

School board settles contracts

Manistique's School Board members met for two hours Tuesday night to discuss revisions in State Aid and the 1975-76 budget.

"I want to call your attention to the fact that we are proceeding with items budgeted that we do feel are essential," said Superintendent Richard Bonifas.

"But adjustments have been made in categories where we could live with it." The board reviewed the revised budget which indicates that expenses have been cut by $25,300. Expenditures are anticipated to be $218 million leaving a budget balance of $53,700 at the end of the fiscal year.

Administrative contracts were ratified by the board with high school principal Marvin Frederickson receiving $19,700, $377 over what was budgeted last year; assistant high school principal Bob Ehl, $14,500, $105 over what was paid last year to the previous assistant; $13,600 to the community school director, Jim McDonough 4000 over last year; $13,300 to the director of services Bill Olesonen. Six over last year; and $13,100 to the building and grounds supervisor Joe Wood, $500 over last year. A total of $56,200 increases was also recommended in the areas of transportation, operation, maintenance, capital outlay and out-of-district transfers.

These areas also suffered decreases, however, as did the areas of health, fixed charges, student body traveling expenses and athletics, for a total of $81,500.

With all of the revisions adopted by the board, Bonifas added that State Aid for the month of February totaled $94,219.50, $100,350 less than that State Aid Devol printout indicated. He also mentioned the possibility that additional reductions in State Aid may come in April.

Although decisions were made, tentative grade adjustments on the elementary level were also discussed. In a second memo outlining the plan Bonifas suggested that Fairview function as a Special Education Center for programs coordinated between the Manistique Area Schools and the Delta Schoolcraft Intermediate District. Eight classrooms to house fifth and sixth grades from the Doyle and Fairview areas.

Flavonville function with grades one through six; Lincoln with grades K through six; Lakeside with grades K through six; that Fairview seventh and eighth grades be assigned to the comprehensive secondary facility along with the Germask seventh and eighth grades; that Germask houses either grades K through six or K through eight; and Doyle house grades K through three or K through four.

Along with those suggestions, High School Principal Marvin Frederickson presented a tentative enrollment form for students entering the seventh and eighth grades.

For the first time this year, junior high school students will be able to choose two electives in addition to their three required courses of study.

For seventh grade students, required courses are English 7, mathematics and social studies. Electives include general shop, band, vocal music, art and physical education.

Eighth grade students will be required to take English 8, mathematics and science. Their electives include general shop, home economics, band, vocal music, art, physical education and history.

In other action the board:

- Elected to have the switchboard telephone system installed at the new school building;
- Paid building and site bills totaling $168,112.01; and
- Approved installing a 6000 gallon fuel oil tank.

A special meeting of the board will be held at noon, February 17.

Council deadline this Tuesday

None has filed for the three city council seats up for re-election this spring. Deadline for filing petitions is this Tuesday, February 17.

Election day is the first Monday in April, and petitions for candidacy must be filed with the city clerk 49 days before the election. Since Monday, February 16 is a legal holiday, the filing date has been moved ahead one day.

City Clerk Pat Erickson said that no matter what, the election will be held. "If there is no-one on the ballot, the winner will be determined on the number of write-in votes, she said. "It isn't unusual for candidates to wait until the last minute and file on the deadline day," she added.

The posts of councilmen MacPhail, Barber, and Cayia will be open for election in the at-large contest this year. Each councilman serves for four years.

A token compensation of $90 per year is offered to the members of the council.

Asked if he would run again this year, Barber said, "I don't know, I'll wait and see who else is running."

"That seems to be a common attitude. Nomination petitions have been circulated on behalf of all three sitting members, but no-one has filed them with the city clerk yet."

Councilman Don MacPhail has said that he will not run again this year. "I have been on the council four years, and have seen a lot accomplished. It's time someone else got the chance."

Fire claims life of MCF patient

A 75-year-old patient at the Medical Care Facility was the victim Saturday of a fire which apparently started when the cigarette lighter he was using ignited and dropped into his lap, city fire officials say.

Marcus Burnis died in Schoelcraft Memorial Hospital at 6:30 p.m. approximately nine and one-half hours after the incident occurred. Assistant Schoolcraft County Medical Examiner Frank Hewitt attributed the death to third degree burns covering 50 percent of the man's body.

Firemen who responded to the 8:55 a.m. call say Burnis was fully dressed in street clothes and sitting in a wheelchair in the day room when the accident happened. Nurses had extinguished the blaze by the time they arrived.

According to the city report, one of the nurses received minor burns to her hand while trying to put out the fire. Minor damage was also done to Burnis' wheelchair and a plastic contour chair located nearby.

According to Medical Care Facility Administrator Dennis Boyd, an in-house investigation is being made to determine whether there was any negligence involved on the part of the employees. The state fire marshal is also expected to make an investigation.

"I don't know how long it was that he was in the day room, a designated smoking area, when the accident happened," Boyd said. "He had been smoking every day. We don't see any of the patients who are not capable of caring for themselves, but he could handle it."

"It was a tragic deal. We are all sorry for him and for his family and I'm not saying there aren't going to be any changes made."

The accident happened right after meal-time when there is always a lot of commotion transporting people back and forth to their rooms, but I want to get all the facts together and find out what happened before I say anything. I don't believe there was any negligence on the part of the staff," Boyd said.

Boyd also mentioned, that he is considering alternatives to the present smoking policy. Those include not allowing anyone to smoke at all, allowing them to smoke only under supervision and issuing cigarettes and matches to the patients one by one at the nurses station.

Final preparations made for U.P. Winter Olympics

Last minute preparations for the February 21 and 22 Community School Winter Olympic games in Ironwood were the main topic of discussion at Monday night's meeting of the Manistique Community School Advisory Board.

A committee made up of Ruth Petrich, Dave Neville and Community School Director Jim McDonough was formed to establish a uniform method of selecting athletes to represent the Germask, Fairview and St. Francis junior high schools.

