Youngblood remains in post after special meeting

A week of controversy following the appointment of former State Senator Charles Youngblood by the Manistique City Council to the post of project administrator for a HUD neighborhood block development grant ended last Friday night with nothing changed. Councilman Doug Rose had asked for the special Friday council meeting to reconsider the appointment of Youngblood.

A packed council chamber, many of whom were neighbors and friends of Youngblood from Gulliver and Doyle Twp., heard Rose outline his opposition to the Youngblood appointment.

"This is a controversial issue," said Rose, "and I think the council ought to take another look."

"I opposed this appointment originally for two reasons," the councilman said. "The method of selection is questionable. We didn't even have an interview with any of the candidates for the position."

Rose also stated that there was a shadow of doubt of Youngblood's innocence on a bribery conspiracy conviction which was later overturned. He read from a ruling of the state appeals court in Youngblood's case, which indicated that a jury might infer from the evidence in the case that Youngblood was guilty, but that conspiracy could not be proved.

"There is still a question in my mind as to the effectiveness of Mr. Youngblood in this post," said Rose.

He then produced copies of press clippings dating to 1970 alleging that Youngblood had mis-used the funds of an Indian organization.

"I hope the council will reconsider its decision and review the appointment again, and grant interviews to all the candidates who have applied," stated Rose.

Delores Youngblood rose to the defense of her husband. "My husband has been cleared of all charges," she said. "If you would look further, you would find more press reports which exonerated him of wrongdoing."

Dr. John Clark Gulliver, said he had talked with Youngblood just before the meeting. Youngblood has loaned money to the Indian organization, and was being repaid in installments, he said. The payments had been mis-represented in the press as kickbacks, and were in fact legal. Eileen Males, one of the other applicants for the job, agreed to ask why no interviews had been held. "I always thought that when you apply for a job, the employer interviews the people that apply," she said.

Mayor Reque said that the council had hired the new administrator on the basis of qualifications. "Mr. Youngblood has the best qualifications for the job, in my opinion," Reque stated.

"I am uncomfortable being defensive about decisions the council has already made," Reque continued. "This has become an emotional issue. It appears that one individual is unhappy with the majority vote. But here, the majority rules."

Youngblood, who began his new job on Monday, didn't feel that the controversy would hurt him in his work. "The accusations and the publicity hurt me personally," he said. "But all the people I have talked to so far have been nothing but helpful. There is a lot to learn in this job, and I've had only encouragement from the people I'll be working with."

"I'm certainly going to continue with this job," he added. "I'm looking forward to really doing something for this community. I want to thank all the good people who have supported me, and the ones who spoke for me at the council meeting."

Councilman Don MacPhail, who also opposed the appointment, told the council that he had nothing against Youngblood on the original vote, but had his own man in mind.

Three candidates for city council

Three candidates have filed with city hall for the three city council seats up for election this spring. At deadline time Tuesday afternoon, Peter Malhoun, Elton Sample, and Robert White had submitted nomination petitions.

Elton Sample 429 Delta, Manistique, is a native of Manistique. He is president of the Booster Club and a trustee of the Knights of Columbus.

Asked why he will run, Sample said, "I want to get involved and get interested in the city. I think it's a good gesture for everybody to seek public office." Sample is retired from inland Lime and Stone Co.

The youngest candidate is Peter Malhoun, 640 Michigan Avenue, Manistique. Also a native, Malhoun, 27, feels that it will be good to get young views on the council. He is employed at Malhoun Redi Mix.

Bob White, 229 S. Fifth Street, is an employee of Edison Sault Electric Company. While a native of Manistique is 42 years old. He attended Manistique schools and graduated from Central High School.

None of the three incumbents whose seats are up for re-election will run this year. Dan Barber, who has been on the council six years said, in a prepared statement, "I have been a member of the city council for the past six years. Two of those served as Mayor. At this time I have decided not to run for re-election."

"The past six years have been a great learning experience for me. I have found out many things about the city of Manistique that I would never have known if I hadn't served on the council."

"Over that period of time I feel many fine things were accomplished for our city. I have always tried to evaluate each issue honestly, and to make a decision in the best interest of the residents of the city.

"I now feel that the time has come for me to leave the council for someone else, step in with fresh and new ideas."

Councilman Fred Cayia, asked why he wasn't seeking another term said, "I have been on the council ten years. After careful thought I have decided that I don't wish to seek a re-election."

The other incumbent, Don MacPhail, announced last week that he would not run again.

"The three men's names will go on the ballot in the April 5 election. Anyone still wishing to run for city council must run a write-in campaign."

County board hears 4 1/2 hours of annual reports

Members of the Schoolcraft County Board of Commissioners Tuesday night spent more than four hours listening to the annual reports of various arms of the county government as well as dispensing with regular monthly business.

