WHITE-HIXSON.

One of Manistique's Most Popular Young Ladies to Wed Eastern Gentleman.

At a luncheon followed by a bridge Monday afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Hixson announced the engagement of their daughter, Blanche Virginia, to Albin Hubbard White of Meriden, Connecticut.

Luncheon was served at 1 o'clock to a number of Miss Hixson's former school friends. A table was set aside for five ladies that are attending college in various sections of the country, who were invited could not attend. The reading of letters from these young ladies was one of the pleasing features of the afternoon. Meslames Thomas, Roos and LeRoy assisted the hostess in serving.

Kilnsey roses formed an attractive centerpiece for the table. The place cards were saucy cupids which sat upon the posts of the fence leading to love's lane. Miniature white trunks, tied with orange blossoms were the favors.

The guests included: Misses Hazel Nicholson, Dorothy Middlebrock, Gladys and Sara Currie, Iva Ledstrand, Florence Adkins, Marion Crane, Clarabelle Kelso and Marion Thomas. The "absent guests" were Misses Gertrude and Evelyn Roos, Ellen Kelso, Luella Orr and Ethel Shank.

Mr. White is the only son of the late Edward H. White of the Wilcox & White Company of Meriden, Conn.

WAS GIVEN PARCEL SHOWER.

Miss Ella Ackerman was given a parcel shower at the home of Mr. John Sather Tuesday evening of last week, by Mrs. Baasch of St. Paul, and Mrs. Ackerman. A large number of young people were present, and the evening was one that will long be remembered by the lady in whose honor the function was given. She was handsomely remembered by all present.

Local Highs Will Play the Escanaba Highs at Local Gridiron Tomorrow.

The football season will be ushered in tomorrow afternoon with a game between the local and Escanaba high school elevens. The Escanaba team has played two games thus far this season, and is in excellent condition. The locals have not been in a regular game as yet, but have been taking issue with a team of old-time players in order to secure the necessary practice. The game will be played at the fair grounds, and will be worth the time and the money charged.

ELABORATE DISPLAY.

The Lake Superior Iron and Chemical Co.'s Display One of the Best at the Fair.

The display of the Lake Superior Iron and Chemical Co. at the fair last week, attracted much attention, and was easily one of the best in the exposition building. In the foreground was piled a large quantity of pig iron. Upon the tables was a miniature replica of the furnace, and by the means of lights beneath the table, shining through the mass, was given a faithful reproduction of the molten iron as it looks after a cast has been made. Words operations were also faithfully portrayed. Miniature piles of coalwood piled between the stumps, the half-covered ground, the primal forest trees in miniature at the rear, and the deer and rabbits peeping through the timber growth, was very realistic. On the shelves were bottles containing samples of the by-products manufactured by the chemical plant. Samples of the ores used were also shown. The person that planned and prepared the exhibit deserves much praise for his ingenuity and artistic skill.

Mr. John Brant, one of Gormfank's prominent citizens spent the latter part of last week in the city taking in the fair.

TEMPERANCE SUNDAY.

Noted Speakers Will Deliver Addresses in Various Churches Next Sunday.

Next Sunday is "Temperance Sunday," and a number of well known and eloquent speakers from the Anti-Saloon league, will be in the city and will deliver addresses in the various churches as follows:

Morning services at Presbyterian church, J. E. Mitchell Pastor, G. M. Hudson, Superintendent Speaker.

M. E. Church, Rev. F. D. Munday, Pastor, District Superintendent Geo. A. Young, Speaker.

Swedish Baptist Church, Rev. T. Granden, Pastor, Law Enforcement Officer, C. I. Rutledge.

Evening services, Cooks Congregational church, O. R. Lamber, Pastor, Mr. C. H. Rutledge, Speaker.

First Baptist Church, Rev. F. R. Leach, Pastor, Hudson Speaker. Presbyterian Church, Rev. J. R. Mitchell, Pastor, Geo. H. Young, Speaker.

Afternoon services, Thompson M. E. Church, Rutledge, Speaker.

UNIQUE CREATION.

Geo. Kometzke, aged fourteen years, had a unique exhibit at the fair which is worthy of notice. He constructed an exact representation of Camp 88. The six buildings were constructed of logs, were accurately located, and in the foreground was the railroad track, while at the rear of the buildings, was the primeval forest of pine. Gorge's exhibit last year, it will be remembered, was a boat that he had constructed. For one of his age he shows a marked aptitude with tools, and possesses much ingenuity.

WHO WILL GET IT.

M. Blumrosen offers a $3 Gordon hat to the first home boy that gets a touch-down in the Manistique-Escanaba game tomorrow afternoon. Who will get it. The prize is worthy of effort.

SKILLED WITH KNIFE.

