START JUNE 1ST

Creamery in Full Blast About June 1st.

At a meeting of the directors of the Manistiquette creamery, held this week, it was decided to start the creamery about June 1st. They announce that a specialty will be made of ice cream, and buttermilk will be delivered to all customers desiring it in any quantity desired.

Manager Gustafson is making contracts with farmers for delivery of cream and is meeting with success wherever he goes and indications are that the local institution will have a fairly prosperous season notwithstanding the fact that numerous creameries have sprung up in territory contiguous to Manistiquette.

IMPROVING ROAD

The "East Road" in Being Patched Up By Road Commissioners.

While the preliminaries attendant upon the location of the post bonds are being arranged, the road commissioners have decided to repair the route leading from the city, and work in that line was commenced yesterday morning. The east road leading to the Brassell and Snow hills has a first class foundation but the surface is much worn and a top dressing of crushed stone is needed. It will not cost much to put this material as well as the one leading through the Graham district in Hinawatha township in first class condition, and these improvements will be paid out of funds already available. John Dayko has been employed by the commissioners to have charge of the work.

FOUND COPPER

Excellent Sample Found in Vicinity of Garden.

Peter Gustafson, a farmer living near Garden Mich., while raking his wheat east of the village, picked up what he supposed to be a curious formation of rock, but upon close examination it proved to be a solid piece of copper weighing twelve and one half pounds. ## CITY HONORED

Wm. Carpenter Elected as Pick-er at Grand Rapids by K. O. T. M. W.

At the state convention of the K. O. T. M. W. of the World held at Grand Rapids this week, Mr. Wm. Carpenter was elected to the office of pick-er. This means that he is in line for advancement in the list of state officers and, having no personal money, he will, in time, hold the highest office within the gift of the state convention to bestow. His election is an honor worthy bestowal, and is an honor to Manistiquette.

MADE A START

A Derrick Scow to be Used in Harbor Improvement, Here.

The Log Bob Toel of Menominee, brought a derrick scow late this week. Same is to be used in the harbor work here. Greffing Bros. are completing work at Menominee, and as soon as they finish there, will begin work here. Timber is arriving daily from the west and is being piled across the river by W. H. Melulken, who has the contract for unloading same. Just when work on the harbor will be commenced is problematical, but no doubt it will be started within the next ten days.

BURN 'EM UP

Pay No Attention to Exploiters of Other Sections.

Whenever you receive a circular letter extolling California, the Canadian Northwest, Florida or some other seaport, where money hangs on bushes and where men live to be 60 years old and where women grow handsomer the older they get, burn it and take a firmer grip on your old home in Michigan, and thank the Lord that he predestined you to be a resident of the best state in the union, and in the best section of the state, the upper peninsula.

No other section can offer you better opportunities for advancement, if you are agriculturally inclined than the good old upper peninsula, where one or two potatoes make a bushel, and where peaches and apples grow so large that one is sufficient for a family of growing children that are lovers of fruit.

When this section is developed it will be ascertained that the original Garden of Eden was located within its confines. Why men should listen to the wiles of the real estate agent that desires to sell you a patch of sand in a country that has enviable climate, and where land sells for the most prolific crop that you can raise, when they live in this section where the climate is invigorating, where good water abounds, where everything that grows in the middle west grows larger, better and more prolific than elsewhere, is beyond our ken.

Our citizens that did listen to the glittering con of promoters in the past, were reaped and were glad to return where they were sure of growing crops and where land could be purchased at a nominal sum instead of $250 per acre.

If you are a citizen of the upper peninsula you should return thanks three times a day to you God, and then should induce others to cast their lot in this land of promise.

GROUP CONQUERED

Every Mother Should Read and Remember This.

In any home where a child has a tendency to croup a bottle of HYOMEI (pronounce it High-mee) should be kept constantly on hand. In a sudden attack of croup with difficult breathing and extreme distress is apt to come on at any time. The course to be pursued is plain. Send for your doctor at once and in the meantime drop 30 drops of HYOMEI into a bowl of boiling water, and hold the child's head over it, cover with a towel or cloth so that only the air filled with Hyomei vapor is breathed.

This method of treatment has saved many a child's life and millions of croupy children should see to it that HYOMEI is always on hand. Full instructions for its use are included in each package. A 50¢ bottle of HYOMEI is all you need in treating croup. This is known in all drug stores as Extra Hyomei Inhalant and at A. S. Putnam & Co. and druggists everywhere who sell it. Brantley HYOMEI. It is guaranteed to cure croup, whooping cough, colds, or bronchitis, coughs and colic, or mumps.

