

The Manistique Pioneer-Tribune.

VOL. 17, NO. 1862. NEW SERIES, 374.

MANISTIQUE, MICHIGAN, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 19, 1907.

$1.50 PER YEAR.

CLOTHING.
We will continue, shoes and furnishings at half the usual price. See how our goods from the cheapest reliable up to the best of each line.

SHOES.
The price and quality of our immense line of shoes is the talk of the town.

Lumbermen's Goods.
By Machines, Underwear, Socks and Pants we have a complete line of low prices. Call and be convinced that it pays to trade with A. RIAN.

The Peoples Furniture Store Has just received a large consignment of Kitchen, Dining, and Rocking Chairs.
The Prices are Lower than ever. Inspect our Stock.
ANDERSON & CO., PROPS.

Another
SPECIAL SALE, AT THE
C. L. Co.'s STORE
Commencing Monday November 15th Bargains this time that will talk a Mile, Mens Underwear
50c.
1 Lot, Scotch Wool underwear, that formerly sold for $1.00 to $1.25
For 75c
1 Lot, Switz Conde and all wool underwear, formerly sold for $1.25 to $1.75 Caps.
For 25c
A good Line of Cloth Yacht, Plush and Velvet Caps. Were sold from 75c to $1.00, also Misses and Childrens 50c Caps.
For 50c
All of Last Winters best Yacht Caps in Plush Fur and Cloth. Also Misses and Childrens $1.00 caps Ladies, Misses and Childrens Jackets For $1.50
All our last years Jackets go at this Price, formerly sold from $5.00 to $12.00; these are bargains that will sell themselves if you look.
C. L. Co.'s Store,
C. P. HILL, Manager.

BREVITIES.

Don't forget to see those $5.00 suits that Blumrosen Bros. are offering.

A. A. House has secured the contract for painting the new Blumrosen cottage.

The Ladies Whist Club met at the home of Mrs. Will B. Thomas Tuesday afternoon.

The Y. P. S. C. E. of the Presbyterian church, will hold a social at the church parlors this evening.

The Northern Land Co., whose specialty is gobbling up big titles about the upper peninsula, has heard its tentacles about some property in and near Manistique.

Mr. Clarence Egbert, who it will be remembered, spent the summer in this city as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Rogers, is critically ill at his home, in Big Rapids, Mich.

Lyle Glendinning leaves this week for Detroit, where he has secured employment in a brass foundry. Lyle is a model young man, and will make a success in life.

We learn that John Patterson of Thompson, has returned the Courier plant from the Democrat Publishing Co. at a meeting of the Company held last Tuesday afternoon.

Since last week we have learned of a number of persons that have resided in Manistique twenty-five years or more. An old settlers' society should be organized and annual meetings held.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Beeson entertained a small party at dinner last Friday evening. Those invited were Rev. and Mrs. J. M. Rogers, Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Sattler, and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. E. Holboin.

The Chicago Lumbering Co. signed its October pay roll Monday evening of this week. The "Company" has not missed a pay day since last winter. As the amount paid must average about $25,000 a month, it has the faculty of making money easy hereabouts.

Some time ago we spoke in complimentary terms of the manner in which Mr. Harry Ross prepared his advertising matter. The Harper Illustration Syndicate of Columbus, Ohio, read the remark in THE PIONEER-TRIBUNE and promptly wrote Mr. Ross for samples of his work.

Under the prosperous era, that we as a community are enjoying under a Republican national administration, it seems almost superfluous for us to remind our readers that they should observe next Thursday in the manner indicated by President McKinley and Governor Pingree. Order your grocer and meat dealer to send a goodly supply of food to some deserving family, then attend the union services to be held at the Baptist church at 10:30 o'clock.

A fellow recently criticized THE PIONEER-TRIBUNE for the stand it is taking on the action of the board of poor commissioners relative to the county doctoring. We felt real bad for the time being but when we examined our subscription list and ascertained that he was not a subscriber we felt easier. We have since learned that the fellow in question walks four miles every week to read a "borrowed" copy of the paper.

Should be heard by All.

A Gramophone Co. will give a concert at the Star Opera house next Wednesday evening. The Gramophone is a recent and most wonderful invention. By its means selections rendered by orchestras, bands, pianos, vocalists and speakers are reproduced with startling accuracy as to tone and volume. Do not compare this machine with the phonograph and other weak lunged affairs. The Gramophone can be distinctly heard in all portions of the largest hall. Under favorable circumstances it can be heard a distance of half a mile.

A concert lasting nearly two hours will be given next Wednesday evening. Selections from all the prominent artists, bands and orchestras will be rendered.

*Popular prices will be charged, 10, 20, and 30 cents. Reserved seats may be received at E. N. Orr and Co.'s drug store.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Kelson entertained a few friends at dinner last Wednesday evening.

Blumrosen Bros. are selling their entire stock of Ladies' robes and jackets regardless of cost.

Mrs. Thos. Perry, of Manistique, who was the guest of Mrs. David Lee, returned home Friday.—Soo Democrat.

D. G. Currie and family moved into the Kinner home last week. Prof. Hornberger and family have moved into the Currie home.

Rev. J. M. Rogers held twelve offices in Lake Superior Presbytery prior to his resignation as pastor of the Church of the Redeemer.

Those handsome diamond and opal rings at the C. L. Co.'s Jewelry department would make nice Christmas gifts for you or sweetheart.

Mrs. E. D. Beeson left for Chicago Wednesday afternoon, in response to a telegram announcing the serious illness of her father, Mr. J. Naufig.

The Policy of Always Giving the Greatest Value for the Price and Always having what Suits the Public

Is what brings this store to the front and keeps it there. Look at our special prices for 15 DAYS MORE.

Mens $7.50 Blue Beaver Overalls, heavy weight, velvet collar	Lumbermens Rubbers, made by the Boston Rubber Co. per pair $2.00 for... $1.75	PRICES: PRICES: 2 1/2 lbs. Shirts, 5 yds. shirt lining and 2 1/2 lbs. Shirts, give free with every dress pattern cutting $2 per 30, or above.
Mens $4.00 Blue and White superior coat to those you will find in most stores for $10.00 and over	Mens $2.00 Blue and White superior coat to those you will find in most stores for $10.00 and over	Ladies $2.00 Caps... $2.00
A strong serviceable and comfortable storm top, steel well worth $2.50 for... $2.00	Mens $1.00 Blue and White superior coat to those you will find in most stores for $10.00 and over	Ladies $1.00 Jackets... $1.00
A genuine Irish Flannel with a thin wadded lining, $10.00 for... $8.00	Mens $1.00 Blue and White superior coat to those you will find in most stores for $10.00 and over	Ladies $1.00 Jackets... $1.00
	Mens $1.00 Blue and White superior coat to those you will find in most stores for $10.00 and over	Childrens $1.00 Coats... $1.00

H. WINKELMAN.

John Quick, who, perhaps has killed more deer than any other resident of Schoolcraft county, killed three deer along the line of the Manistique & Northwestern railroad one day last week.

At a recent annual meeting of the Michigan Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. A. J. Fox of Detroit, well known here, was elected as one of the delegates to the general federation convention to be held at Denver next June.

No better cigars are sold in the town than those made by our local manufacturers. When you buy a cigar call for the Manistique product. If every lover of the weed would do this, our local manufacturers would be taxed to their utmost capacities.

