

C. C. C. WORK IN HAWATHA FOREST IS REVIEWED

FLOTSAM AND JETSAM... Several years ago, while writing feature articles for a Detroit newspaper, we mailed in a story from the upper peninsula...

Although he meant to be sarcastic, the Detroit editor unwittingly got in the nail on the head. The vision of the upper peninsula, and that happens in Ironwood or Calumet is almost home town news to the folks living over in the Soo or S. Branch.

People of the upper peninsula have been closely knit together by a communion of interests and by similar problems. Politically and economically, they have become a family group, and distance has failed to be a barrier to their interest and thinking.

Down state politicians have heard that upper peninsula solidarity is not a myth. More than once the contending groups have seen Michigan have hurried to the basket and gone down to state conventions and presented an unopposed front that demanded and won more recognition than...

Reading in the papers where they broke into district construction headquarters in Newberry and got away with over $1500 in cash, makes one wonder why that amount of money was left there. Money from the sale of licenses...

The buck will probably be passed on to some minor officer in the department. The department is at passing the buck. But let by some higher-up is responsible for that sum of money being left where it could get at.

The walloping given Tammany Hall by Florence Luardin, Independent Republican, in the recent mayoral race, is taken by some Republicans as an indication of weakening Democratic strength. The much significance should not be attached to the downfall of the Tammany political potentates whose names have brought American's first city to a sorry financial plight.

It was another case of cleaning house. If the cards were dealt by the game about, and Republicans had been in the shoes of Tammany, it would have resulted in a Democratic triumph. The same reasoning that lifted the Democrats to power last November brought Tammany's political aspirations down to a heap. It looks like the city taxpayers are definitely sick of bosses and political exploitation and are determined to have a new deal of their own, whether or not it be Democratic, Republican, or what have you.

Contract for Sewage Survey

BUILDING OF SEWAGE PLANT IS DISCUSSED... City Will Get Facts To Present At Special Election This Fall

In preparation for holding a municipal election in Manistique this fall to seek public approval of a bond issue to cover the construction of a sewage disposal plant, Ironwood engineers submitting a bid from Shookcraft, Derry and McNamee, Ann Arbor consulting engineers, to make a survey of sewage collection and disposal was accepted by the city council at a meeting Monday evening.

Bids from three firms of consulting engineers were read, the Ironwood engineers submitting the lowest proposal in agreeing to make the initial survey for $300. This survey will give the council needed information to present to the public at the special election.

Should the bond issue carry, the company will agree to compile data for the federal loan application for an additional $200. If the Ironwood engineer has hurriedly specifications and contracts and supervise construction, the cost will be based on the consulting engineer's fee, under the national recovery act, with the previous payments for the initial survey and the legal application being taken into consideration.

Other firms submitting proposals were Suh, Berryman, Peterson and Suh, of Chicago, and Alvin Burdick and Hosson, of Chicago.

It was again pointed out that a Michigan law requires all cities to employ sewage into Lake Michigan. It has been decided that provisions for holding a special election would be made as soon as the consulting engineers had completed their survey and made their report.

Another topic which came up for considerable discussion was the electric light and power rate question, which has been a subject of controversy between the city council and the Manistique Light and Power company for several months. Mayor Erikson suggested that the company be asked to reduce the presently owned distribution system to put into a vote of the people this fall.

Activity Past Six Months Summarized; Relief Work Going

Expect To Hire More Men From Welfare Lists On Winter Program

A summary of the organization and accomplishments of the Civilian Conservation Corps camps located in the Hiawatha National Forest, and a resume of the Nation industrial recovery program now in operation, are contained in the following article prepared for The Tribune by George D. Poerst, of Manistique, ranger in charge of the federal forest.

A resume of the activities and accomplishments of the three Civilian Conservation Corps Camps located in the Hiawatha National Forest has been made for the first six-months period of the President's Emergency Conservation Work program.

Two of the C. C. Camps were established on May 5—one at Ken-tucky and the other at Steuben. A third camp was established on June 23 at McComb Lake. Two hundred men were enrolled at each camp. These three camps participated in the work which was done.

