PER YEAR.

HE WAS A PIONEER

Judge Amner C. Rockwell Died After Short Illness Last Friday Evening

HIGHLY ESTEEMED BY ALL.

His untimely death severely regretted in the community. Amner C. Rockwell, probate judge of Schoolcraft county, died in his home in Ilwaco, Ore., last Friday evening at 5 o'clock after a short illness.

Several months ago a growth of cancerous nature was removed from one of his lips and since that time he appeared to go in and out of the hospital and to his home for about two weeks prior to death, the cause of which was a cerebral affection.

The deceased was born in Monteville, Pa., about sixty years ago, and had been a resident of this county for nearly a quarter of a century. He was in the employ of the Chicago Lumbering Co. for a number of years, and lost his left arm by an accident in one of the mills.

When the Soo Lino was built through this section he was connected with the construction department as its inspector. Later he conducted a news stand in the postoffice at the town of Hill. He was a senator and his office was located in the building now occupied by the fire department.

Handicapped as he was by the loss of his arm, he managed to fill his farm acreage and managed to make a living under conditions that would have discouraged the average man.

He was popular and had the respect and esteem of his neighbors. He had at various times been elected to positions of trust in Ilwaco township prior to his appointment and election as probate judge. He was a supervisor and served also clerk and treasurer of the board of education.

In November 1926 he was appointed by Governor Blease to fill the unexpired term of Probate Judge Van Tassel who had tendered his resignation owing to his removal from the county.

He was nominated and elected for a full term of four years in November 1928. In addition to his duties as judge he was County Treasurer Jewell's deputy.

That he was, by virtue of his official position, placed in improved conditions and with bright prospects for acquiring sufficient means to keep him in easy circumstances for many years which was a source of much gratification to his friends.

Mr. Rockwell was member of the lo-

Congressman H. O. Young, So Char acterized by the National Magazine

LOYAL TO CONSTITUENTS

And Their Interests. Hence His Right Acheat The Debauched Alcohol Bill

The National Magazine published at Boston has the following item concerning Congressman Young of this district in the United States.

It may not be highly original, but I find a great deal of pleasure in the summer months in looking up the various speeches made during the previous session. As I read them over, some of the incidents of the days when they were delivered come back, and it seems odd to get at the real meat of the matter.

The carefully prepared information to which various congressmen have often proved into speeches that soon form part of the great mass of public documents.

American always admire it a man who has the courage of his convictions, and H. O. Young of Michigan is certainly a man of that type. His striking personality, dark complexion, earnestness and energy epitomize the upper peninsula district which he represents, and he seems especially fitted to carry on the gallant fight against the wave of legislation which sweeps "iron alcohols" into a favored place in the deliberations of congress and made it law.

This was a serious matter for Mr. Young's district, where over 15,000 people were then supported by the wood alcohol and allied industries in which $20,000,000 of capital was invested. This product has added much to the wealth of the country during recent years.

The section of Michigan represented by Congressman Young includes large areas of timberland, much of which is fit for lumber, but the cost of lumbering and thus getting the product to the market could not be borne unless aided by some other manufacture. As the congressman said:

"The present age prospers on what the last age wasted. So the owners of these lands cut them clean. The pine and hemlock and maple timber that is fit to manufacture into lumber is manufactured. The cedar is made into railroad ties and telegraph poles and fence posts, and the water timber, the partly decayed, the top, the crooked pieces, and all that will not pay to make into lumber is cut into cordwood, and at the kilns converted into wood alcohol, charcoal and acetate of lime, and then the charcoal is

IMPORTANT MEETING

A County Road Institute Will Be Held In The City Nov. 3rd

HIGHWAY COMMISSIONERS TO BE PRESENT

Every one interested in good roads should attend.

Herbert N. Earle, state highway commissioner announced that a county road institute for Schoolcraft county will be held at Manistique Nov. 3, 1930, beginning at 10 o'clock in the morning.

Mr. Earle states that highway commissioners in attendance will receive their expenses and one day's pay. He asks everyone interested in the question of good roads to attend. The session will be held in the court house.

