SHOT BY SHERIFF'S POSSE

Wholesale Jail Delivery Tuesday Evening. Van-lier Killed, Casemore Recaptured and Van Anken Still at Large.

SHOOTING OCCURRED WEDNESDAY EVENING

Casemore Captured Yesterday Morning and VanAnken Is Surrounded in a Swamp Near Bulldog River.

A successful jail delivery, the subsequent killing of one of the desperadoes by the officers in pursuit, and the recapture of one of the others, has certainly furnished no lack of excitement this week.

As the result of the strenuous efforts of the officers, James Vallier, the horse thief, was shot dead at Johnson's morgue, while Joe Casemore is again occupying his old cell in the jail, and "Count" Van Anken is in the swamp along the Bulldog river with a big posse at his heels and his recapture certain as he is without a food supply.

Three prisoners awaiting trial at the county term of the circuit court, effected their escape from the county jail at an early hour Tuesday evening by sawing off two locks fastening a small door leading from the cell room to the corridor. The trio consisted of H. A. Van Anken the forger, Vallier the horse thief and Joe Casemore, charged with attempting to kill great bully barn boss Tom the crane of murder.

Russell, of Whitelake charged with arson was also in the cell room but refused to avail himself of the opportunity afforded for making his escape.

About 8:35 p. m. Turnkey Hannais went to the east door leading from the sheriff's office to the cell room and told the prisoners to get into their cells as it was time to lock them up. Shortly thereafter he heard the various cell doors to make an alarm and emphasized his threats by saying: "If I don't get out of that hole tonight I will fill you full of lead."

At the critical moment the trio entered the corridor, Vallier and Casemore passed through first and Van Anken brought up the rear. They had previously jibed their clothing on the floor near the trap door. Vallier carried the leg of a chair in order to kill any person that would oppose their escape. The latter weapon was found on the lawn near the jail the following morning.

Russell quickly informed Hannais of the escape.

In going out they put the telephone out of commission by pulling out the wires and thereby gained some time as Mr. Hannais was compelled to go down town to secure the aid of Under Sheriff Orr and other officers.

The officers surmised correctly that the trio would probably attempt to gain their freedom by covering the route taken by Vallier when he reached St. Ignace via the beach near the swamp.

The deputy sheriff at Whitelake was promptly notified and Under Sheriff Orr and LeDuc took up and developed the clues that finally resulted in the return of the beach and on Wednesday evening came upon them at a point east of the road leading from Whitelake to St. Ignace light house. Officers Orr and McGregor, and Fred Hickey of Whitelake, who had been asked by the officers to accompany them, comprised the party.

When they found them it was about 8 o'clock and quite dark. The prisoners attempted to escape and did not heed the officers' summons to halt. A number of shots were fired at the fleeing men and Vallier fell struck in the back by a bullet, some entered his back below the shoulder blade and passed through his heart. The remains were brought to Manistique by Under Sheriff Orr and taken to Johnson's morgue.

Coroner Johnson arrived from Milwaukee this morning and will organize a jury as soon as the officers return.

After the killing of Vallier, the other officers returned to Whitelake and yesterday morning returned to the scene. They found Casemore peacefully sleeping where he had fallen the previous evening, took him to Whitelake and placed him in the custody of Milo Kottbich who brought him to Manistique. Casemore gives an interesting account of his wanderings since the delivery. He says that Vallier was the leader, that he sawed off the locks and made all the plans. He intended to break out Sunday when the harbor should call to chase Van Anken but the time proved inopportune.

When they left the jail Tuesday evening they went east between the building and the court house and passed to the left of the Richardson residence skirting the driving path they soon reached the swamp in the vicinity of Fred Merwin's house, and worked their way through the heavy woods they reached the lake shore. They were handicapped in making good on account of the fact that Van Anken could not stand physical exertion and for that reason they covered less than twenty miles during the twenty-four hours they were out.

Casemore thinks that Vallier knowing that Van Anken had money, had planned to kill the "Count" as well as Casemore and with the money thus secured make a dash for liberty. He was so impressed with the idea that he never slept while Van Anken was asleep, neither would he walk ahead of Vallier in their wanderings.

