AN IMPORTANT DEAL

Manistique Telephone Co. will connect with Michigan State Telephone Co.

BECOMES ALLY OF LONG DISTANCE CO.

Local Company Will Connect Business of Long Distance Co. From Present Exchange

The Manistique Telephone Co., and the Michigan State Telephone Co., which is now building into the city have arrived at an understanding that will be very satisfactory to the companies as well as the general public. The long distance company will string its wires from the 8th line to the local exchange on the poles of the local company and the business of the new company will be transacted at the local exchange.

Most of the phones now in use in this city are of the long distance work, and the average citizen will be able to converse with citizens in the hundreds of cities and towns reached by the Michigan State without leaving his home or office.

Speaking of the deal the Michigan State Gazette of Detroit says:

It is one of the most important Sub-Licenses made this year, the Manistique Telephone Company and its connections in Schoolcraft County will connect with the Michigan State Telephone Company exclusively.

This Company operates an exchange of 230 telephones in the city of Manistique at rates of $36 and $34 for household line service, and controls, by contract, a number of towns in Schoolcraft County, which are connected by toll lines with the central exchange. These connections include a lease line to the village of Shingleton on the D. S. S. A. & A. N. R. and lines to the villages of Coale and Indian City.

The stock of the Manistique Telephone Company is owned by the Chicago Lumbering Co. of Manistique, one of the most prosperous concerns in the upper peninsula.

Last spring, the severe diphtheria which swept the southern shore of the peninsula, nearly wiped out the Manistique exchange but in spite of the enormous loss involved, the Company has rebuilt its exchange, making all lines metallic and strung a large amount of cable.

The officers of the Company are M. H. Quick, president, who is also general manager of the Lumber Co., and his son, Otto Quick, secretary and treasurer.

These works, the Michigan State commenced construction on a new toll road line from Escanaba to Trout Lake, Mich., which will pass through Manistique and with which the Manistique Telephone Company will have connection. During the present year this line will be completed to Blaney Junction and, but two copper circuits will be strung. Next year it will be completed and it is the Company's intention, at that time, to string additional circuits including a pair of No. 5 copper wires which will give the South Shore a much needed short cut to Southern Peninsula points.

This new line will be a boon to the large lumbering and quarry interests in that section as the telephone telegraph service has been very inadequate; not so in fact as it is at the 11th St. mail.

Mrs. Carl Olson died at her home on Maple Ave. Tuesday afternoon after a few days illness. She was stricken with apoplexy Monday and lingered in an unconscious condition until the following day at two o'clock.

The deceased was born near Kalbar, Sweden, sixty nine years ago, and with her husband who survives her, came to Manistique in 1888, where she has since resided since that time.

Aside from her husband she leaves four daughters and three sons, all residents of this city. They are Mesdames Emil Thompson, Chas. Gustafson, Chas. Gustafson and Chas. Thompson; Messrs. Chas. Carlson, John Carlson and Otto Carlson.

The funeral was held this afternoon from the house at 5 o'clock and later from the Swedish Lutheran church, Rev. Edlund of the Swedish Lutheran church officiated.

The deceased was a consistent and life long member of the Swedish Lutheran congregation and was highly esteemed by her acquaintances.

SMITH WAS POISONED

Post Mortem Examination Reveals Fact That A Deadly Poison Was Taken

AN AIR OF MYSTERY

Surrounds the Matter, Being in Effect Made to Show That Death Was Caused by Hanging.

An air of mystery surrounds the death of Archie Smith.

When the body was found last week almost nose made of shoe strings was found about his neck and said nose was fastened to a tree trunk by a leather strap.

An examination proves that death was not caused by strangulation but that poison was the means used. Numerous theories have been advanced but they can not be substantiated.

The fact remains however that while casual indications pointed to hanging the indications were not a hind.

Think Smith did not die by hanging himself and that death was caused by poison, was proven to the entire satisfaction of all by the post mortem held on the body last Friday by Drs. Sattler and Brown.

The stomach was sent to the An Arbor for analysis and up to this writing the report from the chemist has not been received.

The report made by the local doctors follows:

Subject very spare, scarcely any adipose tissue. The peritoneum and mesentery adjacent to stomach diseased.