The board also read and approved a letter outlining disciplinary actions which will be taken against students misbehaving at the games. Penalties for misconduct may be found in the Manistique Area Schools Student Handbook. Punishment will be as follows:

1. The student will be removed immediately from the home of the host family by the Community School Director.
2. The director will then call the parents or guardians of the student, informing them of the incident.
3. The parents or guardians will be expected to make arrangements to provide transportation back to Manistique.
4. If parents or guardians cannot, or refuse to provide the necessary transportation, the students will be turned over to authorities. They will hold the students until the Manistique Area Schools' buses return home on Sunday.
5. The student will then be subject to disciplinary action according to the Manistique Area Schools' Student Handbook for his or her violation.

Copies of a letter containing this information will be sent to each of the parents or guardians of athletes participating in the games.

STANDING GUARD AT CITY HALL is one member of the Army National Guard. The purpose of the civil disturbance fire exercise Saturday was to teach guardsmen how to protect personal property and how to maintain order should the town come under enemy attack.

Council calls special meeting

The Manistique City Council will hold a special meeting Friday night, the Pioneer-Tribune learned late Wednesday afternoon. According to city manager Russ Cattell, the meeting has been called at the request of Councilman Doug Rose.

"One of the items on the agenda will be the council's appointment of Charles Youngblood as project director for Community Block Development Grant. The meeting is open to the public and will be held beginning at 7:30 p.m. in the council chambers at City Hall.

150 expected for safari weekend

Manistique will host the fourth annual Snowmobile Safari this weekend.

Over 150 people from all over the mid-west will come to Manistique to participate in the three day Ride-In. Sledders will check in at the Chamber of Commerce office all day Friday, be assigned to their motels and riding groups, and head for their accommodations.

"We have groups coming from Pennsylvania, Wisconsin, Illinois, Iowa and lower Michigan this year," said Chamber Director Charles Youngblood. "There are fewer than last year," he added, "due to excellent snow conditions all over the mid-west. People don't need to come up north to find good riding conditions."

The Chamber of Commerce and the Manistique Area Chamber of Commerce and the Manistique Area Snowmobile Association are putting the weekend together. The Snowmobile Association will provide medical care for the riders on the trails, pick-up crews for on-the-spot and major repairs and guides for the more than 30 groups of riders. The guides will use CB radios for any emergencies.

The Chamber of Commerce has handled the paperwork involved in registering all the visitors, getting them motel accommodations, and arranging for meals.

Youngblood commented, "This people who come have a great time. This is an excellent service that Manistique can provide."

The snowmobilers will be using the High Rollers Trail, Haywire Trail, and trails in the Hinewatha National Forest.

Friday night the visitors will eat at Arrowhead Inn and Big Springs Inn, Saturday at the Ramada Inn, and Sunday at the Three Mile Super. A second safari will be held the last weekend in February.

Post office closed

The United States Post Office will be closed on Monday, February 16, in observance of Presidents' Day. There will be no city or rural deliveries. Lock boxes will be available and normal collections will be made.

Youngblood named to city post as HUD project director

Chamber of Commerce Executive Director Charles Youngblood has been appointed by the Manistique City Council as program director for the Community Block Grant Development Program.

The decision to appoint the former State Senator from Wayne County was less than unanimous with the council split 3-2 on the appointment. Councilmen Cayia, Barber and Mayor Reque voted in favor of the appointment while councilmen Rose and MacPhail opposed it.

Youngblood will be responsible for an annual program of $226,000 for the next four years under a grant from the Federal Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD). The program provides for the remodeling of substandard housing with grants from HUD. His salary will be the $10-$12,000 range according to council sources, although no definite salary has been set.

Youngblood who now resides in Gulliver was forced to resign his seat in the Michigan State Senate two years ago following his conviction on a bribery conspiracy in a liquor license case in Detroit. The conviction was later overturned when the appeals court found that two other men convicted in the case were unaware of the conspiracy.

"After the council's decision reached after a lengthy discussion in executive session, councilman Rose asked that a prepared statement be read into the record to explain his opposition to the Youngblood appointment. "Whereas Mr. Youngblood has been appointed to serve as director of the Community Development to serve as director of the Community Development Grant, I would like to go on record as being opposed to this appointment for two reasons. 1. Although Mr. Youngblood's conviction for conspiracy to be an official of the State Liquor Control Commission was overturned and upheld by the appeals court, the issue here is still a shadow of doubt of his innocence as given in the opinion by the appeals court in the ruling. And because of that shadow, I don't believe that Mr. Youngblood can serve in this position effectively.

We have on record application from other people that are interested in serving in this position. One of these is Mr. Ernie Pelon, a retired Senior Petty Officer who has served his country without doubt, honorably and with integrity, who is in my opinion capable of serving in this position and is a resident and taxpayer of Manistique."

Councilman MacPhail opposed the appointment because he felt that Pelon was better qualified for the post, he said. Youngblood's reaction to the appointment was mixed. "I'm glad to have the job," he said, "but I start out with that statement of Rose's the day I begin. He is entitled to his opinion, but I think that he let below the belt."

Asked why he has made such a strong statement of opposition to the appointment, Rose said, "That's what I think now. I was disappointed that no recommendations were asked for, and I don't think Youngblood is the best man for the job. I wanted to make my opposition clear on the record."

Mayor Reque stressed that the appointment is, in his opinion, "the best qualifications for the job at this time."

Other applications for the position were made by Mrs. Eileen Males, Grace Pelon and Gene Kee, all of Manistique.

In other business, the city council introduced an ordinance to administer its own building code. City Attorney Mike Brooks told the council that the ordinance allows the city to enforce the state building code by itself.

"The city has already decided that it doesn't want to join the County in the enforcement of the building code, and the ordinance makes local enforcement legal."

City Manager Cattell discussed the need for finding and repairing leaks in the water mains of the city. "We are pumping three times as much water as we use, and it is leaking somewhere," he said. He called the council. "We need to pinpoint the leaks so they can be repaired."

Cattell asked the council for authority to obtain cost estimates for pinpointing the leaks. "Unless we can find out exactly where the leaks are," he said, "we can dig and dig and never find them. There are methods of locating leaks, and we would have to go outside the city for the machinery and expertise to do it."

The council resolved to secure costs of locating the leaks. City crews could then repair them.

Mayor Reque appointed the first members of the first Youth Commission of Manistique. Faber Frank Lenz, Stan Arnold, Jerry Crupis, Bill Carson, Betty LaPointe and Jane Jensen are the appointees to the newly created commission.

