A NARROW ESCAPE

A. D. Day mistaken for a Deer Wednesday Evening, While Walking on Sun Line Track Near Ottercreek.

WAS WOUNDED IN BOTH LEGS

A Very Narrow Escape as Baited was of Large Caliber and Shot Dead.

While walking on the Sun Line last Wednesday evening about 2 1/2 miles west of Ottercreek, Mr. A. D. Day was shot by a careless hunter who had mistaken him for a deer and received ugly wounds in both legs from a 28-40 rifle shot.

His escape from instant death or permanent disability was certainly miraculous for had the bullet struck higher up, or had touched a vein he would have been instantly killed or lost a limb.

The hunters, Messrs. Frazer and Russ, one of which fired the shot, came to Mr. Day's rescue at once when they learned their mistake. They went to Ottercreek for a hand car to convey him to that point where the operator got busy and orders were received to have Train stop there to convey him to Manistique.

Mr. Day was on his way home to Nantahaway from Detroit and left Train 87 at Ottercreek shortly after five o'clock to reach Nantahaway by the morning walk along the Sun Line for several miles to the junction of the national right-of-way which leads to that town. He had reached a point about 2 1/2 miles west of Ottercreek when he heard a noise in the brush on the right side of the track. He thought trappers were there and that they intended to hold him up.

The next instant he heard a rifle shot and was knocked down by the impact of the bullet which ploughed an ugly and deep furrow across the front of his knee, and passed through the left leg severing one of the cords of this limb. He at once took off his coat and used it as a bandage to stop the flow of blood.

He wanted to be taken home but the hunters recalled at the idea for two of their associates were stationed on the narrow gauge right of way and they were fearful that these men would kill them by making the same mistake.

Day owes his life to a picture of Roosevelt that he was carrying in his right hand. He had been carrying it under his arm, but a minute or two before the shot was fired he dropped it into

AN EARLY BLAZE

Supervisor Johnson's Home and Contents Destroyed by Fire Last Sunday Morning.

LOSS $700. INSURANCE $1200

Threatens More to be Compelled to Leave Home by Another Winter.

The two-story frame house on Garden Ave., owned and occupied by Supervisor Charles Johnson, caught fire at an early hour Sunday morning from some unknown cause, and with its contents was totally destroyed.

The fire was first noticed in the rear portion of the house and had its inception either in the kitchen or pantry. When Mr. Johnson was awakened, the fire had gained such headway that he and his family, who were sleeping in the second story were unable to go down the stairway and were compelled to get out by way of the window. Mr. Johnson let his wife and child to the ground with a sheet and jumped out himself. All the household goods as well as the house itself were destroyed.

Mr. Johnson fixes his loss at $1,700. He carried $800 insurance on the house and $100 on the contents.

A TIN SHOWER

Given by Miss Brown and Mrs. Wm. S. Crowe, in Honor of Miss Nicholson.

Miss Ethel Brown and Mrs. Wm. S. Crowe gave a "tin shower" in honor of Miss Nicholson, at the home of the former, last Saturday afternoon.

Miss Nicholson's knowledge of the culinary art was tested by compelling her to guess the names of the articles presented her by means of feeling.

The decorations were red carnations, red ribbons and crumpled tin on bright ribbon, making a unique and pretty feasting.

The guests were given kitchen towels and holders to burn. Miss Hatfield Dunroven received the lucky number and was awarded a handsome bric-a-brac Jack-o-lantern on a tin plate.

The place cards were tin spoons with name printed in red on the bowl. The following refreshments were served:

- | | |
|-----------------------------|--|
| Waldorf Salad in Apple Cups | Color |
| Salted Almonds | Salted Walnuts |
| Ice Cream | Apple Fool |
| Cheese Cake | "Magic pies" were served containing a wonderful surprise for each guest. |
- Miss Brown and Mrs. Crowe were filled with happiness, and all had a delightful time.

Both of these gentlemen are gifted speakers and will no doubt present convincing arguments why the entire ticket from President Roosevelt to Governor Eng should receive your vote on Nov. 8th.

Chairs will be reserved for the ladies, and every one regardless of political affiliation is invited to be in attendance.