The question of good roads is one that should interest every citizen.

Thousands of dollars are wasted throughout the state every year in the correct methods of road building and maintenance, and the state certainly needs a more in the right direction when it established the state highway department and placed such a practical and competent man in charge as Mr. Earle.

The business men of Manistique should be interested in the good roads issue for many trails that now pass elsewhere would be diverted to Manistique were all portions of the county traversed by good roads leading in the county capital.

It is hoped that the business men as well as the farmers will attend the meeting in question.

CAUGHT IN A GEAR.

Arthur Payne Disabled by Coming in Contact With Mill Machinery.

Arthur Payne, employed in the C. L. Co.'s mill, lost the index finger and thumb of the left hand Tuesday night by accidentally getting caught in a gear.

He slipped while at work, and in an effort to save himself from falling he was so unfortunate as to meet with the accident.

The machine was stopped at once by fellow workmen, thus saving him from greater injury.

Card of Thanks. Mr. and Mrs. John Spang wish to express their heartfelt thanks to all their neighbors and neighbors for their kind sympathy and beautiful floral tributes during the illness and death of their oldest son, William.

MUCH ENCOURAGEMENT

The Manistique Mining Co. is Finding Rich Veins of Zinc.

The lead stockholders of the Manistique Mining Co. have received very encouraging news from their prospect in the lead and zinc belt of Wisconsin, recently.

At a depth of between sixty-two and seventy-three feet on their ledge the lense vein of disseminated ore eleven feet in depth was encountered, and that a five foot vein of a similar nature was found before the drill reached 100 feet.

Early this week a depth of fourteen feet very rich ore was found on another portion of the tract which the drillers stated was sufficiently rich to warrant the sinking of a shaft.

The samples of ore are being analyzed by Chemist J. P. Griffith of the Manistigon Iron Co., who is a stockholder in the mining company.

Work on the company's Platteville lense has been temporarily abandoned and work is being vigorously pushed on the ledge property.

DISGORGED UNDER PRESSURE.

Frank Hatley Admitted That He Stole A Check and Secured the Cash.

Sheffield Kingston received a telegram Wednesday from Steve Novik of Kalamazoo asking him to look out for a man named Frank Hatley. Having a description of the fellow the officers soon spotted him and telegraphed Novik that he was here.

They also asked for instructions. Getting no reply and not being vested with authority to detain him he was not arrested. However, the officers took him into custody.

He strenuously denied being the man wanted and said that he came from the Soo; also that his name was Fred Allen.

After the officers gave him the "third" degree he admitted taking $50 but said he did take a check for $18.40 belonging to Novik, and that he had secured the cash on the spot. This amount he turned over to the sheriff. He left for the west the same evening.

It has been decided that the penalties collected from the railroads belong to the primary school fund as well as the taxes, which adds $1,250,000 to the fund to be distributed.

Supervisor William Bonelas of Garden township, reports an apple from his orchard that weighs sixteen and one half ounces. Who says the upper peninsula is not a fruit country.

The Munsing News is authority for the statement the Lake Superior Agent, recently founded by Robert H. Wright at Munsing, has ceased publication and that Wright may try his fortunes at Marquette.

In the death of Probate Judge Rockwell the community of which he has been an integral part for nearly a quarter century sustained a distinct loss. He was a man of unimpeachable character and integrity and was universally esteemed by all and was a good man in every sense of the word.

The last for office must be something awful, for before the spirit of the late Judge Rockwell sped to his Maker last Friday evening several "pullers" were writing and telegraphing the governor, also friends at Detroit etc., in behalf of their candidates who were anxious to fill the vacancy.

Prominent temperance workers report that while drinking has decreased among men during the last few years it has increased proportionally among women. They are chagrined at the thought that their own sex has taken up with the habit just as their influence upon masculinity was beginning to be felt.

Over at Benton Harbor, Woodbridge N. Ferris said in a speech: "I admire Theodore Roosevelt. I don't care whether he stole Bryan's thunder or anyone else's thunder. I thank God he has the thunder." Guess who headed the ticket Mr. Ferris voted at the last presidential election.—Lansing Republican

We sometimes marvel at the anxiety of this man Bryan to be president of the United States. No man ever heard him say a complimentary word of the country whose destinies he would like to handle. He has never been satisfied with the United States. In 1896 he wanted us to be more like Mexico; now his worry because we do not do more as Germany does.

