Board of commissioners meet in routine session

In a meeting which lasted little more than two hours, the Schoolcraft County Board of Commissioners Tuesday voted to transfer $8,227.38 in non-tax county revenues to the county improvement fund as of January 31, 1976. Money in the fund is currently being used toward construction of the new county court house.

In addition to copies of the resolution, a three-part treasurer's report was distributed to the commissioners. Discussion of the report was postponed until next month's meeting, however, when County Treasurer Bill Cowman will be in attendance.

An Airport Committee report by commissioner Bill Tenyson sparked some discussion when he insisted again that there is a need to replace snow-plowing equipment currently in use at the county airport.

At present, Tenyson said the majority of the work is being done by equipment which continuously "breaks down" and would be costly to repair completely. In emergencies, the County Road Commission is paid to clear the runways—a job which, in 1975, cost the county $2,984.34.

A suggestion was made to hire the county to handle all snow removal but, in view of the fact that Tenyson had no comparable cost figures available at that time, the decision was postponed until February.

Mervin White, in reporting a Commission on Aging meeting, informed the board that the state is interviewing candidates for the position of nutritionist to serve the entire Upper Peninsula.

He also brought the commissioners up to date on the problem of Senior Citizen transportation in Delta and Menominee Counties. Buses recalled by the state earlier this month, will now be issued for use by the general public as in the new Dial-a-Ride systems. Senior Citizens, however, will pay half-fare.

In other action, the board: —authorized the building and grounds committee to purchase a 7 1/2 or 8 horsepower riding snowblower for use at the courthouse; and —sent a notice of intent to the Water Resources Commission informing them that the board is doing what it can to bring the county up to their specifications on the enforcement and issuance of Soil Erosion and Sedimentation Control Permits.

School board to reconsider locker searching policy at MHS

Members of the Manistique Area Schools Board of Education will consider rewording a section of the student handbook when they next meet January 27. The decision came Wednesday night when Dick Keticik appeared before the board to question the paragraph concerning school locker inspections.

The paragraph reads, in part: "Lockers are the property and responsibility of the Manistique Area School. LOCKERS CAN BE SEARCHED. The Manistique Area Schools Board of Education reserves the right to search any or all lockers at any time, with or without the student's knowledge and/or presence."

"The way you've got that worded, you can go to one specific locker and do anything you please," said Keticik. "What's wrong with a statement saying that you will make an effort, at least, to contact the student beforehand?"

"We follow State Guideline 8, Search and Seizure and Police in Schools," Superintendent Richard Bonifas argued. "We have the right to search."

Guideline 8 allows locker inspections "when suspicion arises that something of an illegal nature may be secured there,"

He said also that "in cases of clearly defined emergencies and the lack of reliability of the students assigned to a locker, the principal or his designee (s) possess the authority to enter the student, however, should be informed as soon as possible."

"I don't question your right to go to a locker," Keticik countered, "but the handbook leaves it wide open. I think it should be clarified. I don't think I would hold up any place if you came to me and said you found such and such a thing in my son's locker with no one else present. You'd have problems, because I'm not going to believe it. You should have somebody else there."

"The schools are above any private individual," President Harold Cockram stated. "We're dealing with public property. This is a national law, not a state law or a Manistique law. This has been proven in other parts of the country. The courts uphold the school's method of searching lockers."

After several minutes additional discussion, board member Jim Goodreau suggested that they review that portion of the handbook during their next meeting.

"We should take a look at it to see if we are leaving ourselves open to a legal hassle," Denton Nelson added.

The board also tabled a suggestion to purchase two additional school buses and hire a certified mechanic whose primary concern would be preventive maintenance of the entire bus fleet.

"We have more students than we have buses right now," said Goodreau. "Next year we'll need at least two more. Buses are available either in 68 or 78 passenger models. I would recommend the bigger of the two because, in the long run, it would be cheaper. It would hold more students and be more efficient."

"They're also available with gas or diesel engines. The diesel engine is $4,000 more, but I think that's the way to go. Through the years we save in both repair and maintenance."

The Bluebird, 78-passenger bus Goodreau recommended would cost the board an estimated $29,000.

"We also need a certified mechanic," he said. "We have 18 buses now and only one mechanic." Goodreau asked that the board request candidates for the job to be certified in both diesel and gas engine repair, to be familiar with multiple braking systems and transmissions and to be skilled in preventive maintenance procedures.

