A Fatal Accident.

Chas. Mahr, and William Trombley Instantly Killed by a Soo Line Wreck. Two others seriously injured.

Two Cars of a Great Train Derailed at Bridge No. 399, One-half mile East of Whitelake Wednesday. A Helter the Cause.

One of the most disastrous wrecks that has ever occurred on this division of the Soo Line happened last Wednesday forenoon at eleven o'clock at a point one-half mile east of Whitelake. A stray helter belonging to Steve Richards, wanderer on the track at the east end of bridge No. 399, and as the train was running backwards the helter was dragged under the cars. The first car left the rails on the bridge but did not topple over until the other side had been reached. Nine cars followed suit. Twelve men, were riding on the two forward cars, and that the loss of life and the number of injured only embroiled one-third of that number almost appears miraculous, when the completeness of the wreck is taken into consideration.

The train in question left Pike Lake at 10:30 o'clock, and was in charge of Conductor V. D. Jones. Mr. Leflar was the engineer. Five workmen, employed by the railroad company, may assist Conductor Jones for a while. He refused to carry them and explained that if they did ride they would do so at their peril. They were willing to take the chances and one of their number, Mr. Trombley was crushed to death an hour later. Two brakemen, the section foreman at Pike Lake, Mr. Mahr, and four section men with the five persons mentioned above comprised the passengers on the train.

The trip was made without incident until the train reached the bridge above mentioned. Conductor Jones and other witnesses say that the train was running at a speed of from 17 to 17 miles an hour. A short distance from the bridge, the conductor, who was on the lookout, espied a car in the ditch about a car's length from the bridge. He at once signaled the engineer to slow up, and as the second car and while in the act of applying the brakes the crash came. The cow car dashed by the track in front of the train and was dragged under the car. The conductor was thrown clear of the wreck, as were the four passengers on the second car. He at once inquired as to the number of killed and wounded, and hurried to Whitelake to telegraph for the coroner and for medical assistance. He recovered a hand car and brought the wounded men, Brakeman Nyström, and John Halstrom, section hand, to Whitelake. The telegram reached this city in time so that Coroner Sattler and Dr. Malmgren, representative of Dr. Patterson, the company's surgeon, were enabled to catch the east bound noon train. Andrew Nyström sustained a contusion on the ankle and bruises about the head. John Halstrom received a long deep gash extending across the back of his head from ear to ear. The gash was scabbed with sand and gravel.

Chas. Mahr, the section foreman was found a few feet from the track. He had been violently thrown against a stump. His neck was broken, left arm fractured, left hip dislocated, the bones of the chest reduced to splinters, and the face badly cut. It is needless to say that his death was instantaneous.

The other unfortunate man, Mr. Trombley, was found lying on the track beneath the splintered remains of several cars. Although his head and one arm were visible he was so firmly fastened that it was eight o'clock in the evening before the body was taken out of the wreck.

There were several narrow escapes. Chas. Kelley, who has been at work on Mackinac, for the firm of Culver & Mackinac, for the past eighteen months, was riding on the second car. When the crash came he was thrown nearly thirty feet toward the fence. A car followed him and caught the heel of his shoe.

Sheriff Ekstrom and Robert Holmboe were standing at the Hints Spur station when the train passed. They signaled the conductor to stop so that they could get a ride to Marquette. Mr. Jones refused to comply with their request. Andrew and Robert are very grateful to the conductor for slighting them.

Coroner Sattler empaneled a jury and held the inquest at Whitelake Wednesday evening. The jurors were Alex. W. J. Rogers, Herman Penney, Andrew Johnson, Geo. Ghent, and Will Salsguine. The verdict of the jury did not censure the railroad company.

Mahr, was a new comer on the Soo Line, having been with that company only a month. He was given charge of the Pike Lake section and moved his family from Gladstone to Pike Lake only a week ago. He was a former employee of the C. P. R. and had good ideas, recommendations as to his habits and trust-worthiness. He leaves a widow and four children to mourn his untimely end. The family is in destitute circumstances, but the railroad company will not doubt look to its immediate wants.

Trombley was a French Canadian, and had worked along the line more or less for some months. At one time he was an employee of the Peninsula Cigar Co., at Whitelake. On the day of the accident letters were received for him at Corinne. These the postmaster forwarded to Gulliver as he thought they might throw some light upon his identity. They were written by his mother and sister and teemed with good advice.

