WOMEN GILMET CALLED HOME

Young Man Relieved by Death of Several Years Suffering.

Monday afternoon Truman P. Gilmet was called before his maker after a illness during which several doctors and against who made a vain effort to throw off. The deceased was born in Gwynedd, Pa., in 1856 and was 29 years old at his last birthday. When a day he came with his parents to Manistique and resided there until when he was home until death called.

After taking a course in bookkeeping at the commercial department in the high school and later securing a position in the office of the Manistique Lumber Co., which position he held until health reasons compelled him to seek out of town.

He accepted a position as scaler in the C. L. Co. in the lumber yard over a year, during which time health had improved to such an extent that he accepted a position as clerk in the Garden State Bank, where he remained a year when it became impendent for him to do so.

The last physicians were consulted and in February, he was at St. Anne de Beauport, but was nothing that could be done and he gradually resigned himself to die until the end came.

On September 22, 1909 Mr. Gilmet was taken to Nettie Waterman who after three years of happy life closed her death and left him to mourn and her early departure did in its much to hasten the death of Mr. Gilmet.

The high esteem the deceased was held by the community. The funeral offerings were most profuse and beautiful. The order of Mass to which the deceased belonged, recited the remains of their brother to the grave. The survivors are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Peters of Seattle, Wash., and Mrs. Geo. Mayhew of Gladstone and Lillian and Ives of this city.

MRS. MCGINNIS AWARDED $3,000

Workingman's Compensation Law Case Disposed of Here Saturday.

Mrs. John McGinnis of this city was awarded a $3,000 death claim Saturday afternoon, by an arbitration committee composed of N. W. Fox and Jeff Greene of this city and Fred A. Zarkow, deputy commissioner of the state accident board, an damages for injuries which resulted in the death of her husband, while in the employ of the Consolidated Lumbering company of this city.

The London Guaranty Co. Ltd., carriers for the Consolidated Lumbering company, contested the claim on the grounds that Mr. McGinnis did not come to his death by injuries received from an accident while in the employ of the Consolidated Lumbering company, but that he met a natural death from spinal meningitis.

Attorney James C. Wood argued the case for Mrs. McGinnis. It appeared that Mr. McGinnis while in the employ of the Consolidated Lumbering company had been carrying a heavy railroad tie, when he lost his footing and fell, receiving a severe blow at the base of the brain from the tie. The effects of this blow vomiting spells and hemorrhages and developed into spinal meningitis.

After several witnesses had testified, and the testimony of several local physicians were received, the committee rendered a verdict in favor of Mrs. McGinnis. If the case is not appealed within seven days, the time required by law, Mrs. McGinnis will be awarded $3,000.

SCHOOL BOARD MET WEDNESDAY

Initiative Steps Taken Towards New High School Building for Manistique.

The school board met Wednesday night and considered the matter of building a new modern, adequate high school which everyone concur with conditions prevailing known as a necessity that cannot be put off much longer.

It is proposed to hold a special election in the very near future to put the question before the people and in order to closely abide by the law the school board adjourned until to day when an attorney will be present and give the board special legal advice as is necessary.

The board has been working on plans for a new high school for some time and recently received plans and drawings for the proposed building of buildings that has met with general approval.

The local issue which will be decided on at the meeting today will cover the cost of three new buildings for high school purposes, and also includes necessary changes to the west-side building which is both inadequate and unsanitary with no room for expansion.

There is today an enrollment of 1,061 pupils in the public school which number steadily increases year for year. In the high school there is an attendance of 253 and the crowded conditions today is almost intolerable. Pupils in the halls along the corridors, overcrowded in the rooms, a small room in one corner for the principals office such are the conditions your children and their teachers have to put up with.

PASSED WORTHLESS CHECKS

Bought Potatoes of Farmers and Paid With Checks—Bank Says No Funds.

A warrant was sworn out Monday afternoon in Justice Hickmory's court by Wm. O'Brien of Cooks, for the arrest of W. E. Flaherty, now located in Washington, D. C., on a charge of forgery. Flaherty who claimed to be a representative of a potato house in Chicago, issued a check on December 14, 1914, on a bank in Woodstock, New Jersey, for the amount of $50 in payment for potatoes received from Mr. O'Brien. The check was later returned from the Woodstock bank, followed by a letter stating that Flaherty had no funds on deposit in their bank.

