Snyder Revisits Manistiquette After an Absence of a Quarter Century.

What I dropped into Manistiquette on the air route I never would have thought it was the city that I was so familiar with a quarter of a century ago," was the way in which Richard Snyder of Chicago, ex-governor of Michigan, looking at Manistiquette in his private car, he was greatly surprised at the changes made by the city which he last saw it. The shade trees, well kept lawns, the fine homes, the houses and the yard around them, the fine streets, and the substantial business houses of brick were a new quantity a quarter century ago and no wonder Mr. Snyder gazed at the panorama that met his eyes.

Mr. Snyder was an employee of the K. & D. Co., as mentioned in the paper many years ago, and moved to Chicago where he engaged in business. He was very successful, and some time has retired from active business life, and is devoting all of his time in travel. Some of the members of his family are accompanying him on his cruise of the coast and their yacht has all of the conveniences of a palatial home. All his friends are pleased to hear of his prosperity and they are more than pleased that he made Manistiquette a visit. The pleasure is mutual, however, for Mr. Snyder is enjoying every minute of his stay here. He likes the people, and he is sure with our climate. That Manistiquette will be included in his future travels is a foregone conclusion.

Mr. S. names of this city, is the only known resident of the city that is in Europe at the present time. He is in Norway, and may be delayed in return voyage. He has intended to return early in September, but the time of his return is now problematical.

SAD FATALITY

Albert Henry, Fremont, Mich., Drowned at Dickinson's Resort.

Albert Henry, aged twenty years, of Fremont, Mich., who was spending his vacation at the Dickinson resort at Uno, was drowned in fishing in one of the lakes near the resort in question. The body was recovered Monday morning, and prepared for shipment to Fremont for interment. Mrs. John Metzger and John Henry accompanied the remains to Fremont, and arrived in the city Monday evening, leaving the following morning. The deceased was a grandson of Mr. A. H. Dickinson.

THE RACES

Nels Klugstad's Horse Won Honors at Matinee Last Saturday.

The first of a series of matinee races was held at the fair grounds last Saturday afternoon, and a good sized crowd witnessed what proved to be a good horse race. Nels Klugstad's horse won the race in straight heats, beating the horses owned by Fred Cooper and Ronald Delaney. The best time made was 1:14, which is exceptionally good time considering the condition of the track. The horses are evenly matched, and the results of future matinees will be awaited with much interest.

Mr. V. Kilpatrick, representative of the Manistiquette Chronicle, was in the city this week for the purpose of securing a representative to promote the circulation of that excellent newspaper in this city. The Chronicle, which is published at 2:00 o'clock in the afternoon, reaches Manistiquette at 7 o'clock the same evening, therefore giving Manistiquettes the latest war news twelve hours earlier than any other daily newspaper reaching Manistiquette.

HEALTH TRAIN

Visited Manistiquette Wednesday. Little Interest Shown by Residents.

The "Health First and Pure Food Special" of the state board of health which is touring Michigan arrived in the city Tuesday evening and remained in the city until noon Wednesday. On the fact that the coming of the train was not properly advertised and owing to the fact that the cars were "spitted" in the vicinity of the Soo Line depot made it impossible for the citizens of the east side to visit the cars.

The following experts were in charge of the train: Dr. M. J. McLaughlin of the U. S. Dept. of agriculture; P. S. Shannon, state analyst; W. Geazley, asst. state analyst; Chas. Webb, practical dairyman; Russell Woodruff, weights and measures; Danl. McClure, asst. secretary of the state board of health; D. W. Binham, asst. state sanitary engineer; Reed Chambers, asst. state bacteriologist; and E. Ross, asst. state statistician.

Speaking of the visit of the special to Manistiquette Secretary McClure says:

"The strategy board of the next campaign should have a committee in each town where stops are made, to look after the central location of the exhibit cars. The stop at Manistiquette was time and money wasted. Many of the citizens said that if the exhibit cars had been conveniently located, large crowds would have visited them."

The problem of successful health and civic administration depends upon efficient, intelligent leadership, and Dr. Andrew Nelson is such a leader. As Manistiquette is situated, Manistiquette is fairly sanitary.