The steam shovel from Pike Lake was called into requisition to clear the track. The west bound passenger train Wednesday evening was late four hours.

The railroad company ordered Undertaker Kefauver to take charge of the bodies, and prepare them for burial. Mrs. Mahr and children arrived in the city Thursday evening, and in compliance with her request the funeral services were held from the Presbyterian church at 9:30 o'clock this morning, Rev. Rogers officiating. Trombley was buried earlier in the morning.

Roadmaster Crooks, and other railroad officials were here yesterday and looked after the details of the preparation of the dead for burial. The injured men, Andrew Nyström and John Halstrom, are being cared for at Dr. Patterson's hospital, and will be out in a short time.

Angus McLeod has had more than the average experience in the world. Yet was bunked out of $30 recently. An agent appeared in town several weeks ago with a new fangled clothes wringer, that was operated on a new idea. Angus at once saw its utility and immediately proceeded to purchase territory. This and Mackinac counties were allotted to him, the price was agreed upon and Angus quickly got rid of the thirty "cases," and proceeded to canvass the territory. He wrote to the firm's address at Pittsburg, Pa., for wringers but failed to receive an answer. He wrote to other parties living in that city concerning the company in question. No one knows anything about them.

The school board held a meeting Monday evening for the purpose of devising means to correct the overcrowding of several departments of the public schools. The superintendent submitted a plan whereby the overflow from these departments would be placed in other departments that could accommodate more scholars than were at present enrolled. The superintendent was instructed to act on his suggestion. A position for Joseph Dies and forty-nine others residents of that territory known as the "Porty," asking for the erection of a school building west of the Soo line track, was upon motion laid on the table. The school board does not have the power to grant such petitions. The proposition would have to be voted upon by the taxpayers. The bill of Guinan & McLeod for rent of opera house the evening of the school meeting was allowed at $12. Board adjourned.

The much advertised Hallelujah wedding was held at the Salvation army hall Wednesday evening of this week: Edward Severs and Mrs. MacNaughton both of Thompson, were the contracting parties. Adj. Gentry of Ishpeming performed the ceremony. The attendants were Joseph Severs and Lillie Boltz.

A number of bills were audited, and The Pioneer-Tribune was designated as the paper to publish the annual statement of the treasurer.

Manistique is sorely in need of increased school facilities. When a new building is forthcoming, it has taken ninety years to reduce the record of the paving mile from three to two minutes. There will have to be some powerful evaluation before another minute can be clipped away.

The newspapers state that a Spanish visited the government for negotiations at Charleston, S. C. recently. While this country is not as thoroughly fortified as it might be yet we could unmercifully lambaste all the Spaniards on earth were they dumped into this country in a body.

Under the law the loans of a bank cannot exceed four times its capital stock. The law is causing many Kansas bankers to refuse any more deposits. They have all the law allows them, and can't take more without increasing their capital stock. This is a very unusual condition.

It wouldn't surprise The Mining Journal a bit if it should be Governor Dunstan the next time. Things are shaping very favorably for placing an upper peninsula man in the governor's chair, and the state couldn't produce a better one for the place than the gentleman who is now filling the hardly less responsible office of lieutenant governor. —Mining Journal.

J. W. Breidenbach, Populist who is bank commissioner of Kansas under the present Populist state government, and who a year ago was a wild-eyed calamity howler, announces that Kansas is today one of the most prosperous states in the union. There will be 40,000 homesteads cleared of mortgages this fall. Think of what that means. The mortgages will average $1,000 each, which means the expenditure of forty million dollars. It means that this state is becoming a commonwealth of homes.

Elmer Struble, cashier of the Shepherd bank, was found in his bank with several bullet holes in his back recently. He died from his wounds a few hours later, and now they're trying to prove that the wounds were self-inflicted and that after shooting himself he hid the weapon. Might just as well let it go at that; for if the guilt of some person was proven, said person would be provided with a new suit of clothes, a comfortable room, three meals a day, and all the daily newspapers at the expense of the state for life.

