TWO VETERANS ON COUNTY BOARD ARE DEFEATED MONDAY

Brain Beats McDougall And LaPorte Loses To William F. Bauers

Merwin Victor Over Brainerd In Close Race; Gray And Bell Win

Two veteran supervisors will be missing from the county board when it meets this month as a result of Monday's election. Angus McDougall, of Grand Rapids, who lost his seat at the primary election and was a slip candidate on Monday lost out to William Brain by a vote of 128 to 104. Brain was elected to the Merwin township over E. J. LaPorte, veteran supervisor, by a count of 96 to 85. Bauers was elected at the primary but lost out by 21 votes. He ran on slips at the general election. Brainerd was elected as supervisor of the township and Matthew Brainerd, Merwin supervisor, lost out in the primary by 14 votes and ran on slips at the general election. Merwin was elected as supervisor by a vote of 106 to 66. Seven ballots were in dispute for a time and the result was announced at the election by the board of Merwin. However, the township election board finally agreed on the vote to be cast. It is understood that the ballot in dispute had Merwin's slips passed there as but there were no crosses placed on the ballot. It was the conclusion of the election board that the ballots should count as the voter showed his intention by passing the ballot. It was not whether it was marked or not.

Supervisor George Gray, of the township, was nearly over Henry Orsdahl, slip candidate. The count was 138 to 98. Frank J. Bell, regular nominee in Seney township, was easily over Charles Smith, the final count being 69 to 29.

One of the closest contests for township offices was that in Hawatha township where the contest was a slip candidate, having lost at the primary by five votes. Devereux won out on Monday by a vote of 100 to 95.

There were practically two complete tickets in Seney township which one headed by Frank J. Bell won easily. Earl Sandler was elected township clerk over Jennie Nelson by a vote of 83 to 36; Alue H. Cook, treasurer, over Glenn Strout, 62 to 37; and Emory Smith was elected highway commissioner over Charles Faulkner by a vote of 70 to 27.

There were no contests for township supervisors who had no opposition are: Charles H. Howard, Hawatha; and Ed Fitzgerald, Thompson.

Door kicked at 1:00 o'clock. It was our first experience with door kickers.
And how they do kick! They come right back and kick you in the face.
Two weeks ago we said that Mr. Abbott, secretary of the State Administration Board, door kickers for job seekers.
That was untrue. It was NOT Mr. Abbott of the NEW DEAL, Democratic administration who door kicked the door kickers. It was Mr. Charles W. Foster, former secretary of the administration, under Wilbur Brantley's KITCHEN ECONOMY administration.

Legislature Plays Politics While Welfare And Work Relief Waits
day afternoon we saw a youth trying to turn a rim. We didn't have room for him.
He was a tall, slim kid, about the size of a door.
His clothes were ragged. His cheeks were sunken.
He looked hungry and sick.
Later in the afternoon as we came home we met him. He had traveled several miles toward Lansing.
He was crying. One of the half-million jobless youths wandering about this country.
If this were your boy or mine—

Legislature Plays Politics While Welfare And Work Relief Waits
When we reached the Capitol City we found the Legislature adjourned. The boys had scattered so as to make some speeches and do some work for the election that was held Monday. For more than a week, some of the observers said it had been almost impossible to get anything done. Everything was politics. The Republicans figuring on how to save their candidates. The Democrats were practically busy on that "Finish the Job" war cry. Another slogan.

State Pay Jumps As Tax Payers Fail

By Elton R. Eaton
Lansing, Mich. April 6.—Public pay roll levels are fringing at the mouth and damming Representative Vernon J. Brown of Mason for approval with this change in it. But Representative Brown and some of the other legislators say the state cannot go on, no matter what happens.

The center of greatest disturbance over the revolutions of the Mason newspaper publisher is the attorney general's office, where the payroll has since the first of the year jumped to its highest figure in the state's history.

It was Representative Brown, a Republican who a year ago made a lot of other Republicans nervous because he had the audacity to point out that state salaries and expenses were higher than those they should be in times like these. When those Republicans returned to their rose-covered beds in the state capital, Representative Brown didn't take his weather eye off the state payrolls. He introduced a resolution to cut state salaries and expenses. He hoped he would do it for a minute but his will failed.

