MANISTIQUE, MICHIGAN, FRIDAY, APRIL 25, 1902.

$1.50 PER YEAR.

THE NEW COUNCIL

Held Its First Meeting Last Evening for Purpose of Organization.

MAJOR APPOINTS COMMITTEES

A number of eager hands approved Mayor Crane's plan for the purpose of organization. Every member was present, and most of the business was harmoniously transacted.

Mayor Crane in a short informal talk, outlined his policy. He hoped that the mayor and council would be able to conduct the city's business in a harmonious manner during the coming year, and that all personal feeling and animosity should be laid aside. He also hoped that the affairs of the city would be conducted in an economical manner. Manistique is inviting new industries and it is vital that taxes should be made as low as possible, for a low rate of taxation will do much toward inducing capital to invest here. While the rate last year was not exorbitant yet the taxes might be reduced this year. He referred to the purchase of the city building as a good investment, and that our streets and sidewalks were in good condition. The need of a city lockup was also mentioned, and as there is more than $1,000 in the building fund, all needed alterations to the city building can be made.

He said that the time would come when Manistique should have a sewer system, but before anything more was done in that line a competent civil engineer should be secured and the city divided into sewer districts so that the work already completed could be utilized.

The following standing committees were appointed:

- Auditing—Wickiein, Darno and McNeil.
 - Streets—Parker, McKesson and Schuster.
 - Fire—Barrell, Schuster and McNamara.
 - Lights—Wickiein, McNeil and Barrell.
 - Sewers—McNeil, Parker and McKesson.
 - Printing—McKesson and Darno.
- It was decided to hold the meetings of the council on the second and fourth Monday of each month.

THE CIRCUIT COURT.

All of the Cases Disposed of. Only One Accidental.

The April term of the circuit court, which commenced last Monday, completed its task Wednesday evening. The following cases were disposed of: The State vs. Fred Deroche, violation of the liquor law, was given a trial by jury, and fined $100 and $100 costs. The State vs. Angus McDougall, arrested on the same charge, pleaded guilty and was fined $100 and costs amounting to $120.00. James Beure of Genesee also pleaded guilty to the same charge and was fined $40 and $10.00 costs.

The State vs. William King, who was accused of larceny, was acquitted by the jury. William Watson accused of larceny pleaded guilty and sentenced to the Michigan reformatory at Ionia, for a period of three years.

A decree was granted in the matter of the petition of Perry F. Powers, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said state, for the sale of certain lands for the taxes assessed thereon for the year 1899 and previous years.

A divorce was granted in the case of Alice McGregor and Donald McGregor. The chancellor of Lizzie E. Lohde vs. John Lohde. Continued.

A decree was granted in the divorce case of Pearl Fisher vs. Ralph B. Fisher.

Dr. Patterson Has Returned. Dr. Patterson, who will be remembered as having been a resident of Manistique several years ago, arrived in the city Thursday and departed for the copper country yesterday. When leaving here Dr. Patterson went to Manistique where he practiced for a number of years. He has just returned from a year's study abroad. The doctor has not decided as yet where he will locate.—Mining Journal.

Wants an Engagement. Enoch Wissegey, who claims to be champion Indian slack wire walker and performer of the world is looking for an engagement with a crew of specialty company. He has been practicing faithfully for months and can do all the tricks known to the profession. He is a black Indian, Michigan born, and a resident of Manistique.

A Birthday Party.

A party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Boides Saturday from 2 to 5, it being the 11th birthday of their daughter Emma. Games were played, one of which was a party game, which was to be won by points they could carry on a knif from one side of the room to the other in three minutes. This resulted in a tie between Ellen Keibon and Tessie Gray. They were given prizes. An apple was suspended by a string from the ceiling, and the object was in trying to reach it which one could take the most bites.

Refreshments were served consisting of coffee, sandwiches, ice cream and cake. The Misses Carpenter and Hockings assisted in serving lunch. Selections were played by the phonograph. Emma was the recipient of many handsome presents.