Even if the Democratic county ticket does not stand a ghost of a show of being elected Republicans should not rest on their oars but should wage an aggressive fight for the whole ticket. Every Republican should make it his business to vote on November 6th as it is highly necessary to get out a full vote for the basis of representation in future conventions will be the vote cast on the day in question.

The idea has gained circulation that Schoolcraft county does not have a game warden. This is not the case, for Mr. Joseph F. Hurt is serving as same by virtue of his appointment by the state warden, and has full authority to arrest violators of the law. He also has appointed deputies in various portions of the county to assist him and the fellows that think that they can violate the laws with impunity may bear something drop.

There are at least six mentioned for the appointment of probate judge to succeed the late Judge Rockwell. They are Attorneys Knox and Wood and Messrs Ashford, McKesson, War, Marter, Jennings and Mix. Rumor has it that there are two or three dark horses in the running also. Just who will land the honor is a matter of conjecture at present. The appointee will serve until the November election two years hence when a candidate will be elected.

Thousands of people who are annually regret the waste of money in buying the various brands of soap and toilet articles, and who are not satisfied with the quality of the goods they buy.

It is a well known fact that the quality of the goods is not the same as the price. It is a well known fact that the quality of the goods is not the same as the price.

The Michigan State Board of Education, in its report for November 1905, has advised the state board of education to purchase the goods of the highest quality and to pay for them as well as the highest quality goods. It should be understood in good words.

General A. D. Thompson, who is the state board of education, has advised the state board of education to purchase the goods of the highest quality and to pay for them as well as the highest quality goods. It should be understood in good words.

The sudden and much regretted demise of Judge Rockwell has developed a feeling of sympathy and interest all of whom have strong supporters and loyal friends. It was a $100,000 prize as the appointee will serve two years unless the governor of board of supervisors order a special election.

Edward Bok, editor of the Ladies' Home Journal, although very much in earnest in his Chosen Work, has a vein of dry wit. A woman lately wrote him, and said she had lost three husbands and had an offer of a fourth. "Shall I accept him?" she asked. Mr. Bok replied: "I should say you are too careless to be entrusted with the fourth."

Ispheming hopes to have the best ski slide in America for the tournament next February. The old Brasserie hill will be abandoned for the one immediately to the east. The length of the new hill will be 1000 feet while the old one was only 600 feet. The top of the new hill will be 172 feet above the level while the old one was only 132 feet.

There's trouble in the moon in Cupperdun also. William H. Hosking has decided to run against W. J. Galbraith for the legislature in Dist No. 1. He was unsuccessful at the convention but says he can defeat Galbraith at the polls. As the latter expected to be the next speaker of the House it would be too bad to disappoint him.

"I would like to see war declared against the sultan of Turkey," shouted Bishop McCabe, at the Michigan conference, "and I would like to participate in it!" It was Josh Billings who remarked that "any man kin whip a clephant when that ain't no elephants around." Bishop McCabe seems to be forgetful of his mission occasionally.—The Commover.

Those that resented "Poker Johnny's" activity in the Schoolcraft district this Autumn are more than pleased that he is due to get his politics. "29" November 6th. He is a corporation pimp as his efforts to defeat McCullum for the nomination proved. He loudly proclaimed that our fellow citizen should be defeated because the railroad corporations wanted the other fellow. Marquette county will do a commendable job if it drops its tin horn wetcher for good.