Now Attorney General Patrick O'Brien, son of the far northern clime who deserted to reside in Michigan's metropolis, is maintaining at the audacity of a more representative call attention to the over-burdened pay roll of his office.

He compared this figure with Attorney General O'Brien's (economy) payroll for the first two weeks of March, at $2,200.44, an increase of $1,470.83. If this same payroll is maintained during the entire year, the attorney general's department will cost the taxpayers of Michigan this year a total of $5,281.92 more than it did last year.

"That's pretty good for these economy boys," cynically declared Mr. Brown.

Why they have not so many people working in the attorney general's office that they have had to work to get the money for the boys to sit down, not being enough room in the department for desks and chairs for all.

That isn't all Mr. Brown has found out about this new economy theory.

During the early part of the session Representative Brown and Representative Hartman introduced a bill taking the salary of the commissioner of agriculture out of the appropriation for that department and putting it into the law at $5,000 but when taxpayers began to use turning up cord wood for money, Mr. Powell reduced his salary to $4,000 per year.

Then Mr. Samuel Metzger of Greenville arrived in Lansing along about January first with these other economy cut-throats. Newspaper readers were informed that he had taken the job that had been held by Mr. Powell. Nobody cared anything specially about that but there was some loud talking when they discovered that Metzger's economy salary had gone back to the $5,000 figure of propriety days.

Then along came this house bill with no salary in it for the commissioner, which meant that the legislature could fix the salary any time they wanted to and any figure. The bill finally landed in the senate and when it came to

New Oil Well Has Large Capacity

Lansing, April 6.—A gas well capable of producing 4,100,000 cubic feet of natural gas a day has been opened up in Mecosta County and is expected to result in Central Michigan's fourth great gas field.

The "discovery" was made by Taztagar Brothers of Big Rapids which gas at 1,481 feet. It is located between Big Rapids and Mecosta and is expected to be followed by other drillings in the immediate vicinity.

Recommended Size Limit On Perch

Lansing, April 6.—Replacing a size limit on perch caught in Michigan has been recommended. The Department of Conservation, Michigan, has suggested six inches as the minimum size perch that might be caught in the inland waters.

FEAR TREES INJURED

Lansing, April 6.—Fear is being expressed by the Parks Division of the Department of Conservation that the late March storm played havoc with trees in state parks in the southern part of the state and inspections are now being made at the various parks to determine the damage done.

Few Arrested In Month of February

Lansing, April 6.—February showed the lowest number of arrests for conservation law violations that the Department of Conservation has reported for any one month in many years.

The 50 men convicted of violating various conservation laws paid a total of $10,000 in fines and they served an aggregate of 200 days in jail.

The number of persons arrested for violating hunting and fishing laws were about equally divided between the various violations.

Legal possession of venison is carrying a gun in hunting areas, carrying a gun in hunting areas, carrying a gun in hunting areas.

Shooting pheasants out of season is most illegal limit of game is 11; trapping muskrats out of season is 1; spearing game fish is 1; carrying a gun in hunting areas is 1; carrying a gun in hunting areas is 1.

During the month conservation officers confiscated one violation one deer hide, eight ferrets, one mink pit, one live trap and nine guns.

Among the more severe violations reported for February were: Northwest corner, Clarence Harbor, convicted of possession and transportation of a deer in the closed season by beginning, Block 2 (April 6-May 4).

Two broadcasts of importance to everyone will be those presented by WTJM during Holy week. On Sunday, April 8, listeners will hear Archbishop Simeon A. Stritch open the drive for Catholic charities. He will speak from 6:45 to 6:15 p. m. It will be the first broadcast of the Chancery.

WTJM has been outstanding in the presentation of the services. Michael Kinsella, Marquette University, will again announce and describe the ceremonies. The broadcast will begin at approximately 11:55 a. m. and will continue until their conclusion at 3:00 p. m. Friday, April 14.

The baseball season in the United States gets under way on April 11, with many midwestern stations broadcasting Chicago National and American League games and WTJM broadcasting the Breweries games, both at home and while abroad.

