MANISTIQUE, MICHIGAN, FRIDAY, JULY 23, 1897.

$1.50 PER YEAR.

The Excursion.
There seems to be some misunderstanding concerning the hour for leaving Mackinac Island tomorrow afternoon. We are authorized to say that the boat will leave this port tonight at 8:30 o'clock, and that it will leave Mackinac Island at 1 o'clock tomorrow afternoon on the return trip. The little breeze is "off land" and will in no way have a tendency to make the voyage a rough one.

BREVITIES.

Mrs. Chas. J. Fox and W. W. Fox of Detroit are in the city.

Mrs. D. J. Ward and children will return from Duluth early next week.

All aboard for Mackinac. The boat leaves the dock at 8:30 o'clock this evening.

Harry is a close buyer and understands the wants of the trade in this city. That his purchases will fill that want goes without saying.

Miss Marie Selden of Escanaba was in the city Wednesday afternoon. She was enroute from Escanaba to Houghton via the Hart line and took advantage of the brief stop at this port to call upon Mrs. W. E. Clarke. It will be remembered that Miss Selden read a very able paper before the Y. P. S. C. E. convention held here in conjunction with the session of Lake Superior Presbytery in 1895.

Miss Mack was second, her guess being 1001. Miss Mattson received a pair of the best shoes in the store for her effort. A large number of guesses were handed in and they ranged from 150 to 2000. The majority of the guesses were under 500.

The entertainment given by Mr. and Mrs. Francis Lahaie, under the auspices of the local Pythian lodge, at the opera house last Tuesday evening, was well attended. Mr. and Mrs. Lahaie had few equals on the stage of today and their efforts were very highly complimented by those witnessing their performance here. The trial scene from the Merchant of Venice was the feature of the evening. Mrs. Lahaie was charming in her interpretation of Portia. The Pythians deserve commendation for furnishing the public an opportunity of witnessing such a pleasing entertainment.

Rogers' vacation, and preached a number of very able sermons. He has made a radical improvement in this direction within the past year.

Some miscreant punctured one of the large plate glass windows of Dennis Hoffron's saloon last night, about 11 o'clock. The hole is about two feet from the top of the glass, and is irregular as if made by a stone or a rod. Officer Davidson was a block or more away from the building at the time and distinctly heard the sound. The glass is valued at $80. Who the guilty fellow is is not known, but Dennis says that he will give any one $25 that will confess that he did the deed, and will guarantee that he will not arrest him, either.

The question of electric lighting is being agitated to some extent at present. Mr. McAllister of South Manistique, is desirous of securing a franchise for the purpose of operating a power party. We also learn that a new party is making an effort to secure a franchise. Then, there are people that think the village should be bonded for the purpose of constructing a plant, to be owned and operated by the village. Some are in favor of organizing a company of local capitalists to construct a plant. It looks very much as though a system of electric lighting would be in operation here within a year, but who the owner of same will be, is more conjecture. There, perhaps, is not a better machinist in the upper peninsula than Mr. McAllister, and we have granted a franchise the plant would be an ideal one and the service first class.

Mr. Cleveland was tendered the presidency of the university of Virginia.

Alpena has a poet with the unique name of McMantra.

The Sun is eligible for free delivery and is making a vigorous effort to secure its rights.

Balloonist Andrus made a start for the north pole. It is high time that a relief expedition should be fitted out to succor him.

"Tetty" Roosevelt of New York, now assistant secretary of the Navy, reviewed the Michigan Naval reserves at Mackinac island a few days ago.

The next important affair in local circles will be the election of three members of the school board the first week in September. Who'll be elected.

Mrs. Lease announces that she will be a candidate for the Populist nomination for governor of Kansas next year. The constitution does not bar women from holding this office.

The efficiency of the Munising Republican office has been increased by the addition of a gasoline engine and new type. The Republican is easily the best paper published at Munising.

The Manistique Methodist, published by Rev. J. M. Shank and his mimeograph, reaches our editorial table at rare intervals. The current number is newsy and brim full of information for his parishioners.

The Baptist Mission Board found itself in debt to the amount of $500.00 at the beginning of this year. Rockefeller, who is a devout Baptist, said that he would donate $250.00 toward the liquidation of the debt if the remainder was raised. This was done, and the board is free of debt.

A law and order league has been organized at Munising. It appears that the officers of that town are deficient in the performance of their duties and the object of the league is to arouse them to a sense of the proper discharge of their official duties. An affidavit from the health officer is now in order.

The village should compel its prisoners to work. A healthy, able-bodied young man has been in jail all week. He refused to assist the turkey in his duties about the court yard, and as there is no ordinance compelling prisoners to work, he was allowed to loaf about the jail. A rock pile should be provided, and fellows like the one in question should be compelled to work every minute of every day that they are prisoners.