There are many ways of living and as many ways of dying. In northern Michigan a section hand gave up his life to save a train-load of passengers. He was not a philanthropist. He was not a "representative citizen." He was a laborer and he gave to humanity all that he had. In New York the will of "Al." Adams, the "policy king," who took his own life, was filed for probate. By taking the nickels and dimes of the very poor he had accumulated the vast fortune of $8,000,000. Not one penny of this was left to charity, to the people whom he had robbed. It goes to his family, who with the stigma of his name are poor indeed. In despair of winning that without which his wealth was worthless, the respect of his fellowmen, he killed himself. For the obscure life of the section hand who died a heroic death the world is surely a little better off. For the life of Adams who took bread-money and gathered his hoard from the mites of workingmen, widows and hungry children and then killed himself when he saw the fatality of his avarice, the world is surely a little worse off, not only in the suffering that is caused, but in the moral effect of the spectacle upon society. His was worse than a useless life, or as Burke says:

An unapplied sacrifice in a contemptible struggle.—Detroit Journal.

Marquette county politics is of a similar brand of strenuousness as that which is on tap in Schoolcraft county, judging from the legislative convention held last Monday. Gordon, the corporation candidate, while clearly in the minority, managed by some means to focus upon the part of the credentials committee, to secure a majority by the elimination of delegates pledged to his opponent, Button, whose seats were contested by Gordon. It seems strange that Gordon has the pull he seems to have, for the only thing of importance that he has done since he has represented his county in the legislature was to wench on a poker loss and used the courts to act for him as a collector. There is honor in all professions, including even the pastime of gambling. If you are foolish enough to gamble you should bear your losses or good fortune with the stoicism of the proverbial Indian, and not "wetch" when likefortunes smiles on the other fellow, at your expense. Why corporations should tie to a wetcher or man of similar plane is one of the idiosyncrasies of upper peninsula politics, that surprise the tenderfoot in politics, but is met with so frequently that in time surprise is succeeded by resignation and callous indifference.

The new pure food and drug law will make it a crime to label every cough cure containing opium, chloroform or any other stupefying or poisonous drug. But it passes Dr. Shoop's cough cure as made for 20 years, entirely free. Dr. Shoop at long last has bitterly opposed the use of all opiates or narcotics. Dr. Shoop's cough cure is absolutely safe even for the youngest babe—and it cures, and reliable cough cure by simply insisting on having Dr. Shoop's. Let the law be your protection. Doctors Said he Would Not Live.

For Fry, Woodruff, Pa., writes: "After doctoring for two years with the best physicians in 'Warrensburg' and still getting worse, the doctors advised me if I had any business to attend to I had better attend to it at once, as I could possibly not live one month as there was no cure for me. Foley's Kidney Cure was recommended to me by a friend, and I immediately sent my son to the store for it, and after taking three bottles I began to feel better and continued to improve until I was entirely well. MAORI HOSPITALITY.

Brethren Welcome Extended to a Party of Travelers.
A traveler in New Zealand tells of a native welcome. His party drove near to the central home of the tribe of Maoris. "As we rested beneath the parasols we were started by a horrible yell, and round the corner of the stockade appeared a ferocious figure, tattooed, red painted, befeathered and naked, except for a very brief waist fringe of dangling palm fiber. The entrance to the village was barred by a body of armed men, crouching like a death on one knee, each holding a gun, bent on the ground, barrel sloping toward us. We advanced until we were within twenty paces of the warriors. Then all at once, at a wild cry from a chief on the right, they jumped to their feet, leaped high in the air, with their feet clanked under them like deer and with one voice literally barked out a thundering chorus. This way and that our martial hosts bounded, brandishing their loaded rifles in time to the chant. Halting abruptly, with an earth shaking thud, they fired a volley of lead bullets over our heads. "Another volley reverberated from hill to hill and the bullets whistled over us. Then the beaver warriors fell back and a gayly dressed band of women, with green leaves wreathed about their brows and waving shawls and lanyards bough, advanced with a gliding steady dance and chanted their ancient war songs. When the women's song ceased out to the front danced six girls—a group of vividly barbaric yet not ferocious, color-splashed in loose crimson roundabouts and short gowns of gorgeously flowered print, their brows bound about with red handkerchiefs, which held in place the black and white plumes of the rare birds into the radiant feathers of the long and full tulle crown and the performer stopped, breathless and glowing all over with their self evolved emotions. Broad flat mats were spread out for us on the ground and after speeches of greeting we were regaled with pork, preserved hams, wild honey and potatoes, in quantity sufficient to have sustained a starving garrison."—Chicago News.