The actual accomplishments during the period follows: Construction of 25 miles of telephone line of the metallic circuit pole type; the construction of six miles of permanent firebreaks, which are generally five to six feet wide and located around forest plantations; the general cutting and piling of slash and snags over 3,000 cords of logs which were piled in hazardous conditions existed; clearing inflammable material from the sides of 76 miles of roads; this operation involving the cutting 100 feet wide and the felling of dead standing snags 200 feet wide on each side of the road. This work resulted in clearing the road—especially where it passes through heavy slash areas.

Considerable stand improvement work was done on 557 acres of second-growth hardwood timber. Defective, diseased and insect-infested trees and trees of undesirable species were removed; "snags" trees over-topping, and wood poles were cut out. The good trees were cut. The purpose of this work is to improve the condition and content of the stands and bring about an increase in commercial value.

A heavy road-construction program was launched at the beginning of this season. Fifty miles were surveyed and cleared, and of this amount 20 miles were graded and placed in condition for travel. Maintenance work was done on 26 miles of road. The 60 miles of roads previously built. Over five miles of roads were surfaced with gravel.

Deer Season Patrol Crews Are Assigned

The conservation department has the personnel of its extra game wardens, picked from the five division, who will patrol the woods until the close of the deer hunting season.

The following group of men announced last week by Julius Thorton, of Newberry, district supervisor, will work in pairs in this district.

Ernest Edwards and Frank Green—Manistique vicinity; James Dewey and Leo Marlette—Blaney vicinity; John Washell and Burt Faust—Seney vicinity.

Joe Brockman and Allen Treedy—Grand Marais and Cuyler; Joseph Thibodeau and Joseph Beach—Newberry vicinity; R. J. Anderson—Newberry headquarters.

Elmer Thorton, of Deckerville, and Elton Thorton, of Port Huron, are enjoying a hunting trip in the vicinity of Manistique.

Mrs. John Huska and Mrs. James Troyer returned to Escanaba today to accompany the former's son, John J., home. The youngster underwent an operation for relief from mastoid recently at St. Francis hospital.

The control of white pine blister rust was extended over about 9,000 acres. Natural white pine stands and white pine plantations were protected by removing the current and gooseberry bushes from the stands proper and by cutting 500 feet wide, around the stands.

Other work done included the clearing and development of two public camps from an extensive control of rodents over 2,200 acres, the survey of 42,950 acres (Continued on page 3)

Promotion Is Won By Frank Runsat
Manistique—Frank Runsat, former sheriff of Alger county and a well known resident of Manistique, who has for the past four months been employed in the capacity of general foreman for the Civilian Conservation Camp at The Pines, east of Manistique, has been promoted to the position of superintendent and will have charge of all work done by the crews in the future.
The camp at The Pines is to be abandoned and the men and equipment transferred to a new site on the west bank of Stuts Creek east of Hiawatha. One of the major projects under consideration at the present time is the construction of a road across the marshes between the West Branch and Manistique River which will open a hitherto inaccessible area.
Mr. Runsat was sheriff of Alger county from 1924 to 1933 and served the people of the county efficiently as an officer during this period.

LET'S NOT MINCE WORDS

You know and we all know what it takes to quickly lift this country out of the depression.

But maybe you don't realize that you've got to put your shoulder to the wheel and push, or indefinitely delay the return of good times.

You've got to help supply the one thing needed to put us over the top in a hurry—and that one thing is Money in Circulation.

You haven't got enough money, of course, to turn the trick unaided. Neither has anyone else. But all of us pulling together can speed adversity on its way before three more months slip by. And the way we can is this:

For four years, we have been buying as little as possible. Today, we all need many things—new shoes, new shirts, a new suit, coat or dress, new linoleum for the kitchen and new drapes in the bedroom, new linens and towels and sheets, new tires, a new battery, yes, and new cars.

But some of us are still pinching our pennies. We're getting by on just as little as possible. And wondering why our employers can't pay us more, and hire still more men.

The answer is plain and unmistakable. Unless your purchases help create a bigger market for the goods employers make, new jobs cannot be created. In fact, old jobs cannot be continued. Nor can employers long continue to pay higher wages for a shorter day's work and continue more men on payrolls unless part of the money that goes out in wages comes back in orders.

Your wages, therefore, provide the wedge with which to break the last link in the depression chain. By investing those wages NOW in things you need and are going without, you make your job secure, your pay envelope certain, and open the channels of trade so that more men can go back to work.