No doubt due to an active gastritis. About one-half pint of fluid in stomach. Great part of stomach very thick. Blood vessels distended due to a violent congestion and inflammation. All the organs lying close to or adjacent to stomach were congested and diseased, especially the lower portion of left lobe of liver.

The diaphragm, mesentery and peritoneum, the descending and transverse colon, or bowel opening into stomach was diseased from twelve to fifteen inches. Owing to the fact that the subject was in such a bad condition, and since we were instructed to examine stomach, we did not extend our examination farther being convinced beyond a reasonable doubt that the contents is some deadly and penetrating poison, probably sufficient to cause death.

Will further state: We found no broken bones, nor external wounds. His mouth, greater part of face and throat, were much discolored, nearly black and black spots on his face anteriorly and posteriorly. Neck much discolored in

The Jury Finally Decides That Van Auker is Guilty of Scouring Agency Under False Pretences

LONG TIME TO ARRIVE AT VERDICT

Case Went to Jury Yesterday Noon and Decision Was Not Reached Until This Morning.

The jury in the case of the VanAuker case after deliberation on the case yesterday noon brought in a verdict of guilty at 10:20 o'clock this morning.

VanAuker, who was arrested in Chicago, claimed that he had been taught the art of "disappearance" by an Indian priestess, and the manner in which the jury deliberated on the first case against him, led one to believe that he carried a secret for a subtle feat.

The case went to the jury Thursday afternoon at two o'clock, and failed to arrive at a decision until 10:20 o'clock today. It is stated that the jury stood 11 to 1 for conviction.

The state put up an able case and conclusively proved his guilt but, notwithstanding this, it had to be shown that the jury would decide to disprove that he had done the evil work of a prisoner would not doubt have secured the forfeiture of character and false imprisonment, and would have awarded heavy damages.

The sheriff of Mackinac county testified in the fact that Van Auker attempted to escape when he began questioning him relative to his antecedents, and that he offered him $100 if he would allow him to escape.

An officer of the bank upon which he drew the fraudulent checks testified that he or his "young man" never had an account at his institution. Mr. Whitney of Grand Rapids Wis., testified how he had been financially out of $50 by the same methods he used here.

A stenographer of the same city testified to writing the letters that did the work here and that they were dictated by Van Auker.

The jail breaking episode in which he was a leading character also did not seem to injure his cause in the least.

The court granted final citizenship papers to about fifty persons during the first part of the week.

Joe Cassmore was given two alternatives, viz. to pay a fine and costs of $10, and leave the country permanently, or spend three months in jail. As he failed to raise the money within the time designated by the court he will serve the three months.

The case of Danton vs. Buscher was tried yesterday afternoon. The former secured a verdict of $75.00.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

Manistique will pay state taxes amounting to $1,500 this year.

Manistique received $40,000 of Michigan bonds and $50,000 of Federal bonds.

The button that a woman can't reach on the back of her waist is the one which drives her to matrimony.

"Hears come in bunches" in Alger county, and are in "the pink of condition" according to the Manistiquing News.

Postal card parties are becoming the fashion here. The invitations and score cards being on souvenir postal cards.

An awful thing has occurred at Rapid River. The ice supply is exhausted, and the correspondent to the Delta says that warm beer is now dished up to the inhabitants of that city.

Senator Foraker who managed to save his bacon at the recent state convention held in Ohio by making a combination with Dick and Cox an enemy of Roosevelt. The fact that Foraker is temporarily in the saddle does not prove that Ohio is opposed to Roosevelt. The latter would poll 100,000 more votes in the Buckeye state any time than Foraker could muster.

On a $10 appropriation, Schoolcraft county will receive $28,484.00 from the primary school fund in November or more than four times as much as the county paid in state tax last year. The appropriation may be $1,000 greater which would materially swell the amount.

Bryan's advocacy of government ownership of railroads made him all kinds of trouble and lost him a lot of support. It was a worse blunder than his free silver nonsense. If the government can't control railroads by legislation it certainly can't run and conduct them to advantage.