Reque also appointed John LaPointe to a vacant seat on the Recreation board.

A mis-undertaking about property belonging to the paper mill near the water tower was cleared up at the meeting. Alexis Meron told the council that the Historical Society has asked the paper mill to lease the land to the Society, to build a log cabin for the bicentennial. The city would have nothing to do with the property at all. Negotiations for the lease are still in progress.

Chamber to wait until summer before naming a director

The board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce accepted the resignation of director Charles Youngblood at a meeting held Tuesday, February 10, at the Ramada Inn. Youngblood has accepted a position as project director of the Community Development Grant Program. In his letter of resignation, Youngblood thanked the members of the board for their co-operation and the opportunity to work with the people of the area. He said that because his new position is full-time, he will be unable to continue his part-time job with the Chamber.

Asked by the Chamber's Board of Directors for recommendations on a new director, Youngblood said that by summer the Chamber will need a full-time director.

"Until then, we haven't got too much going on. In the summer, though, the Chamber should have an active administrator," he added.

The board also voted to abandon a plan to provide rewards for information on burglaries. Bill Hentschell Jr. reported that three quarters of the merchants he called about the project don't want to participate.

Certificates of Merit for community service will be awarded to citizens by the

Public hearing set for February 18

There will be a public hearing on the Schoolcraft County Comprehensive Plan on February 18 at 7 p.m. in the City Council Chambers at City Hall. The plan deals with information concerning Schoolcraft County's economy, education, transportation, land use, soil and other natural resources, population, recreational and other community facilities and housing. The County Planning Commission has examined various alternatives and has arrived at policy recommendations in these areas for the County Board of Commissioners. These policies, after official acceptance, will be used by the County Board of Commissioners as a guide in public investments and land use decisions. The plan also provides policies for the coming revision of the county zoning ordinance.

The public is encouraged to attend this meeting to discuss this plan.

WILLIAM M. CORSON OF WESTERN SPRINGS, ILLINOIS son of Mr. and Mrs. William Corson, former Manistique residents, and grandson of Mrs. Mauritz Carlsson and Mr. and Mrs. William A. ## M of D sets priorities

Concern for the health of a woman, her unborn baby, and newborn, has prompted a new set of priorities in its mission for prevention of birth defects, says the National Foundation-March of Dimes in its annual report released today.

To support the appeal, Americans gave $56,882,574 in 1975, a 4.5 per cent increase over the previous year.

The need to upgrade the priority given by national, state, and local governments to programs of maternal and child health is apparent, reports the voluntary health organization. The knowledge derived from research and medicine must be applied. That means, among other things, making the public aware of existing procedures for reduction of the number of high-risk mothers and infants.

In discussing the concepts and directions of the Foundation, board chairman Harry E. Green comments:

"Although our early emphasis was on the care and treatment of birth defects victims, the passage of time has revealed more potentially fruitful programs: medical management of high-risk pregnancies, genetic services, intensive care of abnormal or sick newborns and the dissemination of health information to high-risk groups.

"We have become increasingly aware of the societal implications in terms of the outcome of pregnancy and reducing infant death or damage. Unless advances in science and medicine are both available and utilized, they cannot have the desired impact."

"Birth defects strike more than 200,000 infants every year. In their severest forms, they can lead to early death or substantially interfere with the normal life of a young person and those close to him.

From a deepening perception of the nature of birth defects, cites the report, has come awareness that some infant deaths and disability are commonly associated with low birthweight. The United States has fallen below 17 other countries in combating infant death, attributable in part to our larger proportion of low-birthweight babies.

In its advocacy of expanded maternal and infant health care, the Foundation has begun a massive attack on maternal malnutrition, especially prevalent in low-income segments of the population and among adolescents.

The virtual epidemic of teen-age pregnancies has become a major factor in infant health. The number of births to mothers under the age of 16 has climbed by 80 per cent from 26,000 to 48,000 annually between 1960 and 1973. Pregnant adolescents have an extremely high incidence of babies who are underweight, sick, and more likely to have birth defects than the offspring of women in their prime period for motherhood (20 to 29 years).

Research and Medical Service Programs

Fundamental to the prevention of birth defects, Mr. Green observes, is continued and expanded support of research, perinatal and genetic services, and rapid dissemination of new knowledge to the health professions.

To accomplish this, the Foundation depends upon contributions from the American public. The results this past year have allowed for stepped-up support of research, medical services, professional and public health education, and community services.

The research commitment rose from $6,193,083 in 1974 to $9,742,860 in 1975, up 57.3 percent.

Allocations for medical services went from $6,741,466 the year before to $8,552,473, a gain of 26.9 per cent. The National Foundation is the major source of support for clinical centers which provide genetic services.

New grant programs were started in 1975. The Foundation awarded $181,761 to four universities for programs that prepare nurse clinicians to work with high-risk mothers and newborns. The schools are the University of Wisconsin, Adelphi University in New York, the University of Colorado, and the University of Mississippi.

In addition, the Foundation allocated grants of $148,000 to support midwifery education programs at Georgetown University, the University of North Carolina, Emory University in Atlanta, and Martin Luther King Jr. General Hospital, and Loma Linda University in California.

To interest gifted medical students in careers of birth defects research, the Foundation this past summer awarded 111 students $1,000 each for three-month projects with senior scientists.

Emeralds score in winning week

I'm sure all your sports fans know what instant replay is from watching sports events on TV. Well, both Emerald victories last weekend were like instant replays of the victory over Munising, as the Emeralds built, up big leads in the first half, only to see them divide away to nothing in the fourth quarter. Only Emerald poise and tenacity when the going got tough enabled them to post narrow victories over Gwin and Big Bay de Noc. Gwin leading in the early stages 4-2, Eric Reque found the range on 2 long jumpers and a driving lay up to stake the Emeralds to an 8-4 lead. By the end of the quarter the Emeralds had spread the margin to 16-0.

Spurred by an aggressive defense and good work on the boards, Munising outscored Gwin 13-2 to take a 28-12 lead midway through the second quarter. But the Model Towners battled back to cut the margin to 32-18 with 2:18 to go in the half, and aided by 2 baskets within the last 10 seconds, moved to within 3 points at the half 39-26.