Verbal reports were given by representatives of the four county Health Department, Dr. James Terrian and Yvonne Eide; Zoning Administrator Jim Shifflet; Veteran Counselor Lionel Mercier; Senior Citizens Director Eileen Males; along with County Clerk Fred Lesica and County Treasurer Bill Cowman.

Spokespeople from the Health Department reported that several personnel and program additions had been made during the past year. Among them was nurse Michele Dugovito who has been actively promoting a high hypertension program and checking numerous individuals for high blood pressure along with her other duties.

Shifflet outlined funding received by the department in 1975 and accounted for expenses. He noted that the county would save at least $1000 next year when department offices are moved to the new courthouse.

A comprehensive report by Mrs. Males told of the 39 Senior Citizens programs offered residents of both Manistique and Gernafisk. From July 1975 through January 1976, she said, the Manistique center alone served a total of 27,194 people with transportation, health services, educational classes, recreational opportunities and so on.

She noted, however, that although the county owns a maxi-van for their use, operational funding will be cut off as of February 1.

A three day celebration in honor of George Washington's Birthday has been planned for this weekend by Manistique merchants.

All participating stores will be offering special buys on selected merchandise during the three days, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

In addition to super buys, all participating merchants will be giving away free flyers. Drawings for the free pies will be held every two hours in each store. Shoppers are urged to register at each store to increase their chances of winning.

The participating stores include: Gambles Store, A.S. Pitman Rexall, People's Store, Ben Franklin, J.C. Penney, Pulvin Walgreen, Disco, Lauerman's, Florida Furniture, The Vogue, Shunk Furniture and Karen's Fabrics, State Wide Real Estate, Nelson's Shoes and Rodgers' Dry Goods.

Two pages of additional details can be obtained by calling the Chamber of Commerce, Retail Division, with Mike Youness serving as chairman.

March 30, 1976. Mrs. Males asked the board consider offering financial assistance at that area, saying "in my estimation, other people are the most deserving of our help. Therefore, I feel that anything we can do for them is money well spent."

Lesica's report brought several interesting statistics to the board's attention. Among them were the ratio of births recorded in 1975 as opposed to the number of marriages: 163 births compared to 83 marriages. The number of deaths in 1975 remained at 134.

Also with his report was a suggestion to inspect the micro-filming work done in 1969 for deterioration and to award bids on rebinding many of the books damaged in the courthouse fire.

The board resolved both by authorizing the county clerk and the county treasurer to allow Michigan County Record Binders to proceed with both projects. Book binding is expected to cost the board $3079.

A written report by County Sheriff Lloyd Gray showed that more than 300 prisoners were booked in 1975, among them 349 were males, 53 females and 28 juveniles, serving for a total of 2,798 days. A total of 340 visited those prisoners while in jail.

Gray also noted that he had issued licenses for the purchase of 75 pistols and revolvers and had registered 95.

Dog complaints for the year totaled 166. Fire calls made in Schoolcraft County during 1975 totaled 24, according to a report by the Department of Public Safety. Six of those were dwelling fires; one an automobile fire and five were fires in the city "green boxes". Total loss on dwellings, house trailers, automobiles and their contents was $47,686.84.

Ambulance calls within the county totaled 131.

County Medical Examiner Dr. Larry Sell investigated a total of 12 deaths in 1975. Of those, 9 were males and three females.

Acting on regular business, the board also:

- heard a report on the county building construction project which showed that disbursements to date total $1,009,524.52;
- referred applications for the job of Building Code Administrator to the Building Authority for a recommendation;
- read a letter from Airport Manager Vern Bernath stating that he would not be responsible for injuries, death, damage of airplanes, etc. caused by faulty snow removal equipment at the airport.

It's coming-1976 American Homemaker

The Pioneer-Tribune is proud to present the AMERICAN HOMEMAKER '76 Homemakers School in Manistique. This community service supported by local merchants will be conducted on Thursday, March 18 at 7:30 p.m. in the St. Francis de Sales Parish Center.

Manistique is fortunate to be selected as one of 250 locations in 37 states for the 1976 Homemakers School schedule. These programs have been conducted throughout the Midwest for over 27 years but have recently been expanded to include most of the United States. This is the largest homemaker-oriented promotion in North America.

The AMERICAN HOMEMAKER '76 Homemakers School is a fascinating combination of lecture and recipe demonstration. Appliances from local merchants will be demonstrated also. There will be no admission charge.

Miss Gina Grave, well known Homemakers School Home Economist, will be conducting the two and a half hour program. She is an experienced lecturer, demonstrator and will appear before thousands in 1976. She will travel over 40,000 miles this year to maintain a very hectic schedule.

