THE COUNTY FAIR

The Committee Will Meet Tomorrow to Fix Dates and Make Arrangements.

FORMER DATES CONFLICT

Stores will be closed on dates originally decided upon. Should be changed.

The executive committee of the Pomona arrange will hold a meeting in this city tomorrow for the purpose of perfecting arrangements for the holding of the fair in the armory, mention of which was made in last week's issue. The dates for the fair, as originally decided upon were Oct. 4th and 5th. Owing to the fact that the dry goods and clothing stores of the city will be closed on the dates in question, on account of a Jewish holiday, an effort may be made tomorrow to slightly change the date.

As many people will be attracted to the city on account of the fair, it would be unfortunate were the first fair ever held in Schoolcraft pulled off when the stores of the city are closed. Our business men are much interested in the project and a change in date would please them as well as the visitors that will be attracted to the city.

It is hoped that every farmer in the county will bring samples of his fruits, cereals and vegetables to the fair. This step will be the initiative in the matter and if fostered and encouraged, will result in the organization of a fair association.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Dan Martin, a son today.

FRANK A GOOD GUESSER

Mr. Helms Predicted the Success of Mr. Osborn in General County.

During the campaign Mr. Frank Helms of Manistique has been writing the editor of this paper that his county would give a majority for Osborn and the results show that Frank had not one of his expectations in its election predictions. Now he left the news paper business. In a letter received this week, he states that his county gave a majority to Osborn to the tune of 600, and that his township gave him 33 majority. This victory was accomplished in the face of the fact that a strong machine was doing all in its power to carry the county for Bursons and Kelley. In his township the township officers were absolutely controlled by this influence. The county was carried for Osborn without any organization or the expenditure of a dollar by his friends and admirers cheerfully doing the job. Continuing he states: "You can rest assured I was happy over the result of Osborn, and Townsend's victory only added to my feelings. I was very much pleased over the splendid majority given Mr. Townsend in the U. P. district. Down here Townsend's friends were also Osborn's friends—of course not all of them but a large majority of them."

Mr. Helms expects to come to Schoolcraft county in November to capture his usual quota of deer.

Millinery Opening.

Mrs. Lewis will hold her opening of autumn and winter millinery Friday afternoon of next week, Sept. 23d. The most gorgeous display of millinery ever shown in the city is promised for the opening. The ladies of Manistique and vicinity will be more than pleased with the display if it will include the latest creations in head-wear.

Editor Baldwin of the Escanaba Journal, was found guilty in Justice Glaser's court this week of criminally libeling Hon. Chase S. Osborn and was sentenced to serve ninety days in the county jail and to pay a fine of $100. The jury in the case was out twenty minutes. Mr. Osborn attended the trial. Baldwin's attorneys were given until noon Wednesday in which to appeal the case to the circuit court.

RESULT A DRAW

County Convention Was Held Wednesday and Chairman Elected.

NEW COMMITTEE SELECTED

Messrs. Hixon, Thomas, Crane, McCullum and Holben Elected as Delegates to State Convention.

The Republican county convention was held at the court house last Wednesday afternoon. The convention was called to order by County Chairman Gero, and the call was read.

Two candidates were placed in nomination for temporary chairman viz: Messrs. J. H. McCullum and W. L. Middlebrook. Upon motion the chairman appointed Carl Gunnarson and Fred Miller tellers. Mr. McCullum received fourteen of the twenty-seven ballots cast and was declared the choice of the convention for the temporary chairman.

Mr. J. H. MacNaughton was selected as secretary by acclamation. Upon motion the chairman appointed two tellers, Messrs. Brusie and Miller, also committees on credentials and on permanent organization and order of business. The former committee consisted of Messrs. Gunnarson, Creighton and Hruska and the latter, committee of Messrs. Crane Ebert and Gayar. A recess was taken in order to give the committees an opportunity of formulating their reports.

When work was resumed the committee on credentials were entitled to seats in the convention:

Dwyer—A. W. Lundberg and Jas. McCullough.