Flaherty also issued a bogus check for the amount of $115 on the Woodstock bank to the White Marble Lumber company of this city last fall and they too, have filed a complaint against him.

The local opinion campaign of Schoolcraft county will be opened by a Big Mass Meeting at the Opera House December 14th. The Opera House has been engaged so that all may have a chance to attend, and hear the message, which will be one of unusual interest and power. The committees in charge have secured one of the ablest temperance speakers in the state, the Hon. Grant M. Hudson from Lansing. Make an engagement for Friday evening, December 10th as that is the date when Dana Waldon, Magician, appears as third number in Women's Reading club entertainment course.

UNCLE SAM'S FARMS AND FARMERS

Thanksgiving Sermon Delivered by Rev. Dr. J. R. Mitchell at Union Services at First Baptist Church Today.

There are two great and very special reasons why we as a nation, should be profoundly thankful to God today. One is that we have been able to assert and maintain our rights and the rights of humanity without any breach of friendship with any of the belligerent parties with which we have had to deal. The other is that notwithstanding all our grumbling at the weather which the Lord sent us the past summer, we have been blessed with the greatest crop in our history and with the greatest crop that the world has ever known. It far surpasses that of any other nation that ever existed.

We have all read and heard so much about the war in the old world, that we are all heart sick over it. Any adequate description of its horrors so as to awaken a feeling of gratitude that we are at peace with all mankind, would be so revolting that we could not thereafter enjoy the day.

And besides this, if there were no farmers, we would all be without any Thanksgiving dinner whatever today. You are all therefore asked to the divine element in the truly miraculous harvest which we have been enabled to gather in. As a basis or starting point, for our meditations, your thoughts are invited to the feeding of the five thousand on the mountain slopes of Galilee.

Some of our Lord's miracles were recorded in only one of the Gospels, some in two of them, some in three, but this one was recorded in all four of them; and it is the only one that is given in all four. Now there must have been some reason for this distinction. This miracle then must have some feature of very great importance. But now the only miraculous element in it, is the multiplication of the food supply. The disciples were able to secure but five small loaves about the size of a boy's hand and not any thicker, and two small fishes, all of which a mere lad ment to eat for his supper. These were so increased, that Christ was able to feed five thousand men besides the women and children who

With a Majestic in your kitchen, there is no need of about baking range. You'll get the same things from the Majestic oven with white heat and perfect control, sure that they will be baked right. The Majestic baked right always because of one quality, many types and sizes, with or without legs.

OFFICIAL COUNTY AND CITY PAPER

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

Do your Christmas shopping now.

Teachers as well as pupils are counting the days when school shall close for the holidays.

He who by regular habits and temperate living, is in robust health, has acquired something worth more than all the fortunes in the world.

Did you give your needy family a bounteous Thanksgiving dinner, or did you and your family "hog" down the usual feast, and forget the less fortunate.

Do not ridicule the dreamer. He is the pioneer, marking the way for the doer. Few things possible of mortal attainment have been dreamed that ultimately have not been achieved.

The cottage owners at Harrison Beach should employ a caretaker to look after their property at the beach. An example should be made with any person or persons entering the property of others.

The best way to write for yourself an insurance policy of happiness on Thanksgiving day is to give a dinner or contribute towards a dinner for some destitute family in your community, and this will validate your insurance.

There is a little consolation for the Prohibitionists in the Ohio election after all. Seventy-three of the eighty-eight counties of the state voted dry, and omitting the vote of Hamilton county in which Cincinnati is located, the state voted dry. The wet majority in that county was 68,000, while the total wet majority was but 55,000.

The enforced retirement of one of Manistique's aldermen, at the hands of his fellow alderman, because he so frequently absented himself from the meeting of the city council, has caused a more or less newspaper comment. The consensus of opinion of the newspapermen appears to be that if a man does not attend to the official duties to which he was elected, he should be supplanted by someone that shall.

Schoolcraft county will never have the trouble that Iron County is having with bootleggers. That county has a big foreign population and this element has been "bootlegging" there for years, ever since the saloons were legalized. Then, too, that county appears to have some officials that appear to be "weak sisters." Schoolcraft county lacks an undesirable foreign element, and there is a healthier regard for law and order within its domains. It never has had many bootleggers nor more than one or two, in its history.