DRUGS AND BICYCLE STOLEN

A box of anti-toxin consigned by E. S. Co. to Park, Davis & Co., and valued at $60.00, and a bicycle belonging to Mrs. L. H. Simmons were stolen from a truck at the depot last Saturday evening.

The box and bicycle were recovered in the vicinity of the St. James Hotel. Most of the anti-toxin was missing when the box was found. The identity of the thief has not been revealed as yet.

Miss Lucy Chino Dead.

Miss Lucy Chino, aged twenty-two years, died at the home of her parents last Sunday of typhoid fever. Funeral services were held from St. Francis de Sales church Tuesday morning.

The deceased was a very estimable young lady.

Everything in A Name.

William C. Bronson writes from Wisconsin that he recently had the pleasure of hearing Speaker Cannon J. Adams Bole were all good. Bole said it was entirely on account of H. G. Davis' "harro" that he secured the nomination for vice president, but there was something in the name that appealed to Democratic. Continuing, he said: "Now you know the name Davis will catch the Southern vote and 'Gassaway' will catch the Bryan vote."

"Princess Chic" next Monday evening.

EXACT AMOUNT NOT KNOWN

Had Been Living, He and His Home. Was Handled to Society Co.

Mr. Leigh, who had been occupying the position of cashier at the Sun Line depot for some time, disappeared suddenly on Saturday evening, Oct. 16th, and since that time an examination of his accounts revealed the fact that he embezzled several hundred dollars of the company's funds. The exact amount is not known as yet.

The amount had been lying beyond his means to such an extent for some time prior to his disappearance as to elicit comment among those knowing him.

He was located in a sure company so that the company will not lose anything.

A party well acquainted with Leigh and his morals expressed the belief that he had committed suicide by jumping into the lake or river when he secured that his penalties were discovered.

A very pleasant evening is reported by those participating. T. F. Follis of Escanaba, was in the city this week calling on the hardware trade. He informed our reporter that he received a letter last week from a brother, an Episcopal minister at Carberry, County Clare, Ireland, which according to the postmark, was only eight days and twenty hours from the interior of Ireland to Escanaba, which he thinks very prompt service. The reception tendered to Rev. and Mrs. Shank at the home of Mr. Thos. Whitwell by the M. E. ladies, Tuesday evening last, was a very pleasant social occasion and the singing, well for the future of the church. The new pastor and his wife received an open hearted and joyful welcome, one that must encourage and strengthen them; and his people recognize in Mr. Shank a cultivated gentleman, an earnest worker and a man likely to promote the growth and augment the usefulness of the church.—St. Ignace Republican. The dinner given by the Christian Endeavor Society of the Presbyterian church Wednesday evening was largely patronized. The Marquette high school football team made such poor showing in recent games that it has decided not to enter the interscholastic tournament and has disbanded. This is the way a woman usually repeats a funny story: "Oh, I heard the funniest story the other day. It was about something I cannot recall what and I can't remember it well enough to tell it. Torbet, and probably his Doctor and his estimable wife will make their home in Manistique. He will hold the first service in the Woods and Gulliver field Sunday, Nov. 18. Ole Olsen Pleases. EDITORIAL COMMENT.

When a woman cannot find her husband with the telephone he might as well fix up a cross examination.

The Alger county Republicans elected an admirable ticket by acclamation last week. All of the officers, except sheriff, were renominated. John Thornton succeeds Win. Gibson as sheriff.

That the Schoolcraft Representative district Republican convention made no mistake in the choice of a nominee, is the opinion of the many Munising people who had the pleasure of meeting Mr. Clark during his visit here Saturday and Sunday.—Munising Republican.

TO BE UNPROTECTED IS DANGEROUS.

It is a dangerous position for a nation to be unprotected by a tariff, because it enables the manufacturers of other countries to "dump" their goods into the unprotected country and in time to so weaken the manufacturers of that unprotected or free import country as to finally give command of the market to the foreigner.

Great Britain has discovered this fact. The loss it entails to the British manufacturer and the loss of employment it causes to the British manufacturer working to cause Great Britain to become a Protection country. It takes time to break down British traditional belief in free imports, but the condition of British manufacturing interests is steadily making converts for the policy of Protection.

