EDITORIAL COMMENT.

How times have changed. The gallant swain of two decades ago felt it his duty to regularly take his best girl to the theater, purchase high priced tickets, an expensive bouquet, and call a curriage. Nowadays he purchases a nickel's worth of guin, and invests twenty cents in movie tickets.

How's this for bad luck. Mr. Joseph E. Helbein, a brother of the witter, and who will be remembered by many that met him two years ngo, when he made a brief visit here, recently sold his residence property at Evans Gity, Pun, retired from business, and purchased a farm in the vicinity of Pittsburgh. Shortly after he lett the etty, the new owner found oil in his back yard, and now has a thousand barrel gusher.

The editor owes the neighborhood correspondents of the Pioneer-Tribane an apology for the studyly names in which they have been recently treated. Owing to maters that need not be explained, the correspondence was shelved several times recently. This will not usen again, and we hope that every correspondent will promptly send in the news, and it year neighborhood is not represented, event as the notes, with your mine and we will scarpily you with the necessary sup, hes.

The citizens of Chicago are drinking less booze, judging from the report recently issued by the collector of internal revenue for the Chicago district. He reports that collections from Nov. 12 1914 to May 1st, 1916, exclusive of the war tax, were $22,674,566.39 below normal. He says that approximately $15,000,000 of this amount is attributable to the falling off in the consumption of alcoholic beverages. This means that Prohibition, really prohibits for the Chicago district is a distributing point for the middle west. The movies and the auto are helping to make men temperate.

ausing much amusement and char-ing.

After the dinner the bridal party were taken in automobiles to the church to rehearse the wedding cere-tiony. Later in the evening they were driven to the Elk's Temple where the dance was already in progress.

On Priday ovening a gay party of Miss Illison's girl friends took possession of her, dragging her saway rom a delightful dinner given in her honor by Mrs. Herbert Baker. The saislillities of a live-passenger Ford were demonstrated when the ten girls dimbed into it and toured the town to the accompaniment of tin pan much homes and rattlers. They then lied the pletture show and affect that went to the home of Miss Marion thomas. Here the bride elect was arrived in a rather fantastic bridal-cultit, and presented with an exquisite hower bouquet of rhubarb, faded li-ines and onions. After a mock wed-ding ceremony the bride was escort-ed to her home to the strains of "Hero-anes the bride."

The last of the series of parties chick have been given in honor of vive Blanche Hisson took place arslay when Mrs. A. M. LeRoy, Mrs. C. R. Orr and Miss Luella Orr Roy cottage at Indian Lake. The table at which thirty-two gues

Over the center hung a large weekling old of green and white from which hite ribbons led to the places of the ribbs guests. A very delicious turkey dinner was served and at the end, he health of the bride was proposed und drunk from tiny loving cups. Art. R. Thomas then tonsted Mrs. C. R. Orr.—The brite of just twenty-five years ago and Mr. Hisson in a few well chosen remarks proposed the health of Mr. Orr who also celebrated in the service of the delicious turkey of the delicious and his brittady on that date. Misson was presented with a set of aluminum baking cups and Mrs. Orr ith a sterling silver baking dish. The ribbons leading to the bell were Jeen pulled and noise making devices of all sorts were discovered. The casests employed these to truly won-ordia alvantage. Other favors were discovered in the cevening and with their arrival net dancing began in the pavillion, he moonlight night making it and Japace.
