ACKERMAN-BERG-STEDT WEDDING.

Miss Ella Ackerman becomes the bride of Mr. Victor Bergstedt Wednesday evening.

Miss Ella Ackerman of this city, and Mr. Victor Bergstedt of St. Paul, were married at the Swedish Lutheran church Wednesday evening, by the pastor Rev. Augustine Nelson. The church was filled with the friends of the contracting parties.

The attendants were Misses Sigrid Silstrom and Hilma Peterson and Messrs. Victor and Albert Ackerman. Miss Bernice Gunnarson was the ring bearer. The wedding march was played by Mrs. Rev. Nelson, and during the ceremony, Miss Johnson sang a solo in her usual sweet and impressive manner.

After the ceremony a reception was held, and an elaborate banquet was served in the church parlors, to which fifty or more of the close personal friends, and relatives of the contracting parties were invited.

The banquet hall was elaborately decorated with evergreen and ground pine and the flowers were carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. Bergstedt left on the nine o'clock train for St. Paul, where they will make their future home.

The bride has been a life-long resident of Manistique, and is very highly regarded by everyone having met her. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Ackerman, and for years has been in the employ of the Blumerson store as clerk. She was highly regarded by her employer, as well as by the patrons of the store.

Mr. Bergstedt is a traveling man, and has been visiting Manistique for years. He is a man of good habits, and genial personality, and is also highly esteemed by all having met him here.

Mr. and Mrs. Bergstedt have the best wishes of a host of Manistique friends, that wish them a long, happy and prosperous future.

For rent, furnished room, modern, 21 Oak street.

THE AUDIENCE WAS MORE THAN PLEASED.

Old Kentucky Jubilee Quartette, Opening the Land Lyceum Course Gave Here Entertainment.

The Old Kentucky Jubilee Quartette opened the local lyceum course, last Saturday evening, and the crowded house was rarely entertained. Every number of the program was heartily enjoyed—the encores climbing to five or six in some cases. The program consisted of a medley of vocal and string music and every member of the quartette, was an artist. Their monologues were especially good and up-to-the-minute.

The local management deserves praise for their wisdom in securing the Jubilee singers as one of the attractions of the course and every member of the quartette was a vote taker, the audience of last Saturday evening would vote unanimously for a return engagement.

A BIG LAND DEAL.

Consolidated Lumber Co. Disposes of Large Tract in Upper Hiawatha.

We understand that negotiations have been completed and that the papers are now being drawn up covering the sale of a large tract of land in which is included every acre of land in upper Hiawatha township. The acreage involved approximates 5,000 acres.

It is the intention of the purchasers to do some experimental work.

We understand that several Detroit parties are interested in the deal.

This is one of the largest realty deals recorded for several years, and it is the intention of the purchasers to improve and colonize the tract in question. The fact that good roads are in proximity to the tract no doubt had its influence in the selection of the tract in question. Good roads are an asset and the wisdom of Schoolcraft county's expenditure of large sums in road improvement is beginning to bear fruit.

For Sale—Team of heavy horses. Inquire at Isaacson's farm, will be sold cheap if taken at once.

DIED AT PORTLAND THIS WEEK.

Mr. Wm. B. Mesereau, Well-known Here, Passed Away in West Last Sunday.

Mr. Owen G. Quick received a telegram Monday announcing the death of Mr. William B. Mesereau, which occurred at Portland, Oregon the previous day.

No particulars have been received thus far. The deceased was a native of Portville, N. Y., and was born on January 17th, 1852. He was of Huguenot extraction, and on his mother's side he could trace his ancestry through Governor Bradford to William the Conqueror.

He devoted his entire life in the manufacture of lumber, a business that had been conducted before him by his grandfather, Mr. John Garrison Mesereau, and by his father, Samuel J. Mesereau. In 1851 the grandfather and father, moved from Standen county, N. Y., to Portville and continued in the lumber business. There they started operations that later developed into the business successfully carried on until 1906 by Mr. Mesereau.

The original firm name under which the business was conducted was Weston & Mesereau. In 1867 Eugene Leavens, Mr. Mesereau's father-in-law, bought a quarter interest in the business and it became Weston, Mesereau & Co. In 1888 Mr. Mesereau bought the interests of the Westons and of the estate of J. G. Mesereau. These purchases gave him a three-quarters interest, and in 1905 he acquired the holdings of Mr. Leavens, and became sole owner.

In 1900 Mr. Mesereau began purchasing timber tracts on the Pacific coast, purchasing timber both in Oregon and California. In 1907, having closed out his mill in New York state owing to the fact that the supply of timber was exhausted, he moved to the Pacific coast and engaged in the manufacture of lumber at Doty, Wash. At the time of death he was president of the Doty Lumber & Ship-

MINATURE WAR AT COOKS.

Residents of Cooks Mobilized Friday and Held a Small Army of Intoxicated Poles Until Arrival of Officers.

Cooks was the scene of much excitement last Friday when a gang of drunken woodmen raised a disturbance and badly punished an Austrian by slapping him with knives and assaulting him with other weapons. Sheriff Howard, Chief of Police Peterson and Deputy Sheriff Redeker left for Cooks that afternoon upon receipt of an urgent call from the citizens of that town. When they arrived they found that the citizens had corralled thirteen Polanders on a sandy knoll in the vicinity of the depot, and the citizens were armed with guns of every description, pitchforks, clubs and other formidable weapons of warfare. The officers handcuffed the fellows in pairs, and bundled them into automobiles and brought them to the city where they were placed in jail.

It appears that about twenty Polanders that had been employed at a camp in the vicinity of Cooks, jumped the camp because the foreman had reduced their wages. They came to Cooks, and proceeded to fill up on whiskey. After they became sozzled they purchased lunch and went to the depot to eat it. There they found an Austrian, and after discussing the European situation for a short time, he crowd set upon the single Austrian and seriously injured him. But for the prompt arrival of the citizens, they would have added murder to their category of crimes.

