

THOR, LORD OF THE JUNGLES

A ROMANCE IN THE WILDS and UNDER THE BIG WHITE TENTS IN THREE REELS

Featuring KATHLYN WILLIAMS

A thrilling story of two Continents, sweeping from the primeval jungles of wildest Africa to the busy haunts of men and the crowds under the White Tents. A big sentimental story with remarkable adventures with savage beasts; something vital, unique and vastly attractive. A drastic new departure in a romance of the Wilds, showing the capture of the fiercest of carnivora. The trapping of a big, roaring, rampant black-maned African lion is only one of the stirring incidents of this circus story in three reels.

What is Honesty?

Every man should live within his means—this is the essence of honesty. If he does not, he is living dishonestly on the means of others. Many people there are, who not only live within their means, but save a part of their earnings as a surplus for the day of adversity. A savings account with this bank will provide a place, both safe and convenient, to invest your surplus until needed.

A Case of Appendicitis.
Nine times out of ten it is caused by a constipated habit. The appendix becomes inflamed from a congested state of the bowels. The best preventive is to keep the bowels open and the movements regular. This can be done conveniently, comfortably and with good results to the whole body by taking an occasional dose of DR. HERBICK'S SUGAR-COATED PILLS. It is a fine oil cathartic which does its work mildly and pleasantly. It helps digestion and gives new energy and cheerful spirits. Price 25 cents per box. Sold by E. N. LETTER FROM GERMAN LIEUTENANT.

lieut. Otto Graf Writes Relative Concerning Present European War.

Mrs. Geo. E. Pardee of Owosso, recently wrote a letter from Lieutenant Otto Graf, of the German army, and she has sent it to her mother and she has others here. The letter is translated, reads:

Dear Cousin: I see from a letter you wrote to my mother that you are getting alone and you know we are getting alone and the conditions here in Germany. We are of course, every day of the hardships that the English newspapers spread broadcast concerning us. According to their statements, we are all nearly starved to death. They say to you that we are all getting very thin and so little of our food that there is a war in progress, were it not for the many thousands of soldiers drilling at the garisons ready to go to the front, being a constant reminder of war.

Of course, business is a little crippled as a result, it is in neutral and as war affects everybody, food stuffs have raised considerably, bread, potatoes and other things, but bread and potatoes are not much higher than in some years ago when having a poor harvest. We are not getting any more food, but we are all getting very thin and so little of our food that there is a war in progress, were it not for the many thousands of soldiers drilling at the garisons ready to go to the front, being a constant reminder of war.

laws: "We are not driven by the lust of gain. We simply must protect our own. I know no parties now nor rank nor religion, I know only Germans." The leaders of the various parties then went forward and pressed the Kaiser's hand and promised him their unflinching support.

"The Kaiser and his six sons and his sons-in-law are all at the front fighting. Two of his sons have been wounded and recovered and are back again in the field. On August 24th, we took that proud fort at Namur, Belgium, with much loss to the foe, being 14,000. At that time the German and the Bavarian crown princes each received the Iron Cross.

As soon as the war broke out, England cut the cables and then proceeded to send broadcast their message to neutral lands to excite their sympathy in favor of England and against us. Germany is not indifferent to our suffering and we are all getting very thin and so little of our food that there is a war in progress, were it not for the many thousands of soldiers drilling at the garisons ready to go to the front, being a constant reminder of war.

Brook trout cannot be caught between September 1 and May 1 each year and bass, excepting white and blue, shall not be taken between February 1 and June 1 each year. No fisherman may catch more than 25 trout in any day nor have more than 50 in his possession at any time. No trout shall be taken which is under seven inches in length and no more than 10 long and no fisherman catch more than 10 in any day nor have more than 10 in his possession at any time. Twenty-five pounds of any other fish is all that can be taken any time.

The bill makes it unlawful to catch or sell fish during the prohibited season. Suckers, red horse mullet and carp can be caught with nets in March and April if permission is granted by the state game warden.

The fishing act makes it unlawful to use spears, nets and explosives in one's possession on any of the inland waters within the state, except for fishing purposes. Possession of such equipment is deemed prima facie evidence of violation of the law. The bill prevents the building of any obstruction across any streams that will interfere with the free passage of fish.

The hunting bill prohibits the use of pits and deadfalls in capturing animals but does not bar the trapping of fox bearing animals. It prohibits the killing of deer while in the red coat and fawn while in either the red or spotted coat. Dogs and headlighters cannot be used to hunt deer and any dog found chasing deer can be shot on sight.

Water fowl and other birds cannot be shot from any floating device or any machine propelled by automatic power such as automobiles and powered boats. One hundred thousand in the daylight and cannot be hunted with a gun larger than 10 gauge or with pump guns. Dogs and guns only can be used in hunting. Farmers and fruit growers can use forests and guinea pigs to kill rabbits with the permission of the game warden if their property is being destroyed.

EMPLOYING WORKERS PROHIBITED.

Law Hedging Primary Election Makes It Impossible for a Candidate to Employ Husters on Election Day.

There is little danger of candidates in the primary being hurried with applications for jobs from voters desirous of doing political hustling for the candidates on pay. Candidates are forced to turn down the applicants in cities where men have been out of work during the winter and unable to secure employment, see in the political season a chance to earn a few dollars to keep the wolf away from the door.