The Delta county liquor dealers are showing their animosity to the prosecuting attorney of that county, because he advised the supervisors to accept the local option petitions. They are threatening him with annihilation, and the prosecuting attorney has ordered them to clear out the screens in front of their places of business so that people passing same can see the interior without the aid of a periscope. Within a year this same prosecutor will have the privilege of prosecuting some of these same fellows in the guise of "blind piggies for Delta county is going 'dry'."

The employers of labor in this city almost to a man, are supporting the "dry" proposition. The big concern, as well as the smaller ones are included in the line, and the reasons why they are thus allied are the same as have impelled employers of labor everywhere to oppose booze. The drinking of liquor lessens the efficiency of the employer, and makes him more liable to meet with accident while at work. Then, too, there is a class of employees that "cannot stand prosperity," and must drink to excess after pay days, and being unable to repay for duty, handicap the work of those that are sober and willing to work.

Mr. Merchant. More of your own money, is being spent in saloons than you imagine. The average man that "hits booze" owns one or more merchants, for his clothing and that of his family wears. He owes you for the flour in his bin and the groceries on your pantry shelves. He is unable to pay you, but he spends his money at the booze joint—the money that really belongs to you. The average business man used to think that saloons were business, and he took him a long time to learn that it really did draw business from him to the saloon keeper. There is not a merchant in Manistique but that will do $2,000 more business annually under local option than he is now doing.

Tomorrow or the day after you will receive a letter in which you will find a number of Anti-Tuberculosis stamps sent out by the Chairman of the Philanthropic Committee of the Women's Reading Club. Do not put it aside but make up your mind to respond to one, inclose a check, money or stamps, and return it to the sender without delay. By so doing you will help some poor sufferer from that dread disease, tuberculosis to receive some little comfort that to the sick means so much, more than you and I that are well and happy can understand. You will feel more satisfied with yourself the world will look better to you, and you will be glad to see the stamps that you have sent to the Women's Reading Club.

BE THANKFUL. Only a few instances during history has the American people had so much to be thankful for as they will have on Thanksgiving day, 1915.

While poor Europe is in the throes of an unmerciful war destroying lives, happiness and property let us thank God that we have a President wise enough, poised enough and tactfully firm enough to gain the desired end without provoking war or being provoked into war, when it honorably could be avoided. There is nothing now in the international situation to threaten this country with hostilities with any first class power. But here is no denying that we have been perilously near her brink of war.

BONDS SHOULD BE VOTED. The public schools are the most valuable asset the United States possesses. In them the children of the citizen as well as alien are given an opportunity of securing a thorough education, free of direct cost to the parents.

Without the real spirit of thankfulness, Thanksgiving is a mockery. When a fellow sees some husky woman that would make an ideal washerwoman or biscuit shop, leaning a frying pan with a chain on a fashionable city street, he feels like saying "rats."

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

Without the real spirit of thankfulness, Thanksgiving is a mockery. When a fellow sees some husky woman that would make an ideal washerwoman or biscuit shop, leaning a frying pan with a chain on a fashionable city street, he feels like saying "rats."

Do your Christmas shopping early this year. Do not wait until the last week to do your shopping. There is a tendency upon the part of merchants to display holiday goods early so as to give the purchaser an opportunity of doing his shopping early.

It is with general regret that the traveling public will learn of the death of Mr. Edward Dingman, erstwhile conductor of the Soo Line. He was a big, jolly, companionable sort of fellow and his pranks played up friends, while in the railway service, would fill a book.

In the death of Booker T. Washington, the colored race lost its best friend. He was a noble type of manhood, and through his own efforts arose from the lowest level to the highest. His institution at Tuskegee has done, and will continue to do inestimable work in the uplift of the colored race in the South.

There is one duty, "that a father cannot rightfully delegate to any other man, and that is the duty to show his boy where, on solid ground, to place his feet and become a man. Every father owes it to his boy to live so that his life will prove that the only game worth playing is the game that gives the other fellow a fair chance.

