IN THE OLDEN TIMES

What Occurred in This City Twenty-Nine Years Ago

NEWSY FACTS FROM FILES

That Will Be Read With Interest By All Readers.

From the Pioneer published during the week ending, Nov. 19, 1880, we glean the following items that will refresh the memory of the older inhabitants of the city. They follow: Lloyd Peony, one of the estimable young men of the city, was accidentally killed by the discharge of his rifle while hunting owls.

By a little neglect the school district lost its reputation of the primary school money. The amount was $140.00.

The "new mill" of the Weston Co. was nearing completion.

Sheriff Costello was overpowered by the five prisoners at the jail who made their escape.

Rev. Mr. Thompson preached his first discourse in the city Sunday.

Oliver Hart broke his arm while hauling lumber.

The lodge of Good Templars was organized with a fair membership.

The new offices of the C. L. were given their finishing touches.

The general office is in charge of J. D. Mercurau, with Hon. O. A. Bowen and Mr. Lide at bookkeeping.

Among the subscribers we notice several familiar names. The late Dr. A. E. Burdick was conducting a drug store; Austin Fyfe was the undertaker.

In the advertisement of Orr & Plunkett, we notice that the best steaks were retailed at 14 cents, and boiling meat at 6 and 8 cents per pound.

The C. L. Co. and I. E. Smith appeared to be the only firms supplying general stores. W. E. Criss was the jeweler and Messrs. Newsome and Riggs were the stationers.

A. C. Richards was conducting a temperance saloon and livery barn.

The county officials at that time were as follows:

Treasurer, Geo. H. Orr, with J. D. Mercurau as deputy.

Judge of Probate, W. E. Clarke.

County Clerk, A. E. Burdick.

Sheriff, John Costello.

Under Sheriff, G. H. Orr.

Coroner, E. C. Brown.

A HELPLESS WRECK

The Steamer Pahlow, Well Known Here Wrecked Near Sturgeon Bay

WAS OWNED BY HINES CO.

And Has Been Sailing the Great Lakes For Many Years.

The steamer Pahlow, owned by the Illinois Lumber Co., was disabled and dismantled during the severe storm that prevailed Tuesday morning. The accident occurred in the vicinity of Sturgeon Bay. A fireman was washed overboard and drowned before the crew could be reached.

The Pahlow, with the large barge Delta, left Port Huron, both laden and bound for Chicago. Everything went well until the boats encountered the north-easterly gale and they began to leak freely.

The water could not be kept down with the united efforts of the pumps and soon it crept into the fire room and over the crates. Capt. Higgle was then obliged to cut his consort adrift.

The snow storm was now raging furiously and every effort was put forth to reach the canal before the water put out the fires. In this they failed, for when about two miles from the harbor of refuge the fires were extinguished and the steamer was left to the mercy of the elements.

Soon the deckload washed off, then the smokestack rolled overboard.

The crew of sixteen men, firemen, preservers and all but four abandoned the craft and succeeded in reaching shore one mile south of the canal just before morning exhausted and nearly dead from exposure.

They made their way to the lifesaving station, where some were put to bed and all given clothes and stimulants.

Capt. Higgle stayed by his boat. The life saving crew went out, and were carried away by the wind and waves and it is not known where they succeeded in making a landing if at all and much apprehension is felt for their safety.

The government lightship Sumac which was lying in the canal went to the rescue

THE INSTITUTES

Were Not Attended as Largely as They Deserved Last Week

GEISMAR GAVE GOOD TALKS

Rain Here Made Meeting an Impossible Last Thursday Evening.

The series of farmers institutes held throughout the county last week, were not as largely attended as they deserved. Supt. Geismar of the experiment station at Chatham, was the speaker, and the address he made before the various audiences that greeted him at various points on the schedule planned by the local committee, were of such a high order that the farmer that failed to attend, lost much.

The meetings in Genesee and Doyle townships were fairly well attended, but the attendance at the meetings scheduled for Manistique was disappointing to the speaker and the committee.

Rain interfered with the meeting held in this city.

Mr. Geismar is an enthusiast on all matters pertaining to agriculture, and a series of lectures given by him are equal to a course in an agricultural college.

He knows what he is talking about, and he also has the rare faculty of expressing himself clearly.

Nothing like him in town for the price, new style auto coats for men and young men. $7.45. G. L. store sale.