Thought for the week: If you think there's been change in the last few seasons and just returned from the Brewer spring training camp at Hot Springs will again announce and describe the ceremonies.

TWO INDIAN STORIES IN ONE

From my Swedish friend, Atala-Ikibi, "Pawakik" told me the following story:

The first part of this double story may have originated in the brain of some myth-mad saga-brain after that brain had finished its work on the legend of Kewop Sheshikima, the spirit of the wind, which makes the clouds and rain, and which is said to appear in a cyclone.

The second part of this double story is a symbolically calumnious tale of a man who was a great hunter and a great warrior.

My ultimate home-lead will be chosen just there, although I found proof of it on the coast of Valhalla, the realm of biking spirits, during sixty of my many years.

Well, the Indian heaven is a whole lot different from the one I know about. It is a place of peace and plenty, and it is a place where the dead go to live. It is a place where the dead go to live, and it is a place where the dead go to live.

Land Division Is Praised Highly

Lansing, April 6.—General accord with the policies under which the Department of Conservation has been carrying on its public land affairs is expressed in a report submitted by the Forestry Advisory Committee which began two years ago to check the state's forests and forest land.

The report was submitted by G. W. Tinker, regional forester of the U. S. Forest Service, Marquette, Michigan, chairman of the committee. The other members were Prof. P. A. Herbert, Michigan State College; Don S. Dana, University of Michigan; and Dr. Raphael Zorn, director of the State Forest Experiment Station.

The committee recommended organization of conservation projects only in sections where the total area involves amounts to 50,000 acres or more. With its suggestions in force it anticipates that a total of 2,500,000 acres would be organized into state projects during the next ten years, a figure based on the present trends in land delinquency.

In concluding its recommendations for development and utilization of the state's public domain, the committee's report submitted to the Commission said:

"Michigan has made noteworthy progress in conservation affairs. So far as state lands are concerned, the chief needs now are to concentrate its effort on the intensive development of organized conservation areas. To do this, these under comprehensive management plans providing for the coordinated use of all resources, and to develop a highly trained personnel capable of assuming primary responsibility for the preparation and execution of such plans."

Numerous recommendations for new policies under which belief is expressed that greater utilization might be made of the more than 2,000,000 acres of state land now under the control of the Conservation Department, is made in the committee's summary of its findings.

State lands should be organized in state conservation areas after thorough analysis in each case of the purpose, type, distribution and possibility of consolidation of available land and waters, the committee said. Unorganized lands should be retained in state ownership when they will form a part of a prospective state conservation area and when they are of strategic value in affording public access to streams and lakes.

They should be opened to private acquisition by homesteading or sale when they are not needed for these other important public purposes, when they are clearly suited for the intended use, and when there is reasonable assurance that they will remain in private ownership.

"Any additional contributions that may be made for the support of local governments should be based upon specific needs and not on the amount of state owned land lying within the communities concerned. They should be spent upon sufficiently close state supervision to assure their effective use and should not be committed as a conservation measure, the report said.

State Organized For Fire Fighting

Lansing, April 6.—A crew of approximately 1,000 men, all of them trained and all of them properly equipped will go on duty April 15, prepared to battle the season's forest fires.

The forest fire crew is made up of about 800 "key men," who are called out only when needed; however, a construction measure, 130 fire towers; and regular fire wardens who work for a period of from six to seven months.

The "key men" are selected by local regular fire wardens, and practically the same crew is retained every season because of the training these men have received in forest fire suppression work. The "key men" are summoned only when needed to fight fires, and because of their experience they are considered invaluable in directing small fire fighting crews.

The fire crews, selected during the past winter, are now ready for any emergency.

Continuing its policy adopted last year the Department of Conservation will again obtain its "impetus" labor through the various local welfare organizations.

The system adopted in 1932 in obtaining employment for these most needed it, proved to be very satisfactory.

During the past winter, the siskelton crew kept at the 14 district headquarters, carried on an extensive program of fire camp building and repairing thousands of signs which will be posted along the highways and at tourist camps and picnic and repairing equipment.