Lowest prices and best pianos at Dishneaus his week. The new music store opposite the fountain is having a big, sensational sale for 10 days. Buy now and save exactly $50.

TO PLAY BALL

Ellis and K. of P. Team to Contest for Honors Next Sunday Afternoon.

The Elks and the Knights of Pythias base ball teams will play ball at the fair grounds next Sunday afternoon. The game will be called at 2:30 o'clock, and from all indications there will be a large attendance as much interest is being manifested in the result.

The teams are practicing faithfully, and many of Manistiquettes former ball players are in the line-up on an exciting game may be expected.

TO GARDEN

Another Railroad Excursion to Garden Next Sunday.

The Manistiquette ball team will play the Garden team at the ten next Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, and the Garden by Ry. Co., has decided to give the citizens of Manistiquette another opportunity of visiting that city. Therefore a special train will leave the Soo Line depot at 10 o'clock Sunday forenoon. The W. O. Shaw band will accompany the excursion and will furnish the music. Five extra coaches have been secured so there will be plenty of room for all desiring to go. The train will reach Manistiquette on the return trip at 7:30 o'clock.

The hotel accommodations are good, if you are in doubt, you should provide yourself with a lunch basket. Fare round trip $1.00. Children 50 cents.

Mrs. Nicholas Doerner returned from Port Huron last Friday where she was the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hannon. While there she had the privilege of seeing the famous aeronaut loop the loop in his airship. She also witnessed a race between Beachy and Barney Oldfield.

STATEMENTS OF ESCANABA CITIZENS Always of Interest to Our Readers.

IN ESCANABA

To many of our readers the streets of Escanaba are almost as familiar as those of their own town, and we are naturally interested to read of happenings there. The following report from a well known and respected resident will be helpful to numbers of men and women here in Manistiquie.

John Stevenson, 503 S. Jeanette St., Escanaba Mich., says: "I had a very lame back and severe pains across the kidneys. I could hardly get around. I finally used Don's Kidney Pills and they relieved me at once. A few months ago I again took this remedy for backache and kidney weakness and it helped me."

Price 50c, all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy, get Don's Kidney Pills, the name that Mr. Stevenson had. Foster-McMillan Co. Props, Buffalo N. Y.

The army wagon has shown up a few places in Gerdfask but has done no very much damage as yet.

It was reported that W. A. Cornell was selected to fill a vacancy on the school board caused by the resignation of D. A. Morrison, for personal reasons Mr. Cornell has declined the honor.

It is advertised that a series of camp meetings commencing Aug. 27th, will be held in Gerdfask.

Wm. Leighton of Grand Marais who is a candidate for representative for the Schoolcraft district was shaking hands with his many friends in Gerdfask.

HAVE BEAUTIFUL HAIR
USE PARISIAN SAGE

If your hair is too dry, brittle, dull, thin, or if the scalp burns and itches, immediately begin the use of Parisian Sage. This application removes the dandruff, cools and invigorates the scalp, and increases the beauty of the hair by making it soft—scenty abundant.

Parisian Sage supplies the needs. It is delicately perfumed and not at all greasy. Surely try a 50c. bottle.

- SEVERE BRONCHIAL COUGH
Doctors Feared Lung Trouble, Restored to Health by VINOL.
- The medical profession does not believe that lung troubles are inherited, but a person may inherit a weakness or tendency to them.
- Mrs. Kate Hodgman, Springfield, Ohio, says: "A few years ago I was in a very bad nervous condition, and the physician told me I had consumption. I tried almost every remedy, but it told me I had about six months to live. I quit the physicians and bought a bottle of VINOL. Today I am perfectly healthy, and that is why I recommend VINOL."
- Vinol soothes and heals the inflamed surfaces and allays the cough. It also creates an appetite, strengthens the digestive organs and gives the patient strength to throw off his impatient pulmonary ailments.
- Try a bottle of VINOL with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you.

TEARS HAD LEFT THEIR MARK

Art's Model for Divine Face
Served Later in Depletion of That of Judas.