The carcass of a large deer with one of Chas. R. Orr's coupons attached, arrived in the city today. We hereby retract everything we have said in previous years concerning Mr. Orr's skill as a hunter. Geo. Brooks' friends are anxiously awaiting returns from him.

A surprise party was given in honor of Miss Tenn Ross last Friday evening. Those present were: Misses Edna Bennett, Hazel Nicholson, Edna Deering, Mary McNeil, Edith Brown, Pearl Davidson and Mildred Quick. Mrs. Ross served elaborate refreshments. All had a very enjoyable time.

A public reception will be given Rev. and Mrs. J. M. Rogers at the Church of the Redeemer, on Monday evening November 20th, from 8 to 10 o'clock. All members of the church and congregation as well as all the friends of Mr. and Mrs. Rogers, irrespective of church affiliations are invited to attend.

Last Friday evening Mrs. Courtwright was the central figure of a very enjoyable occasion. As she was soon to leave her Manicelonn friends to join her husband at Manistique they had a party at the Methodist church where she found the Epworth League and others assembled. The evening was spent in an informal way, listening to music after which light refreshments were served. Before leaving the tables Rev. Hart arose and, in a few words reviewed the services of Mrs. Courtwright as a member of the choir for the past year and then presented her with a silver cracker jar as a token of appreciation. Mrs. Courtwright left for her new home Monday and carried with her the best wishes of a large circle of acquaintances.—Manicelonn Herald.

The Buell is expected in port this afternoon. Messrs. A. J. Fox and N. P. Wheeler, members of the C. L. Co., are expected on her.

Rev. J. M. Rogers will deliver the annual Thanksgiving sermon at a union meeting to be held at the Baptist church Thursday forenoon, Nov. 25th.

August Wicklund an employee of the Weston Mig. Co., had several fingers of his right hand smashed Monday afternoon by catching them between two rollers.

Mrs. W. O. Bronson planned a surprise tea on her daughter, Miss Clara Bronson Wednesday evening. Those invited and present were, Misses Orr, Tucker, Hamilton, Esworth and Kerwin.

W. W. Ashley, late of the St. Ignace Enterprise, has decided to engage in the newspaper business at Newbury. The paper will be known as the Journal, and will be independent in politics.

J. F. Coon and William Rowe, of Manistique, Mich., will open a first-class grocery and crockery store in the Harris building, corner of Hecla and Fourth streets, second door from bank in Laurium, about the 20th of this month. They have been in business for the last fifteen years and come among us highly recommended.—Caledonian News.

Has the Hall association gone out of existence? The association did much good work last winter by its intelligent and careful distribution of clothing and provisions which were donated by various citizens, and it is to be hoped that it will continue in the commendable work the coming winter. We will donate two rooms on the second floor of the THE PIONEER-TRIBUNE building for use of the association, if it has not "gone out of blast."

Rev. and Mrs. B. Marks left for Deatur, Van Buren county, Wednesday of this week, where they will reside in the future. They have lived in Schoolcraft county for the past thirty years—about past three years in the Herwin district, just of the village. Mr. Marks held regular services in this neighborhood without compensation and in other ways has endeared himself to the people of that locality. He is about 75 years of age and feels the need of a less active life.

A Unique Item.

The male members of the M. E. church, have planned a novel social. Usually the ladies are expected to do all the "stewing," fretting and work that accompanies a church social or supper. The gentlemen of the church above named have decided to give an oyster supper to the ladies, and all others at Odd Fellows hall on Monday evening, November 20th. At this time the usual order of things will be reversed. The gentlemen will do all the work. They have employed a famous chef, a former resident of Hillsdale, for the occasion, and will be prepared to serve oysters in "every known style."

A short program will also be rendered consisting of speaking, recitations and singing. The gramophone here will also be there.

Admission, including supper, will be 25 cents.

All are cordially invited to attend. Remember the date and place.

Extra heavy gray woolen blankets at $1.10, at Blumrosen Bros.

Mr. Baxter of the C. L. Co.'s office returned from Chicago early in the week.

Good 30 inch dress flannel, all shades, at 22 cents a yard, at Blumrosen Bros.

Orr Bros. & Co. will have a choice lot of turkeys, ducks and chickens for Thanksgiving.

The steamer Iowa, of the Goodrich line, was in port Wednesday. This is the handsomest boat that has ever visited this port.

Mrs. W. Wolter received a telegram announcing the death of her father, Geo. W. Samaan, at Loveland, Colorado. Mr. Samaan was 70 years of age and for many years was a resident of Greenville, Illinois.

C. S. Hudson has engaged in the meat business at the Arrowwood building, Lakeside. It is his intention to carry a full line of choice fresh and salt meats, poultry, oysters, celery and in fact everything usually found in a well appointed meat market.

Owing to the fierce weather Blumrosen Bros.' store is overcrowded with sensible goods. They have decided to move these goods and in order to do so have cut the prices on all staples and seasonable goods. Read their mammoth bills and compare their prices with others and verify the truthfulness of the statement.

James Coon and William Rowe have decided to engage in the grocery business at Laurium. They have rented a good store room and will be ready for business shortly. Mr. Coon is well and favorably known here. He had charge of the Hall & Buell store at South Manistique for the past seven years and has an established reputation for conservatism and honesty. Mr. Rowe is also an experienced business man. The new firm will prosper.

A Rare Treat.

Dr. J. P. D. John, ex-president of De Pauw University, a lecturer of National fame, has been secured by Rev. J. M. Shauk for two lectures at the M. E. Church, Friday and Saturday evenings of next week. Mr. Shauk has been instrumental in securing many noteworthy attractions during his residence here, and that has done so in securing Dr. John, goes without saying.

On Friday evening he will speak on the "Word of Man." The subject for Saturday evening will be "Did Man make God or did God make Man." This lecture is a reply to the teachings of Agnosticism in general and to the essays and lectures of Robert G. Ingersoll in particular. This lecture has attracted world wide attention.

Dr. John is everywhere recognized as a man of magnificent brain power, a careful and profound thinker, and an eloquent and most entertaining speaker.

Mr. Shank heard Mr. John at Port Huron last September and is more than delighted to think that he has been so fortunate as to secure him for a date here.

Tickets for the two lectures will be sold at 75 cents; Mr. Shank has a diagram of the church and will sell reserved seats.

All should make an effort to attend one or both of these lectures.

A SONG OF HOME
I've wandered north and south;
To many lands I've been;
But one small spot alone Has ever been my home.

A CLEW BY WIRE
Or, an Interrupted Current.
BY HOWARD M. YOST.
Copyright 1916, by J. D. Lippincott Co.

It was something like coming home, After all, all that to a home amount Of furniture and things to be,
Remembrance of loved forms since gone.

CHAPTER II.
"There were two rooms, the spare bedroom and the parlor adjoining, on the first floor, which still retained the furniture. Everything about these rooms, though faded and somewhat worn, was in good order, and I complimented Mrs. Snyder on the care also had taken."

"Mrs. Snyder had thrown up the window, and the soft evening air came into the rooms.
Although the place had not been allowed to go to ruin, there was about it that indescribable quality which is attached to long-deserted houses. We all felt it more or less. Sarah and Mrs.
Snyder spoke in whispers, and I kept about the house, as though fearful that the heavy tread of his cowardly boots would bring back the spirits of the departed, while to myself I traced the paths about the old house which had not known an inhabitant for so long.
It seemed like some human being deserted by its own flesh and blood." While I was passing from bureau to wardrobe, from center-table to mantel-piece, taking mental notes of all the old-fashioned china and bric-a-brac which adorned those places still, and which in my young days had been for-bidden my boyish fingers, Sarah and Mrs. Snyder made up their minds to bedding from a huge cedar chest which stood on one side of the room.

