MAN HELP MANISTIQUE.

The proposed Railroad from Marquette to Manistique is being pushed into prominence as the shipping port.

The ordinance empowering Gen. J. E. Fox et al. to purchase and construct a railroad on certain streets in Marquette was passed by the Marquette council Tuesday evening of this week upon its second reading.

The proposed railroad continuation at the Manistique Lake Superior road which operates between the Ironrange and Marquette.

It is the intention of the backers of the new project to build a connecting link between the termini of the above mentioned road at Despuce Isle and the Manistique road with the ultimate view of reaching Lake Michigan at Manistique. This could be easily accomplished a branch of the Manistique & Northwestern railroad connects with a branch of the Manistique railroad at Ackers.

Parties interested in the project have been in conference with the officials of the Manistique & Northwestern Co. recently.

Manistique's all the year harbor no doubt will be utilized if the plans of the promoters are consummated. The shipping & Lake Superior is distinctively an ore shipping road and by its extension to Manistique and the construction of ore docks would be enabled to extend its operations through a longer period of time each year.

We have for years contended that the all the year harbor that Manistique has the good fortune to possess would be more extensively utilized at some time in the future than it is at the present time and from indications this will come to pass.

Democratic Kiosk Delegates.

The Democrats of Manistique township held their caucus yesterday afternoon for the purpose of electing ten delegates to the county convention to be held next week. A. S. Putnam was chairman of the meeting and W. A. LeDuc secretary. The following delegates were unanimously chosen: John Costello, Thomas Conarty, Chas. Witter, F. H. Peters, Peter McKinnon, W. A. Lalbe, Ollie Howard, W. A. McKinney, C. D. Coon and J. B. Held. The attendance was not large.

Postponed.

The entertainment to have been given under the auspices of the young people of the M. E. church, at the opera house next Wednesday evening has been postponed to Sept. 14th.

House the Hand Engine and Snow Chain.

The necessity for increased facilities for housing the fire apparatus of the village is very apparent. The hand engine which may be of an available size of a large fire, is at present exposed to the elements and will only by a question of a few months when it will be worthless. The snow chain engine which are also housed in the same manner. A summer's exposure injures the plows more than a long winter's service. When the village comes incorporated as a city, a new city building and over a team of horses for street work and to draw the steam fire engine, several much needed things will be constructed.

Smoke Stack Demolished.

The tug Elmer met with a slight mishap, Tuesday morning. The tug was coming up the river with a schooner in tow. The Goodrich Line steamer Georgia, was towing around in the river at the same time and the wash from the Georgia's wheel forced the tug against the west pier. The momentary of the schooner carried it against the tug, the consequence being the tug's smoke stack. A large quantity of pickets piled on the dock were dumped in the river and the bundles became unfastened and pickets were practically a total loss.

New Brick Block.

James Stewart will erect a two-story brick building next to the proposed Manistique bank building on Cedar street. The building will be a modern one in every particular and will be occupied by Patterson & Parker, the grocers.

New Coal Dock.

The Burrill Coal Dock will shortly commence the erection of a coal dock across the river from the C. L. Co.'s warehouse. The dock will have a capacity of 10,000 tons and will be equipped with a steam hoist having a capacity of half a ton per lift.

Attempted Suicide.

Mr. Naylor, who sustained a fracture of the wrist by falling from a scaffold at the Bouschor building last Friday morning took two ounces of laudanum in the evening, and his life was saved only by heroic measures.

Harassment at Manistique.

Senator Harrow will deliver an address at Manistique during the campaign. Chairman Bronson of the county committee received the good news yesterday.

TWO FIRE WARDS TO BE APPOINTED.

The village council has appointed Charles M. LeDuc and Charles M. LeDuc as fire wardens.

The village council had a very remarkable thing last Wednesday evening. The numerous petty fires caused by carelessness upon the part of property owners are very expensive to the village. The council has decided to reduce them to a minimum by the appointment of two fire wardens who will be empowered by ordinance to inspect all houses in the city and order changes that they deem necessary for the safety of the property and surrounding property. Each side of the river will have a warden and the compensation of each will be $12 per year.

A number of property owners have chimneys and endanger their property as well as that of their neighbors by utilizing a hole in the roof and a rusty stove pipe a flue. These fire wardens will be ordered to remove such chimneys. President Coon should appoint two men that will attend to the duties of the office without fear or favor. A new brick chimney costs less than a new house and the expense of calling the fire department to save the property of the man who uses a stove pipe in lieu of a chimney costs the village more than a first-class chimney would cost.

That a farm wagon never needs paint after it leaves the factory. . . That's poor economy. Wagons cost money. . . A can of . . .