The second half of 1897 begins with confidence throughout the country, stronger than it has been at any time for years. There are already signs of improvement in the business world—improvement that is not only prospective, but actually tangible. These are assurance of splendid progress in almost every line of business in the near future.

The outlook for the crops have never been better; the prospects for improvement in railroad earnings and in those of industrial corporations have never been brighter.—New York Times, (Democrat.)

All things considered, then, the tariff has ceased to be a political issue. The majority of the people believe or acquiesce in a protective tariff, and most of those who do not are not interested in it at present, or likely soon to be. The fight is on other lines. The tariff which is now in conference will be likely to remain on the statute book for a long time if it produces revenue enough for the government; and if it does not produce revenue enough the modifications will not be dictated by politics. Protection is master of the field.—New York Sun.

Indications all point to the fact that Michigan's peach crop will be very light this season.

What has become of the "Harbor Spring liar." The sea serpent has not been mentioned so far this season.

The Mining Journal's Pere Marquette edition was a handsome number. It was finely illustrated and contained much valuable reading matter.

Editor Van Valkenberg of the Journal, is a candidate for the post-mastership of Escanaba. We learn that his chances for securing the plum are first class. He deserves all that comes his way.

A Vassar graduate's essay at Commencement this year was entitled "My Bark Is Launched: Where Will It Anchor?" It will probably anchor about a typewriter machine or to the lee of matrimony.

The Kansas wheat crop will be 60,000,000 bushels and the corn crop is estimated at about 600,000,000 bushels. Populism will be as dead as a salted mackerel in that state before January 1st of next year.

Bryan is going to Mexico to make a personal study of the condition of business affairs in a free silver country, and to accumulate data on the subject. He'll come back a gold bug if he's sincere and open to conviction.

Who wouldn't be president. A southern admirer of President McKinley sent him a 78 pound watermelon. The monster melon was shipped in a golden hamper adorned with flags. The express charges were also pre-paid.

While the opposition organs are denouncing what they are pleased to designate as the "atrocious" tariff bill it is noted they are not singing the praises of the present debt increasing, revenue decreasing, panic breeding, bankruptcy producing, Wilson tariff bill.—Saginaw Courier.

Banker Spaulding of Chicago, who was arrested some time ago on the charge of wrecking his bank and hypothecating several hundred thousand dollars worth of securities belonging to the state university of Illinois, was recently acquitted. It could not be proven that "intent" entered into his motives. The poor wretch that steals a loaf of bread cannot escape punishment on so flimsy a pretext but must go to prison.

Agitators of the Debs' stripe, deserve hanging. The miners of West Virginia were content with the wages they were receiving and did not join the strikers two weeks ago. The relations existing between miners and operators were very satisfactory and all would have been well had not Debs and several other agitators invaded the state and fomented discord. Debs is receiving $1,300 a year and his sole duties appear to be to cause an irritation between labor and capital.

The House has passed the tariff bill by a vote of 185 to 118. It is estimated that the bill will probably raise $185,000,000 this year. In defending the bill before the House, Mr. Dingley declared that there was no doubt that the revenue produced by the bill would not only be ample to meet the expenditures of the government, but allow a republican administration to begin again to pay off the principal of the public debt which had been increased by the late administration.

President McKinley has incited quite plainly to a number of prominent Republicans that he has decided to modify Mr. Cleveland's orders for the extension of the civil service rules and the order may be announced at any time. It is not yet certain how far this modification will go, but it is the impression with those who have talked with Major McKinley on the subject that deputy collectors of internal revenue who have charge of the distribution of stamps, and deputy collectors of customs who are in charge of substitutions, will be among those placed outside of the civil service rules. Civil Service could be still further reversed.

Grasshoppers have made their debut.

The Bible says: "He that loveth silver shall not be satisfied with silver."

The supreme court has recently decided that newspaper writers are not laborers.

Because a Chicago parent refuses to buy his daughter a bicycle the "white caps" have threatened to kill him.

The local bicycle riders can stand it to have tax on their wheels so long as it is spent that way.—Wichita Eagle.

It is reported that Bryan is coining $25,000 in gold per year telling the people about "hard times" and "the hopelessness of prosperity" until he gets at the helm and steers the vessel.—Inter Ocean.

A fresh young man with a knowledge of political economy tried to interview Phil Armour. The veteran hog man said: "Young man, put it down that the Arnous know "nothing except how to make sausages" and "that they never answer fool questions." That young man will probably join the anarchists now, or at least the Populists.

Times will never become so prosperous that able-bodied men can sit on dry goods boxes, denounce plutocracy, and get rich. The return of prosperity simply means that men who are willing to work will have opportunity and will receive good pay in good money. The idle and shiftless will be as hard up in good times as in lard times. There are no wages for laziness in any sort of time.—Kansas City Journal.