The belligerents were brought before Justice Temple Saturday morning upon the charge of disturbing the peace, and collectively paid fines of $50.00. They left for Escanaba Saturday evening.

Regular meeting of Lakeside lodge, No. 371 F. & A. M. Monday evening, Nov. 2nd. The 2nd degree will be conferred. Refreshments.

TO THE PUBLIC.

OFFICIAL COUNTY AND CITY PAPER

FRIDAY, OCT. 1, 1914.

TO THE VOTERS.

Next Tuesday the voters of Michigan will have the opportunity of voting for candidates to fill the various elective offices in the state from governor and congressman to coroner. Every citizen should avail himself of the opportunity of voting his convictions. The average Republican can vote his ticket from Governor Osborn to county surveyor, without experiencing serious qualms of conscience and it is his duty as a party man to vote the ticket. This country is experiencing old fashioned Democratic times as the result of Democratic domination in the national and state administrations. The older voters know that the paralyzing of the industrial world is the sequel of every Democratic administration. No Republican can afford to vote against his party candidates for by so doing he votes to perpetuate Democratic misrule in state and nation.

It is true that candidates sometimes creep under the tent that are not desirable, but if you scan the other ticket you will find no man superior in qualifications to the man chosen by the Republicans. Personalities should not be allowed to bias the voter, and it is our hope that Michigan will roll up one of its old-time Republican majorities next Tuesday, and that Democracy shall be relegated to the oblivion it has so richly earned.

If you believe that you are paying burdensome taxes you cannot consistently vote for Ferris. Ours materially reduced the taxes upon the people during his term of office, and he promises the same sort of an administration should he be reelected. Ferris' administration will go down in state history as being one of the most extravagant administrations the state has ever had. If you believe that the affairs of the commonwealth should be as carefully conducted as a private enterprise, you will vote for Osborn, for he proved his business ability during his former term. He devoted all of his time in the performance of his duties as governor. He moved to Lansing, and he did not find it necessary to travel about the state delivering lectures at $40.00 per lecture when the state was paying him for his time. Ferris, it is claimed devotes two days per week in looking after the business of governing the state of Michigan. It costs millions of dollars to pay the running expenses of the state, and the head of a business institution doing such an extensive business is constantly on the job, and his concern would ultimately become bankrupt should he only devote a small portion of his time in looking after its interests. It has been clearly demonstrated that the undivided attention of a keen, shrewd and successful business man such as Osborn, is more conducive to an economical administration, than the two-days-a-week services of a successful pedagogue. The records of the two candidates prove this. If you are in doubt compare your state tax receipts during the Ferris administration.

Schoolcraft county should give the Republican ticket at least 600 plurality next Tuesday. We believe that it will for the party is not divided to any extent this year, and there cannot be a valid excuse hatchep why you should cast your vote for any candidate on the Democratic ticket.

THEIR RECORDS COMPARED.

Governor Ferris did not answer the charge of extravagance which has been made against his administration when he points to a Republican legislature and says: "They did it."

If "they" could not have done it without the aid of the governor.

Governor Ferris and his supporters have mentioned frequently in the campaign how nicely he and the legislature got along together.

"I couldn't have done what I did do," the governor has said, "without the aid of the Republicans."

Neither could the Republicans have done what they did do as spendthrifts without the aid of the governor.

Four years ago Chase S. Osborn found Michigan $650,000 in debt.

He at once set about correcting this condition, not by asking for a bigger tax levy, but by insisting upon rigid economy in every branch of the service.

When he went out, two years ago, instead of a $650,000 indebtedness, he left $1,776,982.52 in the treasury.

The total state taxes under Osborn were $11,975,949.25.

Under Ferris they have been $14,718,748.89, which is by far the biggest tax ever levied in the state, and exceeds that under Osborn by 2,742,899.64.

This means that Osborn saved to the state over Ferris the enormous sum of nearly $6,000,000 and proves the Ferris administration the most expensive in the whole history of Michigan.

These are figures which have been supplied to answer the Ferris supporters who claim that it is unfair to charge the governor with extravagance without giving the particulars.

And they are figures which leave Ferris with the one reply, now that Osborn crippled the state institutions by cutting down the appropriation, that the ladies receive congratulations for their wise selection for the opening number of their yeum course. The remaining numbers of the course make safe the prediction that the present, is the best course ever secured for Manistique.

If the success of the present course shall result in placing the yeum course on a permanent basis in Manistique, such good shall be the result. In the past sporadic efforts have been made in this direction by many public spirited persons, with varying success. The gentlemen that financed the first lecture course in Manistique each were out of pocket $28.00 at the conclusion of the season. However, they were the pioneers, and blazing the way is sometimes an expensive undertaking. Their successors have done better, but the efforts have been intermittent.

We hope that the Reading club or some other organization equally enterprising and influential, shall take upon itself the work of furnishing Manistique with a yeum course every year. If the citizens do their part, it would require little effort to encourage the idea to such an extent that it would require but little effort upon the part of the promoters to make the idea a success. We have in mind a city in the west, about as large as Manistique, that has supported yeum courses for the past quarter century, and for many years, all the committees in charge have endeavored to do was to announce when the season tickets would be placed on sale at the drug stores and news stands. Then the public did the rest. A thousand or more tickets are disposed of annually in this way. Everybody goes, and the patronage makes it possible for the committee to secure the very best and most expensive talent in the country.

did stand with their feet in the trough. Osborn took office pledged to a political gang. He had pledged himself to the people that he would practice economy for them, and he kept his word. By keeping his word, he made some enemies and they are very much in evidence in this campaign, helping him, as we feel almost certain, by their opposition.

If these fellows can deliver the goods again, this time for Ferris, as they did in the vote-swapping days of Warnerism, then there has not been much progress by way of an enlightened electorate.

The state faces today a return of Warnerism or government by the political bosses and the liquor interests, because if Woodbridge W. Ferris is elected he will owe his election to the political bosses and the liquor interests. Essentially the same crowd in both parties which brought us to extravagance, mismanagement and corruption in our state government.