SUPPOSE.

Suppose your father and brother or your sister and cousin had been in Pekin for the last three months. Suppose you had known that they were hunted for their lives; that they were existing on siege rations, and that they were maintaining their right to live only by the sword and the rifle.

Suppose you had known that from day to day and hour to hour they were threatened with torture and mutilation and death. Suppose your heart had been torn with the news that their heroism was in vain and that they had met a fate too horrible to even imagine.

Suppose later your hope had sprung to life again. Suppose you had learned that there was still a chance of seeing them once more. Suppose you had heard that American troops were cutting their bloody way through Chinese armies to Pekin.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The Munsing News, Bob Wright's Weekly, is the way the new head of the Munsing News reads.

Learn to be a worker. Every man's success is founded on hard work, backed by honesty, a little common sense, and a good deal of luck.

Mr. Bryan's recent silence is a comfort to him, by the fact that he is spending a good deal of time trying to find whether to commence his speeches with, "My comrades of the tented field," or "My fellow farmers."

A vigorous campaign in Schoolcraft county is on the program. Messrs. Hason, McCallum and Van Tassel are vigorous speakers and will undoubtedly visit every school district in the county before November.

"The Democrat hints that the Republican convention was a cut and dried affair. We are safe in asserting that no one either in the convention as a delegate, or outside of it, was able to name the winners prior to their nomination."

It is very much to anyone's credit that he try to improve himself. Everywhere we hear of teachers resigning their places to go to school and fit themselves for better things. All honor to them. The best in every profession is none too good.

The happiest people in the world are those who keep out of debt, out of politics, out of office, shun notoriety, make an honest living by honest means, follow the golden rule, humbly serve the living God, quietly pursue the "even tenor of their way," and neglect no opportunity of doing good.

Life is a building. It rises slowly day by day throughout the years. Every new lesson we learn lays a block on the edifice which is rising silently within us. Every experience, every touch of another life on ours, every book we read, every convention we hear, every act of our commonest duty, adds something to the invisible building.

If the Democratic party succeeds in persuading the business men that free silver will help business, and persuade the laboring man that free trade will help wages, and persuade the colored man that he is better off without the ballot than with it, and convince the soldiers that their blood and bravery have been spent in vain, then the party may have some chance of winning next November.

A review of the past platforms of the Democratic party will reveal the fact that the party is short on promises fulfilled and long on false promises. It declared that the war was a failure; it wasn't. It declared that free trade would bring prosperity; it didn't. It said that the gold standard would cause a panic; it didn't. It promised to reduce taxes; it didn't. It promised to reduce its armaments; it didn't. Having failed in all its promises it now comes up with a new stock declared to be better than the old and asks for indorsement.

Schoolcraft county Republicans nominated their county ticket Tuesday. The Manistique Democrat thinks it isn't strong one, but we'll know better next November. The Democrat tries to work that characteristic popocart sympathy doctrine with the disappointed aspirants for nomination. Awfully sympathetic fellows, those Democrats are. We're sorry our friend, A. C. Carpenter, didn't get the nomination he wanted, but that doesn't mean that the successful man isn't all right—Munsing Republican.

A man whose faily to party is gaged by what he can make out of it, is not deep rooted in the faith. The ability to bear defeat and the manner in which it is borne is more indicative of a man's true character than his actions when success crowns his ambitions. John Loose, while he was defeated for the sheriffship, has no sore spots, and will undoubtedly support the whole ticket. He has always valiantly fought for the ticket and spent his own money without stint. He is making friends every day by his sensible conduct and that he will be the sheriff of Schoolcraft county in the future is evidenced by hundreds of Republicans.

THE PROBATE JUDGMENT.

The following article from the Mining Journal is worthy of print by those who think that probate is not needed in the more performing of the duties of the probate judgeship. The article in question is:

Among the county officers to be filled by vote of the people in the coming election is that of Judge of Probate, and though it is not most remunerative of the positions in the county government, nor does it offer a higher order of ability and integrity in the incumbent to ensure having it properly administered.

It is estimated that all the property in the county passes through the probate office once in every thirty years. Frequently it happens that the value of an estate to help heirs, (who are marooned) to business methods and incapable of protecting themselves against the wiles of the selfish and the crafty who would take advantage of their weakness, depends very much on the honesty and vigilance of a probate judge, who alone has power to stand between them and those who would despoil them.

"The Probate Judge is always advocated 'voting straight,' and knows of no reason why every Republican in the county should follow the advice this year.

Twenty-five Michigan newspapers which reported to the Secretary of State two years ago as either independent or Democratic, have now reported their politics as Republican.

