The music loving people of Manistique were given a rare treat last Wednesday evening in the concert given by Olson's orchestra. The concert merited a larger patronage than it received. Features of the program was the violin duet by Prof. Olson and Miss Tena Ross, also the solos rendered by Miss Ruggles. The orchestra deserve special mention for the excellent manner in which it rendered several difficult selections.

Her Efforts Appreciated.

The Cameron Resolution.

The strong sentiment in the United States in favor of intervention in the struggle of the Cubans against Spanish tyranny has found expression, recently, in a resolution recognizing the independence of Cuba, passed by the Senate. Cameron to the committee on foreign relations, and reported favorably upon to the Senate by that committee. The resolution, and the favor which was accorded it by the committee, has created a good deal of excitement—in Spain, perhaps, more than in this country—as being the most aggressive exhibition yet made of the feeling which prevails in this nation in regard to Cuban matters; but that it will lead to any startling results is unlikely. In the first place, no immediate action is to be taken upon the resolution. It has "gone over" until after the holidays, together with other resolutions, which are in the nature of modifications of it; so there will be plenty of time for the two Houses of Congress to take the "sober second thought" as to the wisdom of adopting it. Even if the two Houses should adopt it, which seems improbable, the question of its validity as an expression of this government would still have to be settled. Secretary of the State Olney has made the statement—and a man in his position should know whereof he speaks—that the chief executive alone has the power to recognize the independence of a new state. If this be true, should the resolution be adopted, it could be regarded as official, and the government held responsible for it, only as it received the sanction of the President, which, of course, it would not receive, while the situation is as it is. So the outlook is that the independence of Cuba is not to be recognized, yet awhile, and that, unless some unforeseen crisis arises, the conservative policy of Grover Cleveland will be continued. There is much to be commended in his disposition to "make haste slowly" in dealing with the Cuban problem. It is true that there are precedents for the action which the Cameron resolution proposes; that the interests of the United States suffer by the continuance of the war; that Spain provoked the insurrection by a violation of promises and has proved herself unworthy of the allegiance of Cuba; and that she is apparently making no headway toward the subjugation of the island. But it is equally true that no government has been established by the insurgents whose independence can be acknowledged; that the Cameron resolution seeks the recognition of the non-existent; and that it is a serious thing in this age of the world to take steps which would in all probability lead this country into a war with one foreign power, with the consequent destruction of life and property, and possibly into complications with other foreign powers, and this responsibility should not be assumed too lightly. Things seem likely to reach a pass, however, where it will be the duty of the United States to put an end to Spanish domination of an island which nature evidently intended should be under the protection of the stars and stripes. Just as soon as they do, there should be prompt action, whatever the consequences; but the fact that the war feeling has been running high in this country for some time calls for marked deliberation on the part of "the powers that be."

The Leader is the name of Grand Marais' second paper.

In Brown County Kansas, a family named Bryan have had a newly christened McKinley.

Germany has signified its intention of assisting Spain in case this country recognizes the Cuban patriots.

The government contemplates foreclosing its mortgage on the Union, Central and Kansas Pacific railroads.

William Edward Gladstone, England's "grand old man," celebrated his eighty-seventh birthday anniversary Tuesday.

An effort will be made during the coming session of the legislature to secure an appropriation for the proposed upper peninsula normal school.

One of Chicago's department stores will sell 1897 bicycles at $25 each. The firm will endeavor to dispose of 20,000 wheels at a profit of $1 per wheel.

A fellow named Clancy, of Escanaba, evidently wants some free advertising. He has announced his intention of suing several upper peninsula newspapers for criminal libel.

Bryan's initial lecture was a failure financially. The receipts were $1,534, and the expenses about the same. Bryan received $1,000. As a rule political celebrities draw poor houses.

The man who is to manage Bryan's lecture tour used to be known in New York as a broker in odd and curious wares. There can be but little doubt that he is well qualified for his present job.—Cleveland Leader.

P. A. Badour, editor of the Menominee Enterprise, has been arrested for hunting deer without a license. Badour does not deny the fact that he was out for wolves and subscribers.

The Sturgeon Bay Advocate remarks: Don't discourage the people of your town by giving it the black eye on every occasion. If you don't believe in the future of the place move out, and let some one more enterprising take your place.

An oratorical contest in which representatives of fifteen high schools of the upper peninsula will participate, is to be held at Ishpeming, on Friday Feb. 12th in commemoration of Lincoln's birthday. Two prizes are offered—$25 and $15.

Banking Commissioner Ainger, in his last call for reports from state banks, asked for a new item. He intends to stop the practice of listing borrowed money as deposits. It will tend to give the public a more accurate idea of the condition of the banks.

The Menominee County Journal says that a resident of that city became so incensed at reading the account of the killing of Maceo, that he went to his chicken coop and decapitated seven Spanish chickens. The Journal does add that what became of these seven chickens, but undoubtedly the owner sold them.

