FRATERNAL BUILDING

The erection of a large building for Lodge Purposes being discussed by several orders.

DECISIVE ACTION MAY BE TAKEN SHORTLY

Several Sites Available and if Project Materializes, Creditable Building Will be Erected.

Manistique has a number of proper sites for fraternal organizations and as several of these have been outgrown the capacity of the halls used, they are discussing the advisability of erecting a large building, the upper floors of which would be used exclusively for lodge purposes.

Several desirable sites are in view and the building, if erected, would be three or four stories in height.

One ledge with a membership of more than 500 has taken the initial step by appointing a committee of five to act in conjunction with similar committees from several other orders, for the purpose of discussing the feasibility of its erection, providing aid ways and means for its consummation in case it is decided to build it.

It is the consensus of opinion of many that a four story building should be erected. The lower floor could be utilized by business men; the second floor for reception, and dining rooms; and the two upper floors for lodge purposes.

The matter as yet is in embryo, but from the interest being manifested in the matter it would not be surprising if something tangible would develop. The proposed building would be equipped with elevators and would be modern in every particular.

HAD NARROW ESCAPE

Miss Mary Putnam of Ypsilanti, and Well-Known Here, in Railroad Wreck.

SHE ESCAPED WITHOUT INJURY

The following dispatch to the daily press from Ypsilanti will be read with interest by many of our readers, for one of the trio which had a remarkable escape from injury and death, Miss Putnam, is a sister of Mr. A. S. Putnam of this city, and has visited Manistique at various times. The dispatch follows:

Three prominent members of the car and faculty were in the railroad wreck near Lyons, N. Y., Sunday morning, and one of them escaped death by a miracle.

Prof. Julia A. King, Mrs. Frances Cheever Burton and Miss Mary Putnam were returning from a summer trip through England and Wales, and were in one of the coaches that was derailed. Miss King and Putnam were unhurt and escaped with all their belongings, being on the further side of the car from where the freight engine plowed through it. Mrs. Burton was on the other side of the car and only two letters from the stationer escaped.

Mrs. King, who was killed, started to cross after the car was derailed, but was thrown full length by the collision. In fortunate circumstances, as she was so placed in and held down by the heavy beams that in any other place she would have been crushed.

It was she who was unable to move. Luckily the escaping steam from the engine did not penetrate their car, and she waited until the rescuers reached her. She was coolly till the rescuers reached her. The beams that pinned her were chopped apart, and aside from some scalding bruises and the shock, she was unhurt.

She lost her handbag, watch, ring, coat, and other belongings. The party were coaches were added to the "blind baggage" train to bring the western passengers home. The ladies had a very delightful trip abroad, and are exceedingly thankful that the experience costing less was so worse than it was.

Much Improved in Health.

Mr. Norman McDonald has returned from his extended stay at Colorado Springs where he went for his health. That he profited by the change it is only necessary to compare his condition prior to going and as the present time. There is a wonderful improvement apparent which speaks volumes for the healthfulness of the climate of Colorado. He intends remaining in Manistique for an indefinite period. To one that has resided in Colorado his description of the countless and inimitable works of nature in which Colorado abounds is very interesting.

ARRESTED FOR ROBBERY

Henry J. Curtis Accused of Stealing A Watch and Ring at American Hotel.

Henry J. Curtis was arrested Wednesday by Chief Ekstrom on the charge of stealing a watch and ring from the American Hotel. The watch was the property of a guest, Carl Jacobson of White-dale, and the ring belonged to one of the ladies employed at the hotel.

The officer recovered the ring, but up to this writing the watch has not been found. The chief entered Jacobson's room at an early hour Wednesday morning and shortly thereafter endeavored to sell the watch to the night clerk at the Harmon Hotel.

Curtis, had been in the employ of Proprietor Brass at the American Hotel until a few days before the theft was committed. He is in jail.

HAD CARBOLIC ACID

Murderer Bankley Evidently Contemplated Suicide in Case of Adverse Decision.

