom and the places where the water boils in at the bottom looks like so many little craters. There are dozens of pines adorning the water bank, varying in size from the diameter of a finger to three feet.

In the good Indian days many Indians worth of silver were cast upon the altar of the spirit of the spring, but those times compel visitors to be content with pieces of tin, which they must sever for the occasion. Gauded trunks of cedar project into the spring. These are draped with mosses in the most fantastic manner, all dressed in the brightest shades of green. They have been built a raft with a large square hole in the center through which the bushes of the spring may be seen to the best advantage. The water has been analyzed several times. It is charged with sulphur, magnesia and other valuable ingredients and is said to possess unimitable medicinal virtues. It is often counted by the D. M. & M. Drug store.

Many are the Indian legends told of Kitchi-ki-ki. One says to the west of the spring there were two brave-spirited men who were brothers, who had a secret plan of revenge. When a boy became master of the mysteries of the medicine man, he dug a root and brewed a medicine that would produce a slow decline and slow death. This he sheltered in getting
