For some time he had been suffering from heart trouble and dropsy, and death was the result of these ailments. His illness was unexpected by the family as he felt better the day before than he had for some days.

The deceased was born in Juettli, Canada, fifty-three years ago and was married twenty nine years ago. He was the father of twelve children, eight of which, with the widow, survive. The children living are: Archie Meron, of Phoenix, Mich.; Eugene, Chas., Vinn, Georgian, Willie, Eva and George. Mr. Meron was a hardworking, temperate and honorable citizen and was universally respected in his community where he has resided for a quarter century.

The funeral services will be held from St. Francis de Sales church tomorrow morning, of which church he was a devout and consistent member.

ENTERTAINED BY NORDEY

Three Hundred Attended the Election and Entertainment Saturday Evening.

Nordey held its annual election of officers last Saturday evening. A musical and bill every program and a banquet were also features of the evening. Among those participating in the program were Messrs. Lindroth and Christensen who gave a challenge to a very pleasing manner. Mr. Lindroth acted and Messrs. Anderson and Burr finished music. Several changes were made in the by-laws, and the annual reports of the financial secretary and treasurer were read. The order has 155 members and paid out for sick and burial benefits the sum of $106.00 during the past year.

The officers elected follow: President—E. C. Lindroth. Vice President—John Nelson. Secretary—N. A. LaFgren. Financial Secretary—John Ekdahl. Treasurer—J. Christensen. Marshal—Chas. Lundvall. About 300 persons, including members and their families, participated in the affair. All present report a very pleasing time.

The manumills bill announcing the opening sale of spring millinery at Sam Winkelman's department store was the product of the Pioneer-Tribune's primary. Very few offices in the paper's possession have facilities for issuing a bill of that size.

BIG OPENING SALE

At 2 am Winkelman's Department Store Inaugurated Today.

MUSICAL PROGRAM TONIGHT

The exhibition of Millinery and Suits in Fashionable Styles. Sam Winkelman's millinery and anti-opening sale opened this morning and will continue until tomorrow evening. Elaborate preparations have been made for the occasion. Charbonnet's orchestra will furnish a lengthy musical program this evening from 7 to 10 o'clock, which includes all of the latest airs.

The store has been through all day and no doubt the equality of the manumills building will be taxed this evening. Mr. Winkelman is sparing no expense in acquainting the public with the fact that he has a large and up-to-date stock of goods and that all of the styles to be found in the New York markets are to be found in his store.

These annual spring opening sales that he has inaugurated since he has been in business here, are awaited with much interest by the public, and from all indications, those inaugurated today will outstrip all of his previous efforts in that direction.

For Sale at Once.

I have for sale five young horses, double harness, wagons, sleighs, also a complete lumbering outfit including everything needed for a first class job. Inquire at residence, or address Nelson Phoenix, Box 488, Manistiquie, Mich.

Johnson Denies Railroad Man Is Aiding His Candidacy.

TALKS POLITICS AT CHICAGO

Eye Democrats Have an Equal Chance to Win This Year, but it All Depends on the Platform and a Vigorous Campaign.

Chicago, April 9.—Governor John A. Johnson of Minnesota, who is on his way to the battlefields of St. Paul, where a monument is to be dedicated to the Minnesota soldiers who were killed in the war, passed through the city. He discussed the presidential question freely, saying: "I am a candidate for the presidency in the sense that if I gain the nomination I shall accept it and make every effort to be elected. I am not making any personal campaign and do not expect to seek instructed delegates. I consider the ambition to be president one of the most laudable aspirations within any man can entertain."

"Any insinuations or assertions that my candidacy is being advanced by James J. Hill and his interests is absolutely false. I have fought him several times and have never received a word of encouragement from him or any similar source."

Governor Johnson said he did not care to discuss William J. Bryan or any differences in policy between himself and Mr. Bryan.

