We are pleased to note that Mr. G. E. Kelso has been elected secretary and treasurer of the Manistique & Northwestern railroad company. During the short time that he has been connected with the Chicago Lumbering Co. he has proven his worth as a thorough business man and the added responsibilities in the nature of his recent election as an officer of the Manistique & Northwestern railroad, is a compliment to his worth, and an honor as well.

The William Owen Co., the best company that has visited Manistique in its history, played to poor business here last Friday and Saturday evenings. Every member of the large company is an artist. "Hamlet" was presented Friday evening, "David Garrick" was presented at the matinee Saturday afternoon, and "Othello" Saturday evening. It was conclusively proven that high class tragedy has no attractions for Manistique. Shakespearean students are more than pleased with Mr. Owen's interpretation of the characters he presented. As Lago he was superb.

There is a crying need for an extensive addition to the Ossawimamee Hotel. The hotel is entirely inadequate to care for the large numbers of guests that flock to this city to enjoy our unexcelled climate during the summer months. An annex containing forty rooms could be utilized. Such an innovation would be a source of profit to the hotel keeper in the harvest time of the average hotel keeper in this northern country in the summer season, and landlords with cramped quarters are barely able to create a sufficient surplus during the short season to tide them over the prolonged winter season. Porticos and a large annex would transform the Ossawimamee into a thing of beauty as well as make it a veritable gold mine.

The W. R. C. hold regular meeting next Friday afternoon.

Hon. Lewis A. Hall of New York City was in the city a portion of the week.

A large crowd contemplates visiting the "Big Spring" tomorrow. The party will go via tag to Thompson.

Don't fail to see Mr. Wm. Randall the greatest sand jig and diamond buck dancer on earth. At the Opera house Saturday night, Aug. 7th.

The picnic of the Presbyterian Sunday School at Indian Lake last Wednesday evening was largely attended and those participating report a pleasant time.

The worst enemies a newspaper man has usually are in arrears on subscription from two to six years, the average editor would be more than pleased if such people would pay their debts and discontinue their subscriptions.

Rev. T. J. Bacher, a resident of Danville, Kentucky, who is the guest of his sister, Mrs. Kefauver, says that thirteen counties of his much abused and misrepresented state have adopted local option and that the Prohibition sentiment is gaining ground rapidly.

We learn that the Manistique concert band and the Woodmen of the World are contemplating giving an excursion to Potosi via the Hart line. The steamer will leave Manistique Saturday evening August 21st, and will return Sunday night. This will give the excursionists all day Sunday at that famous resort town. Fare for the round trip will be $1.00 State rooms extra.

The social given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Edwards, in the Woods district, last Thursday evening, was largely attended. There were more than 100 people present, some of which were from this city. The receipts were $34.13. The methods used in raising money were the auction sale of ladies, and the serving of ice cream, cake and strawberries. All present had an enjoyable time.

Edwin Cookson and son Clarence, and Mrs. Frank Cookson, returned from their eastern visit a few days ago. During their eight weeks' absence they visited friends and relatives in Maine. They also visited Old Orchard Beach, Boston, New York, Detroit, and Mackinac Island. On their return Messrs. Frank and Edwin Cookson purchased eight draft horses at LaPeer and Oxford. Frank returned to the city on the Duell with the horses.

That the Seine & Rainy Lake Exploration Co. have a well developed Klondyke in the Randolph mine was attested by a special telegram published in the daily papers of Saturday last. While blasting in the shaft, one was unaccountably assaying from $500 to $1,000 a ton. A large number of nuggets were also found. The Rainy Lake country appears to be nearly as rich as the Alaskan fields, and is certainly easier of access. The stockholders of this company are elated, and well they may be.

A. Shampine, one of the substantial farmers of Manistique township, was engaged in the mercantile business in Canada thirty two years ago. He shipped 151 barrels of salt fish on the ill fated Peavale sunk by the Meador. Divers are now working on the wreck recovering its cargo and Shampine thinks that his fish will be found all right, as they were shipped in tight barrels and were thoroughly salted. The fish were valued at $1,100. Attorney Hixson is looking after Mr. Shampine's interests. Mr. Shampine's many friends hope that he may realize a snug sum from the cargo.

We're in the Gait.

It is hard to make the average croaker believe that a wave of prosperity is deluging the country, but that the country is rapidly recovering from the death dealing blow given it by Clevelandism, is apparent to all that are open to conviction.

