Can there be any stronger recommendation for a car than this

NRA CHEVROLET America can't be fooled when it comes to spotting the best "buy" in any field. America knows too much about motor cars for that. So when one certain car rises almost as many buyers as the next two put together, you know the answer: IT MUST BE BETTER. And that's what the new Chevrolet Six most certainly is.

Better looking—it has long, sleek, aer-streamed lines—Fisher's smartest styling. Chevrolet has better bodies—they're built not just of steel alone, but of steel reinforced by a sturdy hardwood frame. Chevrolet has a better engine—six cylinders for lowest gas and oil consumption, cushion balancing for killing vibration. And Chevrolet gives better value—a long line-up of features, including the Starterator, Syncro-Mesh gear-shift, Free Wheeling, which no other low-priced car can match.

Now, in September, is the time to start thinking about a new car for winter! And when you do so, think of the way Chevrolet is leading all other cars in sales. What more could you possibly ask as a recommendation for a car than that?

NEWSPRINT BUSINESS ENDANGERED

Unless an adequate code is adopted for the newsprint manufacturers of the United States in the very near future, the American newsprint business is going to be confronted by the most serious crisis in its history.

American industry has usually been able to compete with foreign manufacturers because of its superior mechanical efficiency. When mechanical efficiency failed, the government usually stepped in with a protective tariff, so that American living standards could be maintained against the product of foreign countries.

But even mechanical efficiency is not enough to insure the American newsprint mills a market for their produce against Canadian and Scandinavian competition.

Canadian newsprint makers are virtually subsidized by their government, and this tremendous advantage enables them to sell newsprint in the United States much cheaper than American labor in European countries.

In endeavoring to get a code that will give them relief from foreign competition, American newsprint manufacturers face the determined opposition of the metropolitan press, which is the largest consumer of newsprint and also one of the most influential industries in the world.

The Manistique Pulp and Paper company, the largest industry in Schoolcraft county, is one of those endangered unless an adequate code is adopted.

Unless such relief is granted, there is a strong possibility that this community will suffer industrially. This newspaper joins with other business places in Manistique in urging local citizens to respond to the appeal of the paper company, and to write or wire at once to this district's representative in the United States Congress and to the National Recovery Administration, urging that every consideration be given to the appeal of the newsprint makers for relief from foreign competition.

THE ANNUAL SLAUGHTER

The Lind, Washington, Leader defines: "Americanism: Doing the daily dozen for health and trying to pass another car on a blind curve in winter."

That is something more than a witicism. The recklessness of driving in this country amounts to a national tragedy. It is a constant menace to the lives of us all. It touches every pocketbook in a dozen different ways.

Passing a curve is one phase. So is disregarding signal lights and warning signs. So is driving at high speeds where conditions call for caution. So is one of the most fundamental and deep-rooted of driving ills—simple discourtesy.

Some time ago an insurance magazine carried a vivid editorial concerning a "Boman holiday" that was to take place. Thirty thousand people, of all ages and classes, were to be gathered in a field. Motor vehicles—private cars and trucks and taxis and buses—would drive in and rear about the field until all its occupants had been killed. The public would look on disinterestedly.

The only difference between that horrid event and the annual automobile accident toll is that we kill the thirty thousand people during 365 days instead of one, and in ten thousand different places instead of the single field. The result is identically the same. And it is going to occur this year and the next and every year after that until the average motorist awakens to his responsibility.

Remember that "Roman holiday." It will be worth thinking about next time you contemplate passing on a curve, or doing any of the scores of things that may lead to death, injury and destruction.

EXPLAINS METHODS OF TAX COMPUTING

Sales Tax Field Representative Is Spending This Week In Manistique

R. B. Dory, of Sault Ste. Marie, field representative of the state board of tax administration for Chippewa, Lake, Mackinac, Schoolcraft and Alger counties, arrived in Manistique Monday and is spending the week here calling on local merchants and checking up on their methods of computing the three per cent Michigan sales tax.