The heating system at Fairview elementary school was another of the board's major concerns Wednesday night. From a series of prepared statements, Bonifas read, "We had more difficulties during the month of December with our Fairview heating, and it is imperative that the Board authorize us to move either in the direction of unit ventilator system or the central air handling unit system.

"The unit ventilating system is the one we recommend," he added. Such a system is available to the board at a cost of approximately $30,000, plus architectural fees.

A motion by Denton Nelson was passed instructing "the architects to pursue a unit ventilating system for us."

In other action, the board hired Miss Deborah Butryn to teach first grade at Doyle elementary school for the remainder of the 1975-76 school year. She was selected from among 10 candidates, said Bonifas, especially for her ability to conduct a chorus and play piano at the early elementary level.

Miss Butryn graduated with high honors from Northern Michigan University and did her student teaching in Green Bay. "She received excellent recommendations," Bonifas said.

Kathryn Moberg was granted a leave of absence which will become effective February 13 and extend through the remainder of the school year.

The board also: —granted the city permission to construct an ice rink on the Lincoln School tennis court; —paid building and site bills totaling $226,250 and a $200 annual retainer fee to the school experts in law, Thrun, Matsch and Nordberg; —tabled discussion on tuition procedures; and —opened bids for basic school supplies from Northern Stationers in Marquette, Upper Peninsula Office Supply in Marquette, Leslie Paper in Oshkosh, Wisconsin and Valley School Suppliers in Green Bay.

Cockram, Goodreau and Bill Geseman were authorized by the board to review the bids and to submit recommendation.

Inland wins safety award for 10th time in 23 years

Inland Lime and Stone Company was the recipient of an award presented by the Raw Materials Safety Department January 9 at the Ramada Inn. The trophy, awarded annually to one of six Inland operations, was delivered by Safety Director Wes Johnson.

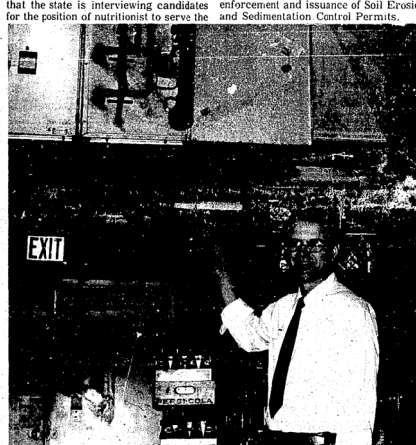

"The award has been going on for 23 years, and we've won it 10 times," said General Manager Fred Cayia. "I think we've had a very good safety record throughout the years, but our goal is to have no time-loss accidents."

The plant here recorded only one such time-loss accident this year, in 471,176 man-hours of operation.

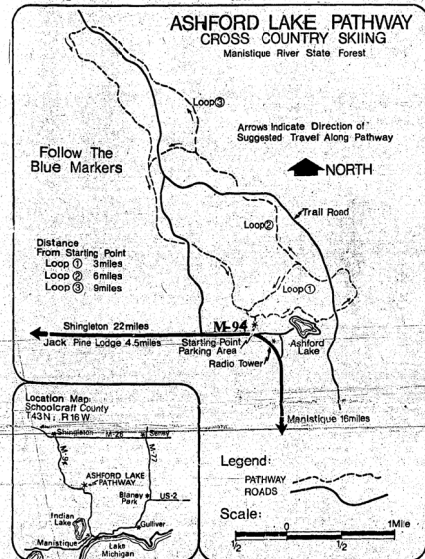

Ernest Johnson, general mill foreman at Inland for the past ten years, was also presented with a gift at last Friday night's dinner. Fellow employees honored Johnson with a chain saw upon his retirement, effective February 1.

Johnson began work at Inland in 1933 as a shuttle operator. In 1954, he was promoted to spare lift foreman and, in 1955, to mill shift foreman. All in all, he has worked 43 years for the company.

Bicentennial committee to hold ethnic dinners

Good cooks and good eaters are needed by the Schoolcraft County Bicentennial Committee. The committee would like to plan a series of dinners featuring ethnic foods as part of the county's overall observance of the Bicentennial.

A general chairperson or co-chairpersons are needed to coordinate the dinners plus people to head the cooking of foods of the different nationalities that will be offered.

"What we're looking for is people with family recipes and favorite dishes that have been handed down from one generation to another," Ed Doyle County Bicentennial Chairman said. "We would then hold a dinner with German food, another with French foods, another with Scandinavian foods, and as many dinners as we could find people interested in cooking and eating the various ethnic foods."