NOT KNOWN HOW HE SECURED IT

The Poison was Found in One of the Prisoners who Turned It Over to the Sheriff.

A two ounce bottle of carbolic acid belonging to murderer Bankley was found in the jail by one of the prisoners yesterday and promptly handed over to the sheriff.

For several days prior to the find, the sheriff had made a thorough search of the cells and cell rooms for the poison, which the prisoner had informed him was in the possession of Bankley.

Yesterday during Bankley's absence at the court house, Stone, who is awaiting trial for forgery found the bottle in a ventilator and handed same to Mrs. Moody.

How the bottle reached the prisoner is more or less of a mystery but many think that the domestic employed by the sheriff's family knows something about it.

It looks as though Bankley premeditated suicide in case he would receive a life sentence.

A Millionaire Sued.

The Chicago newspapers are devoting much space to the news that "Millionaire Dan Kaufman of Marquette," has been sued for a bond bill by a Chicago hotel keeper. The sum asked for viz: $2,000 is a mere bagatelle for a millionaire, and no doubt has been paid since Kaufman's attorney has been called to it.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

The Neganee Herald completed its thirty-first year last week.

Ex-Senator Peffer of Kansas, who was a Populist senator from that state for six years, is stamping the west for Roosevelt.

In Baraga county the Republicans and Democrats united and placed a Republican ticket in the field acceptable to both parties. There will be only one ticket in the field.

The Republican majority in Schoolcraft county this fall will be nearly 1000. The big increase in Gernfask township's vote will swell the usual majorities at least 300.

Up in Houghton county the prosecuting attorney ordered the removal of all slot machines and other gambling devices and the sheriff promptly saw to it that the order was obeyed.

Not one disparaging word can truthfully be said against the Democratic candidates for county offices. The same also is true of the Republican candidates. If you are a Republican your duty is plain—vote your ticket straight.

Men who enjoy the honors and share the emoluments of a party for years and when required to yield these favors to others within their own party, go off and pout and take their dirt rags and go home and refuse to play, advertise their unworthiness of past and future party favors alike.

Munising feels sure that it will secure one of the largest charcoal iron furnaces in the world. The rumor is rife that the Glastonville furnace will be moved to that city. The Cleveland Cliffs Co. owns very large tracts of timber in territory tributary to Munising and that city may secure the industry is very probable.

Notwithstanding the lack of enthusiasm and excitement this campaign as compared to previous years it is safe to predict that the Republican county, legislative, senatorial, congressional, state and national tickets will be elected by record breaking majorities. The average voter is well posted and does not need orators to tell him how to vote.

Robert H. Shields of Houghton, a member of the Republican state central committee says that in the lower peninsula the Republican political forecasters are freely betting that the state will roll up a majority of 100,000 for Roosevelt. "The Democrats are very apathetic all over the state," says Mr. Shields, "as far as Mr. Parker is concerned. They are making their fight on the gubernatorial candidate and I would not be surprised if the Republican majority for governor would drop somewhat as is usually the case when a party centers its fight on one office on a ticket." While in Detroit Mr. Shields made arrangements for a number of first-class speakers who will tour the peninsula.

THE NOMINEE FOR ATTORNEY GENERAL.

In their selection of a nominee for attorney general to succeed Charles A. Blair, the state central committee seem to have been guided almost wholly by the necessities of the great suit against the entire railroad system of the state of Michigan over the validity of the tax prescribed by the Atkinson law.

It is eminently proper that this consideration should have been given great weight in the minds of the committee. The prosecution of this suit is by far the most important duty that will devolve on the next incumbent of the office of attorney general. Its prosecution is, indeed, one of the most important duties that has ever devolved on the attorney general's office in the entire history of Michigan. John E. Bird has been associated with Mr. Blair in the preparation of the suit to date and in looking after the state's interests in such stages of the litigation as have thus far been reached.

