The campaign stump machine is running full blast, but many of them do not seem to be doing much good.

By the White Marble Lime Co., Best Four at C. L. Co., W. L. Co., and time kilns at $2.50 per barrel.

Every Monday in the city should attend the review next Tuesday evening. Plenty of work and a general good time expected.

Regular meeting of A. O. U. W. next Monday night. It is thought there will be several initiations.

Next week everybody will come to town to attend the Trade Ton entertainment. It will be held on Thursday night at a monster street party.

W. J. McKelvey completed on Wednesday an addition to Mr. Hingston's residence on Oak Street. Will be a good apartment as well as farmer.

Next week the populists and democrats will show their hands in the literary contest. The populists will be the ones to attack the democrats.

We have new novelties in dress goods, trimming, silks, for trimming, etc., that are the newest and latest things brought out. It will do you good to see them.

SIX WENT TO A WATERY GRAVE

The Sinking of the Schooner William Home Causes the Drowning of Six off Seal Point.

The one survivor saves his life by clinging to the Yacht Boat after Her Hull Capsized—One Body Found.

In the Buell tow which left here at about 8 o'clock Tuesday evening was the schooner William Home, Capt. C. H. Henderson, it being the second vessel from the steamer followed by the Alvin. The fleet had hardly got on its course before the lake increased to a terrible grade and the wind blew a furious squall.

Miss Lettie Davis, a very estimable young lady from Lyndonville, Vermont, who was on board the schooner, was the only one who was not killed.

Rev. Mr. Braunsen left Thursday evening to resume his studies at the Normal school, in Wisconsin. He has made many friends during his stay in this city, and we shall be glad to have him here again in the near future.

The New York democracy has nominated Senator David B. Hill for governor, much against his wishes. It is a direct slap in the face of Grover Cleveland.

The populists of Schoolcraft county present a ticket for county officers to be voted on this evening. They are the only ticket that is made up of men that have served faithfully through one term and will merit another.

Next week the populists and democrats will show their hands in the literary contest. The populists will be the ones to attack the democrats.

A witness testimony and a very grave charge were made last Wednesday night. New elections, namely, play ball in Chicago. The hat was passed out the pines were said to gain admittance into the town. It was said that the KKK had been seen on the 22nd by the KKK member Dr. H. H. H. of Chicago.

According to the peculiar article of one of our young men will suggest a basket of water that he was told that he must keep by his mama's apron strings a year yet before attempting to go home with a young lady.

S. W. Howard, R. R. Art. and his wife removed from our vicinity last Tuesday to Minneapolis, where they will be permanent citizens. Mr. C. was forced to give up his position on account of ill health.

One Josephine P. H. H. is a winning lady. She was yesterday in a winning way.

Miss Mabel DeWolfe of Van's Harbor held week visiting with her sister Mrs. H. DeWolfe.

A denotable caucus is called for 2:30, elect 3 delegates to attend the democratic county convention to be held in Manitowish, Oct. 1.

The finest and largest onion we have ever seen in Shawano county was handled by supervisor Gray this week—weighing fifteen ounces. We have the will in this county for growing and all that is wanted is men to take an interest in farming to obtain good results from the fruits of their labor.

A good horse, one specially adapted for family use, will be sold cheap. The animal can be seen and terms made known by a call at the Eagle Livery.

Aphorisms—Laziness—Proverbs
A woman who has no industry is in the land of the living dead.

Experience is what you know after you have made a fool of yourself.
Ante up two cents a pack on playing cards. There's a new deal.

The devil is not so much concerned about our profession as he is about our practice.
Referring to gambling one heard of the winners, but they say very little about the losers.

Nothing is more disgusting than a leg held below, when he suddenly attains an elevated station.
This is a most remarkable piece of gold, is it, why so? Remarkable in the fact that it is made of gold.

One of our boys knows a thing or two for I saw her out walking with a couple of dukes last night.
A Kentuckian seems very concerned about human life as when he gets an injury in a murder case.

No one denies that medicine is in every sense a noble profession, but as a mere trade it takes low rank.
When a man begins to feel better than his party he at the same time begins to feel like holding office for life.

You may make such adaptations by means of a new context as to make the idea me, even when the language is odd.
Go and see the living pictures when you have a chance—they just take the rag off everything and everybody.

I profess to love his country, but people who make this claim usually equalize matters by hating their friends.
Hard work toward a noble end, and making the most of each passing day, hour and moment, is the sure road to success.

Life, at its best, being a blessing, the taking of life by one's own hand is a tacit confession that life has become a curse.
Husbands should remember that it is their duty to make the household attractive; then their wives will be glad to stay at home.

About the only smoke consumer that really consumes is the cigarette, and it doesn't seem to agree with him very well, either.
We went to have a purpose, and then we have that purpose, and then we want to follow out that purpose, until our efforts are successful.

Give a womanly woman some love—her best performance and always Women would rather do than believe for their do foolish men often err.
There are people who, if they had been present during the week that God was making things would just have stood round in the way and given advice.

As soon as a medical man descends to a mere money getting, he mortifies that real love of his profession which lies at the root of his scientific progress.
It is unfortunate that your neighbor can tell when you have fired onions for supper, and can't tell when you have cantaloupes, grapes, ice cream, cake, etc., etc.

The anxiety caused by the business troubles of the past year, and the worry from these troubles, have undermined the health of many men engaged in manufacturing.
Poverty, despair, illness, and every other vice spring from gaining the wrong way, and in the same profession, as to rock themselves into a watery grave the world would be none the wiser, and a good many people who are content with their lot would not be so. It usually happens that the best looking bed managers to get up and down others besides themselves, and this is the public's most serious worldly concern.