On the wall of an old monastery in the famous "Last Supper" of Leonardo da Vinci. It is said that the artist, in painting the faces of the apostles, studied the countenance of good men whom he knew. That he was ready to paint the face of Christ he could find none that would justify his conception. After years of study the Strada Magenta search, says the Hispano Magazine, the painter happened to meet a little, fat, choleric-looking fellow named Pietro Bartinielli, a cholerico of the name of the cholerico, whose eyes, belonging to the beautiful, tender manner that he possessed an angelic soul, the artist looked the boy to be the study for the divine face.

All was done carefully and reverently. But the picture was yet incomplete for the face of Judas was absent. Again the painter set about in search of a countenance. Years passed and his search was rewarded and before his work was nearly completed, a young girl was brought to him by a man who was usually to displease the miserable and degraded wretch who had been his awful choice, the man looked as if his soul had sold.

With amazement, the painter learned that the man was Pietro Bartinielli, during those intervening years Pietro had been at home studying music, had set with evil companions, and fallen to his shameful dissipation and crime.

GLING TO GOATSKIN BOTTLES

Water Carriers of the Orient Use Receptacles of Same Nature as Mentioned in the Bible.

The children in the cities of the Orient are always very much interested in the picturesque water carriers who make their "hurry" carrying on their backs water bottles in the shape of goatskins, from which the vessels of the water carriers' persons are filled from time to time.

These skin bottles generally feature, as in the city of Hebron, in Palestine, where there is a "water carriers' market, where these things are sold in large numbers and find their way to all parts of the Orient. Lying upon the ground in rows may be seen two and three hundred goatskins awaiting purchasers. Each skin is inflated, after with water or air, so that the buyer may know that it is perfectly tight.

The majority of the skins used come from Arabia, while a large number also are received from the Lebanon. They are brought to Hebron by the hand caravans, and are purchased by the proprietors of the "water carriers and used to bottle. They pass through many processes, and a man can spend a week upon a single skin before it is rendered watertight and serviceable.

From Hebron those odd "bottles" are sent to all parts of the East, thousands going down into Egypt and the Sudan every year.

Pancakea Furnish Complete Diet.
Considered from a physiological point of view, the custom of eating pancakea is commendable, says the Lancet. It is a satisfactory fact that they have become popular sweets at other seasons than carnival time, for they are nourishing and digestible food.

A review of the ingredients which provide the form for cakes at once shows the pancakea to be a singularly complete diet, containing, that is to say, all classes of food materials. It is rich alike in protein, carbohydrates, fats and mineral substances, all in an acceptably assimilable form. It is doubtful whether there is a single manufactured or patent food upon the market which can claim such a valuable range of diets proportionately. Apart, moreover, from its dietetic value, the pancakea possesses an important pharmacology, inasmuch as it is rich in lecithin, which is now known to have a special significance in the processes of nutrition and metabolism.

Valuable Dog.
A commutator who had evidently been drinking rather freely, boarded the smoker of a Reading Germantown branch train last Saturday evening, according to the Philadelphia Inquirer. Attached to a long coach he had a collar dog. As he had no ticket he handed the conductor a dollar note and was returned a handful of small change. Studying the coin in his hand, he couldn't figure out why he had not received more, so calling the man with the blue suit and brass buttons, he asked for an explanation. The conductor told him that ten cents was the price of the excess tickets for carrying the dog. "Humph," he said, "you only charge me ten cents and charge 16 for the dog; he can find his way home, but I can't."

Real Life.
It was one of those humid, awfully hot July days which at times almost suffocate New York that a visitor from Chicago was induced to escort two young women to the beach for a plunge in the surf. The bridge cars were jammed, but after a fierce struggle he managed to get seats for his charges, and as he stood swaying beside them in the aisle, he mused the fast trickling perspiration from his brow.

"Life would be tolerable," he quoted grimly, "if it were not for its pleases."
Home Influence.
In the home is found the strongest influence for character building. No other element in education is equal to that which is gained by children, almost unconsciously, in the very earliest years from conscientious parents whose aim is to develop in each child a strong moral principle, to teach him the virtues of truthfulness, justice, kindness, purity, self-control, self-respect, obedience, reverence, and unselfishness. This is in the home only that these things can be done. Children without an ideal home life cannot expect to develop into much, then they? How about it, mothers and fathers? Are you doing your duty along this line? The matter is important. The fact that the old-time home is gradually disappearing looks bad for our modern civilization. What are you going to do about it?—Exchange.