The populist state officers of Kansas were somewhat startled and at the same time amused to learn that Mrs. Lease wanted to be governor. Some of them regarded it as a little scheme put-up by the "old lady," as they called her, to get some cheap advertising. Others thought she might be serious in her proposed step, and predicted that she would not get the populist nomination, but that she would raise that which she urged the "pop" farmers to raise instead of corn.

The government of Hawaii spends more than one-fifth of its total revenue upon its public schools. Education in the English language is compulsory upon all children between the ages of five and fifteen weeks of the year. Besides the schools there are a number of private academies and colleges. More than a third of all the teachers are Americans. So far as the matter of education is concerned, the Islands are amply fitted to be received into the great republic.

The fact that Mr. Bryan wears silk nightshirts is now, thanks to the enterprise of the press, known from one end of this country to the other. We should not comment upon Mr. Bryan's taste except for the fact that it clearly demonstrates that the wearing of luxurious garments by those who can pay for them helps the tolling masses. A silk nightshirt involves in its manufacture the activity of many skilled hands at good prices. Last fall Mr. Bryan did not know this. He is acquiring knowledge, and he has an almost boundless margin for acquisition still.—Boston Transcript.

It is in such cases as these that demagogues thrive; it is in such cases that they should be shunned. Their denunciations, their appeals, and their sophistries afford no genuine relief, but only aggravate the situation. They are utterly powerless for good, but potent for mischief. They can lead men astray, but they cannot correct a single real or imaginary grievance under which men suffer. They are usually possessed of glib tongues, and, while professed with honeyed words in their professions of friendship for the cause of labor, have never been known to contribute one idea toward the solution of labor's great problem, or to recommend, aid, or secure the enactment of a single measure for the amelioration of workingmen, or the advancement of their welfare.—David B. Hill.

The Allegan Journal has suspended publication.

St. Ignace is making preparations to celebrate Marquette day—August 7th.

Congressman Jerry Simpson is not as bad as he is painted after all. He says that Debs' socialistic project is pure rot.

Ancient the Klondyke gold windfall, the Free Press says: Coin's Financial school will have to let out while the teacher enlarges that gold rule.

They tried so hard in California to be courteous to Mr. Bryan that one of the papers suggested that all signs of prosperity should be temporarily effaced.—St. Joseph (Mo.) Herald.

The heads of Democratic post-masters in the upper peninsula are not decapitated with sufficient celerity to please the partisan, who has a deep seated idea that to the victor belongs the spoils.

The officers of the Michigan Press Association are planning for the annual excursion of the association. It is thought that the excursion this year will include a lake trip from Detroit to Duluth. The trip will be taken next month.

Rockefeller is bound to go down in history as the greatest business man of the age. He has a monopoly of the oil business, controls the iron ore market, and late transportation, and lastly he has acquired a controlling interest in the sugar trust.

A Bryan organ holds up its hands with holy horror as it announces that the Republican party has placed a tariff on Bibles. Will Bryanites refuse to read an American-printed Bible, printed by American workmen? Such Bibles can be had for less than the price of two drinks of whiskey.—Inter Ocean.

The citizens of Mackinac Island are making vigorous efforts to induce President McKinley to visit the Island while in the west at the dedication of the Logan statue. The Grand Hotel extends hospitality, and arrangements have been made for the steamship Manitow to bring him and his party from Chicago.

The czar says that the Sultan's army must quit Thessaly. If the Sultan remains obstinate the czar's army will cross his frontier and forcibly expel his cohorts. For reasons too numerous to mention we hope that the Sultan will remain obstinate. Turkey in Europe would shrink to the proportions of a town lot in sixty days.

The Democrat says The News libeled Dr. J. F. Deadman by stating that he would call the triplets McKinley, Confession and Prosperity. The Democrat further says the triplets have been named William, Jennings and Bryan. On second thought the latter names do seem more appropriate, for if ever there was a Deadman, politically, William Jennings Bryan is one.

Thomas E. Watson, the late candidate of the People's party for vice-president, says over his signature in a five-column editorial article in a recent issue of his newspaper that the People's party is on its last legs. He writes:

"Had I fallen into Butler's plans and assisted Bryan and Sewall, it is probable that Bryan would now be president, Sewall vice-president, and Watson a member of the cabinet. If we cannot arrest the falling to pieces of our party, those who were once Democrats will be Democrats again and those who were Republicans will be Republicans again. Fusion is dissolving Populism back into its original elements."

Watson says that he predicted the break-up of the party when Butler withheld his letter of acceptance. He says:

"That letter, mailed to Butler long before the campaign was ended, was my best vindication. It pointed out then, the blunders of Butler and prophesied the disastrous result. The events happened just as I predicted."