TIM NESTER FOR WARNER.

Timothy Nester, the wealthy lumberman, who has taken part in many a Democratic campaign, has declared that he will support Fred M. Warner for governor. He so informed Mr. Warner when the two met in Saginaw last week.

Mr. Nester says Mr. Ferris is going up and down the state advertising his school, but not preaching Democracy. It is perfectly legitimate to advertise his school, and the campaign naturally lends itself to that branch of business. Mr. Nester finds no fault with the advertising. The school at Big Rapids is a good school, and it occupies a useful place in the educational field. The campaign will help it, and Mr. Ferris will have the satisfaction of larger classes hereafter at Big Rapids to receive his instruction. But Mr. Nester thinks that a Democratic candidate for governor should elucidate in his political tour the Democratic platform; he should accord support to the Democratic national candidates; he should assist the Democracy in the general campaign now on; not confine his work entirely and solely to Ferris. The personal ambitions of Mr. Ferris are laudable; as he claims Democratic support to help realize them, his obvious duty is to say a word for other Democrats now in the field for election, and thereby show his loyalty and his willingness.

Mr. Nester further tells Democrats that their candidate is unfitted for the office of governor, and he specifies the reasons. His make-up is out of accord with the work that is required, and the demeanor that is expected of a governor. Should Mr. Ferris by mischance become governor his supporters will directly find out that a woeful mistake was made in his election. Nester shudders when he contemplates what he is certain would be a political catastrophe.

GERMANY'S LABOR INSURANCE SYSTEM.

Germany has come nearer solving the vexed labor problem than any other country. Visitors to the Fatherland remark the content that prevails among its workmen and the improved conditions that now exist between employers and employed. Though by no means as rich as England, France or America, Germany has organized a labor insurance system that bears equally upon labor and capital and receives liberal assistance from the government. This system assures every working man and woman that he or she will not be left to starve when disabled by sickness or old age.

Dr. Keister of the German imperial commission to the St. Louis fair, in an elaborate account of the system, starts out with the axiom that the only salubrious thing the workman possesses is his work. When he loses his capacity for work, he has lost everything. Hence the need of insurance against want, as the law wages he receives makes it almost impossible for him to lay up anything for a rainy day. Help from the labor unions cannot be relied on, as their funds are liable to be dissipated in strikes and lockouts. It is also unfair that the workman should bear alone the risks involved in his calling, which is often one of great danger.

In view of these facts the German government has passed labor insurance laws with the result that 10,500,000 workmen and women are insured against their own gross carelessness. The accident and 15,000,000 against invalidity. For every accident not resulting from his own gross carelessness, the German workman receives free medical attendance, and two-thirds of the sum he would earn if well. This outlay is met by an assessment on his employer, who belongs to an association of his district engaged in the same industry which help him out with contributions from both employers and employees. The amounts raised in this way are enormous. In 1902 there was paid out about $30,000,000 for indemnity in case of accident, $20,000,000 in accident pensions and $5,000,000 to the survivors of accidents.

This insurance system may be called social self-help enforced by law, as insurance not by the state, but by the interested parties themselves. Its results have been more brilliant than was expected. Accident insurance has led to thorough measures for the protection of workmen, to improved machinery and conditions, while the liability of illness has been reduced by improved hygienic appliances and surroundings. A great accumulation of funds which at last accounts reached $300,000,000 has led to the foundation of the surplus of sanitariums, libraries and the erection of improved workmen's dwellings.

The system has resulted in spiritual and intellectual as well as material advances. Under it both employer and employed have prospered. It is not yet perfected. Several problems such as provision for widows and orphans and for the unemployed yet remain to be solved, but whether they will be solved by government or by the workmen's organizations remains an open question.—Minneapolis Tribune.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

The Grand Marais fire department had but three calls during the past year.

A Delta county farmer raised 171 bushels of potatoes from a quarter acre of ground.

The man who habitually spends all he gets has one day pay day between him and pauperism.

Thus far Attorney Knox is the only person mentioned for the nomination for justice of the peace to fill vacancy. He would be a model official.