We do not believe the majority of voters in Michigan want any more Warnerism.

In truth, next to the rich compliment paid Mr. Osborn the fiercest opposition of the pro-capitalism and reactionary Republican newspapers and of such arrant corporatists as MacNaughton, Hodge, Campbell and Rowley, the finest tribute accorded the unafraid ex-governor proceeds from the antagonism of Fred M. Warner, the compliant executive who made machine Republicanism a by-word and a hissing in Michigan.—Detroit Times.

OSBORN DONATES $100.00 FOR CHRISTMAS SHIP.

Chase S. Osborn today contributed $100 toward the Christmas Ship fund with the request that the money be used to buy heavy, warm stockings for the children of the warring European nations.

The Republican candidate for governor said: "When I was a boy I could not have many stockings. There were ten children in our family and we were poor. It kept father and mother busy supplying needful things. Our stockings were home knit and the boys and girls were taught to knit them. On Christmas eve we hung our stockings before the fireplace in a log cabin and next morning we were eager to find what Santa Claus had brought. Always it was a red apple. How nice it looked, and how sweet and juicy. Even apples were scarce and they were a treat to be remembered. Sometimes there was a wonderful stick of striped candy. That was a treat indeed. There was war and war then our dear land too. I wish I wish a big, red Michigan apple could go with each of these stockings. There will go with them our American love and our prayers for peace and good will. May they be answered in good time so that fathers may come back to their tearful little folks.

But many will never come back. They will be in unknown graves. Always the dear little foreign children would remember what the good American Kris Kringle sent and when manhood and womanhood fruits there will be kinder hearts, and sweetness will offset the bitterness of these tragic days.

"What a noble thought of Mr. Keeley. How it has blossomed into a flower that will perfume the whole world and make it better for this loving Christmas ship. God will voyage it safe to the ports of sorrow and hunger and pain."

DEMOCRATS ENDORSE OSBORN.

Governor Ferris said at the conclusion of Osborn's term as governor: "If I can do as much for the people of this state as Governor Osborn has done, I will feel that I have made a splendid mark. I am delighted with the endorsements that Governor Osborn has received and I heartily agree with all of them. Two years ago I read his inaugural address to the legislature and concluded that he was a man of convictions. There are few messages that can compare with that document that I have read. The Democratic candidate for Governor, at the conclusion of Mr. Osborn's term as Governor, said of him: "I think that Governor Osborn has succeeded in bringing about a new era in Michigan politics and the people of Michigan will always have reason to feel proud that they made him their leader."

E. O. Wood, present secretary of the Democratic state central committee, at the same time said of Governor Osborn's record: "The legislation that has been enacted during the two years of his administration will stand as a perpetual monument to Governor Osborn's efforts to place Michigan among the foremost states of the Union."

The universal satisfaction that the ladies receive of the Republican candidate for Governor in mind when they prepare their ballots on election day.

THE FIRST NUMBER PLEASES HUGELY.

The initial entertainment given under the auspices of the Women's Reading club, last Saturday evening, gave the universal satisfaction that the ladies receive congratulations for their wise selection for the opening number of their yeum course. The remaining numbers of the course make safe the prediction that the present, is the best course ever secured for Manistique.

NOTE IT STRAIGHT.

It has come to our attention that because the Pioneer-Tribune is publishing advertising of one or more Democratic candidates for office, that some readers have gotten the idea that we are supporting these candidates. If a Democratic candidate desires to advertise "his ware" in this newspaper and is willing to pay our rates for such service he is at liberty to do so. We wish it emphatically understood that we are not supporting any Democratic candidate for office. The Republican party has an excellent ticket in the field and there can be no reason for any Republican doing other than voting it straight. The union is bearing the burden of Democratic misrule, both in state and nation, and the quickest way to remedy the error made two years ago is to vote straight Republican ticket. The Democrats promised that they would reduce the cost of living virtue of tariff education. Their promises have not been kept, and the sequel of their tariff doctoring the country is facing a deficit in times of peace, and the necessities of life are costing you more today than they did prior to Democratic ascendancy.

Don't forget to vote no on the fractional amendment next Tuesday.

The section men of the Chicago & Northwestern railroad are receiving $1.36 per day for nine hours work. Certainly they are experiencing Democratic times with a vengeance.

Mr. Frank M. Webber who has recently assumed the editing and management of the Alpena Daily Echo, is rapidly transforming that sheet into a newsy, good looking newspaper that is a credit to the city in which it is published.

Place a cross in the circle under the words "Republican ticket," next Tuesday, and they promptly fold up the ballot before you permit personal likes and dislikes to prompt you to vote for the "other fellow," who may not be as good or capable as the candidate or candidates appearing on your ticket.

The Cheboygan Democrat issued a creditable industrial edition last week, which reflected not only great credit to the Democrat office and its enlarged facilities, but it gave Cheboygan county and its various business men, an invaluable amount of advertising that cannot help but assist in the growth of the county and its chief city.

See to it that you are properly registered tomorrow. If you have moved to the city since the last election or have moved from one ward to the other, you should attend to the matter before the registration board is sitting in the ward tomorrow in which you are now a voter. No excuse for non-registration will be entertained on election day save that of illness or absence from the city.

The voter that believes in the encouragement of efficiency should cast his ballot next Tuesday for Oran S. Fuller, the Republican candidate for auditor general. "O. B." has saved the state many thousands of dollars during the time that he has served the state in his present capacity. The voters would be well to the good should it treble his salary annually.

The Republican party of Schoolcraft county is offering an exceptionally good county ticket to the voters this year. The candidates are such as will bring a feeling of confidence to the taxpayers of the county. They can rest assured that their public business will be in proper hands. Without trying in any way to depreciate the claims of any other candidate or set of candidates, we feel certain of the fact that the Republican party is offering the very best sort of material, and that no mistake will be made in the election of every candidate on the Republican county ticket.