All the information that comes to us concerning Mr. Bird's personality rights the favorable impression which the first news of his selection created. Born in L'Anse-au-Loup he has grown into the confidence of the people of his native county and during two terms as prosecuting attorney displayed great energy and legal ability in their behalf. That Alfred J. Mills of Kalamazoo, with his learning, his extensive practice and his brilliant record on the circuit bench, or Assistant Prosecutor Ward of Grand Rapids, with the prestige of his successful conduct of the cases arising out of the water scandal, will be a disappointment to their friends and an occasion of regret, especially in Western Michigan, but the result will of course be cheerfully acquiesced in.

Mr. Bird should find an incentive to greater diligence and more disinterested effort in the state's behalf in the great compliment of having been chosen over such competitors.—Petroit Journal.

ONE RADICAL ACT OF THE PRESIDENT.

President Roosevelt has a way of making up his mind on some things without the loss of any time. He is therefore often called impulsive and erratic and other things. But occasionally he makes up his mind and the people, when they hear about it, rather admire his impulsive decisions. Here is an instance. The campaign fund for this year is small. The trustees have refused to contribute. The managers who put up so freely four years ago and eight years ago, will not give any money.

They agreed with Secretary Cortland to put goodly sums in his hands if he would assure them that President Roosevelt would do nothing radical with the business combinations in which they are interested. The president refused point blank, but he refused in no uncertain terms. It was immediate action, radical, perhaps, but the kind of action in which the people believe and which makes the president the friend of the people, Roosevelt can be elected without a cent of trust money. The people knowing that the trusts are not supporting his campaign, know also, that the trusts have no strings on him and, expect him, therefore, to deal with the trusts as they should be dealt with when they break the laws of the land.—Houghton Gazette.

WHAT CAN BE EXPECTED FROM THE BACK BONE OF THE PARTY.

The Democratic party depends, naturally, for its success upon the solid South. It confidently numbers one hundred and fifty-one electoral votes in this territory, and hopes to add West Virginia to the number.

It is a fact that nowhere in this country are labor conditions so poor, wages so low, hours so long and employment more dangerous than in the States that make up the backbone of the party. Every effort has been put forth to keep the working people down, and the record of every legislature holds the evidence of its enmity to the working people whenever they have proposed to ask for legislative protection. It has been an open boast from this part of the country that employers will not be disturbed by the demands of their employees for better wages and conditions. The cotton mills have been moved from the good Republican States of New England to the poorly-paid labor States of the South, because of the promise of cheap labor and the assured immunity from protective labor legislation. The fact that the competition of this cheapness of the backbone of Democracy has been responsible for wage reductions and loss of employment for the operatives in the better paid and higher class mills in New England is evidence of the attitude of this great section of the Democratic party that promises to better the working conditions of the people.

POLITICAL ATMOSPHERE IS GROWING BRIGHTER.

Twenty years ago the newspaper that did not "light into" the opposition during a political campaign was called a Mugwump. Twenty years ago the man who admitted that there were two sides to a question was looked upon with suspicion, and his "loyalty" was in considerable doubt. Twenty years ago it was thought necessary when a man ran for office to get out all the mean stories imaginable on the man, and brand him as a scoundrel just because he was on the other ticket. Twenty years ago, a buggy load of lawyers used to go out from the country town and storm the school houses, telling shady stories, if no women were present at the meeting, and roaring at the handful of farmers in the little desks in the dimly lighted room. This was called "instructing the voter."

It was a campaign of education. Twenty years ago men used to carry leaky torches through the streets at night, following foolishly behind banners, and other men of opposing faith used to hide in alleys laden with past due eggs, and unavailable garden truck, and soak the patriots under the torches as they passed the alley. Twenty years ago our presidential candidate was openly accused of being the father of an illegitimate child and another used for libel because a great newspaper said that the candidate and his wife had enjoyed a shotgun marriage.