Old Jake gave a sudden start which attracted my attention to him. I saw him gaze through the open doorway to the parlor in very evident terror, and heard him exclaim, in low, awed tones:
"Get in here!"
I could not restrain a smile at the sight of the tall, strong man oreome by childish fears, and was about to upbraid him for his foolishness. But I remembered the vein of superstition which runs through the lives of the Pennsylvania farmers, and so said nothing.
"Come back with us," again pleaded Sarah.
"No. If there is anything out of the ordinary about my home, I am all the more determined to remain and find out what it is," I said, decisively. Then I added, more softly, for I did not wish to wound the kind heart of my old nurse:
"I know her fear for me grew out of her love and solicitude for my welfare.
I can take care of myself under any circumstances. I am not a child now, Sarah."
"Don't let Jake start by you until you find out," Sarah persisted.
"What is the matter with you, Sarah? go to bed," I said, impatiently, as she exclaimed Mr. Hussicker, in remembrance.

"Come some, how foolish this! What could be the matter with the house?
Nothing harmful, that is certain. I'll be all right. Don't worry, and I'll ride conveniently. If you insist, I will go sundays I sleep!"
"Der's no candle here. I got gon and bring id on," Mrs. Snyder said.
"Oh, you are acquainted with the Morley's, then?" I remarked, somewhat colly, for I did not recall his bringing Florence Morley's name into the conversation.
"Only slightly acquainted. I am interested in a few business ventures with Mr. Morley. My acquaintance extends no farther," Jackson said.
I returned to my thoughts, light-heartedly and happy at the prospect of gaining the sweet girl whom I had loved and worshiped for some time in secret.
So then Florence Morley was acquainted with Mr. Morley. I could not but feel a greater respect for Jackson.
For Mr. Morley was one of the most influential and highly-thought-of men in Philadelphia, and, besides, was one of the trustees of the bank. Jackson had never known of his relations with such an influential man; indeed, I had never even heard him mention the fact before.

"I had felt all along that it would be presumptuous for me to aspire to be a bachelor, and did not seem to have any special friends. It was certainly no secret that I was the son of my associates in the bank."
"Mr. Jackson, will you do me a favor?" I asked, as he passed in his door.
"Most willingly, if you wish. You have but to state it," he answered, af-fably.
I stated the circumstances concerning the lock, and he said that he would be unable to be on hand at half-past eight, I added.
"And you wish me to be at the bank in your place?" he said.
"Yes, if it would not inconvenience you."
"Not at all. I will be there, so the rule will be complied with. Oh, say a word. There is an old aunt of mine over in Camden who is ill, and I might possibly be summoned to her bedside."
"Well, then, if you go, I'll stay at home, and go to the bank as I intended, I said, feeling quite dispirited.
"But if I say I will be at the bank you may depend on me, Mr. Conway, said aunt or not," Jackson went on.
He really seemed so willing to do me the favor that I could only reply:
"Thank you very much. I'll depend on you. It will be doing me a great favor indeed. I'll reciprocate some day."
"Not another word, Mr. Conway, on the subject. Go and enjoy yourself!" Then he regarded me with a smile as he concluded. "I suppose it is for the best that you intend to visit. Now, I am just going on my way to see her father at his office."
"Oh, you are acquainted with the Morley's, then?" I remarked, somewhat colly, for I did not recall his bringing Florence Morley's name into the conversation.
"Only slightly acquainted. I am interested in a few business ventures
with Mr. Morley. My acquaintance extends no farther," Jackson said.
I returned to my thoughts, light-heartedly and happy at the prospect of gaining the sweet girl whom I had loved
and worshiped for some time in secret.
So then Florence Morley was acquainted with Mr. Morley. I could not but feel a greater respect for Jackson.
For Mr. Morley was one of the most influential and highly-thought-of men in Philadelphia, and, besides, was one of
the trustees of the bank. Jackson had
never known of his relations with
such an influential man; indeed, I had never even heard him mention the fact before.

THAT FOLDING BED.
It is still an object of suspicion to many Hotel Visitors.
"I'm sorry, sir," said the polite young uptown hotel clerk to the grum-looking guest, "but I haven't another room of the house to-night. If you could do this till morning I'll fix you up right for
to-morrow." But the indignant, pensive man, who had called to work in the grum-look-ing man went away.
When he had got over the threshold
the suave clerk smiled a pensive smile
and murmured to himself: "Every body in these hotels. It beats the world how many will let his prejudices drive him out into the night to seek inferior accommodations. And yet, this man looked like he knew better, too."
"Nothing in the world except that in
the only room he could find was a folding bed." You see we are crowded now and there are but few vacant rooms. It is a crank on the subject of folding beds because in modern times two or three human beings have
been caught in them, when they folded up inopportunistly, and had their lives cut out. I pleaded with him that no such disaster could happen to him here, for nowadays folding beds are made with patent catches that absolutely prevent them from unslugging.
No matter how sorely a bed such as we have should yearn to close up on the occupant, it will give way and
bid. I told him all this, but it had no effect.
"Are most people imbued with this prejudice?" he asked.
"Yes, I think a majority of the traveling public has that feeling and I do not believe the time will ever come when it will be entirely eradicated from the confidence of the American people." Washington Post.

Poor Joe's Turkey.
Cuttan Thrust — That young Dunce has got more money than sense.
Dullard Bluntly — I don't know if he was rich.
Cuttan Thrust — He isn't. — Tit-Bits.

One compartment was used for the reserve currency, another for the reserved gold, and two compartments remained locked for long periods.
The remaining spaces were used for the storage of various securities, United States bonds, and other securities on real estate, state and municipal bonds, and for the gold, silver and currency required in the daily transactions. This gold was kept in the vaults in the in the vaults in the banking-room, every morning.
While unloading the compartment, I noticed with surprise that the lock was open, and the reserve currency compartment, as though it had been absolutely unbroken, was empty.
I grasped the iron handle, and the door swung open. I started back when I looked in. What had come over me!
I had my eyes and hand looked again.
The place was empty; nothing to be seen but the two shelves and the painted steel bottom sides. Of the $400,000, the amount of the reserve, not one cent remained.