A young woman who recently read "Mill on the Floss" marked this passage: "I will not believe unproved evil of you; my lips shall not utter it; I, too, am an erring mortal, liable to stumble, apt to come short of my most earnest efforts; your lot has been harder than mine, your temptations greater; let me help each other to stand and walk without more falling;—to have done this would have demanded courage, deep pity, self-knowledge, generous trust—would have demanded a mind that tasted no piquancy in evil speaking, that felt no self-exaltation in condemning, that cheated itself with no large words into the belief that life can have any moral end, any high religion, which excludes the striving after perfect truth, justice, and love toward the individual men and women who come across our own path."

A party of striking miners refused to obey a Pennsylvania sheriff last Friday, and began to assault him, thereupon he gave his deputies orders to fire into the mob. Twenty were killed and scores wounded. Judging from the names of killed and wounded the mob consisted of aliens hailing from the south of Europe—very undesirable timber for citizenship in any country. The sheriff read them the riot act but his action was ignored by the desperate men, and while he was justified in firing into them by law, yet the whole affair is distressingly unfortunate and may lead to serious complications. The annual coal strikes come with such clock-work regularity that one is led to believe that the coal operators are really at the bottom of them all. A strike has never been known to occur unless the visible supply of coal is exhausted. This being the case, the cessation of operations at a mine increases the selling price of coal. Prices continue to rise until the supply is exhausted. When stock piles and docks are clear then the operators make an effort to patch the differences existant and the miners resume work, only to create a surplus and undergo the privations of another strike. The men in the mining regions fare worse than the slaves of the cruellest master of antebellum days. No class of labor is as illy paid, and the average miner finds life a struggle for mere existence. He has grievances galore, yet when he, in his desperation, refuses to starve peaceably he is shod down like a dog. The laxity of our immigration is responsible for these scenes of bloodshed. The intelligent immigrant law has always and will always be welcomed, but the vicious and ignorant will not. The latter class is supplanting good, intelligent American citizens in many industrial lines. They will submit to oppression because they were reared on it, and prefer willing tools in the hands of unscrupulous promoters.

Labor Shares in Prosperity.

A marked increase in the number of men at work in the various productive industries, a firm advance in the prices of commodities and a steady increase in volume of purchases were the features of a most satisfactory week's record in the business world.

There appears to be few exceptions to the upward trend in all lines of productive and trading activities. The advancing column of prosperity has not made a halt. The advance of 5 cents in wheat during the week tends toward the fulfillment of Secretary Wilson's promise that the farmer is certain to get no less than a dollar for his wheat. That the secretary's prediction is based on actual conditions is supported by the fact that the advance of the past week was not due to a speculative flurry but to a daily increasing foreign demand.

A gratifying feature of the industrial record of the week was the reports of the New York trade unions, which show an increase over last year of 34 per cent in the number of men at work. If this ratio of increase has been maintained throughout the country it would indicate that there are between 350,000 and 400,000 more men employed at this time than were at work one year ago. Whether this increase holds good in other states or not, there are multiplying evidences that labor is sharing in the general revival in business. Among these evidences are daily reports of the resumption of activity in manufacturing plants that have been idle for a year or more.

There have been enormous speculative sales of wool in the eastern markets, but there is also more buying by the woolen mill than for years past. These purchases are in response to an extraordinary demand for goods at prices which average only about 10 per cent higher than was paid early in the year.

The August advance in prices for more than 100 staple raw and manufactured articles, products, live stock, etc., amounted to 3.4 per cent. The stock market continues strong and active, a leading bullish force in the market being the increase in railroad earnings. To indicate the climax of favorable trade indications there was an average increase in bank clearings of 45.6 per cent over the same week last year. —Times Herald.

End of the Great Coal Strike.

There is universal gladness that the miners' conversion reconsidered the vote to which it rejected the 65-cent compromise, and came to the sound conclusion of acceptance. It is a decided gain when, on a demand for an increase of 15 cents per ton, 11 are conceded. The difference between work at 54 cents a ton and 65 is the difference between penury and comfort. The press and public that, with very few exceptions, have been in sympathy with the miners from the beginning of the strike would have rejoiced if 69 cents could have been gained, but from the first it was apparent to every thoughtful person that it would be a favorable termination if 60 were granted by the operators; the increase to 65 is beyond the expectation of most.