By No Means the First Swim.
At considerable expense a certain Scottish town council had erected public swimming baths, and they were opened by one of the leading men of the neighborhood. Of the president there was Sandy, who had been appointed bath superintendent. Sandy had two hobbies—dog breeding and swimming. Just prior to the opening ceremony one of the local conditions slipped and fell into the six-foot end of the bath. "Come out of that!" roared Sandy, leaping over and catching the unfortunate one by the hair. "Come out of that! That bath's not opened yet." When on firm foothold the counselor tried to laugh the matter away. "Anyhow, I have had the first swim." He said. "Doed ye hadn't," responded Sandy calmly. "Ye and the dogs had a dip this morning."

Cry for Leaders.
There are plenty of common men. Leaders are scarce. Yet every man has in him latent possibilities which can make him famous if he will only give himself a chance. Every man has some line in which he can become a specialist. You can do some things better than your neighbor. Learn to do them better than anybody else and the world will make a place for you. It needs your peculiar genius to complete its efficiency roll-up and the reward it offers. Step out into your place and receive what is coming to you. It's only a question that says there is no place for you. Few live up to their possibilities.

Youthful Heroine.
The youngest Carnegie hero is Giovanni Ricci, who lives near Genoa, Italy, and is four years old. When a playmate fell into the well last year, he climbed down on the projecting bits of rock and saved her playmate's life.

ONE OF THE CURIOUS THINGS

So Remarkable an Incident of Life That Comment Feels Seemed to Be Unwise.

"It's curious about things, isn't it?" said the man who had something on his mind and wanted to talk.
"Yes," replied the man addressed, but without interest.
"It's curious how a fellow gets into a box and then out again."
"Yes."
"You know the Widow Sploor, of course?"
"Oh, yes."
"I heard last month that she had come into $50,000. But right down and proposed marriage by letter and rashed the letter off."
"Well!"
"Didn't hear from her in answer. Here's the letter. Forget to stamp it, and it went to the dead letter office. Just got it back. Suppose it had reached the widow and she had accepted him?"
"What do you mean?"
"Why, a week ago I heard that she didn't have ten cents to her name. Curious, ain't it?"
"Yes, but I can bet it. I married the widow five days ago."
"Go ahead!"
"And instead of having $50,000, she had $75,000."
"Say—say!" exclaimed the other, as he threw up his hands; "but he could get no farther. It was too curious."

SETBACK FOR THE OPTIMIST
According to Pessimist, He Had Failed Utterly to See Things in Their Proper Light.

"Look at this, will you?" exclaimed the cheerful real estate man. "In this paper there is a record of eighty-seven marriage licenses issued yesterday."
"Well, what of it?" said his partner, the pessimist of the firm.
"What of it?" echoed the other. "Can't you see? These eighty-seven marriage licenses mean eighty-seven marriages. The eighty-seven marriages will lead to eighty-seven inquiries for houses, flats, or at least eligible business in our line and we'll get our share."
"That doesn't follow at all. These eighty-seven licenses represent 174 persons, don't they?"
"Yes."
"Probably all adults."
"Undoubtedly. What of it?"
"Nothing," growled the pessimist; "except that 174 persons who have hitherto occupied 174 apartments will hereafter occupy eighty-seven, and that ain't helping our business any. You make me tired."

BROUGHT HIM TO BELIEF

Experience Convincing English Laborer That There Were Persons With Lightness of Touch.

The simple-hearted Wary One and the crafty Bill Sykes were supporting two walls of the works, their tips of untanned coffee in their hands. Bill's coffee looked like coal, while the Wary One had in his the added luxury of a small quantity of milk. "Wherefore, as they say, did Bill covet the tin of the Wary One, and did he stoop to exchange beverages, should an opportunity occur." "Toriks! of pickpockets," said the Wary One, "I once heard of a chap who could pick a 'ankerline from a goat's sleeve."
"Oh, that's nothing!" laughed William. "I know a covet wot can take yer 'at from yer 'ad without yer knowing it."
But the Wary One was incredulous. Just then he was called away by the foreman, and on his return he picked up the tin which he had trustingly left with Bill and his incredulity flashed like lightning.
"Well," he exclaimed, "but me if this don't beat yer at trick, Bill. There's some one bin 'at swiped the milk out of my coffee!"—London Telegraph.