Miss Grave recently visited Manistique and worked with the Pioneer-Tribune staff and local merchants to make plans for her return and the upcoming Homemakers School. She also travels several states working out her own schedule for the next year.

On March 18 she will return to Manistique to spend four to eight hours at the St. Francis de Sales Parish Center preparing for her evening demonstration. She will be assisted in this preparation and during the program by area people. Together they will completely organize a backstage kitchen for preparation and an on-stage kitchen for the actual demonstration.

In 1976 Homemakers Schools acquired a new larger mirror system to allow better viewing by the hundreds of people that attend each demonstration. This mirror allows the audience to see the top of Miss Grave's work surface.

The demonstration will include main dishes, appetizers, yeast breads, desserts, salads, beverages, vegetables, 12 - 15 recipes - one to tempt every palate. The prepared foods will be given away as prizes at the end of the program.

Each person attending will receive a free copy of the AMERICAN HOMEMAKER '76 Cookbook. Updated and redesigned each year, it contains an outstanding array of taste-tempting recipes from national sponsors. Many of these recipes were first introduced in the Homemakers School Cookbook. The recipes prepared during the show are included along with many other practical, down-to-earth recipes.

There will also be free gift bags for each person attending including samples and coupons. Dozens of prizes including bags of groceries will be awarded during the show.

Watch the Pioneer-Tribune for further details of the AMERICAN HOMEMAKER '76 Homemakers School.

The Cook's in the Kitchen

by Doris Holmsrom

Lorraine Rangette thinks big. Her specialty is volume cooking. Although she seldom works alone, she has been responsible for preparing the food at a number of weddings over the past 23 years and has also supervised dinners for many large groups, such as the V.F.W.

"When I got to be too much for the older women in my circle at St. Anne's, they helped me to take over planning and preparing the weddings and dinners. I've done it from then on," she said.

"I don't do all of the work by myself. I have a lot of help. For a wedding, I first meet with the mother of the bride, who tells me what she wants and how many invitations have been sent out. Then I figure out how much food we're going to need and go from there. I tell the other women what to bring and we fix it there."

Hers is one of only a few circles that do that type of charity work. "It's a lot of work, but I don't mind it. I think that the worst part of a dinner is figuring out how much you need and how to get it there."

At home, she has only herself and her husband to cook for so we vary every from the husband she serves at some of the restaurants in the season. Now he has three children, and their families come home to enjoy "Mother's fine cooking."

Unlike her, Mrs. Rangette's two daughters did not learn cooking from their mother. Yet, her oldest daughter won her vote of approval with the cooking experience she gained in marriage. The two of them often exchange recipes.

"I've always liked to cook," said Mrs. Rangette. "I like food and I like to try different things. My mother was a pretty good cook and I learned the best things from her. She worked so I would often have to get the right meal. I used to do quite a bit of cooking when I was a kid at home."

She most enjoys cooking when she has red hands in a dessert, and chocolate is a definite weakness.

"I don't know if I ever cook just to have fun, but I really like to fix desserts, like some things and bars. And I just love chocolate."

Although she doesn't call herself a versatile cook—the cook's often prepare gourmet dishes—she does experiment with recipes, changing them, adding to or deleting from them to suit her taste.

One of the recipes which she chose to share with us, a meatball recipe, reflects that creativity. The second demonstrates her love for delicious, chocolate-flavored desserts.

what are you doing for "kicks" lately? That is a question you hear quite abit. Especially among Head Start parents and within the Community Action Agency. This is a new program named "Kicks" and virtually means just that! New or clean second hand used knit wear or clothing for new babies to be given to low income families to bring the baby home to be used afterward. Anyone who can sew, crochet or knit or contribute time, materials or clothing to this project please contact Mrs. Ruth Petrich at the CAA office at 210 Oak Street. The Manistique Head Start parents committee have kicked off the project with a twenty five dollar donation to compose a new layette. Head Start Policy Action Council members Barbara Kader, Richard Johnson, Victoria Heslip, Jeanne LeDue and Theresa Lanaville and the parent co-ordinator, Joyce Keane, all of Escanaba, met at the center here with parents from our area on Tuesday, February 10 in a parent involvement discussion session. In order to maintain a Head Start center in Manistique there must be at least one adult, parent or interested person, in the class room during each of the two sessions per day and a committee is formed to solve the problem. City Ordinance 168 of 1976 made the Manistique Youth Commission an official part of the city government.

Last December Father Frank Lenz appointed the city council with the suggestion that such a committee be started. He was told to look into the matter and report back to the council.

The first meeting of the commission, to be held some time this week, will be mainly organizational. After this is out of the way, one of the first objectives will be to set up live band dances approximately once a month.