Frank Blower had a very neat miniature house on exhibition at the fair that deserves mention. The house, which by the way was a very pretty design, with wide porch and other accessories, was wholly made with a jack knife. When boys of his size are able to do such work, with a crude implement, it shows what he as well as other boys might accomplish had the public shown a manual training department.

TELEPHONE CO.'S DISPLAY.

The exhibit of the Manistique Telephone Co. was unique and attracted much attention. Not only was it artistic and unique, but it was serviceable as well, for through it, the various telephones in the exposition building, made it possible for people to be in communication with the city as well as with persons in various parts of the building and grounds. A switchboard was installed and an operator was in attendance. Connections were made through a miniature system of wires, designed to represent a rural system. A country road was depicted; and it was fringed with green verdure and trees. Miniature poles and wires erected and installed the same as a full grown system followed the road, and the business done was done through the connections which the miniature plant supplied. The idea was the creation of Superintendent Kassel and his assistant Mr. Harbin. The booth was visited by every one attending the fair, and many visited it more than once.

ATTENTION BASEBALL FANS.

A meeting will be held at the K. of P. hall next Thursday evening, Oct. 15th, at 8:30 o'clock for the purpose of perfecting an organization for 1915. All persons interested in baseball are urged to be present.

C. E. Scott, Secretary.

THE COUNTY FAIR.

Was Very Largely Attended and Exhibits of a High Order.

The first annual fair held in the new fair grounds, which was held last Thursday, Friday and Saturday, was a great success from every viewpoint.

The gate receipts show that more than 4,200 people attended the fair during the last two days and it therefore was a financial success. The exhibits were many and of such excellence as to elicit universal commendation. More than one person said that they never saw a finer display of fruits and vegetables and grains at any state fair than Schoolcraft county exhibited at its fair. Therefore, this feature of the fair was certainly a success. The business men visited with each other in making the best possible display in their various concessions. All were artistically arranged, and thousands of dollars worth of goods were on display, and were the business men to hear the many compliments bestowed upon their enterprise and skill in making the most of their display, they would feel elated. In fact the business men put forth greater effort than did the farmers. Practically every business house was represented, and it is safe to say that the proportion of farmers making exhibits was not in keeping with their city friends.

The races and the ball game were features of entertainment that were hugely enjoyed by all present and mention of these features is made in another column.

The exposition building was a visit of beauty. Every inch of space was utilized in concessions to business men and in the display of agricultural products. Among the exhibitors were the Consolidated Lumber Co. store and hardware store, The Lake Superior Iron & Chemical Co., Manistique Bank, First National Bank, Gunnarson & Refauve, Sven Johnson, Gero & Carroll, Manistique Light & Power Co., White Marble Lime Co., and Marblehead farm, Frank Peterson's meat market, John Schuster's meat market.

The Newberry furnace was blown in on Thursday last week, after a shut-down of three months. The people of the colony town are correspondingly happy.

Last year Schoolcraft county's proportion of the state tax was $22,421.97. This year the county's proportion will be $14,288.57. Certainly an appreciable drop.

The Marquette county should send delegates to the state convention opposed to Auditor General Fuller is one of the unexplicable failures of policies upon which many persons need enlightenment.

The Escanaba aggregation was entertained at every stage of last Saturday's game, and the infantile white that appeared in the Morning Press account of the game Sunday morning, proved that the Sandy City aggregation are hum sports and poor losers.

Miss Wineman, who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. William Mueller, has returned to her home in Chicago.

In the first interscholastic football game of the season, the Soo high school defeated the Gladstone team last Saturday in a score of 38 to 0.

While at the fair grounds last Saturday, a young lady, who evidently believes in the return of the shades of the departed, said, as she noticed a number of persons seated on tombstones, from which vantage they witnessed the attractions without cost: "Evidently the old sports buried there have arisen to witness the horse races and ball game."

Thomas Carey of Gladstone, attended the fair Saturday. His daughter, Miss Helen, who has been the guest of friends and relatives returned home with him Saturday evening.

REV. LEACH'S SERMON.

Stones Were Made for the Disarmament of the Nations by Local Minister.

Sunday was Peace Sunday by proclamation of the President, and was generally observed in the churches in our city. At the First Baptist church a special service was held Sunday evening. There was a special service of prayer in connection with the meeting.

The speaker made a strong plea for disarmament without which he held permanent peace would never be had. Among other things the speaker said the present war was without the slightest excuse.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The political war has opened up in Michigan, and Osborn has fired the first shot.

Someone has figured it out that as the result of the war it will cost $2,000,000 to revise the geographies and atlases.

The attitude of the Detroit Free Press upon the Republican candidate for governor does not please the rank and file of the party.

Nowadays, while circulating through the crowds at a county fair, you cannot distinguish the farmers from the businessmen.

One nice thing in holding all of the state conventions on the same day. No danger of any one person serving as a delegate in two places.

During the two years that Osborn was governor of the state—1911-12, the upper peninsula paid in state taxes the sum of $1,692,172.

