Killed by a Hunter.

ALPHONSO DEATHY WAS KILLED BY A COMPASSION, JOSEPH V. VOLE, WHO MISTOOK HIM FOR A DEER.

THE FATALITY OCCURRED IN INWOOD TOWNSHIP, MONDAY.

Although the open season for hunting deer does not come until November, yet a fatality occurred in Inwood township, Monday morning, as the result of a hunter mistaking a man for a deer and fatally wounding him.

Mr. Vole mistook his hunting companion for a deer and fatally wounded him.

Mr. Vole at his victim, Henry, who lived at the Cleveland (Clyde) camp, started out on a deer hunting expedition Sunday evening, and succeeded in wounding one. On account of the darkness they retraced their steps, not being able to find the wounded animal. Early Monday morning they retraced their search. They became separated in the woods, and Vole saw what he supposed was the deer. He fired, then hastened to the spot. Imagine his horror when he discovered that he had killed his companion! The bullet passed through the neck and in its upward course severed the jugular vein, the carotid artery, and broke the bones of Henry's neck.

He hastily returned to camp and informed the workmen what had occurred. They accompanied him to the scene and carried the remains back to the camp.

The victim leaves a widow and five or six children, one of whom was born Monday. They are in destitute circumstances. He and his family moved from Rex to the Cleveland camp about a month ago, and was considered an industrious and hard working man.

The funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon.

As soon as Coroner Messenger was notified he went to the camp, empaneled a jury which viewed the remains. An adjournment was then taken to Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock at which time Prosecuting Attorney Hixon was present.

It is clearly evident that there was no criminal intent upon the part of Vole as he is nearly crazed by the awful affair. Carelessness upon his part was the direct cause.

A PROGRESSIVE DINNER.

Given last Saturday Evening in Honor of Mrs. Danton.

A most unique and novel affair was given Saturday evening to meet Miss Danton, who is visiting Mrs. Danton, in the shape of a progressive dinner.

Miss Brown was the first hostess of the evening. Tomato soup, olive bread, chicken, were served. The tables were decorated with red carnations and red satin ribbons. The place cards were booklets containing the menu and names of hostesses, with a shiny pen and ink sketch of ballet girls for the table design.

The guests partook of the second course, which consisted of boiled whitefish, Hollandaise sauce, saratoga chips, celery, at the home of Miss Baker. The two long tables were decorated with pink carnations, and lit with dainty colored candles. Beautiful little heads of pretty maids in water colors were Miss Baker's place cards. Frieled spring chicken, potato croquettes, hot rolls, jelly and macaroni sauce, Apollonias, were served at Mrs. Danton's where the guests next assembled. The flowers were nasturtiums and the red and yellow carnations carried out the color scheme. The place cards were little Dutch maidens done in water colors.

At Miss Burdell's, Roman punch and wafers were served at small tables, each one being decorated with a different color. Puffy little men decorated the place cards at this home.

From here quite a walk was taken to the home of Miss Tucker where peach fritters, cheese wafers, and sherries was next dispensed. A combination of flowers served as decoration.

At Miss Ross' lobster salad, oyster balls, wafers, salt almonds were thoroughly enjoyed. Butterflies were the design used on the cards and sweet peas the flowers.

The last course was served by Miss Nicholson. Pastries and mignettes, purple satin ribbons, and amilies were artistically arranged. Pistachio ice cream in purple and white cases, angel food and hot buns in dainty little boxes, a large pansy in water colors for forming the cover, with the guest's name done in gold, were partaken of. Coffee was served in the parlor. At such times the guests changed partners, the gentlemen escorting his lady to the following home. Besides the hostesses, the other

THEY'RE ARTISTS.

The Hotel and Entertainment given by Mr. and Mrs. Hugh A. Keizer, Jr., Friday night.

One of the most pleasing entertainments ever given in Manistique was the recent, given by Mr. and Mrs. Keizer of Chicago, at the Presbyterian church last Friday evening.

Mr. Keizer's equal as a pianist has never yet visited Manistique. His execution is flawless, and every sound he produced had the impress of a master hand.

As a reader Mrs. Keizer is more than the appellation suggests. She has the happy faculty of interpreting the thoughts of the author in such a pleasing and forcible manner that her identity appears lost, and the character she is exemplifying alone appears in the fore. An artist is alone able to do this. A voice of beauty and power, coupled with the gift of expression, makes her one of the most popular readers before the American public at the present time.

The large audience showed their appreciation of the efforts of Mr. and Mrs. Keizer by liberal and enthusiastic applause. The program follows:

CRAYER-SHINAR.

Two of Manistique's Most Popular Young People Entitled to Marriage.

One of the prettiest of home weddings occurred Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Laake Shinar, when their daughter (Bertrude) was united in marriage to Mr. Burton A. Crayer of this city, the Rev. F. L. Osborne officiating. Only a small company including the relatives and a few friends were present.

The homes were lastingly decorated with ferns and growing plants, carnations and roses. Pink and white were the colors used.

While Miss Clara Brouson played the Mendelssohn wedding march, Miss Vera Winn dressed in white, and carried a basket of pink carnations, and carrying the stairs in advance of the bride party, strewing the fragrant blossoms in their way.

The bride wore a gown of cream satin trimmed in point lace and muslin (no dot) and carried bridal roses. Mr. Will Shinar acted as best man and Miss Ethel Brown as maid of honor. Her gown was of white organdy with white chiffon and pink ribbons, and her bouquet was of pink roses, after the ceremony all assembled in the dining room where the wedding breakfast was served.

The bride is well known here and is one of those sweet characters whom to know is to love. The groom is the most popular young man in the city. Among the presents received one that deserves special mention was a solid mahogany rocker, upholstered in leather—the gift of Manistique Lodge B. I. O. O. F.

Mr. and Mrs. Crayer left on the 10:22 train for a trip by way of the Soo to Owen Sound, Warton, Ont., and other Canadian points. They have the best wishes of their many friends for their future happiness.

Miss Story at Ann Arbor.
An Ann Arbor dispatch dated Aug. 19th, says: "Miss Rose A. Scory, daughter of ex-Register of Deeds Michael J. Scory, and prominent in social and musical circles, was married this afternoon to Dr. Aldro R. Minna, of Manistique, Mich., Rev. E. D. Kelley officiating. The bride was formerly a student in the University School of Music, and the groom is a graduate of the dental department with the class of 1900."

The Doctor's many Manistique friends congratulate him.

bottomed craft and in some unexpected manner captured it. They managed to reach the position of the boat that was out of the water and one of the launches towed them in.

Mrs. Peter R. Clair died at her home at Marquette Tuesday of cancer.
This deceased was born in Dan-mark in 1842 and has a number of years been a resident of this county.
She leaves a husband and four chilren to mourn her demise. Funeral services were held from the Norwegian
Lutheran church yesterday afternoon,
Rev. Hjernstad officiating.
