Doctors say that watermelons are the healthiest things that a person can eat. The watermelon must be ripe, though.

Sixteen candidates were initiated by the local Maecene lodge last Tuesday evening. The lodge is the strongest, numerically, in the city.

Mr. Ed. Cookson, walking boss for the Chicago Lumbering Co., was in the city last week. He reports a great scarcity of men for camp work.

August Miller of the American House has purchased the Tucker barn located near the W. B. Thomas residence, and will move it on the lot opposite the hotel.

It is reported here that a fisherman in the vicinity of Shingletown is catching several large fish with a net. A man guilty of such an act should be given a taste of the law.

Dr. B. G. Snow left for Calumet Wednesday where he has accepted a position in the Tamarack Mining Co.'s hospital. The position is a very desirable one for a young physician as the number of accidents that occur in the mines daily give one plenty of experience in the art of surgery. The Doctor's many Manistique friends wish him abundant success in his new location.

Mr. Henry Halverson, one of Rose Bros.' clerks has accepted a lucrative position with a mercantile firm of Cadillac. He left today for his new home. Mr. Halverson has first-class clerks, and makes the charge, thinking perhaps, that the middle climate of the low temperature will alleviate his rheumatic condition. His Manistique friends wish him success in his new location.

THE PROSENY-THEATRE has a subscriber that has been taking the paper for nearly three years. Recently an effort was made to collect the amount due, the subscriber refused to pay on the plea that the paper is never ordered, and since that, time has refused to accept copies of the paper sent through the postoffice. A person guilty of such an act should and will be forced to pay his debts.

The Musical Jubilee.

King Jollity will reign at the open house, Monday and Tuesday evenings, Sept. 18 and 19, when we will see for the first time in our city, 100 musical Jubiles, to be given for the benefit of St. Francis de Sales church. A verse of the opening chorus which follows expresses the usual sentiment.

Send for the merry bells tonight, Bunch every thought of care and sorrow, Sing, sing for ever heart is light, For better living with tomorrow!

The show is replete with rollicking songs, clever dances, funny jokes, and amusing surprises. One of the novelties in the olio is the animated song book, led by the intangible Black Pat, a lady who has a world wide reputation as a soloist. The cake walk will be a novelty and the theatre entertainment will be a whirlwind from start to finish, and the verdict will be the hottest show that ever came down the pike.

THEY SPEAK KINDLY OF HIM.

The Evening Newspapers Commented On Mr. H. O. Orent, Very Highly.

Mr. H. O. Orent, a former resident of this city, but who was during the past two years been the assistant cashier of the Manistique Bank, has occupied the position of cashier of an Alpena banking institution and entered upon his new duties this week.

"The Manistique papers speak very highly of him.

The Republican says:

"Fred Orent, who during the past two and a half years has been a trusted employee of the Manistique State Bank, in this place, departed on Wednesday for Alpena to assume the duties of cashier for the Alpena Banking Co. of which the Constable Ross, so well known here, are the proprietors. Fred, as he was most generally called, is one of the most estimable men that I have known and one that Manistique can afford to honor. His accommodating nature, his strict probity and splendid business ability has won for him a unusually large circle of friends. Regret and rejoicing express the feelings of his friends here, regard to his departure, rejoicing at his deserved promotion. They most sincerely congratulate him on the deserved recognition of his splendid financial ability, and also the banking company in securing his services."

The News Says:

"Fred H. Orent who for the past three years has been assistant cashier of the Manistique State bank, has been appointed and has accepted a position as cashier for the Alpena Banking Co. of Alpena, Mich. His friends and acquaintances, though they regret his departure, will be more than pleased to know that he has secured so good a position and one he is so well fitted for in every way. Mr. Orent was held in high esteem by all who know him for his gentlemanly conduct, unassuming ways and genuine good feeling. The News has no other but kind wishes for him and we shall always be pleased to hear of his success in his life."

Mr. Orent's many Manistique friends are more than pleased to learn of his promotion, which is a deserved one in every sense of the word.