The guests were: Ellen Keibon, Florence McNeil, Tessie Gray, Irene Zimmerman, Blanche Hixson, Catherine Payne, Vida Winn, Gertrude Kelson, Arnie Denny, Lillian and Jessie May McKinney, Susie Patterson, Vera Jezew, Ruth Parker.

May Festival.

The ladies of the M. E. Church are making preparations for a "Festival of Days" to be held in the opera house May 22, 23 and 24th, afternoon and evening. Boides represent the days of the week will contain articles adapted to the special each day. These articles will be for sale, the proceeds therefrom to apply toward a proposed addition to the church.

His Success Assured. Rev. Brand's illustrated lecture, descriptive of a trip from Porto Rico to California, was heard by a large audience at the Methodist church last Friday evening. The lecture was very interesting, and the lecture course of four numbers, of which the above lecture was the first, will be a great success if the first number is a criterion of what is to follow. A large number of season tickets have been sold.

N. P. L. Social.

Manistique Legion No. 138, N. P. L. will give a social at their hall, in Orr building, on Friday evening, May 2nd. Refreshments will be served and a program rendered. Those desiring to dance will be given an opportunity later. Admission 25 cents.

ANOTHER K. O. T. M. PLAN.

Boynton Opponents Found to Slack Track the Expansion Scheme.

Boyd's proposition to slack the terms of Mayor Boynton in the event of his resignation as chief executive of Manistique, by making him merely a figurehead instead of having any influence in shaping the order's policy, his enemies have evolved an additional plan, and one which is expected to divert the wind from the sails of his expansion scheme.

At the last meeting of the executive committee, whereat Mayor Boynton was absent, a resolution was framed and unanimously adopted and ordered to be presented before the grand camp review, in which it is contended that the placing of the great camp on a purely social business basis is more important than the expansion plan, and should be dealt with by the great camp before any extension of territory is made.

It is recommended that for this purpose the great camp at its next review, to be held in Marquette in June, should appoint a committee of five members to take into consideration the steps necessary to perpetuate the great camp, and that said committee be given power to employ the services of a competent actuary to investigate and report on the present condition of the order together with his recommendation of whatever plan may be necessary to accomplish the objects referred to, such report and plan to be submitted to the great executive committee not later than June 3, 1902, so that the membership may have an opportunity to consider the same and be prepared for definite action at the next succeeding grand camp review, which would be held in 1901.

The resolution contemplates the changing of the order from its present pay-as-you-go plan to a reserve fund bank and in direct conflict with the teachings of Mr. Boynton, whose slogan has always been that the best place for a reserve fund is in the members' pockets. The adoption of such a proposition would slack-track the expansion issue for two years and it would be fought tooth and nail by all the Boynton adherents.

Several of the ministers of the city presented a petition to Judge Stevens asking him to instruct the sheriff to see to it that the liquor dealers would observe the laws governing the traffic.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

It is none too early to agitate the proper observance of Decoration Day.

There is none more disgraceful than the man who does nothing but talk politics.

The man who thinks that he will go right straight, plump down into Gehenna if he doesn't hold some kind of an office has a disastrous mind.

Shelden claims that he has a steel trap catch in the congressional re-nomination. The spring in this particular trap is broken and the catch is not very firm.

The professional politician will rejoice to learn that both Mr. Bliss and Mr. Stearns are avowed candidates for governor. He may now hope to soon get three square meals per day.

Here's the report a girl gave of a party: "We went about 8:30 and sat and talked until 10 o'clock, when we ate a cup of lemon ice. At 11 o'clock we went to yawn, and at 12 o'clock we went home."

Homer Warren, best known to rural delegates to the state conventions as the man that can sing "The Sword of Bunker Hill" backwards as well as forwards, is in charge of Stearns' campaign in Wayne county.

Stearns offers to pay one half of the expense of a special session of the legislature if Bliss will pay the other half. The object of the session would be the passage of a primary election law and thus avoid a barrel campaign. Bliss refuses to take the bait.