Sure, we are passing through Democratic times. Imports of precious stones into this country during September were the lowest in many years.

IT WAS THE SAME OLD KIND OF DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION

As between the two old parties in Michigan, the Republicans walked off the convention field on Wednesday with the glories of the day.

Republicans from principle were in complete control of the convention, and powerful impetus was given the aim of Chase S. Osborn.

Osborn proved the complete moral master of the situation. This fact proves that Republican newspaper and personal enemies who predicted that dire things would happen to his candidacy in the convention, did not speak with the voice of the party, by a long shot.

The wish is always father to the thought. Let's see. How many times now has Osborn routed those who predicted his defeat?

The accounts of the Kalamazoo convention read better to us, and will read better to the voters in the state of Michigan who are guided by principles, than will the accounts of the Democratic state convention held in this city.

The old organization was in control in Detroit. It was headed by the same old reactionary leaders.

Perhaps they can be better identified if we term them the original anti-Wilson Democrats in Michigan.

The Attwoods, the Averys and their kind of the olden days, did not have the whip-hand in Kalamazoo.

This was a Republican convention that was different in that respect.

Wood, Shields and Comolly were found still on the job in Detroit.

It was the same old kind of a Democratic convention in that respect.

The Republican candidate for governor was on hand in Kalamazoo to fight for progress for his party.

The Democratic candidate for governor, whom we greatly admired and twice supported for his convictions and for his spunk in declaring for them, yielded to the bosses several days before the party convention—quite cold and announced himself an "aggressive Democrat."

Whoever that is, is gone indeed.

Two or three Progressive Democrats were thrown out of the loss-lashed Detroit convention bodily and literally.

Perhaps that is what you would call "aggressive Democracy."

The Republican and the Democratic conventions, compared, size up about like this:

The Republican party in Michigan is far more sensitive to the sentiment of the people of Michigan, than the Democratic party is.

The Republican party in Michigan shows signs of having profited by its experience in Chicago.

THE REPUBLICAN PLATFORM.

Strong Declaration of Principles Made by the State Convention at Kalamazoo.

The Republican state convention adopted the following platform at Kalamazoo:

"We declare that Michigan Republicanism stands: (1) For government for, by and in the interests of the whole people, conserving its special interest, but securing and insuring equal subject to the requirements and burdens of equal and just laws and their impartial application and administration.

"(2) For laws designed a secure and insure equal and impartial rights to protect and conserve the common good, to properly restrict the employment of children, to encourage and foster education and the home and to uplift and advance the conditions of labor, industry, agriculture and the productive arts.

"(3) For efficiency in office and devotion to duty and public service, and the selection of those persons for service in executive, judicial and administrative capacities who will produce the greatest efficiency, economic equality and integrity in the administration of public affairs.

"The Republican party and its conscientious and faithful adherents to right principles have kept Michigan upon the upgrade in the progress of human events. Better conditions of living, greater equity in laws and their burdens have always been the aim, claim and effort of that party, under the banners of the past indicate a steady and continued progress toward the desired end.

"Taxation Plan. "We declare for reforms in taxation that will: (a) result in the moral equal distribution of the burdens of government, the reduction of taxes and production of greater economies in public expenditures.

"(b) Result in the placing of all of the property in the state upon the tax rolls at its full value, and particularly in reaching, assessing, and taxing those classes of property which are today escaping their fair share of the public burden.

"(c) Result in the investigation of the question of placing proper limitations upon rates for taxation.

Efficiency in Administration. We declare for economy and efficiency in administration, for honest and intelligent service by the public service, and for the retention in office of only those public servants who will devote their time to the duties of their offices and who will produce economical and beneficial results.

We believe in and advocate measures which will produce greater economy in state affairs and we believe in and recommend a state budget system which will result in the method of making appropriations for the state upon an improved business basis resulting economies.

Workers' Compensation Law. "We believe in, and approve of the principles of the workers' compensation law whereby business and industry is required to sustain the burden of their contributions made to employees when injuries to the course of their employment. We recognize that our workers' compensation law is in its infancy, that its practical operations have indicated the need of changes to produce more equitable results, and pledge ourselves to make such changes therein as are necessary in order that the law shall be operations shall with greater degree of perfection distribute the burden resulting from injuries in employment, and that payment of compensation to injured employees may be promptly made without doubt, delay or litigation.

Labor Disputes. "We advocate the provision of means to facilitate the adjustment of differences between capital and labor, including investigation into the subject of the feasibility of providing a forum wherein such disputes or differences may be adjudicated, tried, determined and adjusted without necessary recourse to present courts of law.

Primary Elections. "We recommend an investigation into the practical workings and operations of the primary election laws of the state, to the end that the deficiencies therein may be ascertained and understood, and that such corrections or changes general expression of the people be made as will insure a more direct and efficient method of electing our representatives in the qualified electors in such elections as necessary.