The street sprinkler does its work so well that it will be a hard matter to dispense with it in the future.

Floyd Walton, though in civilian dress, had promptly sprung to his feet to salute them, but they recognized him instantly and heartily shook his hand and congratulated him on his recovery and on the honors he had won.

Her hands were writhing about in his grasp, making every pretense, and as he pulled her close pressed lips, she buried her nose in the fluffy fur and this was more than Lambert could stand.

Why Will a Woman Throw Away Her Good Looks and Comfort?

Why will a woman throw away a sickly, half-hearted existence and miss three-fourths of the joy of living, when she has health almost within her grasp? If she does not value her good looks, does she not value her comfort? Why, my sister, will you suffer that dull pain in the small of your back, those nervous, dragging sensations in the loins, that terrible fullness in the lower bowel, caused by constipation proceeding from the womb lying over and pressing on the rectum? Do you know that these signs of displacement, and that you will never be well while that lasts? What a woman needs who is thus affected is to strengthen the ligaments so they will keep her organs in place. There comes a time when Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is constantly ruling in, proving that the Compound is constantly curing thousands of just such cases. My trouble commenced after the birth of my last child. I did not know what the matter with me. My husband went to our family physician and described my symptoms, and he said I had displacement and falling of the womb. He sent me some medicine, but it did little good. I let it go on about two years, and every time I did any hard work my womb would come down. Finally, I lady friend advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which I did. The first bottle helped me so much, I continued to take it right along. My back was almost the same as no back. I could not lift scarcely any weight. My life was just a drag to me. To-day, I am free of my womb trouble, and have a good, strong back, thanks to what I can feel off that tiger. I will send you ten feet with the fish.—London Figaro.

Irreparable Loss. Great workers, great thinkers, great teachers are men who are over on the technical side, accumulating richer stores of knowledge in every form, and know how best to use the products so eminently their own. They die, and here and there some hints arrest the eye. For the things they were the master of and their work may be subjects of deepest study; but the hidden forces gone, made such persons conspicuous are gone. One of the greatest of these is the case of the late Mr. J. B. Closs, a great worker, great thinker, great teacher, who died recently. His work was so valuable that it was necessary to have it preserved. The late Mr. J. B. Closs, a great worker, great thinker, great teacher, who died recently. Japanese Foreign Minister Talks About the Annexation of Hawaii.

Such a Consummation Would Involve International Interests.

Canovas Denies Alliance With Japan, but the Nations Are Friendly.

YANOVER, July 22.—Count Okuma, foreign minister of Japan, says regarding the annexation of Hawaii to the United States.

"The foreign policy is not supported at the present moment. We simply protest against it. The importance of the islands will be immensely increased by the construction of the Nicaragua canal and it is absolutely necessary, therefore, to leave the country independent. In voyaging to the far East, steamers starting from Europe or America must call at Hawaii. It is to leave them incorporated into the United States would involve international interests in the Pacific ocean. Another reason is this: Annexation would impair the rights and privileges which Japan is enjoying in Hawaii. The protest was therefore entered on those grounds. Leaving aside the attitude of other powers, the question is, what will Japan do, under any circumstances, that the annexation is carried into practice in spite of the protest of Japan? It is not possible to oppose it to the utmost. Annexation must not be recognized."

EXEMPTIONS OF SPAIN.

Epoch Takes Liberals to Task for Criticizing the Government.

MADRID, July 22.—Senator Pendergast's speech at Saragosa on the Cuban question and in denunciation of the policy of the government, has made a great sensation.

The Epoch says: The frightful picture of Cuba, painted by the liberal leader at Saragosa, can only be compared to the inflammatory utterances of the worst enemies of Spain. We believe that his insinuations against the senate must permanently keep the liberals out of power, owing to the increased strength which such utterances give the monarchists in the eyes of the public. Senator Canovas, the premier, states that the report of an alliance between Spain and Japan is incorrect. The most cordial relations exist between the two powers, but the understanding does not extend further.

It is reported that the government is negotiating for the purchase of four large warships.

CAUSED A LIVELY ROW.

Spanish Official Resents an Attack on Deputy De Loma.

MADRID, July 22.—An banquet given at Saragosa in honor of Senator Moray's Pendergast, the liberal leader and former minister, Count Bonanza made a violent attack upon Spanish ministers beyond seas, referring evidently to Senator De Loma. A representative of the government who was present intervened, requesting the count's remarks, and a free fight ensued. The government's representative drew a revolver. Finally the entire company was ejected from the hall, where the banquet was given, after which they formed a group and paraded the street shouting "long live liberty."

REMARKABLE SHOWING.