An Italian dinner, Austrian-Hungarian dinner, Irish dinner, English dinner, Oriental dinner, and Native American dinner were others mentioned as possibilities.

Persons interested in working on this project are urged to contact any member of the Bicentennial Committee or its chairman at the Water Tower office.

Rev. Simmons is vice-chairman

Reverend Ralph Simmons, Faith Assembly of God Church, was named vice-chairman of the Manistique Community School Advisory Board during a luncheon held here January 20 in the high school conference room. Simmons replaces Reverend Marvin McCulloch who resigned last month.

Tentative plans are being made for a public debate on current events to be called "Great Decisions 1976."

Date set for American Homemaker here

Gina Grave, well-known Homemakers School Home Economist, visited Manistique on Wednesday, January 21. She met with the staff of Manistique Pioneer Tribune and local merchants in order to make advance plans and preparation for the "American Homemaker '76" Homemakers School to be held on Thursday, February 19 at 7:30 at St. Francis de Sales auditorium.

Manistique Pioneer Tribune is proud that Manistique has been selected as a location for a Homemakers School. These programs have recently been expanded to 200 locations in 37 states. With a doubt, it is the largest homemaker-oriented program in North America.

"This is a program you'll want to attend, so mark the date now and be watching for more details."

Women's Club to host Interlochen Choir on Feb. 2

The sixty member Interlochen Arts Academy choir will present a concert on Monday, February 2 at 8 p.m. in the Manistique High School auditorium. The concert is sponsored by the Manistique Women's Club.

Chairperson Dorothy Hendricks said, "Manistique Women's Club is proud to sponsor a concert by this outstanding choir. The choir will make only one other appearance in the Upper Peninsula. To encourage people to attend the concert, we are not charging admission. We are requesting a fifty cent donation to establish a music-art scholarship fund."

The Interlochen Arts Academy is a sister facility of the world-renowned National Music Camp. The touring program is funded by the State of Michigan Council for the Arts.

Nancy Krusic wins Elks State hoop shoot contest

Nancy Krusic, nine-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Krusic, won first place honors in Elks National Hoop Shoot Contest state competition held January 17 in Alma.

Competing with 5,000 other young people in the states' fifth such contest, Nancy tied with another contestant, sinking 14 of 25 free throws. The first place trophy was awarded her, however, when she scored three of five in a playoff match.

The win qualifies her for March 6 regional competition at Toledo, Ohio. Should she win there, she will travel to New Jersey for the national championships.

Nancy made the trip to Alma with her parents. Transportation, food and lodging were provided by the Elks.

Of her win, she said that her big sisters helped and encouraged her and that she is looking forward to competition in Toledo.

Spear fishing ban may be lifted

The ban of spear fishing on Gulliver Lake may be lifted in time for the coming weekend according to State Representative Charles Varvum.

After receiving about fifty calls from fishermen angry about the Department of Natural Resources ban which took effect January 1, 1, contacted DNR officials. Varvum said "The DNR Commission members who approved the ban will be contacted this week and if they residing in the area to contact lake immediate effect. Fishermen could be spearing on Gulliver Lake this weekend."

Varvum said he learned from DNR officials at the Fisheries division that it is general policy to ban spear fishing on lakes that have been stocked with muskie such as Gulliver Lake.

Varvum said they stocked about thirty muskies on Gulliver Lake. "They then ban spear fishing on these lakes to protect the muskie for summer fishing. I told them fishermen on Gulliver Lake would not have the lake stocked with muskie. After contacting DNR officials in the area, they agreed to go to the commission with my proposal."

"They said they were pretty confident that the commission members would go along with local wishes and rescind their order banning spear fishing. The decision is expected Thursday."

SUPPORT EMERALDS BASKETBALL

Emerald hoopsters down Newberry Indians, 70-52

A week long layoff from basketball competition didn't dull the efforts of the Emerald hoopsters as they decisively defeated the Newberry Indians Tuesday night, 70-52.

Coach Seb Rubick termed the victory the squad's best of the season. "It was our finest team effort and we were really pleased with the way the defense dominated the game," Rubick said.

The Emeralds led throughout the game and outscored Newberry in each quarter with the exception of the third.

Manistique went ahead 19-9 at the end of the first stanza and led 35-21 at the half. Following the intermission Newberry outpointed the Emeralds 15-13, but Manistique bounced back in the fourth quarter to win going away by outscoring Newberry 22-16.