Some Michigan cities and villages have inaugurated the "Dollar Day" idea, and it is very gratifying to see the Pioneer-Tribune would be pleased to have the merchants of Manistique get together and try out the idea here. The scheme is for every merchant to make material reductions on one to more lines of merchandise for the day in question, and to thoroughly advertise the fact previous to the holding of the event. This publicity induces people from a wide area of country to visit the city that pushes the day, and the results are very gratifying to the customer as well as to the merchant. Manistique has stores and stocks that are equal if not superior to those found in cities of 10,000 inhabitants. They should have the undivided patronage of the well-to-do territory to Manistique, and we are simply purchasing ourselves without being to be imported by some lady who prompts her to devote many hours of time at a great personal sacrifice in order to make its community support something that is of real benefit to its industrial units.

Anyways, the local dairymen did not place a heavy war tax on beer and whiskey, and by so doing proves that a compact has been made by that party with the liquor interests, with the hope of retaining Wilson in power for another four years.

The big state of Texas will furnish a million bags of nuts for the "Christmas Ship," with the necessities for Europe with toys and shortlets for the children of war-ridden Europe. The sacks will fill at least ten large freight cars.

In predicting that Chase S. Osborn will be defeated at the coming election the Detroit Free Press has this advantage over real newspapers—the people will not take it seriously and will not taunt it with the failure of its prophecy the day after election.—Alpena Echo.

Dandelion roots that are used for medicine, have advanced 200 per cent, on account of the European war. The dandelions do not thrive in this climate, and the yellow hued larvae of the average American city and village, must get their color in the springtime from butter cups or some other species of yellow flower.

"Party lines are a menace," says Governor Ferris. Had party lines been drawn two years ago, Michigan would not have had two years of Ferrisism. Judging from the outlook, party lines are being drawn more closely in Michigan this year than for a number of years, and this fact is not reassuring for Ferris' success next Tuesday. No wonder he says it is a menace. It is to Democratic success.

Looks as though the liquor laws were badly fructured at Cooks last week. The majority of the fellows that figured in the drunken brawl in that city, and who paid fines in Justice Teeple's court Saturday, were boys under 21 years of age. This being the case it looks as though some one sold liquor to minors. Such persons assist materially in fomenting "dry" sentiment in any community.

The Russian government has announced that hereafter it will not engage in the liquor business. Since the prohibition of the sale of liquor, which edict went into effect at the opening of the war, the cities of that country, which are considered the poorest in Europe, have increased the deposits of the savings banks by more than eleven millions, and everybody is so well satisfied that it now looks as though the empire of the Czar would remain "dry" party lines.

Harvard university is to be congratulated. It refused to accept the resignation of a doughty German professor connected with that institution, notwithstanding the fact that upon its acceptance or rejection hinged a proposed bequest of ten million dollars. It appears that Munsterberg said some things about the present war that did not suit a graduate of the university now residing in England. He announced that he had intended giving the university ten millions of dollars, but would not do so as long as Munsterberg was connected with the university. Munsterberg promptly tendered his resignation, but the university refused to accept it, hence it is out the sum in question provided the English minister had that amount of money to spare.

DEER HUNTERS TO WEAR TAGS?

Just because hunters from the southern part of the state are not able to distinguish a calf from a deer, hunters in all parts of the state may have to wear a red tag bearing the number of their hunting licenses. Farmers in Menominee county and other northern peninsula counties declare their fences are being torn down and their stock killed by hunters. Balance county has passed the way for the tags yesterday when the farmers in all parts of the state will make a grant to have the measure passed.

"Great," says DeDell. "If passed, it will mean that a hunter who prowls about the forests of Michigan after game will look something like an automobile. Although he may carry a horn or a gas-line tank, he at least will have a tag bearing the number of his license in large scareprint figures."

"Great idea," said Deputy Game Warden DeDell this morning when informed of the action which the grangers expect the state legislature to take. Make those lower peninsula and out-of-state hunters wear tags bearing the number of their licenses. Menominee county farmers will have a chance to identify them if they kill calves instead of deer. "I should say it would be a first step in the cure for buck fever."

Farmers have decided that if a hunter shoots down a buck looking "bony" in the belief that the animal is a deer, there will be an opportunity to identify the assassin by use of the tag if he is not willing to pay damages.

May Study Biology. It is also pointed out that if this measure is taken by the state, hunters will study biology to learn the appearance, traits and habits of domestic and wild animals.

Grangers reason that to learn that the future woman was in doubt, it was because they were not the faith and courage of the men; who stood by them and shared with them all the dangers of the pioneer days.

Now, again, we have pioneer days. We are not threatened with external enemies—the savage Indian and the wild beasts of the forest—but each enemy just as dangerous and far more to be dreaded the internal foes of the social body, vice, competition, disease, poverty. To succeed in the warfare against these evils requires the help and co-operation of the women just as our forefathers had their help in those troublous days. As they gave her the musket, their most efficient weapon, and never doubted her ability to use it well, so today must she be given the best equipment to aid in the struggle in behalf of the nation and the home, if success, endurance and prosperity come to us—woman must, of necessity, be given the ballot.

WHY WOMAN NEEDS WOMAN'S BALLOT.

Edited by Mrs. Iva McElhan of This City at W. C. T. U. Cannon.

It will be found that a great majority of men do not see that they have anything to gain by granting the franchise to the woman. Others who favor it, are animated more by a sense of chivalry than by any appreciation of their best interests. There is one class of men, however, who do realize the importance of this question—the saloon men, the gamblers, the corrupt politicians, and the traffickers in vice—and they are usually opposed to woman suffrage because they are afraid of woman's vote for they know what it will mean to them. They know that woman will exercise her political authority in behalf of decency and purity, without reference to "politics" and party interests; and this will mean a powerful menace to their business.