Export of Merchandise for the Last Fiscal Year Shows All Records.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—The monthly statement of the exports and imports of the United States just issued makes the remarkable showing that never before in the history of the country has the exports of merchandise which includes practically all the exports except gold and silver, reached so high a figure as during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1905, nor has the excess of exports over imports ever been so large. The only time the facts were approached was in 1895, when the United States was making heavy shipments of grain to feed European soldiers in a series of distant theaters. The statement for 1905, with comparisons is as follows:

Exports of domestic merchandise, $1,229,290,000; increase over 1904 about $100,000,000. Total exports of domestic and foreign merchandise, $1,315,870,000, as compared with $829,920,000 in 1904. The total imports of merchandise during the fiscal year just closed amounted to $1,137,580,000, as compared with $505,500,000 was free of duty. The total imports were about $15,500,000 less than last year, and the excess of exports over imports for the year was $185,290,000. This is an excess of about $18,500,000 over last year, and an excess of about $23,000,000 over any previous year. The largest export of value during the last fiscal year amounted to $41,946,628, the highest figure ever reached.

CRAWFORD IS PRESIDENT.

Kentucky Men at the Head of the League of Republican Clubs.

DETROIT, July 16.—Leonard J. Crawford of Newport, Ky., has been elected president of the National Republican League and M. J. Dowling of Minnesota secretary.

There was no contest over the resolution. The platform adopted commends the president and congress for sending a monetary commission to European nations for financing of Hawaii, and for an attitude on the Cuban matter that has tended to lessen Spanish atrocities in that island. They urge upon congress the earliest possible passage of a discrimination duty measure to protect American shipping.

Congress was commended for fostering the beet sugar industry by legislation. The question of equal suffrage to woman is recommended to members of the league as a matter of education. President Cleveland's civil service changes are vigorously condemned, and a modification of the rules and provisions of that law are favored.

WITHOUT PARALLEL.

PRESENT STRIKE OF MINERS MAKES A RECORD.

For Lack of Violence—Nothing Like It Has Ever Before Seen in a Movement of Its Magnitude—Experience of the Past Used to Advantage by Thousands Now.

COLUMBUS, O., July 19.—President Rutherford sums up the strike situation as follows: "The manner in which the miners are conducting themselves commendably and their officers removed violence and strengthened the belief that victory will ultimately crown their efforts." The history of the industrial strife has no parallel to the present movement. Deputy marshals, coal and iron police and sent detachments have been called, but their presence has fallen to the miners because of lawlessness on even to a suggestion of violence. Their presence in peaceable communities with a chip on their shoulder was a cause for alarm, and ordinarily would have caused a resort to violence. But the miners in this instance, profiting by the experience of the strike of 1902, neither cause trouble themselves nor allow themselves to become involved in the trouble by the action of others.

"We have started into this movement realizing fully the importance of the work before us, and after two weeks of suspension involving more than 150,000 miners, we are well satisfied with the results. Only those who are best acquainted with the condition of the mines have any idea of the extent of this suspension and its paralyzing effect upon the labor and business of the country. It has not yet reached its full proportions. The coming week will add 20,000 men to the total number of men week following will bring greater accessions to our ranks. The movement will continue to grow not only from the point of number involved, but public opinion will be crystallized more fully and through the press of the country will demand a solution of this great difficulty."

TROUBLE MAY RESULT.

Two Thousand Strikers Preparing to March on the Mines.

PITTSBURGH, July 21.—The attention of the miners of the Pittsburgh district is now riveted on the Allison, Hoane and Enterprise mines, where the strikers fear that if the Boone and Allison mines continue in operation it will induce the Enterprise men to go back to work. The program of the strikers is to make another march on the Allison mine. The leaders said during the afternoon that more than 2,000 diggers would march on the Panhandle district and another march made on the mines. If the march is made the mine will be kept a secret. Just at this juncture the national development are expected. The men are beginning to feel the pangs of hunger and want and are in a condition bordering on desperation.

Grasshoppers Flying North.

WHEAT CROP RUINED.

Floods in the Red River Valley Covered With Half a Foot of Water.

FARGO, N. D., July 21.—Three days' rain in this vicinity since Sunday morning 3.25 inches have fallen. In the last 24 hours 2.65 inches came down. Much damage has been done to many crops, being flooded. Forty per cent of the crop in the inundated valley is under water. The valley had all the water in a normal period to stand before this last three days' flood. Thousands of acres will be ruined and farmers are now talking of a half crop where they have had the best of the crop in the history of the state. The rainfall seems general over the state.

Wheat Fields Covered.

GRAND FORK, N. D., July 21.—The first cessation of rain in 24 hours occurred at 7 o'clock. Nearly 4 inches of rain fell during that time, and many wheat fields are covered with half a foot of water. The soil will suffer heavily from the heavy rain which was common in the northern and western parts of the state.