A WATERMELON DUEL.
Description of One of the Contests in Which Southern Negroes Have Been Engaged.
Did you ever see a watermelon duel — one designated by the colored brother of the southland — a "mellion mellion" — in the summer months, more exciting than a latter day fight with arms. The duel with the luscious melon is generally seen at the country dances, where the contestants are in coordinate with the greasy pole climbing and pie eating contest, and take precedence over them in point of amusement.
It was a hot day at one of these gay gatherings — one of those days that "swink" the pumpkins and withered everything else, even the trees. A watermelon was the prize, and the winner of the contest was to receive a prize of the negro who could eat the most melons. There were three contests. The first was given a melon with instructions to eat out at the word "go." When the cue was given the "outlets" began to devour the melon, throwing the seed out at one side of his mouth and the rinds out at the other with an automatic ease that came from years of practice. The third thick melon man, who stood his feet in the street, making it up, seed large, unlike a sutton plum of large capacity. At the end of five minutes the contest was declared "rough" having eaten four large melons piece.
The third continued to eat at his usual pace of one melon a minute for two minutes, and then declared he had a sufficiency.
The successful duelist received the prize money and walked off as if noting. He had not another room of the house to-night. If you could do this till morning I'll fix you up right for
to-morrow." But the indignant, pensive man, who had called to work in
the grum-look-ing man went away.
When he had got over the threshold
the suave clerk smiled a pensive smile
and murmured to himself: "Every body
in these hotels. It beats the world how many will let his prejudices drive him
out into the night to seek inferior accommodations. And yet, this man
looked like he knew better, too."
"Nothing in the world except that in
the only room he could find was a folding bed." You see we are crowded
now and there are but few vacant
rooms. It is a crank on the subject
of folding beds because in modern
times two or three human beings have
been caught in them, when they folded
up inopportunistly, and had their lives
cut out. I pleaded with him that
no such disaster could happen to him
here, for nowadays folding beds are
made with patent catches that absolutely prevent them from unslugging.
No matter how sorely a bed such
as we have should yearn to close up on the occupant, it will give way and
bid. I told him all this, but it had no effect.
"Are most people imbued with this
prejudice?" he asked.
"Yes, I think a majority of the traveling public has that feeling and I do not believe the time will ever come
when it will be entirely eradicated
from the confidence of the American people." Washington Post.

THE TURN OF LIFE
Is the most important period in a woman's existence. Owing to modern methods of living, not one woman in a thousand approaches this perfectly natural change without experiencing a train of very annoying and sometimes painful symptoms.
Those dreadful hot flashes, sending
the blood surging to the heart until it seems ready to burst, and the faint feeling that follows, sometimes with chills, as if the heart were going
to stop for good, are symptoms of a dangerous nervous condition. Those hot flashes are just so many calls
from nature
for help.
The nervous system is crying out for assistance.
The erythrocyte in the blood.
The erythrocyte in the blood.
The erythrocyte in the blood.

THE TURN OF LIFE
Is the most important period in a woman's
existence. Owing to modern
methods of living, not one woman in a thousand approaches this perfectly
natural change without experiencing
a train of very annoying and sometimes painful symptoms.
Those dreadful hot flashes, sending
the blood surging to the heart until it
seems ready to burst, and the faint
feeling that follows, sometimes with
chills, as if the
heart were going
to stop for
good, are symptoms of a dangerous nervous
condition. Those hot flashes are just so
many calls
from nature
for help.
The nervous system is crying out for assistance.
The erythrocyte in the blood.
The erythrocyte in the blood.
The erythrocyte in the blood.

THE TURN OF LIFE
Is the most important period in a woman's
existence. Owing to modern
methods of living, not one woman in a thousand approaches this perfectly
natural change without experiencing
a train of very annoying and sometimes painful symptoms.
Those dreadful hot flashes, sending
the blood surging to the heart until it
seems ready to burst, and the faint
feeling that follows, sometimes with
chills, as if the
heart were going
to stop for
good, are symptoms of a dangerous nervous
condition. Those hot flashes are just so
many calls
from nature
for help.
The nervous system is crying out for assistance.
The erythrocyte in the blood.
The erythrocyte in the blood.
The erythrocyte in the blood.

THE POSTAL DEPARTMENT.
Postmaster-General Gary's First Report to the President.
Washington, Nov. 15.—The first annual report of Postmaster-General James A.
Gary to the president is made public. The feature is the strong advocacy of postal savings deposits, as a scheme over which Postmaster-General Gary has worked for many months in the formation of plans to present to the president and congress. He says the time has come when the government should take of their establishment, and that the adoption of a well-considered system would create a great boon upon a large number of people and ultimately be of incalculable benefit to the whole country. The estimate of the revenue and expenditures for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1917, is:
Total postal revenue for 1917, $220,000,000;
total postal expenses for 1917, $220,000,000;
total postal revenue for 1916, $220,000,000;
total postal expenses for 1916, $220,000,000.
Following is an abstract of the report:
The increase of the postal deficit for 1917 is largely a reflection of the depressed business conditions which prevailed all over the United States during the first three quarters of that period. There has been a decrease in the volume of mail matter and the people by second-class mail matter carrier regulations, the enactment by congress of some measure to remedy the wrong, similarly pointed out by past postmaster-generals is urged. As to this the postmaster-general says: "If justice and the service could be obtained and popularized by the broad extension of free delivery without infringement upon the general resources of the government, and a great saving in the carrying charges, the reduction of letter postage to one cent per piece.
No method of perfecting the organization of the postal service has proved more effective than the consolidation of post offices.
Legislative restrictions on its development and a great saving in the carrying charges, the reduction of letter postage to one cent
per piece.
The experimental rural free delivery has been generally appreciated; few expansions have conferred greater benefits in the past. It has been demonstrated that proved a potent factor in attaining what should be a chief aim of government, the enlarging of the base of essential production to the farming class.
The report also contains in detail the operations of the various branches of the department. The portion on the subject of postal savings is of especial interest. It is pointed out that the time has come when of dollars are undoubtedly secured by people who have little or no confidence in ordinary securities and money institutions and who are desirous of accumulating capital, but if its owners could be inspired with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on gradually accepted by the people. Their faith in the government is unshaken. Their little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its
way into the pockets of the government.
If the government undertook this
policy, it would be a large check on
gradually accepted by the people. Their
faith in the government is unshaken. Their
little confidence with respect to the government, but if its owners could be inspired
with absolute confidence in the security of
an investment is altogether probable
that the bulk of this fund would find its way into the pockets of Schoolcraft County Bank Manistique, Michigan.

Money to Loan on Satisfactory Securities, Liberal Interest Allowed on Deposits.

FIRE, LIFE, ACCIDENT AND PLATE GLASS INSURANCE Written in the Best Companies.

JOHN PATTERSON, - President
C. B. MEFSEREAU, - Cashier

Manistique Bank

Capital $50,000—Surplus $22,000

TRANSACTIONS A GENERAL BANKING AND FOREIGN EXCHANGE BUSINESS. INTEREST PAID ON DEPOSITS. CHECKS AND DRAFTS CASHED.

Fire Insurance Department Representing the best American Companies.

GEO. H. FLORE, - President
M. H. QUIGG, - Vice Pres
H. W. GLAUBER, - Cashier

Manistique Pioneer-Tribune

Published by Tribune Publishing Company.

Geo. B. Holbein, Editor.

FRIDAY, November 10, 1907.

Entered as the postoffice at Manistique, Mich. as second class mail matter.

A man who can smile at defeat or trouble is built right.

Turkey and cranberry sauce will receive their quota of attention shortly.

The woman who preserves her temper when a clothesline full of clothes drops into the mud, deserves a crown of glory.

Kansas is out of tune with the nation. Last year the Republicans carried the nation; Kansas went Populist. This year the nation went Democratic; Kansas went Republican.

Mrs. Geo. A. Newett, wife of Editor Newett of the Ishpeming Iron Ore, died last Friday night, from an attack of appendicitis. Mr. Newett has the sympathy of the entire craft in his sad hour of bereavement.

The Sultan of Turkey claims that the Americans have blossomed out as brigands, and are practicing up on their marksmanship by using Turks as targets. They have displayed great wisdom in their choice of targets.

When a citizen of Mexico wants to take a trip costing $100 he must needs get together $50 in Mexican money, every dollar of which he works as hard for as an American citizen works for a gold dollar, and this is free-silver prosperity. The people of the United States will be a long while accepting this kind of prosperity.