The Bessemer Free Press has renounced Republicanism and has come out for Parker and Ferris. The Ironwood News Record says that $1,000 turned the trick.

The Ishpeming Record of last week printed an excellent portrait of John Rough, well known here, who is the Republican candidate for Sheriff in Marquette county.

"You think," said an old man, "that that baby can bring a lot of trash up on the front porch now; but wait until she gets about eighteen years old and you will know what trash really is."

Voters of Manistique should bear in mind that a re-registration of all voters is necessary this fall and that the boards of the various wards meet Saturday, Nov. 5th. Re-registration does not apply to townships.

A "hired girl advertisement" that appeared in a daily paper recently was no doubt instrumental in securing the help wanted. Its inducements were: every afternoon and Sundays off, and the use of the piano, telephone and automobile.

Owners of cows are becoming quite careless in allowing their animals to roam about Lakeside addition. The ordinance should be enforced for property owners object to paying top notch prices for milk, and at the same time have the cows destroy their lawns and shrubbery.

If Manistique voters intend to be factors in conventions during the next two years it is highly necessary that every person is registered and a big vote gotten out on election day. Don't forget it, also tell your neighbor that he must register Nov. 5th if he expects to vote Nov. 8th.

The American people have never prospered except under a Protective Tariff. The success of the Democratic party, with its leanings toward Free-Trade, would be a menace not only to the industrial well-being of the nation, but to the solvency of the treasury of the United States.—Milwaukee "Wisconsin."

The county campaign this far has been as calm as a mill-pond, and from all indications nothing will happen to change conditions. No Democrat stands a ghost of a show for being elected to office in Schoolcraft county. Except when the Republicans assist them. As the party is united at present every candidate will receive a big majority.

One sensible thing done by the board of supervisors during its recent session, was the appropriation of $1,000 to be expended in improving the Manistique-Seney road. A much larger sum is needed to make the road as good as it should be, but the appropriation will no doubt make it better than it is at the present time.

Marshall Field of Chicago, pays taxes on forty million dollars' worth of property. He has always been regarded as a square man, and the fact that he lists that much property for taxation seems to prove that he is. After a man gets to be worth $100,000 he usually begins to dodge taxes. And if the truth were told some men begin it before they pass the thousand mark.

The Upper Peninsula Republicans should return good for evil at the coming election, and roll up the largest majority for the state ticket, ever polled in the history of the peninsula. The majority should be so large that any defections from the section below the straits will be more than met. Warner is a clean and able candidate and would make an ideal governor. He had the state ticket deserve your unqualified support at this polls.

A terrific storm swept over Dickinson county and at industry and near Miles, in Central Kansas, hail stones broke windows and ruined orchards and alfalfa.

LIGHT HAIL IN SNOW.

Severe Storm in Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa and Missouri.

Kansas City, Oct. 20.—A heavy wind storm, accompanied by rain, in Central Kansas interfered with telegraph and telephone wires, cutting off communication over the Union Pacific for several hours. The storm which was centered in Eastern Nebraska, where it was accompanied by a slight fall of snow, appears to be a continuation of the recent heavy storm in Western Wyoming and extended into Iowa and Missouri as well as Kansas City.

FARMER DROWNS HIMSELF.

CHAPTER I.

THE evidence was all in. The speeches had been made on both sides of the case, and the attorney for the state had given severe and eloquent in urging conviction. The jury had remained in retirement all the morning and had filed in and resolved their verdict. David Buckley, the prisoner at the bar, was found guilty of having feloniously and in the night stolen a bale of cotton from a neighbor's barn, known to be his own, and taken it to market the next day.

It was a short, thick-set man with a face of gray-stay, still haired and silver faced, and light, not heavy, gray eyes. It was found, at certain places, that he had testified against his own charge in the verdict of the court. He glanced at his wife, who sat against the railing behind him, and then stared steadily at the floor till the sheriff came and led him back to jail.

Later in the afternoon he was brought back to receive his sentence. The judge, a full ported man with a beard and hair as brown as a Spaniard, was about to order him to stand up when Elizabeth Hillier, a woman of cotton and grain merchant of the town, rose and begged permission to speak to the judge in private before the prisoner was sent to jail.