With the score 41-31 with 2 1/2 minutes gone in the third quarter, John Pistulka led another Emerald eruption of 11-2 to give the Emeralds their biggest lead of the night 52-33 with 2:25 left in the third quarter. But the Model Towners refused to ease and quickly scored 8 straight points to close the gap to 52-41.

By the end of the quarter they had closed to 56-47. After Jenerou sank 2 free throws to start the fourth quarter, Gwin retaliated with 8 more points to shave the lead to 58-55. After Reque's free throw, Carl York hit a basket for Gwin and it was 59-57 with 1:58 yet to play.

After Nelson hit a baseline jumper, Vanderhoff came right back for Gwin. Keteik got that basket right back, but then Carlson went to the line for a pair and it was 63-61 with 4:30 to go.

Manistique's slick senior forward John Nelson can't point and Rick Berger hit a 15 foot jumper to give the Emeralds some breathing room 69-61 with 3:45 to go. But Carlson's free throw and Norman's tip of the missed second free throw cut it to 68-64.

After 2 Reque free throws the score was 71-64. Prober hit a jumper for Gwin, and 4 more free throws made it 71-70 with 1:40 to go. Keteik's driving lay up made it 73-70, but Carl York came back for Gwin to make it 73-72. The Emeralds then went to their 4 corner offense, and Reque was fouled with 31 seconds on the clock.

In a pressure situation, Eric hit only the bottom of the net to make it 75-72. Gwin came right back and Carlson hit a baseline drive to make it 75-74. Berger was then fouled with 12 seconds to go. Again the free throws found only the bottom of the well and it was 77-74.

After a time out with 8 seconds to go, Gwin's cross court pass sailed into the basket. Manistique's out of bounds play produced a lay up for John Nelson, after which Prober hit a 40 footer at the buzzer. John Nelson led a balanced Emerald attack with 18 points. Reque had his 72 highest out put of the year as he and Pistulka had 15. Berger and Jenerou rounded out 5 Emeralds in double figures with 12 and 21 respectively. Keteik with 7 and Don Videtich with 1 finished the Ruddyard scoring.

Prober and York with 17 and 16 led for the Model Towners in double figures. Rick Jenerou led the Emerald rebounds with 12, while Keteik and Nelson each had 10. Berger's 5 assists topped the Emeralds in that department. Over all Manistique outscored Gwin 43-36 and shot 44 percent on 28-63. Gwin connected on 30-75 for 40 percent.

The Emeralds were 23-22 from the charity stripe for 70 percent including 11-12 in the last quarter. Gwin was also hot from the line with 18-22 for 73 percent including 11-14 in the last quarter.

Following the same script against the Big Bay de Noc Black Bears, Manistique jumped out to a 19-2 lead with just over 2 minutes to go in the first quarter. Then Big Bay started their comeback by shaving the lead to 21-18 at the quarter. After baskets by Berger Reque helped open the margin to 25-10. Kevin Miller mauled the Emeralds by hitting 6 of 7 jumpers from longer range to give the marauding Black Bears into contention at half time 33-8.

Both teams battled on even terms in the third quarter which ended with Manistique leading 49-36. Lang and Pelletier drew first blood for the Black Bears in the final stanza to narrow the gap to 43-40. John Nelson's basket spread the margin to 45-40, but then Mark Tatrow's 3 point play cut the gap to 45-43 with 5:00 to go.

Kevin Miller found the range again and the score was knotted 45-45 with 4:06 left. Rick Berger then followed with an Emerald basket to make it 47-45. Miller's free throw then made it 47-46 and despite having the ball several times, the Black Bears could not cash in. Berger's long range jumper made it 49-46 with 2:12 to go. Pistulka's basket on a drive made it 51-46 with 52 seconds to go. Pistulka picked up a foul on the play and Spaulding made one free throw to cut it to 51-47.

Free throws by Pistulka, Reque, and Berger in the final minute made the final count 55-47 in favor of Manistique.

It was another exciting ball game that followed the pattern set by other contests between the schools in the past several years. Kevin Miller led all scorers with 19 points. Tatrow also had double figures for the Black Bears with 15. Lang with 6, Pelletier with 4, and Spaulding with 3 rounded out the Black Bear scoring.

Nelson and Berger led Manistique with 14 and 11 respectively. The rest of the Emeralds showed good balance with Pistulka, Reque, Keteik and Jenerou getting 8, 7, 6, and 6 respectively. The Emeralds outscored the Black Bears 42-32 overall, but Bruce Spaulding led all rebounders with 15 chrome while Tatrow had 8. Keteik, Jenerou and Nelson had 11, 10, and 9 for Manistique.

A cold 2-16 first quarter led to a 17-56 performance for Big Bay for 30 percent. The Emeralds were slightly better at 25-67 for 34 percent. Big Bay's was 13-18 for 72 percent from the line compared to the Emeralds 9-17 for 53 percent. This Friday the Emeralds journeyed to Negaunee to face the Miners, then return and Don Videtich with 1 finished the Ruddyard scoring.

There are plenty of fresh Michigan apples in the marketplace, with prices lower than a year ago, according to Marketing officials of the Michigan Department of Agriculture. Size and quality are excellent for most varieties.

The state's total apple production for 1975 at 720 million pounds is up seven percent from a year earlier. Michigan is third nationally in apple production but first among the states in production of Jonathans, Northern Spys and Wealthies.

Apples are ideal for snacks and lunch boxes but they're for cooking, too. You can make many delicious foods, from appetizers and savory casseroles to fancy salads and mouth-watering desserts. Stretch meatloaf and get a delightful new flavor by adding chopped apples. Preparing chicken stew? Make it something special by tossing chopped apples into the pot during the last half hour of cooking time.

Proposal to protect utility customers announced

State Representative Charles Varnum (R-Manistique) this week announced the release of a "ratepayer's reform proposal," designed to increase ratepayer's representation in utility rate cases.

The proposal was presented by the staff of the special House Committee studying the Public Service Commission. It is the first of a series planned by the committee.

Varnum stated that, though the proposal has not yet been acted upon by the committee, it is the culmination of a long series of hearings conducted over the past six months, in which he has actively participated.