The woman should have the ballot, not only for her own benefit, but for the benefit of every man who stands for good government, public cleanliness in vice—and they are usually opposed to woman suffrage because they are afraid of woman's vote for they know what it will mean to them. They know that woman will exercise her political authority in behalf of decency and purity, without reference to "politics" and party interests; and this will mean a powerful menace to their business.

The past two generations have witnessed great changes in our social and economic conditions. Fifty years ago there was but one woman's college in America. Today there are one hundred and fifty, besides many co-educational institutions. Our high school graduates are girls and today there are more young women preparing for college than men. So much for the educational status of women. Sixty years ago there was not a woman physician in the United States. Today there are more than eight thousand. There was not a woman lawyer. Today there are nearly three thousand. And so with other professions. This is certainly proof positive of woman's capability. Today there are upward of six million women supporting themselves by their own labor. This fact does away with the argument that they have not been and cannot be self-supporting.

Then take the questions of sanitation the prevention of disease, the supervision of food, the regulation of morals, health and cleanliness, the schooling, physical training care, and protection of children—do not they relate to the welfare of the child, the home and the family? And isn't it self evident that woman's assistance is very necessary to their proper management, for they are really woman's duties. While woman's place is the home, it does not serve it today, she must go beyond the house, for the home is no longer enclosed within four walls. Many of its duties are now involved in the bigger family, of the city and state and nation. These have taken charge of the schooling of children, the matter of the pure food, morals, and health, etc. Therefore if the woman of today would exercise her natural authority as guardian of the home, she must interest herself in public affairs and take part in their management. And if the city and nation would succeed in the management of their many household duties, they must call upon the women to aid in maintaining the new social household. We know that men cannot keep house alone, and they, if they do, will own up to it. If this is true in regard to the individual family, is it not equally true with reference to the bigger municipal, family? Follow back any of the important and vitally necessary measures of reform, and you will find that it stands a woman or a woman's organization. It seems that no stronger argument in favor of woman suffrage is needed, than the civic work accomplished by woman without the ballot. Has she not shown her fitness to be clothed with the full powers of citizenship?

The securing of good laws, is really only half the battle. They, their proper enforcement is one of the hardest tasks to contend with. Give women the ballot, then, she may exercise her choice in the election of public officials and the problem is solved.

Always, the man of America has needed woman's help. From the early colonial days, when the fate of the future woman was in doubt, it was because they were not the faith and courage of the men; who stood by them and shared with them all the dangers of the pioneer days.

Now, again, we have pioneer days. We are not threatened with external enemies—the savage Indian and the wild beasts of the forest—but each enemy just as dangerous and far more to be dreaded the internal foes of the social body, vice, competition, disease, poverty. To succeed in the warfare against these evils requires the help and co-operation of the women just as our forefathers had their help in those troublous days. As they gave her the musket, their most efficient weapon, and never doubted her ability to use it well, so today must she be given the best equipment to aid in the struggle in behalf of the nation and the home, if success, endurance and prosperity come to us—woman must, of necessity, be given the ballot.

THE LINEMAN GETS A CHEW FROM THE GOOD JUDGE.

THE better the news the faster it travels—"Right-Cut", the Real Tobacco Chew is taking hold like sixty.

Seems like every man who tries it wants to pass the good word along.

It's full-bodied, sappy tobacco-seasoned and sweetened just enough.

Take a very small chew—less than one-quarter the size of ordinary tobacco. Just nibble on it until you find the strength chew that suits you. Then let it rest. See how easily and evenly the red tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies without grinding, how much less you have to spit, how few others you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is The Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end.

It is so easily and so short shined so that you won't have to grind it with your teeth. Grinding on ordinary tobacco leaves a taste that is hard to get rid of.

Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste in "Right-Cut". One small chew takes the place of two big chews of the old kind.

SOME VERY POINT-ED QUESTIONS.

By a member of the W. G. T. U. Is it fair to license men who have been in jail for drunkenness? Is it just? Is it right? Is it economical? Is it wise? Is it a good sense?

And answer to yourself. Read your neighbor and get his opinion. You have a well known professional man who has driven a car and a private residence while he was away and there created a garden where there was a serious sickness, and afterwards engaged in a fight along the street in one of the most public places in our city and where men, women and children could not see it.

But see it. He is an unusually good man, very genial and capable of doing very living and being a good citizen. But when drunk, he becomes very unbecomingly and undurable and even dangerous, as on this occasion. And he is a big, strong, kind-hearted person who he could do no harm, might like a tiger until two other come to help the officer of the law.

Is it fair to license men who have been in jail for drunkenness and then to punish them for being made drunk by them? Is it fair? This man has already cost this city a large sum of money. He had been in jail often than any other man in the county, and always on the same offense, that of drunkenness. He has been sent away to an insane asylum as the public expense of the taxpayers had to pay the bill. And then when he returned home he cured, these same men used to license to make him a drunkard again. And they succeeded too. And he was released, his last status was that of a free man. He went down here. Now was it right to give to him a set of men a license that would allow them to sell liquor to him? And what do you think men who would do such a thing as that? Can they wonder that all good people look down on them for it? And since that, this man has often been arrested and tried and imprisoned for drunkenness, and then when he has been sobered up in jail, he has been paroled and let out on a suspended sentence. And kind people looked around him and set him in his profession. Patrimony came to him. Money flowed into his pocket.

Every one knows his weakness and he has once tasted liquor he was sent to an another agency that will run his practice and send him to jail. And yet knowing all that and knowing that it was illegal to sell to him, yet for the miserable pittance of 10 cents, the price of a drink, they will sell him liquor that will destroy his reason, destroy his life and send him back to prison.