"Well, I reckon we've got time," Hillier, the judge said pleasantly. "It's anything in your mind that you lie to hear it. I've been on the bench seven years, and I don't think I ever had a man before me who was so plain as black as my neighbor's."

Making his way through the cluster of lawyers and students at the head of the aisle to the front of the court, the merchant waited for the judge to join him, and when he came Hillier, nervous, pale, and with short, gray hair, faced him, an eager look in his blue eyes.

"I've a thing to say to you, Mr. Hillier," the judge said. "I've heard of you in the old man's favor, Judge Moore," he faltered. "The truth is, I'm a d-damn about his son. Judge, of that ever was a finer, more honest man than that boy than George Buckley, I haven't nor run across him."

"Oh, you can't tell me anything about Moore," said Judge Moore. "He and I are friends. He voted for me and begged for me in the Upper Tenth district. Ah, so he's not your man, is he? Well, what you George want? I was glad he wasn't in court to hear all that stuff against his own son."

"You see, we thought—no, no, George both thought that maybe you might—justice would be served on me, and I'm a pretty heavy one, an'—"

"Old Buckley isn't able to pay a cent," broke in the judge. "The man inquires, and it is his farm and his mill that will leave his old wife without any means of making a support. No, the judge's up with him."

"But George's been a year in jail for the last five years," said Hillier anxiously. "I've got the mortgage on it at regular rates. It's my hands on the money at a moment's notice. Yes, he can raise a reasonable amount all right."

Judge Moore frowned, thrust his hands into the pockets of his trousers and turned to a clerk, where a few men lay on the grass near the hitching rack.

"I'm not going to be the medium through which deserving innocent people suffer for the guilty," he said firmly. "I've thought of it, and I've decided. I'm not going to be the medium through which deserving innocent people suffer for the guilty."

"I'm not going to be the medium through which deserving innocent people suffer for the guilty," he said firmly. "I've thought of it, and I've decided. I'm not going to be the medium through which deserving innocent people suffer for the guilty."

"Let me alone, Mr. Hillier," said he. "The God's sake, let me alone!"

"All right, George," said Hillier, who was just about to speak. "I was just about to say that I'm a d-damn about his son. Judge, of that ever was a finer, more honest man than that boy than George Buckley, I haven't nor run across him."

"Oh, you can't tell me anything about Moore," said Judge Moore. "He and I are friends. He voted for me and begged for me in the Upper Tenth district. Ah, so he's not your man, is he? Well, what you George want? I was glad he wasn't in court to hear all that stuff against his own son."

Cause of Lockjaw.

Lockjaw, or tetanus, is caused by a bacillus of germs which exists plentifully in soil. It is inactive so long as exposed to the air, but when carried by the skin, as in the wounds caused by permission pins or by rusty nails, and when the air is excluded the germ is caused to multiply and produce the most violent kind of tetanus. These germs may be developed and all danger of lockjaw avoided by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm freely as soon as injury is received. Pain Balm is an antiseptic and causes, besides, and by its action to heal without suturing and to soothe the pain. It is for sale by A. S. Putnam & Co.

TAFT GOES TO PANAMA

SECRETARY OF WAR WILL INVESTIGATE THE DIFFERENCES WITH THAT COUNTRY.

NEW REPUBLIC IS UNDULY ALARMED.

PEOPLE FEAR AMERICAN COLONY WILL BE ESTABLISHED AND INJURE THEIR TRADE.

Washington, Oct. 20.—The president has instructed Secretary of War Taft to proceed at an early date to Panama to confer with the president of that republic with a view to compromising differences that have arisen between the two countries.

It is possible to say exactly when the secretary of war can leave for Panama but probably on Nov. 11.

The following letter has been sent by the president to the secretary of war after a conference with the secretary of state and the secretary of war, in respect to conditions in Panama.

"There is ground for believing that in the execution of the rights conferred by the treaty the people of Panama have been unduly alarmed at the effect of the establishment of a government in the canal zone by the United States.

"We have noted the slightest intimation of any establishment of a colony in the midst of the state of Panama, or of extending greater governmental functions than are necessary to enable conveniently and safely to construct, maintain and operate the canal under the rights given us by the treaty.