Shortly after eleven o'clock Monday night, Watchman Worth noticed flames issuing from the tower of the light house. An alarm was sounded and the crew of the tug Ravens promptly responded and extinguished the flames.

Chief Looney did not think it necessary to call out the fire department. The damage is slight.

The lamp was evidently defective, or became clogged in some manner. The oil used was inspected last spring by Inspector Jones and passed muster at that time. A sample from the lantern was re-inspected by the present oil inspector Thursday and found to stand the test. Therefore the oil is not in fault.

In Well Liked.

Rev. J. M. Shank, formerly of this city, is exceedingly well liked in his new field of work—the Upper Midwest.

His people have united in petitioning conference to return him for another year at an increased salary. He will also be granted a vacation sufficiently long to permit him to visit Europe next year. His many Manistique friends are pleased to learn that his labors in his new field are appreciated.

Now a Resident of Minneapolis.

Mr. J. W. Knowles writes us that he now resides at 1111 Hennipin Ave., Minneapolis, and makes that city his headquarters, being at home with wife and baby Saturday and Sunday of each week. He wrote from Minn. that in that vicinity crops are a failure. The hot weather, "rain" hail, defrained everything. Jim has a first-class position and his many Schoolcraft county friends wish him success.

Attention All.

On Friday, Sept. 8, at 8 o'clock p. m. at Widdale, Rev. R. Branch gave the public another example of his great, big, kind hearted patriotism and position of his—in two ways, viz: First—In giving his magnificent lecture on the late Spanish-American war. Second—He returns the entire proceeds over to his young minister of league, Rev. W. R. Roberts of Widdale and the Woods' neighborhood, who has been doing good square deal work and preaching at both places.

Mr. Roberts has one more year of expensive college work in Chicago to finish up his theological studies and his other friends appreciate the benefit of the financial lift he presents for this particular purpose. Let time for this particular purpose. Let the public take hold and heartily support Rev. Branch in this worthy cause and receive the hearty thanks of Rev. W. R. Roberts.

The hot fire purchased from the R. F. Durck Heating and Ventilating Co. of Chicago has not only been improved in the latest model and other improvements in the latest model costing over $500.00 were made. EDITORIAL COMMENT.

An exchange says: "Aguinaldo walks in his sleep, and when he is awake, he rums."

As soon as Guern's supply of wine is exhausted he will capitulate, and tranquility will again reign in Paris.

The tramps will all vote against McKinley next year. They are tired of running up against work wherever they turn.

Now if the members of the school board will grade the Central schoolyard, enclose it with a new fence and plant trees, future generations will arise and call them blessed.

An exchange truthfully says: "One man who carries a dinner pail is worth more to a town than ten loafers. And it doesn't matter whether these loafers wear patent leather shoes or brogans."

Judging from an article that appeared in the Munising Republican last week, the state inspection of fish has greatly deteriorated since Baldwin has severed his connection from that branch of the state service.

"The Politician and Public Official," is the title of a unique and brilliant new publication, edited by Labor Commissioner Cox, a copy of which has reached this office. The periodical bids fair to fill a long felt want.

Cuba is proving a profitable investment in this country. The receipts for the fiscal year are nearly $1,500,000 in excess of expenditures. It will not require many years to get back the twenty millions presented to Spain, at this rate.

The only name we have mentioned in connection with the election to be held at the annual school meeting next Monday evening, is that of Mr. Samuel Mix. He will undoubtedly be re-elected as member of the board. Mr. Mix has been a member of the board of education for many years, and has proven his worth. No better selection could be made.

A dying drunkard in Oswego, N. Y. left the following as his "last will and testament": "I leave to society a ruined character, a wretched example and a memory that will soon rot. I leave to my parents as much sorrow as I can bring on them. I leave to my wife a broken heart and a life of shame. I leave to each of my children poverty, ignorance, a low character, and the remembrance that their father filled a drunkard's grave."