Monologues on Life in India, Interested Large Audiences at Presbyterian Church

BY MRS. SNELL BURNELL

Gives Her Audiences a Clear Insight into the Customs and Every Day Life of the Natives.

The monologues given by Mrs. Snell Burnell at the Presbyterian church last Sunday morning and evening, were heard by large audiences and pleased and instructed everyone hearing her.

In the morning she dealt with the life of a princess of India. She was suitably costumed, and as she used the first person throughout her narrative, it really felt as though the monologue was a tale from the experience and the life of the speaker.

The story was graphically and interestingly told, and gave her hearers a clear insight into the life, description and sometimes of the religion in that country, and the change wrought when the Christian religion supplants it.

In the evening she appeared at the Presbyterian church, and her portrayal of the domestic life of the women of that country, was a revelation to all hearing her.

The treatment accorded women in that heathen country, seems incredible to persons living in countries where civilization has placed womanhood upon a plane quite as high as that accorded the "lords" of creation.

The monologues were based on true stories of the lives of the persons she impersonated. Mrs. Burnell resided in southern India for five years and is intimately acquainted with the persons of that interesting people and during her talks it was extremely hard to remember that the speaker was an American lady and not the character she interpreted.

She spoke of the great work being accomplished by the missionaries in that country, and how the progress of the work was greatly handicapped and retarded by the lack of funds.

Her talks will have a lasting effect in every community she visits, and it is easy to guess that increased contributions will be the result. Misses Stanley will have a sale prices Saturday, G. L. store.

SUFFERINGS ENDED

W. W. Cunningham Died Tuesday Evening at His Home in Hiawatha Township

WAS VICTIM OF PARALYSIS

And Had Been Ill For the Past Year. A Former Manistique Business Man.

Mr. W. W. Cunningham died of paralysis at his home in Hiawatha township, Tuesday evening, after an illness extending through a period of a year. During the past few weeks his condition was critical to the extreme.

Mr. Cunningham was a native of Louisiana, and practically all of his life was spent in that state, Mexico and Texas. He came to Michigan about four years ago, and shortly thereafter he came to Manistique, to take charge of the musical department of LaBar & Neville's store.

Later he engaged in the musical business in the Sattler block, but after a year disposed of his merchandise.

He was married to Miss Anna Louise Greenwood about three years ago, who with a son mourn his loss. The deceased was born thirty-eight years ago.

The funeral services were held from the Episcopal church yesterday afternoon, Rev. Hiram Sibley, the pastor, officiating. The services were largely attended.

The bereaved widow has the sympathy of the entire community in her hour of sorrow.

Mrs. J. L. Hishband entertained a few friends at cards Monday afternoon.

STRIPPING FOREST IN WINTER.

An Interesting Feature at the Star Theatre.

The Star has a very interesting feature on its program for tonight and Saturday. It is stripping a Forest in Winter.

Speaking of the feature, Stripping a Forest in Winter, the Film Index has the following to say: For winter scenes can approach this picture for originality, pictorial effect and realistic sense of an important Canadian industry.

This one phase of life in the great northwest is depicted with a thoroughness that leaves nothing to be desired, and the whole picture, from start to finish, can be depended upon as a rare attraction.

The picture gives a truly wonderful trip through a vast forest of pine and spruce perfectly many features of the life in the woods, and the harvesting of timber.

We are first taken to the woodmen's camp of logs in the midst of the snow covered hills and then to groves of mammoth trees where we watch the falling of the monarch of the forest.

The intense excitement of the log clients connected with hauling great loads of logs on runners down steep hills at breakneck speed, is seldom rivaled even in dramatic films, while the variety is added to the subject by sections showing log teams, traction engine sledges, pulling and loading of logs, and finally the sliding of them into the river, down which they float to the mills, where they are cut into lumber.

The purely industrial scene are not so such beautiful surroundings that the film becomes a wonderful study of artist photography in the land of real winter.

M. H. Quick has completed the cutting along the south side of his residence property, and it materially improves the appearance of the street.

Chief of Police Reikler is spending his vacation in quest of deer. He has succeeded in arresting the circulation of one of the footed animals. Seymour Graham is filling his position on the police force during his absence.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION.