The Local Paper.

Any town that does not adequately support its local press is short-sighted and lacking in public spirit. The local paper, beyond all other agencies, diffuses local news, promotes commercial prosperity, and is the best advertising medium for its business men. A paper asks support not as a matter of charity but that it may the more perfectly serve the interests of the community. It is something which in many places merchants and the public generally overlook. But when this support is accorded every rightful interest in the town is a gainer.

It Startled the World.

When the astounding claims were first made for Bucklen's Arnica Salve, skeptics of a certain kind everywhere have proved them true, and everywhere it is now known as the best salve on earth for Burns, Boils, Scalds, Sores, Cuts, Bruises, Sprains, Swellings, Eczema, Chapped Hands, Fever Sores and Piles. Only 25¢ at E. N. Orr & Co.

The Circus.

The circus is being put upon the rack in the towns of the state is the annual event. There are some people who object to a circus but while they put it on economic lines it is not that at all. It is because the milk of human kindness has curdled in their veins and they have become mere things. A circus is the life of the world. It is a panorama that is worth the while. When a man gets to old to enjoy the circus he needs to go to doctor for treatment. But when he gets too old to want what the children enjoy he ought to be dead. There is no work, nor place for him in this life. The circus always agitation against the circus but it is the meanness of crabbled old age.

A Burglar's Awful Deed.

May not paralyze a home so completely as a mothers lung illness. But Dr. King's New Life Pills are a splendid cure for women. "They gave me wonderful benefit in constipation and female trouble," writes Mrs. M. C. Dunlap, of Lead Springs, Tenn. If ailing try them. 25¢ a box. Sold at E. N. Orr & Co.

GOOD ROADS

Communities Must be Educated and Enthused to Achieve Them.

Probably no one subject now being generally considered by the people is of more importance to everyone than how to secure good roads. It is a difficult problem to solve. To secure it with any considerable degree of success, public sentiment, public spirit must be behind it and support it. The community must not only talk in favor of it but the individuals composing the community must be willing, and ready with their money, raised as taxes and with labor to secure the desired end. It will take lots of money and labor to make and keep good roads. Sometimes more damage is done to the roads in a few days than in all the rest of the year. When the frost goes out in the spring, wagons cut into the roads axle deep and they are left in a frightful condition. And this may expect to be repeated several times a year. It takes labor, and plenty of it to restore them to a desirable condition. It will require money and a liberal supply of it to restore roads thus cut to a condition that travel and traffic on them is satisfactory. We will have to spend dollars where we now spend pennies to make the roads such as we now need. In our judgment any reasonable methods resorted to for the purpose of raising money to make good roads is justified. We are not satisfied with moderately good roads, we want the best obtainable, and so far we have been trying to get them without much cost, but will have to give that up. If you want a good thing—and particularly in roads—it will cost money and plenty of it; and for this reason: This week they may be good and next week out all to pieces. To get good roads, substantial long-lived culverts and bridges must be put in. The roads must be scraped and in rough places with plow and scraper. After this is done they must be smoother and all this repeated whenever by use, wear or otherwise they begin to go down. He couldn't be elected road overseer" is a phrase we have coined and used to express our contempt for that office. We have had contempt for the office—not for the officer—and for his work, and for the work we have had to do under him; but a change is coming; we are beginning to want better roads, and we will have them whenever we are willing to pay the price.

HE FAVORS IT

Governor Osborn Endorses Reciprocity and Says Michigan Favors it.

Governor Chase S. Osborn has sent a message to President Taft, offering his personal services in favor of the proposed Canadian reciprocity treaty and declaring that the Michigan farmers' representatives who have been opposing the treaty at Washington do not represent all the Michigan farmers by any means and do not reflect the dominant sentiment of the state. Governor Osborn stated that he sent the message in his private capacity as a citizen. The governor's home is in the border city of Sault Ste. Marie. Following is the message:

"When will the vote on reciprocity probably be taken in the senate? It can be of the earliest resort in favor of the treaty I will go to Washington. The state representatives of the farmers of Michigan, as alleged, who have been in the front rank of their views, do not reflect, in my opinion, the dominant sentiment of Michigan and do not represent all of the farmers by any means. I am a full member of the Michigan Grange and know something of the farmers sentiment. "The Michigan farmers are patriots and hold the national welfare above dollars, as has been proved. In this instance there is no evidence that there are dollars at stake and the national welfare is unquestionably involved. (Signed) Chase S. Osborn."