It seems as if 65 must be a universal rate, for a time at least, for those who go to work at the advanced rate will be able to give material support to those who remain on strike against the recalcitrant operators. Moreover, the sympathy of the public will be more than ever with the strikers—provided that they maintain a peaceful attitude—for since most of the operators have come gladly into the 65-cent compromise there seems to be no cause, other than that of heartless greed, for the minority standing aloof. Furthermore, it will not be as if all the mines were closed; with more than half at work, and on profitable terms, the minority soon will see the wisdom of getting their share of business by the simple process of dealing fairly with the workmen.

Finally the history of the miners' strike is a complete refutation of the falsehood of the demagogues who prate about "the hostility of the capitalists to the claims of labor." There is no capitalistic press; there cannot be. For of all institutions in the world the press is most thoroughly in touch with and influenced by the drift of popular opinion. The circulation of a newspaper must be counted by the tens of thousands if it is to be profitable to its owner or potent with the people; all the capitalists in the United States, taking "capitalists" to mean rich men, could not give circulation sufficient for the maintenance of one high-class daily. A newspaper has force because it is read by the common people as well as by the rich, and because, while it does not always coincide with the opinions of all its readers, it is in accord with the opinions of most of them, and is respected for its sincerity and intelligence by those who differ from its conclusions. So that whenever labor has a just cause of grievance, and agitates that cause in a lawful manner, the press of the country echoes the sympathy of the country with such agitation. And when the press derides or opposes a claim preferred by some organizations of labor—as in the absurd and unjust pretensions of unionists to all the work done in repairing or constructing schoolhouses—it is because the common sense of the people derides and opposes it. —Inter Ocean.

Mexican Prices of Wheat.

Misfortunes never come singly. Mr. Bryan has barely had time to flounder through an explanation of the simultaneous rise of wheat and fall of silver when another perplexing situation has arisen to annoy him. When the Nebraska was making his memorable campaign for cheap money last fall, it will be remembered that one of his stock arguments was the assertion that the low value of farm products was directly traceable to the gold standard. Based upon this assertion, he drew the conclusion that the free coinage of silver, by largely increasing the amount of money in circulation, would effect a corresponding increase in the price of whatever the farmer had to sell. In proof of this contention, he was accustomed to point to Mexico, as tangible evidence of the value of cheap money to the producing classes.

It may be unkind of the Mexicans to strike a man when he is down, but the fact appears to indicate that they have dealt the boy orator a body blow when he was hardly in condition to receive such a shock. In a dispatch from the City of Mexico yesterday, it is said that wheat is selling in some parts of the republic at prices equal to 50 or 60 cents in gold. American farmers who are receiving from 95 cents to $1 a bushel for their wheat will probably find it difficult to reconcile Bryan's flimsy argument with the gold facts. —Detroit Journal.

They're Materialists Sure Enough.

Meetings of the various branches of the newly organized Social Democracy were held last Sunday night at Chicago, discussing the recent Hartington tragedy, and some very interesting remarks were made by several of the speakers. Here are samples.

Resolutions were passed by branch No. 2 which contained the following: "The blood of an able and unflinching patriot is the most potent medicine for nourishing the tree of liberty. An eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth! For every miner killed an wounded a millionaire should be treated in the same manner. The millionaire class is responsible for the slaughter of September 10, and we regard the torch as the most effective weapon to wield against them. Fitzgerald Murphy, president of branch No. 2, made a speech in which he said: "The miners should carry arms and use them, too. The time has come to meet force with force. I should have told them to shoot to kill. I would kill twenty millionaires today."

Strong condemnatory resolutions were also passed by branch No. 1 and some fiery speeches made. T. P. Quinn said: "I will not carry a musket, I will carry a torch and a knife, and I will carry both as far as I can." Leroy M. Goodwin, E. V. Debs' right-hand man, and a director of the national board of the Social Democracy, in the course of a speech said: "I would attack property with the torch; I would destroy their fine palaces. Let us rebel when men are shot down as they were in Pennsylvania."

Several indignation meetings were held in the Polish quarter, and resolutions passed condemning the shooting of Hartington miners and appealing to the United States government for protection.

The Week.