How much happier everybody would be if the well-to-do inhabitants of Manistique would individually see to it that less fortunate families would be the recipients of a good Thanksgiving dinner. It is pure and simple selfishness to gorge one's self with the best the market affords, while others are in want of the simple necessities of life.

Mr. Gorman of Maryland has been in the United States Senate for eighteen years, at a salary of $5,000 a year. He was without estate when he assumed the Senatorial dignity, and is now reported to be worth $3,000,000. A man who can save $3,000,000 out of an aggregate income of eighteen years of $90,000 is no slouch of a financier, and can be trusted to keep out of the poorhouse after his working days are over.

It remains to be seen whether oysters and whiskey can be successfully used for the "white wash" purposes.

Cleveland's son was christened "Richard Folsom Cleveland." The name proves that Mrs. Cleveland's wishes were acceded to.

The surrender of the greater New York to Tammany, is a crime against civilization, says the New York Tribune.

Will the Courier have the courage to take sides in the Pingree township matter? Echo answers, "No." It will as usual play the Good Lord, good devil act.

The land-ladies at Ann Arbor threaten to out the students who smoke. They'll have a monstrous job on hand as nine-tenths of the students are devotees of the weed.

The guilt of the poor commissioners is so apparent that the papers in other counties say that the forthcoming meeting of the board of the supervisors of Schoolcraft county is called for the purpose of depositing them.

An effort will be made at the forthcoming meeting of the board of supervisors to create Pingree township out of that portion of Manistique township lying outside of the village of Manistique. The scheme does not possess one redeeming feature and should be voted down.

Senator Gorman has signified his intention of competing for the presidential nomination on the silver ticket in 1908. Carter Harrison Jr. also has his lightning rod up, and Bryan has failed to take his down. There will, no doubt be an interesting squabble for the empty honor of representing the "lost cause" in the next presidential campaign.

Society has a way of avenging itself for the wrongs committed on the lowest of its members. Sir Robert Peel gave his daughter a magnificent riding-habit on her nineteenth birthday, and attired in the embroidered gown she rode side by side with him in the parks of London. She has scarcely returned home before she was taken with the most malignant form of typhus fever, and in ten days was laid to rest in the church-yard. And the secret was very simple. The poor seamstress, in a garret in one of the slums, while she was embroidering that garment looked upon a husband shivering in the paroxysm of chills, and she took the half-finished garment and laid it over him and the garment took up the germs of fever, and conveyed them from the hovel to the palace of the statesman. And so we are bound together in one bundle of social life, and if we neglect the poorest and the lowest society will avenge itself in the destruction of the highest, richest and most cultivated.

One of the incidents of the Ohio election that should be most gratifying to Mr. Hanna is the endorsement he received in his home county, Cuyahoga, (Cleveland). No Democrat nominee on either the legislative or county ticket was elected and Mr. Hanna here secured twelve votes for his return to the United States senate. It was in Cleveland that the greatest effort was made to paint Mr. Hanna as an "opposer of labor." It was there that Mr. Bryan made his most demagogic attacks on Mr. McKinley's campaign manager. All that venom, abuse and falsehood could invent was brought to play in the effort to arouse prejudice against the man, and it has all failed. Mr. Hanna's neighbors, the men that know him best, have given him an endorsement which, under all the circumstances, must be very pleasing to him. The Republican majority in the Ohio legislature is small, only five, but it is enough to prevent the calamity of the election of a Silver Democrat to the United States Senate.—Iron Mountain Press.

The President's Cuban Policy. Mr. McKinley's Cuban policy has had three distinct results thus far. General Weyler has been recalled a man of totally different character placed in command of the Spanish armies. The Spanish ministry has announced a complete change of policy, promised autonomy to Cuba, offered amnesty to the rebels and taken the preliminary steps for the reclamation of the land from the ruin wrought by Weyler.

The competitor prisoners are to be released. These men were offenders against our own law as well as against the laws of Spain. They have had more sympathy than they deserved. But their detention was irritating to the people of this country and their release will remove almost the last remaining ground upon which the war party in congress can claim public attention.

In six months Mr. McKinley has accomplished more for the Cuban people and the protection of the rights of Americans in Cuba than resulted from two years of war clamor in congress. Is it not the part of wisdom to give him a free hand in dealing with Spain to the end of the chapter? Could Senator Mason, wonderful statesman that he is, improve on the President's work?

Extra Session.
(Grand Rapids Herald.)

The question of calling the legislature to meet in extra session in January, or early in the year, seems to be agitating the minds of both Governors Vessellus and Pingree. Michigan has seldom been favored with executives more anxious to serve the people than at the present time, hence "extra session" or "no extra session" may be expected to devolve upon the wishes of the people, as the power of calling the extra session may interpret the aforesaid "wishes." Possibly there may be pessimists within the great state of Michigan, who will charge that an extra session of the legislature will be called for no other purpose, than to grind out political fodder with which the renomination of Governor Pingree, may be furthered or made more easy and certain, but who will believe it?

But seriously, if Governor Pingree sincerely desires to follow the will of the people, he believe he will do well to let alone, the question of an extra session of the legislature for this next winter. There is a strong feeling about the state that the regular sessions of the legislature are too long—that we have too much law making now—and this sentiment will not halt with pleasure, an extra dose of the medicine, we have heretofore been compelled to take only once in two years.

And wherefore an extra session anyway? What can Governor Pingree or anyone expect to gain by it? Reform legislation,—legislation against the corporations,—may be the answer, but what hope is there that anything can be accomplished? Who will guarantee or even argue there is any probability that legislation of the character advocated by the Pingree following, can or would be passed by the state senate? There has been no change in the membership of that body, and there will be none until after another election anyway. Everyone interested, over the whole length and breadth of the state, understands and knows of the attitude of the senate last winter. Its members proved not to be of putty—they were men of character—and whether right or wrong in their attitude toward various measures, they acted from conviction and remained steadfast. No one has heard any announcement of a change of heart on the part of any senator or none may be expected.

So it would seem, from any point of view one may take, that an extra session of the legislature would be barren of results, and would only entail a needless expense upon the state treasury. It is not believed the people want or would approve of it.

When the thriver and kidneys are disordered it produces a feeling of dizziness and gloom of mind that is impossible to shake off. The victim needs the help of a remedy that will restore the deranged organs to their normal healthy condition. Dr. J. H. McLean's Liver and Kidney Balm will bring about this result. By stimulating them to increased activity in removing the waste of the system it restores health and vigor of mind and body. Price $1.00 a bottle. For sale by Geo. Chandler.

Gov. Pingree's Thanksgiving Proclamation.
Gov. Pingree's Thanksgiving proclamation is brisk and to the point, and reads as follows:
To the People of the State of Michigan, Greeting:

In pursuance of a time-honored custom I have the honor to hereby appoint Thursday, November 25, a day of general Thanksgiving. The people of this great Commonwealth are requested or the above named day to abstain from the ordinary avocations of life, and devote the day to exercises and recreation appropriate to the occasion.

It is a good day to forgive offenses, to forget or excuse differences of opinion in religion, beliefs and politics, and to recognize the great number of needy people throughout the state, and also to do kind acts and return thanks for the many blessings which we enjoy.

The spirit of philanthropy among our citizens has been active in providing for the needs of the suffering and the unfortunate. Christian workers have brought many to acknowledge their obligations to lead better lives, and countless numbers have been made happier for their efforts during the year. For every joyful it becomes us to render devout thanksgiving unto God.