The next interesting political fight will be the line-up of the republicans in the forthcoming congressional delegate election and the nomination to follow. From present indications the proverbial stuff club will be wielded with no inconsiderable ferociousness. Mr. Shelden has been carefully looking after his fences of late, and evidently feels satisfied that much remains to be accomplished if he wins out in the nominating convention. Mr. Young, the Ishpeming gentleman who recently announced his candidacy, seems to be gaining strength, especially in Delta, Schoolcraft and his own, Marquette, counties. In these counties Mr. Shelden will have an exceedingly hard row to hoe.—Iron Port.

Schoolcraft county will be the pivotal county in the legislative convention. Three candidates, good and true men, too, have announced their candidacy. Mr. Archibald McEachren of Mackinac county Wm. Leighton of Alger county, and S.-N. Dutcher of Luce county, are in the race, and all have friends in this county. No mistake will be made in nominating either. Leighton will undoubtedly have the support of Alger county and Dutcher will have Luce, but none will have a majority of the votes of the convention. McEachren has Mackinac county and will need Schoolcraft county to win out. Leighton also needs support from this county to secure the nomination as does Dutcher. Good, fair minded honorable men should be chosen as delegates from this county, for the responsibility is great.

Bob Wright says: Again have recently been reminded that some natures are very much like the lower order of animals. Some are much like dogs and need harsh treatment to be kept in their proper sphere. Give some dogs a kick and they will be all the more attached to you and will show greater obedience. Treat that same dumb brute affectionately and it will show its treacherous spirit and end at the hand that fondles it. Kind treatment to others is affectionately returned. The human animal is some respect is much the same. Treat some men as you would like them to treat you, and out of your way to do them a good turn and the only thanks you will receive is some sneaking act of treachery that would disgust one with human kind were it not for the fact that occasionally we meet one who bears the mark of "the noblest work of God."

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

It is great stuff in politics to know which band-wagon to get into and which one to stay out of.

The daily Sun Journal now reaches our exchange table. It is newsy and has all the appearances of longevity.

A Dollarville man who had no faith in banks, kept his money in a trunk. Thieves found the hiding place and appropriated the $500.00 he had saved.

How Tom Hanna of Iron Mountain, it is reported, is in charge of Governor Bliss' campaign in the upper peninsula. Tom will have plenty of work to do.

Republicans should sit down on all factional warfare. Let's quit having "for and against" rows and pull together for victory in November, supporting each nominee.

This week THE PIONEER-TRIBUNE enters upon the twenty-third year of its existence, and its prospects were never brighter than at the present time.

It is interesting to see a movement on foot to get another candidate into the field for lieutenant governor from the upper peninsula. Senator Charles Smith positively declines the honor and overtures are now being made to ex-Senator Maitland, of Negaunee.

The candidacy of George B. Horton for governor of Michigan will add a touch of the picturesque to the campaign that might otherwise be lacking. There is room for all kinds of candidates. Mr. Horton is of the kind that has no platform of his own. But if the source of the first suggestion of his candidacy is taken into account, he represents firm of all James O'Donnell's Jackson Citizens. That is to say, Mr. Horton is anti-Bliss and anti-primary election. The fact that he practically bolted the party in 1896 to give aid and comfort to Mr. Bryan and the free silver heresy will give him some strength, too, among those republicans who followed the lead of Senator Teller in that memorable campaign. He will also have active support from the Democratic press. We doubt, however if Mr. Horton will find such support of much value to him in a Republican convention.—Detroit Journal.

THE COMING SCANDINAVIANS. A dispatch from Christiana says last week broke all records of emigration to America, 1,300 Scandinavians having sailed from that Norwegian port.

The hardy Scandinavians are among the most welcome comers to this country. They are, as a rule, doggedly honest, as well as physically robust. They do not remain in the stajorts, except those who have been sailors and prefer a sail for the great lakes and are valuable elements in the manning of the lake freight. The greater number of the immigrants pass directly to the forests and farms of the Northwest. They come with the purpose of staying, not with the object of making all they can, spending as little as possible, and then returning home to live on their American earnings. They become citizens of the United States as speedily as practicable, establish homes, and bring good sense as well as strong arms and industrious habits as contributions to the building up of the country.