WON BY TEN EYCK.

HENLEY, July 17.—For the first time in the history of rowing at Henley, the Diamond sculls, the highest prize that can be won, individually, by the amateur oarsman, has been captured by an American. Young Ten Eyck of Boston defeated Howell, the American student at Oxford, and then easily outrowed Blackstone, who, in the semi-final, had won over McIlwain, the champion of Chicago. Ten Eyck rowed in easily the best form of any of the contestants, but his victory was not at all a popular one, as all of the rowing clubs were in the hands of the English enthusiasts the event of the day was the final of the Grand Challenge cup, in which Leander was beaten by Newcomb.

FLOCKING TO KLONDYKE.

Last Steamer to Sail This Year From San Francisco, July 21.—The excitement over the recent discoveries of gold in Alaska still continues here, and when the steamer Excelsior leaves for St. Michaels next Sunday she will carry all the miners' supplies she can hold. The Excelsior will be the last steamer to sail this year to connect with the Yukon steamers, but there is already talk of chartering another steamer to take up a crowd of miners. No more than 200 Klondyke regions will be received until the steamers leaving here and Seattle have returned.

Bumper Crops and Paid Mortgages.

The news of the bountiful wheat crops of Kansas and the northwest, the phenomenal cotton crop of the south and the magnificent fruit crop of Missouri was enough to drive the calamityites to desperation. But now comes the news of millions of mortgaged indebtedness wiped out by the farmers of the northwest during the last year. The apostles of disaster amazement and dumfounded beyond expression. The man who hoots famine and despair from the hilltops hasn't a leg left to stand on.

The fight against prosperity is getting to be well-nigh hopeless. It is coming in spite of the optimistic sentimentality of the Ohio and Iowa. Nothing will stop it. Investigations made through local agencies and financial institutions in the leading cities of Iowa reveal the fact that Iowa farmers have been paying off their mortgages to the amount of $25,000,000. Money was never more plentiful in Iowa for loaning purposes than it is now. Some money in large quantities and on long time has been loaned on real estate security for 5 per cent, which was unheard of until recently.

The reports from Nebraska show a large debt reduction in that state. A close estimate of the aggregate places the amount paid during the last six months in Mr. Bryan's state at $30,000,000. In spite of assiduous clamor about the mortgage-ridden farmer in Nebraska Mr. Bryan has not been able to prevent this general liquidation. The Nebraska farmer is so anxious to pay off loans that he will not renew even on the most favorable terms. While the greatest small grain crop in the state's history is being harvested, at least 50 per cent of last year's colossal corn crop is still unsold and piled up in cribs, indicating that the people are not suffering for cash.

Inquiries among loan companies in both the Dakotas develop the fact that few applicants for farm loans exist in comparison to former years, and hundreds of farm mortgages have been paid in the last few years. The advance in the price of wood has netted the flock-raisers of that state hundreds of thousands of dollars. In Oregon, Washington and Idaho, the farmers, owing to the good price of wheat, have been able to pay off most of their mortgages, and this year will see them almost entirely out of debt. The crop prospects in Washington are exceptionally bright. Some of the famous "wheat belts," it is estimated, will yield at least one-third more than ever before. Minnesota makes a wonderful showing in reduction of mortgage indebtedness on farm lands. The lowest estimate places the percentage of reduction at from 15 to 25 per cent, which is held to be a remarkable showing when it is remembered that a vast amount of money was loaned in Minnesota during the "boom times." Colorado has paid off debts approximating $2,000,000 since the first of the year, and bankers report more money in their vaults than they can possibly find use for.

The spirit of liquidation is everywhere, and there has been fully $180,000,000 of mortgaged indebtedness paid off in the western states alone in the past three years. The people have got the money and are determined to get out of debt in spite of the tearful lamentations of the calamity party. Added to all this disheartening news comes the reports of great discoveries of gold in Alaska. There is nothing that drives the popocraic free silverite to distraction like gold and paid-off mortgages. With mortgages being cancelled, with bountiful crops in prospect, and more gold being discovered, the last hope of the sad-eyed preacher of calamity is gone.—Times Herald.

Newspaper Men vs Journalists.
Puck recently inquired how to distinguish between a newspaper man and a journalist. A Kansas paper says that "a newspaper man wears two white shirts a week, while a journalist wears one white shirt two weeks." The Minneapolis Journal says that "a journalist is a newspaper man with magazine notions." The Kansas City Journal thinks that "the surest test is that the newspaper man usually has a job, while the journalist has not." And Frank Puley, of the Chicago Times-Herald, says that one of the chief duties of the newspaper man is to consign to the waste basket what the journalist writes, and the journalist may ordinarily be distinguished by the long hair which he wears for ballast.