Bryan not only paid the expenses of himself and family and servants about the world, but he cleared $50,000 writing letters for a syndicate and won the plaudits of the wild-eyed Democracy on his way home. Now he will write a book and lecture and make a half million. Such is prosperity to a man who knows how to milk the herd.

The Monominee Herald Leader is now printed on a Duplex press and the paper has been increased to seven columns and otherwise improved. Bro. Andrews while one of the new factors in upper peninsula journalism, is rapidly forging to the front and is on the front row with the best of them. He's publishing a good paper in a live, progressive town.

Thomas J. Navin of Detroit, who had charge of McMillan's campaign in Wayne county and who allowed the fourth of the legislative candidates to get away from him and allowed the Hill-Townsend combination to name them, received a roast from the Detroit Journal last Friday. Navin is characterized by it as being a politician with out of date ideas and obsolete methods. While he might have had some ability to corral votes under the caucus and convention system he proved himself a helpless and inconsequential figure under the new direct nomination system in which the people are given a long awaited opportunity to indicate their perpetual repudiation. McMillan is an able business man, a good politician and highly honored and esteemed by thousands of friends in every portion of the state, but why he should tolerate such a man as Navin or allow his name to be linked with his is one of the mysteries that the men who know them both are unable to solve.

Speaking of spelling reform which do you prefer, pumpkin or punkin?

Standard claims that he is, mightily dubbed a bank swifter. He claims he took only $200,000.

If the typographical error are not too many, take it for granted that the editor is a devotee of spelling reform.

If you are not a POSTER OF THE subject you can secure same from date until January 1, 1907 for 25 cents.

When ever Uncle Joe Cannon made a speech they read every word of it, but it will contain a lot of good sense.

The convenient edition of the Cheltenham Edition which appeared last week was certainly very creditable to Editor Ramsey and the compiler.

The report comes from Edgewood that the non-companies have decided to support Gordon for the legislature in the Marquette district against all comers.

L. H. Van Tassel is the Republican candidate for circuit court commissioner of Lapeer county. He's qualified to hold any position without the gift of the party to bestow.

And now Sam Lemon, one of the most cunning politicians of the state has decided to enter the senatorial race and will attempt to wrest some of William Alden Smith's support from him. Both live at Grand Rapids.

The people that are jealous of the growth of the National Protective Legion are again criticizing its throwing bricks at it doesn't appear to stop its phenomenal growth for at no time in its history as it been as prosperous as it is at the present time.

The estimates made by the board of education and the city council for funds necessary during the coming year appear in detailed form in the council proceedings published elsewhere. The city will need $36,650.00 and the school board $23,732.00 a total of $60,382.00.

During the year ended June 30, 1906, according to a statement issued this week by the interstate commerce commission, an average of 20 people were killed a day and 238 injured a day on railroads in the United States. The total number killed during the year was 9,708, while the injured numbered 98,008.

What a newspaper is for, is to give the public a square deal, to insist that all men in public life shall do the same; and to render to the people in the way of true and honest service a full equivalent for all of the support which it is certain to receive if it follows that rule.

The board of education will no doubt have a big surplus as it is asking for about $19,000 to pay the salaries of teachers during the coming year, and the city's proportion of the primary and that will be apportioned in November is more than that amount. The money secured from the state can be used for no other purpose than that of paying salaries for teachers.

The Democrats have decided to put up a county ticket and a convention has been called for October 8th. A Democratic ticket will receive but very little consolation in Schoolcraft county this year.

The St. Ignace Enterprise intimates that there will be "aidings!" by Mackinac county republicans should Luce county ask anything at the representative convention "four years hence." Mackinac should remember that Luce could have had the plum this year had she wanted it hard enough to have swallowed the Manistique ramparts, without waiting four years for the honor. We don't know of any favorite son, however, who is particularly anxious to shine at Lansing even "four years hence," so don't count too much on your revenge, boys.—Newbury News.

WHAT UNCLE JOE CANNON SAYS.

"We have had ten years of uninterrupted prosperity under the management of the Republican party, but in spite of this there are here and there among our 85,000,000 of people kickers whose vanity leads them to believe they could manage things much better if they had the chance.

"They don't suggest any remedies, but they just kick and of course our friends the enemy give them encouragement and assistance. There are always kickers, but just now their numbers have increased and they are raising a great clamor.