Germfask—Thomas Kennedy and James Cornell.

LYCEUM COURSE

First Number of This Year's Course will be Given Oct. 4th.

BEST COURSE YET ESSAYED

The Ladies in Charge Deserve Liberal Patronage from the Public.

The course of Manistique are to be concentrated upon the fact that the Lyceum course that will be presented in Manistique during the coming season under the auspices of the ladies of the Presbyterian church, is the most expensive course ever essayed here. While this is a fact yet the price for season tickets will not be increased but will remain at $2.00 as heretofore.

The course will be opened Tuesday evening, Oct. 4th, by the Chicago Operatic Co. Mr. Arthur Middleton the noted basso, is a member of the company. He is considered the leading basso in the oratorio, concerto, and grand opera work throughout the country. He has been the chief attraction at recent May Festivals and is deservedly popular where ever heard. Owing to the high cost incurred in securing the Chicago Operatic Co. those in charge of the local course have decided to charge $1 for all chairs in the first eleven rows of the opera house, and 75 cents for the remainder of the house. In order to hear this attraction at the nominal price of 50 cents you will have to purchase season tickets at $2.

The other attractions of the course are the Castle Square Entertainers, The Appollo Concert Co. and Mr. Andrew Gillies, the noted orator. It requires a great amount of hard and unremunerative work to make a lyceum course a success, and the ladies would no doubt appreciate a prompt response from the public when the canvass for the sale of tickets is made.

The course Manistique will enjoy this season is the same that has been contracted for in cities the size of Marquette, Ishpeming and Houghton, and this shows that Manistique, although smaller than these cities will have the best course placed in the upper peninsula for the season of 1910-11.

Mr. John Mosher has commenced the erection of a residence on his lot at the corner of Cherris and Steuben streets.

Mrs. McCullough Dead.

From a Washington paper we glean the fact of the death of Mrs. Ellen Nora McCullough, wife of Thomas McCullough, of Whatcom county, that state, which occurred on Sept. 1st, after an extended illness. The deceased was fifty-six years of age, and leaves a husband, five sons and two daughters. She was a former resident of Manistique and left for the west about eleven years ago. She will be remembered by many of the present residents of Manistique.

Mr. Robert Rubin has been in Chicago this week purchasing fall and winter goods for his store.

There's a Large Pot of Trouble Brewing For Onks Milling. Mr. Standish was used when he went into the millinery establishment, and the longer he stayed the madder he got. Presently he walked over to a stunning black croatan that hung on a peg near the window and said: "This is the hat I want to see you about." The proprietor came forward. "What can I do for you?" he asked. "You can fix this hat over my wife's wife asked you to," said Standish explosively. "She wants the feather put on the other side, that hat moved to the front, and she wants the rim to bulge a little more over the top place." "Seeing a pretty fish crop over the proprietor's face, Standish went out with increased heat: "She says you have refused to make any alterations on the ground that the hat is bound to ruin it, but I tell you that's all nonsense. My wife knows how she wants her hat to look, and if she can't stand up for her rights I'll do it for her. She is coming around this afternoon to try the hat on again. If it isn't ready by that time there will be no end of a row." The proprietor twisted the black hat on his forehead and looked from it to the head saleswoman indignantly. "I remember," he said, "that the lady also ordered that hat tied in back yesterday to be remodelled. Perhaps it will be possible to make the alterations suggested after all." The manager's humility made Standish feel very proud of himself. "That's the only way to deal with these fellows," he said when he left the shop. "You've got to meet them on their own level. It takes a man to do that. No wonder women get cheated out of their very goods. They haven't got sand enough to say the things that have to be said to secure their rights."