"I have the highest regard for Mr. Bryan as a man," said Governor Johnson, "and I admire his ability and his honesty. We are friends so far as I know. My position is just this: If the members of the Democratic party feel that I would stand more chance of election than would Mr. Bryan or any other man I will be glad to make the campaign."

"If I am considered the most available man there will be no lack of appreciation on my part of the honor conferred on me. It all depends, in my judgment, on the platform and a vigorous campaign. As I view it the Democratic party has at least an even chance to win this year."

SOUTH DAKOTA FOR BRYAN

Delegates to Denver Instructed for Nebraskan.

Mitchell, S. D., April 9.—The Democratic state convention has here elected eight delegates to the national convention and instructed them to vote for William Jennings Bryan for the presidential nomination.

A fight was precipitated over the manner of choosing delegates. There was a division of opinion as to whether the districts should elect them or the convention as a whole. On roll call the duty was left with the districts.

Colonel W. A. Lynch of Huron was elected permanent chairman and Thomas Tushnet secretary. S. A. Lunney made the report on resolutions, which were extensive and declared in favor of the absolute abolition of the tariff on all trust controlled articles, favored a graduated income and inheritance tax, favored a law compelling all foreign corporations to appear and stand trial before state courts, asked for the vigorous enforcement of the criminal law against trusts and monopolies, urged tariff reform by the reduction of import duties, favored the instruction of the delegates at the convention to vote for the nomination of William Jennings Bryan first, last and all the time and for nobody else. The resolutions were adopted.

Henry Volkmar of Mitchell started another fight over the positive instructions for Bryan, arguing that the convention should permit the delegates to have a second choice and naming Governor Johnson of Minnesota. His suggestion was voted down.

CRAWFORD FOR SENATOR.

South Dakota Republicans Also Endorse Taft for President.

Huron, S. D., April 9.—The Republican state convention to name eight delegates to the national convention at Chicago was in session less than five hours and was one of the most exciting and intensely interesting of any convention ever held in this state. Every county was represented by a full quota of delegates. There were 22 1/2 stalwarts and 20 1/2 progressive votes.

The stalwarts are followers of Senator A. B. Kittredge and the progressives are adherents of Governor Coo I. Crawford.

Frank Cheney of Roberts county was made temporary chairman and M. J. Chaney of Clay county permanent chairman, with W. E. Sweeney of Lyman as secretary.

Resolutions were adopted endorsing Governor Crawford's candidacy for the United States senator and commending his administration of state affairs, endorsing Taft for president and favoring the policies of President Roosevelt.

Republican Gains in Chicago.

Chicago, April 9.—Thirty-five aidmen were elected in Chicago and of the number twenty-four were Republicans. One of these ran as an independent, but he nevertheless politically is a Republican. Mayor Busco will enter on the second year of his term with a larger party majority back of him than any mayor has had in the last thirty years.

Naval Bill Reported to House.

Washington, April 9.—The naval appropriation bill, authorizing the construction of two instead of four battleships and eight instead of four submarine torpedo boats and carrying a total appropriation of $105,977,118 for the naval service for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1909, was reported to the house by Chairman Foss of the committee on naval affairs.

Conference at Indianapolis Fails to Reach Agreement.

ANOTHER MEETING SLATED
Operators and Employees to Gather at Toledo, O., on April 14. When an Effort Will Be Made to Settle Existing Differences.

Indianapolis, April 8.—The conference of coal operators of Western Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana, and representatives of the miners of these three districts and Illinois adjourned after being in session for two hours. No resumption of work in the mines of the states represented was ordered. The next meeting will be held at Toledo, O., Tuesday, April 15, when an effort will be made to revise the Interstate agreement between the operators and miners of the Central and positive field, consisting of these four districts. The Illinois miners left at day for Springfield to resume their local district conference with the Illinois operators. A meeting is set for Kansas City to take part in the joint conference at the southwest. The Indiana operators may also stay away from Toledo, but this is not probable and it is believed an Interstate agreement for the three districts will be established and the miners ordered to resume work. The present scale will, in all probability, be the basis of agreement in weeks.