The fiat money heresy was given a deserved quietus last Autumn, and with the advent of a Republican administration the deficit creating tariff system of Democracy has been supplanted by a plan that insures adequate protection to American industries and at the same time guarantees sufficient a revenue to keep pace with the expenditures incident to the operation of the government.

The past four years seem like a hideous nightmare to all. These years were punctuated by silent mills and enforced idleness. Although the Republican party has held the reins of administration but five short months a wonderful transformation has been wrought. A million more men are engaged at remunerative employment now than a year ago. The hum of industry is sweet music to the ear.

Manistique suffered with the remainder of the country, but the industrial blight was not so severely felt here as it was in many sections. Our mills were in constant operation, and although the pay days were not regular, yet every one had work and there was but little suffering. The demoralization of business caused the shut down of the Weston Furnace Co. in 1894, and the brightening of the business horizon is the cause of its resumption at the present time.

The prospects for Manistique are of a rosy hue. The mills are taxed to their utmost capacity twenty-four hours of every day, and pay days come with refreshing regularity. The Manistique & Northwestern railroad company has been employing a large force of men all summer in its construction department, and an idle man that really wishes employment, is an unknown quantity. The advent of the Ann Arbor company is also something that will benefit the city. While the scheme or idea may seem of little account at present and is practically an experiment yet it augurs much for the future.

Would Manistique be as good a town today had Bryanism won the day last November?

There is no doubt but that the success of the Republicans is responsible for the advent of good times in Manistique. We cannot conjecture that the Weston Furnace Co., would have expended thousands of dollars in making repairs preparatory to putting the furnace in blast had the voters foolishly decided last Autumn to test Bryanism and repudiation. We cannot imagine that the Ann Arbor people would have decided to extend their system of transportation so as to include Manistique had the apostles of fat money and repudiation won the day. It was practically impossible for corporations to secure ready money last year no matter how vast their resources. This was the reason that the companies doing business here were unable to pay their employees regularly. Do you think there would have been an improvement in that direction had Bryanism won?

We have entered upon an era of prosperity sure enough and the chronic kicker must concede this. The evidences of it are too apparent for denial.

We don't want Hawaii but this country should not allow the coffee colored Japs to bluff it.

It is a grief to know that Gov. Pingree does not approve of the new tariff law, but the fact won't prevent the opening of the mills or the filling up of the treasury and that is some comfort.—Iron Port.

Many of the poor cusses now enroute to Alaska, will never be heard from until Gabriel blows his trumpet.

Only four states in the union elect governors this fall. They are Ohio, Iowa, Virginia and Massachusetts.

Where a man is out of a job there is generally a reason for it. Circumstances may be responsible, but generally the fault is with the man himself.

The Woman's edition of the St. Ignace Enterprise was published last week. The ladies deserve great credit for the excellence of their work. The paper consisted of 36 pages, and contained very interesting subject matter. It was also profusely illustrated.

The St. Marys river needs additional improvements, and $500,000 will be expended by the government to that end. The expenditures of this sum will remind the Sooties of the halcyon days of yore when the government was disposed to expend fabulous sums in and near the city of the rapids.

It is enough to make a wooden horse laugh to see a lot of fellows protesting violently against prosperity and trying to wave it away. "We don't believe in it, and we won't see it, and we have no use for it," say they. But along it comes, and it fills their pockets, and they will find themselves looking cheerful in spite of themselves.

H. W. Heichold, who has been connected with the business and editorial department of the Soo News for the past seven years has resigned his position. Heichold had an enormous "nose" for news and business and much of the success that has attended the News in recent years may be attributed to his indefatigable hustling. We wish him success in his future undertakings.

It is reported that the Bank account of William Jennings Bryan shows an average net gain of over $500 per week during the first six months of 1897 from the sale of his book and speeches—and it was all made from those who are howling for the free and unlimited coinage of silver. Bryan and the silver millionaires are making good profits on the free silver agitation, but that agitation is now about the only thing that prevents the more speedy return of good times for all American laboring men and all the producing and business interests of the United States.

Human nature is unfathomable. Its solution is insolvable to the regular habitue of the theatre. The hand-painted female with abbreviated skirts, the burnt cork artist with his almanac jokes, the shallow and insipid vaudeville artist with his or her songs of questionable morality, never lack for large and appreciative audience. How the scene is changed when legitimate companies composed of the best of talent essay the production of high class plays. As was the case last Friday evening, "Hamlet's" ghost scene was witnessed by so few people that those present were really timid when the ghost stalked about the stage—timid to the same extent that a lad is when he passes a grave yard along an unfrequented highway alone. The average individual gauges the success of an artist by his ability to make him laugh or cry. He catalogues the production commonplace indeed that exacts application and thought upon his part. Human nature is the same the world over. Manistique is no exception to the rule. "The Blow that killed Father," "My Mother Was A Lady," the mother-in-law joke, "A Hot Time at Old Town Tonight" and kindred "elevating" sentiments appear to Svengalize the public, and will continue to do so perhaps, for all times to come.