And NOW is certainly the time to buy. Retail stores here are filled to overflowing with wanted merchandise bought at pre-raise prices. Those prices cannot be continued long, for replacement costs are advancing almost daily. But by buying NOW, you can still get nearly everything you need at pre-raise prices.

This isn't a plea to help the other fellow. It's just plain common-sense advice in your own interest. You can't hold back and expect to go ahead. You can't leave it up to the other fellow to carry the whole load. You've got to do your part—and your part is to buy now—to the full limit of your capacity—not only to save money, but to speed prosperity on its return from its long vacation.

CAUTION DEMANDED

A situation has arisen in the upper peninsula woods which calls for more than ordinary caution on the part of hunters this year.

Several thousand young men are working in the emergency conservation camps north of the straits this year. These camps are located near Wells, Houghton, Newberry, Cusino, the Escanaba river, Gogebic station, Ontonagon, Munising and Manistique.

Other camps are being changed from Amasa to Sagola, Little Lake to Gwin, Moran to Brevort, Seney to Germfask, Munuscong to Dunbar, Champion to Big Bay, and Waucedah to Sturgeon river.

State conservation department officers in the woods are notifying all hunting parties as fast as they arrive, wherever possible, of their distance from the nearest camp and the location of work which will be continued during the hunting season. Many of the men are working this month in state forests and game refuges, or are employed on fire line or other duty at some distance from their camps, but practically all are in hunting areas.

With thousands of hunters in the woods, nothing but the utmost care will prevent serious or fatal accidents. Every man carrying a high powered rifle in the forests this fall is doubly urged to be sure his target is a buck before he shoots.

A pioneer is a fellow who can remember when the village house was the only one who had a habit of taking a bottle of liquor home with him.

The rubber medal for heroism is awarded this week to the Detroit ungenerate, who swindled a Macomb county blind man out of a considerable sum by means of a forged check.

Now it is proposed to turn the liquor tax monies over to the support of the schools. Does that mean deletion of the old physiology text book story about alcohol cooking an egg?

A Hollywood actress has recovered consciousness lost during 127 days of complete coma. Probably caused when she suddenly realized she had been married to the same man for more than a year.

The Cuban rumba dance craze is invading this country. A life-long ambition would be realized watching former Lt. Governor Dickinson doing this number early during one of his afternoon talks to the ladies on prohibition.

AND NOW IN CLOSING—

The way events are moving under the new deal, capital hasn't a friend in court. No wonder capitalists is timid. One of these days the farmer-labor team may discover that capital constitutes an important partner if the wheels of business are to be kept in motion and if much-needed tax revenues for carrying on government functions are to be forthcoming.—Herman Roe in the Northfield (Minn.) News.

REPORT ON STATE CONVENTION HEARD

Mrs. V. I. Hixson Reviews State Gathering at Women's Club Meeting

A report by Mrs. V. I. Hixson on the thirty-ninth annual convention of the Michigan State Federation of Women's Clubs, held in Detroit, and to which she was a delegate, opened the meeting of the Manistique club Tuesday afternoon of this week.

The theme of the convention, stated the speaker, was "A Growing Knowledge." The many talks during the three days centered around public schools, our government and war on crime.

Mrs. Hixson quoted Doctor Anna Pierce, first vice president of the General Federation, and honored guest at the convention, as saying that "Education and Child Welfare are the special concerns of the women of the county and calls for the two million federated women to prevent the widespread closing of the schools."

A resolution was voted on and sent to the Governor stating that "The security of the State of Michigan depends, in a large measure, upon the extent to which a public school system is maintained for the purpose of training the boys and girls to be the right kind of citizens in a democracy. It is the responsibility of the state to provide at least a minimum program of education to insure the adequate training necessary to develop this good citizenship."

"The first object of the government should be public instruction," said Mrs. Hixson in reviewing addresses heard at the convention, "and anything which prevents the child from taking hold when it comes his turn to run the government, is unwise economy even in present times."

Senator Vandenberg was quoted as saying that "America's 400,000 annual crop of criminals is the biggest and the most dangerous surplus we have."

While the general tone of the convention was serious and at times depressing, there was the hopeful sign that we have right about-face and are making every effort to rebuild our world on new values and with a new vision of what constitutes success, with the elimination of greed, Mrs. Hixson declared.

Mrs. E. C. Rupp played two piano selections, "Ballet Music from Rosamunde," by Schubert, and "Valse Brillante," by Mona Zucca.