Jay Keteik turned in a strong performance to lead the Emeralds with 23 points. John Nelson added 19 points and John Pistulka tossed in 14 points to complete the Emeralds who reached double figures. Keteik was exceptionally hot in the second half scoring 20 points, he could have scored more points had he not fouled out during the fourth quarter.

John Nelson shot a hot 60 percent from the field with Jay Keteik netting 79 percent of his shots from the charity stripe. Coach Rubick had praise for his teams efforts at working the ball and taking only good shots from the field. He noted that the Emerald defense forced Newberry to take bad shots.

In JV action, Newberry won an easy victory but in the Freshman contest the Emeralds brought home a win for the visiting teams.

Friday night, the Emeralds will face a strong Sault Ste. Marie team at home. The Blue Devils are ranked number 2 in Class A-B in Upper Peninsula and have lost only one time to Newberry.

MANISTIQUE MATMEN MET GWINN in a home match Tuesday night. The Emeralds lost by a score of 41-12 in a lopsided match. Steve Creeden is shown about to pin Croston of Gwin in the 125 pound class.

Emerald matmen competed in two meets last week. In a home match last Thursday, the Emeralds went down to Negaunee 41-12. Coach Paul Capoferri praised the overall improvement of the team.

"Ruck Cook and Dick Messer pinned their opponents, and did well for us," said Capoferri. "We also had good performances from Burris and Creeden. Burris went down in a really close match."

On Saturday the Emeralds competed in a triangular match against Gladstone and Gwin. Manistique wrestlers had close matches in the 112 and 167 pound classes. Coach Capoferri mentioned great improvement in Brian Fountain's performance.

The scores against Gwin showed that the Emeralds did better than at their last meeting. Tufnell, Creeden, and Messer won their matches, and Martin and Fountain lost with close scores.

Precisionettes drill at Armory

Precisionettes all girl drill team is a hard-working group

"Every parade needs a drill team," said Bob Jenks, manager of Manistique's Precisionettes girls drill team. "We were in five parades last year. This year we'll probably be in at least 15—all biennial parades."

Began in 1960 by Vern Vale, the Precisionettes are a group of hardworking girls under firm leadership of Captain Barb McBurney. Practicing for one hour every Wednesday night, they perform drill drills and marching maneuvers taken directly from the Army cadet manual.

"They are the same as Army drills, but the girls look a lot cuter doing it," Jenks commented. "When parade time nears, they concentrate even harder. I had to do it in the service and I thought it was terrible. They go in and love it. We hope for a trophy once-in-awhile, but their only real reward is self-satisfaction."

New girls are accepted into the group each week as members of the five-person color guard. As each improves she is issued a wooden rifle and taken into the drill team itself.

Each is responsible for the cost of her own uniform. Jenks estimated the price of used boots at between three and five dollars. "Most of the girls make their own uniforms for about six dollars."

In addition, the girls must pay their own way on trips taking them out of town.

"We have no sponsors," Jenks said. "Occasionally we hold slave days to raise money for food and gas for the bus. They have to make their own money, but they make their own decisions, too."

Although the girls do make their own decisions as to where they will perform and so on, they must also adhere to a list of rules which Jenks said "makes the Army's look sick."

The rules include no smoking in public while in uniform, no rifles in a public place, expulsion from the group after missing three practices with an excuse and expulsion after missing only one parade.

"Some of the girls are just begging for the discipline," Jenks said. "They like to know what they have to do, without question. That's why it works. As soon as we let up on the discipline, they get dissatisfied."

Jenks has one daughter in the Precisionettes.

County Extension

by Elvin Hepker

LARGE CROWD AT LAND USE MEETING:

A Land Use Meeting conducted by the Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service last Wednesday evening, was well attended. The meeting was held in the New Delta County Services Building in Escanaba.

It was brought out loud and clear by specialists on the program that local participation is really needed. Decisions on how our land is to be used really affects each of us and if local attention isn't given to land use, the decisions will come down from Federal or State Government agencies. There are already a number of land use acts on the books, such as Public Act 116, and more are in the mill.

How do we decide what the appropriate use of a piece of land is? Presently, it is determined by the market place, or in other words, where will it bring in the most money. This is especially true in lower Michigan where our Nations best agriculture land is being sold for housing development.

Basic property rights are changing rapidly with changes in society. If we are to have any voice in those changes, we had better become involved, understand what the issues are and help mold land use policy.

CONTROLLING RINGWORM:

Schoolcraft County Beefherd and Dairyman should be on the alert for ringworm in their herds. A number of herds have the disease in the Upper Peninsula.