Good Roads Urged as Necessary. "We recognize the increasing interest in and demand of the people for better highways. We believe that the good roads to be one of our greatest necessities, reducing the cost of transportation to our farmers, and in a great measure to the rest of the state and nation.

A Vote For FRANCIS T. McDONALD Democratic Nominee for Congress Means a Vote in Support of the policies of President Wilson Can as Much be Said of Other Candidates? A Clean and Able Candidate Who Asks for Your Support measure the end of living. "We believe there exists a moral obligation on the state to pay rewards to the several municipalities which have in good faith been earned.

The Republican party pledges itself to fulfill its moral obligation, and recommends the passage of such reasonable deficiency appropriation as may be necessary to pay such rewards.

Would Reform Court Procedure. "We declare for more expedition and less expense in litigation and recommendation of the passage of our court procedure with the idea of applying appropriate corrective measures which will more fully avoid and limit delays, eliminate technicalities, furnish the methods for speedy trial and adjudication of controversies and reduce the expenses incident thereto.

"The Republican national committee proposes to rearrange the representation of states at future national conventions, the substantial effect of which will be to reduce the representation of those congressional districts polling less than 7,500 Republican votes to but one delegate. This convention approves the plan.

Democratic Tariff Scored. "We are firmly of the opinion that the Republican policy of protection has been most potent in the development of our natural resources, in diversifying our industries, in encouraging our farmers and merchants, in creating comfort for homes and happy firesides, in protecting our countrymen in raising the standard of living of our wage-earners, and in dignifying toil on the farm, and in the factory, the mill, and the workshop.

"Knowing this, we earnestly re-affirm our belief in a protective tariff, high enough to protect our revenue and to adequately protect American industries and labor.

"We believe in a readjustment of the tariff schedules from time to time to meet changing conditions, but believe that revisions should be conducted by investigation, carefully conducted by a permanent, scientific, non-partisan board.

The Underwood tariff bill is unjustly sectional, is based upon a wrong economic principle, and is a menace to our industries, and is therefore condemn it and especially those provisions which so vitally and destructively affect the agricultural and industrial interests of our state and nation.

State Ticket Indorsed. "We commend and indorse the candidacy upon our Republican state ticket of Chase S. Osborn for governor. The party is to be congratulated upon its acceptance of the leadership of a candidate of no mean ability and unquestioned integrity, who stands and has ever stood for those humanitarian and advanced principles which have distinguished the Republican party in Michigan. We see in his candidacy the return to full authority in state government of that party which stands for good, clean and effective government, and we predict for him a repetition of his previous incumbency of the same office, during which he fairly, faithfully and impartially governed.

"The Republican party of the state of Michigan reaffirms its faith in the principles of civil service reform and urges upon its representatives in congress to insist upon a strict enforcement of the existing laws, and to use all diligence to repair the damage done to the former laws by the shameful violation by the Democratic party of the pledges given to sustain and execute the law. Every employe of the classified service of the United States should be free from political domination and his tenure should depend upon his devotion to duty and not upon political activity.

Emergency Tax Rapped. "We are prepared patriotically to share our portion of the nation's burdens and to uphold the hands of the president of the United States wherever and whenever national paramount efforts that would turn Europe's troubles into Democratic advantage by seeking to urge us. In the name of patriotism to withhold our domestic criticism of unsuccessful domestic policies. Therefore, we earnestly object to Democratic excesses for the extraordinary levy of $100,000,000 in domestic taxes. This levy may be partially caused by foreign war. But equally potent factors are free trade's failure to provide governmental administration extraneous beyond parallel and absurd prospective diplomatic subsidies to foreign lands to whom we owe no debt.

"We heartily commend the patriotic efforts of our patriotic senators Charles W. Townsend, in the fulfillment of their obligations at Washington. We heartily commend the Republican delegation in the lower house. "We commend Republican state officers for their fidelity and for their good works."

STATE OF MICHIGAN. The Circuit Court for the County of Schoolcraft in Chancery.

Blanche Riel, By Rose Cowman, her next friend, Complainant, vs. Gilbert Riel, Defendant.

At a session of said Court held at the court house in the City of Manistique in said County, on the twenty-eighth day of September, A. D. 1914. Present, Hon. Louis H. Peab, Circuit Judge.

In this cause, it appearing from affidavit on file, that the defendant, Gilbert Riel, is not a resident of this State, and that it cannot be ascertained in what state or county he resides.

On motion of Virgil I. Hixson, complainant's solicitor, it is ordered that the appearance of said non-resident, Gilbert Riel, be entered herein within five months from the date of this order, and in case of his appearance that he cause his answer to the bill that he cause his answer to the bill of complaint to be filed, and a copy thereof to be served on the complainant's Solicitor within fifteen days after service on him of a copy of said bill and notice of this order and in default thereof, said bill will be taken as confessed by said non-resident.