If we were a member of the Manistique school board we would vote for a home girl and a high school graduate against all comers. It is just what the taxpayers want done and then it is just.

This time Hon. Gal Smith did not fail to score. He received the unanimous nomination for state senator in the Marquette district to succeed Senator Maitland. Mr. Smith will ably represent his district in the legislature.

The allies have entered Pekin and have rescued the members of the legations. The fact that the representatives of the various countries were unharmed simplifies the solution of the Chinese question. Diplomacy, not force of arms will be the channel.

The Republicans of Schoolcraft county now know who their standard bearers are as all nominations from the national ticket to coroner on the county ticket have been made. No valid reason can be advanced by any Republican for not voting a straight ticket this year.

A Republican that will participate in Republican caucuses and conventions and then go over to the enemy and assist it to plot against his party, because things didn't turn out to suit him is a Republican that one or two strong adjectives are necessary to describe.

There is trouble in the Democratic camp. A few "sorehead Republicans" are endeavoring to dictate nominations in the coming Democratic county convention, while there are scores of good, consistent Democrats that think they capable of naming their own ticket and utilizing timber within the party instead of having political job lots thrust upon them.

The Republicans of Schoolcraft county are to be congratulated on nominating one of the cleanest tickets in the history of the county. All the candidates are well known and not one word can be said against their characters. When a party thus places itself on record it deserves success at the polls. We predict the election of the entire Republican ticket by a large majority for every candidate.

The Democrat is laying great stress on the fact that Joseph Van Tassel, the Republican candidate, is a new comer. The fact is that Mr. Van Tassel has resided here more than a year. Schoolcraft county political annals record the fact that Mr. V. I. Hixon had not been in the county six months when he received the Democratic nomination for prosecuting attorney, and was elected too.

There is trouble in the local Democratic ranks. A few Republicans that are dissatisfied with the nominations made in the recent Republican county convention have allied themselves with a faction of the Democratic party. The new acquisition wants to name the ticket and the old time Democrats will not acquiesce. They say that if the party has a chance to succeed this autumn the old timers should be rewarded—not renegade Republicans.

EMERSON TRULY SAYS.

In life all things are bought and paid for by a price— even success and happiness.

WAS AN UPPER PENINSULA AFFAIR

Summer Session of the Northern Normal College Was a Success.

A Marquette dispatch says: The first summer school of the Northern Normal was brought to a very successful close Saturday. The entire session of the six weeks' session was 148 young men and women, a total greatly in excess of the fondest expectation of Principal Waldo and his faculty. Aside from the important item of attendance, the first summer session has been a signal success. The faculty consisted of nine men and women, including Principal Waldo. The manual instructors were Flora W. Wood, of the Chicago kindergarten branch, Prof. R. Clyde Ford, teacher of modern languages; Miss Annetta M. Lavigne, head of the department of music; and Merwin Wiley, assistant in the department of history and civics. During the six weeks' session the students were addressed by such able men as Bishop G. Mott Williams and Ex-State Sup. of Instruction H. R. Patton.

All of the young people were quartered in the Normal dormitory where board and rooms were furnished them at rates which compare favorably with those to be obtained in lower Michigan. The dormitory is a handsome structure with very comfortable accommodations and its erection increases the immediate success of the Northern Normal.

The summer session was an upper peninsula affair. All but one or two counties and 28 citizens of northern Michigan were represented by pupils. The girls were vastly in the majority, only about a dozen young men being in attendance.

Notes the Lake of Simsbury and Fortness.

A new source of revenue opened to the American people, and the wise ones are taking advantage of it. The native Mexican will not work. A tropical plantation in Mexico located on the Istmo de Tehuantepec is a generous and sure dividend payer of large interest on the amount invested. It requires large capital to start and the cooperative plan is the one to assume. The small investors can have the opportunity to participate. The association is formed, operation begun and the shares are limited. Anyone who can save $2.00 or more per month for a few years can become a millionaire and be insured an annual life income. It is no speculation but a safe and sure investment.

Allen Bonnell's "Que Vadis."

"That the earnest handling of religious themes and the portrayal of religious characters before the footlights is not in doubtful taste is thoroughly proven by the success which has greeted Chas. W. Chase's dramatization of Henry Bunce's famous novel, "Que Vadis." It is everywhere described as a wonderful production, cleverly played, finely staged and beautifully costumed, filled with interest and so realistic, that once seen, it can never be forgotten. They've been provided by the Apollo Peter in the third act so beautiful in its simplicity that nothing can exceed the intense devotion of the audience, which is created by the audience. It is a play in which those in front live with the scenes with the actors and everything that is forgotten in the low interest level. It will be presented at the opera house on Monday night, Aug. 27th.

LABOR FEEDS TRUST.

