OFFICIAL COUNTY AND CITY PAPER.

FRIDAY, JULY 20, 1906.

Attorney Flannagan of Norway, who is one of the best known attorneys of the peninsula is being urged by his friends to make an effort to secure the appointment of U. S. district judge to succeed the late Judge Wanty. His appointment would certainly be a credit to the peninsula.

Out in Kansas they're kicking because gasoline is retailed at fifteen cents per gallon. The retail price in Manistique exceeds twenty cents a gallon and the dealers are selling the stuff very close too. There is opposition to the Standard Oil Co. in the former state and the upper peninsula of Michigan is called upon to recount the losses elsewhere.

The successor to Judge Wanty will no doubt be selected from the lower peninsula. The upper peninsula has a number of attorneys competent to fill the position. Either Judge Steere, R. C. Flannagan or Judge Stone would be amply qualified to fill the void, but as Senator Burrows virtually makes the appointment some attorney in the vicinity of Grand Rapids will secure the plum.

For innate hypocrisy nothing equals the assertions of some of the politicians that are striving for the U. S. senatorship, when they claim they are for the election of senators by direct vote. One at least of the men making the assertion above mentioned, may be the next senator from Michigan but he will never get those by the direct voting method were he to live a thousand years.

NO ANSWER NEEDED.

Maurice Latta is the son of a comparatively poor hard working Kansas farmer who gave him the best education possible under the circumstances but left him no wealth. He is now assistant private secretary to the president of the United States. Harry Thaw is the son of a Pittsburgh millinaire who gave him the best education money could obtain and when he, the father, died left him a fortune of millions. Today Thaw is in jail for murder committed because of a miserable woman scandal. Which would you rather be.

WOULD DO RIGHT THING.

Over at the Soo they are cutting down shade trees to facilitate the correct laying of cement walks. One of its progressive citizens said concerning this practice:

"If I owned a beautiful shade tree and some wise guy came along and wanted to cut down that tree in order to level the labor and trouble of laying a cement walk, I'd sit under the shade of that tree with a shotgun across my lap and supervise the laying of that sidewalk."

It costs too much to rear shade trees in the average upper peninsula town for the average resident to look cheerful when the trees are sacrificed.

NEVER FOR BRYAN.

The Bryan boomers who invited President Roosevelt to preside at the big meeting in New York which they have planned as a political reception to their favorite have found that they imagined a vain thing. They know now that they cannot get Theodore Roosevelt to the Bryan kits. They will not be able to make the country believe that the two men stand on common ground in politics, or that the president is ready to welcome Bryan as his successor.

Nothing is more certain than that Theodore Roosevelt will be in the thick of the fight against Bryan and Bryanism in 1908. He may not take the stump. He may not write many letters. That will not be necessary. But the president will make every man in America who keeps posted on the news of the day entirely clear as to his position regarding Bryan and the things for which Bryan stands.

It is true that Roosevelt and Bryan have much in common. It is certain that the president has more respect and liking for the Nebraska man than for many other prominent democrats. The two men touch at, bows as soldiers' marching toward the same end, in the warfare upon lawbreakers who have presumed upon their strength and wealth. But their beliefs differ radically as to great party principles.

Roosevelt is a protectionist, with marked leanings toward tariff revision. Bryan is a free trader modified only by political prudence. Roosevelt shares Hamilton's belief in a centralized national government. Bryan is of the Jefferson school as to theoretical, if not practical, local self government and a large measure of state's rights. Bryan still refuses to give up so-called bimetalism. Roosevelt never had any taint of the free silver heresy.

The new naturalization laws certainly are a step in the right direction. Before citizenship papers shall be issued the applicant must be able to write his name and speak the English language, answering in English all questions that may be put to him. It has been too easy in the past to receive citizenship papers, and by compelling the applicant to learn the English language he will more thoroughly understand the oaths he is obliged to take.

The voters of Schoolcraft county will have an opportunity of voting on the proposition to bond the county in the sum of $12,000 for the erection of a poor house. The condition of the old building makes it imperative that something shall be done, and if anyone is opposed to the proposition he should inspect the old rookery at present used and mind the minutes thus spent will make him an ardent supporter of the proposed bond issue.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

No one but a humorist would designate a fuzzy to function as a judge, and indeed, a fuzzy is a strange creature indeed.

The late appointment of a judge to succeed the late Judge Wanty is a matter of some interest. The man who is to succeed him is being urged by his friends to make an effort to secure the appointment of U. S. district judge to succeed the late Judge Wanty. His appointment would certainly be a credit to the peninsula.

Ward wants to be the mayor of Manistique so badly that he has resigned the post against Collier and has instructed his secretary to proceed in any manner that will secure his appointment. He will do anything to get the job.

There is a well known rumor that F. L. Robinson of the Manistique, who is now in the city, is to be appointed to the position of U. S. district judge to succeed the late Judge Wanty. His appointment would certainly be a credit to the peninsula.

Most Claims Often Carry the Most Conviction.

When Maxin, the famous gun inventor, placed his gun before a committee of judges, he stated its carrying power to be much below what he felt sure they could accomplish. The result of the trial was therefore a great surprise, instead of disappointment. It is the same with the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. They do not publicly boast of its power to accomplish, but prefer to let the users make the statements. What they do claim, is that it will positively cure diarrhoea dysentery, pain in the stomach and bowels and has never been known to fail. For sale by A. S. PUTNAM & CO. LAKESIDE & NEVILLE.

Asthma Sufferers Should Know This.

Foley's Honey and Tar was recommended and one fifty cent bottle entirely cured me of asthma which had been growing on me for twelve years. If I had taken it at the start I would have been saved years of suffering. E. N. Ose & Co."