Benefit of the Doubt.
At the club the other night a member of the Seventh regiment found himself the center of a group who were discussing the likelihood of an invasion of Mexico by the National Guard. "Cheerful remarks about the persuasive powers of Mauser bullets peppered about him. Everybody had kindly suggestions to make—stop, for instance, as that a model neatly adjusted over each bullet-hole would make him look as good as new. The victim took it very well.
"I'd like to contribute just one remark to this discussion," he said. "If I'm reported shot in the back, remember that I may have turned around to encourage my men."—New York Evening Post.

Wagnerian Relics Stolen.
It transpires that a casket sent from Brussels to Germany containing important Wagnerian relics was broken open and pillaged during the railway journey, says the London Daily Telegraph. The articles included letters and photos of the famous composer, identified as Frau Titchatschen, daughter of the celebrated tenor, who first sang the roles of "Lohengrin" and "Tannhauser."
"Frau Titchatschen, who died here recently, bequeathed the relics to the Wagner museum at Eisenach, whether they were being conveyed. The whole of Wagner's correspondence with the letters, was stolen, and possibly is neckless and missing."

DEMOCRATIC TICKET

Democrats Have Selected List of Candidates for County Offices.

A number of Democrats held a meeting Tuesday evening and decided that the time was propitious for the placing of a party ticket in the field for the November election, and the following selections were made:

For Sheriff, Dan Call.
For Clerk and registrar of deeds, Geo. Grenney.
For Treasurer, Clyde McArdle.
For coroner, Chas. Ralby and Thomas Galligan.

As Schoolcraft county has no Democratic attorneys, it was decided not to make a nomination for prosecuting attorney.

ANOTHER ONE

W. H. McMullin Aspires for Sheriffship, and will Utilize Slips.

W. H. McMullin, a well known citizen of the city, has decided to enter the lists as a candidate for the nomination of sheriff subject to the Republican primary election to be held August 25th. He is quite popular, has a wide acquaintance throughout the county, and will wage an aggressive campaign, and should be honored by his constituency, would no doubt give the county a very satisfactory administration of the office in question.

He is quite popular with the laboring men for he is one of them and toils with them, not shirking any duty that it appears to best him. For years he was in the employ of the first saw company, as yard bossman, and his former employees are for him to a man. McMullin will not be fact in the race when the election of the sheriff is announced at the close of the primary election day.

SECURED IT

The Firemen's Tournament Will Meet at Manistique in 1915.

A telegram was received from Ishpeming yesterday afternoon announcing the fact that Manistique's invitation to entertain the tournament for next year, had been accepted.

The local fire department was very much interested in the matter and their persistence and the eloquence of some of the business and professional men that accompanied them in Ishpeming, proved successful.

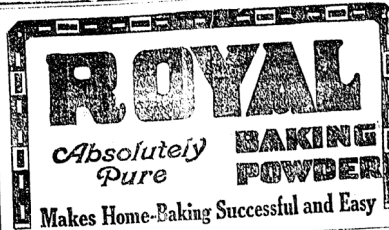

NUCLEUS FOR PARK

Board of Public Works Acquires Eleven Acre Tract at Site of Power Dam.

The deal between the Consolidated Lumber Co and the city of Manistique for the water power site on Indian River, was closed this week. The transfer includes nearly eleven acres at the site of the dam which will be used for park purposes. The tract is admirably situated, is covered with trees, and can be converted into a beauty spot with but little expense. The additional land was purchased for the nominal sum of $25 per acre.

Our New Atlas

We have purchased a copy of the new Crain's Unrivaled Atlas, a magnificent work, containing splendid up-to-date maps of each state and every county, new census statistics, and a fund of information valuable in every home. This is the most complete and comprehensive work we have ever seen for the price and we cheerfully recommend the work to our readers. James R. Gray, representing the atlas is spending the week here and will be pleased to show a complete copy to anyone interested. Mr. Gray is at the Hotel Ossawimuncie.

FOR SHERIFF

Fred M. Orr's Candidacy is Being well Received Throughout the County.