Bryan's Mouth.
At Los Angeles, Cal., Bryan, that Wandering Willie of the social disturbers, that sleek and well-fed preacher of dissonant, said on the Fourth of July: "In a test of endurance, the west and south will outlast the east." It was an inappropriate day for Mr. Bryan to repeat that the east was "the enemy's country." The signers of the Declaration of Independence would have looked askance at this young man with the cannon cracker mouth, formulating a creed of sectionalism of west and south against the east. But that is what Bryanism means—the introduction of discord and division into a blood-cemented union. It is unholly and treasonable work, and every person who is disposed to whoop at the mention of the name of the man who cannot learn the lesson of defeat should be informed of the meaning of his obdurations. Bryan might be forgotten, and his reputation improved, if he would padlock his mouth. But he won't. And if Bryanism were not more extensive than Bryan, the latter, even while vociferous, could be ignored. But while silverites still applaud the mention of the name of Bryan, his name, his representations must be regarded as representative of that spirit which threw the Chicago platform together. Bryan is anarchy and repudiation personified.—State Republican.

Wm. Owen's Rhetoric.
The audience that braved the heat to witness Bulwer-Lytton's master-piece, "Richelieu," was well repaid, the entertainment being one of the most pleasing that a Potosky audience has ever enjoyed.
Mr. William Owen gave a masterly interpretation of the dramatist's wonderful conception of the character of the great Cardinal—a complex combination of strength and weakness, nobility and subtlety, nobility and generosity, and merciless selfishness, patriotic devotion and vain ambition. To portray such a character requires a scope and variety of expression that few actors can hope to possess, and Wm. Owen needs no higher commendation than the fact that he made a complete success of this most difficult undertaking.
In the opening scene those who had seen the same character represented by Barrett and other great actors of the past thought that Mr. Owen was not bringing out the full force of the dramatist's magnificent lines, and feared that it was not adapted to the part. But as the play progressed it was seen that he rose to every emergency, and in the splendid climax of the scene where, when the power of the church is invoked to save Julia from the wicked Baridas, it did not seem like acting—it was actually living the part. Mr. Owen has improved perceptibly since his engagement here last season, and the play of his features and his superb facial expression were a source of wonderful power. In the scene where death and fate seem to have combined against Richelieu, the actor's face seemed actually to take on the ashen hue of approaching death while in the passage where he summoned back his strength to face and brave his enemies the eyes glowed and flashed defiance. Again and again the audience expressed their appreciation of Mr. Owen's power in storms of applause, and those who witnessed his Richelieu will wish to see him again tonight in his favorite character of "Hamlet."—Potosky Rescortor.

Stockpile Being Shipped.
Shipments of ore are now being made from the stockpile of the Lucy mine to the Weston Furnace at Manistique. "SETTLED QUICKLY"

HOUSE ADOPTED THE CONFERENCE REPORT ON THE TARIFF

After Twelve Hours of Continuous Talk, Republicans Averted a Resolution on Order to Sustain Final Action on the Bill—A Majority of the Vote.
WASHINGTON, July 20.—The conference report on the tariff bill was adopted by the house shortly after midnight by a vote of 185 to 118, and the report will now go to the senate for action there. This ceases all previous records. The result was accomplished after 12 hours of continuous debate. But two speeches were made by the Republicans, one by Chairman Dingley in opening the debate, and one by Mr. Payne of New York in closing. The Democrats were thus favored to put forth speaker after speaker.

The sugar schedule was the main point of assault, but the most interesting feature of the debate occurred when Mr. Bailey and Mr. McMillin, the two rival Democratic leaders, crossed swords on the question of authority of the free raw material doctrine, the former opposing and the latter championing it.
An analysis of the vote shows that 180 Republicans and 5 Democrats voted for the report and 106 Democrats and 12 Republicans against it.

House Opens the Session.
At the opening of the house session an effort was made to secure an agreement naming a time for a final vote. The Democrats asked two days, but this was refused. Mr. Dingley then began his speech on the conference report. He took up each schedule, explaining in detail the changes made, and followed closely the formal statement given out by the committee.

Concerning the sugar schedule Mr. Dingley read from the committee statement, adding brief comments. By the new arrangement about $2,000,000 increase of revenue would be realized, as the increase had been placed on raw sugars at the point where revenue would be received, and at the same time the best sugar industry will receive substantial benefit.

Will Raise $225,000,000 Revenue.
In the course of his speech, Mr. Dingley said he calculated the bill would raise $225,000,000, $25,000,000 more than the present law. Over $40,000,000 had been lost in this year's revenues by the importations of wool, sugar and other things, the duty on which was raised on the bill. Mr. Dingley declared that there was no doubt that the revenue produced by the bill would not only amply meet the expenditures of the government, but allow a Republican administration to begin again to pay off the principal of the public debt, which had been increased by the late administration. In conclusion Mr. Dingley received round after round of applause from his Republican colleagues by reciting as a result of the enactment of this bill a rise of prices and a restoration of prosperity.