Life is a tragedy with continuous performances. The daily life of every man or woman is but a play in which he or she essays the leading role. Life is made up of thrilling climaxes. The struggle for existence, the realization of the disappoinment of hope and ambition, are the climaxes of the play we daily enact. No wonder, then, that mankind enjoys a respite. That respite comes in the nature of the vandeville, the light and breezy comedy. The entertainer that has the ability to make his auditors forget themselves is accounted the best. "The Man who Laughs," is legend. He who makes him laugh is a favorite.

There are two rules for success, viz., absolute honesty and hard work.

Weyer is still in Cuba. A female seminarian in a Cuban town was captured by the Spanish army, and the students and teachers grossly treated by the soldiers.

We never could understand the spirit which induces an editor to attempt anything funny in recording a birth. It is a more important happening than a death. There is nothing to laugh at in the arrival of a baby. It is serious business for all concerned.

A Maine paper tells of a farmer in that state who hired two boys to help him cut his hay, and when the job was finished gave each of them a cent for the work they had performed and then offered to harness the team and haul the boys home for a cent apiece.

As long as "the robber tariff" fills the American people and brings happiness and plenty to the workman's home the howl of free-traders that "the tariff is a tax, won't count for much. Windy theorists, with light heads, can make no inroads upon the large class of intelligent workers. At most they can only influence the ignorant, idle, and vicious, who fatten upon and enjoy commercial depression.—Inter Ocean.

C. W. Spaulding the embezzling Chicago banker was found guilty and sentenced to one year's imprisonment. He was so shocked that he nearly fainted when he received his sentence. Justice is very much out of balance when the poor man that steals $50 is sentenced to the penitentiary for a term of years while the rich man that steals $50,000 gets only one year. Don't steal, but if you do, steal a million. The chances are that you will go scot free.

It makes one shudder to imagine the conditions that would exist at the present time had the party of anarchy and repudiation won the day last autumn. With the machinery of Government in the control of the party of Bryan, Debs and Altgeld the regular army would long ere this have been ordered to bayonet the coal miners who are content with their lot and who refuse to strike at the behest of Debs and his dastardly fellow-agitators.

England is already bringing into play the Venezuela scheme of having a portable boundary line between Alaska and British Columbia so as to include all the gold fields; this far discovered. The boundary line between the two countries is, along the 141st meridian. That line is well defined, and known to those living at or near the boundary. We are willing to concede that the whole of British Columbia is pregnant with gold and that the British Government should control its own territory and the products of that territory, but the United States would be very foolish indeed to allow Great Britain to dictate an imaginary boundary irrespective of the location of the real thing.

When Baby was sick, we gave 'em Castor. When she was a Child, she used Castor. When she became Miss, she clung to Castor. When she had Children, she gave them Castor.

The Outlook for Revenue.

The new tariff is not expected to give adequate revenues during the first few months of its life. The recent heavy inflow of goods under the old Democratic tariff rates will to some extent prevent immediate revenue-producing importations. Some American industries will find the markets clogged by cheap foreign goods which were rushed in under the Free-Trade Tariff. This is the last penalty which the unhappy experiment in Free-Trade. But it will be short-lived. The return of prosperity will dispel that cloud very quickly. But it will soon be forgotten. The American people have paid dearly for that experiment. The result was the same as with all previous experiments of like character in the history of the American people. Want, war and misery came with the influx of goods from abroad which should have been produced in this country. It was found to be no encouragement to the American workman out of a job, and without money in his pocket, to tell him that shipments of cheaper goods were coming into the markets of this country. He wanted employment before he could buy. That he will soon get employment under the new order of things is the confident expectation of all friends of the cause of Protection, and the hope even of his honest opponents.

Inevitable Taxation.

The government didn't take in enough money during July to pay expenses. The deficiency was something over ten millions of dollars. The reason the deficiency occurred was because the government had no way of collecting revenues to pay expenses or having ways to collect could not levy taxes great enough under existing laws to meet the requirements of the government.

It is true that the duties collected on foreign importations last month were somewhat larger in amount than in the same period last year, but they were not large enough, together with internal tax collections, to meet the government's expenses. So it would seem that under the most favorable circumstances the Wilson law is not productive of cash enough to meet necessities.