One group includes the tax as a part of the purchase price; the other group collects separately the amount which will represent all or some part of the tax for which they are liable.

As applied to the second group, who collect the tax separately, let us take the following illustration: a merchant makes sales to his customer totaling $10.00; the merchant collects .30 to reimburse himself for the tax—then, you ask whether or not the 30 cents will pay the tax on the $10.00 sales to the State, or whether it must be computed on $10.30. The money which the retailer collects separately, for payment of the tax, is not in fact the tax itself. It represents a part of his total gross receipts; therefore, the tax should be computed at 3% on the $10.30.

That result would be approximately 31 cents, which does, in fact, represent the Sales Tax for which the retailer is liable to the State. There are a certain number of retail merchants in this State who are including the tax in the price of the articles sold and the gross receipts for the month are the total of both the articles and tax on which they pay the 3% Sales Tax. Therefore, there would be no justice in collecting the tax in one manner from one group of merchants and the other group to segregate the tax from the gross receipts and not pay on same.

1932 TAX OFFER ENDS NOVEMBER 1

Delinquent 1932 Taxes May Be Paid Until Then Minus Interest, Penalty

Miss Laura Williams, Schoolcraft county treasurer, again directs attention to the fact that delinquent 1932 taxes may be paid either at her office or direct to the state treasurer until November 1, 1933, without interest or penalty charges.

In pointing out the leniency of the state legislature in granting this extension to the hard-riden property owner who was unable to pay his 1932 taxes last winter, Miss Williams also calls attention to the fact that all 1932 taxes remaining unpaid after November 1 will bear interest at the rate of 3-4 per cent each month from March 1, 1933, plus a 4 per cent collection fee. In other words, if the property owner neglects to pay his 1932 taxes by November 1 of this year, he will have to pay interest from March 1 next, in addition to the penalty.

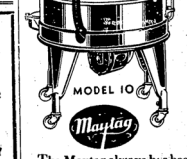

The extension on 1932 taxes was originally granted until July 1, 1933.

Aged Indian Says Big Spring Spirits Will Vent Ire on Whites

The hidden spirits of the Big Spring, angered by Indian cruelties, are venting their ire on the white man, it is believed by an aged Indian who told Mr. Hilaire that the white men did not pronounce or spell the Chipewyan name of the spring correctly. Instead of Kitch-iki-ki-pi, the name should be spelled Ke-Cha-Thu-Ke-Beng and pronounced as if it were spelled Ke-Cha-Ko-Ke-Beng. Mr. Keswick, besides his many years of Indian legends and traditions, had in his possession several important documents, among them being a copy of a treaty between the United States and the centred nations of Chipewyan, Ottawa and Pottawatomes, signed September 26, 1833. The following United States commissioners signed the treaty: George B. Potter, Thomas J. V. Owen and William Wetherford. The treaty related to the purchase of the Northwest territory Indian country by the United States government and contained several important provisions relating to lakes and streams that will make interesting reading.

The documents are yellowed with age and Mr. Keswick keeps them in ancient leather vaillet in a remote part of his house. Mr. Hilaire plans another visit to Mr. Keswick at which time he will carefully read the documents and gather new information on the early history of upper Michigan.

Mrs. J. J. Horbert has returned from Detroit where she accompanied her daughter, Miss Catherine, who continued on to Northampton, Mass. Miss Horbert will again on the waters of the spring.

Mr. Keswick told of that day long ago, when his father and some other Indians paddled a canoe up the stream that drains the bubbling spring. As they drew near the spring, the water swirled and roared, upsetting the canoe and throwing the Indians into the deep. They managed to scramble ashore, the old Indian said, but the never returned to the waters of the spring.

Mr. Hilaire, seeking additional information on the Big Spring, inquired of Wilson Sunday to inquire of the national motto: "We Do Our Part." This will be the NRA code for our church. Special music.

Mr. Keswick, who has been well-informed, knew much of the early history of the famous spring and told the story of George B. Potter, spring once bubbled over like a geyser.