FIRST DAY'S PROGRESS.
Conference Report on the Tariff Bill Taken Up in the Senate.
WASHINGTON, July 21.—The tariff conference report was presented to the senate during the day, but little progress was made on it beyond the formal reading of about two-thirds of the report. Mr. Tillman openly threatened filibuster until next December, if cotton legging and cotton ties were not restored to the free list. The sugar amendments occasioned a long debate during which Mr. Allison stated that the conference rates were lower than those of the senate and largely a concession to the house. Senators Vest, Jones, Berry and White questioned this statement, arguing that the sugar tariff increased larger benefits from the conference schedule than from any previous tariff. The number amendments also brought out animated criticism from Senators Teller and Pettigrew.

Justifications are that a vote on the report will be reached not later than the end of the week, probably by Friday. There may be a change in the conditions which will postpone a vote but it is difficult to see what could cause it. The opposition to the bill realizing that there is no possibility of preventing the adoption of the report and their present purpose is only to secure what advantage they can by exhibiting what their claim are the inconsistencies of the measure.

AFTER THE TARIFF.
President McKinley Again Defers to the Judgment of the Senators.
WASHINGTON, July 21.—It is semi-officially announced that President McKinley will withhold his currency message until after the conference report on the tariff bill shall be adopted by the senate. The Republican leaders in the senate do not desire to have any new question thrown into the senate while the debate is on, lest it may lead to complications and delay. It is in deference to their opinions and wishes that the president has postponed sending his message to congress. He is, of course, as anxious as any of them can be to have the bill become a law at the earliest moment, but as soon as the bill is out of the way the currency message will be sent to congress.

Tahalago No Longer Pastor.
WASHINGTON, July 21.—The Rev. Dr. Dalmago has been forced to sever his connection with the First Presbyterian church owing to dissonant amongst its members. Dr. Sunderland is now in charge of the church, and he has announced that Dr. Dalmago will not return.

CHICAGO, July 21.—The wined, tax ordinance, which provides that owners of bicycles shall be taxed $1 a year and other vehicles at a higher rate, has been signed by Mayor Harrison. The money thus collected by the city will be used in repaving the streets in the city.

War of Railroads.

A Chicago dispatch says: There is trouble among the Chicago-St. Paul lines and again it is the question of the Soo line that has caused it. Up to this time the Soo line has refrained from making any effort to secure any of the Chicago-St. Paul business, but now the line has come when it has arrived at the conclusion that the business is a good thing to have, and it has made rates which it thinks will bring it the traffic.

The regular one way rate between Chicago and St. Paul and Minneapolis is $11.50, and the Soo has made a round trip rate of $11. The rate of the Soo is applicable via Mackinac and Lake Michigan to Chicago over a route that is nearly double the length of all rail routes.

The Great Western has announced that it will meet the Soo rate over its all rail line, and the other roads will be compelled to follow suit. It is not expected that the Soo line will secure any considerable portion of the business, but its action makes low rates certain between Chicago and Minneapolis and St. Paul, and has aroused no end of resentment among the all rail lines.

Detroit this morning with a full wrecking outfit to go to Big Summer Island where the steamer Alleghany and schooner Transfer were sunk last year. The Scook will secure the machinery and other property of the Alleghany and will attempt to recover the schooner.—Detroit Journal of

A Besmer, of Jackson, has arrived at Ann Arbor on a business trip which is unique in its way. He is a young fellow of about 21 and hails as a professional sparrow hunter. For the past three years he has gone through some of the larger towns in this part of the state killing sparrows for the bounty of two cents a head. His method of killing the birds disposes of them by the wholesale. Early in the morning he sprinkles poisoned grain in the streets where the flocks of birds gather. The poison acts very quickly and he goes around with a leather satchel picking up the birds as they fall. Last year he made from $5.50 to $9.00 a day here, clearing up $30 during his stay. He killed 290 sparrows one day this week.

We Want Your Money, and we want it so much that we are willing to give you far more than its equivalent in CLOTHING and DRY GOODS during our July Gleaning Sale.

The best criterion that we can give of our stearity is not a bad thing for Negotation, as nearly all the one used there will come from the mines of this city.
During the past few days four of the mines, the Cambria, Lillie, Queen and Lucy, have been shipping to Manistique. Yesterday about one hundred carloads were forwarded from here.
About eighty of these went from Cambria and Lillie. About forty carloads will be shipped daily from now until the close of navigation. This will be sufficient to give the furnace a supply of ore for the greater part of the winter. With the ore received from other places enough will be placed in stock to keep the furnace in operation during the entire season.