Given under my hand and the great seal of the state at the capitol at Lansing this 6th day of November, in the year of our Lord, 1897, and of the independence of the United States the one hundred and twenty-first.

H. S. PINGREE, Governor.
By the governor: Washington Gardner, Secretary of State.

Released $100,000 Cash.

Narcissus Mercier, the returned Klondike miner, who has been spending the past three months with relatives at Garden and other points in the upper peninsula, recently declined an offer of $100,000 for his claim at the new Eldorado. The offer was first made to him by a San Francisco broker who had heard of the fabulous richness of Mercier's claim and who had been in Seattle on his way home from the gold fields. He then offered Mercier $75,000 in gold cash for the claim and the balance in three months, but Mercier refused. Lately he received a letter offering the entire amount in cash for the claim. Beside this Mercier has received many rich offers for the claim, which is considered one of the best in Alaska fields.

His claim is No. 12, and is situated just 10 miles from Juneau, it being the first claim on the way from the city. His plans for his return to the gold fields have been decided upon now. He will leave soon after the holidays, and will go to California, where he has a number of friends whom he will visit for two months, and then he will go to Seattle, from where he will take the boat to the lower part of Alaska in March. He says that boats will leave for the lower ports as early as March, but they cannot leave for the month of the Yukon before July. He will walk up from the southern part of Alaska the entire distance to his claim. He contemplates that it will take him from the middle of March until the first of June to walk the distance. He is not looking forward to anything but a hard trip and would advise no one to try to make it unless they are in the best of health and very strong physically.

The letter also said that there would be great privation in and about the city this winter on account of the scarcity of food. The letter said that the Canadian government was exacting a tax for everything imaginable. They even taxed the miners for the wood they cut to keep from freezing. There are thousands there with little or nothing to eat and they were already subsisting on short rations.

Mercier intends to put in three months in gold hunting, and contemplates by that time to have enough money to live in wealth for the remainder of his days. He will get up next spring and relieve his partner, who will be gone for a year on a visit with his parents in this country, and then he will return and head Mercier will work the claim for all there is in it for two years. They had already worked the claim for a year when Mercier left, and he says that the gold they had taken out was worth $100,000, and that they would be able to get out all they could be able to get in three years and then go to sell their claim for $50,000.

You can't cure syphilis until you can avoid it and cure every other kind of throat or lung trouble by the use of our Mucous Cough Cure. A. S. Putnam & Co.

Dr. Nansen's Lecture.
To enable every one to visit the twin cities and hear the famous Explorer, the Soo line will make low extension rates from all stations in Michigan, Minnesota and North Dakota to Minneapolis and St. Paul, going November 18th, and 19th, and 20th to return and Nov. 22nd, on Good to return and Nov. 22nd, on Good to all Soo line stations. The rate from Manistique, is $10.00 for the round trip.

The Primary School Fund.
The last semi-annual report of the primary school fund will be decided among several townships of the county as follows:

TOWNSHIP.	NO. OF PUPILS.	AMOUNT.
Manistique	97	$88.00
Hawthorn	81	72.90
Harrison	92	82.80
Thompson	108	107.20
Woods	128	118.40
Wheat	107	106.30
Genesee	81	73.00
Seney	82	73.80
Total	1,280	$1,092.00

Money to Give Away.

A. W. Patton, the millionaire paper manufacturer of Appleton, a large owner of real estate in this vicinity, has $100,000 to give away, but he does not know where to give it. He claims unmercifully. Neither of them have the man's approval. He says that people are too highly educated in these days, and silence all argument by sighting himself as a standing proof that education is not needed in the success of life. He said that he is anxious to give away his money, but that a generous impulse is overcome by a fear that he may not choose the best place for it.

—Exchange.
Why don't Mr. Patton divide it up among the country editors of his state. The several amounts would be greatly appreciated by the quill pushers.

Money in the Farm.

Grand Marais has a gentleman, Mr. R. E. Schneider, who is a banker, merchant and shingle manufacturer, and is doing a successful business in all these lines. Last spring he and his partner, Mr. C. E. Morse, purchased forty acres of land near Grand Marais and cleared about twenty acres. Fifteen acres were planted with potatoes last summer and the other five acres were planted with cabbage and other vegetables. During a conversation one day last week Mr. Schneider said to the editor of the Republican, "Talk about making money! We have made more clear money of fifteen acres of potatoes this year than we ever made in any other investment of five times the amount required for this. We dug nearly 4,000 of good marketable potatoes from the fifteen acres. This upper peninsula is going green. The upper peninsula is going green. It is one of the best farming districts in the state within a few years."

Mr. Schneider is developing into an enthusiast on farming and says that he will plant more crops next season than he did during the past season. His experience is simply one of many that go to prove that the upper peninsula climate and soil is all right and is the place for one who wants to improve and develop a farm.—Manistique Republican.

Prosperity Here.

Labor Commissioner Cox says that evidences of returning prosperity in Michigan are abundant. The office is receiving reports on the subject from every conceivable source and all are optimistic in regard to the future, many basing their belief on figures. There are far less unemployed men in the cities and villages of Michigan, he says, than there were a year ago. Factory employes have increased, nearly 8,000 more than last year being reported from Detroit alone, and the canvass is not completed. The growth and activity of trades unions in the state, he says, is another indication of returning prosperity. As a usual thing these organizations lie dormant during a period of depression. All strikes have been satisfactorily adjusted and an increase of wages granted in one or two instances. Employers, he says, would not advance wages unless times were better. Prices of all farm products have increased and the condition of the farmer is much better. Many farm mortgages have been canceled or partly so, and debts of other kinds wiped out by the farmer.

Mr. Cox says: "from an estimate made from a partial canvass I feel safe in saying that there have been more than a thousand new mercantile and manufacturing institutions started up in Michigan within the past year. In a few days more I will be able to state positively just how many of these there are."

"I regret that low wages are paid in some of the institutions of the state, especially to women and youth, but I am thankful to know that the avenues of employment are increasing, and as help becomes scarcer and labor better organized advanced wages will follow the improvement of the times."

Disengagement for life by burns or scalds may be avoided by using the BURNERS' WHICH MAKE SAFE, the great remedy for piles and for all kinds of sores and skin troubles. A. S. Putnam & Co.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

W. L. LORANGER
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW.
Fire, Life and Accident Insurance.
OFFICE IN COURT HOUSE.
MANISTIQUE, MICHIGAN.

V. I. HIXSON,
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW
OFFICE IN OUR BLOCK, MANISTIQUE, MICH.

WALSH & PARDEE, LAWYERS.
Office in the Kinloch Block upstairs Court St.
MANISTIQUE, MICHIGAN.

J. M. SATTLER,
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.
Office over City Drug Store, River Street residence on Oak Street, first door east of Manistique.
Manistique, Michig.

O. C. BOWEN,
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.
Office in Mackay Block, Manistique, Mich.
Manistique, Michig.

A. E. BURDICK, M. D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.
Office over Gas Chamber's Drug Store, West side, Telephone No. 14.
Manistique, Michig.

Manistique Hospital, River Street, Near Bridge.

Dr. R. K. Patterson, Surgeon-in-Charge.
Woman Nurse Provided for Female Patients.
Private Rooms to be had if desired on application on application.
Office Hours: 11 to 12 a. m., 1 to 2 and 6 to 7:30 p. m. Sundays, 10 to 12.