LOCAL FIRM WILL CONTINUE VALUABLE AGENCY.

E. N. Orr & Co. of this city have just closed a deal whereby they will continue to be agents for ZEMO—the well known remedy for Eczema, Dandruff, and all diseases of the skin and scalp.

The extraordinary leap that this clean liquid external treatment for skin affections has made in public favor in the last few years proves its wonderful curative properties and makes it indeed a valuable addition to the line of— or retail agents carried by E. N. Orr & Co. They have a limited supply of samples one of which will be given free to any skin sufferer who wishes to test the merit of the medicine. A booklet on "How to Preserve The Skin," will also be given to those interested.

Theory and Facts.

That Boston doctor who bursts into fame by declaring that beans have little value as a food, has a few hundred thousand old soldiers who they managed to exist and do such hard marching and fighting on a diet of beans. The scientific shams also say that little food value and yet more people live on rice alone than any other article or half dozen articles of food.

Danger for Manistique People—Appendicitis.

Many Manistique people have wind or gas in the stomach or bowels, sour stomachs or constipation, and not know that these are symptoms of chronic Appendicitis which may any minute become acute. They should try simple buckhorn bark glysterine etc., as compounded by Herlika—the new German Appendicitis remedy—A SINGLE DOSE will bring relief. A. S. Putnam & Co. state that the QUICK action of Herlika is a constant surprise to people.

RULING A SURPRISE

Attorney General Holds Machine That Overpays is Gambling Device.

According to an opinion handed down by Atty. Gen. Kahn on Thursday there are over a thousand slot and gambling device machines now being operated in the state that will be put out of business.

A prosecuting attorney in the state asked for an opinion, and the opinion reached by the attorney general is a great surprise to many. He holds that any machine that gives more than value received in any case he holds that such a machine comes under the gambling law of the state, and is consequently illegal. For instance, gum machine that pays out a stick of gum for each penny is held not to be a gambling device, but when such a machine gives out more than one cent at any time such a machine is held to be a gambling device.

There are thousands of cigar machines in operation in the state that pay out one cigar for every five cent piece placed in the machine, but when the machine stops at certain figures as high as five cents can be obtained for five cent pieces, the machines are now ruled to be gambling devices.

Independence Day.

Wednesday was the ninety-seventh anniversary of the independence of Norway, and while the event was not observed by local members of that nationality, yet all entered into the spirit of the day, and their thoughts reverted to the fatherland across the sea. While Norway and Sweden enjoyed separate law-making bodies yet it has only been a few years since the king of Sweden ceased to be monarch of Norway.

A Summer Hotel.

The city of St. Ignace is to have a summer hotel notwithstanding the fact that the Cadillac was recently destroyed by fire. The pavilion built several years ago by the city of St. Ignace, was sold Monday evening to Eugene LaChance for the sum of $6,000.00 and same will be fitted up as a summer hotel. The building is admirably located and is an ideal edifice for hotel use.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

Believe only half you hear and then proceed to forget two-thirds of it.

Try to live in such a manner that you want to be dead one till you die.

The women who wear the up-to-date narrow skirts look funny when they walk up steps or stairs.

The average man does not enjoy trouble yet he does not walk about with an olive branch beneath his teeth.

A high school boy when asked what the three R's stood for said that he thought it was for "rah-rah-rah."

Manistique's beautiful lawns look even more beautiful since they are polka-dotted with the pesky dandelions.

If you insist on running things, make up your mind that a lot of people will be awaiting an opportunity of giving you both barrels.

Our idea of being busy is when you are filling two positions and are temporarily without an assistant to take a portion of the burden from your shoulders.

No man with a pension ever thought it was big enough, and it isn't when you consider the work done by the veteran. He is always looking for an increase.

There are so many chronic kickers that if some of them got to Heaven they will register a kick about the quality of the gold used in paving the main thoroughfares of that haven of rest.

Manure is worth dollars. Have you ever noticed that the prosperous farmers in the vicinity of Manistique always take a load of fertilizer home with them every time they come to town?

The time will come when Manistique will desire to fill its principal streets of the Manistique jules that fence them in. The poles could be made more attractive were they painted a white color.

That advertising pays was again demonstrated after all the publicity given Warden Russell and the Marquette prison, here comes a prisoner at Detroit who asked the judge to sentence him to Marquette, for he knew that he would get a square deal there.

If you have not handed in your dollar to one of the banks or to the committee in charge, do so now. Schoolcraft county is moving very slowly in the matter of membership in the Upper Peninsula Development association. It should not be said of this county that it has not done its share.

