Poyhonen, identified by his last initials, his watch, some keys and the peculiar type of soles on his shoes, the only part of his wearing apparel left, were the bones scattered, apparently by animals.

Director Dechrau 'Too Much' In Local Court

Sheahan, prosecuting attorney, and W. G. Stephens, justice of the peace, yesterday gave statements to the Pioneer-Tribune in which they deny the allegations of non-cooperation and intimate that Hogarth is "insincere and just playing politics."

SKELETON OF POYHONEN IS FOUND SUNDAY

The article in the lower Michigan newspaper, which is self-explanatory, follows: "Manistique has been 'blacklisted' by the state conservation department as a place to prosecute fish or game violators. Hereafter, until the courts and prosecuting attorney in Manistique show a change in attitude, violators will be prosecuted in some section of Schoolcraft county outside of Manistique, Director Dechrau announced. George R. Hogarth announced this week: "In view of the lack of co-operation on the part of local enforcing agencies and because of our inability to enforce the law and reduce violations to a minimum, I have instructed my field men to take all game and fish cases to enforcing agencies in Schoolcraft county sympathetic with the department's work," read a statement issued by Hogarth.

Director's Action Is The Outgrowth Of A Case Of Alleged Fish Poaching

Promptly Fired

At that time Cutler was employed at the conservation department's rating station on the Fox river. As soon as word of his arrest reached A. B. Cook, superintendent of hatcheries, Cook ordered Cutler dismissed from the department's service.

 "Out All Night" - Saturday
 "I built a new nest, and you make a joint out of it!"
 Strong words, but never before applied in so innocent and humorous situation as Slim Summerville and ZaSu Pitts find themselves in "Out All Night," their latest United comedy riot coming to the Gero Theater Saturday.
 It seems that two hapless lovers in the persons of Slim and ZaSu had wandered into a "sample" bed-room designated as "The Love Nest" in a department store at about midnight time, and were unsuspectingly locked in by the night watchman. They had to stay all night. They were almost driven next morning by the flabbergasted department store manager and Slim's dotting manager, calmly asleep. ZaSu, ever keeping her hat on, had slept on the bed and Slim had sought repose on the floor. And so, to save his reputation, Slim's mother tearfully decided that he had to marry the girl!
 This is only one of the hilarious situations in "Out All Night." The picture is a swift succession of amusing predicaments, following the couple through their short but devastating courtship and their subsequent marriage with always too much mother-in-law.
 Important roles in support of Summerville and Miss Pitts are played by Shirley Grey, Laura Hope Crews, Alexander Carr and Rollo Lloyd, and the picture was directed by Sam Taylor from a story by Tim Whelan, and William Anthony McGuire.
 Kay Francis Enacts Role of Opera Star in "I Loved a Woman" - Sunday-Monday
 Kay Francis, who supports Edward G. Robinson in the First National picture, "I Loved a Woman," which comes to the Gero Theatre on Sunday-Monday next, delineates an amazing woman who wins world fame through love and ruthlessness. It is her most powerful dramatic role.
 In her strange code of ethics she who has start on the operatic stage by throwing herself into the arms of a wealthy meat baron. But she is not content with one love and fits from lover to lover, as her fancy dictates or her ambition prompts her affairs ranging from young students to old sovereigns.
 She is able through a magnetic personality to inspire those with whom she comes in contact to almost superhuman deeds and it is she who is responsible for the changing of a dilettante youth into a ruthless business man who comes near conquering the world before the gigantic structure he has built topples over and crushes him.
 In addition to its powerful love theme the story treats in dramatic fashion with the frenzied finance employed in the growth of the packing industry to the greatest in the world. It is colorfully depicted in the novel by David Karnser, author of "Silver Dollars" in a story titled "Red Meat" from which the screen play was written by Charles Kenyon and Sidney Sutherland.
 There is a notable cast which includes beside the two stars, Genevieve Tobin, J. Farrell MacDonald, Henry Kolker, Robert Barr, George Blackwood, Murray Kinell, Robert McWade, Walter and Henry O'Neill, Alfred Green directed.

Harry Frost of Ironwood, representative of the Minnesota Wooden Mills, was a caller in our neighborhood the past week. While here he mentioned Kenneth Cutler as district manager to solicit August factory sales in automobiles were 236,000, as against only 90,000 last year.
 What consumption, between 175 in ray rolls from 650 mills, as a result of operations under a temporary road.
 The National Knitwear Association showed an increase of 20% in employment and 175 in ray rolls from 650 mills, as a result of operations under a temporary road.