Just what I mean by going home to one's mother in his larger sense is perhaps a little difficult to define. Yet, surely, it must be a very unusual experience. Have we not all at some time—often following a period of confusion and stress of circumstances—suddenly experienced that deep sense of finding ourselves where we belonged?

A sense of restfulness, of homeliness, of general rightness and well-being? It is a shifting off of the non-essential and the trivial and a shifting of the spirit into deeper and simpler channels; a pause, when in the midst of all this mad dance of time and circumstance one gets a sudden, enlarging glimpse of Truth and Eternity—Atlantic Monthly.

Manistique has always been liberal with its public schools and has always endorsed and upheld the requests of its board of education, but today it is called upon to make a pronounced and upward step. The board of education has decided that the rapid growth of the schools, makes it imperative that a new high school and other buildings must be provided to maintain and increase the effectiveness of the schools, and it may shortly ask the voters to vote upon the proposition of bonding the city for sufficient money to provide the necessary buildings.

It does not believe that any loyal and enterprising citizen in this city would be found opposing the proposition. The heavy taxpayers of the city including the individuals as well as corporations doing business here are unanimously in favor of bonding the city for any amount necessary to insure the erection of the buildings needed. If the men upon which the burden of paying for same falls are wealthy, they will increase a half dollar a year, and who may have half dozen children secure a free education, cannot or at least should not oppose the proposition.

For a year or more it has become apparent that the present high school is grossly inadequate for the proper conduct of the schools. The city is growing and it now needs a high school building commensurate with the present as well as the growing importance of the city. We believe Manistique to be the best little city in Cloverland and that it has an exceedingly bright future. It has proven its enterprise in many directions in the recent past, and it now only remains for it to vote bonds in sufficient amount to provide the buildings needed to place its schools in the front ranks of the state. If the bond issue that $200,000 are needed to accomplish this their judgment should be endorsed at the polls. The board consists of some of our best and most successful business men, and they have in Supt. Clemo an able adviser.

The matter should be taken up at once, an election ordered, and all plans perfected so that the erection of the new building or buildings could be completed during 1916.

BE THANKFUL.

Only a few instances during history has the American people had so much to be thankful for as they will have on Thanksgiving day, 1915.

While poor Europe is in the throes of an unmerciful war destroying lives, happiness and property let us thank God that we have a President wise enough, poised enough and tactfully firm enough to gain the desired end without provoking war or being provoked into war, when it honorably could be avoided. There is nothing now in the international situation to threaten this country with hostilities with any first class power. But here is no denying that we have been perilously near her brink of war.

BONDS SHOULD BE VOTED. The public schools are the most valuable asset the United States possesses. In them the children of the citizen as well as alien are given an opportunity of securing a thorough education, free of direct cost to the parents.

Without the real spirit of thankfulness, Thanksgiving is a mockery. When a fellow sees some husky woman that would make an ideal washerwoman or biscuit shop, leaning a frying pan with a chain on a fashionable city street, he feels like saying "rats."

Do your Christmas shopping early this year. Do not wait until the last week to do your shopping. There is a tendency upon the part of merchants to display holiday goods early so as to give the purchaser an opportunity of doing his shopping early.

It is with general regret that the traveling public will learn of the death of Mr. Edward Dingman, erstwhile conductor of the Soo Line. He was a big, jolly, companionable sort of fellow and his pranks played up friends, while in the railway service, would fill a book.

W-B CUT CHEWING MEANS MORE CONFORT—MORE SATISFACTION. IT COSTS LESS BECAUSE YOU USE LESS TOBACCO. A LITTLE CHEW SATISFIES.

A MAN who uses only ordinary tobacco would probably never kick if somebody changed brands on him. The W-B CUT Cheewing—the Real Tobacco Chew, new cut, long-grad—is so different from ordinary tobacco, so much more satisfying that nothing can take its place with a man who knows. Get a pouch of W-B CUT Cheewing and give it a quality test. You can tell "What's in it" by looking out the rich tobacco taste."

PRINCESS THEATRE CHANGES HANDS

Clarence Maclaurin Sold His Interest to Two Wellknown Musicians.

In a deal that consummated Wednesday Clarence Maclaurin sold his interest in the Princess Theatre to E. A. Carlin and Lawrence Benzoloh, two wellknown young men of this city.