Defendants: And it is further ordered, that, within fifteen days of this order, to be published in the Manistique Pioneer-Tribune, a newspaper printed, published and circulating in said County, and that said publication be continued therein each week for six weeks in succession, or that she cause a copy of this order to be personally served on said non-resident defendant, at least twenty days before the time above prescribed for his appearance. LOUIS H. PEAB, Circuit Judge. Examined, countersigned and entered by me, J. N. FORSHAR, Register. VIRGIL I. HIXSON, Complainant's Solicitor. Manistique, Michigan. A fellow recently gave a good definition as to how to be a successful politician: He said "Ascertain what the people want, and then run like hell to keep ahead of them."

ELOQUENT PEACE SERMON.

Delivered by Mr. Mitchell at Presbyterian Church Sunday.

The various pastors of the city observed Peace Sunday and preached sermons that were timely. The churches were well attended, and the audience entered into the spirit of the occasion.

At the Presbyterian church, Dr. Mitchell preached a powerful sermon that we are reproducing in order that it may be read and digested by the 5,000 readers of the Pioneer-Tribune. It follows:

This preacher of social righteousness inspired as he was, certainly had a very low opinion of any man or nation that would start or bring on a war. He believed and taught that wars had their origin in the lowest and basest passions. And it is well to remember that in writing as he has, he spoke "as he was moved by the Holy Ghost." He spoke "as the Spirit gave him utterance." It was God then who gave the text. It was God who said that wars had their origin in human lusts, in unholy desires, in the basest passions of wicked men. If every one was thoroughly good, thoroughly righteous, if every one loved God supremely and their neighbor as themselves, if every one kept the sixth commandment, if every one should do as he commanded Peter when he said "Put up thy sword into its place," it is evident that there would be no wars. If all men were actuated and controlled by fairness and justice and kindness and love, it is manifested that there would be no such conflicts as are being waged over in Europe today. War implies that wrong has been done on one side or the other or by both. But if on the other hand one nation or all nations were controlled by unholy ambitions, or desires, or bitterness and jealous, hatred or envy and unhalloved passions, war would be inevitable. The very existence of such a conflict as that now going on in the old world, so destructive of property and life is evidence of a criminality such as the world has never known before in all its history.

Next to the betrayal and crucifixion of Jesus Christ, it is the greatest crime of all ages. It is the crime of Cain multiplied a hundred, yes, a thousand fold, yes a million fold. It is contrary to the fifth commandment of the Decalogue. It is contrary to Christ's teachings. It is contrary to all the best instincts of human nature. It is contrary to human law. It destroys all that is best of man's works. It destroys cities and farms, homes and churches and worse than that, it destroys the living temples of God, the souls of men. It causes poverty and ruin, it causes physical suffering which no man can describe, and no imagination can conceive. It makes widows and orphans, and fills not only a nation, but a continent with sorrow.

Once war was confined to the surface of the earth—the land and to the sea. The battles were then all fought on one plane. But it is not so in this war. The submarines, hurl human beings to death from beneath. The waters of the ocean are now being used as a battlefield. The bottomless pit, and merchant ships with their priceless cargoes of innocent passengers from all lands, and warships manned by noble young men, dear to the hearts of mothers and sisters, are blown to pieces, and the waters are covered with human beings, mangled and torn, who soon sink beneath the waters.

And more dreadful than all this, air ships rain down death-dealing explosives, from the clouds on cities and towns and children and non-combatants are perfectly defenseless. Homes and churches and hospitals are blasted and destroyed as by a thunderbolt from the skies. Women and children, the sick and the aged are mangled beyond recognition. Their bodies are torn to shreds. Arms and legs are blown away. Heads are blown off, others are wounded. The sea is full of cries. Buildings explode. The walls fall in and they fall out. Flames of fire shoot up in every direction. The air is full of death and pain. It is as if the demons from beneath the waters had gained the ascendancy and had driven the very heavens further away. It is as if God had been defeated. These beings are helpless against "the powers of the air."

Armies such as the world never saw before overrun all boundaries. Over six millions of men now face each other. Gans such as the world has never known before are used. Some of these fire 500 shots a minute. Others send hail weighing 2-1/2 pounds to a distance of twenty miles. The cannon shots, both large and small, are all bombs filled with smaller shot and explosives that scatter death and destruction whenever and wherever they strike. It is too costly to use a ball to kill each man. Every shot must now be a bomb. "War" said Douglas Jerrold, "is murder by the wholesale," but he lived a hundred years ago and never saw such a war as this. "War" said Napoleon, "is the trade of barbarians." But he never saw such deadly weapons as are aroused today, and his battles were all fought on the surface of the land and water. "There is nothing more horrible than a victory," said the Duke of Wellington, "except a defeat." But he never saw such weapons as he has now. "You think war is glory," said General Sherman, but he added "it is hell." And he knew what he was talking about. But he never saw such battles as are being fought today. He never saw such armies, such numbers of men, such savagery and bloodshed. The world never saw the like before. God Almighty never saw the like before.