But she is not content with one love and fits from lover to lover, as her fancy dictates or her ambition prompts her affairs ranging from young students to old sovereigns.
 She is able through a magnetic personality to inspire those with whom she comes in contact to almost superhuman deeds and it is she who is responsible for the changing of a dilettante youth into a ruthless business man who comes near conquering the world before the gigantic structure he has built topples over and crushes him.
 In addition to its powerful love theme the story treats in dramatic fashion with the frenzied finance employed in the growth of the packing industry to the greatest in the world. It is colorfully depicted in the novel by David Karnser, author of "Silver Dollars" in a story titled "Red Meat" from which the screen play was written by Charles Kenyon and Sidney Sutherland.
 There is a notable cast which includes beside the two stars, Genevieve Tobin, J. Farrell MacDonald, Henry Kolker, Robert Barr, George Blackwood, Murray Kinell, Robert McWade, Walter and Henry O'Neill, Alfred Green directed.

What FLAVOR
 PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT urges: "Buy Now"
 —and help put the country back on its feet!
 We heartily endorse his program, and we'll do our part to make his plea successful.

WHAT A SIMPLE WAY TO PROVIDE JOBS
 LOOK at these figures, Mrs. Housewife. They are startling! Only two more slices of bread every day for every member of your family and before twelve months 74,000,000 extra bushels of wheat will be consumed. Only two more slices of bread every day and the farmer will have many extra millions of dollars to buy the products of our city workshops.
 Just by eating a little more of nature's most economical food you start the flow of money to the baker, to the farmer and back to the city—where father, brother, husband or son have been tramping the streets for work in vain—because the farmer couldn't buy.
 Let's increase the consumption of the farmer's products. Let's revive his purchasing power. Let's give the city factories' biggest customer and needs the articles your men folks make. When you help the farmer you help yourself. And when you buy the bakery products you join in a movement that will multiply jobs in every city, town and village in our land.
 Give your children two extra slices of bread between meals every day. Their growing active bodies need this added nourishment—nature's balanced food. And soon thousands of women of our cities will be joyfully filling father's dinner pail because he is again on the payroll.

TAKING THE LAST TRENCH..

THE BATTLE against Depression, waged with unceasing vigor since last March, now enters the climaxing phase as a mighty nation, 120,000,000 strong, marshals its energies for the final thrust under President Roosevelt's "Buy Now" banners.

Step by step the enemy that has left thousands jobless and hungry is being forced back. Under the masterful guidance of the nation's chief executive, the ranks of the unemployed are thinning, payrolls are fattening, the buying and selling of goods is increasing.

As a corollary to the National Recovery Act, President Roosevelt has voiced a plea to "Buy Now," urging citizens to purchase long needed articles to the limit of their financial ability. This nation-wide march to the retail merchants will be reflected all along the line from the merchant to the wholesaler, from the wholesaler to the manufacturer, from the manufacturer to the producers of raw materials, and finally back to the consumer in increased employment and enlarged pay envelopes.

We join in pledging our fullest cooperation to the "Buy Now" campaign, and urge the people, from a spirit of patriotism, to do all within their ability to make the President's program a success.

"To do this we must make the following intensive study: drainage, water, soil, conditions of stream, condition of stream bottom, and the physical condition of the water. The flowing speed of the water was stepped up about 600 per cent was stepped away shifting bottom sand, a gravel bottom was created, and several reproduction beds were made, he said, in pointing out phases of the work accomplished. He concluded his most interesting address by stressing the importance of forest fire control and lavishly praising the scenic attractions of the upper peninsula.

Consumers, Producers Must Understand Each Other, Agent Declares

Consumers are asking many questions about increasing food prices. "Why are they going up?" "Are these increases reasonable?" "Who is getting the extra dollars?" To provide consumers with answers to these questions the Consumers' Council of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, a bi-weekly bulletin, entitled, "Consumers' Guide," it was stated this county farm agent. A copy of this bulletin is being sent to your office in order that he may be in a position to show changes in the prices of the various articles used in the home from month to month. Various factors are causing food prices to go up. The depreciation of the dollar in the exchange market, the depreciation of the dollar in foreign trade. Anticipated increases in consumer incomes has increased the demand on the part of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration has strengthened some prices by control of production, processing taxes, and elimination of price cutting—all designed to build up the purchasing power of the farmer. Under the N. R. A. higher wages may add to prices. Your government in Washington is doing everything it can to protect you against unreasonable price advances. You can protect yourselves by watching your local prices, and checking them against the average prices reported every two weeks in this bulletin. Obviously we cannot report on each city or town throughout the country. What we are trying to do is to give a fair picture of price movements.