Gov. Roosevelt of New York may be slightly theatrical at times but he says many sensible things. In an address delivered at Olcott, N. Y., a few days ago he thus spoke concerning the duty of the strong to aid the weak and struggling: "Of course we ought to welcome and do all we can to hasten the coming of the time when Hell shall be easier for the man farthest underneath. Try to help him by the only way help him to help himself. If a man stumbles, help him up. If he lies down, it is no use carrying him. Don't think it is. It isn't. Not only will it not allow you time for anything else, but if you carry him long enough he will think it is right and will find fault because you do not find a way to carry him easier." Teddy is right. The only man who can be helped to good purpose is the man who is ready to do something to help himself.

The so-called independent newspapers have failed to cut the wide swath in political affairs which at one time it was predicted they would.

The people have found that the average independent non-partisan newspaper is a mass of self contradiction and instability when it discusses political affairs. Its misadvised editorial opinions fall upon unheeding ears because it is found to be one thing today and another tomorrow, having no consistency of purpose, unless it be to become a perpetual fault-finder with everything and everybody.

A partisan paper, which has the courage of its convictions, which sticks to its treatment of political opponents and which is not the tool of any clique or ring within its own party, will command the respect of the people regardless of political affiliations. The average man has more respect for a person who honestly differs from him in politics than for the individual who manages to get on all sides of a question at one and the same time.

THE FOUNTAIN OF YOUTH—HARD WORK.

Chauncey M. Depew, in some degree upon the subject of how to keep young, gives a chapter out of his own experience as follows: "I have never labored so many hours in my business, nor made so many speeches requiring more or less preparation, nor dictated so many articles, nor furnished much copy matter for the press, nor traveled so many miles, nor so completely filled each day from early morning until late at night as during the past year, and never enjoyed such perfect health and entire immunity from that tired feeling which comes at times to all of us."

Mr. Depew was born April 28, 1834, and he is now therefore, in his 66th year. He has been a hard worker all his life, and he is marvellously well preserved. He says he never knew a man past 40 who retired from business or the professions in order to enjoy life, who lived more than three or four years afterwards. "Illness, lack of familiar occupation, want of interest in the active affairs of the world, and introspection, make such a man dyspeptic, then hypochondriac, then a subject for the undertaker." The lesson which the senator would inculcate is that those who keep the harness on live longer, healthier and happier, and keep their spirits fresh and young. He contends that a man is still young, no matter how many are his years, so long as his body is healthy, his mind clear and heart vigorous. "This is certainly comforting to those who feel that they are somewhat 'fallen into the mire and yellow leaf,' provided they know how to use life's gifts aright.

But there is a great difference in temperament and constitutions, for Mr. Depew says he knows men of great vigor, fire, and energy. So that to be capable of doing more and better work than any of the younger men about them, while on the other hand he is constantly coming in contact with men between 40 and 50 who are of no further use in the world and who have lost their ambition.

MORE WORK, MORE WAGES, MORE APPETITE.

The advance in the price of meats of all kinds affords opportunity to Free-Traders for some remarks about trusts and the tariff, and they are harping on it without their customary rashness. To the average man who stops and thinks a moment the explanation of this increase in price is easy. It is explained by the simple fact of increased consumption. Earning more money in the shape of wages year by year, before the American people are eating more meat per capita than ever before. Our present meat eating nation. No other nation consumes anything like so large a proportion of animal food. While the wage earners of Europe consider themselves lucky to get meat once or twice a week, the American workman and his family eat meat three times a day the year round.

"With more work, more wages and more appetite the American workman in these days of protection and prosperity has greatly increased his meat diet, with the result that usually follows an increase of demand and consumption—namely, an increase in price. It is a condition peculiar to the present period. Nothing of the kind occurred during the four years of Free-Trade Tariff reform, 1893-'97.

Fine Figure

Many women lose their girlish form after they become mothers. This is due to neglect. The figure can be preserved beyond question if the expectant mother will constantly use during the pregnancy. The earlier its use is begun, the more perfectly will the shape be preserved.