There is no halting in the advance. Business grows better in all ways, for while its speculative end breaks conspicuous gamblers for a decline, a steady increase in production, in working force, and in the power of the people to purchase, is the feature and overshadow all others. Reports of New York trade unions show an increase since one year ago of 34 per cent in the number of men at work, and a similar increase among men in like positions throughout the country would exceed 340,000, while every week adds many establishments to the active list. The coal miners' strike has disclosed such differences, that work will probably be very soon resumed by a large share of the men. The farmers are helped by higher prices for wheat, and while Western reports do not show that they have marketed a tenth of their crop, assurance of handsome profits to come prepares them to buy liberally hereafter. Because of this and the increase of hands at work, dealers throughout the country have started to replenish stocks, which is the great force at present operating in manufactures and trade, though distribution by retail trade has greatly increased.

A gain of 12 per cent in one month in the output of pig iron from 165,378 tons Aug. 1st to 185,506 Sept. 1st, with knowledge the half a dozen other furnaces are preparing to resume, and that unsold stocks have been reduced 14,000 tons weekly in August, indicating a consumption of about 190,000 tons, more than explains the moderate advance in prices of finished products, averaging but 6 per cent, since the lowest point Aug. 12th. Pig is a shade stronger at Chicago, but the proof that the advance is healthy is found in the growing demand of consumers, especially for heavy iron, with inquiries for 300,000 tons, reported at Chicago, for structural work including 12,000 tons for Santa Fe bridges, for all sorts of car material including 10,000 axles, and for plates especially for ship ribs on the lakes, so that most prices have advanced 5 per cent. Rods, sheets and merchant pipes are in heavy demand. Copper is steady, and lead a shade stronger at 4.35 etc., and the production of 40,000 tons reached 34,000 tons with 12,717 tons in operation. —Dun's Review.

Foreclosure Notice.
Default has been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage made and executed by Oneira Sivanian and Alex Sivanian his wife, to David Borscher, dated September 10th, A. D. 1897, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for the county of Schoolcraft, and state of Michigan, on the 11th day of September, A. D. 1897, in later book (2) of mortgages on page 29.

Said mortgage was on the 11th day of May, A. D. 1897, duly assigned by said David Borscher to William Todd, and said assignment was duly recorded in the office of said Register of Deeds, on the 11th day of May, A. D. 1897, in later book of mortgages, on page 10, on which mortgage there is now claimed to be due the sum of five hundred dollars ($500.00) principal and interest, and no part or proceeds of said mortgage have been paid to or received by the mortgagee, or any person claiming to be the mortgagee or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and the stipulations in such case made and provided, Notice is hereby given that on Monday the 14th day of October, A. BIG STRIKE SETTLED

MINERS' CONVENTION ACCEPTS THE OPERATORS' PROPOSITION.

Provision in the Agreement Sought to Return to Work Work Day... Settlement Reached, Although Mainly by the Work of Mr. Roosevelt.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 13.—The great coal strike has at last been settled. In national convention here representatives of the miners agreed to accept the fairest rates for the Pittsburgh district, and they voted that none of the men should return to work until the expiration of 10 days, this being done in order to give the strikers in other districts time to arrange proportionate scales.

RECONSIDERED THE VOTE.

At the close of his speech a motion to reconsider the vote by which the settlement resolution was rejected in the morning was passed, and the resolution was taken to a vote again today.

It will now be necessary for the operators of Illinois, Indiana and Ohio to get together and pay the wage scale demanded if they wish their miners to go to work at the end of the week.

MANY MINES RESUMING.

PRINCETON, Sept. 15.—A large number of mines in the district started today and a still larger number will be in working order in the morning.

SITUATION MORE SERIOUS.

Yellow Fever Epidemic at New Orleans Continues to Spread. NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 15.—There have been reported to the board for investigation during the day 20 cases which the attending physicians considered suspicious.

Situation at Other Points.

During the afternoon a new case of fever was reported at Berkeley. Out of a population of 25,000 people in Berkeley have not had the sickness and the percentage of death has been what is usually attendant in yellow fever epidemics.

In my opinion the cortex will not meet, but if they do meet their existence is ephemeral. The Liberal leader refused to express himself regarding the relations between the United States and Spain.

SHOT BY DEPUTIES

TERRIBLE SLAUGHTER OF STRIKERS BY A SHERIFF'S POSSE.