But times change and we change with them. It is admitted everywhere that the presidential candidates are honest, earnest men. No one denies the right of his neighbor to vote as he pleases, and no one thinks enough of his own party opinions to sit up nights and go charging around under a torch. Newspapers have rapidly gone out of date. No one cares enough about a school house meeting to get out of a frosty night and unlock the school house and light up; shady stories now would kill the man who told them, and women make their husbands stay at home from meetings and wash the dishes.

Men line up in parties with certain reservations; they vote for decent men first and for parties only where the men voted for can carry out the principles in the platform. The spirit of politics is more liberal. Men are reading both sides, and papers which refuse to recognize the honesty and integrity of opponents, and opposing parties are without influence, and without standing. Personal abuse has almost ceased. The old-fashioned editor with the "vitriolic pen" has gone on a long journey. Heart-aches and wranglings and recriminations are rapidly going out of the campaign. The American people are recognizing the value of decency as a home comfort for every day life. This world is growing better.

The county officers, too, no longer cut the ice they once did. If they become pronounced political workers they are soon heartily disliked. If they try to "run things" their way they make enemies. It is no longer so much a question of the man as it is the principle involved. It is assumed that all the candidates are honest men and good citizens. Then the candidates are supported for the party they stand for. If you are a Republican stand for the Republican candidates. If you are a Democrat stick to your guns.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

There has been entirely too much petty thieving going on about town and from the activity of the officers this week and the results accomplish it looks as though there would be a full for a time at least.

Parker has decided to visit the western states on a speech making tour. If his speeches carry no more weight than recent letters of acceptance the Republicans could well afford to pay the expenses of his contemplated trip.

NOT EXEMPT FROM TAXATION.

Wisconsin Supreme Court Decides

Madison, Wis., Sept. 29.—The supreme court has rendered a decision holding that under Wisconsin law the Benedictine and Protecting Order of St. Silas of America is not a benevolent organization and therefore every property it holds is not exempt from taxation under the statutory provision exempting benevolent associations. This opinion was the result of a suit brought by the trustees of the Green Bay Lodge of St. Silas against the city of Green Bay and the city treasurer to restrain that city from collecting taxes on real estate owned by the order.

SENATOR HOAR VERY LOW.

Life of Venerable Statesman Slowly Ebbing Away.

Worcester, Mass., Sept. 29.—There was no change in Senator George F. Hoar's condition during the night. He remained unconscious for more than twenty-four hours, sleeping most of the time.

At 10:30 a. m. it was learned that the senator "will live, but very low."

"Still living; that is all," was the word given out at noon. The rumor of the patient has become more pronounced since morning.

MAY NOT COME THIS WEEK.

No Decision as Yet in Wisconsin Fugitive Case.

Madison, Wis., Sept. 29.—No decision was handed down by the supreme court during the morning in the La Follette case. It is uncertain whether it will come this week, but the indications are that it will probably be against it.

Judge Canaday is still unable to take his seat on the bench and Judge Winslow presided.

BRIBE AND FINE EQUAL

in an effort to discharge the number, but his heart was unable to withstand the strain and he fell over dead.

Increased was one of the leading political lights of this city for a number of years and for two years looked after the city's finances. He is survived by a widow and two grown daughters. The news of his death spread over the city like wildfire and came with the suddenness of a bolt from a clear sky.

DREAM WAS DEADLY

Causes a Woman to Jump in Her Sleep from a High Window in a Sanatorium.

HAS A WONDERFUL ESCAPE

Suffers Only a Slight Bruise Strange Story of a Stop-Over Ticket on the Rail--Notes.

Battle Creek, Mich., Sept. 21--At a sanatorium in this city a wealthy patient from Chicago, connected with a well-known western family, but whose name is withheld, dreamed she was jumping from a window, ran to the window of her room, four stories above the cement driveway, pushed out the screen and leaped into space. Her sister awakened in time to catch a flying glimpse of the woman's nightgown as she cleared the window sill.

Only the Area Was Hurt.