A Teen Advisory Commission will be established along with the Youth Commission. It will be their responsibility to keep the adults informed of their reactions to plans and the reactions of other youth in the town.

FR Lenz was member and chairman of a similar commission in Munising for three years where it worked quite well. The main purpose is to provide opportunities for recreation for the youth of the city, Fr.

Youngblood appointment
stirs controversy

Out of the confusion and controversy of the past week surrounding the appointment of Charles Youngblood to a city position it seems there should be some things that we learned as a community.
First, to state that the appointment was controversial is something of an understatement. Nothing in our memory has stirred passions on both sides as has the appointment of Charles Youngblood.

Spencer Tracy said there was no such thing as a bad boy. But that was long ago before Mickey Rooney grew up and got married 8 times.
Today everyone admits there are bad boys and also bad girls. They grow up to be lousy adults and proud of it.

take turns telling each other how bad they are. The baddies... Dana Andrews off the freeway before he killed.
The reason for this dancing nude on a court house steps is 2-fold, and both are admirable.

Rumor has Ford sending Nixon to China

WASHINGTON - Official Washington is whispering about Richard Nixon again. The speculation in the backrooms is that President Ford will appoint his predecessor as our representative to China.
The White House won't admit officially that the idea is even being considered. But there are a few straws in the wind, which have stirred the whippers.

The Chinese, meanwhile, have made extraordinary preparations for the Nixon visit. Our sources say the Chinese plane, which will pick up four Nexons, will be equipped with special medical supplies. These will include anti-coagulants in case Nixon's pilobits flares up.
Nixon's expenses, incidentally, will be paid by the Chinese. But the taxpayers will be stuck with the salaries of the Secret Service and other government officials in Nixon's retinue.

Publisher's corner

State of inferior

The idea of statehood for the U.P. may not have caught on across the Peninsula, but it certainly has gotten plenty of newspaper space throughout lower Michigan.
In recent weeks the picture of Dominic Jacobetti has appeared on front pages accompanied by a story speculating on the Neagame Democrats desire to be the first governor of the State of Superior.
Attorney General Frank Kelly has given his office's legal opinion that the move to separate statehood could be accomplished, but only after approval of the people, state legislature and congress.
The latest newspaper piece on the statehood subject to cross my desk came from the Lansing State Journal's political columnist Pat McCarthy. His answer offers a different solution, but with the same end results.
"NOW THAT the voters of at least two Upper Peninsula counties have sharply rebuffed separate state efforts, it's time to look at it from another direction: the secession of the Lower Peninsula from the State of Michigan.
All the ideas need is for someone to take up its banner and wait for the people to gather round.
State Gen. Frank Kelly paved the way with his recent opinion that all it takes to split a state is the consent of the voters in the proposed new state, the legislature, and Congress.
THE ADVANTAGES of course, are obvious. No more would the Lower Peninsula inhabitants have to listen to long tales of woe about the injured feelings of their northern brethren.
Lower Peninsula taxpayers would no longer have to bear the burden of financing programs for their poor cousins in the north, who have received far more in public funds than taxes paid.
NO LONGER would the urban do-gooders have to suffer long sermons about the wisdom of the Upper Peninsula being sufficient to chart its own future and develop its own industry.
Each peninsula could go about befouling

Incipient Bureaucrats: An internal administration report has concluded that the bureaucrats at the Social Security Administration simply are incompetent.
"Overall quality or competence, dedication, or motivation, and efficiency of the working staff," says the document, "is well below appropriate levels."

Nuclear Teapot: The Nuclear Regulatory Commission is quietly investigating a new theory that has frightening implications. If the theory is correct, reactors could blow their lids like teapots. This would release deadly radiation into the atmosphere.

computers to issue $10 million in overpayments to 1,500 very surprised recipients.
Cheap Veep: There is a president rumor in Washington that Vice President Nelson Rockefeller is a "skinflint". The story is only partly true.
He has given away more than $2 million. You can't call that cheap. Secretary of State Henry Kissinger, for example, received a $50,000 gift of appreciation from Rockefeller. Kissinger, at least, must think Rockefeller has also loaned more than $480,000 to friends and relatives.
It would be fair to say, however, that Rockefeller has no idea what money means to the average American. He rarely, if ever, carries cash or credit cards. His aides merely take care of his bills, so that Rockefeller doesn't have to trouble himself with such trivialities.
Rockefeller has listed his personal wealth at more than $32 million. Yet he often has to ask an aide for change to make a telephone call. He has also been known to question the size of tips that his aides leave behind in restaurants. Rockefeller has objected that even standard tips are too large.
Hunt's Hunt: E. Howard Hunt, the Watergate convict, has been writing letters from prison seeking an attorney. Hunt wants to sue OUI, the glib magazine for linking him to the John F. Kennedy Assassination.