There is no cause for apprehension in unusual crowds of Scandinavians to the United States. If all the immigrants from other lands were of as good a quality there would be little occasion for rigorous immigration legislation.—Mining Journal.

AS TO LOAFERS. A person hands us the following notice. It loafers could be induced to stay long enough in their back yards to be filed with a desire to clean up they might at least improve the appearance of the town. What do loafers talk about anyway? Probably had times and their neighbors character. The thrifty, honest, busy citizen who has accumulated some means by his industry is always the object of their regard and spleen. The loafer is the worst sort of a robber for he robs himself as well as others. He is a destroyer, tearing down what others have taken years to build up.

HAVE BURIED ALL HATCHETS.

Of all the political contests in different parts of Michigan this year, there is none which is interesting to old politicians as much as the fight on Congressman Carl Shelden in the upper peninsula. The combinations that have been made in this fight are enough to startle the oldest inhabitants.

It. Olin Young, of Ishpeming local attorney for the Carnegie Steel Co., is making the principal fight against Shelden, and seems to have lined up behind him all the old time party leaders, while Shelden has the backing of a younger contingent that is threatening to do things to the old crowd.

In Chippewa county, Chase Osborn and his crowd, with one newspaper, are fighting for Young, while Postmaster Webster and his following, with another newspaper, are backing Shelden. In Marquette county Editor James Russell, of the Marquette Mining Journal, and Collector Gad Smith are backing Young. In Menominee Sam Stephenson is for Young against Shelden and the postoffice crowd. In Gogebic county, Tom Cole, manager for Michigan and Mineseast of the Carnegie Steel Co.'s property, is with Young, and Cole is credited with an ability to deliver the goods in Gogebic.

In Houghton, Shelden's own county, James McNaughton, superintendent of the Calumet & Hecla mine, is against Shelden, and has great influence with the big vote of the miners. Chas. A. Wright, a capitalist, is also a candidate for congress from this county.

The combinations which the fight have brought about are the wonder of those who know the political history of the upper peninsula. Osborn and Shelden combined to beat out Sam Stephenson when Shelden was first elected, and now Osborn and Stephenson are working to beat Shelden. Osborn and Shelden have fallen out and Osborn and Stephenson have gotten together.

Last year, when the fight for tax commissioner was on, the steel corporation was supposed to be backing Newett. Osborn and Gad Smith were fighting Newett, and Russell with his paper was backing Newett. Now Osborn, Gad Smith, Russell and Newett are all working together for Young, attorney for the steel corporation, and against Shelden.

"It looks as though every old fight had been forgotten, every hatchet buried, in the efforts to beat Shelden," remarked a man conversant with upper peninsula politics today.

MR. MCEACHREN FOR REPRESENTATIVE.

Mr. McEachren was first proposed for the nomination of representative by THE PIONEER-TRIBUNE and now since he has decided to make an effort to secure the honor his candidacy is very popular among his Schoolcraft county friends. He is highly esteemed by all knowing and would represent the Schoolcraft district with honor to himself and the district. He is not a professional politician but a farmer and cedar operator. He owns one of the finest farms in the upper peninsula and hewed it out of the virgin forest. Being an intelligent conservative business man and knowing the needs of this portion of the peninsula the district would never have reason for regretting its action were it to send him to Lansing.

Mr. Leighton who has entered the race against Mr. McEachren also is popular wherever he is seen, and in order to give our readers an opportunity of knowing his merits we reprint extracts from his candidacy paper from the Alger county newspapers, in another column.

ALGER COUNTY CANDIDATE.

It is with no small degree of pleasure that The Republican presents to the Republican electors of the Alger-Luce-Mackinac-Schoolcraft county state representative district the name of William Leighton, of Grand Marais, as Alger county candidate for the Republican nomination for representative.

The names of several Alger county Republicans have been suggested in connection with this nomination, but a canvass demonstrates the fact most clearly that Mr. Leighton is the gentleman upon whom every element of the party can unite with the positive knowledge that in him they will have an officer who is absolutely fair and impartial and who if chosen as representative, will be ever keen and watchful of the interests of the district.