Mr. Wilson's address on "America's Changing Political Philosophy" is discussed in another article to appear next week.

Refreshments were served following the meeting. The table was prettily decorated with pink roses and milk candies. Mrs. E. B. Weadell and Mrs. George Fowler presided at the tea table.

Hostesses were Mrs. E. H. Branch, chairman; Mrs. A. B. Waters; Mrs. W. L. Middlebrook; Mrs. Maude E. Babor; Mrs. A. Carlson and Mrs. V. F. Lang.

Former Resident Dies In Detroit

Mrs. Soren Christensen, age 59 years, passed away Sunday in Detroit, according to word received here this week. She was a former resident of this city.

The deceased was formerly Miss Mary Jensen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Jensen, and had resided in Manistique until 11 years ago when the family moved to Detroit. She was married 29 years ago to Soren Christensen, brother of Mrs. Charles Lundvall, of Manistique, and five children, Agnes, Ella, Alice, Helen and Ralph, all of Detroit. Funeral services were held in Detroit this week.

Miss Dorothy McLaughlin spent the week end in Escanaba as the guest of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Lester A. Danielson.

HORWOOD TALKS TO LOCAL MILK GROUPS

Explains A. A. Code; Local Selling, Producing Areas Defined

Definition of sales and producing areas for milk men of Manistique and vicinity, in accordance with provisions of the recommended Agricultural Adjustment Act code, and an explanation of the A. A. Code by Russell E. Horwood, of Marquette, dairy specialist, featured a meeting of directors of the local milk producers' and distributors' associations Tuesday evening in the county court house.

Under the Agricultural Adjustment Act recommendations, local producers' and distributors' codes can be set up containing milk and cream prices based on local conditions. Codes established under the adjustment act provide for a concrete enforcement officer to be appointed in each city or district, empowered to take legal measures to enforce the provisions of the code, Mr. Horwood told the directors.

The code recently agreed on by the local producers and distributors will have to be only slightly changed to conform with Agricultural Adjustment Act recommendations, Lee Stewart, county farm agent, said today. It was originally intended to have a uniform code for the entire upper peninsula, but it will now be possible to have separate codes for each producing and distributing area, he pointed out.

The city of Manistique was defined as the sales area for the two local milk associations. The producing area also was restricted to areas in the city's vicinity, dairymen residing outside of this restricted area who attempt to sell milk in Manistique, or those in the area who try to undersell competitors, will be liable to punishment after the code is adopted.

The new code will be administered by a board of directors to be composed of two distributors, two producers and one consumer. The consumer will be selected by the other four members. This board will not be set up until the code is approved by federal authorities and made effective.

Car Turns Over On Icy Highway

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Bahadela and son narrowly escaped injury Thursday evening when their car skidded on the ice road near Parker's resort and turned completely over. The top of the car was damaged, but the occupants were unhurt.

They were driving toward Manistique when the accident occurred, with Mr. Bahadela, proprietor of the Liberty Cafe, driving. The rear wheels skidded at the first curve this side of Parker's and the machine turned over when it hit the soft road shoulder, coming to rest with its wheels struck in the air. Mr. Bahadela broke one of the door windows to let himself and family out of the sedan.

Mrs. Claude Smith has returned to the city following a visit with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Del Raiese, of Ontonagon, N. Y., and with her sons and daughters-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Smith, at Ovesso, and Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Smith, at Holly.

“Habit-Buying” Can Be the Wrong Kind

IT'S mighty easy for a driver to let sheer habit carry him back time after time to the same filling spot "without thinking", or just for convenience.

No harm done if its the right spot—but even so, the choice of gasoline—particularly winter gasoline—is altogether too important to rest on that alone.

Depend upon it, the countless thousands of Mobilgas users who repeat and repeat so consistently are backed in their good habit, by the soundest and most substantial scientific reasons for their decisive selection.

Mobilgas "370" —now in Winter formula

"Seasonally Re-Balanced" for Quick Starting

is unquestioned first choice because it is particularized exactly for this region of tricky weather variations. Expert refinery "balancing" has accented and emphasized its quick starting and rapid warm-up for winter's special burden.

Smartest get-away and stout power-pull remain in full measure. Further, you can keep shutters well-closed for full engine efficiency without knocking danger, because Mobilgas holds its top "70-Octane" anti-knock factor —highest to be had in any-regular priced fuel!