The government must collect sufficient money to pay its operating expenses. Either we must impose a tax on foreign goods imported into this country, or else we have never resorted to other methods in times of peace to raise revenues. We have taxed about every common product to meet extraordinary demands. Now we must raise revenue in the most feasible and patriotic manner.

This is what the Dingley law purposes to do. If any of its rates are excessive we must put up with them because we need the money. We can more cheerfully pay taxes on foreign goods or compel foreigners to pay them for us than we can pay pay taxes on bank checks, tea, matches, etc. What if we do pay more for sugar? Might we not as well pay taxes on sugar as on anything else, so long as we must pay taxes to furnish revenue for paying to be governed?

If any economist can devise a scheme by which we can maintain a government without taxation he may have the center of the stage.—Detroit Journal.

In the course of his campaign last year, Gov. Pingree announced in every speech he delivered that he was an extreme protectionist and would favor a law prohibiting the exportation of any article we could produce for ourselves. Of course this was decidedly extreme, but the statement was intended to suggest Mr. Pingree's extreme position as a tariff advocate. It happened, however, that the item of leather was included in the list of articles on which the tariff was increased, and that fact has seemingly weakened Mr. Pingree's protection principles. He was willing that the tariff should be prohibitory on all other articles, but he is a buyer of leather and he therefore desired that leather should come in free from other countries, even though a contributory result of such a course should be to depre-

Never kill a mosquito. The insect is a safeguard against malaria. Lay your face, arms and neck loose as you lived in New Jersey, and never fret. Such is the advice of a knowing gentleman, who says: "Remember that a mosquito is an infallible sign that malaria is in the air, and that you are exposed to it, and when you hear that well known but solemn oath of warning do not treat him as a foe, but as a friend. Translated into English it says: 'Leave the locality or I will vaccinate you,' and the little soldier will do just as he says, though he lies in the attempt, and then others stand ready to leap into the breach."

C. W. Dunton is on the rack again. This time an Inwood township justice of the peace has been inveigled into issuing a warrant. The preliminary hearing was held at Cooks Monday, and an adjournment was secured for ten days.

The Morrison-Dunton affair is in the courts again. Mr. Dunton was summoned to appear before Justice Black at Cooks, Monday, to answer to the charge of perjury. He asked for an adjournment of ten days, which was granted. He was placed under bonds of $1,500, which he promptly gave.

This persecution of Mr. Dunton is a travesty upon justice. There should make it impossible for irresponsible, worthless characters to harass honorable men with petty and untruthful charges. If Morrison has grounds for a case he certainly can find justices of the peace in Manistique township who will take charge of the matter for him. He could also find justices of the peace here that are citizens of the United States. Justice Black is not a citizen of the United States, and things have come to a pretty pass when an alien sits in judgment upon a citizen. The late Mr. Olney was not present at the hearing, but an importation from the lower peninsula, who settled in Delta county thirty days ago, and charge of Morrison's end of the case. The person of the men that are persecuting Dunton should make him friends.

General Harrison's Book.

The Indianapolis Journal prints an interesting story concerning ex-President Harrison's forthcoming book. General Harrison has just completed the revision of his articles which have appeared in the Ladies' Home Journal, making extended notes and additions to them. There is a little story in connection with both articles and publication. When the arrangement for the article was made with General Harrison by Edward W. Bok, editor of the Ladies' Home Journal, the general was paid for them, with the understanding that when they were put into book form the magazine was to share the royalties according therewith. Mr. Bok, therefore of his own accord, generously released General Harrison from paying him any royalty, for the reason, as he states, that by the publication of the articles by General Harrison the subscription list of his magazine was enlarged many thousands. "The profits of the Ladies' Home Journal were more than the publisher realized, and in view of this Mr. Bok asked nothing further. General Harrison placed the disposition of his book in Mr. Bok's hands. The best offer came to the editor from the Scribners, and to them Mr. Bok gave the book for his distinguished contributor. General Harrison's revision of the book has just been completed, and the volume will appear in the autumn.

Gold Mine Near Home.

The Yukon region of Alaska has not a monopoly of the rich gold deposits. A deposit that is not to be sneezed at has just been discovered in the Seney river district, where a blast made a few days since on the Randolph mine vein threw out gold-bearing quartz that ran from $500 to $1,000 to the ton. Several nuggets of virgin gold were dislodged by the blast, one of which weighed twenty-two ounces. It is announced that the find has created great excitement throughout the Seney river district, as well, it might—Mining Journal.