Mother's Friend not only softens and relaxes the muscles during the great strain before birth, but helps the skin to contract naturally afterward. It keeps unightly wrinkles away, and the muscles underneath retain their pliability.

Mother's Friend is that famous external ointment which kindles nursing children and soothes during pregnancy external labor and makes it nearly painless; builds up the patient's constitutional strength, so that she emerges from the ordeal without danger.

The little one, too, shows the effects of Mother's Friend by its robustness and vigor.

Tribute from the South.

(From the New Orleans Times-Democrat.)

Approve of all this, and other news from the South, we have this opportunity to express our appreciation to the publishers of the Tribune for their service to the South and for their running daily in its columns for several years a week, the latest dispatches which have excellent cable letters from London and Montreal other European centers in their steady issue, but they stand as a rule only one week, the latest dispatches which stand out on the other days of the week not amounting to much in the way of profitable and adequate representation of European news.

"Grace Curran" from Paris and "The Whisker" from London, making it all the week around, is a new year ahead of the foreign news service of the New York Times.

"The Tribune" is a very high reputation for its accuracy and its news of the day. For securing their readers with news of the day, it is a credit to its publishers in that it does not forget its obligations to its readers. It is a credit to its publishers in that it does not forget its obligations to its readers. It is a credit to its publishers in that it does not forget its obligations to its readers.

Mr. Osborn is a member of the I. T. M. Mining Institute, the American Academy of Political and Social Science, and of the Michigan Academy of Science. His experience in practical life and business extends to mining and lumbering. He is a practical woodman, and is not only familiar with the great interest of the Upper Peninsula, but with similar interests in other States and countries, with which they are brought in competition. His acquaintance with woodmen is rare and valuable.

In public life, Mr. Osborn seeks a comparison of his record with the records of others in similar positions to those he has held, and in this respect is without equal. He is a fearless, energetic and ambitious, and has no failure to record. His high standing at home, in a business, political, and social sense, is the best of all indices by his character as a man and a citizen.

Mr. Osborn was appointed State Game Warden by Governor Rich, and so satisfactory was his administration of that office that Governor Pingree continued him in the same position until the earlier part of this year, when he made him State Commissioner of Railroads, which important position he is now filling with marked distinction and success.

"Chas." as the hoary old call him, is popular with the Republicans of the State, while the "Upper Peninsula" swear by him. He was more than possible candidate for Congress in the 19th District, but his friends are now pressing him to make the race for Governor next year and all are looking for his early announcement in the near future.—The Politician.

WELCOMING THE VOLUNTEERS

BY HERBERT R. GAMIN.

How the Home Coming Heroes Are Greeted in Their Return From Fighting in the Far East—Some Impressive Scenes.

From the new people with whose destinies we are now allied, the first of the volunteers to be met at the station was a young man of the name of Martin. He is still a young man, but a veteran and has a fine, soldierly appearance. It would have been difficult to find any one better fitted for the duty of the volunteer than this young man. He is still a young man, but a veteran and has a fine, soldierly appearance. It would have been difficult to find any one better fitted for the duty of the volunteer than this young man.

returning soldiers has been for each regiment to go into camp on the Presidio grounds until the discharges and other papers could be made out. This has given the volunteers a chance to recover from the effects of their long sea voyage.

While the ocean trip has been on the whole a beneficial one to the war worn soldiers, tired out after months of hard campaigning, the confinement on a crowded transport found to be more or less irksome. Yet it is estimated that the Nebraska regiment weighed 10,000 pounds more when it marched down the gangplank at San Francisco than when the boys went aboard at Manila.

The Presidio camp is an ideal one for the purpose. It has been established so long that all the little conveniences which go to make life here comfortable have become fixtures. The tents, instead of being pitched on the naked ground, are all furnished with neat board floors. The company streets are well laid out and each furnished with a good supply of water. Some of the regiments have gone back to the same spots which they occupied last year, when they were composed of raw militia. Now they are veteran regiments, each one of them having earned its share of glory in the far east.