This thing they call luck is really nothing more than energy, industry and honesty running along at high speed. Look over the most successful men at Manistique, and while they are called lucky, you will ascertain that their luck is the fruit of unremitting toil and frugal habits.

The average editor that writes his own editorials is often compelled to grind them out at the rate of a column an hour. The subject matter may be uninteresting, depending much on the mood of the writer. Then, to be may use "poor grammar," and may give persons an opportunity to criticize his stuff, who could not write a column of matter in a week if they worked ten hours daily. Few editors ever reread or revise their copy before handing it to the printer, and no wonder mistakes occur when it is taken into consideration that the typesetter is no more infallible than the overworked copy machine.

The fellows that think Manistique is entering upon a decadent period will have another guess coming. With the harbor improvements, the rebuilding of the chemical plant and the creation of a re-plant, and well defined rumors that the old town will have a mammoth wood working factory, the situation is brighter than some would lead you to believe. All of the improvements that are being made are of a permanent nature. For instance, the Lake Superior Iron & Chemical Co. is expanding $250,000 here, and they are not doing that for the fun of spending it either. Manistique is destined to be one of the largest cities of the upper peninsula within a decade. Watch us grow.

A lot of work is being done by those in charge of the Upper Peninsula Development association, without cost. The officers of the association, Messrs. Green, Davidson, Knox and Reade are men of affairs and can afford the time they are devoting to the good of the peninsula, and they are doing it all without cost to anyone. The newspapers, too are doing their share. Mr. Knox, who is in charge of the publicity committee, reports that more than 600 newspapers are assisting in the work, and that they were paid for their services, the amount due them would be far in excess of $50,000. All are actuated by a spirit of loyalty, and a section of any state that possesses citizens of that stamp will make a rapid forward advance.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

Every dog has its day, likewise the dandelion, and this is it.

It is almost impossible to laugh at the jokes of a man you don't like.

A woman was talking this week of "Manistique's little Rich." Now what do you think of that?

Little beds of dowers, little coats of paint; make a pleasant outcrop out of one that ain't.

The tree planter has done much to make Manistique more beautiful. Are you planting your quota?

A woman with a penchant for pitchers has accumulated a collection of 800. No, they are not lace ball pitchers.

Speaker Champ Clark claims that we shall have a Democratic president in 1912 but that far has refrained from mentioning the color of the presidential hair.

You have often heard men say: "I was so mad yesterday that I certainly would have killed him had I met him yesterday." Still very few persons are killed in that manner.

The poet Helme once said: "If it rained alvies as it once did inna, all I would get would be divers in my head." Yet, after all, true success should not be gauged by the mere accumulation of wealth.

When one travels about and sees the green velvet that covers the ground, and notices the trees unfolding their mantle of a similar color, he instinctively gives thanks for being alive, so that he can enjoy it all.

One of the finest places in the upper peninsula to spend an outing is along the St. Marys river, and the trip on the river would not be complete without an extended stay at Detroit, one of the most beautifully located little cities in the state of Michigan.

The only difference between an old maid and a girl of seventeen years of age is that the former has more sense. She also understands human nature better and has more sympathy for the erring ones and more forbearance for the weaknesses and follies of human nature.

This is an age of independent thinking. Parties must stand for the twentieth century ideals and ideas. A man has no more business being a member of a party because his father was than he has of having a corn because his father had. The party that wins and that respects the people must be a twentieth century party.

When Stair of the Detroit Journal ascribed to his own satisfaction that he stood as little show of representing Michigan in the senate as the average country editor has of becoming a man of wealth, he discreetly dictated an editorial in which he stated that he was not and never had been a candidate for the honor.

The White Marble Lime Co. is desirous of improving the breed of cattle in Schoolcraft county, and to show that they are in earnest in the matter have purchased thoroughbred Holstein stock at a great cost, thereby giving the farmers of this county an opportunity for advancement in this direction. It costs no more to maintain a thoroughbred than a scrub, and when you desire to sell your cattle the higher prices will compensate you for your enterprise.

It is nearly time to discuss the Fourth of July celebration. Manistique would do the proper thing if it forgoes the celebration this year and to donate the money usually raised, for a three day fair to be held during the coming autumn. The Pioneer-Tribune proposed this idea last autumn, after the successful fair held then. The business men would realize bigger returns on their donations in this manner. Large crowds would be attracted to the city on every day of the fair, while with a celebration only one day is observed, and the excess store is closed during the afternoon. We would like to have expressions on this matter from our business men and others.