Governor Warner Has Issued a Proclamation

Although Governor Warner is down in Ypsilanti, the observance of Thanksgiving day is not to be overlooked in this state, the annual proclamation having been issued Monday from the executive office. It reads as follows:

"To the people of the state of Michigan: "In observance of the long established custom providing for the setting apart of a day for the purpose of expressing our gratitude unto a beneficent Creator for favors bestowed upon us, I hereby designate Thursday, Nov. 25, as a day of thanksgiving.

"The people of the state of Michigan live in a state favored of God and the duty of taking account of our blessings and mercies and rendering thanksgiving and praise to the Giver thereof should be observed by every citizen. Our fertile farms and beautiful crops, our factories bringing wealth to our state from every country, our treasure stored mines, all these have contributed to our marvelous material growth and advance ment.

"With all our different creeds and beliefs there are none among us, let us hope, who deny God's great and beneficent hand in the bringing about of our happiness and prosperity. "The poor and the unfortunate should be remembered and their hearts made glad by deeds of kind ness. The words of the state and the counties should have a share in the festivities of the day and a day of good cheer and happiness should be granted those whose liberty is restrained for our protection.

"Let us upon this day assemble in our houses of worship and with faith renewed and strengthened thank our fathers' God and ours for what He has done for us during the year that has gone."

Mrs. C. W. Kefauver, of Mr. W. F. Kefauver, rendered a duet at the Presbyterian church last Sunday evening, in a very pleasing manner.

They tell a good one on Ed. Kallfleisch. While hunting for deer in the vicinity of Rexton, he accidentally wounded a deer. Asking Mr. Gilligan what he should do next, he was informed that he should catch hold of one of its hind legs. This he promptly did, and for his efforts he received a vicious kick from the infuriated animal, that temporarily put him out of business. Not being up to the tactics of the famous Urean, he did not meet with the same success. This was the portion of the hero above mentioned.

HE IS NOW WEALTHY

W. J. Laird of Doyle Township, Inherited Large Sum From Wealthy Relatives.

WILL LEAVE FOR THE EAST

Gave a Farewell Ball to Old Time Friends at Whitehall Wednesday.

Mr. W. J. Laird, who has been a resident of Doyle township for many years, recently inherited property valued at $50,000 by the death of a wealthy uncle, residing in the city of New York. He has decided to spend the winter in the east, and prior to his departure, gave a dance at Whitehall Wednesday evening to his old time friends and neighbors.

Mr. Laird has been a resident of Schoecraft county for many years, having taken up a homestead in Doyle township. He was always highly esteemed by those knowing him, for he was very sociable, honest and unassuming, and it is safe to say that his sudden acquired wealth will not spoil him.

Mr. Laird is a bachelor.

BEWARE OF BUCK FEVER AND FIRE INTO THE BUSHES BEFORE YOU ARE CERTAIN OF YOUR TARGET.

Apogee of the deer season, someone has framed up the following "advice" for hunters, which are worth careful perusal before going into the woods:

"Don't pull the trigger of your gun before you clearly see the thing you shoot at. Don't go out headlighting deer. It is an extremely dangerous business, and it is unprofitable.

DEON'T BE A FOOL WHILE DEER HUNTING

The deer is not a rare animal as yet, and any intelligent hunter can distinguish him. It is just give it a chance to walk so you can see all of it, and you will readily recognize it.

Remember that you are out after deer, moose, lynx, bear, bob cat and not your fellow man. A man doesn't look a bit like either of these. There are no gorillas nor apes in the forests of this climate that might give you an excuse, if you shoot a man, that you supposed were either of them.

A deer is distinguishable from a horse and deer from a Jersey heifer, and fasten the item of knowledge in your mind that there are many men living in these woods who are endeavoring to live as some of them have horses and cows that roam the woods—and neither does a big black dog exactly resemble a bear—wait until you hear him grunt before you shoot.

Be careful in the pulling of your trigger that you are not sighting a human being. You had better not walk past that your system with sorrow because of fool killing someone, mistaking him for a venison.

William R. Hodson, Secretary.

Christmas Edition.

The Pioneer-Tribune will issue a big Christmas edition on Friday, December 15th. Anyone desiring advertising space in same should leave their order promptly. The past efforts of the management in the same line are so well known that it will be unnecessary to go into details concerning the edition at this time. Rest assured that in several respects the coming edition will be an improvement on past efforts, and will no doubt be a credit to the office issuing it as well as to the city.