That Mr. Leighton is well qualified for the position is a fact which none can gainsay. He is not a college graduate, neither is he an authority on classical literature. Nevertheless he is well educated in a way that is of practical benefit. He has had a wide experience; an experience which has brought him in constant contact with men, and those who know him know that it is this practical education there is nothing lacking to detract from his eminent fitness for the office of representative.

Mr. Leighton has been a lifelong Republican, always faithful and loyal to party interests, and he is now chairman of the Republican county committee. He has just been re-elected without opposition to his third term as supervisor of his home township, which is most convincing evidence of his popularity and a popularity that has been gained because of the general recognition of sterling manhood, a conscientious discharge of duty and fidelity to every official duty. As chairman of the county committee he has displayed excellent executive ability and has won the respect and confidence of Republicans in every part of the county.

The Republican believes that the announcement of Mr. Leighton's candidacy will be well received in all parts of the district. He is well known by party leaders, not only in this portion of the upper peninsula, but also in the eastern part of the lower peninsula, as he was an active leader in Republican circles in Saginaw for many years previous to his removal at Grand Marais eight years ago. And wherever Mr. Leighton is known the force of The Republican's statements as to his qualifications will be recognized and appreciated.

While Mr. Leighton is not one of the kind that places himself "in the hands of his friends," still his entry into the contest for the nomination for representative was not of his own seeking. His friends, with assurance of his fitness for the position, urged the matter upon him, and he only after careful deliberation that he has finally decided to enter the contest. But having decided to go after the nomination, he will go into the work with the same degree of enthusiasm and earnestness that has made his work for the party so successful in this county, and The Republican believes that when the nominating convention is held his name will receive the favorable consideration to which it is entitled.

HORTON HAS ENTERED THE RACE. Hon. Geo. B. Horton, worthy master of the state grange, has publicly announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for governor. He has no formal platform but says that the platform endorsed by the state convention when it convenes will suit him. He also says that:

"My name will go before the people of the state recognizing them as the sovereign power, and as representing the reverse of before-convention and before-election methods, of which they so bitterly and justly complain. I am a politician in no sense other than having in common with all people a deep rooted interest in the welfare of our commonwealth, with all its varied interests and institutions, from a progressive yet justifiable standpoint."

His chances for winning the nomination are not the best, but he will divide the Bliss forces to such an extent that Stearns or some other hustler may win the pennant.

Neglect Means Danger. Don't neglect biliousness and constipation, your health will suffer permanently if you do. Dr. Witz's Little Early Biscuits are the most satisfactory pills I ever took. Never gives or causes nausea."

WM. LEIGHTON FOR REPRESENTATIVE.

(Grand Marais Herald.)

After much solicitation on the part of the prominent Republicans throughout the Schoolcraft representative district, Mr. William Leighton of Grand Marais, has formally announced his candidacy and has entered the race for the nomination to succeed the Hon. G. P. McCallum, our present efficient representative, who has withdrawn from the district and is now a resident of Sault Ste. Marie. What is known as the Schoolcraft representative district comprises Alger, Luce, Schoolcraft and Mackinac counties. While several gentlemen of the district have been mentioned for representatives, Mr. Leighton is the first one to make a declaration and allow his name to be used, and only then, when assurance of hearty support had come from the several counties comprising the district.

Alger county is entitled to the representation on the grounds that she never had a member of the legislature chosen from her ranks and prior to the re-division of the district Delta and Schoolcraft counties had enjoyed the honor. In placing the name of Mr. Leighton before the Republican electors of the district for the nomination, a gentleman has been chosen who has been an ardent worker and a life long Republican. One who has lived in the district for the past nine years and stands upon his merits. His political career dates back to the Saginaw Valley fifteen years ago and stands without a blemish. Mr. Leighton is a staunch believer in honest politics puts in practice just what he preaches. He would make an able representative and if nominated and elected the affairs of the district would be placed in careful hands. Mr. Leighton possesses a fund of knowledge as to the requirements of the office, is a gentleman easily approached and a born campaigner. The Herald will be more than ready to say on the subject in the future.