Not Menacing But Thoughtful.

There is not a workman in this country who feels that trusts are his bitter enemies of labor. If the workmen withdrew their support from the trusts by refusing to buy brands made by them, the monopolies cannot exist. The laboring men and friends of Union labor are requested to inquire as to the laboring men of whom they are using are made by a trust, and if so to act according to their judgment as to whether or not they will buy them. The following brands are made outside of a trust and are always safe: They are made by Union labor in a Union factory at Union prices, and are called Gold Rope, Kingsford, Rice and Shims, Thrasher. They are made by the Wilson-McCall, Tobacco Co., Middletown, Ohio, who during 30 years of business have never had a strike in their establishments because they have always paid a liberal price to labor. Paste this list in your hat and buy the brand you refer to. You will not only secure the best tobacco made, but strike a telling blow at the Tobacco Trust.

DAILY PAPER RUN BY WOMEN.

La Fronde has become an Influence in the French Capital.

BY ELIZA ARCHARD CONNER.

COURTESY DE MONTAIGNE.

Of women's clubs as we know them in the States, where ladies come for social and intellectual aims, also for showing off their good clothes, there is not one in all France. A French literary club had not had more than a few months' existence when it was not a success in France because Frenchwomen would never take the trouble to dress for one another. In America I believe women dress more for one another than they do for men. In France it is for men they put out revolving hats and the artistic costumes that adorn their graceful figures.

Nevertheless, though she has not a woman's club, France has what no other country possesses—a daily newspaper conducted entirely by women and every employee of which, from office girl to editor in chief, is a woman. It is La Fronde, which signifies a stone thrown from a sling. La Fronde is indeed a stone hurled from a sling into the stagnant and bitter waters of French politics. Few indeed are women journalists in France. Every large paper has one woman's fashion writer that is all. There are few bright and glib reporters hurrying about here and there, quiet, self-possessed and business-like, making news as well as writing it. Outside the office of La Fronde I met only one, at the opening of the American fair tickets in the exposition. She reported for two newspapers, doing the exposition for La Fronde and general sporting and athletic news for La Sport.

The owner of La Fronde is Mme. Dumont, who also writes political editorials. The paper is edited every day by those opposed to the women to be one of the most able writers and editors in Paris. Frenchwomen are very glib. A broad, general education is all that is lacking to make them as good as the men. The managing editor of La Fronde is Mme. Pourtaux, a beautiful young woman, not over 50, would say, with deep, brilliant eyes and a tall and very graceful figure. She speaks exquisite French and understands also English. Mme. Pourtaux begins her task in the afternoon and works regularly till 3 o'clock in the morning, when her paper goes to press. She does not set herself up in a state of lofty isolation, which is a very common fault of those who have a view of seeing greater than they are, but she is easily accessible to those who have business with her, though not at all times. From 5 to 7 in the afternoon this model of a capable and courteous editor sees visitors.

When a friend and I called to pay our respects Mme. Pourtaux conducted us through every department of the paper. The office of the only woman daily in the world is exquisitely clean, with polished wicker floors over the walls, and palms and flowers—flowers which the French so love—here and there. Upon the top of the building is roofed over with glass and turned into a conservatory, that favorite social meeting place which has been imported into Paris from London. There you can go and partake of light refreshments while you talk things over with your friends. It is a pretty room. Flowering wisteria wanders over the walls, and palms and flowers are everywhere. No hope of seeing anyone to whom you may pass outside of Mme. Dumont's private office who may be a number of weeks or a month away. The only convenience of the head of the paper to receive them. It is rather reversing the usual order. In newspaper offices women generally wait outside the office door for men to receive them. In the composing room the women typewriters were just beginning their task for the night. They looked well and contented. They are paid at the rate of $1.60 for seven hours of work, which is excellent wages for France.

As a person in Paris one will find in the old days by hand. The types that on La Fronde is blown all done by hand. Moreover, it was rarely believed in the States, but it is a fact that only two of the largest newspapers in France have typesetting machines. That, too, is because the printers do not want them, but because they do not introduce them. It would be difficult to get French workmen, they say. The truth is the French are a constant dread and danger of revolution that even new machinery which does not work is not to be introduced slowly and with caution. At this moment a mad passion for things over Paris had there shall be a revolutionary outbreak at the close of the exposition, when thousands of laborers will be thrown out of employment. From this element, incited by cheap alcohol and cheap newspapers, come French revolutions. Before the middle of May already great care was taken to publish the newspapers and wide information as to where the movement was likely to begin.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Portson of Whitewater were in the city Monday as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. O. Morrison. Tuesday morning Mrs. Portson left for Grand Rapids.