The next regular meeting of Manistique Legion, No. 108, N. P. L. will be held next Tuesday evening.

A card from Mrs. John Goodell, of Los Angeles, Cal., received Tuesday announces the fact that the report of Mr. Goodell's death, which has been in circulation here so many weeks, is entirely untrue. His many friends here are pleased to learn that this is the case and they hope for his recovery.
That languid, lifeless feeling, the one with aching and early morning, can be quickly exchanged for a feeling of buoyancy and energy by the judicious use of Dr. Shoop's Restorative.
The Restorative is a genuine tonic to feed, run down nerves, and to feed, and does is needed to satisfy the case that Dr. Shoop's Restorative is actually reaching that tired spot. The indoor life of winter never always leads to slightest trouble, and to sluggish circulation in general. The customary lack of exercise and out door air ties up the liver, stagnates the kidneys, and oftentimes weakens the heart's action. Use Dr. Shoop's Restorative a few weeks and all will be changed. A few days rest will tell you that you are using the right remedy. You will easily and surely note the change from day to day. Sold by A. S. Putnam & Co.

Defeated the Onway Team in a Score of 11 to 1 Friday Evening.
Manistique won the second of the series of games with Onway, at the opera house last Friday evening in a score of 11 to 1. Mr. Wm. S. Crowe pitched for the locals, Hilly, Onway's crack pitcher, was not in his usual good form, and led to give way for another teacher as the locals were hitting him. It will be Manistique has won a majority of the games it has played with Onway and as that club has earned the championship of the lower peninsula, it is certainly fair and proper to designate Manistique as being the champion club of the state.
Sufficient money was realized from the sale of tickets to take care of the heavy expense entailed in making the series possible.
Card of Thanks.

Three-fourths of the Townships in Illinois Go Dry.
LARGER CITIES REMAIN WET
Reports of Smaller Ones, However, Declare for Prohibition, More Than One Thousand Drinking Places Being Voted Out of Existence.
Chicago, April 2.—The great liquor contest in Illinois has resulted in a draw battle, with the seasons winning decisively in most of the larger cities, but losing to scores of smaller ones, 1,014 saloons being voted out of existence.
The returns, as collected by townships, are even more impressive from the prohibition viewpoint, 828 townships, or more than three-fourths of the total number—1,012—being closed to the sale of liquor.
Only by winning in the larger cities did the liquor interests save themselves from a complete rout.
Where the "drop shop" was not an essential asset in the city government, the prohibitionists had the advantage. Where the saloons were a necessary part of the city's life, they were the aggressors and where they were it is clear gain.
The saloons were on the defensive. They say they have nothing but to lose what they had before and the losses were clear.
The towns mainly affected had from five to twenty-five saloons each.
FAVORABLE TO LA FOLLETTE
Delegates Elected at the Wisconsin Primaries.
Milwaukee, April 2.—La Follette delegates at large to the Republican national convention were elected at Tuesday's primaries, as were nearly all the district delegates to the Wisconsin senator. The Right to Life in its death and the Tench is claimed by Taft supporters.
John Barnes of Rhineland was elected justice of the supreme court over Robert M. Bushford by a large majority.
Oshkosh, Wis., April 2.—That George S. Palm of Oshkosh may continue his distinction of being the only Taft delegate elected in the state is a possibility. His friends here maintain that he will be elected in the district, but he is in doubt on account of incomplete returns from some precincts. Nelson, Tortorion and Palm are claiming election and Lambert and Gibbs, independent La Follette delegates, are considered eliminated from the race. Returns are coming in slowly on account of the rival La Follette tickets, which caused a general splitting of the vote.

Kansas City Goes Democratic.
Kansas City, April 2.—Complete returns show the election of Thomas W. Crutcher, Jr., Dem., for mayor over Henry M. Boardley, Rep., by a plurality of 1,011 votes. The complete Democratic ticket, with the exception of police judge and city treasurer, were elected. In addition the Democrat also secured the entire upper house ticket and also out of fourteen aldermen in the lower house. This gives them complete control of all branches of the city government.