A. H. WINN, D. D. S.
Office over E. N. Orr & Co's Drug Store, Special attention given to Dental work. Residence first corner north.
Fifteen years experience. All work warranted. Visitants admittance for painless extraction.
Manistique, Michig.

D. E. SELLER,
VETERINARY SURGEON
Graduate Ontario Veterinary College.
Dental promptly attended to by Dr. H. H. Hixson.
Office, E. N. Orr & Co's Drug Store Night Office, American Hotel.

Michigan College of Mines.
A State technical school. Practical work. Special opportunities for men and women. Electric system. College year, 5 weeks. Tuition for residents, $25; non-residents, $35. For catalogue and other particulars apply to:
Prof. M. E. WALSH, D.D.S., President, Houghton, Mich.

Manistique & North Western Ry.

TIME CARD.
DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.
Subject to Change Without Notice.
In Effect Monday, August 23rd, 1897.

Time.	STATIONS.	Time.
5:30 a. m.	Leave	Arrive
6:00	" So. Manistique	6:30
6:00	" Manistique	12:25 1:00
6:15 1:40	" Northgate River	12:35 1:10
6:30 1:55	" Sturgeon Tote	12:50 1:55
6:45 2:10	" Hillsdale Sta.	1:35 2:30 7:00 2:25	" South Creek	1:55 2:50
7:20 2:45	Arrive Stouhen	Leave 1:55 2:50

STOP ON SIGNAL.

The M. & N. W. Ry. passes through a region full of lakes that are abundantly stocked with game in many varieties and the nearby streams afford excellent opportunity for trout fishing. Easy access is now afforded to the best hunting grounds in the north.

ED. H. ORR, J. A. ROBINSON,
GEN. MGR. SUPT

500 New Samples

of Alfred Potts' Wall Paper for Autumn Use
Will be cheerfully shown prospective purchasers.

D. J. WARD, Agt.

SEYMOUR CRYA GRAY LINE, PROPRIETOR OF CITY DRAM.

All kinds of Draying done. The moving men, movers, movers, movers and cartmen PAT RUDGE SOLICITORS

Pollock's Restaurant

Is the place to secure your feet and lunch. Also the place to get all kinds of Cream and Confectionery.

Klondike Hats

Mens 75c. Boys 50c.

PANTS.

Best All Wool Kersey's $2.00

UNDERWEAR.

The best for the money you can buy. See our 50c underwear; none better for as good.

Ladies Hose

Cheaper than others.

Mens Socks and Mittens in Wool good and cheap. A good line of Mens Caps new styles and reasonable prices.

Best Shoes at the Lowest Price.

Geo. MacLaurin,

SHOE MAN,
West Side.

Bush & Gerts

Pianos . .

are considered to be equal to the best. Why buy cheap pianos at high prices when you can buy the best at low prices. When you buy of me you do not pay an agent's traveling expenses. I divide the agent's profit with the purchaser.

....Easy Terms.

Geo. Chantler,

The West Side Druggist.

Manistique Pioneer-Tribune

Published by Tribune Publishing Company.

Geo. E. Holboin, Editor.

FRIDAY, November 10, 1897.

Attractions At Star Opera House

Roller Skating Saturday evening, Nov. 20th. Grand opera concert, Co. Wednesday evening, Nov. 24th.

Thanksgiving Ball, Thursday evening, Nov. 25th. Roller Skating in the afternoon.

"Old from Prison," Friday evening, Nov. 25th. "Side Tracked" Dec. 1st.

DECEASED.

Nice home-made mince meat at Orr Bros. & Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Con. Ruggles expect to remove to Milwaukee in a few days.

Head Blumrosen Bros' mammoth hand bills for the lowest prices on new seasonable goods.

Gladstone had an early morning blaze last Wednesday that destroyed several business houses.

Go to Orr Bros. & Co. for what meat, poultry or anything you may need in their line for Thanksgiving. They have a choice stock to select from.

Owing to the fact that the Escanaba street railway has been operated at a loss since it was constructed, its owners have decided to go out of the business. The plant will be removed to some other town.

Rev. F. A. Holthausen, superintendent of the Upper Peninsula Orphan's home at Marquette, was in the city Saturday. Next spring he will inaugurate an industrial farm scheme in the vicinity of Houghton. He has been given a tract containing 130 acres.

All of the county officials save Clerk Ashford were out in the woods last week, nursing an ambition to kill deer. They failed to capture any of the first-footed animals, but won a consolation prize by bagging ten partridges, five skunks and twenty-three English sparrows. Treasurer Chapin proved himself to be very "long-headed" by insisting on adding a plentiful supply of meat to the list of supplies leaving the city.

J. J. Hood has returned from Illinois.

P. J. Buck of Thompson, was in the city Wednesday.

J. H. McCallum of Thompson, was in the city yesterday.

H. C. Calver of Coriano, was in the city the past two days.

The L. S. Phippen party returned from the woods yesterday.

Thanksgiving Ball at the Star Opera house next Thursday evening.

A new stock of 1808 wall paper, just received, at prices to beat the cars. A. F. York.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Middlebrook entertain a few friends at dinner this evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. E. Pardee will give a progressive pedro party next Tuesday evening.

The $7.00 overcoats that Blumrosen Bros. are selling for $5.00 are moving rapidly.

Ed Brown and Capt. Lossing returned from a fruitless hunt for deer Tuesday noon.

Leave your orders with Orr Bros. & Co for your oysters, celery and turkey for your Thanksgiving dinner.

A full line of handsome rings with diamond and opal settings at the C. L. Co.'s jewelry department. Prices very low.

The Manistique Telephone Co. was incorporated this week. Messrs. Weston, Quick and Orr, are the stockholders.

For sale cheap—A Howe ventilator stove. Burns hard coal. For particulars, apply to C. P. Hill, at C. L. Co.'s store.

The St. Ignace News says that Fred C. Lee, of that city, is at work spreading the assessment rolls for Eney township, this county.

Union Thanksgiving services will be held at the Baptist church Thursday morning, Nov. 25th. Rev. J. M. Rogers will preach therefrom.

The person who appropriated a ladder from the Episcopal church lot several months ago will please the owner of the ladder greatly were he to return same where he found it.

Mr. Sheldon White of Chicago and Miss Agnes Johnson of Ishpeming were married at the Presbyterian church of the last named city Wednesday evening of this week. Mr. White is well known here, being a popular traveling salesman for a prominent wholesale clothing house.

Agent Wickwire received the following dispatch from the Hart S. & Co.: Wednesday.—"On account of the large amount of freight offering, we have concluded to make another trip with the Str. Fannie Hart to Manistique, Cheboygan and other points, leaving Green Bay Nov. 20th."

In every community there are men whose spirits and dominant motives are as devilish as those of any devil conceived by Milton or the mediaeval theologian—men apparently untried the spell of some superior mind or minds, as was Trilby, under the spell of Svengali. Bad men seek and follow other bad men. They yield allegiance to superior badness. They are the tool of knaves shrewder than themselves.

The "shaking up" that State Insurance Commissioner Campbell gave the insurance companies doing business in Michigan, is bearing fruit. He recently hinted that the premiums were too high as compared to other states. The agents of the various companies met this week and revised the schedule. We notice that residence insurance will cost 50 per cent less in the upper peninsula than it has hitherto. It is estimated that there will be a saving to the policy holders of the state of about $100,000 a year.