And conclusive reason of all is Mobilgas money-saving—not alone because it costs only 1 1/2c above "low" but because you reap rich mileage with the thin mixture of continuing economy.

Buddy Rogers Finds Ideal Role in Film - Saturday

The secret is all to Buddy Rogers' return to the movies. It is simply a case of his personality and versatility so ideally fitting the role in "Beat of Drummies," that he stood out as the only star in Hollywood who could do it justice.

It means that Buddy Rogers is cast as a typical American boy who has a penchant for music and saxophones. The part in "Beat of Drummies" might well have been written to fit Rogers' versatility personality. In the picture, just as in his life, he is seen as a college boy whose extra-curricular activities include composing the school's musical shows and directing a jazz band.

It might be said that Buddy has been preparing for this role ever since he forsake the movies more than a year ago. If that time he has been appearing on the stage and with his own orchestra.

With Marian Nixon in the leading female role, "Beat of Drummies" comes to the Gero Theatre on Saturday.

RELOCATION OF HIGHWAY IS OPPOSED

shore line into Marquette. I am very much concerned over this change in the route as it appears to me that 90 percent of the beauty of the present route will be sacrificed. I drive this route several days each week and I think the view of Big Bay de Noc from the Cooks hill is one of the most beautiful outlooks in this part of the upper peninsula, and I am sure it is considered so by a great many people.

I am also familiar with most of the country that the proposed route would traverse and there certainly is nothing beautiful about it as it is principally sand plains and pine stumps, and by no stretch of the imagination could the reason for the proposed route be given as opening up a new country for farming, but instead you are taking the route away from a long established farming district between Manistique and Coos. and it would seem that the sensible thing to do is to straighten out the present route, cutting out the curves and possibly shorten the distance here and there.

I hope that your editor will be inclined to get some other opinions on this change so that the matter can have full consideration before the new route is actually settled upon.
Yours very truly,
Chas. S. Shining
Pioneer-Tribune,
Manistique, Mich.

It is reported that a preliminary survey is being made of a possible relocation of U. S. 2 which will leave out Cooks and the farming country in Inwood township and route the highway across barren country and sand plains all the way to Marquette. I hope this will turn out to be preliminary only and that when the authorities are familiar with the proposed location they will see that this wanting is a very poor change to make. In my opinion it would be a calamity to the property owners and taxpayers of Schoolcraft county, as it would give tourists a bad impression, depreciate the value of developments which have been established along the present route, and increase taxes by throwing the present road back on the local and state taxpayers to maintain.

I sincerely hope that information and facts will be laid before the proper authorities to show them that this change in route would mean to our community.
Yours very truly,
Wm. A. Shining
Manistique Pioneer-Tribune,
Manistique, Michigan.

I want to register my protest against changing the location of U. S. 2. To make this change will ruin the value of half the property in the county, and will not do anybody any good. I am in favor of having the present road paved with concrete as soon as possible. If this question was submitted to a vote of the people, not one vote out of twenty would be in favor of the relocation.
Yours very truly,
P. J. McNamara
Pioneer-Tribune,
Manistique, Mich.

In the agitation over changing the route of U. S. 2, there are many reasons against such a change, and one which appeals to me is the view from the top of the hill in front of Coos on the present highway. This view, I think, is one of the scenic attractions of Schoolcraft county, and while some people may not think it much of an argument for keeping the road where it is, still there are many western cities which have actually gone to the expense of building roads to the tops of hills and mountains just so visitors and tourists can see their country. If this road should be changed as proposed, the tourist will miss this view, and will have burned over sand plains to look at instead.

We ought to have a little about what outsiders think of us, and not drive them away by making them think this is a barren and uninhabited country.
Yours very truly,
(Mrs. V. I.) Agnes B. Hixson
President, Manistique Women's Club

takes the tourist away from the most prosperous farming country and attractive resort section in the county including the Big Spring, and sends him over barren sand plains. It is bad for the taxpayer—because it duplicates the present route—and it will have to be kept up at the taxpayers' expense! It is a waste of public money. The money spent in relocation could be spent in conserving the present road which is needed.