Most of the early difficulty is usually centered over grass fires and the Department is warning all those wishing to start such fires to first obtain a permit from the nearest fire warden so that the state may avoid the needless expense of sending fire fighting crews to fires that are already being watched.

Two Deer Tagged At Blaney Park

Lansing, April 6.—Because of mild weather during the past two winters no deer traps have been operated by the Department of Conservation which for the past several years has been live-trapping and tagging deer in an attempt to obtain accurate information as to the age, sex ratio and migratory habits of these animals.

Deer have not congregated during the mild weather and it would have been difficult to lure them to a trap, the Department said.

Two traps are being operated this year at Blaney Park Schoolcraft in cooperation with the Conservation Department and the Game Division has received reports of two deer trapped and tagged there within the past two weeks.

The first deer trapped at Blaney in 1930 was shot the following season a distance of 14 miles from the place where it was tagged and released. This is the only report that has been received of tagged deer being killed near Blaney.

To date a total of 138 deer have been tagged and released in Michigan and returns have been received and compiled on 20 of these. The longest distance that any of these deer traveled from the place of release was 22 miles, according to returns.

It Takes More Than Salts, Calomel, Mineral Waters, Oils, or Laxative Pills to Arouse a Sluggish Liver

They Give Only Temporary Relief From Constipation and Biliouness, Because They Have No Effect Whatever on the Liver or Its Production of Bile

Bile is nature's own laxative and you should eat and bowels become at least one quart of fresh bile every day to keep the bowels moving. Bile is the life-giving activity of the liver known to modern science. These substances stimulate and invigorate the liver to cleanse and purify itself through increasing its production of bile. This fresh bile immediately starts to work neutralizing acids and poisons, stopping fermentation and decay, cleansing and purifying the bowels and sweeping out accumulated poisons.

Unless you have tried Sargon Soft Mass Pills you can have no idea of the effects produced by this natural cleansing of your liver and bowels. It makes you feel younger, happier, it brings back life and color to faded eyes and cheeks, restores the appetite and sound digestion—gives you a new outlook on life itself.

Insist on genuine Sargon Soft Mass Pills. Don't be misled. These pills will actually stimulate a torpid or sluggish liver to cleanse and purify itself by increasing its production of bile. Sargon Soft Mass Pills contain both of these substances and no other advertised medicine on the American market today does contain them.

PLAN AID FOR NEEDY OF STATE

By Elton R. Eaton

Several administration bills of which the most important is a plan to go hungry, but of these anything that Governor Comstock and his administration can do. This bill is slightly under the clearing away of the banking legislation by the ultimatum of the Reconstruction Finance Commission that no more funds would be available to feed Michigan's hungry unless the state provided money from some source to help out the situation. Governor Comstock and Senator Leon Case, Waterbury newspaper publisher who is the administration's leader in the senate, have presented to the legislature a bill that would divert to welfare purposes several millions from the automobile weight tax.

Money from this tax, as well as from gas tax, is about all that the state is receiving at the present time. Much against their judgment to do this, both Governor Comstock and Senator Case thought it best to be sure to get the federal aid that is absolutely essential to Michigan.

Senator Case and other legislative leaders fully realize the growing seriousness of the welfare problem in Michigan. The governor or he it be known that he did not like the drastic word sent him by Washington, but there was no course for him to follow but comply and that is the reason Senator Case, Senator Francis Kulp of Battle Creek and others are so anxious to have it enacted quickly.

Read men and Louis Webber, of Presque Isle, lobbyist for real estate dealers, are providing about the only opposition to this plan to secure money to feed Michigan's hungry men, women and children.

Former Senator B. G. Davis of the Van Buren-Alcona district, asked the state legislature to petition the national congress for the issuance of what he terms "baby bonds." The former senator declares that U. S. bonds issued in small denominations will do more than anything else to bring the country out of the dumps it is now in. It will be recalled that it was this former senator who back in the days of Governor Sleeper strenuously opposed the issuance of the $50,000,000 bond issue for road roads. He urged the state at that time to create a sinking fund by the collection of a mill tax specially for roads, and then spend it as it was needed. He pointed out that the Michigan State College and considerably more than a million dollars for the needed road construction at that time. That was back in the days before a gas tax. Time has proven much that Senator Davis said was true. The money that had been set aside to pay off the road bonds in the past few years been diverted to other purposes and the taxpayers are still paying a fixed charge of something like two million and a half per year as interest on the road bonds issued during the Sleeper administration.