Mangled by a Vicious Hog. Wilfred, the seventeen year old son of Richard Pauley, living near Marblehead, was attacked by a vicious boar last evening. The victim and his brother entered the pen in which the animal was housed. The boar made a rush for the boys and in scrambling out of the way Wilfred fell to the ground. The animal pounced upon him and tore a ten inch gash in the boy's thigh—several inches in depth. Drs. Sattler and Bowen were called to dress the injury. It required twenty-five stitches to close the wound.

Mr. Pauley, the father of the injured boy, killed the vicious animal.

A Harvest Social. The B. Y. P. U., of the First Baptist Church, will give a Harvest Social at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Brown, on Monday evening, Nov. 22. All are invited to attend.

No Time Like The Present,

No place like our store, for your money buys more here than elsewhere.

Whether you spend much or little, an honest, careful comparison of qualities and prices, leaves no room for doubt that

Rose Brothers'

Bargains on Sale Now are the Grandest Money-Saving Opportunities Ever Offered.

Rose Brothers,

CLOTHING, DRY GOODS and MILLINERY.

It is intimated that the name of the Str. City of Ludington will be changed to either Georgia or Alabama.

Sheppard, the restaurateur is now prepared to furnish all customers with freshly popped corn, salted and buttered to suit the most fastidious. Also a full supply of freshly roasted peanuts.

The editor of the Courier reproduced an article in last week's issue from THE PROXYEN-TULUNE, and added the caption, "We think so too, George." We hope "Mac" will carefully re-read the article in question and profit thereby.

At the annual sale of Agricultural College, primary school, swamp and other land reported for the non payment of interest, held last Thursday, there were no bidders. The lands in question will now be sold at private sale. Two of the tracts were located in Schoolcraft county.

The "Big Spring" will be a popular camping place next year. Since the Delta Co.'s railroad system has been extended to South Manistique one will be enabled in the future to go to the spring from this city by an all rail route. It will cost less to reach the spring in the future than it has in the past. A building should be erected in the vicinity of the spring so as to provide shelter for those going there in case of storm. As it is now there are no means provided for shelter.

While hunting in the vicinity of Geo. Roberts' camp last week. Dr. Patterson left camp one afternoon in search of a lake that Roberts had told County Clerk Ashford about, where according to Roberts, the ducks were so plentiful that they kept the men awake nights with their quacking. The Doctor did not succeed in finding the lake but did succeed in getting lost to such an extent that it took his friends until after seven o'clock in the evening to find him. When rescued it was ascertained that the Doctor had prepared for "an all night vigil, having built a roaring camp fire and was thinking seriously of leaving the faithful camp dog that had accompanied him, a Klondike, to appease his hunger. The Doctor and the dog were rescued in the niche of time and heartily enjoyed the bounteous supper served them later at the cook camp. Mr. Middlebrook piloted the rescuing party.

Veterans, Attention!

A special meeting of Geo. F. Fuller Post, G. A. R., will be held next Friday evening, November 26th. There will be an inspection and much other business to transact. Meeting will be called to order, at 7 o'clock sharp.

JOHN GAYAN, Com.

The Week's Weather.

We are indebted to Mr. Jesse Randall for the record of the temperature of the week.

DAY.	DATE.	HIGHEST.	LOWEST.
Friday,	Nov. 12	32	above 22
Saturday,	" 13	" 31	" 21
Sunday,	" 14	" 31	" 21
Monday,	" 15	" 31	" 21
Tuesday,	" 16	" 31	" 21
Wednesday,	" 17	" 31	" 21
Thursday,	" 18	" 31	" 21

rain this month 1.5.

Lakeside Meat Market

A COMPLETE SUPPLY OF Choice Meats, ON HAND, ALSO Poultry, Oysters, Celery. Meat delivered to all portions of the city. C. S. HUDSON Prop. Artwood Building, Tel. No. 68.

The Stek.

Mrs. Miller Rose has been quite ill the past week.

Mrs. John Rockey is improving rapidly.

Want Your Piano Tuned? Mr. John Gordon, of Chicago, the well known piano tuner, will visit the city shortly. If you desire his services, telephone or leave your order at this office at once.

Horses for Sale.

M. D. Wilson of Minneapolis, will offer a carload of draught and driving horses for sale at the C. L. barn on Saturday of next week. Persons contemplating the purchase of horses should bear this in mind.

The Beaver Islanders Quit.

A Petoskey dispatch says: The fishermen of Fr. Gallagher's principal, as Big Beaver Island might be called, are no longer in defiance of the law, but have bowed to the mandate of the supreme court. State Deputy Game Warden Brewster of Grand Rapids, and Assistant Attorney General Chase landed here last night, fresh from the Beavers, where they had been to proclaim to the fishermen that the law must be obeyed and all nets taken out of the water until December 15.

It was openly reported that there would be trouble, and that the fishermen, whose only mode of earning a livelihood is catching fish, would fight if necessary before they would quit. When the boat bearing the two officials neared the island a crowd of excited fishermen came down to the dock to meet it and for a time things looked a little squally.

Neil Gallagher, one of the biggest fishermen, wanted to know if he could sell the 8,200 pounds of lake trout which his boats had brought in Saturday and he was told to sell them, but also caught in the closed season, but to take up his nets and fish no more until December 15.

Fr. Gallagher was called upon and the full text of the decision of the supreme court made known to him. He told the officials that while he believed the law a bad one, it must be obeyed, and he promised that not a man on the island would do any more fishing until after the closed season is over. This ended the matter, as Fr. Gallagher is not only priest, adviser and friend of every man, woman and child on the island, but the ruler as well.

One interesting feature that Neil Gallagher showed the officers, and one that disproves the oft made assertion that 90 per cent of artificially propagated fish die, was the fact that the scales on the naturally grown and artificially propagated fish are different, so much so that it does not seem an expert to mark the difference. The fishermen also declared that 90 per cent of the artificially propagated fish live.

Awarded Highest Honors—World's Fair, Gold Medal, Midwinter Fair.

DR. PRICES' CREAM BAKING POWDER

A Pure Grape Cream of Tartar Powder. 40 YEARS THE STANDARD.

We Are Overcrowded

Owing to the fickle weather, we inaugurated a Slaughter Sale on Staple Winter Goods.

Our Big Bills will tell you all about it.

Blumrosen Brothers.

The Weston Lumber Co. LUMBER . . . And General Merchandise.

Bulletin No. 11.

Second Invoice of Works of Art.

Ladies Jackets Just Received.

The overwhelming success of our First Cloak Sale, and satisfactory fits, more than give us vigor to again offer you special inducements in the coat line. There's something in these garments that makes the wearer look well dressed. Styles one thing, comfort and service another, but all are here.

W. L. GO. STORE,

I. S. PHIPPENY, Mgr.

CAPES AND JACKETS.

All of the very latest novelties bought direct from the maker, marked down at prices that can be bought at any other time.

LADIES WRAPPERS.

Among the splendid lot of Ladies Wrappers that we have on sale there is one special lot of recent lined wrappers that we close out at $1.25.

HOODS AND BONNETS.

We make a grand showing in Childrens and Infant Headwear; the prices and styles are right.

HOISERY AND UNDERWEAR.

The more you buy, the more you save. In this line we have a full assortment for Men, Women, Misses, Children and Infants.

LADIES TRIMMED HATS.

In this department we can absolutely say that our prices are the lowest. Rather than to carry them over until next year we are selling them regardless of profit.

CASPER BROTHERS,

Leaders of Low Prices.