"I have not yet finalized my own position on these recommendations," Varnum said, "but they afford us all the opportunity to look closely into ways to further protect the utility customers of this state at a time when rising utility costs are taking ever larger chunks out of the earnings of our citizens. I would solicit comments on them from any interested constituent."

Other proposals include:

- Testimony in the rate cases should be taken in the utility's own locality, rather than Lansing, when there is public interest.
- The Public Service Commission's staff should make information it has access to available to all parties to a rate proceeding.
- Parties in rate proceedings should be guaranteed access to utility company's books and records, with government agencies provided access even when no actual rate case is in process.
- All counties, cities, townships and villages should be assured an absolute right to participate in rate proceedings on behalf of their residents.

In addition, recommendations are made for changes in procedures to make the participation of local units of government in such cases more effective.

The report will be considered by the committee, of which Representative Varnum is a member, late in February.

FEDERAL TIGHT MONEY POLICIES TO EASE INFLATION HAVE OPPOSITE EFFECT ON NATIONAL BEEF INDUSTRY.

Analysis of beef production and changing monetary and credit conditions since 1952 indicates that tight money policies designed to control inflation may, in fact, contribute to higher beef prices later. As restrictive monetary policy limits demand by reducing the dollars available to consumers, it may also have a similar effect on producers. Producers may be unable or unwilling to increase or continue production, thus limiting supply, raising price and adding a small factor to inflation instead of curbing it.

The feeder calf industry is the key to the relationship between the beef production process and monetary policy. The major source of feeder calves is the national beef cow herd. Thus, if monetary policy and changing credit conditions affect the beef cow herd, it likely affects the supply of lowering their value.

With high interest rates, the beef cow operator can't afford to pay as much for the initial investment as he could with a lower rate - all other things being equal.

Anything that acts to change a farmer's cost of capital may therefore affect his decision to invest in a beef cow.

Policy vs. Credit vs. Farmers' Decisions

Changing interest rates in the economy and the availability of credit affect the beef cow operator's investment decision in at least two ways.

First, interest rate changes affect capital costs. For example, tight money policies that increase interest rates and capital costs discourage investment in cows. Vice versa for easy money policies.

Second, credit availability is crucial. If tight money policies reduce opportunities for obtaining credit, operators who rely on credit for herd expansion may not be able to make the investment.

Farmers' decisions are also important to understanding the effects of monetary policy on beef production. These decisions are basically the same as investment decisions, with two major exceptions. The appropriate changes in analysis would include:

- Increasing direct costs to reflect greater maintenance costs associated with an older cow, and
- Increasing the firm's cost of capital (discount rate) to reflect greater death relationships between investments, returns and costs are fairly obvious, but the relationship between the firm's cost of capital (discount rate) and investment may not be.

As the firm's cost of capital (discount rate) increases, future net returns (returns-costs) must also be discounted.

Grand Island race Feb. 14

The Thirteenth Annual Grand Island Classic Snowmobile Race will be held in Munising on Saturday, February 14. The 47 mile cross country classic part of Munising's annual winter carnival, a three day event sponsored by the Alger Chamber of Commerce.

The Grand Island Classic, open to anyone with a snowmobile, offers an opportunity for non-professional drivers to win prize money as all entry fees are returned to winners.

The Winter Carnival will begin Friday evening with coronation of the Carnival and Bicentennial Queen and a dance.

Saturday's big event is the Grand Island race, but a spaghetti dinner and presentation of cash and trophies to winning drivers is also a Saturday highlight.

An all-day fishing derby sponsored by the Munising Sportsman's Club will also take place Saturday with prizes awarded at the end of the day's fishing.

A log sawing and golf ball driving contest will also be among Saturday's activities.

Sunday will be another race day as snowmobile enthusiasts will be matching machines in head-to-head challenge races over measured distances. Again, anyone who wishes to compete is eligible. There are no snowmobile association membership requirements for this or the Grand Island Classic event.

For non-racers, there will be safaris all three days and a cross country ski outing has been set for Sunday.

For racing forms or additional information contact the Alger County Chamber of Commerce office, (906) 387-2138.

Fayette State Park Manager, James E. Kent has retired after 21 years of dedicated service in his department. Mr. Kent started full time in State Park service in 1959. Coming from Muskegon State Park where he was Assistant Park Manager in December of 1963, he became Park Manager at Fayette. After much research from authentic sources both private and national, Kent started the restoration of the old Fayette townsite, right down to the old horse race track. Many of the ideas were initiated by him and approved by the state officials. The once old ghost town now stands completely restored to its original appearance at the mouth of the natural harbor, where for several years the Annual Blessing of the Fleet took place among the decaying remnants of a past boom town. Mr. and Mrs. Kent have three children, Jim of Flint, Mary of Garden and Kevin who is traveling with them throughout the southern states.

City ice rink to reinforce rules

The Manistique Recreation Department operates the City Ice Skating Rink for the purpose of providing recreational activities for all ages. Certain individuals have jeopardized the safety and enjoyment of skating by their actions and vocabulary. As a result of this, the following procedure will be enacted so that all can enjoy the use of our facility.

Anyone violating the posted Rules and Regulations will be reported by the Rink Attendants to the Recreation Director. The Recreation Director will then contact the parents or guardians of the offender and make them aware of the problem.

The Recreation Director will determine if the offender will be allowed to return to the Recreation Facility. Normally the second offense will mean the revoking of skating privileges, but a serious first offense will also result in the same.

No candidates yet for city council

The February 11 deadline to file for the Manistique city council election is fast approaching and by date no candidates have filed petitions with the city clerk.

Three seats on the council will be open with the terms of councilmen Dan Barber, Fred Casie and Don MacPhail expiring. None of the three have publicly expressed an interest in running for reelection.

If no one emerges in the next five days, or if none of the three candidates decided to run again, voters will face the April 5 city election without candidates.

In that case anyone with a handful of write-in votes could and no doubt would be an undesirable wax in which to select the persons who will guide Manistique in coming years.

There are obviously many who feel that it is unimportant who is elected to city council. We don't agree.

You have only to look at some of the issues and decisions that have faced the council during the past year to see that it is important that we elect good people to that position. While the present council has not always agreed on every issue they have been guided as individuals by a desire to improve the quality of life in our community.