Protection against unfair prices is first of all a community responsibility. Many communities have already organized their own and have organized Consumers' Councils to represent the consumers' view on questions of fair prices, fair trade practices, economic and wise spending.

Food costs are influenced greatly by wise selection. The Bureau of Home Economics of the Department of Agriculture is ready to give you expert reports on selecting and preparing foods.

Standards of quality are also essential in wise spending. They are a protection both to producers and consumers. If you want foods of U. S. quality, get the products that provide them for you. Watch the labels on your foods, too.

Much of the costliness of foods comes from expensive services.

...the farmers purchasing power remained under its pre-war level. In 1929, it began dropping, and by 1933, it had reached its lowest level. In 1933, it touched its lowest level. In that month the farmers' dollar was worth only 59 cents, compared with its value from 1910 to 1914. Then the climb uphill started. Two things are important to the farmer in this struggle for a bigger dollar. One, the money he gets for his crops. Two, the money he must pay for what he buys. If his dollar is to reach the top of the hill, No. One must increase faster than No. Two.

By July of this year, it had climbed up to 71. Next month it slipped back again, to 61. On September 15 it was still at this point. The more money in the dollar to the farmer, the faster can his dollar mount, provided he does not forget to pay out too much for the commodities he buys.

When consumers pay more for what the farmer grows, and these extra dollars go to him, they are helping to lift the farmer out of the deep valley of depression into which he had fallen. Prosperous farmers mean a prosperous country.

Subsequent changes in prices throughout the country will be published from time to time during the fall and winter months.

OUTLINE OF 1933 ACCOMPLISHMENTS

The last year we have had one from a financial point of view, but now that we can look back on it, we find some satisfaction. Through the hearty support of our superiors, the time and aid of the Finance Committee working with the County Road Commission, we have been able to meet all county road needs, welfare bills, and other county expenses during a very trying period.

BUDGET-1934

Table showing the budget for 1934, including estimated receipts and expenditures.

POLICY FOR 1934

During 1933, funds were not available for any definite work on the several roads, but 1934 should be somewhat better. The money due the county on the $6,000.00 release, $5,000.00 has been paid and can be used for any purpose desired by the Board; the other $1,000.00 should be placed in the account for the bond on April 15, 1934, for this may be used to provide for this item.

It was moved by A. J. Cavin supported by George W. Gray that the Board of Supervisors be authorized to accept the program for 1933 and 1934.

Mr. Chairman and Members of the Board of Supervisors: I am deeply appreciative of the opportunity of presenting a full report of the activities of the Board during the past twelve months. In view of the low prices being paid for potatoes last fall and the fact that Schoolcraft County had a number of carloads of fine potatoes, it was deemed best to determine the best method of marketing them. As a result of this, several meetings were held with the Michigan Potato Growers Association for the marketing of White Kernels, with the Lake Superior Growers Association for the marketing of Red and White Kernels, and with the Michigan Potato Growers Association for the marketing of White Kernels.

The potato marketing program of the past winter has had a substantial increase in the number of growers using certified treatment with corrosive sublimate has been tried; as has been the use of a high pressure sprayer to apply Bordeaux on fields for the purpose of preventing late blight. The result of this work showed that the standardization of varieties, soil grading, and good planting practices, were the three most important factors in securing a high yield of potatoes. It was found that the organization to supply growers throughout the Upper Peninsula with various grades of seed potatoes, namely Perfect Maine, Red variety was placed with 44 farmers in the county or a total of 140 acres planted, as well as with a goodly number of growers in the Michigan Potato Growers Association.

Calculum Arsenate given in exchange for labor, 62 pounds @ 90¢ = $55.80
660 Pounds White Arsenic @ 1.00 = 660.00
400 Pounds Calcium Sulfate @ 1.00 = 400.00
10 Gallons Epsom Salt @ 1.00 = 10.00
Total = $1,625.80

AGRICULTURAL FINANCING

In the spring of this year, 33 seed loans were made in the amount of $3,750.00. This activity was carried on in cooperation with the Board of Supervisors, all members of the above organization without pay. This activity was followed by cooperating with the Michigan Agricultural Credit Corporation in making loans to farmers. The Michigan Agricultural Credit Corporation has had for its purpose the credit of taking over distressed mortgages on stock and machinery in the county and at present being held by the Michigan Agricultural Credit Corporation. This activity has been a success in that it has helped many farmers to get their farms back on their feet. It is hoped that this activity will be continued in the future through organizations known as the Michigan Agricultural Credit Corporation.