A Beautiful Custom

The time for lodges to decorate the graves of deceased members is near at hand. There is not a more beautiful custom extant in these latter days than remembering departed brethren with flowers. It is not necessary that the floral offerings should be extravagant for the spirit in which they are given counts much more. We remember a little incident that occurred years ago that accentuates the idea. A wealthy man in the community in which we resided in the far west many years ago, died, and of course his casket was burdened with choice flowers, yet more than this wealth of offerings, were conspicuously displayed little wreaths of dandelion and other common flowers given by poor children whom he had befriended during his lifetime, and their grief at his leave taking was genuine for he had been their friend. A bunch of daisies or dandelion blossoms, given in the true spirit, counts for more than orchids and wreaths of rare flowers that are given simply for show and display. While the custom of decoration by fraternal societies is of recent origin, it is one that will never die. Churches should also follow the custom. Men and women that have been factors in church life, as well as those that have been posts of influence, are too readily forgotten by their churches and communities. This should not be so. We have had an editor who practically gave up his life in behalf of this community. He spent years for the upbuilding of Manistique, and yet his humble mound has never been decorated, save by his family and the G. A. R. Post. This community would honor itself were it to annually decorate his grave and show, in this manner, a slight appreciation of his services in behalf of those for whom he sacrificed his life.

Those that pass beyond, are too easily forgotten by friends, relatives, lodges and communities. When the lodge of which you are a member sets a day for decorating the graves of deceased brethren, turn out if you are able to do so. It is your duty. Do it.

Nature makes the cures after all.

Now and then she gets into a tight place and needs helping out.

Things get started in the wrong direction.

Something is needed to check disease and start the system in the right direction toward health.

Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil with hypophosphites can do just this.

It strengthens the nerves, feeds famished tissues, and makes rich blood.

TUBERCULOSIS

Dr. Nelson Writes an Interesting Article on Subject.

Tuberculosis is a communicable, preventable and curable disease. The great decrease in the death rate from tuberculosis has been due and will still be due to sanitary and social betterment, but chiefly to the improvement of the working man's working conditions, and his living conditions at home. The conditions that breed and scatter physical contagion are precisely those that degrade and marditise the soul and character. Rightness of physical living is necessary to righteousness and vice versa.

We should guard against the infection by all possible means. We should have some form of ordinance for the inspection of dairies and dairy cows in order to insure a good healthy milk supply. The tuberculosis test should be administered to all milk cows. Prevention of expectation in public, destruction of all sputum, notification of all cases infected with tuberculosis, and the instruction of the young in the principles of hygiene. All these things are of the highest value and worth more than ten times their cost and trouble. But at least twice as potent in my judgment in the eradication of tuberculosis will be light and airy rooms, good short hours of indoor work and above all a reversion to our vigorous happy, ancestral life in the open air, expanding the chest, reddening the blood, hardening the muscles and making life once more really worth living. Sun light, fresh air, and open windows are the great armor against the attack of tuberculosis.

Most physicians, as well as the laity, up till a few years ago, have considered tuberculosis an incurable disease, and have wrongly educated the public to believe that tuberculosis is always fatal. Improved methods of early diagnosis and the present plan of treatment are taking away many of the terrors of the disease, if seen in time. The early diagnosis of tuberculosis cannot be made from one symptom alone, the sooner we do this the more lives we will save. Someone has said that "We must care for the consumptive in the right place, in the right way and at the right time, until he is dead." At the present time, the idea in the diagnosis of tuberculosis is to recognize the disease as early as possible in its course. It is now known that the presence of tubercle bacilli in pure culture in the body does not always produce a febrile temperature, it very seldom fails to produce a distinct quickness of the pulse, as a rule it is not until secondary infection has taken place, that an increase in temperature is noticed. In suspected cases, the pulse should be taken at least three times a day, for three or four days. If, for a above ninety, then there is every reason to suspect that an inflammatory process is running its course somewhere in the body.

such cases as have a family tendency to rapid pulse, or those in whom a run-down condition is present, from other causes should be eliminated. The temperature of the body should be taken three or four times a day, for a few days. If there is found to be a rise of temperature at some time of the day, then there is reason to suspect that some morbid process is at work. And this morbid process is usually tuberculosis, and the most usual localization of the tubercle bacilli is in the lungs.