POWER OF CHEERFULNESS.

The Way One Druggist Lightens the Burden of His Customers.
A pale, weak girl entered a drugstore drug store the other day. The second almost to collapse. The proprietor assisted her into a chair and prepared a mild stimulant for her. The druggist's manner was so sympathetic that the little girl who confided in him, she sat up with her head and feet and he did not much longer to lie. "Heart disease?" inquired the druggist gently. "No, I have never felt like that before," she replied. "That's nothing, I don't worry myself about it." "I don't look like a man with a lead on his mind, do I?" "You probably think that you are liable to drop off any time. On the contrary, my doctor will tell you that the average person with heart disease generally lives to a good old age. The very cause of a sufferer from heart disease takes of himself or herself is calculated to lengthen the years indefinitely. You see, a man with a weak heart naturally is careful of himself a bit. He doesn't commit any excesses, never overdoes anything, lives in moderation and thus keeps his vitality unimpaired. That's all you have to do—just take care of yourself. What's the use of worrying?" The druggist's cheerfulness was infectious, the genial interest of his talk made the woman's upper lip tremble, and the girl soon began to look more hopeful and even smiling. After the druggist had evenly chatted with her awhile she rose and walked out of the store with a firm step. This druggist, though he would scorn the idea if suggested to him, is a benefactor to humanity. He is a believer in the power of cheerfulness, and the good that he does in his peculiar way is not easy to estimate. "Not a day passes that he does not impart his message of the cheerful life to some despairing individual. He makes all others' ailments his own and points out the uselessness of worry. A man will come in here and suffering, perhaps he confides to the druggist that he has kidney disease and fears his days are numbered. The druggist immediately informs him that there is no cause for alarm; he has had kidney trouble himself for, oh, so many years, and has no intention of dropping out. That druggist, in the course of a week, probably will acknowledge that he is afflicted with every ailment except housewife's knee. He makes every complainer feel better. He fairly radiates good cheer and optimism. It is his belief that half the sufferers in the world have complaints that might be efforts will overcome. But even when they have a real disease it is not always that a little cheerfulness doesn't help and that the mind is only aggravated by constant depression. It makes it his mission in life to drive away depression and turn the thoughts of people toward brighter things. His cheerfulness is a tonic that never fails to act.—New York Press.

THE HUMAN BRAIN.

Its Capacity to Receive the Impressions of a Lifetime.
Authorities differ as to the capacity of the average brain to receive the impressions of a lifetime. It is pretty well believed that there is in the brain a center of conservation distinct from the center of perception. We of course know nothing as to the nature of the relation of brain cells to precepts and observation, but we do know that there must be a relation. The researchers of Hammerberg and Thomson show that the number of cells in the brain is 8,500,000,000. All stimuli, external (through the five senses) or internal (through processes), must leave some trace upon these cells, chemical, physical or dynamic. These stimuli are composed of all sorts of precepts—words and sound heard; things and sensations; objects felt, tasted, smelled; thoughts pushing upward into consciousness. And a little reflection will show how innumerable such impressions must be in the course of a single waking day. Even without reading, the resident of a city must receive an innumerable amount of impressions upon his brain every twenty-four hours. The greater number of the brain occupies a comparatively small area in the back of the left hemisphere and consequently must possess a very small portion of the 8,500,000,000 cells referred to above. We can only guess at the number, but a fair estimate would be about a twentieth, or 425,000,000, which is a lifetime of sixty years would allow us about 25,000 cells a day for the perception and conservation of words and sensations read. These figures may have no scientific value, but at any rate they emphasize a very important fact, and that is that our brain capacity is limited and that we should be sparing of the cells we daily squander.—Dr. Frederick Peterson in Collier.

As Mark Twain Saw It.