In the saloon-keepers wonder that decent people despise their business? Can they wonder that all good people look down on them? They must look down on themselves. And this is the solitary instance. On last Sunday, two men went into a village in this county and was kept open contrary to law, and their liquor and became drunk, into a fight and one man killed the other. And now the county must go to the expense of a trial for murder of the taxpayers must foot that bill. And for the liquor sold that day in the saloon, that crime would never be committed. It was the direct and legitimate effect of that business. Can the keeper of such a business wonder that the general public regard him with absolute horror? But we have a still more recent case. A man who had a Motherless daughter who worked hard and kept him out near to Thompson might a load of potatoes to the city while he went into a saloon, got drunk and then started home, fell out of his wagon, was run over and killed, and when the team came home with him, that young daughter took him and with a trembling heart full of dread, started back in the darkness search for her father. When she came to a certain place, the horses refused to go any further. She got out and there she found that his own wagon had gone over his body and killed it in a most horrible manner. She in that search and of the flesh of that lovely, agonized daughter. Girls, put yourself in her place. How would you feel towards that saloon keeper? Mothers, suppose she was your daughter. Mr. of heart, think of it. There was a home entrance destroyed and wiped out of existence through drink. If that saloon keeper had not sold him that liquor that day, that father would be alive today to support and protect that daughter. Can he wonder that every person looks down on him with absolute abhorrence? Can he ever forget that awful results of the drink he sold him? That man got the price of the liquor it is true, but the state took a farmer, society lost a producer, a daughter lost her father and her only support and protector, a home

IS DOING GOOD WORK.

Miss Mary Marshall, the Visiting Nurse, Has Accomplished Much During Her Stay in City.

Miss Mary Marshall, who has been spending the past month in the county, in the capacity of visiting nurse, has certainly been doing a wonderful work, and the regret is universally expressed that she cannot become a permanent adjunct to the work of health conservation in this county. She has, during her brief stay here, devoted much of her time in visiting the various schools of the city and county, and has examined many of the children and has made records for future reference in the individual cases. She has also delivered addresses wherever she has gone, and the advice and instructions given will be invaluable to the teachers and the pupils.

Her report will be issued shortly, and same will be given wide publicity, with the hope that it shall have a tendency to improve health conditions. She finds a crying need for a sanitarium where persons infected with tuberculosis can be segregated and given the proper care. She says that much of the work done in a sanitarium is being done by Mrs. Leroy, who is doing a wonderful and self-sacrificing work in the community, by her daily visitations and care given the sick.

She finds an utter lack of interest upon the part of parents and children in the all-important care of the teeth of the latter. Many of the ill that handicap children in their studies, and leave an indelible impress upon the future life of the child, are attributable to bad teeth.

She advocates a rigid medical inspection of school children, and during her work in several departments found that the children were very much interested, and that all insisted upon an examination.

When it is taken into consideration that the teeth prepare the food for digestion, their importance becomes apparent. Many diseases result from improperly masticated food. Bad teeth are the primary cause of malnutrition, resulting in anemia, neurasthenia, and the pernicious host of symptoms that follow chronic indigestion, and auto-intoxication from intestinal absorption. A physician says that ulcers and cancers of the stomach have been traced to decayed teeth; so have rheumatism and diseases of the kidneys. He also says that unquestionably a considerable number of cases of tuberculosis can be traced directly to the malnutrition of food, or from direct infection of four mouths. Mouth breathing and acidosis are also a result of careless care of teeth. Decayed teeth may cause diseases of the ears and eyes. Ulcerated tonsils are also concomitants.

have been in vain if it is followed up with a systematic and compulsory examination of the school children by competent physicians and dentists. She can only hope the trail owing to lack of time, and if her many suggestions and findings that will no doubt make up her forthcoming report, shall have their sequel in a rigid medical and dental examination, her visit shall not have been in vain.

ODD FELLOWS ELECT OFFICERS.

Grand Lodge Most Largely Attended in History of Order H. J. Neville One of Grand Lodge Officers.

The sessions of the grand lodge of Michigan Odd Fellows, which was held at Flint last week, was the most successful from the viewpoint of attendance and interest, ever held by the I. O. O. F. of the state.

The election of officers of the grand lodge took place late in the session and in pursuance of an established custom Myles F. Gray, of Lansing, was advanced from the office of deputy grand master to that of grand master. In acknowledging the honor conferred upon him, Grand Master Gray announced the slogan of Michigan Odd Fellows for the coming year to be "All working together we will win."

The new grand master has served three terms in the state legislature, and during the last session of that body was reading clerk in the house of representatives.

Fred Cutler, Jr., of Ionia, was re-elected to serve his seventh consecutive term as grand treasurer. The newly elected grand lodge officers are as follows: Grand Master, Myles F. Gray, Lansing; deputy grand master, Robert E. Newville, Boyne City; grand warden, Thomas S. Scouplon, Port Huron; Grand secretary, Fred Rogers, Lansing; grand treasurer, Fred Cutler, Jr., Ionia; grand marshal, Henry J. Neville, Manistique; grand conductor, George Harland, Detroit; grand guardian, Dr. T. H. Ransom, Bloomington; grand herald, Horace Hakes, Lowell; grand chaplain, Rev. Dr. E. W. McLean, Ithaca; finance committee; Homer C. Carr, Detroit; Edwin W. Northy, Calumet, and Eugene Hansen, East Tawas, by laws committee—Ed. C. Rogers, Lansing; M. E. Stiles, Wyandotte; L. L. Swank, Beulah Creek, Oscoda; grand officers: Harry A. Penny, Saginaw; Grand representative, Herbert Thompson, Williamston.

New officers of the Rebekahs are: President, Libbie Tutwiler, Leoni; vice-president, Jessie Thompson, Williamston; warden, Myrtle Rhinefrank, Battle Creek; secretary, Hannah Ballargeon, Detroit; treasurer, Addie Smith, Detroit.

At the closing session of the grand lodge a resolution was adopted increasing the salary of the grand master from $1,000 to $1,500.

CLOVERLAND IS GIVEN PRAISE.

Prof. J. Millard of the University of Wisconsin has been named as the potato industry for the new soils can produce the highest quality of potatoes.

"The two most important growths of potatoes, the Green Mountain and the Rural New Yorker varieties, the potatoes at the congress represented distinct growths and uniform grades," continued Mr. Millard.