General Sherman spoke more truly than he, perhaps realized. The Bible tells us that once "there was war in heaven." Satan made it. But he and his followers were cast out. He afterwards came to this earth, and ever since, there has been discord, and conflict and enmity and bloodshed. Cain killed his brother. One tribe made war on another. One man waged battle against another, so that the history of the world has been very largely the history of war. And anywhere and always the devil has had a hand in it. General Sherman, when he was right when he said, "war is hell."

Now, war is too expensive to be allowed. It bankrupts nations and impoverishes the people. It has made living high, and deprived many of the comforts of life. The Napoleonic wars cost the French 1,400,000,000 francs, or fifteen billions of dollars. That amount of wealth was just blotted out. The war of 1812 cost us $300,000,000. The Mexican war cost us $180,000,000. The Crimean war cost one billion, one hundred and sixty-six millions. Our Civil war cost eight billions, and if we include what we have spent since in the way of pensions to the soldiers and interest on the debt it has cost us over thirteen billions of dollars. The Franco-Prussian war of 1870 cost three billions of dollars. The Spanish-American war cost the two nations $800,000,000. The Russo-Japanese war cost the two countries $1,255,000,000. The Boer war cost $1,300,000,000. Time will not allow one to mention many smaller wars that have been waged during the past hundred years. It has been estimated by statisticians that in the nineteenth century, at least, there has amounted to an inconceivable sum of $400,000,000,000. And yet this was only the direct cost. The destruction of property is beyond all calculation. But some idea may be gained as to its amount, if we will but remember that General Sherman estimated that his army in their march to the sea to meet General Grant at Richmond, destroyed a property to the amount of $300,000,000. Other campaigns have been equally destructive. But for war and drunkenness there would be no poverty. But war is becoming more and more expensive. A single battleship now costs fifty millions of dollars. It cost enough to fire a single shell from a 12-inch gun to supply a family for an entire year. Judge Gray, the head of the steel trust in the United States, tells us that the European war is costing the nations engaged in it fifty millions a day, and it has been going on for eight weeks. And no one can yet see that end. But every one can see that an enormous and crushing war debt will rest upon the people as a result. As a well known writer has said: "Give me the money that has been spent in war and I will purchase every foot of land on the face of the earth and give every family a lot or a farm of their own; I will clothe every man, woman and child in an attire of which kings and queens might be proud; I will build a school house on every hill and in every valley; I will build an academy in every town and endow it; a college in every state or province and fill it with able professors; I will supply every heathen land with missionaries; I will crown every hill with a house of worship, consecrated to the gospel of peace, and I will support in every pulpitable preacher of Jesus Christ, so that on every Sabbath the chimes on every hill will answer the chimes on another around the whole world."

But the severest indictment against war is not its financial cost, but its awful destruction of human life. Every gun that is fired, every shell and bomb made for the same purpose. The aim of every soldier is to murder their fellow-men. There is no glory in such work. It is not a christian act except when done in self defense.

If killing one person is wrong, killing many cannot make the act right. Increasing the number of crime cannot take away its guilt. Murder is murder, and blood-shed is blood-shed. War is simply murder on a large scale. It is murder by wholesale. It is the crime of Cain multiplied ten. It is defiance to the God of Sinai, who said, "Thou shalt not kill."