"After a conference with the secretary of state and myself I have concluded that it will be of great advantage if you can visit the isthmus of Panama in person and hold a conference with the president and other governmental authorities of the republic.

WOULD LIKE TO VOTE.

Italian Catholics Make Strong Plea to the Pope.

Rome, Oct. 20.—Several bishops of Northern Italy, including Ferrarini, archbishop of Milan and a close friend of the pope, have petitioned the pontiff to consider whether the moment has not arrived when Catholics should participate in the general elections.

Accorded to the Vatican, while they have been members of churches and they believe that if the Catholics are allowed to vote, if not for real clerical candidates, at least for Conservatives, it would ensure the presence in the chamber of deputies of a strong party capable of preventing the passage of bills aimed against religion. The pope has not yet given a decision, but has asked for the opinion of the most authoritative cardinals.

RUMOR IS DISCREDITED.

Curand Life Steamer Reported Lost in Atlantic.

London, Oct. 20.—At the office here of the Cunard Steamship company, the rumor published in America that the steamer Slavonia had sunk in a storm off the Spanish coast is entirely discredited.

The Slavonia, it is pointed out, passed Gibraltar Oct. 11 and the officers are at present in the neighborhood of the Straits of Gibraltar. The vessel is due in New York Oct. 22.

Orosco, Mich., Oct. 18.—High comedy with a farcical climax was played by Hiram Lamborn, a pianist, who, after a quarrel with his piano wife, threatened to kill himself.

She seemed innocently bringing up all his cash and publishing the list of bank and personal belongings from the farm under guard of a deputy and show that time every week had seen some new step in the courtship.

No Better Section.
The Upper Peninsula of Michigan offers exceptional opportunities to the man with limited means. There are thousands of "open" lands that can be bought at almost your own price. The great lumber companies have denuded the forest of the best timber and are now seeking other locations. This leaves the hands of the settler and homeseeker. This "stump land" presents an unexplored opportunity to the settler, homeseeker and man who is accustomed to raise farm crops. But the settler is easily wrong. Modern inventions have made it comparatively easy to pull out a stump. And the land is excellent for vegetable raising. It can be grown, and also, for hay, and some grain, and also, for the homeseeker with limited means than northern Michigan.—Live Stock World.

MANISQUE VS. THE SOO

High School Foot Ball Teams Will Meet on Brady Field.
The Manistique high school foot ball team, which defeated the Gladstone team one week ago, will come to the Soo Saturday for a game with the local high school. This will be the first game in the championship series, all games played up to this date being merely practice games.
The team losing in this game will drop out of the contest, and the winners of the several games to be played in the upper peninsula towards today will meet next week.
The Manistique team, which was defeated by the Soo team two weeks ago, was again defeated in a practice game with Calumet last Saturday, and notice is now sent out to the effect that Marquette has withdrawn from the championship series. This will create some confusion as Marquette was to play Escanaba, and that team is left out in the cold for the first game of the series. Escanaba won the upper peninsula championship last year and is still regarded as one of the strongest teams in this part of the state.
Saturday's game with Manistique will be played at Brady field at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon. The Manistique team will be accompanied by a large number of rooters from that city, and it is expected the contest will be an exciting one.—Soo News.

MODEL ROOT CELLAR

Being Erected by Henry Schuettner For Storing Vegetables.
Henry Schuettner is building a model root cellar on his farm at the lake shore east of town. The inside diameter of same is 16x12 feet. The double walls are of solid masonry, each fourteen inches thick with a four inch air space between. There will also be air chambers between the ceilings and under the floors. He will be enabled hereafter to carry a large supply of vegetables for the winter market in the best possible condition.
T. H. G. clearly demonstrated this year that he can raise celery superior to that shipped here from Kalamazoo or Newberry and although he had a large acreage his supply will not be exhausted by the holidays. He contemplates increasing his acreage next year, and no doubt will in the future be able to supply the local demand. He also has 5,000 cabbage seedlings, also a large quantity of potatoes.
Several years ago his land was a swamp and deemed practically worthless for any purpose. He saw the possibility of the rich black muck for raising vegetables and set to work to clear same and prepare it for cultivation. The broad acres of growing vegetation, the quality of the soil, and the growth elsewhere, are tangible proofs that Mr. Schuettner made no mistake when he purchased his land, and utilized it for market gardening. What he has done can no doubt be duplicated by many others as there are many cedar swamps in close proximity to the town.
With increased acreage sufficient vegetable crops could be raised here to supply the local demand.
Saler in Manistique.
If you really must quit this fall, go to Manistique and enlist with either the Japs or Russians. You will be safer there than in the woods of the upper peninsula, judging from the number of pre-season accidents reported.