TRICKY ART DEALERS. Native Parian Sebans For Booming "New Goods." For the booming of a new artist an artist dealer is necessary. He catches his art as young as possible, preferably an exhibitor of crazy canvases at the autumn season of the independent exhibition, and commissions him to paint 100 pictures a year. One by one, several in a row and three, at judicious intervals the dealer sends the pictures to the Hotel Boston for sale by public auction. There he has confederates, who raise the price at each sale, and he buys them in himself. After a few months the young artist's canvases have a certain market value, and the next step is taken to turn their seller into a quack master. The critic is attacked. One of them is asked to look at one dumb, and when he cries out with horror the dealer says: "What? You don't like it? Take it home with you as a favor to me, live with it six months and then!" In due course an art amateur calls upon the critic and cannot contain his admiration for the new artist's picture. "What a masterpiece! The most beautiful thing in art I have seen for a long time!" he exclaims. The dealer begins to invade the critic's mind, and when one or two more enthusiastic amateurs have visited him he is worked up to writing a column of eulogies on the new master. The amateurs are, of course, sent by the dealer.

Will Bear Results. Mr. Joseph Hutt sent a basket of assorted fruits, grapes, grain and vegetables to Manistique this week, in order to prove to several real estate men that Schoecraft soil is capable of producing what he claimed during his stay at the Minnesota state fair. The samples in question were of such nature that it is safe to say that no better selection was ever sent out of the county. It will bear fruit, for the men in question will no doubt secure land for colonization purposes. STATE OF MICHIGAN. The Probate Court for the county of Schoolcraft. Will Bear Results. The proprietor twisted the black hat on his forehead and looked from it to the head saleswoman indignantly. "I remember," he said, "that the lady also ordered that hat tied in back yesterday to be remodelled. Perhaps it will be possible to make the alterations suggested after all." The manager's humility made Standish feel very proud of himself. "That's the only way to deal with these fellows," he said when he left the shop. "You've got to meet them on their own level. It takes a man to do that. No wonder women get cheated out of their very goods. They haven't got sand enough to say the things that have to be said to secure their rights."

Sauerkraut and Pickle Factory Needed in This County

WOULD ASSIST FARMERS

Cabbage Going to Waste now Because of Lack of Local Demand

There is a crying demand for sauerkraut and pickle factory in this county. Thousands of heads of early cabbage are going to waste at the present time because the farmers have no market for them. Also hundreds of bushels of cucumbers are decaying in the fields because the supply exceeds the demand.

A factory utilizing these products could be installed with very small capital as no intricate machinery is needed. Several hundreds of dollars would properly equip a plant to care for a vast quantity of cabbage and cucumbers.

Mr. J. J. Riley has an enormous crop of cabbage and cucumbers this year, and is unable to dispose of it. If such a factory were installed it would furnish a source of revenue for the farmer and be an incentive for him to go into these lines more extensively. It has been demonstrated that no section of the state can raise but ter cabbage or more of it than Schoolcraft county. Cucumbers are also very prolific. Cabbage worms are a rarity here, and the crop can be matured more cheaply here than where pests exist.

The county has given the farmers of dollars in the territory tributary to the city, annually. The factory above mentioned would be another incentive for the farmer to engage more extensively in truck raising. The prosperity of the farmer depends upon the accessibility of the market and the growing demand for what he can raise.

It has also been demonstrated for several years that the peas raised in these raised below the straits. A canning factory could be operated in conjunction with a sauerkraut and pickle factory, as the peas would be out of the way before the cabbage crop would be ready for harvesting.

Mr. Roy Ellis of Northport News, spent Saturday and Sunday in this city. He accompanied his daughter Gladys to the city who spent her vacation with him at Northport. His father who has been making an extended stay in the lower peninsula, also returned with him Saturday.

Mrs. J. B. Lewis has returned from Chicago and Rockford.

IS HIGHLY HONORED

Scott of the Methodist Episcopal church of this city, will leave for Detroit next Monday morning to work of compiling the statistics contained in the reports of the various attend the annual session of the Detroit conference and has charge of the pastors. When his work is completed it requires forty closely printed pages in the annual number to contain it.

These are but two offices in the conference that carry more honor or responsibility, those of secretary and treasurer. The office of statistician has been held by Mr. Scott for several years which bears testimony to the esteem in which he is held by his brethren in the ministry.