Manistique needs a strong city council. A council that will provide honest and forthright direction for our community. A council that is fair and open minded.

We've been fortunate to have this kind of city council in the past. Some communities have not been so fortunate.

We think it is important that voters have a choice in the April election from a field of qualified candidates.

Letters to The Editor

Letters from readers are welcome. All letters to the editor must be signed, however, names will be withheld if requested. Views given are not necessarily those of The Pioneer Tribune.

To the Editor:

The following letter has been sent to Rick Larson, City Recreation Director and I would like it included in this week's paper.

Dear Mr. Larson:

I have been using the skating rink several times a week now and I feel I must complain to someone regarding the physical and oral abuse a person must take to skate there.

On every occasion I have received one kind of abuse or other, but I refer mainly to last Friday night, January 30.

On the above mentioned night, there were occasions of fist fights, swearing and several youngsters grabbing others and flinging them on the ice.

I complained to the gentleman supervising the rink and he responded, but was deflected from the start by the numbers of children involved.

I finally decided I could no longer take the profanity and spoke to some of the children myself only to then receive an offer of unprintable words.

It was then I took my young brothers off the ice as I felt a concussion was not worth the fun of skating.

I feel that some strict rules are going to have to be employed if families are going to enjoy this sport.

It isn't fair that such wild and unruly children should be able to keep others from enjoying themselves due to lack of supervision. A few more parents should go to the rink and see how these kids are behaving.

Sincerely Yours,

Lynne Miller

If It Fitz Terrible Jean wants revenge

by Jim Fitzgerald

A note from Terrible Jean tells me all the "if it fits" articles and "if it fits" articles are a waste of time. I am trying desperately to think of some way to do it. I am a man.

The note to Mr. Fitzgerald: Fitzgeralds frequently listed that Betty Farris had not been registered for Betty Farris since going back to a department store. I am just sure a note of condolence will be in the paper and express thinking from some of the people who have read the article. I was in the store when the lady was there and I was in the store when the lady was there and I was in the store when the lady was there.

More Iranian oil

by Jack Anderson

With Joe Spear

WASHINGTON - The Shah of Iran is putting the squeeze on the United States. His oil sales have dropped more than 1.5 million barrels a day. This is costing him around $4 billion a year in revenues that he had anticipated but isn't getting.

So the Shah is upset. He has brought quiet diplomatic pressure on the State Department to compel U.S. oil companies to market more Iranian oil. Otherwise, he has threatened to cut back his purchases of U.S. military equipment and nuclear reactors.

It is doubtful that the State Department can force the oil companies to produce more Iranian oil that they cannot sell. The lion's share of Iranian oil goes to Europe.

However, Secretary of State Henry Kissinger has always tried to appease the Shah. Kissinger wants to encourage American companies, therefore, to market more Iranian oil.

But his colleague in the cabinet, Secretary of Treasury William Simon, would rather encourage American companies to reduce their Iranian production. This would give the United States more bargaining power. He has argued privately to force the Shah to reduce oil prices.

Imported Labor: Thousands of faceless men and women and their anonymous children constantly move with the harvest, stopping only long enough to pick a crop and to earn enough to subsist until the next stop. They are the migrant farm laborers, who help make America the best-fed nation in history.

At least 4,000 of these pickers, according to a Florida migrant survey, were eager to work in the fruit orchards of the East Coast last fall. They desperately need the money.

But Virginia apple growers somehow persuaded the Labor Department to let them bring foreign fruit pickers into their orchards. The Virginia growers imported 372 Jamaican workers to pick their apple crop. This may have saved them a little money, but it deprived hungry American migrant workers of jobs.

Why would the Labor Department discriminate against American workers? We can only point out an interesting coincidence. One of Virginia's largest apple growers happens to be the powerful Senator Harry Byrd. We have determined that the H. Byrd orchards hired 180 Jamaicans to pick their 1965 crop.

A spokesman told us that the Senator's brokers make all the business decisions, but whatever the circumstances, the Labor Department chose to be kind to the Senator rather than to the jobs' migrant workers.

Sky Spies: Secret intelligence reports claim that the Soviets are using Cuban airplanes to spy on U.S. naval movements. The latest report states that two huge Soviet turboprops landed in Havana on January 22. Along the way, the planes conducted surveillance of our East Coast. This was the 22nd time since April, 1970, that Soviet military planes have flown to Cuba.

5 YEARS AGO

Kevin Smith took first place in the annual Betty Crocker Scholarship competition given to seniors at the Manistique High School. Smith's test scores will now be compared with other finalists throughout the state to determine the winner of the $1500 scholarship.

Randy Dewey of Indian Lake speared a fish and Northern Pike through the ice of Island Slough on Indian River.

Patty Farley and Dave Gray regained a pig and quail at Big Bay de Noc hotspring last week.

Pastor Ingmar Levin of the Lutheran Church here in Manistique came to St. Francis de Sales to speak to the fifth and sixth graders about the Lutheran Religion.

Pastor Levin gave an introduction, then asked for questions from the students. The purpose of the session was to acquaint the students with the similarities and differences of the Catholic and Lutheran Religions during Church Unity Octave.

6 YEARS AGO

Frank S. Hoholik, president and general manager of the Manistique Pulp and Paper Company, was elected as chairman of the new Board of Control of Lake Superior State College at their organizational meeting last week.

Don Loftquist, son of Mrs. Donald Carlson, was awarded his Eagle Scout pin at a Court of Honor by Troop 400 of the Boy Scouts of America. He is the seventh member of Troop 400 to win this award.

Cuba. Each time, they have engaged in aerial spying. They photograph U.S. Navy ships in ports in Virginia, South Carolina, Georgia and Florida. From Cuba, the Soviet planes also fly reconnaissance missions into the South Atlantic.

Invariably, the Soviet planes are picked up by U.S. radar. U.S. interceptors rush up to meet them and often fly alongside them, snapping pictures. Sometimes, the pilots exchange signals.

These Soviet flights, of course, demonstrate that Cuba can be used as a military base. There is no evidence, however, that the Soviets have constructed permanent military facilities in Cuba.