Nearly a Score of Men Were Killed Outright and Forty Others Injured—Marchers Were on the Highway and Did Not Expect to Be Shot At.

HAZLETON, Pa., Sept. 11.—Nineteen dead and 41 wounded is the record of the 16 strikers whipped by the deputy sheriff at Hazleton. Eleven of the unfortunate miners dropped dead in their tracks under the terrible battery, four more died during the night and four have since been added to the record.

Investigation Respects High.

The arrival of the soldiers was not marked by any demonstration further than the gathering of a large but orderly militia on the mountain top. The deputies are running high, and the charge is publicly made that there was absolutely no necessity for the horrible slaughter.

One More Dead the First Act.

This fielded a low scattering group among the freighters and there was a slight movement forward. Perceiving this the sheriff stepped toward them and in a determined tone forbade advancing.

A FEARFUL WRECK

THIRTY PEOPLE KILLED AND MANY INJURED AT NEWCASTLE, COLO.

Debris Taken Fire and Out of the Victims Are Recognizable—Both Engines and 11 of a Dozen Coaches and Cars Totally Demolished.

NEWCASTLE, Colo., Sept. 11.—The worst wreck in the history of the state of Colorado occurred at 12:25 p. m. on the track of the Denver and Rio Grande and the Colorado. Midland railways ran a half-mile west of here. After 12 hours incessant work by the wrecking crews in clearing away the debris and recovering the bodies of those who perished, it is yet impossible to secure more than an estimate of the loss of life and not even those known to be dead have been identified.

Sweeping Decision by Judge Cox in the Louisville Case.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—Judge Cox of the supreme court of the District of Columbia dismissed the bill of complaint of John G. Wood, superintendent of mails at Louisville, charging that Postmaster General Gay and Assistant Postmaster General Heath had enjoined from removing him from office.

Judge Cox's decision was an elaborate review of the law bearing on removals of federal employees. He held at the outset that it was not within the power of a court of equity to grant relief in matters of appointment and removal from office.

MICHIGAN MELANGE.

NEWS OF GENERAL INTEREST TO OUR READERS.

Important Happenings in the State During the Past Four Days Reported by Telegraph—Matter Selected for the Reader's Own People.

Shepherd, Mich., Sept. 16.—The so-called Struble murder mystery is developing into a story of defalcation and suicide. It is known almost beyond doubt that Struble did his own hand, and the charitable inclined say he was insane when he did it. One of the supporters of the murder theory are forecasting that the officers have been working upon the article theory for about a week. What first turned their attention to this idea was the discovery of a mysterious cadaver, who evidently had extensive dealings with the Farmers' bank on Aug. 2. It was discovered that Frank Suttan had deposited $200 with bank on Aug. 11. No one knew anything about such a man, and the mystery about him was deepened when word was sent by the Jackson City bank that a check for $100 given upon them payable to the Shepherd bank had been received and dishonored, for they knew no such man.

Was Struble's Honeymooning? Local officials got hold of the check and began to see light when it was discovered to be Cashier Struble's handwriting. This Suttan, who was withdrawn on Aug. 11. No one knew anything about such a man, and the mystery about him was deepened when word was sent by the Jackson City bank that a check for $100 given upon them payable to the Shepherd bank had been received and dishonored, for they knew no such man.

Deputy Sheriff Bates, assisted by Sheriff Moxg and Prosecutor Attorney McManum, have followed this idea persistently, and knew that a trying case was practically cleared up when the woman which carried Struble's initials was found. It is his own revolver, which was discovered on Saturday evening hidden in the bank vault with three of the chambers empty. As three bullets had been fired into Struble from a 22-caliber revolver, and the woman found is of the same caliber, the point is an important one. The supposition is that Struble acted on Saturday morning, put his revolver in his pocket and went down to the bank. Then, with the staining of insanity, the bank's interior was rearranged to show evidence of a struggle. He fired the three bullets into his own person, the revolver was hidden, and the misgotten man lay down to die.