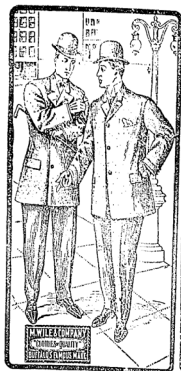

When Mark Twain was editor of the Virginia City Enterprise, back in the twenties, he used to brighten up the columns of the paper with colorful paragraphs setting forth the advantages of advertising. These paragraphs were based on all kinds of odd facts—on murders, crop reports, kidnapping, on the weather. One paragraph ran like this: "Germany has just discovered a buried forest in her midst, supposed to be 10,000 years old. If the man who left it had advertised in the Enterprise, the chances are that it would have been returned to him that night."

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.
There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because it is so insidious. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure, apoplexy are often the result of kidney trouble. It is allowed to continue, the kidneys will attack the vital organs, causing starting of the bladder, or the kidneys themselves bleed, lower and waste away cell by cell. Kidney troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmor's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy. It cures its inability to hold urine and the resulting pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful effect of the most distressing cases. Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, without cost by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmor & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing men mention this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmor's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

John Griffith Who Appears in King Richard the Third, a Favorite With Manistique Audiences.
John Griffith who will take the leading role in Shakespeare's tragedy, King Richard the Third, at the opera house next Thursday evening, is an actor of national reputation and a primo favorite with Manistique audiences. His own actor of the present day seems to have the physical and mental qualities of Mr. Griffith, so far as fitness for this most arduous role is concerned. He represents the animated, strenuous type of actor—the big, manly wholesome fellow who appeals to admirers of rugged, healthful masculinity.
His devotion to Shakespeare is almost abnormal and there is no apparent limit to the enthusiasm he displays in his representation of the dominant characters in the great master's plays. On the occasion of the coming visit his manager promises the support of a most excellent company, with brilliant scenic and costume equipment. Mr. Griffith's performance as Richard has in every city of his route, caused great enthusiasm and drawn tremendous audiences.

Young Men Will do Their Duty if They Vote Republican Ticket

WHAT PARTY CAN DO

Is Responsible For All Important Legislation Enacted Since 1800

There are many young men in this county who will cast their first vote this fall. It is highly important that they do so. In giving their vote to a political organization, from which it never afterwards may be broken away, they should be careful that they make a wise selection. In order that they may be enabled to know why it would be well for them to study carefully the history of the great political parties of the country that they may determine which is the more-sound one, which has proved of more practical benefit to the country. We would like to call the attention of the young voters to the record of the Republican party during its existence of a half century. The following are some of the principal acts of legislation for which the Republican party is directly responsible:

The honest law, passed by a Republican congress and signed by Abraham Lincoln.

The acts for the issuance of local bank and national bank notes, which gave the people a currency of equal and stable value in all parts of the country.

The system of internal revenue taxation, by which approximately one-half of the ordinary expenses of the government have been visited upon mills and agricultural products, tobacco and cigars.

The thirteenth amendment to the constitution which abolished slavery.

The fourteenth amendment to the constitution, which created citizenship of the United States as distinguished from citizenship of the several states, and provided that no state should abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States.

The fifteenth amendment which established equality of suffrage.

The civil rights acts, which extended to all persons the full protection of the laws.

All existing laws for the payment of pensions to veterans of the Civil war and their surviving relatives.

The liberal legislation respecting mineral lands, which built up the mining industry, added enormously to the wealth of the country in the present and some precious metals, and made it possible to remove specie payments.

The reclamation of specie payments.

The reduction of postage, the money order system, the establishment of the railroad mail service, from Denver, rural free delivery and other improvements that make the postoffice establishment of the United States the most efficient agency of that character that can be found on the globe.

The life-saving service.

The efficient propagation and distribution of fish.

The distribution of seeds and other measures of vast importance in the production of agriculture.

The advancement of public schools, agricultural colleges, etc., by grants of land from the public domain.

The administrative customs act, which establishes justice and equality in the collection of duties.

The international copyright law, which respects the rights of authors in the product of their brains, but at the same time protects our publishing interests in this country to the extent to which it is just.

The establishment of the circuit courts of appeals for the purpose of relieving the supreme court of a burden of three or four years in securing a decision on appeals.

The admission of the states of Kansas, Nebraska, Colorado, North and South Dakota, Washington, Montana, Idaho and Wyoming, and the provision of a standard for Oklahoma.