Their intention seems to be to reform the whole earth at once and make it over different and since no one but the saints can tackle such a job there doesn't seem to be anything for a sensible, reasonable man to do but just leave them alone and let them kick.

They remind me of a mule you may have heard about. We used to have a mule," said the resourful speaker, "and when we used to put him in the log barn and gave him a full feed of oats, as soon as he had eaten the oats he'd begin to kick and bray. We had to come out and figure out whether he was braying because he was kicking or kicking because he was braying. But all we did was to keep out of the barn and let him kick and bray all he wanted to. That's all you can do with the kickers—let them alone. They are beyond reasoning with. This is a mighty important campaign for the Republican party and we've got enough to take up all our attention with things that are going to happen right now without bothering about things that can't be mended or with things that are going to happen two years from now."

POWER OF MIND.

Always a valuable asset to presence of character.

Presence of mind is always an asset. It is especially valuable in preventing danger such as springs from the presence of men intent upon murder. This was never better exemplified than when a gang of men set out to take the life of Juzzini. He got to hear of their project. All the precautions he took were to get only a store of very excellent cigars. The ruffians presently appeared, at his address. "Come in, gentlemen," he said and handed one. Taken aback at their reception, they seemed abashed and confused. "I know that you come to kill me," he said. "Why do you not proceed to your task?" This was too much for them. They immediately fled. "They could not kill the man whose cigars they were smoking and who invited them to carry out their task. Muttering some excuse for having interrupted his studies, they slunk out of the room and troubled him no more."

Each man has his own method of would be assassin. With Napoleon it was the eye which contained the danger. He was visiting the Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha one of the duke's retainers made up his mind to carry out the deed. He frequently heard the great man denominated as the Duke of Europe that he felt impelled to raise his dagger to the throat of the duke. The duke, accompanied by Napoleon, drove along while Napoleon passed. He put his finger to the trigger as the duke, accompanied by Napoleon, drove along. He aimed and Napoleon saw him. He said nothing, but simply fixed his single eye upon the youth. The latter seemed astonished. He felt the moment fall with a crash to the floor of the stone corridor. He felt, he said, as if he were being crushed. Napoleon took no further notice, said no word, passed on his way as if nothing had happened. That one looking glance had saved his life. He knew its effect and value.—St. James' Gazette.

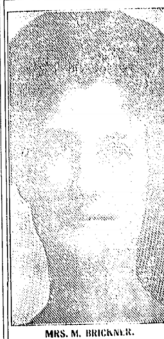

LANGUAGE EVOLUTION.

Use of the suffix "less" in verbs. Many will remember that some years ago there went on a violent controversy about the word "lessen." The dictionary had been made that "less" was a suffix which could properly be appended only to nouns; hence the form must be discarded and we must all take pains to say "uttering." The duty of so doing was pressed from scores of them to believe they could manage things much better if they had the chance.

Disquestionably in our earliest speech the suffix "less" when employed to form adjectives was only used with nouns. But the general sloughing of of nominal and verbal endings which was in vogue in the latter part of the 15th century, and the fact that a great proportion of substantives and verbs in the speech to precisely the same form. In consequence of the same, any distinct distinction between the two broke down in many ways—in one way in particular. There is nothing in our speech that to convert a verb into a noun or a noun into a verb. It is a process which has taken place at any time in the future, either at the will or the whim of the writer. —Thomas E. Lounsbury in Harvard Magazine.

LARGEST SINGLE LOAD

Ever Carried on The Great Lakes is Credited to Sir, Rogers

The steamer H. H. Rogers' cargo of over 15,000 tons of ore carried from Escanaba to South Chicago, has gone down into history as the largest single load that was ever transported on Lake Michigan. The actual record of the Rogers will be booked as 12,235 tons, and ore is reckoned in gross tons of 2,240 pounds.

It is only twenty five years since the first lake cargo of more than 1000 tons was hauled. The carrying capacity of the largest lake vessels has been multiplied five in a quarter of a century. The gain has been most rapid within the past five years. It is going on faster than ever before. The end no man can determine. Lake records surpass all ocean cargoes except a few carried by about a dozen ships. There are countries which have been famous for centuries on the salt sea which do not possess a single vessel capable of matching the load of the Henry H. Rogers. There is no battleship in the United States navy which weighs as much, fully equipped for service, as the Rogers and the cargo the lake steamer has carried. The Pacific ocean is the greatest of all bodies of water, but it has only two ships that ever beat the record made on Lake Michigan.