He found Mr. Keswick an old man, with the snow and wrinkles of many winters on his brow. But as he talked in broken English about the Big Spring, his eyes lit up and he shook his hand, as he predicted the tragedy that the spirits of the spring would some day vent on the molesting white man. Part of his answers were interpreted by his son, who is educated and speaks fluent English.

GRANGE GIVING BOOSTER NIGHT

(By Hawathwa Correspondent)
 Saturday night, September 30, the Hawathwa Grange is giving a request of the National Grange by staging a big booster night.
 A great number of persons have come back to the farm since the advent of depression, and the grange is an organization to aid both old and new members. Hawathwa Grange was organized 21 years ago and has managed to keep going, even though it has had many members. Now it is joining in the booster movement, and is giving all the old members, the present members and those who would like to become members.

Those who lack money to pay initiation fees are advised to communicate with the secretary, Mrs. Mona Aldrich, and arrangements will be made to accept chickens or other produce in lieu of cash.
 A pot luck supper will be served, it is announced, with the grange furnishing the chickens, coffee, etc. A good program of entertainment is promised, with music, speaking and a one-act play, and Norman Mandin's orchestra will be present to provide music for an old time dance after the entertainment.

All who are interested in the grange are invited to attend and take part in the first booster night attempted by the Hawathwa grange.

save Burns from destruction, adding that he received a medal for his war-time bravery, but said he would probably get "a striped suit" for saving Burns.

In the examinations last May, Isaac had stated that Burns was the leader of a gang which had threatened to put him on the spot if at any time he failed to comply with Burns' orders. Monday afternoon he told the jury that Burns was the only friend he had in the world. His only business connection with Burns, he stated, was through the latter's services as a notary public. He told of an instance in which gangsters threatened to obtain entrance into Burns' office to procure either the money or the motor.

Directing his statements to the jury, Isaac declared that it was only to save Burns from the gangsters that he incriminated Burns in his confession to Lieutenant Hoffman, chief of the Detroit police investigation bureau upon his arrest in Detroit. The confession, which was later read to the jury proceeding, corroborated substantially the statements made by Isaac at the examinations.

Isaac testified that he could see that Lieutenant Hoffman knew that he was not telling the truth at that time and that he (Isaac) thought that the gangster story would be more credible in Manistique.

The witness complained that he had had no opportunity of telling the truth since his arrest and that he had told the prosecutor that he had never intended "beating these people" (Isaac referring to those who invested in stock) thought that the gangster story would be more credible in Manistique.

John Carlson, one of the complainants in the case pending against Isaac, came to his place of residence, after Burns had told Carlson that there was nothing to the invention, and told him that he had lined up several more sure prospects for stock in the motor.

Carlson, at that time, said Isaac was the only investor in Schoolcraft county, having put $100 into the venture. When Isaac said he saw Carlson coming, he thought Isaac was going to demand the return of his money and thought that Carlson was "crazy" when he told him that last Thursday night he said Carlson had promoted entirely without his aid.

Isaac also elaborated on his romance with a girl whose name he gave as Vera Harkness, of Engadine, whom he first met on the road between Engadine and Sault Ste. Marie.

Isaac testified that Vera, who passed away last February, came to him as a dream in which she told him that she had been thinking of him through this thing. He declared since July he had seen Vera upon many occasions, that last Thursday night prior to being taken to Newberry for examination, she had appeared to him and told him that this was the time for him to tell the truth.

He stated that Dr. E. H. Campbell was the first to hear the story. Through guidance of Vera in spiritual form, he stated, he had perfected the motor after being stumped for about a year trying to get proper lubrication into the pistons.

"I still have the motor and still have the money," Isaac declared, saying that the motor was in other hands, being protected and that, if given, would be turned over to the investors. He maintained that his intentions were not to swindle them.

Isaac, who was the only witness to the stand, talked continuously for the first two hours of his 3 1/2 hour stay with only occasional interruption from attorneys. Attorney Francis T. McDonald cross-examined Isaac during the last 45 minutes, and Isaac's confession, made in Detroit after his arrest last April, to the jury.