Poor Little Rich Lady: Impelda Marcos, First Lady of the Philippines, was named by Cosmopolitan magazine last December as one of the ten richest women in the world. This is quite an achievement for a woman who was a bank receptionist only a few years ago. Then she married Ferdinand Marcos, and he became President of the Philippines.

Their sudden rise to riches, however, is not a story they want to advertise in the Philippines. They didn't want to censor Cosmopolitan magazine. They would only have attracted attention to the story and would have led to bad publicity.

So the Marcoses wisely arranged with their rich friends to buy up all the copies of Cosmopolitan as fast as they hit the Philippines newsstands. Thus, the magazine disappeared from the newsstands overnight - before they could reach the people in the streets.

In the early 1960's, the late Attorney General Robert Kennedy turned the Justice Department's big guns against organized crime. But lately, the investigation of organized crime has been lagging.

The number of days spent in the field by organized crime investigators, according to our sources, has been cut in half. And the number of court briefs filed by government lawyers in organized crime cases has been cut considerably.

Now, we have learned, the Justice Department is secretly preparing to eliminate the special strike forces which were established to fight organized crime. Their work will be turned over to the local U.S. Attorneys. Many Justice Department officials disagree with the proposed policy. They fear it will further weaken the government's battle against the crime syndicate.

Senior Citizens'

by Eileen Males

While I was vacationing I met two men, Bob and Joe, whom I thought about much since I came back. Bob was 82 years old and he was aboard a huge sail boat that took him, a man, woman and their child from Racine, Wisconsin, and Bill and me sailing on the Gulf of Mexico.

Bob was very lonely. His wife had died and his family lived elsewhere. He was still very active - walked ample miles every day, swam regularly but had no one to do these things with. He liked to play cards but most of all he needed the companionship of other people. I asked him if he had a Senior Citizen's Center to go to. He said that he had never heard of them. He was just so lonely it was touching. He kept close to me during the whole day and we talked and talked and talked. He needed someone. I felt very sorry for him and would have liked to have been some help.

Joe was a big man in his late 60's. He was a retired farmer from Ohio and stayed at our motel with his wife during the winter months. Joe had one leg amputated at the hip and he was having trouble with his neck and other problems with his remaining leg. He was a farmer all his life and didn't have time for hobbies or time to enjoy doing things. He was lost being in a wheel chair depending on his wife. At times he became very irritable because he didn't know what to do with his time. One night while shopping I bought him some canvas boards and a beginners set of oil paints. The following morning we sat on the patio and I gave him a lesson in making a sky, clouds, and trees. He was very enthused about it and hopefully he can find someone who will encourage and help him.

Both men had no hobbies to help them through quiet and lonely hours. A man has an especially rough time being left alone. Women are so-oriented that they go to club meetings, shopping, travel together where as most men are alone. The moral of the story is: Men! Develop a hobby or participate in sports such as golfing, bowling etc. where you will be with a group. Lonely hours are long hours.

Some people have strong feelings about giving information concerning income. We also have these feelings but our hands are tied. The only reason we need these figures is to prove to the government that our incomes here are approximately below $8,000 per couple and $5,000 an individual. These figures will help us receive a grant to run the center. If you do not give these figures you still can and are welcome to participate in any and all activities.

Friday afternoon we are going to have a Valentine's Card party. It's Sweet Heart's day and free kisses will be given to everyone (and they'll be the sweetest you've ever tasted). There will be a door prize given and a prize to the winner of every kind of card game played. So line up your own table and bring some home baked goodies and we'll really have a good time.

We wish to thank Myrtle Quick, Irene Youman, Frank Provo, Viola Richnie, Linda Walters and Geri Dean for baked goods and to Paul Hansen, Mabel Hill and Mr. and Mrs. Martin Hoholik for monetary

The Cook's in the Kitchen

by Doris Holmstrom

Guarda Frenette is, by nature, a generous woman. "I would be happy," she said, "if I could just do for people all of the time."

Actually, most of her time is involved in just that. She has discovered that to make a person happy is to feed him well.

She started cooking as a high school student. Her major field of interest was home economics. "I took four years of home economics in high school because it was the thing that I enjoyed most. I probably would have been a home economics teacher if I hadn't gotten married right away. But, I graduated on a Thursday and I was married the following Sunday."

The skills she'd learned in school were rapidly put into practice as her family grew to include seven children; but the real test came when her popularity began to grow, as well.

"What started me cooking more and more around here was a former County Extension Agent who asked me to make bread for the Farmer's Market. The markets were held on Wednesdays and Saturdays, so I'd stay up all night Tuesdays and Fridays to make enough bread. I took 125 loaves each week, plus several pies if I got an extra spurt of energy. I eventually baked and sold enough bread to buy a stove with two ovens. I liked to do it, but I would just as soon have given the bread away."

When her oldest daughter was married, she left baking to try her hand at catering weddings. Evidently she has done well. Except in the summer months when she operates the local A & W restaurant, she averages at least one wedding per month. "I suppose I could save money at it if I bought everything in quantity and I knew that I was going to be doing a lot of them, but I'm not doing it for that reason. It's just something else that I like to do. I'm sure that the people have been happy with me."

Never does she sit idle. When she's not preparing for a wedding and when the A & W closes its doors for the season, she goes to work baking for Nordens or keeps herself busy planning the parties that her husband so likes to give.

With all of the cooking that she does, in fact, we might have assumed that each of her children left home with a broad knowledge of the art. Not so, she said.

"I came from a family of six and, although Mother did all of the cooking, I don't think that any one of us went out of the house not knowing how to survive. I don't think we ever helped her, but we learned just from knowing what she was doing."

"During the first six months that my daughter was married, I think she called me on every meal she made."

Whether her daughter received any real help or whether she received only a lot of good advice is questionable. Mrs. Frenette is another in a long list of area cooks who uses no recipes and who is hard to pin down on exact amounts of ingredients.

This week we have two recipes from her. The first, a recipe for egg pancakes, is one she has been making for 28 years but never tasted. When she borrowed the recipe from her mother-in-law, her family fell in love with it.

The second is a crowd-pleasing recipe for sloppy joe's—one that she endorses and recommends.