The falling woman crashed into an awning below, which broke her fall and saved her from being crushed to death on the pavement. As it was, she arose with only a bruised elbow and walked unaided to her room, four flights of stairs above. Dr. Morse, of the sanatorium staff, attended the woman, making an examination that proved that she was practically unharmed.

Was Feels Himself Jugged.

Battle Creek, Mich., Sept. 20--George Wise, of this city, whose version of his connection with Lulu DeLoe and her suicide at Harbor Springs, was disclosed by the girl's family, has gone to Harbor Springs to prove to her mother that he is a law-abiding citizen. He was accused in an unpublished article of a letter which he wrote to Wise, in which she excoriated him and laid her troubles to another man.

No College Graduate There.

Battle Creek, Mich., Sept. 20--The local Adventist college for training medical missionaries has resumed work. This college prepares young Adventists from all corners of the globe to work in foreign lands, where they treat the sick and preach. A religious atmosphere permeates the college and the opening ceremonies were held in a grand manner. The college is the largest of the kind in the world.

Port Huron, Mich., Sept. 20--Henry McArthur, former city treasurer and one of the leading citizens of this city, elected to death while eating his dinner at Kammur's Hotel, was returned to his home in a hurry to return to work and quickly ordered a chicken dinner. He ate so hurriedly that one piece of chicken was left on the table and soon will be ready for use.

MANY SMALL SKIRMISHES

General Kurapatkin reports sharp skirmishes with the Japanese forces north of Mukden.

The Japanese have constructed pontoon bridges over the Taisei river at Benuhu.

The general adds: "On the night of Sept. 20, General Mikuloff, with a detachment of Ural Cossacks, attacked the Japanese bivouac at Kluonau, causing a great panic. The same day the Orenburg Cossacks led an ambuscade on the rear of the Japanese, who returned their fire, but soon retired, leaving sustained casualties on both sides and leaving several dead on the field."

CAUGHT IN THE ACT

Ray McKesson Broke into Deemer's Saloon Early Tuesday Morning.

WAS CAPTURED BY OFFICERS

While searching in the basement, had been suspected by Police for some time. Ray McKesson was captured by Officers Elstrom and Deemer at an early hour last Tuesday morning in the basement of Deemer's saloon. There had been more or less petty thieving about Manistique for several months and the officers, suspecting McKesson, have been keeping close tabs on him. On the night in question Officer Deemer ran across McKesson several times and figured that he was up to some mischief. As the officer was passing Deemer's saloon about 10 o'clock he heard a noise inside and called. In a few moments he and the trap door in the rear of the room raised and with it the head of a man. The thief evidently saw Deemer and quickly lowered the door. Deemer at once impressed a traveling man passing at the time, and Geo. Bohlin, into service guarding the points of egress while he searched Chief Elstrom.

The officers entered the building and reached the basement through the trap door. After a careful search in all portions of the cellar Elstrom caught a pair of feet under the trap door leading to the outside of the building where the beer is rolled into the cellar, and drew the miscreant out. When a light was secured it was ascertained who the prisoner was. McKesson gained entrance into the building through the outside trap door. He was arraigned in Justice Shannon court Tuesday, pleaded guilty, and asked for an examination which will be held tomorrow evening.

Geo. Ghent of Whitehall, is attending court this week as a juror.

Ed. Ashford is building a cement walk in front of his residence. Many others will no doubt follow Mr. Ashford's example for it has been amply proven that wood for sidewalk purposes is an expensive material, compared to the longevity of a cement walk.

IT NEEDS REPAIRS

The Iron Bridge Across the Manistique River Needs New Abutments.

CONCRETE WORK RECOMMENDED

By Geo. Line Engineer Who Made the Examination Wednesday.

Mayor Bowen secured the services of the consulting engineer of the Soo Line Wednesday for the purpose of examining the city's iron bridge across the Manistique River. This official found the abutments badly decayed, and his judgment repairs are imperative to make the bridge safe for heavy traffic. He recommends the construction of concrete abutments as they are cheaper than stone. It is perhaps too late to make the extensive repairs needed to make winter sets in.