Unfavorable growing conditions have been this past season. The State Department of Agriculture has qualified for the State Department of Agriculture. Only two growers qualify for the 1933 State Department of Agriculture. The three new growers qualify for the 1934 State Department of Agriculture.

It was justly to be proud in the fact that Schoolcraft County was first place on our county exhibit at the 1932 show and was second place in premiums of any county organization at the 1933 show. It is a privilege to be in the 92 potato show as in the best seed sample. His exhibit was entered in the class of Laning and received high honors. Our two exhibitors were... Continued on Page Nine

Surveys Supply Proof That Now Is Time to Buy

Washington. — Reports scattered by numerous widely scattered newspapers, and all of the national advertising agencies, abundant confirmation accumulated by State and local advisors, and the NRA is the time to buy campaign now in progress. This view reflected in an astonishing degree by a flood of letters and telegrams from merchants and manufacturers to NRA headquarters.

Thousands of local and national advertisers in staple lines are being contacted by National Recovery Administrator Hugh S. Johnson of their determination to cooperate in the people's "good goods, fairly priced," in response to his suggestion.

These communications reveal new and improved products to be offered to the public and all pledge the maintenance of fair prices. The president of a great retail drug organization writes: "We are writing out at once your suggestion to submit up-to-date, really priced merchandise and thereby preclude any further expense over anything we have spent in three years."

The treasurer of one of the largest textile concerns said: "We increased production 25 per cent and pay rolls 31 per cent. For the past 2 months production has increased with pay rolls 42 per cent and pay rolls 112 per cent. We are assuredly on the upturn, and with fair treatment the people will buy."

In a detailed report, one of the largest cigar manufacturers announced that from August, 1932, to October, 1933, his employees increased 31 per cent, pay rolls increased 58 per cent, and "average weekly sales of our most actively pushed brands of cigars increased 61 per cent."

"The housewives of the country are the purchasing agency who spent 85 per cent of the family income," said General Johnson in a public statement. "They are not only to save money, which is vitally important, but also they have decided that every dollar spent

It was moved by A. J. Cavin supported by Edward Fitzgerald that the Board of Schoolcraft spread a 2 mill tax upon the rolls of the different townships and city for County Debt Service, nearred prior to December 31, 1933. Carried by unanimous vote.

A communication was received from George Fowler in regard to the State of Michigan. It was moved by Harry Erikson supported by A. J. Cavin, that Mr. Fowler pay the $1,000.00 in the following: $500.00 by October 30th, 1933; $500.00 by November 30th, 1933, and $1,000.00 on or before December 20, 1933, making a total of $1,000.00 amount due under his contract. Hogarth "Blacklists" Manistique For Trial of Conservation Cases stipulation that ever emanated from the lips of a state official. The local court records prove it. According to the Attorney General's Department there have been twenty-two prosecutions for game violations in Alcona, Chequamegon, and Lake counties for the six months period ending June 30, 1933. In Schoolcraft county there have been thirty-four charges of game violations since January 1. Jurors in two cases returned a verdict of not guilty. The case was dismissed for lack of evidence and thirty-two persons were convicted. Of the thirty-one persons convicted, 90% were either fined or served jail terms. When ever found in possession, violators were confiscated and in one case an automobile was confiscated. The vast majority of persons arrested were receiving county aid. I have recommended leniency in several cases of first offenders who had large families to support. These men could not pay fines. If these men were put in jail they could not tend to their gardens and obtain fuel for their families. Any man who would not recommend leniency under those conditions, when he assess a heavy fine, is injurious to society but recklessly depraved.

Leniency was recommended in the case of several men found guilty by local juries. These juries were comprised of men of the highest integrity. Men who had the best interest of the county at heart. Mr. Hogarth's sweeping statement is not only untrue, but these men, I do not question their sincerity of purpose. I believe their recommendations best served the cause of justice and conservation.