Briefly, the law forbids hiring anybody under a primary election to do political work, either with the promise of a job or money reward. It forbids a candidate from treating his friends in a saloon, if politics is mentioned at the time. Campaign cards have to be a certain size. Campaign lists must be approved by the clerk. Candidates may not put out posters in the interest of their candidacy. Severe penalties are provided for violations of these provisions.

Statement of Expenses. If a candidate thinks he can dodge the law by saying nothing to the clerk against a party call after the primary election. Whether he is successful or not, he must file a complete statement of his campaign expenses with the clerk under the corrupt practices act of 1913. The statement is made under oath and is subject to a false statement in it, he is liable for prosecution. Hence the candidate has to pick his way carefully. The law fixes a maximum penalty of $500 or six months in jail. Campaign cards, the law provides, must not be larger than two and one-fourth by four inches.

Another thing that is particularly prohibited is the soliciting of money from a candidate during a primary campaign, except by the authorized agent of a city committee. It is also unlawful for any person to solicit from any candidate for nomination for any office included in the provisions hereof, any money or other property.

FIVE CENTS PROVES IT. A General Order. Louis Mueller, who attended the Boys Conference at Calumet, as the delegate from the Methodist Sunday school, reports that he enjoyed the conference very much. No pains were spared by the Calumet people to amuse and edify them.

The House liquor committee by a vote of five to four, reported out and recommended the passage of the Jerome bill which authorizes cities and villages forthwith to reduce the number of saloons to one for each 500 of population.

Judge Fead denied the bill of the opponents of local option in Chippewa county this week. It looks now as though the question would be voted upon in that county in April. The opposition may endeavor to delay matters by taking their contention to the supreme court.

TOURNAMENT AND HOME-COMING.

Manistique were in lesser amounts. The showing made was a remarkable one, as no dry goods merchant was present. The same can be said of the manufacturing establishments, as they were unrepresented. The merchants are out of the city at the present time, and will donate their proportion. Only one-half of the liquor dealers of the city were present. It now looks as though the required amount would be easily raised.

The tournament will be a big thing for Manistique. It will put an immense amount of money in circulation, and if the city of Manistique sees it that the visitors are properly entertained, it will receive lasting benefits, through the advertising it shall receive in this manner.

It is hoped that every business man will donate toward the fund, and that the visitors will be given royal treatment.

The Manistique band was present at the mass meeting and furnished the music for the occasion.

It is decided to celebrate a "Home-Coming Week" at the same time the tournament is held here. The idea is a very good one, as hundreds of ex-Manistiqueans will visit Manistique during the week in question. This feature should be enlarged upon, and a day set aside for a suitable program, including addresses from local speakers and those that formerly resided here should also be given an opportunity of expressing themselves.

We want every man, woman and child, that at one time was a resident of the city, to plan now to spend the week in question at Manistique. We want them to come and see the remarkable advances the city has made during their absence. After looking at the good old town over many may decide to again enroll themselves as permanent citizens of the best little city in Michigan. Hundreds of ex-residents of Manistique are on the subscription list of the Pioneer-Tribune. There is as well as many others who formally invited by the proper committee in due time, but if any of these are overlooked, we hope that they will consider this as an invitation to be here at the time in question.

Manistique would be a city of 10,000 if all the people that have been enrolled as citizens in the past had not been chased, will-o-the-wisps in various directions to return and see the

THE PRIMARIES NEXT WEDNESDAY

Very Little Interest Manifested Thus Far in Primary Election.

With only four contests scheduled in the Republican county, city and ward tickets, there has been but little enthusiasm manifested thus far notwithstanding the fact that the election will be held next Wednesday.

There are two candidates for mayor, viz: William L. Middlebrook and Joseph Pattinson. The former holds the Republican ticket, while the latter is the only candidate on the Democratic ticket. If party lines are drawn, Mr. Middlebrook will defeat Mr. Pattinson at the election to be held in April, as Manistique is an overwhelmingly Republican city. However, there has been a tendency in this city to eliminate politics to a great extent in city elections. That this is true, is apparent by the fact that Mr. Pattinson was elected as mayor a year ago.

Messrs. Heskiah Knaggs of Germfask and Geo. Roberts of Inwood township, are pitted against each other for the county road commissioner. Knaggs is a first class citizen and is highly respected wherever he is known, but it appears that Geo. Roberts will win, because of the strength he will develop in the city.

Roy H. Teeple and Wm. A. McKinney are aspirants for the nomination of justice of the peace. This will be a close contest because of the alignment that is becoming apparent. Teeple has made the best justice that Manistique has ever had, and there

PLANS A NEW SUFFRAGE BILL.

Notwithstanding the fact that the suffrage bill which was to have been introduced by Representative Charles Flowers of Detroit, was never introduced, there are indications that the suffrage question may yet come to the front at the present session of the legislature.

Mr. Flowers had a law patterned after the Illinois law allowing women to vote for president and vice-president and for all positions established by the legislature; but it did not allow them to vote at elections and for positions established by the constitution.

It is learned now that Senator Henry E. Straight, of Coldwater, is getting legal advice concerning a bill along the same lines. An effort is being made to draw a bill which would cover the same phase of the question and at the same time be within the decisions of the supreme court.

Paul Groos, of Escanaba was in the city the last few days visiting his brother, Edward Groos. Mr. Groos has been attending Ferris Institute.