The anti-trust act, which was drawn up by the former United States Attorney and introduced by the former in the house of his passage was secured by William McKinley against an attempt to have it stricken from the bill.

The national bankruptcy act of 1898 and 1907, which relieved many thousands of unfortunate men from their commercial and industrial obligations.

The establishment of the gold standard, which placed our monetary system on a stable basis and in harmony with the great nations of the world.

Every schedule of duties on imports adopted within the past 50 years, in which the policy of protection to American labor has been distinctly recognized and officially applied, has been the product of a Republican congress.

The railroad rate law, which gives our largest powers to the interstate commerce commission, enabling it to fix rates of freight and passenger fares and other discriminations, making sleeping cars, express companies and pipe lines common carriers, and prohibiting railroad pools.

The pure food act, which provides that labels must tell the truth, especially on popular necessities.

The most inspection act, providing for inspection at government expense of meats from hoof to hoof.

The Republican party is the party that does things; the party of construction; the party of progress. The Republican party is the party of Lincoln and Grant and McKinley and Roosevelt and the party that has been led by such illustrious men is a safe one for the young men to join.

The annual meeting of the Upper Peninsula Educational Association held at Manistique last week adjourned Saturday morning and will meet at Escanaba next year.

Kay of the Normal school of Marquette; Supt. E. L. Parmenter of Iron Mountain and Gen. A. E. Stearns of Ishpeming.

No More Timber in U. S. in 20 Years

The National Hardwood Lumber Association, recently in session in Memphis, Tenn., accepted the report that, from the best estimate possible to be had, "there now stood in the United States approximately 1,475,000,000 feet of lumber, but that 4,000,000,000 feet were being cut every year."

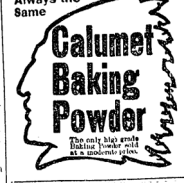

At this rate the forests would last nearly 35 years, at which time the production of commercial lumber must cease altogether.

But there are several other contingencies which must be considered in such calculations. The annual fire in foresting timber, including all the younger growths which have started from the seed as well, and seed trees from which mature forests must be produced.

Including the consumption of wood for pulp and paper, lumber cut for export and for domestic use, telegraph poles, cross-ties, piling and fuel, of which much is still used in mining operations and that destroyed by forest fires, there are 75 billion feet of lumber consumed each year, with an increased quantity yearly. It is evident, therefore, that there is not enough timber standing to continue commercially for more than 10 years in all the United States, including the Pacific coast forests.

32 PER CAPITA

APPOINTMENT OF PRIMARY SCHOOL

Money Will be Greater Than Anticipated.

It is authoritatively stated that the appointment of the primary school in November will be at the rate of $12 per capita.

It was recently stated that the amount would be $10 per capita, but the attorney-general's ruling that the penalties received from the railroads should be credited to the primary school fund has increased this amount.

As there are 711,724 children of school age included in the apportionment, the amount to be distributed by the state will be $8,900,688.

Not all the money belonging to the primary school fund will be distributed, but the remainder is small and would not injure more than a few cents per capita.

HARD LUCK STORY

The Farmers of Garden Debarred From a Shipping Hay From Van's Har

The farmers of Garden and vicinity are certainly playing a hard luck. For the last two seasons hay (their principal crop) has been selling at $1.00 and $1.05 per ton, a price that hardly paid them for harvesting and marketing. This fall when hay is selling at a good price, they have no shipping point. The dock at Van's Harbor is the only dock within twelve miles at which a boat can stop, or from which they could ship their produce. And it has been used by the public for that purpose for the past twenty years or more. Now the company that bought up Van's Harbor, this fall to allow a ton of hay shipped over their dock. The company claims they will buy all the hay; the farmers have for harvesting and marketing. This fall when hay is selling at a good price, they have no shipping point. The dock at Van's Harbor is the only dock within twelve miles at which a boat can stop, or from which they could ship their produce. And it has been used by the public for that purpose for the past twenty years or more. Now the company that bought up Van's Harbor, this fall to allow a ton of hay shipped over their dock.