DID LEE EXPECT DEFEAT?
The General's Significant Statement After Sailors Creek.
My last official intercourse with General Lee was on the retreat. I was sent to him with the resignation of President Davis and reached him near mid-night of April 9th near River's station. I conversed without being challenged by a single sentinel and found him standing near a smoldering fire with one of his hands resting on an ammunition wheel. He was dictating someone to Colonel Marshall, who sat in the ambulance with a lamp desk receiving his dictation. As General Lee spoke he gazed into the bed of water as if weighing every word. There was no staff or escort about, so far as I could see. Touching Sailors Creek, he spoke bitterly and said in answer to Mr. Davis' desire to know his proposed line of retreat that it was beyond his control; that he had intended to retreat by the line of the Rappahannock, but had been forced off that route by the arrival of Sheridan ahead of him at Burkville; that he was then following the line of the Southside road to Lynchburg, but the enemy was out-marching him and might force him off; that his movements were dependent on the developments of each hour, and then he added: "How can I tell? A few more Sailors Creek and it will be over—just where I thought it would end from the beginning." When I first published this statement its truthfulness was questioned. Fortunately, however, after a day or two of his staff both of whom said they had heard him express himself in the same way. There may have been times when General Lee, slayed by some of his surprising successes, felt hopeful about the triumph of our cause. From the probability based on numbers and resources his judgment may have been warped away now and then by the feeling he expressed when, after Second Manassas, Sharpsburg, Fredericksburg and Chancellorsville, he said: "No general ever commanded such troops as those under me." But his mind was too mathematical in its working, and all his calculations were too habitually based upon what could be done with a given number of men and a certain amount of material to make him forget the vast disparity between the contestants or hope for ultimate triumph—John B. Lee in Circle Magazine.

A STRENUOUS TRIP

Earle Sattler Gives An Interesting and Complete Account of His Washington Trip.

WAS A CLOSE OBSERVER

Has Chronosed Every Detail of the Trip and Written Same in Pleading Manner.

I expected from his pictures that I would be very "and out of proportion but I was greatly mistaken. He is a medium height (not six feet) and is well and very graceful and dignified in bearing. He is nevertheless very athletic built and appears to use caution of doing the stunts he is said to perform. One of the boys afterwards properly said, "he is a genuine sport all right." We all agreed on Farasworth's opinion in one sense, but however the president is a perfect gentleman. I imagine that when he is greatly excited he would show his teeth, as they are quite prominent, but he did not while I was with him. The thing that amazed us most was the fact that his favorite word, "delightful" once, which we were expecting. Probably he was on his guard. When the president came around where we were standing, Senator Smith introduced Mr. Mason, who in turn introduced the boys separately. We each had a good hearty hand shake with the president and he became very much interested in us. He asked us what the chief industry was in our country and when we told him that it was lumbering he remarked laughing, "I used to be able to run logs myself when a boy, if I had sharp pegs in my shoes." When Mr. Mason remarked that Earl had made quite a record as a ski jumper, the president entered into quite a discussion on the subject and complimented Earl on his record of 97 feet. See that Eric was of Swedish stock the president advised him to start in and make a record too as the Scandinavians are as a rule especially skilled in this sport.