It will retard future development—by making tourists and settlers think this a barren and unattractive country, they will look elsewhere and will go to more attractive parts of the upper peninsula.
I believe these facts should be put before the proper officials by someone who can put them up in an intelligent and straight to the point manner without palaver and misstatement, because these officials are very busy and have no time to waste.
Yours truly,
James C. Wood
Manistique, Michigan

Pioneer-Tribune, Manistique, Mich.
Dear Sirs:
If the newspaper reports are correct that U. S. 2 is to be relocated across the barren sand plains between Delta county and Manistique, it will certainly be a calamity.
The Big Spring is the main tourist attraction in the Upper Peninsula, is now 5 miles off the highway, and there has been agitation to build a shorter road so that this State Park will be more accessible to the 55,000 tourists who visit it every summer.
If U. S. 2 is re-located where proposed, the Big Spring State Park will be 11 miles from the highway at Thompson, the nearest point.
Either that, or a 4 mile extension of the highway to connect with the new highway to this connecting link as well as all the present route, U. S. 2 will be thrown back on the county and state taxpayers to keep up. This would lengthen the distance from the spring to U. S. 9 miles with a railroad grade crossing thrown in, all of which means more expense for local taxpayers, as well as making the Big Spring State Park more inaccessible.

I also call your attention to the fact that the Conservation Department is now clearing up a state reservation park of 129 acres on Indian Lake, which will be off from the main road entirely. I cannot imagine that anyone informed about local conditions would want to make such a change.
Yours very truly,
George C. Fowler
Manistique Pioneer-Tribune,
Manistique, Michigan.

We should not allow our hurry to get federal relief money to spend rush us into a serious mistake which will permanently damage our future and in the end make the unemployment situation worse instead of better. Do not spend foolishly as we lost it and can only lose more dollars spent wisely will be returned and can be spent again. If even dollars are spent foolishly they will be broken up and there will be no employment at all, and if the government spends money foolishly all over the country it will be broken too, and then where will we be?
To build a new federal road across 13 miles of barren sand plains where no road is needed, and where the old road will then have to be maintained at local and state expense, is not only a foolish waste of public money. It is worse than wasted because by damaging property values and increasing taxes at the same time it is ruinous to the future prosperity of our county.

The ready and willing to spend money for relief, and we ought to be able to think of something worth while to spend it on. The road will be spent on U. S. 2 anyhow because it is sure to be concreted sooner or later, and it should follow the present location as nearly as possible.
Yours very truly,
Thos. H. Bolitho,
Pres. A. S. Putnam & Co.

Fowler Attended Conservation Meeting
George Fowler, 201 Steuben st., a member of the state conservation commission, returned Sunday evening from Lansing where he attended a regular monthly meeting of the commission on Thursday and Friday of last week.
Business of the meeting, Mr. Fowler said, included discussion over the leasing of property to state-owned game areas for off-hunting.
Director George Hoover is now heading all producing game state east of the Mississippi river.
Grand Rapids will be the scene of the next commission meeting on December 7.
Jack Nelson, Frank Lied and Albert Schubing are enjoying a hunting trip this week. Joseph Oshott will join them later.

Fouchard Returns From State Meet

Frank Fouchard, county welfare agent and special investigator for the Schoolcraft county superintendent of the poor, returned Sunday evening from Lansing where he attended a meeting of county agents. Problems of relief and welfare work were discussed.

Mr. Fouchard was authorized to attend the annual meeting of the board of supervisors in October.

of land, the survey of 265 miles of section lines, the survey of 85 miles of water. 26 counties are involved in pre-suppression activities, construction of one emergency landing field near Steuben, and the production of 100-year posts and poles for Forest Service.

The winter program for the C. C. C. men includes the burning of brush which was piled during the summer months; the construction of additional firebreaks along roads and into slash areas; continuation of forest stand improvement work; and the clearing of additional roads which are included in the road transportation system. The Wyman Camp, recently added to the list of camps in the Hiawatha Forest, is now being constructed and will be occupied by the company formerly located near Rapid River. The camp site is about eight miles west of Manistique, Mich.

Under the Foret's N. L. R. A. program, 175 men are now employed. There is a possibility that this number will be greatly increased under the broadened winter unemployment relief program now proposed. This program and organization is entirely separate from the C. C. C. units. Men living in the counties which have lands included in the Hiawatha National Forest are hired on this work. The projects involved are the construction and maintenance of roads, construction of fire breaks, fire hazard reduction, and cultural work in stands of timber; at the present time, men are commencing under the broadened winter drive to work each day—working 30 hours per week. Four camps for housing these men are being constructed and will be ready for occupancy late in November.