CHLOROFORM THE DEER

Supervisor Smith Says the Animals have been Slaughtered in Great Numbers.

Supervisor Sidney D. Smith of Trout Lake, otherwise known in Chipewyan country as 'Chitah' or 'Chitah Jim', has reported to State Game and Fish Warden Charles H. Chapman that a terrible slaughter of deer is being done in his part of the country. Smith claims that the work is done by Philanders, who have adopted a novel method of trapping up the animals.

According to the information laid before the game warden these people go out at night and saturate a number of tarps with oil of tar. During the night the deer come to the tarps and partake of the tarps, and in the morning are found sleeping peacefully on the ground. It is the easiest thing in the world to kill the animals after they have become tarped.

The warden says that the veritable station from the wilds of Trout Lake has come to town with stores of venison and mounds of proceedings and game warden is yet in doubt as to whether the venerable Mr. Smith is throwing out talk at him or is serious. It is probable that the tarps patches of that part of the country will be raised anyway.

As a result of the innovation Mr. Smith claims the sale of venison has fallen off and there is no demand for animal tallow. Hardware stores have been given a sharp pinch blow by the wily Finns.

INDOOR BASE BALL TEAM

Was organized for the Season of 1904-5 last Saturday.

A meeting of the Indoor Base Ball team of the city was held last Saturday evening at which time the officers for the coming season were elected as follows:

Manager, Beng Gien.
Sec'y and Treas., Wm. S. Crowe.

Various committees were appointed and plans for the season fully discussed.

An effort will be made to secure the services of the best players in the city. These gentlemen when here last winter expressed their willingness to spend the coming season in Manistique provided they would be given steady employment.

AS THE DELTA SAW IT

Says Philpenny and Adkins Were Manistique's Star Players.

A well-contested game here last Saturday, Manistique defeated Gladstone by a score of 10 to 5. Until the last moment it was nobody's game. Both teams had acquitted themselves well. In the first half each team scored a touchdown with the greatest of difficulty. Through the entire second half the teams swapped back and forth for forty yards, first one holding the ball and then the other. By a terrific end run of fifty-five yards Philpenny of Manistique reached Gladstone's goal line three minutes before time was called.

Among the Manistique players Philpenny and Adkins distinguished themselves, the former making two star plays of the game. Fred Baker, Manistique's big full back, plunged repeatedly into Gladstone's line with success. In the first half, Philpenny broke loose on a five run, but was tackled by Goldman and brought down, after making 30 yards.

The greatest goal yet scored by Gladstone will go to Manistique on the sixth and is proceeding allegorically. The game receipts were about $13.00, and owing to the difficulty of making rail road connections, the expenses of the visiting team were about $20. The Manistique team therefore failed to make any large sum on the game. A dance was given for the boys that night—Gladstone Delta.

The Clothes of To-Day

"The Clothes of To-Day" the title of an artistic pamphlet published by B. Kuppenheimer & Co. treating on Ready-to-Wear Clothes of to-day and why you should wear them if they are of the right sort—get a copy—read it and be convinced that TO-DAY there is only one sane reason why a man should have his clothes made to measure, namely the presence of some physical deformity or irregularity positively demanding individual treatment. People who permit prejudices to rule them are stubborn even in the face of evidence. This class will probably not be swayed by any argument that may be presented in the above mentioned pamphlet. But the great masses—that is, the intelligent people—will always be moved by demonstrations which are so accurate as to preclude the possibility of doubt. Visit our store and see the best collection of men's clothes ever shown in Manistique. We can surely suit you.