He says that they saw Will LeDuc who was wearing a white sweater, on Wednesday noon. He was about forty rods away, but they mistook the sweater for a piece of detached birch bark and were really unaware of the nearness of the officers.

When they were surprised by the officers they made strenuous efforts to escape. Casemore and Vallier were running in the same direction and an instant before Vallier was killed Casemore struck an obstruction and fell. Had he remained on his feet the bullet would have killed him. McGregor, in his haste, virtually ran over Casemore and stepped on his hand. Casemore then halted and claims he did not know that Vallier had been killed and did not hear the officers' loud hailer away although he accepted the following morning that he and Vallier were not twenty feet apart at the time.

It did not see Van Anken after the shots were fired, but the officers found the place where he had laid down to rest the following morning.

The party subsisted on berries, and a recent lunch they had saved from their supper Tuesday evening Vallier claimed that he had successfully broken out of seven jails during his life time.

The unfortunate man certainly had been leading a strenuous life of late. He stole a horse, buggy and harness at Thompson, also robbed Fred Miller's saloon on July 31st, and set the officers a merry chase in his attempt to get away. He drove the horse to St. Ignace, where, eluded the officers there and played a few more games with the officers in various resorts continuing to the Straitsville of Mackinac, for a week.

Sheriff Kinsdale captured him at Charlevoix and upon his return here he was placed under bonds of $100 for his appearance in the September term of court.

Effecting his escape last Tuesday evening he undertook to hold his fellow criminals over the same route he took when he escaped with the horse in July. In this he made a fatal mistake. The officers correctly judged that he might do this and later developments and the tragic finale of Wednesday evening are the proofs that their deductions were correct.

His mother, Mrs. Bedonia of Naiman, and his father who lives at Gell Bay, were notified of his death.

He had served a term in the penitentiary prior to his escapades in this county and was deemed a very unsafe man by his acquaintances.

While the taking of a human life is a horrible thing to contemplate, yet the officers cannot be justly censured for their work Wednesday evening. They gave him fair warning and his refusal to surrender and his attempt to continue his flight justified the officers in shooting him.

ON SERIOUS CHARGE: 5. Russell Charged With Attempting to Set Fire to a House at Whitelake. 8. Russell of Whitelake, has been arrested on the charge of setting fire to a house in Whitelake, occupied by William Hopson. The fire started at about 12:30 o'clock last Friday morning and a liberal quantity of kerosene had been thrown against the house to facilitate the job. The fire was extinguished before much damage was done.

William Rogers who watched the residence the remainder of the night strongly incriminated Russell in his testimony before Justice Knox Tuesday.

He states that Russell admitted to him later in the morning that he had set fire to the house and that he would repeat the job the following night and hoped to be more successful.

The hearing was continued to Wednesday next week and in the meantime Mr. Russell in the jail.

Walter Robinson, former resident of this city, now residing at Endicott, Hanson county, North Dakota, spent a few days here recently visiting his parents and renewing old acquaintances. He is an engineer on the Soo Line and like most progressive young men of the West is already the possessor of half a section of land, of which 120 acres is in wheat. He is very much impressed with the West and says anyone visiting the country cannot help being enthused. In his description of the country prospects are brilliant. Now as in the past the crops are very successful everywhere in a prosperous condition. Speaking of the advantages for investors, he states that the favorable conditions under which land can be acquired, the easy methods of farming, the large crop yields the first year which almost pays for the land and the steadily increasing land values, makes a most favorable inducement for an investor. He notes many changes in the people and progress of this locality.

IN THE NORTH COUNTRY

A Tourist from Van Wert, Ohio, Writes of This Section.