It is more blessed to give than to receive the Salvation Army of this city must indeed be happy after its generous Christmas benefactions to 500 needy boys and girls. Such is practical Christianity, the good results of which are felt and seen at once. Prayers for the relief of the poor, such as the Salvation Army has abundantly bestowed upon them from time to time. It is time for the public to fire a volley of heartfelt thanks for what the Army has done for the destitute youth of this town. A good way to acknowledge the Army's good work is to help it along with cash contributions. The Salvation Army deserves more encouragement of this kind than it is receiving.—Detroit Journal.

It looks as though Allison, of Iowa, would be tendered the secretary of state portfolio by McKinley.

Crystal Falls is to have another newspaper. Editor Watson figuratively shakes hands with his proposed opponent while a dagger is concealed up his sleeve ready for any emergency.

Governor Rich whose term of office ceases with today proved himself to be a capable and conservative executive during the four years that he has served the people. He retires to private life with the respect and best wishes of all.

Alfred Meads, until the recent fire which nearly wiped out Ontonagon, editor of the Ontonagon Miner, is seeking the appointment of register at the land office at Marquette, and his candidacy is bitterly opposed by the Ontonagon Herald, on the ground that he has always been a republican for revenue only, and has often been unfaithful to the party when his self-interests were not sufficiently catered to. If the Herald represents the sentiment of any considerable number of Mr. Meads' former neighbors and townsmen, it does not present a very strong recommendation for preferment.—Iron Mountain Tribune.

Our Populistic friends are in high glee that several bank failures have occurred at Chicago and Minneapolis. They see in this the failure of that prosperity that was promised in case of McKinley's election. The banks in question were wrecked through the dishonesty of officials. It was not promised prior to election that all men would be made honest if McKinley was elected. The fact remains however, that hundreds of factories have been reopened and that thousands of idle men have secured employment since November 3rd. Prosperity is bound to come, even if its advent brings bitterness and gall in its train for the Demopop.

The Lower peninsula has a debased opinion of the upper peninsula. This section of the state is a sparsely settled wilderness upon their mental maps. This is not the case. The corporations doing business in this section of the state pay a large proportion of the state tax. The peninsula is dotted with cities peopled with energetic, intelligent and public spirited men and women. The mining school at Eoughton appears a useless appendage to our brethren below the straits. To us, who live in a section of the state where agricultural pursuits are practically nil, the state agricultural college may seem equally as useless, yet the upper peninsula tax payers have never hinted their dislike or expressed themselves as being opposed to that useful state institution. The lower peninsula is strictly agricultural and it is entirely proper that such an institution should be maintained by the state. The upper peninsula teems with mineral wealth, and it is proper that our young men, who desire an education that will make them conversant with minerals and the methods of extracting same, should be given an opportunity of acquiring such knowledge. We want an agricultural college and a mining school for all time to come. The upper peninsula wants and needs a state normal school. There are two such institutions in the state and it is needless to say that they are located in the lower peninsula. Representative Chamberlain of Gogebic will urge the matter before the coming session of the legislature and it is hoped that his efforts will not be in vain. Again, if the lower peninsula had a correct comprehension of the upper peninsula, of its resources, and of its wealth and civilization, it would not be such a herculean task to secure needed legislation for this peninsula, and the talk of abolishing the mining school would cease.

The fact has been revealed that one of the Bryan electors of Kansas, is a deserter from the Union army, and under the laws of the state is disqualified from serving as an elector, and in consequence Bryan will receive one less vote in the electoral college on January 11th.

It is said that the new notes in the denomination of $10 contain instead of the portraits of statesmen, those of G. H. McCormick, the inventor of the reaper and of E. H. Whitney, the inventor of the cotton gin. Up to this writing we have failed in becoming the possessor of a bill of that magnitude in order to ratify the statement.

It has leaked out that Germany is secretly backing the Sultan. This modern Herod has assumed a defiant air and refuses to consent to any measure of control, financial or otherwise, by the powers. He hints that secession upon their part may participate a religious war. Let the war come. Should civilization and abolitionism engage in a death struggle the result would not be long in doubt. In any event Turkey should be blotted from the map of the world.

R. H. Downing, of the Michigan Cedar Company, returned from the coast recently. Some time ago he started for a trip to Alaska to act as witness in a lawsuit to come off there. He reached the Cascade mountains just a day after the flood had washed out tracks and bridges, and was two days late at Tacoma, and thus too late for his steamer to Alaska. While he waited there he learned that the suit had been postponed till the spring term of court, and so returned just in time to get snowed in for three days at Mandan, N. D.—N. W. Lumberman.

Do you like to be fooled? Can you pick out from experience the firms that have bamboozled you out of your money?

After being bamboozled once will you allow them to fool you again? My advice to you is buy Shoes where you pay no fancy prices where you get only the best values for your money, where you are sure of buying style, quality and thereby get the best goods at the lowest prices.

I wish you all a prosperous New Year.