After two or three weeks' rest at the Presidio the volunteers are ready to go back to their homes, where they receive final ovations and then gradually drop back into the prosaic ways of the civilian.

The arrangements made for the return of the Pennsylvanians show to remarkable freedom from injuries. Camp and without blankets. They looked the part of the light artillery, with small field rifles and manned rapid fire small batteries on the river banks. Their kind of peculiar ten and the little ragged remnants of red gaiters flitting above them told plainly that they were not from reason and not from comfortable quarters and good meals at the Presidio.

Just behind them cluttered the rest of the artillery, each with its own kind of peculiar ten and the little ragged remnants of red gaiters flitting above them told plainly that they were not from reason and not from comfortable quarters and good meals at the Presidio.

At the head of the Utah artillery rode Major Grant, who has already been asked to take the Republican nomination for mayor of Salt Lake City. His commanding figure and bearded face attracted instant attention.

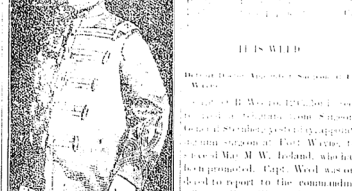

Smiling scenes to this are reproduced on a smaller scale when the regiments are broken up into companies. Each city and town prepares a special reception to the company which it sent to make up the regiment. So that in at least our states there are other affairs which are of importance to be held, but which do not stir the heart at all.

The gentleman who has gained this distinction is Mr. H. S. Martin. He was one of 25 competitors entered for the national grand old diving contest held recently at Highbury, London, under the auspices of the British Life Saving Society. Mr. Martin won the first prize. He has captured honors in

One of the lions at the coming G. A. One who distributed Phleg in Porto Rico. Well, senior vice commander of Lafayette Post, No. 130, department of New York. Although a member of the order, this will be his debut as a national champion, greatness thrust upon him by the Spanish war.

Being the only eastern volunteer regiments that has seen service in the Philippines, the 70th Pennsylvania seems to have carved for itself the sympathy and interest of the whole country east of the Mississippi. Its progress across the country has been a series of ovations. The Nebraska boys were also greeted at San Francisco by a big Nebraska detachment, which included Governor

MARK TWAIN ON THE JEWS.
His Discreetly High Opinion of the Chinkers of Israel.

The Jew is not a disturber of the peace of any country. Even his enemies will concede that. He is not a loafer, he is not a sot, he is not noisy, he is not a braver nor a rioter, he is not quarrelsome. In the statistics of crime his presence is conspicuously rare—in all countries. With murder and other crimes of violence he has but little to do; he is a stranger to the hangman. In the police court's daily long roll of "assaults" and "drunk and disorderly" his name seldom appears. That the Jewish race is a home in the trust sense is a fact which no one will dispute. The family is knitted together by the strongest affections; its members show each other every due respect, and reverence for the elders is an inviolable law of the house.

The Jew is not a burden on the charities of the state, or of the city; these could cease from their functions without affecting him. When he is well enough, he works; when he is incapacitated, his own people take care of him. And in a poor and stony way, but with a large benevolence. His race is entitled to be called the most benevolent of all the races of the world. A Jewish beggar is not impossible, perhaps; such a thing may exist, but there are few men that can say they have seen that spectacle. The Jew has been staged in many unbecomingly forms, but so far as I know, no dramatic has done him the injustice to stage him as a beggar. Whenever a Jew has real need to beg, he has done so; he has real need to beg, he has done so; he has real need to beg, he has done so; he has real need to beg, he has done so.

A Word to Mothers.
Mothers of children affected with cough or a severe cold need not hesitate to administer Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It contains no opiate nor narcotic in any form and may be given as confidently to the babe as to an adult. The great success which has attended its use in the treatment of colds and croup has won for it the approval and praise has been received throughout the United States, and in many foreign lands. For sale by A. S. Putnam & Co., Druggists.