"The marketing conditions cannot be better than in one pure variety of potato, for at leading stations the mixed variety is often found. The feature which impressed me most was Michigan's falling in line with the most important commercial developments, as is shown on a new variety brought on the field," said Professor Millard.

Mr. Millard concluded by stating that it is very important that the Upper Peninsula potato growers form a "Growers' Association" for the benefit and protection of the potato grower, if they are free from disease and are of a single variety.

DETAILS CONCERNING DROWNING OF STANLEY M'GREGOR.

Mr. L. A. Winkel writes Particulars of Fatality That Happened at Manita Last Month.

Mr. L. A. Winkel, a Manistiquette boy, who is now engaged in business at Manita, P. I., as a member of the firm of Hanson & Winkel, Importers and Exporters, writes his mother Mrs. August Winkel, some of the particulars of the drowning of Mr. Stanley McGreggor, one of our boys here, who lost his life Sept. 13th.

He states that Stanley and five other boys were in swimming on the day in question, and he and a companion went in up to their necks, and a strong under-current pulled them in. Stanley yelled for help, and a fellow named Chapman, grabbed him by the shoulders. The strong sea above and the current below caused them to break their hold. Chapman grabbed him again by the feet, but once more the current pulled them in. No more was seen of Stanley, for the under-current took him off. On the next Tuesday morning he washed ashore at the very spot where he was drowned. He and Birkholt, the other boy that was drowned were only about six feet apart when they were pulled but little. They all did what they could to save them but it could not be done.

Continuing, he says: "At the hospital some of the boys thought about notifying Stanley's friend (me), but they hardly knew where to find me. I knew nothing of it until the Sunday after it happened. I had received Clara's or Ella's letters saying that Stanley and I should have our pictures taken together, so when I went to see Stanley last Sunday I took the camera along but they told me that Stanley was gone. I first thought they were joking but they told me all. So the only picture I got was the one of Stanley's grave. * * * Stanley was very much thought of by all the boys. He was a fine fellow among a bunch of fine lads. The boys in the hospital, whose salaries are small, took up a collection, raising 200 pesos, $50 they will send to Birkholt's mother and the remainder to Stanley's father. They know that Stanley sent most of his savings home to her. The boys who all marched out on the day of the funeral and fired three volleys over the two new graves. The wives of the army officers made flowers and they told me that it was a very sad day at the little hospital.

The body left Manita Oct. 15th, and is now enroute to the United States and will arrive here during the forepart of November.

MARRIED AT DETROIT.

The many friends of Miss Gladys Robertson will be surprised to learn of her marriage on Tuesday, Oct. 20 to Mr. Joe Maxwell of Detroit. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's parents in the presence of only a few members of the family. And Casenore acted as best man and his young bride as matron of honor. Miss Wilda Robertson attended her sister on her wedding day.

The bride was becomingly attired in a brown traveling suit. Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell left by boat for Buffalo and will visit the former's parents who live near Rochester, N. Y.

We desire correspondents at Thompson, Whitefish, Elroy, Upper Hinawatha and in every other section of the county not now represented. Please write this office for particulars. The Editor.

HARSHMAN WINS HONORS.

Maistiquette Boy at State University Chosen as Member of Law Review Staff.

Herbert H. Harshman of this city, who is a senior law student at the state university, has been selected as one of the staff of the Law Review.

The elections are based on scholarly standpoints, the review articles are found on the part of candidates who were accepted by the class as a whole.

The Michigan Law Review is a legal periodical published monthly, and edited by members of the senior law class and the law faculty. The scope of the magazine includes articles on important legal subjects, comments on current topics in the legal world, digests of recent cases, book reviews, and comments on legal literature. Circulation is mostly among practicing attorneys, and its subscribers are to be found on every continent except Africa. The first issue appears Nov. 6th.

Mr. Harshman's friends are glad to earn of his signal honor. While his added duties will mean that he must work harder during the current year, his friends are confident that the fact that he was worthy will aid him in securing good location when he leaves the university and seeks a location for the practice of law.

MANISTIQUE 6, 800 6.

Locals Tied Strong Soccer Aggregation Saturday in Interesting and Fast Game.

The Manistique high school team held the strong Soo aggregation to a score last Saturday in a fast and interesting game played on the local field. The Soo bunch are considered the fastest in the upper peninsula, scholastic circles, and Manistique, in going the score did better than those conversant with the situation were willing to admit prior to the game. John Quick was responsible for Manistique's touch-down and made a spectacular run down the entire length of the field, and overcame all obstacles. John was easily the hero of the game. Joe Pattinson also did a tremendous work, and his face looks as if it had been mixed up in a Denny's broom fair function. The boys did well and the following criticism appearing in the Soo News of Monday, is not based on the true facts in the case.

"With some of its veterans out of the game, Central high school played Manistique high to a standstill on the latter's field Saturday afternoon and although the final score was 6 to 6, the locals claim a victory. The Soo students that Manistique was not entitled to its only touch-down as it was made after the time-keeper called time and the referee's whistle had announced the end of the period. It is said that the Manistique team put the six-point kick which was the goal as the Soo players was leaving the field.

Manistique persisted in counting the goal and rather than disappoint the fans, the Soo team finished the game. Had Coach Barber had his veteran machine on hand the dispute would probably have been avoided. Manistique had a strong team and fought every inch of the ground on Saturday."

NO BETTER TRADING POINT.

The store windows in Manistique look mighty fine with the tasty displays of fall merchandise. Manistique is the best trading point in the lower section of Cloverland. The merchants all carry the best of goods, and have had reputation for fair dealing and courteous treatment. The stocks are as complete as many in the largest cities. For forty years Manistique has been considered one of the leading trade centers of this portion of the upper peninsula, and the indications are that reputation will be accentuated in the near future.

ANENT MR. BLUMROSEN.