A separate organization is set up for each of the C. C. C. camps. I. R. A. Camps. A camp superintendent is in charge of each C. C. C. camp and he is assisted by a staff of technical and construction foremen in directing and supervising the field work. The superintendent in charge of the various C. C. C. camps are: Fred N. Foster at Steuben, Ralph S. Sloss at Kentucky, and Ralph Hancy at Michigan Lake. Mr. Sulliman is general foreman handling the N. L. R. A. projects. At present, there are 11 technical foremen and 13 construction foremen employed. The entire organization of the Hiawatha Forest is headed by the Forest Ranger.

only for making good hockey players.
Teach your youngsters how to play hockey and some of them may get a chance to get league salaries, he says. Basketball, which is now the main winter recreation and game of upper peninsula high schools, is not giving young men in a field where there are future opportunities. He declares that hockey ought to be introduced into the high schools as the main winter sport instead of basketball.

The deer hunting season opened yesterday in Michigan and some sage has urged that small cards be printed and distributed to hunters stating the following facts:
A deer has four legs, a man has only two. Count the legs on the deer you are aiming at; if it has two legs, then ask it politely if it is a deer. If it says no, look sharply and see if the deer is smoking a pipe. If so, then it might not be a deer.

Cows, horses and mules also have four legs, so before shooting look carefully; if the deer is bunched to a wagon it might be a horse.

If a hunter finds another hunter has mistaken him for a deer and is shooting at him, he should not waste time saying, "Listen, guy, I meant that the deer was a hell of a nice one, but it's not my deer, merely I think the deer was lying. The best thing to do is to stand quiet and make a noise like a canary. If now a deer hunting river is ashamed to kill a canary bird and so he would stop shooting.

Ben Gore has been in the movie business in Manistique for over 13 years and has never tired of seeing a picture show. There is a fascination about the theatre business to light recently. Two local young men were attending the World's Fair and in their journeys around that vast panorama of progress, they look in the "Streets of Paris." They came out of one of the shows in the famous "Street," and whom do you suppose they bumped into? None other than a well known and beloved former Manistique pastor.

A letter from the Manistique Pulp and Paper company also was read. It was in reply to a recent city inquiry relative to the cost and possibility of buying the Manistique Light and Power company. The letter stated that the Manistique Tribune did not wish to dispose of its Manistique property in parts, but if a buyer for both the paper company and the light company could be found, they would be glad to sell at a discount.
It was brought out at the meeting that Gladstone, which owns its distribution system, pays 2 cents per kilowatt hour for electric energy and resells it to the consumers for 8 cents a kilowatt hour for electric lighting.
Other matters transacted were the granting of dance license refunds to Camp Manistique and the American Legion; the granting of permission to Alphonse Sendeburg to use the city dock frontage until further notice and the acceptance of the reports of the chief of police and the justice of the peace.

LEGION LOSES TO ESCANABA, 8-6, SATURDAY

Safety And Touchdown In The Last Quarter Gives Rangers 2-Point Win

Manistique Established Early Lead When Barries Carried Ball Over

Battling stubbornly on a snow-covered, frozen field, the fighting Manistique Legion football team was defeated Saturday afternoon, 8 to 6, by the strong Escanaba Rangers.

Manistique established an early lead when Jacob Barnes dove headlong over the goal line when he slipped on receiving a pass. Escanaba failed to take the fourth quarter that the Escanaba margin to turn in their slender two-point victory.

A safety after a hard fought third quarter gave the Delta county men their extra two points. The safety came after Escanaba intercepted a Manistique pass in midfield and worked the oval down close to scoring territory, where it was lost on downs. When the ball went over, Eskidahl stepped back to his 40-yard line, tossed a lateral pass to Peltin who zipped to his 40-yard line, tossed a lateral pass to Peltin who raced to the Manistique 20-yard mark before he was tackled. Sharking, former St. Joseph high school star, gained 15 more yards on an off-tackle smash and finally skirted around the Legion right end to put the oval across the goal line for the winning score.

In a desperate effort to overcome the Escanaba lead, Manistique opened up with a series of long passes in the next play, but none were successful. The game ended with Escanaba in possession of the ball on the Manistique 15-yard stripe.