Had Contemplated Suicide. It is evident that Struble, from a contemplated suicide for a long time, as a few instances before 4 on Friday afternoon he called on the treasurer of the Michigan bank into the banking office. The ledger had $19 in the bank, and Struble handed it to the treasurer. Struble had $19 in silver, remarking at the moment that they might be able to pay it safe. Then, just before banking hours for the day were over, he crossed the street to the Commercial bank and asked how they were for currency. The directors of this bank, becoming suspicious that all was not right with the former bank, had already warned their cashier not to lend Struble any money. Thus the unfortunate man's last attempt to state of disaster and death was unavailing.

RIOT IN MARQUETTE.

Hoodlums Attack Members of the Houghton, Mich., Club. Marquette, Mich., Sept. 16.—Because the Houghton Baseball club left the grounds on account of the mayor's decision on a foul there was a baseball riot here Sunday afternoon in which a number of Houghton's players and supporters were roughly handled, though most of them seriously hurt. The ball park was packed, quite as much with Houghton as with Marquette people, all the former having come down on the steamer Christopher Columbus, which brought a crowd of fully 5,000. In the sixth inning, with the game 3 to 3 in his favor Captain Larson picked his team to go down town. No sooner were they out of the gate than a mob of hoodlum rovers who had been keeping vocal abuse on them while inside the park set on them with stones, and even ran off and pulled some of the players off the dray.

Whenever one would be pulled off the dray he would be the center of a free fight, Marquette hoodlums attacking and the Houghton rovers rallying to the defense. Ball bats and rocks were freely used. The police were unable to handle the mob.

MICHIGAN CROP REPORT.

Lansing, Mich., Sept. 16.—For the Michigan crop report for September correspondents accounted for threshers the results of 2,371 jobs, representing more than 65,000 acres of wheat threshed, the yield from which was 1,051,453 bushels, an average 16 1/2 bushels to the acre. In the southern counties more than 62,000 acres threshed averaged 17.24 bushels to the acre. In the central counties the average is 14.02 bushels, and in the northern counties 15.2 bushels. The area in wheat in the state last May as compiled from the returns of supervisors was 1,513,313 acres. This is the probable acreage that was harvested this year. Corn made slow growth in August, but has not been damaged by frost and there is good reason to expect a good and well-matured crop. The dry weather has undoubtedly injured potatoes, but the extent of damage cannot now be estimated.

Fire at Lead Factory. Detroit, Sept. 16.—Fire broke out in the plant of the Peninsular Lead and Color works, and before it could be extinguished did $85,000 worth of damage to the building and contents. The loss is fully covered by insurance.

COUNTY IS IN A VERY BAD WAY

Has No Money and Its Credit Is Almost Gone.

Crystal Falls, Mich., Sept. 14.—From county, of which this place is the county seat, is in a bad way financially. The county poor commission have been purchasing their supplies for the county from a local company and paying for the goods with county warrants, which the company refuses to accept for further supply unless the commission can show that money to take up the bills is in fact. It takes $2200 a month to supply the needs of the county, and the commission are in a quandary to provide means to keep the poor from starving.

STURBLE CASE MORE MYSTERIOUS.

Sutton, Mich., Sept. 15-17. In Griffin Township, a woman, was arrested at his home here Saturday by Sheriff Mike Garvin, of Isabella county. Just before his arrest Griffin told that he had hidden away four tin coffers because he feared to let what he knew of the death of banker Struble, of Isabella. He said: "I know a little about that Struble affair, but I will not disclose what I know until the proper time. I have been warned by one of the occupants of the house in which I was staying from the bank that morning I saw them, that if I opened my mouth about the affair, it would cost me my life."

Strike for a 5-Cent Rate. Negaunee, Mich., Sept. 11.—The trimmers at the Negaunee mine quit work yesterday morning because the management refused to grant them a raise of 5 cents per day. They have been getting $1.40, but want more as the trimmers at the Cambria and Little mines are receiving $1.45.

Two Small Railways. A special dispatch from Negaunee to the Detroit Journal says—Two small railways are now under construction, both of which, when completed, will be of material assistance in developing the resources of this district. The most important is the Manistique & Northwestern, beginning at Manistique on Lake Michigan, and which is to have its northern terminus here. A contract was recently let for the building of another section of the line and completed the road will not only open a rich timber district, but the soil of which is fertile and well adapted to agriculture after the timber is cleared, but will also afford an inlet into the peninsula to some of the lower Michigan lines, which are desirous of getting an entry into the rich iron and copper districts.