The Napoleonic wars caused the death of 6,000,000 of human beings. Stacked up they would make a pile thirty times as high as the Washington monument at our national capitol. Thirty years war cut down the population of Germany from 16,000,000 to 6,000,000. At the beginning of the war the province of Mudeberg had a population of 36,000; at its close it had six thousand. The war of 1812 resulted in the death of 50,000 people. The Crimean war cost 780,000 lives. Our civil war was still more destructive. It cost 900,000 lives. The Russo-Prussian war resulted in the killing of 225,000 people. The Russian-Japanese war cost 550,000 lives. During the past century war has cost the lives of 14,000,000, and since the beginning of authoritative history fifteen billions have perished in battle. This is an awful record. It is a fearful indictment. It has filled the world with mourning and sorrow. And it has killed off the wrong people, the evil selected the strongest and the bravest, and it has left the weakest and the most craven. The men who first volunteer and are accepted are those who are first called out. They are ever the best developed and the healthiest. They are therefore the first killed off. And when they are gone a weaker set and the less courageous, are left to perpetuate the race. It is not the survival of the fittest but of the less fit. Greece fell because the men who made her glorious were killed off and thus left no descendants. They left none of their kind. Those who perpetuated the race were the menials and weaklings. Rome declined as men decayed. The men who carried her empire far and wide and made her mistress of the world, perished in her wars; and those who were left to perpetuate the race were an inferior class of people. Like begets like. Weaklings produced weaklings. Rome perished for want of men. The fall of that mighty empire was owing to the extinction of the best. Spain was once easily at the head of the world. But she was a fighting race. She was always warring, and her best men were killed off. Those who were left to perpetuate the race were an inferior class. Spain died a hundred years ago. It was only her chest that fought at Manila and Santiago. Nearly the same can be said of France. In the time of Napoleon she was easily at the head of the world in every way. Her soldiers were large of stature and brave and healthy by state. They were all killed off, and those who were left to perpetuate the race were an inferior in every way. As a result, France has actually declined in numbers as well as in power. And so this war is killing off the very those who were equivalent to a confession that they fear the decision would be against them. And if any nation still refuses, it shall then be unlawful for any other country or people to have any dealings with these nations. They can neither buy or sell to those who fear them money. And as a last resort they may all combine and send an army to arrest those who will not abide by the decision of the great court of nations. It is cheering to know that the men who composed the great conference that met at the Hague, are men who believe in Jesus Christ "the Prince of Peace." They are men who will legislate for Him. They are men who will seek to make Jesus the Supreme Ruler of this world. The King of Kings and the Lord of Lords. "When it gains the ascendancy, we know what will happen. For years Chile and Argentine Republic had been enemies, and in 1908 they prepared to settle their differences by the stern arbitrament of war. At the advice of earnest Christians men they settled their differences peacefully like Christian people, and when this was done, they brought their cannons to the furnace and forged them into a statue representing Christ, the Prince of Peace. Then they selected the highest point in the Andes, 14,000 feet above the sea, and there they placed it upon a pedestal on which were inscribed the words, "Sooner shall these mountains crumble into dust, than Argentines and Chileans break the peace of the world." They pledged themselves at the foot of the Christ, the Redeemer."

And when the other nations of the world come to recognize Christ as Lord, war will cease from the earth. One of the most beautiful pictures adorning the doors of the cathedral in Rome, by the master in art, the divine Raphael, whose colors seem almost to palpitate as if by living breath, and whose figures seem to speak, represents Mrs. as the god of war, with a drawn sword uplifted and ready to strike, while an unarmed angel from Heaven from behind, with gentle but irresistible strength arrests his arm and holds the descending weapon. That angel was to represent the religion of Jesus Christ, and when The Hague conference brings the nations of the world under the sway of the Prince of Peace then war will be no more.

THE GOOD JUDGE'S CLIENT IS VERY MUCH ALIVE

GET the taste of the richest tobacco grown. "Right-Cut" is the Real Tobacco Chew that you hear men boosting to their friends. Sappy, full-bodied tobacco—seasoned and sweetened just enough. You'll be glad, too, that you've found "Right-Cut"—and to pass the word along to men that you know.

Take every small chew—less than one-quarter of ordinary tobacco. Just nibble on it until you find a strength chew that suits you. Tuck it away. Then let it rest. See how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies without grinding, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to get the tobacco satisfied. That's why it is the Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end. It is a ready chew, cut fine and short so that you won't have to chew on it with your teeth. Critical on ordinary candied tobacco. The taste does not need to be covered up with molasses and brownie. Notice how the salt brings out the tobacco taste.

One small chew takes the place of two big chews of the old kind.

1909-10	189
1910-11	192
1911-12	206
1912-13	200
1913-14	220

The second chart was designed to show how this increased enrollment has been due to the increase in the number of new students entering the high school and in greater degree to an increase in the number of old students returning to school. During the years in which the total enrollment increased from 115 to 220, the number of new students entering the high school has increased from 47 to 67 while the number of students returning has increased from 71 to 163. It is evident that students are staying longer in school.

The third exhibit was an alphabetical list of graduates; the fourth showed by graphical lines and curves the growth of the graduating classes, a comparison of their number with that of new students entering and the proportion of boys and girls graduated; the fifth was a list of higher institutions which they have attended. There have been twenty-one graduating classes in the history of the high school. These graduates have been distributed as follows:

Boys		Girls		Total
First eleven years	8	43	51	59
Last ten years	83	103	186	269
	91	146	237

The last graduating class was that of 1914 which entered in 1911. Up to and including that year 571 new students had entered since the beginning of the school. Of these 571 students we have already graduated 237 or 41.7 per cent. During the first eleven years 8 boys were graduated out of a total of 61 boys entered and in the last ten years 83 have been graduated out of 186 entered.

Of these 237 graduates 110, to my knowledge, have already presented their credentials to the Manistique High school or to higher institutions of learning in 11 states. Their number will probably be further increased, for it will be several years before it can be definitely known how many of the 237 have pursued further studies, as graduates often through choice or necessity wait a few years before going away to school.