The president then passed on to meet some others and we quickly stepped out. At 11 a. m., just after we left the cabin but we did not have the privilege of seeing this body. The interview lasted about fifteen minutes, but it was the most interesting ten minutes I ever spent in my life during which time I had the great honor of shaking hands with and personally conversing with the highest executive in the land. After Mr. Mason had safely run the gauntlet through newspaper reporters Senator Smith accompanied us across the street to the State. We had very little department, where we were to interview Admiral Dewey. We ascended to the second story accompanied by several congressmen who also wished to see the Admiral. After walking down the hall a short distance we came to a door on the outside of which read the words, "Admiral of the Navy." We entered here and after passing thru a small room in which were several typewriters we entered Admiral Dewey's main office resumed the battle or retreat? He replied that he would go back to the fight. "We will go back then," I replied, and immediately gave the order to resume the fighting. The Spaniards were really defeated then and the fighting was soon over. If we had had but our four or five Spanish airplanes we could have easily overpowered the city and captured the entire Spanish army. This taught the government a good lesson and now they have on hand a sufficient number of airplanes. The Spanish commander feared that we were going to bombard the city and he sent commissioners to us to learn what terms I would accept to no longer bombard the city. I replied that if he would not fire on us, surrender what torpedoes were left and allow us to use the cable we would not fire on him. The Spanish commander replied that he would not fire on us but that we could not use the cable. I immediately ordered the dispatch boat, McCaulough, to cut the cable. This cut off all communication with the world from them, while we could communicate with Hong Kong. By this time the old Admiral's voice was somewhat hoarse and he quite old it was pretty hard work for him. He was always afraid that he was bragging, and he would repeatedly say, "Boys, I'm not bragging too much am I?"

The Admiral led us to his desk and said, "Boys, I have something also to show you that I am very proud of." He opened the drawer and produced a well worn paper and started to read it. It was a long paper and he read it with a very emotional, tear case to his eyes and he handed it to Senator Smith to read saying "Here Smith you read it." Senator Smith read the words in a loud, clear voice, "To the man who has done more for the glory of his country than any man living." This was the heading of a letter given to Admiral Dewey by President Roosevelt who dined with the Admiral on December 23, 1900, which was his severest criticism. This was certainly something to be proud of and the old gentleman could only express himself by shedding tears. Senator Smith reverently said to us, "Boys, you are in the presence of a great man."

After again shaking hands with the kind old gentleman we left his office and silently proceeded to the street. This was another of the never to be forgotten events. Senator Smith here led us farwell and Mr. Williams, private secretary to Hon. H. O. Young, accompanied us on a sight-seeing tour of the city. He had planned the trip carefully so that we could see as much as possible in our short time. First we started for the Washington monument which is 550 feet high and is the highest monument in the world. To look to the top you must look twice and the observation windows which are 3 by 4 feet look about 12 inches square from the bottom. The boys all wanted to walk up and so we all made the attempt. Chester Brand and I went up together and in our successful attempt at being first up we were pretty well winded, but we braced up. After we arrived at the top we looked out the window and what we saw was remarkable. Everything looked like so many toys. The residential block houses near by looked like paper houses and people were mere specks. We could look far out over the surrounding country, and the Capitol building looked about like a model.

After we had looked as long as we wished we entered the elevator and descended. It went down very slowly so as to guard against any accident which would possibly prove fatal to the passengers. At last we reached the bottom and were rather glad to have our feet again on solid ground. Mr. Williams took us direct to the National Museum, which is the largest of its kind in the world. To go thru this properly would take two or three weeks and we had only three-quarters of an hour so we had to make quite a hasty tour. It contained everything in the stuffed animal line from a fly to a whale. We saw the skeletons of many rare and extinct animals and even Egyptian mummies which are thousands of years old. We saw the first complete locomotive built by Geo. Stephenson. This was a very curious object with a wooden covering to the boiler, and with a smokestack resembling our "dummy" engine. We also saw the models of the first typewriter and telegraph instruments with a new model for each patent and improvement. Among the old relics we viewed many old historical articles among which was the flag that Jones had on his ship, the Bon Homme Richard, and the uniform worn by Washington in the Revolutionary war, also his cooking utensils, and Franklin's first printing press, which contained the first printed paper as the Chicago Tribune office, part of the steering wheel of the battleship Maine and the first "roll" revolver. Among the skeletons we saw the skeleton of an elephant, which once performed in Barnum & Bailey's circus. While passing out we viewed all the stages of development from the fish to the modern warships and passenger steamers. We ate our dinner at the Museum restaurant where we had some dispute over a poor sherry half bottle and the end came very premature in structure, that two of us had ordered.