CARNEGIE ON THE WAGES PROBLEM. When Andrew Carnegie expresses himself, he is always practical and sometimes original. Both practicality and originality are apparent in many places in the proof sheets of his forthcoming book, "The Empire Before Us." Here for instance, is a significant utterance on the subject of wages.

The trouble is that men are not paid at any time the compensation proper at that time. In other words, when the employer is going down the employe insists on going up and vice versa. What we must seek is a plan by which men will receive high wages when they are making high profits, and per contra, when the employers are receiving low prices for product, and therefore small if any profits, the men will receive low wages. If this employe would be found employers and they would be "in the same boat," rejoicing together in their prosperity and calling into play their fortitude together in adversity. There will be no room for quarrels, and instead of a feeling of partnership between employers and employe. There is a simple means of producing this result, and to its general introduction should steadily bend their energies. Wages should be based upon a sliding scale, in proportion to the net prices received for product month by month. It is impossible for capital to defraud labor under a sliding scale."

Poor men as well as rich men will get new and valuable ideas from reading the discussions of living topics by the great steel manufacturer and philanthropist that are contained in the pages from which this is gleaned. No one has been a greater success than he in accumulating money, and he has retained his human sympathy unspoiled by this success.—Milwaukee Wisconsin.

Chicago Inventor's Device Cuts Steel as Easily as Wood.

ELECTRICITY DOES THE WORK.

Carbon Point Applied at an Intense Heat to Wax, Tin, Lead, Metal-Apparatus is Simple and Can be Operated with a Current of Only Fifty Volts.

Julius B. Hasche, a Chicago electrician, in discovering a way to apply electricity to an apparatus for cutting steel as easily as wood, has made some hard work of it, but has brought to bankers and other capitalists of public interest a device which, he says, the St. Louis Dispatch. Mr. Hasche did not invent his carbon point, the name given the metal cutting device, for the purpose of cutting links for no other use, so he says, to cut or melt in two the wire to cut into two pieces the thickest iron bar set plate.

It makes no difference to Hasche whether he is called upon to cut in two a big boiler plate in a St. Louis brewery or sewer and gas steel pipe in the Hookery building, Chicago. He goes about his labor with full confidence that he can carry out his part of the contract. Mr. Hasche's expert in Milwaukee a few days ago is being reported far and near as an example of what his carbon point will do.

A big boiler foundation was removed from the basement of a building. It was almost impossible to get the great mass of metal, and then it was equally preposterous to think of cutting the plate in two. Mr. Hasche's simple invention was mentioned to the inventor, and he was invited to go to the Cream City. Mr. Hasche enclosed himself in a little steel house, the interior of which he speared to his eyes, and after connecting his carbon point he touched the steel with a testing wire. The light was shut in the basement was a hard flame stood up. It was a white light and produced extreme heat. The light was not hindered by the water, but the operator was well protected and did the work.

At the rate of a foot in five minutes cutting or burning away a wide space in the plate the carbon point, with its terrific power, worked along. Mr. Hasche had no trouble whatever in handling the work, and those who watched him left the place, although blinded by the light, aware of the value of the discovery of the Chicagoan.

"My apparatus is simple and can be operated with a current of strong dry volts," said Mr. Hasche. "Such a current of electricity can be obtained by tapping the wires of almost any large building. The motor building is alive with electric wires, and a shrewd operator could easily find a service main and gather from it the power needed to use his carbon point. But I have avoided the necessity of tapping wires by inventing a little storage battery, which I use when my work is required in this capacity. This battery has twenty-eight cells, and I am able to get just as satisfactory results as with a direct or alternating current."

The Hasche apparatus is simple. A carbon of electrode is attached to a wood handle by means of a metal clamp. To this clamp a wire is fastened, the other being connected with the object to be operated upon. If a safe, the second wire is attached to a large

NEW SET OF STAMPS.

Series Will Be Attractive and Distinctive in Design.

GENERAL HARRISON HONORED.

Late President's Name to Appear on a Thirteen-cent Stamp-Post Series This Year in the Twenty Years-Memorial Postmark on Postmark.