It appears that Mr. Hogarth's chief lieutenants do not know a case when they see one. Director Hogarth takes exception to the dismissal of an alleged game case against Kenneth Cutler. Cutler, a game warden, was arrested by Julius Thorsen. He was dismissed from the department without a hearing on Thorsen's charges of having in possession four fish ranging from three inches to one-half inch under size. Mr. Hogarth states that this case was thrown out of court without any explanation. The statement is false. Cutler denied the charges. In all there was not sufficient evidence to warrant a conviction. The case was dismissed for that reason.

Hogarth's lieutenants were present when the case was dismissed. The insufficiency of evidence was discussed and no objection was raised by Hogarth's men. This case, as every other case, was disposed of on its merits. In a previous case involving a member of the department of conservation for reasons best known to the Department, Hogarth's men argued with me and with Justice Stephens in an attempt to influence us to dismiss the case. The men in this case was later tried before a jury and convicted. I view Hogarth's blarney as much excess steam and what excess energy he may have would be better directed in cleaning up his own Department.

Mr. Hogarth's statement appeared only in lower peninsula papers. His statements were never conveyed to officials of this county or the papers of this locality. I can only conclude that he is insincere and just playing politics. If Mr. Hogarth has the best interest of conservation at heart, he would have communicated with officials of this county before making such ridiculous statements to a lower peninsula press with the possible hope that they would not reach our ears.

Statement by Justice

The attack made upon the Prosecutor and Justice of Manistique appearing in another column of this issue purporting to be a reprint of an article which appeared recently in the Grand Rapids Press and authorized by Mr. Hogarth, Director of Conservation at Lansing, in my judgment, calls for a reply.

As I recall meeting with Mr. Hogarth in his own office in Lansing and discussing with him the problems which confront a Justice in trying to meet local conditions in making out punishment to the violator. I was impressed with his liberal attitude and he appeared to fully appreciate the position of the Justice, my contact with him also impressed me that he was a man of real experience like character. And as such if he had anything to say to a man he would meet him squarely in the open.

When my attention was called to the clipping from the Grand Rapids Press it was hard indeed to reconcile as coming from the Mr. Hogarth that I met in Lansing. I believed his spirit of fairness was such that if he had any criticism to make with either the Prosecutor or Justice of Manistique, he would meet them face to face and if he deemed it necessary to publish anything in the newspaper, he would do so in a local newspaper, but seeing he has chosen other methods of shooting, I feel compelled to reply through the same medium.

In spite of the criticism of the Prosecutor and myself (two of which cannot be verified) I still claim to be interested in conservation but at the same time I am frank to say that I regard human needs as transcending any conservation law. Fully ninety percent of the violators brought before me are either indigents or recipients of welfare aid which means there is only one form of punishment to be meted out, and that is county jail.

It is with considerable reluctance that I mention the following: Knowing as I do, that there are unpaid Board Bills to our sheriff for prisoners that are over six months past due and each time they appear in the newspaper that a violator has been committed to jail for any length of time, one hears from the taxpayer and it is not justified? (food for thought: would both Mr. Hogarth and our Legislature.)

With regard to the threat made that hereafter all violators would be instructed to take violators before some other Justice, we have no alternative but to acquiesce. For your information it was but yesterday one of the Wardens brought two violators from Searcy whom he said were ready to plead guilty; then I ventured the remark, how come you brought them here? He said, "I don't know if they are ready to plead guilty and he informed me that the Justice at Searcy was about to resign. I was used our best judgment in the case and incidentally I may say that the officer and the defendant were both satisfied."

I fear that in some instances the information that reaches the Director here due to the number of transfers of the distance of conveyance that is charge color and I believe a more correct understanding would be arrived at by a more direct contact.

I deny the charge of lack of cooperation with the department and charge it is rather due to the Department's failure to comprehend local conditions. The conservation officer has but one thing to think about, "conservation" but the Justice must be a conservationist, a humanitarian, an economist, a good deal to expect from an ordinary man.

We propose to do our best in interest of Justice by giving due consideration to the peculiar conditions that surround each individual case.

Pork Not Intended Just For Indigent

"There seems to be idea prevalent that the welfare pork recently received is intended only for indigent persons," it was stated yesterday by W. George Gorchs, chairman of the Schoolcraft County Emergency Welfare Relief committee. "This welfare pork is not the truth. The pork is intended to be distributed to anyone who is needy. A needy person is not necessarily an indigent, but one who has received work relief from the county. People who, in their own judgment, are in need of meat, are asked to call and get their portion of the pork. Their names will not be published."