EGG PANCAKES

2 cups flour
1 teaspoon salt
12 eggs
shortening
cold water

Mix 2 cups flour and 1 teaspoon salt with enough cold water to make it "stirable." Fold in one dozen eggs.
Fry pancakes in melted fat one inch deep until they're puffy and brown on both sides.

She recommends that you serve the pancakes with her homemade syrup. It's made by boiling equal parts of white sugar, brown sugar and water.

SLOPPY JOES

2 to 3 lbs. ground beef
1 stalk celery, diced
1 med. onion, diced
1 med-size bottle of ketchup
1 cup water
3 tbs. brown sugar
salt and pepper
1 tsp. mustard (optional)

Brown together 2 to 3 pounds ground beef, diced celery, diced onion and diced green pepper. Add 1 medium-size bottle of ketchup plus one cup of water, 3 tablespoons brown sugar, salt and pepper and 1 teaspoon mustard. Cook until it's thick.

Dinner is planned for G. Rusch

A Testimonial Dinner is being planned for George Rusch, who recently resigned as Executive Director of the Central Upper Peninsula Planning and Development Region.

Rusch has been active in city and county government for many years, serving as city councilman, mayor, member of the Delta County Board of Supervisors and county commissioner, to name a few. He organized the three planning and development regions in the Upper Peninsula prior to being named Executive Director of CUPPAD. Since that time, CUPPAD has been effective in bringing together diverse interest groups in the six counties of CUPPAD to resolve and deal with problems of a regional nature. CUPPAD has been recognized by State and Federal agencies as one of the models of regional cooperation. THOMPSON - 4-H Leaders Roberta Smith, Ilene Pierce, Charlene Turek, Hazel Devine, and Bicentennial committee person for 4-H Mrs. Shirley Perry, recently held a meeting at the Turek home to discuss plans for a float for the July 4

James Coffey a former resident and step-father of Charlene Turek is a surgical patient in Saginaw General Hospital. I'm sure he would love to hear get well messages for a speedy recovery from his friends.

Ray Oswald was dismissed from Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital Sunday after being a medical patient for a few days. Also back home after being a patient there is Essie Jarvis. May they continue on the road to recovery.

"Out Our Way"
News from Road 437

Hi Folks,
The past ten days I spent in Hales Corners, Wisconsin taking care of our daughter Ruth Yodanis, who was recuperating after having surgery. The Boss and Juane came down over the weekend to bring me home Sunday. Saturday we went over to visit the Lawrence Salles, they asked how all of their friends were up around the Thunder Lake area, and of course on how much snow we had. I sure was amazed at the amount of snow that had piled up while I was gone. February, what can I really tell you about this month. One thing it is suppose to be the coldest month in the year, so only the wild skunk cabbage located in iceed marches dares rear its pointed firm and round top to peak at the sky. While throughout the forest mother nature's sculpture work can be seen and everyone is beautiful. Taking time out to study them one will find many picturesque scenes. Some of the huge slumps heaped up with snow remind me of huge load stools of a giant world. I believe it won't be long and the rivers will open up to flow freely on their way without a care in the world, but perhaps a message for someone as it travels on to greet a larger body of water. While I was gone I don't know if Mr. Ground Hog came out to look things over, plus see his shadow. Regardless of Mr. Ground Hog's prophecy, win winter out Our Way remains a week bit longer. Really winter is a sort of a peaceful time for thinking, getting strength and courage built up for the return of spring. To be able to go on with ones' daily routines.
In the silence one finds much time for thinking, and right now I thought of February not only being the coldest month, but a sentimental month also. Saturday will be Valentine's Day, a day that is set aside for lovers of all ages. Last Saturday I saw the love shine in the eyes of my granddaughter, Kathy Jo as she handed me a selection. Right there she was low light up in this Grandma's eyes. This can take me back to Valentine's Day in a country school. When the teacher would prepare a huge box with hearts cut out of red drawing paper and pasted all over the box. What a secret of happiness at the end of the day for the pupil as the teacher would reach in the box some out with a valentine and call someone's name. School children love continues on and on till they reach sweetest age when the gift can be candy or an engagement ring. Then we have the moms and the dads. Their valentines the love light, but has shined in their eyes for many years. Their proof of love is the many years that they have lived together, respect a family which sharing all the heartaches and joys together. Their love is the strongest of loves and the largest of treasures to be found anywhere. Valentine's Day comes to us all because of a Roman Martyr St. Valentine, who is regarded as the patron saint of unhappy lovers.

Thursday will be Lincoln's birthday. He was known to many as Honest Abe. He had great power as president, never hated anyone nor wanted revenge. I see by the calendar that George Washington's birthday was moved up to February 16. Being the first president of our country, he was known as the Father of our country.
Daybreak was followed by sunshine, but strong south winds are blowing, so it will be drifting snow for the day.
Our dog Sophie was sure glad to see me come home. She is quite a dog. After she gets fed she leaves a bit of food for the chickadees. They fly down and help themselves to the remains. She just sits and watches them enjoy it.
Echoes of birthday greetings go out to Irene Hinkson, Christine Hurt, Joel Carley, James Hardy, Lawrence Salles, David Neacow, Merlin, Cross, Charles Hinkson, Ernest Popour, and Robert Hinkson.
Anniversary wishes go out to the Terry Cross', Joe Markhams, who are celebrating their 52 wedding anniversary and the Patrick Rodmans.
May the day for all of you be one of complete happiness.
Until our next chat stay healthy and happy.

The Tribune staff and area merchants are very busy with plans for the upcoming event to be held on Thursday, March 18 at the St. Francis Parish Center. Frank Senger, publisher, invites all area people, especially homemakers, to the free Homemakers School.

Gina Grave, Homemakers School Home Economist, will be demonstrating new recipe ideas under a larger demonstration mirror, which affords better viewing for the thousands of people who watch her demonstrate each year. Her program will include a dozen recipes from the American Homemaker '76 Cookbook. Recently off the presses, it includes recipes for desserts, beverages, main dishes, salads, vegetables, yeast breads and more. Everyone will be able to follow the recipes given on a new free copy of the cookbook. Foods prepared during the show will be awarded as prizes at the close of the program. The program, practical, interesting, new—all deserve these recipes demonstrated on stage at the St. Francis Parish Center on March 18.