Mr. Maclaurin who has been running the Princess theater during the past two years during which he made many decided changes and had very good success is as yet undecided as to his future movements.

Mr. Carlin who is well known is no novice in the movie picture business having run similar places for several years before coming here two years ago. He is an artist on the violin having furnished the music for the Princess and will continue to do so.

Mr. Benzoloh who is also well known in the city is employed in Peterson's meat market and will not for the present take active part in the business.

The new firm who is now in possession will make improvements from time to time and will no doubt make a success of their venture.

WE NEED A REST ROOM

Manistique Should Provide Rest Room and Public Convenience Station.

It seems somewhat strange that rest rooms or comfort stations are not more generally provided in villages and small cities in which farmers and their families drive to trade. Women, especially when children are with them, are often inconvenienced by the lack of such places. When tired with shopping and often times affected by bad weather, the existence of such rooms provided by the business man or municipality would indeed be a boon. Regarded from a humanitarian stand they make greatly for convenience and health. Regarded as a business proposition they pay, for people are glad to trade in a town where such privileges are found. To be sure, the cost of providing and maintaining such rooms is considerable, yet nothing to what is often expended for institutions or passing events that have no value, or at the best only a passing value.

Every day some of our rural friends as well as visitors from neighboring cities are with us and we are glad to have them come at their visits not only means that they take an interest in our little city, but it also means dollars and cents in our pockets and therefore the least we can do is to provide a place for them where they can rest and also find such accommodations as are necessary. A rest room of this kind should not have any strings tied to it but should be "public" in the full sense of the word and the maintenance of such a place would be found to be very small in comparison to the benefits derived therefrom.

In connection with this it will perhaps be well to mention the fact that there is a clause in the laws of Michigan providing that a public convenience station should be maintained under the supervision of the board of health.

Section 1, Act No. 285, of the Session Laws of 1916 reads as follows: It shall be the duty of the common council of any city in this state, and of the board of trustees of any incorporated village, to cause to be constructed and maintained in such village or city not less than one public closet, commonly known and designated as a public convenience station in such place or places as directed by the local board of health. Such closets or public convenience stations shall have thereon the proper signs and be so placed as directed by the local board of health as to be accessible from the business district or districts of such city or village, and shall be maintained under the supervision of the local board of health. Suitable and adequate accommodations shall be afforded at such public convenience stations for the members of both sexes."

The Norwegian-Danish ladies Aid society will hold a bake sale and sale of fancy goods at Olson's grocery store, Oak street on Saturday, Nov. 27th.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Kefauver left Monday night for Toledo, Ohio, where they will attend the wedding of Miss May Watts on Thanksgiving day. Miss Watts' mother is a sister of Mrs. J. M. Sattler and well known in this city. Mr. and Mrs. Kefauver will remain away about a week.

THE EFFECTS OF TUBERCULOSIS

What It Does, What It Is And How It May Be Treated and Cured.

The first shipment of Red Cross Christmas seals will be mailed the day after Thanksgiving. No one will be solicited other than by letter to purchase these little messengers of good will.

The Women's Reading Club has received the endorsement of the Manistique Commercial Club for its campaign.

These cheery labels can be used on checks or letters, on checks, express packages, letters, Christmas packages and in fact any place except on the address side of letters and packages.

Perhaps you would be interested in reading the following salient facts regarding Tuberculosis:

WHAT TUBERCULOSIS DOES—
It kills 200,000 persons each year in the U. S. One every 2 minutes.

It kills one-tenth to one-seventh of all our people.

It kills one-third of all who die between the ages of 18 and 45.

WHAT TUBERCULOSIS IS—
The commonest form of tuberculosis is tuberculosis of the lungs, or consumption, but it may occur in any part of the body, and especially in the bones and joints of children.

IMMEDIATE CAUSES—
Tuberculosis is acquired, not inherited. There can be no tuberculosis without the germ. The commonest method of infection is by inhalation.

Dried germs from sputum of consumptives float in the air and are breathed into the lungs. Hence the necessity of destroying all sputum, and of special precautions in coughing and sneezing. Tuberculosis may also be acquired by swallowing the germs with infected milk and food and more rarely by inoculation through cuts and wounds.