Ringworm is caused by a fungus and spreads rapidly if not controlled. Symptoms may include scaly concentric areas around the face, neck and maybe on the back. Animals rub on posts and other objects to scratch the infected area.

One method of control used by Michigan State University herdsmen include painting infected areas with 75 percent iodine and 25 percent mineral oil mixture. I have also heard that a captan compound can also be used.

INSULATION:

Two special meetings will be held Friday, January 23 with Dr. James S. Boyd, Lasing and Farm Structures Specialist, Agriculture Engineering Department, Michigan State University. Both meetings will be held in the Extension Office.

The first meeting, starting at 1:30 p.m. will be titled "You Can Do It." This covers household appliance repairs and general trouble shooting in your home. Included in this session will be numerous electrical repairs and electrical appliance repairs.

The second meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. in the Extension Office. This meeting will cover home repairs and insulation. Special emphasis will be given to preventing mildew, insulation types and values and weatherproofing your home.

Plan to attend and bring along a friend. This meeting is open to the public.

VFW to celebrate 30th Anniversary

Eric Halvorsen, State Commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars will be the main speaker when the local post of the VFW observes its thirtieth birthday on February 14. The charter date would have been October 15, 1946, but the later date was chosen to allow men working out of town to attend. Commander Harold Popour of the local post announces the following schedule of events. Post home opens on noon on February 14 for registration and fellowship. Banquet at the St. Francis Parish Center at 7 p.m. Dance at the post club rooms at 9 p.m.

Committee Chairmen are: Distinguished guests, Howard Larsen, Banquet, George Danko, Tickets, Lionel Mercier, Auxiliary Coordinator, Betty Laporte. Coming with State Commander Halvorsen will be: State Membership Chairman, John Konecki, Bill Huss, VFW Service Officer and James Uecke, fourteenth District Commander, plus many other state and district officers.

On Sunday February 15, the fourteenth District of the VFW will hold a seminar in the local post club rooms with Past State Commander Zigrund Cybulski, in charge of this meeting. It is expected that many members of the nineteen posts in the fourteenth district will arrive for the festivities on Saturday night and remain over for Sunday. This Commander Popour urges all local members planning to attend the birthday party to get their tickets early. A special invitation is extended to all charter members, life members and past post commanders.

Thirty years ago Leonard Walters was chosen as first commander of the local post. Two CCC buildings were secured and set up on the present site on North Maple Avenue. Remodeling began at once and in 1960 a mortgage burning ceremony was held. A few years later a large tract north of the building was bought for expansion purposes or for civic improvements. In 1968 a $15,000 addition was added to the existing building and the same year a perpetual charter was issued to the organization.

The 300 member organization is made up of men who served overseas from World War I through the Vietnam War. The post has always been among the leaders in total membership in the Upper Peninsula with a total of 32 life members at the present time.

Gene Koe will be toastmaster at the banquet at which time all continuous 30 year members will be honored. Betty Popour is chairperson of the lunch committee which will be served by the Ladies Auxiliary at all attending the seminar on Sunday February 15. This event begins at 10 a.m. and is for the purpose of aiding local posts in any problems they may have and to present the policies and aims of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

4-H report

by Chris Keener

4-H CLOTHING STORY - BY APRIL

So far in 4-H I have taken sewing and knitting projects. I have had some disappointments and fun in both. My first years sort of went unnoticed. I don't really recall what happened.

Now my leader was my mother and I was that was one of the reasons I was and was in 4-H. I guess the only other reason was the prestige. I needed something to boost my ego. Luckily for me I soon learned a lesson.

By the time I started to settle down I really worked hard on my projects. I joined sewing and knitting clubs again. I took my time and did a good job on both projects. Both my sewing and knitting projects won blue ribbons. Boy I was really elated about that, so much that I forgot that modeling awards were offered. I just modeled because it was part of the program. As it was, I was picked as one of the two top models. Plus I received a regular modeling award. Because of being a top model, I won a trip to Exploration Days at Michigan State University. My outfit at the fair won white and red ribbons.

The next year I learned a lesson and my model head shrunk. I made a blazer, boysuit, pair of pants and a tie. The boysuit and tie were done fairly well, but the blazer and the pants weren't. I didn't expect and didn't get any ribbons on those projects. As for the knitting, I started a project that was too hard for a second year and I didn't like the looks of it so I never finished it. I guess the biggest disappointment was not winning a modeling award. I suppose I was overconfident and not realizing it brought me back to earth.