Reduction from $5 a day to $4 per day for the pay of supervisors while attending meetings of the county boards is provided in a bill that has met with the approval of the senate.

The legislature has made legal the issuance of scrip by municipalities their desire to use it to pay their obligations. The bill while introduced primarily to help Detroit will benefit any community in Michigan that desires to mint its own money instead of using currency.

The state department of education will no longer have anything to say about what kind of a school house shall be built by the people of any school district in the state. The legislature has passed a bill doing away with this state supervision that has resulted in the expenditure of vast sums for buildings in districts unable to bear the burden.

Some members of the legislature have the idea that automobile drivers are loaded down with money and can still pay a higher gas tax. Rep. Edwards Brouwer of Holland has a bill in to raise the gas tax to four cents a gallon and cut the weight tax 25 cents a hundred. Taxpayers have been urging that the gas tax be cut in half and that the weight tax be cut in two, but so far the proposal of tax reduction on these two items have received but scant consideration.

There is a bill in the legislature which if passed would repeal the law that provides a pension for members of the supreme bench upon retirement after a certain age. There are no former members of the bench now on pension.

MEMBERS OF CLUB HEAR FINE TALK

Professor At University of Michigan Spoke Here on Tuesday

"Personality" was the subject of an interesting and well-timed talk given before the members of the Women's club at the Peoples Store on Tuesday afternoon. The speaker, Prof. John H. M. M. Temple, of the department of psychology of the University of Michigan.

Two vocal selections, "Sing and Think," by Foster, and "The Night is But a Day," by Browning, were given by Mrs. Lauritz Drevdahl.

Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. E. W. Miller, Mrs. G. C. Quick, Mrs. L. Ross, Mrs. G. A. Shaw, Mrs. C. Wyal and Mrs. D. E. Selzer.

In explaining the concept of personality, Professor Mayskin said that it was "a complex phenomenon and one can only outline a few modes of procedure to arrive at a comprehension of such a difficult subject. Instead of talking about the subject, try to arrive at it by a kind of reasoning deductively, which shall begin inductively. It is a deductive procedure, a process of setting up a formula and applying it to life, but to examine the phenomena of life and derive working principles. The factors of heredity and environment in association make for personality," he stated.

"It is best not to consider a synonymy of the word, but its context."

"Individual personality is born up through the experience obtained in auditory, visionary, and tactile kinesthetic qualities as attained through reading," the speaker asserted. "It is only through the actual experience of life, through reading, that we may gain personality. For later in life, while the first is the dominant basis.

The meaning of personality is always subjective and is also the effect which the other person has on you and not what was him. Quiet activities, such as help you judge personality. Glacial secretions, tears, perspiration, are outward signs as to what is going on within a person. There is no other way in which we can get out what the other person experiences. Personality is not a static, while the first is the dominant basis.

"Many of us have a picture of personality that is positively unreal," the speaker declared. "It is why we have classes in public speaking, gesturing, etc. Many of us think we can copy the personality of someone. We don't realize that only through moving muscles through the action of secretions glands can we know what anyone. Personality doesn't belong to the individual, and surely not the medium between individuals. That is, the air we breathe."

"You hear a speaker; it is not that you read the speech. It is not that. The quality of the music of the speaker's action has a forth a response from you, not the words themselves," declared Professor Mayskin.

A peculiar element of each speech is that a kind of patting in the muscle movements of the glandular secretions. This movement represents the dynamic set over against the static. The of Troy is still with us. Great personalities live on. Personality is not a function of the individual nor of the medium, nor of the distance, but somehow is in it.

"The environment presents that take care of the individual have something to do with personality, but not everything. It is energy that goes out from within through the exterior."

Professor Mayskin's comments were the greatest personality secret out that which is best for him. He feels that if he fulfills his great deep desires, he will do the best for everyone. The hard edge of need, the deep desire to serve, characterizes the great personality."