TUBERCULOSIS IN CHILDREN—
Is not inherited. A person may inherit a weak constitution which is especially susceptible to tuberculosis infection.

Prevalence in families where parent has consumption is due to direct infection from one person to another danger from playing on infected floors, using infected utensils, clothes etc.

HOW IT MAY BE TREATED AND CURED—
Essentials in cure of tuberculosis are fresh air, light, cleanliness, rest and wholesome food. Early discovery of disease is necessary for cure. Best method of cure is sanatorium treatment.

May be treated at home, if patient can be given plenty of food and fresh air under direction of a physician. Avoid patent medicines and advertised cures. They are dangerous.

No danger from a careful consumptive who destroys his sputum daily and is clean in habits.

HOW IT MAY BE PREVENTED—
By teaching the consumptive to destroy his sputum. By teaching people not to sleep, live or work in dark of badly ventilated rooms.

By teaching the consumptive how not to infect his family or neighbors. By discovering the disease in its early stages and curing the patient, thus removing a source of infection to others.

By educating the community as to the nature of the disease—that it is communicable, preventable and curable.

By educating people to keep their bodies in such physical condition as to enable them to resist the germs.

By advocating fresh air, outdoor life, sun, good rest, no over-work, wholesome food, temperate habits.

HOW YOU CAN HELP—
Purchase the merry little Red Cross Christmas seals and assisting in the work of educating the public, and therefore yourself, to prevent the spread of this dread disease.

When your request letter comes, please write the name of the person you wish to assist in this great work.

You will receive the sincerest thanks from the Philanthropic committee of the Women's Reading Club who have pledged themselves to make this a banner year in this Christmas seal campaign.

HER THANKSGIVING

In a humble little home there sits today an old gray haired mother who for a number of years has been waiting for her son to return to her after years of roaming.

He did perhaps not walk the old dusty paths, and see one of those boys pulled down in the mire by that traffic which this country is trying to rid itself next spring, but he was her son, just the same.

She loved him just as much for that because she better than anybody understood and knew how many pitfalls there are for just such boys as he was. She knew that while and under her care he was a good boy, as good as the average and maybe not as bad as many of them.

But there came a time when she no longer was able to keep him at home, when young life asserted itself, when he drifted away with companions, perhaps bad ones, who gradually led him away from the good life his mother had taught him to be the best.

Finally he drifted into that refuge for so many mispent lives, the army, but not even the old discipline there could curb him and he drifted from bad to worse until he became a deserter.

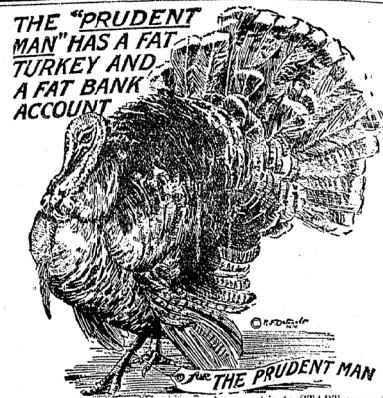

Hunted almost as a wild animal it seems as if he was striving to get to his home—his mother, who knew that once he was a good boy, and may have been permitted to return to reach that goal, he would have come to that turning point, when a man sees the folly of all the tinsel joys of life and turns to the narrow path, which in most cases comes all too late.

Today in the midst of all the Thanksgiving that old gray haired mother also has something to be thankful for in all her sorrow—namely that she at least knows where her boy is tonight. She knows he is not in the caressing crowds with their tinsel joys of the world—he is not a fugitive from the laws of man any more, he sleeps under the sod, peacefully until Gabriel's horn shall call him to the final judgment.

In a few words a telegram received a short time ago told of how his life had been crushed out under the cruel wheels of a train and the papers chronicled the facts of the accident and the funeral, when a kind minister said a prayer over the body of the friendless man, a few who chanced to be in looked at the body and said, "Poor Fellow," then assisted lifting the casket of the stranger into the hearse.

Then the way to the Potter's field—the lone hearse made a most pitiful funeral cortege—and the coffin was lowered into the grave. Not a flower, not a mourner.

That old gray haired mother sits in her humble home today bent with sorrow but THANKFUL that she knows where her boy is tonight.