The bridge is in constant use day and night and the proposed repairs can be made without interfering with the traffic.

Owing to its importance the bridge should be thoroughly overhauled and placed in the best possible condition. Money thus expended will not be wasted.

A. R. Day of Englewood, was in theory on business Friday.

Tope Sank the Russian Ship.

The sinking of a ship at sea is an awful thing, and especially so during a naval battle when it is accompanied by such terrible loss of life. When the act of "The World" at the opera house on Monday evening, no lives will be lost, but those who know say that it is the saddest thing that has happened in the real thing. This play has a remarkable run in the large cities not long ago and has won a place as one of the greatest American plays. Manager Doty promises a production that has not been surpassed.

THE CIRCUIT COURT

Several Important Cases Have Been Tried Thus Far.

MURDERER - BUNKLEY FOUND GUILTY

Much Evidently Expended in Securing a Jury in Marquette Case.

Circuit court convened last Monday with Judge Stearns and Stenographer France in attendance. The first case to be tried was per arrangement of the docket, was the Bunkley murder case. It required the whole of Tuesday to secure a jury. The court appointed Attorney David Knox to represent the defendant, and considering the odds against him Mr. Knox did exceedingly well, and his client, although deservedly convicted, had his interests carefully looked after by his attorney.

The case went to the jury shortly before noon yesterday, and after being out about seven hours brought in a verdict of murder in the first degree.

The prisoner in his testimony advanced the theory that Pearl Stannaway had committed suicide but the theory was so notoriously crazy that it was not considered by the jurors.

The jury consisted of Henry Armstrong, Sherman McNeil, Ordel Smith, Wm. G. Galtman, Geo. S. Deemer, Joseph Henry of Manistique; J. W. Reynolds, Hiawatha; Louis Gibbs, Cooks; Wellington Brock, Hiawatha; Chas. O'Connor, Sney; Dagald McGregor and Geo. Ellisworth, Manistique township.

The following persons received their naturalization papers during the term of court: John Swenson, Thos. Benson, Geo. A. Graham, Geo. S. Deemer, Robert McCullough, Lillian H. Donnelly.

Leverette Williams of Thompson, was in the city yesterday.

Don't Postpone It This Time

Without doubt most of the readers of this paper have planned at one time or another that when time and money should be available they would take advantage of the opportunity to see "The World". The scarcity of us, however, postpone it from time to time, and finally leave the old world without having seen more than a very small spot upon its surface. All prospective voyagers "The World" at the opera house next Monday evening will also have something to regret. This play has made several fortunes, and one of America's greatest successes over the continent. The secret of its success lies in many features; it is one of the few plays that appeals to all tastes.

STRONGER AND RICHER VEIN

Found by Belmonte Key Co. A 7000 To Be Installed This Winter.

The following item from the Industrial Review of recent date, and which is published at W. Williams, Ont., gives cheering news concerning the Belmonte Key Co's gold mine which will be read with interest by the shareholders. The item follows:

The Belmonte Key company has been making good progress and their vein is growing stronger and richer with depth. In sinking their shaft they left the vein after the 100-foot level had been established, and at 200 feet they crossed to work it. This vein is to be at least six feet wide, not having yet reached the hanging wall. At 150 feet they are drifting north and south, and have 31 feet of mill quartz, with the actual walls farther apart than that. The company considers that development work is sufficiently advanced to take into consideration the erection of a mill, and during this winter will equip their mine with a Lane roller mill, manufactured by C. C. Lane of Los Angeles, Cal. This mill is a novelty in this section, and with the same power, to give an increase in grinding capacity over a stamp mill of 300 per cent. As the machinery will not be taken in until winter, the development work will yet have several months to run before the mill is in readiness, and by that time ore reserves should be locked out sufficient to guarantee continuous operation of the crushing plant. Ore taken from the 200-foot level, in the present, assayed at high as $800 per ton.