The Soo Times reproduced an item appearing in the "Pioneer-Tribune" last week, concerning a contemplated business move that Mr. Blumrosen is interested. The Times comments on the item as follows:

Mr. Blumrosen is well known in this city, and has long been identified with his brother, B. Blumrosen, in the mercantile business. He has an interest in the store building which is soon to be vacated by The Fair, and also in the building which will be abandoned by The Hub after the first of January, when the latter moves into its new quarters. It is not known here which store room the new company will occupy.

EVERY MINUTE COUNTS

In Cost of Ferris' Administration When Figured Out Daily.

Our state's total taxes for the two years of Governor Osborn's administration, 1911-1912, were $1,375,630.25.

The total state taxes for the two following years, 1913-1914, under a Democratic governor, were $1,478,748.89.

This increased tax burden on the people of Michigan is more than $114,000 a month for the entire Ferris term.

An increase each week of Mr. Ferris' administration of $26,758.84. A heavier tax burden for each day, paralyzing for Ferris as compared with Osborn, of $3,787.84.

An increase of $165.58 per hour, and of $2.61 for each minute of the two full years of Ferris' term as governor.

Y. P. U. Faith Arrowswood, leading Tuesday, 7:30 p. m. Prayer meeting at Calvary Mission. Thursday 4 p. m. Junior Society and Boy Scouts. 7:30 p. m. Mid-week Devotions and Praise service.

Go to church Sunday. The glad hand awaits you.

Rev. F. R. Leach returned Friday from Kalamazoo, where he was attending the Baptist State convention. Some 500 delegates were in attendance. Rev. Leach was elected for a three-year term as member of the Board of Managers. He was also elected a trustee of the State Anti-Saloon league. He will attend the annual meeting of the board next Thursday at Lansing.

The Bible school of the First Baptist church sent this week two boxes of gifts for the Christmas ship, which will carry a load of Christmas gifts to the needy children in Europe. The church will also send a missionary box, also a box and clothing to the needy ones in our own state this month.

AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY ELECTS OFFICERS.

Wm. L. Middlebrook Re-elected President, and Edwin Kalfleisch Succeeds Nichol as Secretary.

The annual meeting of the Schoolcraft Agricultural and Horticultural society, held its annual meeting at the court house last Saturday afternoon, at which time the following officers and directors were elected:

President—W. L. Middlebrook.

Vice-President—Chas. Howard.

Treasurer—Edwin Kalfleisch.

Director—E. H. Jewell.

The future success of the society is assured by the excellent list of officers chosen.

Mr. Middlebrook was president of the society during the past year, and much of the success of the fair this year can be attributed to the hard work he did in behalf of the society.

Edwin Kalfleisch, who succeeds George J. Nicholson as secretary served as assistant secretary during the current year, and is conversant with the duties of the office in question. He will keep this department of the work up to the high standard of the society.

It is highly necessary that the members of the society shall send or hand their dues to the secretary at once, as under the articles of incorporation the society must have at least 100 paying members. Before you forget it, pay Mr. Kalfleisch the $1.00 you owe.

The meeting was largely attended by citizens from every section of the county, and a healthy interest was manifested.

BLANNEY ITEMS.

A genuine surprise is as rare as black diamonds yet that is what the Blanney people triumphed in doing Wednesday evening on our highly esteemed Doctor F. E. Cameron and wife.

At half past eight o'clock like a tide of human waves the people swept into the residence of Paul Hubbard (where the doctor and his wife were spending the evening) whose mistress was carrying on the look out for "breakers."

The doctor and his wife were taken by surprise. They were escorted to the Blanney Hall where about eighty Blanney and Gormfack friends were assembled.

The people were entertained by music, singing and dancing after which refreshments were served.

The doctor and his wife were soled, and at the request of the assembly F. J. Johnson in an appropriate and touching manner, made a few brief remarks to the doctor and his wife that the large gathering of friends had assembled for the purpose of expressing in a feeble way a partial expression of their appreciation of the many acts of kindness and assistance they had received from the doctor and his wife, who have resided here, and while they all regretted that the doctor had decided to leave, they all felt like congratulating Grand Marais citizens that they had been able to persuade the doctor and his family to make this city their future home.

The doctor sat silent for a moment, and then with a suspicious hushiness in his voice accepted the kind wishes and above all "the love that prompted" in words that stirred all with tender feeling.

any town can feel proud to claim in municipal honors, he has enjoyed his share, having served three years as supervisor of Alhambra. He conducted all offices in an upright straight business-like manner, the same manner in which he conducted his own business.

W. E. Lang and family are continuing Mr. Lang's brother and wife from lower Michigan. Mr. Lang was much surprised to find such a successful farming section.

Miss Alma Stewart is visiting friends in Manistique.

George Thomas accidentally shot the little finger of his right hand Sunday. He was carrying a shot gun over his shoulder, with his right hand over the end of the barrel. The trigger man had struck a nut discharging a load of the shot nearly severing the finger.

Mrs. Ethel Ford of lower Michigan is visiting friends and relatives.

Oral Hupler and wife, Mr. See and wife of Manistique, were visiting in Haney Wednesday.

Loyla Fairchild sold his cows on a lot to Samuel Burns of Gormfack. The Wisconsin Land & Lumber Co. finished Monday harvesting their potato crop.

Mrs. F. E. Cameron and children and Miss Grace Hill, Mrs. Cameron's sister left Tuesday for Grand Marais.

Walter Scott returned last week from a business trip to Escanaba while there he purchased a horse match his other one making him a first class team.

E. J. LaPorte returned Monday from a business trip to Manistique.

Carl Schultz has moved into the Ebert house on north Havelock street.

Paul Hubbard has moved into the late Mueller residence on east Havelock street.

TO LEAVE COUNTY.

Dr. F. E. Cameron of Haney, has decided to locate at Grand Marais. During his residence in the county the doctor formed many close friendships. He had a wide acquaintance in this city by virtue of the fact that he represented his township upon the board of supervisors during his residence at Haney. His many friends wish him success in his new location.