At the same time that the Detroit conference is in session the Michigan conference will be held at Jackson, and on Friday of next week will come by special train to Detroit and meet in joint session with the Detroit conference to celebrate the centennial anniversary of the introduction of Methodism in the state of Michigan, the first Methodist sermon having been preached and the first Methodist church having been organized at Detroit in the summer of 1810. At this joint celebration it is expected that the entire ministry of the Methodist Episcopal church in the state numbering more than 900, will be present.

Career of Chase S. Osborn

Chase Salmon Osborn, the Republican nominee for governor, was born in Huntington county Indiana, January 22nd, 1860. His father was one of the early pioneers of Indiana and a leading abolitionist during the agitation of that question. Mr. Osborn's grandfather, Captain Isaac Osborn, was an early navigator of the Ohio river and was one of the pioneers of the Ohio Valley which his great grandfather, John Calson, was a doctor and chaplain of the Continental army from 1776 to 1780.

Chase Osborn, like many of the men of prominence of this day, began his education in the little red school house, and from the age of 10 to 14 was a pupil in the schools of Lafayette, Ind. He then took a three years course in the Purdue university.

His first business venture was picking up old bones, rags and iron, which he sold to junk dealers. During his vacation while attending school he learned to set type and he found a job in a newspaper office setting type out of school hours and turning a press at $2 per week, working Saturdays. He also peddled papers and at one time had a monopoly of the sale of Chicago papers in Lafayette. He went to Chicago and began as a reporter on a daily paper. Later he went to Milwaukee, where newspaper jobs not being plenty, he went to work as a roaster about in a lumber yard. Later opportunity presented itself and he began the newspaper career, in which he has continued since. His first investment was in a paper at Florence, Wis.

Mr. Osborn's physique, being six feet in his stockings with 27 inches of an athlete, he stood him in good stead during the campaign for the has made a most strenuous campaign into the remotest corners of Michigan, and his eloquence has been heard at nearly every cross-road in the Wolverine state since he began his campaign some months ago.

He has many times been compared physically and mentally to Roosevelt. His endurance is remarkable and his oratory is such as stirs the blood of his hearers. He has found time to acquaint himself with the needs of his state and of the natural resources. Through explorations of his own and because of a thorough study of rock formations, he discovered one of the largest deposits of iron in the domain of Canada, uncovering an entirely new iron range.

Early in his life in Michigan Mr. Osborn began his political career and his influence was felt every where he tarried. Always going to the bottom of every subject he informed himself thoroughly and has been able to push his convictions with such force that he has been unusually successful.

In public life Mr. Osborn has shown the same aggressiveness as in his own business. He was appointed state game and fish warden February 1, 1895, and immediately drove violators "to the woods". He was game and fish warden for two years and following this was appointed railroad state commissioner by Governor Fingers. He immediately plunged into this subject with his usual vigor. While railroad commissioner he helped to make the Michigan commission what it is, one of the best and most efficient in the entire United States. He showed remarkable insight in his subject and it was through his efforts that many of the evils and abuses of privilege railroad corporations were stopped and corrected.

Mr. Osborn was a delegate to the last national Republican convention and was chairman of the Michigan delegation. He is an enthusiastic supporter of President Taft and Theodore Roosevelt, and his campaign throughout has been made on the lines of progress and reform and the correction of evils wherever they may exist.

Mr. Osborn was married in 1881 to Miss Lillian G. Jones, daughter of Edward James of Milwaukee. He is a thirty-second degree mason, a Knight Templar a member of the I. O. O. F., Knights of Pythias and B. P. O. E.

Mr. Osborn's success in the present campaign is due principally to his strong personality and his ability to convince his hearers and of the reforms he advocated and promised to inaugurate, should he be nominated and elected. He is a man of most striking personality and will do his own thinking as chief executive of the state of Michigan and drive his theories home by deeds.

"Third on the hill is a Solis," "The Sheriff" a story of a western sheriff told in the good old Solis way.