I think that if I hadn't had the success of the Upper Peninsula 4-H Camp, I probably would have been a very disillusioned person. But that year made me sit down and reform my thoughts and goals. I realized that doing something to win a pin or ribbon or to show someone else up wasn't the right attitude for a very Christian like me. I realized that I decided to make something because I wanted to win and not to win an award that the satisfaction of knowing that I made it should be enough. Sure I still wanted to win the pins and ribbons, but they weren't the whole purpose anymore. Along with counseling at Upper Peninsula 4-H Camp, I also counseled at 4-H Camp.

The last two years have been great! I have become more active in 4-H than ever and have gotten a wider horizon of projects.

Last year I made a blue shirt jacket with contrasting yoke and cuffs. Panels made out of the same material as the yoke; and a white turtleneck, short sleeved top. For awhile I made a ski-sweater on circular needles with a design on the bottom and a pair of pants. Both sewing and knitting projects won blue ribbons and I won a modeling award. My outfits won two blue ribbons at the fair. I was happy of course, but my head didn't swell as before. I counseled at 4-H Camp again. I was a junior leader in knitting and I think every 4-H'er should work for the day that they too can be one. That is when you really learn. How do you teach a little 10-year-old how to do something you would do without really thinking?

This year I made a pair of pajamas and to go with them, I made a bathrobe. For my knitting project, I made a sweater. As I looked over the garments, I couldn't see how mine could possibly win. But as the judges don't know where I made my mistakes anymore than the rest, both my sewing and knitting got blue ribbons and I got a modeling award also.

For the past four years my sister and I have sung at the local Share-the-Fun in duets and solos. We went to the Districts last year only. Each year though, we have learned something new. Twice I have been a narrator at the Achievement Day and learned how to project my voice and use a microphone. This past year I used to organize the T.E.A.M. Club in my township. We have been learning how to deal in business with young people and adults alike.

I believe that every kid should get a chance to be in 4-H at some time in their life. 4-H with the right attitude can help make a person grow into adulthood. It can also help one decide what he wants to spend his life doing. It did mine!

In recognition of the Bicentennial, the first program of the Garden Peninsula Historical Society in 1976 featured an event from the history of St. Peter's Parish of Fayette. The Church of St. Peter the Fisherman will celebrate its centennial this year. The Blessing of the Fleet at Fayette in past years was presented with slides, movies, newspaper clippings, snapshots and pictures covering events from 1949 through 1964. During the movies the highlights were narrated by Carl and Margaret Friesberg, who provided the movie film. Narrating of the slides was done by Irma Rost and Beatrice Peltier, who also presented them. Many of them were outstanding in their picturesque quality and historical significance. Refreshments were served during a brief

Police report

Joseph Zane, 22, 118 East Elk, and Bethany Stoltz, 23, Gernafsk, were cited by Michigan State Police for violation of the basic speed law following a three-car accident at 7:30 p.m. January 19 on US-2, one mile east of County Road 443. Police say a third car, traveling east on US-2, was making a left-hand turn off the highway, when the Zane vehicle attempted to pass it on the right and the two collided. The Stoltz vehicle then struck Zane's car in the rear.

State Police ticketed Paul Hill, 35, Cooks, for having no registration certificate when the car he was driving ran off US-2 at 9:30 p.m. January 12 and struck a tree.

Hill told police he lost control of the car when trying to light a cigarette. Bryan Landis, 17, Cooks, was issued a ticket for violation of the basic speed law after an accident at 4:15 p.m. January 14 on Depot Road.

Landis told police he was traveling east on Depot Road when he swerved to avoid hitting a dog and lost control of the car. The vehicle skidded off the road and struck a telephone pole. Landis suffered several chipped teeth in the accident and a passenger Bernard Landis, Cooks, was taken to the hospital with several facial cuts.

Elmer Flodin, 40, 320 Chippewa, was taken to the hospital when he was struck by the mirror of a truck driven by Bennie Davis, 47, Manistique.

Flodin was walking on M-94 when the accident occurred. State Police are investigating a breaking and entering which apparently occurred sometime this weekend in Doyle Township. Police say the lock was removed and entry gained to a cabin owned by Claude Cohen of Charlotte for the second time this year. Taken was a wood and coal heating stove.

The breaking and entering was reported by a neighbor at 8 p.m. Monday.

A 1952 Act of the Legislature authorized the building of a bridge between the Upper and Lower Peninsulas. Construction began in 1954.