Such facts are in harmony with the astonishing difference between the tonnage of new vessels on the lakes and the new boats officially measured and registered on the coasts and rivers. In the first half of August eleven steam vessels were registered in the United States, of other waters than the lakes. The total

Section Crews Engaged in Ugly Fights at Shingleton.

At the junction of the D. S. S. & A. and the Manistique, Marquette & North-west railroads, at the outskirts of Shingleton, Alger county, on Thursday afternoon, two gangs of section men employed by the two roads engaged in a quarrel over some work at that point, and as result one man is seriously and perhaps fatally wounded. During the melee every sort of tool carried by this class of workmen was used, or their use attempted. A traveling man who reached Marquette Friday, and who witnessed the fight, says that it was a most desperate affray and that the section man who was seriously hurt had one entire side of his face laid wide open clear to the bone by a blow from a monkey-wrench in the hands of the boss of one of the gangs. The blow split the flesh at the nose, and cleaved it from the cheek bone almost to the ear. The man was taken to Manistig, and a local physician who was called to attend him at the depot is of the opinion that the fellow will die. One of the parties who engaged in the fight were hurt, some of them badly enough, but none of them seriously. It was learned yesterday afternoon that several arrests were made, including that of the boss who wielded the monkey-wrench. The latter will probably be held pending the outcome of the injuries of the man whom he attacked--Friday.

HUGHES RESORT.

An Ohio Man Speaks Highly of Abe's Place.
I stepped off the train at Steubenville expecting to find a town. Steubenville is not a town, it is a house. The house contains a P. O., store, boarding house and railroad station as one.
I half mile down the Italian river is the pull-up where a gang of men are engaged in "snaking" logs out of the river and loading them on flat cars for Manistig. The river is filled with logs for miles above the dam, and by the same token one of the best trout streams on the Upper Peninsula is spoiled until the logging is finished.
My destination was Abe Hughes' place, four Michigan miles from Steubenville, but I had not told him when to expect me. I found no one in "town" after dinner the crew of the pull-up and I planned to pull out, but fortunately a rig came in that was going near Mr. Hughes' and this took me on a four mile drive through beautiful timber and hauled me at Mr. Hughes' door.
Just in front of the house is the prettiest little lake on the Upper Peninsula and within a two miles radius there are two more all stocked with hungry game birds.
I have caught bass in all the lakes and three in succession whose combined weight was eleven and a half pounds the largest four of three quarters, not estimated, but weighed. There are fine trout streams within four or five miles, and Mr. Hughes has a team and camping outfit for those who want to go. For the first time I have had all the trout I could eat not once, but time and again.
Speaking of eating reminds me of the

On account of illness Rev. Hicks will not be able to hold services in St. Albans Episcopal chapel Sunday. Regular services will be held Sunday Oct. 7th. Attorney Wood certainly handled the Vanabuse side of the case in an able manner. The grant of his client was so apparent that he certainly could not have expected any other result. That the jury remained out for some hours is a compliment to the attorney.

New Irish Story.

A brand new Irish policeman was called up on the carpet for allowing a robbery on his beat. "Did you see this man last night?" inquired the chief. "Yes, I did," replied the Irishman. "I asked him what he was doing hanging around there and he said he expected to open a jewelry store in the neighborhood before long." "He did," replied the chief, "and a jeweler is shy 2000 worth of diamonds and watches." After considering the information awhile, the Irishman said, "Well, the man may be a thief, but he is no liar."

MRS. WELLES DEAD

Died at Her Home in Harbor Springs Last Sunday After Two Days Illness

And Was One of Our City's Best Highly Esteemed Ladies.

Mrs. J. W. Welles a former resident of this city died at her home at Harbor Springs Sunday after a very brief illness. The news of the demise comes in the nature of a shock to her many friends in this city and that she has been called home when in the hey-day of young womanhood, is genuinely regretted by hundreds here.