After the pulse and the temperature, the most important easily recognizable sign of beginning tuberculosis, is loss of weight. There is a definite normal weight for each individual, at about which he should maintain himself, if he is to retain good health. Any notable departure from this is a sign of some disease process at work. The individual weight is one of the most important elements for the recognition of the condition of the general health yet it is very often neglected. Every individual should know his normal weight, and when overworking or exposed to conditions that may cause deterioration of health, should watch it regularly so as to determine without delay any distinct loss of weight that may occur. Children should be taught the habit of early life of knowing their weight and of taking it regularly. Toward the end of the school year, when over work and anxiety because of examination are apt to do much harm to delicate children, there is no earlier or less failille criterion of the condition of their health than their weight. Growing children should be constantly increasing in weight, and their mothers should know what their weight is from week to week. As soon as there is a failure to increase regularly in weight, it should be considered as a danger signal, and the child should be made to take more rest, and be tempted to eat of the more nutritious food, and if there is not prompt gain in weight, the child should be taken away from school. In adults, loss of weight is a danger signal that must not be neglected. If people are normally under weight, that is, if they are more than ten pounds below the average weight that persons of their height should have, then especially is any loss of weight likely to be significant. If there is a story of loss of weight with a cough in an individual already under weight, this is of itself sufficient justification for the diagnosis of beginning tuberculosis, even though there may be no expectation at all, and the signs in the lungs only suspicious.

Cough is a prominent symptom of tuberculosis, and its persistence beyond ten days or two weeks under ordinary treatment should always prove a suspicious sign.

If a patient suffering with a slight though persistent cough, has a slight raise of temperature and an increase in the rapidity of the pulse with some loss of weight, and there are any circumstances in the environment that point to the possibility of tuberculosis contagion, it is fair to assume that the affection is tuberculosis, even though there may be no bacilli in the sputum and no physical signs of the lungs may be slight.

The earliest possible diagnosis of tuberculosis, then depends not on the discovery of any one significant symptom, but on a study of the actual conditions of the individual patient. In doubtful cases, when physical signs are lacking, yet there is good reason for the suspicion of the presence of tuberculosis, the pulse and temperature record as taken at least three times a day for three or four days and the weight record for a month back or more, should be in the physician's hands. Besides all this, the environment of the patient and especially his surroundings during his daily occupation, should be carefully searched for any possible source of tuberculosis contagion. Only when all the information obtainable from these sources is negative is the physician justified in pronouncing definitely that no tuberculosis is present.

Many of the cases who are unfortunately cut off by tuberculosis were told by some physician or other at the beginning of their illness that they did not have tuberculosis. Nothing could well be more dangerous than a mistake of this kind. The patient should be told of his condition, not only that he may cooperate intelligently with the physician, but also for the safety and protection of others.

Education by a conscientious press, by the clergyman, the doctor, and the teacher are the greatest means whereby we can hope to stamp out and eradicate the great "white pla ue."

Every Supervisor is Expected to Act as Fire Wardens of His Township.

As a means of preventing and fighting forest fires this summer, State Game Warden G. S. Pierce is sending out letters to every supervisor in the upper peninsula, advising them as to their duties as local fire wardens. With the letters he is sending a number of fire warning notices, which are to be posted in conspicuous places throughout the township.

The state warden this year is asking every supervisor to report him monthly regarding the fires that have occurred in his township. Heretofore it has been customary to make a report only at the close of the season. In the course of his letter to the supervisors, Mr. Pierce says: "The law makes you responsible for the prevention and suppression of forest fires and you should not for any reason shirk that responsibility. The most valuable work can be done in preventing as far as possible the starting of fires during the dry times. When a dry time begins in your territory, make a trip around your township notifying all farmers, settlers, hunters, etc., that fire must not be started for any purpose until rains come again. The law provides for paying you for this work. By putting in two or three days in that way you can practically prevent forest fires in your township and save many times the amount of your services which would result from allowing fires to start and then trying to suppress them by employing a large number of men. If you get the people of your township for thinking that they must be careful during dry times you will in most cases save the necessity of any expense for fire fighting. If any resident of your township does not comply with your orders and is careless about setting fires during dry times please report him to the state deputy for your district or to this office and I will see that he is prosecuted for his carelessness, but in most cases no prosecutions are necessary because people will exercise the necessary care, when the matter is called to their attention and they are notified of the damages that are likely to result from carelessness during dry times. Do not fail to start out as soon as a dry time begins and warn people about not setting fires for clearing lands or for any other purpose during such dry times, and if fires are burning at that time notify people to suppress them. If a fire should get started and get to running in your township you should use all necessary means to suppress it at the earliest possible moment. The law authorizes you to call on anybody to assist in suppressing a fire and any man who refuses to aid you is liable to prosecution. The forest fire problem for your township is up to you this season and you should use every effort to see that no damage is done in your township. Whatever assistance this department can give you will be willingly given."