Mr. Fred M. Orr, who is a candidate for the nomination of sheriff, subject to the Republican primaries, and who is making an aggressive campaign throughout the county, is very much encouraged with the outlook. Fred has had much experience in the sheriff's office, having been either deputy or under sheriff for several years. He promises to give the county faithful, economic and efficient services should he be honored by a nomination and election. Although he has opposition via the slip route yet his chances are indeed very good, as he has friends in every portion of the county that are working hard for his success.

Endorses Leighton.

Wm. Leighton of Grand Marais candidate for representative from this district on the Republican ticket at the August primaries was a visitor in our city Wednesday and received a very cordial reception from the voters.

The announcement of Mr. Leighton's candidacy was met with instant approval upon all sides and in his trip through the district he is meeting with flattering promises of support from all classes.

Any comparison of the qualifications of Mr. Leighton and Mackinaw county candidate would be odious. He stands head and shoulders above his opponent.

The caliber of the representatives from this district for many years has been something of a joke. They have been mainly useful in warming a seat in the representative hall and drawing their salaries.

The district has now an opportunity of sending a "live wire" to Lansing in the person of Mr. Leighton. He thoroughly understands the needs of his district, is able, clean, and forceful, and if elected will be numbered among the influential members of the legislature.

Reports from throughout the district indicate that he will be nominated by a rousing majority.—Newberry News.

E. H. Randall of Chicago, a printer, whose father was a member of the ill fated colony in that township eighteen or twenty years ago, was in the city Monday evening. After his bubble collapsed, Randall was given employment in this office for a short time. He is now in the employ of a big job printing house and is doing well. His daughter is also employed in the same office, and he has two sons that hold lucrative clerical positions in railroad offices of that city. He and one of his sons have been spending a week's vacation with the former's brother-in-law, A. J. Ryers.

BREVITIES

Stoffer Anderson of Ilwaco, was in the city Wednesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Smith of Escanaba, N. D., are the guests of George's parents at 201 Bear street. He is an employee of the Soo mill house at Escanaba.

James R. Gray of Chicago, one of the publishers of the well known Crain's Atlas is spending a few days in our city in the interest of a magnificent new census edition of their Unrivaled World Atlas. Mr. Gray has been connected with the Crain Atlas Company for over 30 years and has visited this section at different times with their publications. There never was a time when a gold mine and school as rich now and as good a large number of our citizens will be interested in this splendid new Atlas.

Truthful Advertising

Every statement made in our Advertising is truth. Every article is carefully and truthfully described. We do not believe in exaggerations or misrepresentations. We will not resort to bombastic statements. Every article will be found exactly as advertised. Neither will we keep our store open on Sundays to make up the loss on sales.

BLUMROSEN'S

ONE PRICE STORE

Means Dear Reader that if you had a Farm, Building, a Vehicle or other personal property, which you wanted to sell.

Now suppose you had no opportunity to talk to your prospective customer.

Wouldn't your first and only price be the very lowest you could name?

Wouldn't your price be a rock bottom price.

Now reverse the situation.

Suppose you had a representative, a salesman—to first size up the customer and see what the thought the customer know about the goods.

Wouldn't you then use a LIST price with a scale of discounts so that your expensive salesman could get back some of his heavy expenses by getting a little more from one man than from another?

In short doesn't it stand to reason that the store which has the courage to name One Price and stand or fall on that price MUST be lower on the average bill of merchandise.

Now then, we are clearing up all summer merchandise and have put the knife deep into our already low prices. Come and See, then you go and compare prices elsewhere or your mail order catalogue.

Honorable Methods

Honesty of intent action is PROVING!
Honesty is practiced, not only because IT IS best policy but because honesty is a PROVING conviction. You'll find this an HONORABLE
ONE PRICE.

Truthful Salesmanship

The confidence of the public is the greatest asset a merchant can have. This can only be acquired and retained by simple, truthful dealings. When you make a purchase at our store you can rest assured it is as represented to you. Your money refunded on any purchase that is not satisfactory to you.

One Price for All

Here everyone is treated alike. No one can buy for one penny cheaper than you can, regardless of influence or position. This was inaugurated some time ago and has been rigidly maintained. Beware of the circus merchant with the humbug prices.