An unannounced courtroom Wednesday heard expert medical testimony from Drs. Moloney and LaBine who declared that Isaac was suffering from a distinct mental disease and would be classified as insane.

Isaac realized that Burns was too powerful for him to overcome, and he changed his story to line up with him in fully the statements made by Isaac at the examinations.

BOWLING SEASON OPENS THIS WEEK

Brault's bowling alleys, owned and operated by E. O. Brault and son, are slated to open for the winter bowling season Thursday evening, September 26, it was announced yesterday by Mr. Brault.

Freshly cleaned and shelleaked, the alleys are in excellent condition, and a successful bowling season is anticipated, if plans under consideration by the management can be carried out.

The organization of a six-team bowling league this season, instead of the four-team league which played last year, is contemplated by Mr. Brault, who extends an invitation to lodges, organizations and business establishments to enter teams in the league. A six-team league, it is hoped, will make competition more keen and create greater interest in bowling. An unannounced method of raising a jack-pot, to be given to the winning team in the league, is planned.

Another change contemplated this year is the opening of the alleys for afternoon bowling, from 7 o'clock, at the reduced rate of 10 cents a line. Afternoon bowling last year cost 15 cents a line, which is the regular price for evening playing.

ESCANABAS WINNER OVER LOCAL SQUAD

Manistique Loses, 19 To 6. To Nordmen In Football Game Saturday

Local Players Unable To Gain Headway Against Stronger Opponents

The Manistique high school football eleven lost its second game of the season last Saturday afternoon in Escanaba, the Escanaba gridiron obtaining a 19 to 6 victory. The story of the game, as written by the Escanaba reporter of the Escanaba Press, follows:

Displaying a spirited driving attack and a stellar defense, Coach Nordberg's Escanaba high school football team yesterday opened the 1933 season at the Escanaba athletic field with a 19 to 0 victory over the Manistique high school eleven.

From the first few minutes of the game it was apparent who the ultimate winner would be. The Eskymos scored their first touchdown before the two-minute mark of the game had elapsed and they followed that up with another touchdown before the 10-minute mark had ended. Their third and final touchdown came in the third period.

Winning captain, Eskymo captain, and Olmsted bearing the burden of the ball carrying to the Orange and Black eleven, Escanaba started an offensive march from their own 35 yard line in the first period and ripped and battered the Manistique defense for lengthy gains. The march culminated when Olmsted broke through for a touchdown with the extra point was blocked.

Loss Scoring Chances Escanaba kicked the Manistique after the touchdown and the Escanaba line held. Rubick's kick was blocked on Manistique 37 yard line. Escanaba recovered on the 28-yard marker. Finman and Olmsted dashed off tackle for runs of 10 and 12 yards and Finman cracked through the remaining five yards to score the second touchdown. His place-kick for the extra point was blocked.

On the third kickoff of the game, Finman's kick was deflected off the Escanaba line and Escanaba recovered on the Manistique 38 yard stripe. They advanced to the 27 yard line as the period ended.

As the second quarter started Finman passed to Olmsted for 11 yards. The Escanaba ball toted across the goal line but he touched the sidelines on his flight, and the score was disallowed. Five minutes later a 15 yard clipping penalty for Escanaba cost them a scoring opportunity.

On the second kickoff down after Manistique gained possession, Escanaba blocked Rubick's punt and recovered on the five-yard line but Escanaba lost this opportunity because of an offside penalty.

Escanaba was in the shadow of the Manistique goal twice in the third period before they finally succeeded in pushing the oval across.

The score finally came after Manistique was punning on the door of the Manistique goal, once rushing the ball to 5 and one half yards from the goal where they missed a first down by a foot. An intercepted pass towards the end of the game gave them the ball in enemy territory again and they lugged it to the 20 yard stripe as the game ended the game.

The Eskymos gained a total of 181 yards from scrimmage by rushing to only 27 for Manistique and made nine first downs by passes, Escanaba completing only two. Before, Judish, Stambaugh completed three for a total of only five yards out of 11 attempts and