Mr. Pierce also asks each supervisor to notify him whether he is able to look after the forest fire situation in all of his township, or whether he desires to have a special warden appointed for each surveyed town.

HANDSOME CHURCH

Interior of St. Francis de Sales Church Now Complete.

By the indefatigable zeal and courageous efforts of the pastor, the Catholics of this city now possess one of the handsomest churches of the upper peninsula. Not only has the old building been redolored in size but the interior has been so remodeled and renovated as to make it practically new.
 The generosity of the members manifested itself on diverse occasions as is seen especially from their donations of flowers, beautiful gifts, and a set of new pews, which were respectively given by different societies and individuals.
 The ample floor throughout the entire building, the new furnace, the large basement, the beautiful electric light display etc; give the building an imposing aspect.
 The parishioners have every reason to feel satisfied with, and proud of their noble outpourings. The congregation, though small at first, is steadily increasing and now numbers about 1200 members.

WAS INSTRUCTIVE

Meeting of School Officers an Interesting One.

Messrs. Edward Needham, A. L. Root, R. J. Arrowood, F. L. Morrison and County Commissioner Cornell attended the school meeting held at Escanaba last Monday.

Questions of interest to the management of schools were discussed by Supt. Wright and the school officers present.

It was resolved that it would be a stop along the line of progress in this proposed legislation should be enacted by the next legislature.

1. Medical instruction for all schools.
2. Compulsory township unit law.
3. Sanitary school houses.
4. Reform of city boards.
5. Compulsory free text books.

The amendments to the school laws, adopted by the last legislature were discussed.

Supt. Wright believes in free text books on the principle that the schools should be free. He states that the plan is not an experiment, as it has been adopted by a number of districts, and effects a good saving. In Saginaw where free text books have been furnished for several years the cost per pupil is only fifty cents.

Supt. Wright also expressed himself as being heartily in favor of the medical inspection of schools. He explained the inspection system in vogue in New York state and showed how defective hearing and eye sight and even bad teeth, when corrected after a medical examination, has made a healthy child of one who was before a dull child.

He also called attention to the fact that the new laws provide that the county school commissioner shall appoint a trust worthy to act in districts that have no trust worthy officers of their own, and that the commissioner is empowered to employ a clerk, his salary being fixed according to the population of the county.

The Schoolcraft county contingent report a very pleasant and profitable stay in Escanaba. It is a matter of regret that all districts of the county were not represented. Mr. Wright's talks during the sessions of the meeting certainly explained the present laws governing the schools of the state in such a manner that all present are now thoroughly conversant with them.

Goes to Europe.

Mr. Chas. Mattson and family leave next week for their old home in Oland, Sweden, where they will spend the greater portion of the summer. Mr. Mattson has been engaged in jobbing in the vicinity of Heston for several seasons, and has earned an extended vacation.

IS ENTHUSIASTIC.

Mr. Bennett of Detour, Great Believer in U. P.

Hon. James Bennett of Detour, who has been engaged by the Upper Peninsula Development association to do active work in the field in an effort to secure colonists for the upper peninsula, informed the writer at Detour this week, that much of his work would be confined to the lower peninsula, and that a concerted effort would be made to get Michigan acquainted with Michigan. It is believed that many of the residents across the straits can be induced to cast their lot with us when they become acquainted with the boundless agricultural possibilities and the abundance of desirable lands above the straits. He also stated that the area of tillable land was a surprise even to persons that have made the upper peninsula their home for years. As the forests are being lumbered, soil much richer than that across the straits is being discovered every day, and its richness as well as area

HAS NO SUBSTITUTE

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

is a revelation to all of us. He also said that from what he could learn, Schoolcraft county had a greater area of tillable lands according to size, than Chippewa county, which by the way, is conceded to be one of the best agricultural counties in the peninsula.

Much of the story land that bounds the St. Marys river, will be utilized by fruit growers. He recently secured a tract of two acres in the vicinity of Detour for an eastern fruit grower, who will plant the entire area in fruit trees and dispose of twenty acre tracts after the trees are bearing. Plans are being made to purchase a tract in that section, and Mr. Bennett claims that he found a bear in apple tree in the woods, that had sprung from a root that was accidentally deposited in the soil.