The Bureau of Engraving and Printing has received instructions from the postoffice department to prepare designs for an entire new series of postage stamps to be issued by the United States. The question of a new series of stamps was discussed in the full following the death of President McKinley, and of that time the impression prevailed that when the new set was issued the portrait of President McKinley would not appear on one of the denominations. Undoubtedly that was the plan at that time, but the department has since received a special order of the late president upon a new postmark of McKinley's name, and this changed his name from the list of rejected.

However, a new face will appear upon one of the stamps, that of the late President Harrison. In order that the design might be in place for his portrait, at the same time giving the place the best advantage, the new denomination was created, a thirteen-cent stamp. There will be practically no demand for a stamp of this value for domestic use, but for foreign use there is a place for this denomination. Thirteen cents represents the cost of sending a registered letter including postage and insurance to any country within the postal union. Therefore it has been necessary to use an eight-cent stamp. Mrs. Benjamin Harrison has furnished the department a photograph of General Harrison which meets her approval for the purpose proposed.

Aside from the introduction of General Harrison's face into the postal card life of the ordinary man, there will be made in the personal of the series. Commodore Perry, whose face is featured on the thirty-cent value from 1870 down to 1891 and the dollar from 1870 to the present date, will be superseded upon the dollar denomination by the famous figure of General Farragut. Commodore Perry disappears permanently.

THREE SCORE DEAD.

STEAMER CITY OF PITTSBURGH BURNS TO WATER'S EDGE NEAR CAIRO, ILLS.

Fire Breaks Out Early in the Morning and Its Progress is So Rapid That Fully Sixty People Are Credited or Jump into the River and Are Drowned—Survivors of the Disaster Suffer Terribly From Exposure.

CAIRO, Ills., April 21. The steamer City of Pittsburgh, on route from Cincinnati to Memphis, was burned to the water's edge early in the morning at Turners Landing, near (Oxford), Ill., 11 miles from Beard's Creek, and 21 miles from the city. The early reports stated that 60 lives were lost and that many were badly injured and otherwise injured. The exact number of lives lost is not yet definitely determined. Two boats and every available craft from this city went to the scene for relief.

Most of the passengers were still in bed when Second Creek Officer Phillips gave the alarm. The crew members who started all the panic were in the cabin, while the crew brought all the passengers to the deck. The flames from the lower deck and the dense clouds of smoke, the passengers rushed from their staterooms and a frightful panic ensued. The appearance of the officers and crew could not appear the terror-stricken crew that interfered with those thrashing water on the flames, as well as those working with the life boats. Few could make life preservers or do anything else for themselves. The smoke was stifling. Great clouds floated through the blinding steam, choking the passengers and making it impossible to see. The men were manned and every effort was made to save the passengers from the burning furnace of flames.

People from the shore went to help with the work of rescue and many landed to their relief with passengers in the boat they were able to either save or were rescued.

Survivors Suffer Terribly.

As fast as a boat could be emptied it returned to the ill-fated steamer, the work of rescue and saving to the breath of rest. The burning steamer was quickly loaded to the bank, but passengers had to jump off the bank and in trying to swim ashore through the flames many were drowned. Many also perished in the flames. About 28 or 29 were taken off in the night. The rest were left in the water. High, except from people living nearby, did not arrive until 2:30 p. m., and the passengers, with only light clothes and without food, suffered terribly.

The fire started in the forward hatch and burned fiercely when the steamer was about 10 miles from Beard's Creek. Because there were many over the cabin railing. Very few were saved. Because there were many over the fire it was too late. The captain and chief clerk claim that in all 30 persons have been rescued, leaving 60 persons lost or unaccounted for.

The steamer Mand Kilgore, Captain Cole, rescued the survivors to this point. The Mand Kilgore, a local city, rendered all assistance in the way of clothing, etc. Just prior to the boat's destruction the United States inspectors and was granted first class passage.

BRITISH CAMP TO REMAIN.

President Will Not Meet the Depot at Chalmers, La.