It was estimated that it might be possible for about 130 of our alumni to attend the Fair. Of this number 83 did appear and sign our register.

Very truly yours,
Lewis Reichle,
Principal.

The exhibit of the farmers of Germantown, which was shipped via Pike Lake, failed to reach the city in time for the fair. Not only was this a source of much disappointment to the farmers that had prepared the shipment, but to the people generally, for Germantown is considered one of the very best townships in the county from an agricultural viewpoint, and the display in the exposition building would have been materially heightened and the consignment arrived.

The fair management evidently stands well with Providence, for had they ordered the weather, it could have not been more ideal for the annual fair. Every day was a perfect day.

While Dr. McPhail was standing on a wagon looking at the races last Saturday afternoon, an acquaintance playfully pushed him from his perch, and he struck the ground in such a manner as to sustain severe injuries. He was taken to the hospital for treatment.

Messrs. Volney Teeple and Bruce Millar got the laugh upon hundreds of people at the fair grounds last week. They installed a box in the exposition building, containing "Red India Bats," and everybody was sufficiently interested to climb the ladder only to find a few common brick-bats reposing peacefully in the box.

Mrs. Cameron has rented the building on Oak street that has been used as a bakery during the past year, and will occupy same shortly with her restaurant and cafe. She is a first class cook, and she has been very successful in the conduct of her business in the Boomer block on Cedar street, and no doubt she will be equally successful in her new location.

"A Homelike Church"

Manistique Walloped Escanaba Team.

Local Ball Team "Sand Lot" Aggregation from Escanaba to Two Decisive Defeats.

Manistique team played the Sand-lot aggregation from Escanaba last Saturday and Sunday, and won two decisive victories. The Sand-lot-ers were decidedly outclassed, and did not take their defeats good naturally as all good sports should.

The first game went to the locals by a score of three to two. After the "leaguers" had sacrificed their best pitcher, VanEffen, who showed his classiest form, they become frantic, and sent for Scanlon, a pitcher for Louisville of the American association, and further presumable strength from Escanaba, to avenge the first assault. But with Eddie Paull on the firing line for the Manistique team, never was there a shadow of doubt from the viewpoints of an intelligent fan, of the outcome. Olmsted, who started for Escanaba, was slaughtered and was hooked in the fourth inning, after three runs were pounded in. The great Scanlon (the man with the rap) relieved him, and by super-human effort on the part of the fielders, he was saved from serious humiliations.

Bratsche, first baseman, Gravelle, third baseman and Pitchers Paull and Freeland did exceptionally good work for the locals. They played big league ball every minute of the time. Manistique now has the best team in the peninsula, and the drastic defeat given the top-notchers of the Delta-Marquette league, proves that assertion.

GOOD NEWS FROM "BIG BEN."

He is going to extend his sale at the Blumrosen Store for one week.

"Big Ben," says: He is going to cut prices still deeper. He will also conduct those half hour bargains each day. Look for them in the advertisements on another page of this paper.

Crowds have thronged this store every day during this big sale and the crowds grow larger. There's a reason. Come and see.

The reason for extending this "Big Ben" public sale one week is: That we have been requested by hundreds to do it owing to the fact that pay day comes on the 10th of October, so we will extend this sale to the 17th of October.

"Big Ben" says: The men or women who fail to investigate the opportunities of life such as this great sale—have no one to blame but themselves if they don't prosper.

Here, now, every man or woman in Manistique or surroundings is offered the chance to buy goods they will surely need sooner or later, at prices way below what they have had to pay formerly or will have to pay later. The shrewd men or women—those who are getting ahead—are quick to grasp such an opportunity as this. They realize that to take advantage of it is just like finding money.

Yes Sir: Go where you will and when you will you'll not find bargains like these. No merchant is going to sacrifice good merchandise this way except under circumstances compelling drastic measures. Mr. Blumrosen must reduce his stock without delay in order to carry out his plans. Hence the big bargains at the "Big Ben" sale.

THE WINNERS.
The guessing done at Middlebrook's Sanitary Grocery booth at the County Fair proved to be very popular, although opinions varied greatly as to the correct weight.

The lowest guess was 25 pounds, 8 ounces and the highest 300.

Magnus Klugstad and M. Lawrence, both guessed 123 pounds, the weight of the stove being 123 pounds, 12 ounces. These gentlemen will be forced to draw cuts to determine which is the winner.

Football at the fair grounds Saturday, Oct. 10 at 2 p. m. Manistique vs. Escanaba. Admission 25 and 15 cents. Tickets at Putnam's and Orr's drug stores and at the gate.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

10:30 a. m. Rev. Grant M. Hudson, a Baptist minister and a very interesting speaker and the head of the Anti-Saloon league of the state will preach.

12 m. S. S. Mr. Treppe, Supt. 6 p. m. the C. E. meeting will be led by Miss Alice Norton. 7 p. m. preaching.