One of the guests of Dickson's resort near Uao, writes: "Van Wert, Ohio newspapers as follows concerning this section:

Uao, Delta Co. Mich Aug 13. Dear Times: Leaving Manistique, a ride of twenty miles brings us to Steuba, our getting off place. There is one house there and it serves for hotel, postoffice and general store. At this point the Indian river is dammed and the going of man is constantly lifting up, by powerful machinery and acres of place logs and loading them on cars. Night cars are loaded daily. Our man from Uao was waiting here with teams and was our "dammer" was tumbled and the train it looked as if a circus had come to town. As it was nearing midday and there was fourteen miles of rugged road before us we asked the landings how it would about dinner. He said we could have the dinner all right but we would have to wait until he had set up his regular board, as he believed Van Wert men who worked at head labor, "killed" out before our arrival was by the sweat of other people's brows. We waited without sign.

During the hour of our "truck" was loaded on the way, and it laded the full capacity of the wagon and all the men. The driver laded three for himself took our best two and one can imagine how comfortable. We were sitting perched high above every one and no place to put our feet. Of course there is a limit to human endurance, but we were not so tired and only a little wearying and tiring and only all sorts of unprintable remarks—one by one—the pilgrims asked how to get off and walk. The one exception to this was Dr. Reid. It would be death for him to attempt to walk over the sandy roads and up the numerous hills, so he looked like a monument of grief. We had a good stout team and at five p.m. landed safely in the Haven of Rest. This old dignified log house standing on the shore of this gleaming lake and surrounded by numerous beds of sailing flowers, with climbing vines affectionately clustered over doorway and porch, offers us the warmest kind of welcome and we hasten to grasp the honest hand held out of the "good sugar" who presides over this peaceful home who will provide any and all of the good things we may require while under his peaceful roof. May she be spared for many moons to gladden the hearts and satisfy the stomachs of pilgrims as they come and go, for surely her ways are ways of pleasantness and all her paths are peace.

We spent the first Sunday in rest and quiet save for the necessary labor required in putting our house in order, taking a good needed bath, removing several days' growth of beard and getting our fishing tackle in shape for the campaign; for practically all the uses of civilized life this country is a dismal failure and all there are people attached to it as "Honey Sweet Home." There is an abundance of pure air and cool, spring water flows freely without money or price. When the sun begins to drop toward the golden west, the cold air at once asserts itself and when evening comes the house is rendered comfortable only by building a fire in the stove that never removed. From 9 a. m. to 3 p. m.

the sun is hot and then in the time of stroll in the dense unbroken woods rendered delicious by the cool sweet atmosphere that surrounds you every where and great towering maple trees rear their vast umbrella tops in the air mingling their branches with the airy rays of the scorching sun. The pleasing odor of pine and balsam and moist earth, compounded in this vast laboratory of nature invites you to sit down close to the heart of things and partake to a lavish feast to be found only in such a place as this, and the boys are eating shamefully—they just can't help it, for the dear old yankee mother that prepares our meals is an artist in made to sell like some we get in Van Wert, are delicious beyond compare. On the table are many delicacies, but they are all left sight of in the mud scum for hot cakes.

Summer Diarrhoea in Children. During the hot weather of the summer months the first immaturity of a child's bowels should have immediate attention, so as to check the disease before it becomes serious. All that is necessary is a few doses of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, followed by a dose of castor oil to cleanse the system. Rev. M. O. Stockland, pastor of the First M. E. church, Little Falls, Minn., writes: "We have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for several years and find it a very valuable remedy, especially for summer diarrhoea in children." Sold by A. S. FURNAM & Co. and LeBar & Nettelle.

Cured Hay Fever and Summer Cold. A. J. Napsman, Batesville, Indiana, writes: "Last year I suffered for three months with a summer cold so distressing that it interfered with my business. I had many of the symptoms of hay fever, my eyes, and I took several medicines. Fortunately I insisted upon having Foley's Honey and Tar and it quickly cured me. My wife has since used Foley's Honey and Tar with the same success." E. N. Orr & Co.