Mr. Leo Berk was the guest of Hiram's friends for several days during the past week, and went hunting. He is not mentioning the number of deer he killed for fear that the information might reach the ears of the game warden.

A LETTER WRITTEN

CONGRESSMAN YOUNG URGED TO ASSIST IN LANDING APPROPRIATION.

HISTORY OF HARBOR GIVEN.

Many Thousands of Dollars Spent by the C. L. Co. in Building and Maintaining the Harbor in the Past.

The necessity for the continuance of the work on the local harbor has impressed a number of the city's influential citizens to the extent that they have written a letter to Congressman J. C. Young of this district. The letter follows:

We beg to call your attention to the following facts in the history of Manistique's harbor, for what further appropriation is urgently needed.

This harbor was built and has been maintained for over 35 years by private interests located here at a total expense of $400,000 and rights to navigation have been maintained for that time and are now being maintained by the same interests at no expense to the government.

The harbor has been open to public shipping during all that time, without charge to the shipping, and has been a port of call for the Great Lakes Steamers, the Green Line Steamers and the Ann Arbor car ferries beside incidental shipping.

A light ship also was maintained for seven years at White Shoals by the same interests, which built the harbor, which ship was removed only when the location was taken over by the Coast Light ship at this point.

It is picked up for worthy of note that navigation of the north passage became general only after the private light ship was so established and maintained.

Up to a very recent period no aid from the government was given to this important shipping point, and only a small portion of the money finally appropriated was made available, with the result that such improvements as have been made in the harbor have been so limited, that the harbor is now, after such improvement, in a worse condition than before any improvement was made.

There is grave danger that from the widening of the mouth of the harbor, the existing pier, made of slabs and edgings will be carried away before further protection work can be done, and we therefore ask that as much money as possible be made in finishing the project as planned by the government, and that enough money may be made available to complete the work in the most season for the harbor is so situated that both arms of the breakwater must be built at the same time, on the west side to permit the present boats to come from filling up, and on the east side to protect the present piers from destruction.

We feel that we are deserving of special consideration from the government on the following grounds: of the long service which has been given to the shipping of the lake; that the government has never been asked to expense for this harbor until the present improvement was undertaken, and that unless prompt measures are taken to finish the project, irreparable damage will be done to the harbor by its present exposed condition.

STEARER CHARLES A. WESTON RAN BY THE WARD AMES

HE CAPTAIN PUT HER ON THE BEACH AT BIG POINT—SHE LOCK DISSAID HER ON VESSEL OWNERS.

The steamer Ward Ames, upward bound, rammed the Charles A. Weston about 3 o'clock Saturday morning, as the latter boat was lying at anchor abreast of Big Point, about three miles above the Soo, waiting to load.

First reports were that it was the H. P. Pope, but later it proved to be the Ward Ames, the Pope being among those at anchor above. The force of the collision tore a hole in port side tank, No. 2, opposite No. 1 hatch, which filled with water. Capt. Flech, to save the steamer from sinking, beached the Weston on the point, where she is resting easily on a sandy bottom. The Ward Ames proceeded up the lake, the extent of her damage cannot be learned. Tugs have gone to the Weston to make examination.

Mr. E. C. Brown left for Minneapolis and Billings, Mont., Fri. P.M. At the former place she also will be the guest of Mrs. Fuller and at Billings, she will visit her daughter, Mrs. Warner Halgren. Mrs. Halgren will return with her and will spend the holiday season here.

Manistiqueans.

The following items of interest to our readers appeared in the Engadine correspondence of the St. Ignace Enterprise last week:

Rev. Viessens of Manistique celebrated Mass Sunday morning in St. Mary's church. He has been appointed to make this mission here while Father Geers has been transferred to some other place. We are sorry to lose him but think the new priest will prove very agreeable and had many words of praise already.

Charles McIntyre, a well known former resident of this place but now located at Manistique, was a pleasant caller here Saturday.

A Christmas Sale.

The Lillian Society of the Swedish Lutheran church will conduct a Christmas sale of fancy articles and entertainment at the church Tuesday, Dec. 15th. The sale will be held in the afternoon and evening and the entertainment will also be given in the evening. Admission to entertainment, 10 cents.