Mrs. Welles was in charge of the C. L. Co's grocery department for several years and later traveled for wholesale grocery houses in this territory making this city his headquarters.

About two years ago he engaged in business at Harbor Springs.

Speaking of her death this Detroit Evening News of Monday says: Susan C., wife of John C. Welles, died Sunday afternoon about 2:30, after an illness of only a few days with acute pneumonia. She was born at Greenfield, Oakland county, Mich., Nov. 5, 1871, and married Mr. Welles July 31, 1895. To this union there was born three little girls, who with their father, and the deceased mother and two brothers, survive.

The family came to Harbor Springs about two years ago and in the meantime the deceased had won the friendship and esteem of all by her loving Christian character and disposition. She was especially active in the work of the Presbyterian church, of which she was a devoted member and worker. During the recent season she has been acting as cashier in the store for her husband and his partner and on Tuesday, before taking to her bed she performed the regular household duties, although she was completely overcome and exhausted while doing the same. Her suffering was of short duration, death following her.

The remains were taken to Oriskany for interment leaving on this morning's train. The bereaved family have the sincere sympathy of the entire community, which also feels the loss of the good woman most keenly.

Olives-Andrews-Credit.

The Detroit Free Press gives Col. R. M. Andrews very much of the credit for the regeneration of Menominee and has the following to say of him:

A large part of the credit for the energy and enthusiasm infused into the movement for regeneration and growth of the Commercial club, the Detroit and Daily Herald-Leader. He has been newspaper man for a number of years. He was born in Connecticut some thirty-five years ago. He was educated for the law at Yale university, but early turned his attention to literature. For a time he was on the lecture platform and later took up journalism and returned to the west.

While declining public office on account of business reasons, Col. Andrews is recognized as one of the most prominent Republicans in northern Michigan. He is a public speaker of great ability and is one of the "strong men" in this part of the country. He is generally popular and is looked upon here as one of the rising men in Michigan.

S. M. STEPHENSON

Is Designated by Herald-Leader as One of the Best Known Men in Michigan

At the present time the Menominee Herald-Leader is publishing a series of daily articles of the prominent citizens of Menominee. The issue of last Friday contained the following interesting sketch of ex-Congressman Stephenson who is so well and favorably known here as follows:

Another of the big business men of Menominee, and the upper peninsula and as well as the rest of Michigan, Stephenson Mr. Stephenson is probably as well known as any man in Michigan and for many years has occupied a prominent place in both state and national affairs.

Samuel Merritt Stephenson was born in New Brunswick, Canada, in 1831, just over the international boundary, and when but six years of age, in 1837, was taken by his parents to Maine. He supported himself when but seven years old and worked in the woods of eastern Maine for 8 1/2 months when only ten years of age. When but 15 years old, in 1846, he went to Delta county, Mich., and for a number of years he was engaged in lumbering work upon streams tributary to the Bay de Noc and the northern end of Lake Michigan.

In 1850 he came to Menominee to stay and to work with Abner Kirby built the Stephenson & Kirby mill. This mill marked the beginning of the vast lumber trade carried on under the name of the Kirby-Carpenter company and which until a very few years ago, ranked as one of the leading manufacturing houses in the northwest.

While Mr. Stephenson branched his business activities upon timber and lumber he succeeded in 1856 to no longer be confined to that one field. He is president of the First National Bank of Menominee, which was established in 1855. In furtherance of the welfare of Menominee he erected in 1857 the large hotel which bears his name. He is a stockholder in the Light and traction company, and in the sugar factory. He has been identified with nearly every movement for the advancement of Menominee.

Mr. Stephenson was the first supervisor of Menominee township after its organization and was the first mayor of the city of Menominee. He was a presidential elector in 1850 and a delegate to the Republican national conventions of 1854 and 1858. During four successive terms he represented his district in the national congress.

Mr. Stephenson married in 1859 Miss Jane Harris, a native of Wales, the five children born to them, five daughters, Mrs. H. T. Burrows, Mrs. R. E. Jennings, Mrs. Nellie McCormick, Mrs. R. M. Woldeaman and Mrs. A. C. Wells, all of Menominee, survive.