Speaking of farm values in Chippewa county, and their rapid advance, he cited the case of a man that paid for his farm, an improved one, in one year from his crop of peas. The former owner of the farm called upon the new owner at the expiration of the year, hoping to secure a small sum to apply on the indebtedness, and to secure the interest. Imagine his surprise when the former owner who now owned the farm opened a handkerchief bank and counted out $1,000. All he owned. Another fellow in the vicinity of Rudyard got the western fever, and sold his farm for about $2200. A year later the new owner was offered $7,000 for his farm, while the man that went west in practically on the financial rocks. These cases are cited to prove that we of the peninsula, hardly comprehend the opportunities that lie at our very doors, and which have been overlooking to beguile us into accepting momentary fancies for the asking.

While the Western States Securities Co., which owns a million acres in the upper peninsula, is not adverse to securing European farmers to settle its area, yet they also desire natives of Michigan and the middle west to cast their lot with us, where they can secure land at a nominal figure and where money can be more rapidly made than in any other agricultural or horticultural section of the United States.

OFFERED GOOD JOB

Jack MacNaughton Tendered Position by Gov. Osborn.

Mr. Jack MacNaughton was recently offered an $800 position in the state librarian's office by Governor Chas. S. Osborn, but he has decided to remain in Manistique. The late J. H. MacNaughton was foreman of the Florence Mining News, when Mr. Osborn was its editor and owner. Both were compelled to work with jeans handy for instant use, for, owing to the fight Mr. Osborn made on the lawless element, he as well as his employees were in constant danger of assassination. It was very thoughtful of the governor to remember the son of his old-time associate in this substantial manner, but Jack holds a satisfactory position here at the present time. Again it is proven that a boy that is willing to "dig" is never out of employment, and there are times when he is compelled to choose between several positions. The chronic idler never is pastored in that manner.

Horses Taken to Pasture.

I have pastures to rent for from 15 to 20 horses, either by the month, or by the season, on the old "Haley farm" in Garden. For terms, apply either in person, or by letter to Harry Hennessey, Garden, Delta County Mich.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Presbyterian church will meet with Mesdames Holstein and Adkins, at the home of the former next Wednesday afternoon.

TO MAKE ICE CREAM

Local Creamery to Engage Extensively in that Line.

The local creamery will make a specialty of time cream this season. The creameries at Cooks, Engadine and Germauk and the high express rates makes it almost impossible for the local institution to secure sufficient cream to make butter in large quantities at this time of the season, but the making of butter will not be discontinued. The time will come when a creamery at present located in Schoolcraft county will be enabled to secure all the cream necessary to keep them in operation during the entire season, but at the present time salesmen of creamery outfits have succeeded in making the business precarious one for all interested therein. In fact, Schoolcraft county is passing through the same experience that every other county has come through with. Someone is bound to lose money in creamery ventures until the time arrives when the grazing lands of the entire county are utilized. The promoter always sees to it that he gets his money, and if money is to be lost the well meaning, enterprising men of the community or county that is overstocked with creameries, are made the goat.

Manistique possesses one of the best creamery plants in the upper peninsula. It is ably managed and has a practical man in charge of it. It should be running at full capacity now, and the time will come when its capacity will be taxed, but this will not be the case this year from present indications.

The heating plant at the court house has been unsatisfactory for some time and upon two occasions the building had a very narrow escape from destruction by fire. Architect DeMar of the Soo, was in the city yesterday and met with the building committee for the purpose of submitting plans for the consideration of the board of supervisors.

The latest news received from Augustana hospital, Chicago, relative to the condition of Mrs. Carl Thorberg, is very satisfactory. She is gaining strength rapidly and is recovering from the effects of the serious operation through which she passed last Monday.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Presbyterian church will meet with Mesdames Holstein and Adkins, at the home of the former next Wednesday afternoon.

ANENT RECIPROCIY

The Question Little Understood and Not as Bad as Painted.

Just now there is a widespread agitation against the reciprocity idea among the farmers of the country. They are afraid that it will reduce the prices on the products of the farm. On the other hand the people living in the congested districts, and working for wages, are favoring the idea because they think that it will reduce the cost of living, which, by the way is entirely too high at the present time.

If it becomes a law, we believe that both classes will be disappointed in its operation. You will find that living has not been reduced to an appreciable extent and that the producer will receive satisfactory prices for everything that he can raise on the farm.

It, however, gives a lot of politicians an opportunity of making capital of the matter, and some of them who are holding positions of influence in organizations, have announced that they will deliver the votes of all of the members of these organizations in a solid block against Taft, should he be the candidate of the Republican party in 1912.

This agitation will appear childish and futile a year hence. We'll all walk up and ascertain that water has found its level and that General Public, is as he always has been, the goat.