BENSON ROASTS MICHIGAN Former Herald Newspaper Man Scores State For Wasting Precious Forests. "A State Going to Waste" is the striking title of an article by Allan L. Benson in Appleton's Magazine. "And the state to which Mr. Benson refers is Michigan. His policy with respect to the reclamation of lands now covered by forests is the basis for Mr. Benson's article which is a most scathing one. He criticizes severely the policy of the state in trying to sell for agricultural purposes land he believes is worth nothing except for the raising of trees. He advocates vigorously an enlightened policy of reforestation and says that in 30 years the state's income from such an effort would pay its taxes. Reference is made to an experiment being made in Isoco county by Carl E. Schmidt, of Detroit, a close friend of the late Governor Proctor, who bought 5,000 acres of very poor land in 1904. Mr. Benson adds: "He got out 15,000 white pine, 5,000 oaks, 5,000 California poplars, 1,000 Lombardy poplars, and 1,000

apple trees. That was two years ago. Of the 15,000 white pines, 10 percent died and are now growing, while practically all of the other trees are growing. "Now having tested and proved what can be done, this pioneer has next to induce the state to adopt a similar plan to accomplish similar results on a larger scale. Mr. Schmidt intends to go before the legislature and ask that the state cease to offer its lands for sale, and that the $100,000 a year now being wasted for advertising and clerk hire be expended to fight forest fires and to plant trees on tracts that have been burnt over so often that trees will no longer seed themselves in the soil. And he will also endeavor to show that if the state will take care of its forests for 55 years its annual receipts for timber will be great enough to equal the sum now paid for state taxes, besides establishing a perpetual source of great income."

Stomach Troubles and Constipation. So one can reasonably hope for good digestion when the bowels are chronically constipated. Mr. Chas. Ballou, of Edwardsville, Ill., says, "I suffered from chronic constipation and stomach troubles for several years, but thanks to Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, am now cured." Why not get a package of these tablets and get well and stay well? Price 25 cents. For sale by A. S. FURNAM & CO., LeBar & Nettelle.

Wm. C. Bronson has always been a Republican. His opponent prior to becoming a resident of Manistique was a Democrat, and while he makes loud protestations of innocence, now it is an undisputed fact that he was secretary of the many county Republican county convention four years ago and has been since that time active-year ago pro-vice.

Mr. Bronson is qualified to fill the position. He has a good business education, is a good accountant, is accommodating and possesses every qualification necessary in the composition of a successful office holder. His competitor holds that "any candidate seeking an office should be fully qualified and capable to attend to the duties of the office, which he seeks." Mr. Bronson fills the measure set forth by said competitor, and will personally attend to the duties of the office in case of election. Said competitor does not expect to give the office his personal attention in case of re-election, as he promises to give the same attention in the future as he has in the past. When you go to the polls next Tuesday, will not vote for a man that is a tax payer; that has had a reputation for fair dealing during a residence of more than twenty years in this county; that is a Republican and that will personally attend to the duties of the office in case of election. If you would rather support a man, than a non tax payer, an ex-Democrat, a rump, and one that would not attend to the duties of the office, why then you will vote for Mr. Bronson. A. E. B. P.

To the Voters of Schoolcraft County:

You are perhaps aware of the fact that the Republican primaries will be held Tuesday, Sept. 4th and that at that time the candidates for the various county offices shall be elected. Mr. Bronson, who is a candidate for the nomination of treasurer, deserves the vote of every Republican in the county. He pledges himself to personally attend to the duties of said office, to conduct the office as has been done during the past two years. The office is one of the best paying ones within the gift of the people to bestow and the man honored by being selected for same certainly is increased to his trust and duty when he is identified with the duties of the lawful and regular constituted Republican county convention four years ago and has been since that time active-year ago pro-vice.

THE COLUSSUS OF HITLERS

The newspaper and magazine readers are aware of the intense stir the production of "The Belle of Japan" caused in the theatrical circles of the East since its initial production. Everywhere it met with the greatest success, packed houses greeting the performance in every city in which it has been presented. The press universally pronounced it to be the colossus of all time. Miss Beatie Clifton who, beside the excellent cast, will appear as "Titi" the Belle of Japan, and as "Gloria Swift" an American girl, and will during the action of the comedy introduce with other members, many singing and dancing numbers. The costumes are said to be beautiful, and the scenery especially attractive and realistic and made up from sketches of K. T. Tapan, the famous Japanese artist, and shows an interior of a Japanese home; an Artist's Studio, and also the famous Public Tea Gardens at Yokohama. This attraction will be at opera house Sept. 7.