Washington, April 23.—The report of Colonel Crowder, who investigated the alleged case of the capture of a South African from the post of Chalmers, La., was held before the cabinet by the president. While the report was incomplete it developed that the conclusion was reached by the president that he had seen of that story is not sufficient evidence to show that the British camp should be removed, consequently there is no warrant for intervention. Colonel Crowder will make some additions to his report in the afternoon and later will go over the matter very thoroughly with the president and the attorney general.

Proper care demands Smith's Green Mountain Balm.

Taking proper care of yourself simply means keeping the blood pure and the stomach, liver and kidneys working along in their regular, normal way.

If you neglect yourself when you are well you will not feel right, you will get full of the impurities which you will otherwise prevent of your system, and there is trouble in store for you.

You can't have all sorts of things the matter when the simple fact is that your blood is making all the trouble because you don't take the pains to keep it pure.

You ought to follow the sensible advice of the sons and daughters of Smith's Green Mountain Balm. They have been taking it for many years. When they go away, they send back home for it. They don't run any risks—they keep all their health.

They don't have to send back home any more. People with money have taken hold of this medicine and are introducing it everywhere through agents. They know just what it is to the people in the same condition it comes to them and not attempt to substitute other things for it.

HALF MILE SEWER TRIP

Boyle's Thrilling Ride Far Beyond New York Streets.

SWEET SEVEN BROOKS TO RIVER.

Plumber's Helper Who Fell into Fifty Waters Was Carried Down the River Underground Channel, but Never Lost His Sense.

Nearly a distance of seven blocks, or twenty-four feet under ground and in a narrow channel, a plumber's helper fell into the East river, with the city's refuse, without once having lost consciousness, was the experience of Edward Doyle, a very plumbly's helper. He was rescued after a little delay, and after the horrible journey, a cure and said to be felt pretty well.

The experience of the man are considered by the police the most remarkable ever recorded in connection with the drainage system of New York.

Through the terrible trip Doyle had a number of miles and this, in connection with a marvellously fortunate combination of circumstances, enabled him to accomplish a feat that is unprecedented in this country.

The scene of the accident was at Chalmers, La. between Third and Second avenues. At the point named there was some trouble with the main sewer, and Boyle, with his employer and two other helpers, were there to look into the repairs.

Recent rains had caused a sudden rise in the waters of the sewer. Boyle was at the very lower end of the ladder when one side was broken by the gush of the waters.

Boyle was at the bottom of the ladder and slumped into the hole. Boyle, who is but twenty-four years old and very lively, made an effort to brace himself against the side of the manhole, but it was too late, and he was swept away into the river.

"The goner" he shouted to his helper, but he was not heard. He was swept away into the river. Boyle was at the bottom of the ladder and slumped into the hole. Boyle, who is but twenty-four years old and very lively, made an effort to brace himself against the side of the manhole, but it was too late, and he was swept away into the river.

For a moment the three men left above ground stood stupefied at the horror of the situation of their fellow workman, who was almost certain, would be killed within a few minutes by drowning by the rising tide. The gush of the water hole or by being dashed to pieces against the sides of the sewer.

The men thought that by hurrying they all speed to the river they might recover the body before it had been swept away.

The plumbers were exhausted almost when they reached the foot of Forty-third street. They were getting very tired, and they were getting very tired.

"Now and then I'd pass a piece which another sewer went empty into the sewer at first, I thought it must be a miracle. I was getting very tired, and they were getting very tired.

...Vital Questions...

What does the Doctor Prescribe? What does the Druggist Supply?

Health often balances between these two questions. Life itself may depend on the precise filling of a prescription with standards of fitness and strength. Many druggists who fill prescriptions carefully are not as careful about the reliability or potency of the medicines used. We are careful about both. We see to it that our drugs have the precise strength they should have, and they are always accompanied with scientific accuracy.

The most dealers contemplate increasing the prices of meats of all kinds a few cents a pound. The prices here are not as high as they are in some of the nearby cities, yet the increase will be burdensome to the public. The dealers are compelled to make the increase on account of the inflated advance in wholesale prices. The packing houses have evidently gone into a combination to corner one of the necessities of life, and the exorbitant prices asked will compel the public to become vegetarians.
