

County board hears options for local dog pound

Loose dogs and how to shelter them after they are picked up by authorities again took up a major portion of the County Board's meeting Tuesday night, but no action to resolve the long-simmering issue was taken.

William Cline, who licenses animal shelters in this area for the State Department of Agriculture, spoke with the board about options it had if it ever chooses to build a dog pound.

Cline was present at the board meeting with members of the Schoolcraft County Humane Society, who have been pressing for some sort of animal shelter here for the past year.

There has been a problem in the past year with dogs running loose, and residents have complained to both the city and county.

The problem has mainly been confined to the city, but lack of a dog pound has hampered efforts to enforce existing laws meant to control dogs. The city and county recently formed a joint committee to look into the possibility of establishing a pound.

One of those options Cline mentioned to the County Board Tuesday was repairing the existing facility closed down by the city over a year ago. In November, the City Council was told it would cost an estimated $10,000 to repair the shelter, housed in the old city equipment shed.

Cline questioned that estimate.

"That was a little bit out of line, if you ask me," he said. Cline would license the pound, he said, if the existing heater was repaired and vandalism to the section of the building housing the pound was fixed.

City Council Member Bill Hackney, present at Tuesday's meeting, said he preferred to have a new pound built at a site closer to the City Hall. County Board Member Lindsey Frenette agreed.

"A good building wouldn't be that expensive," Frenette claimed, if the costs were split between the city and county, "since we've waited this long."

Some of the money could be raised through increasing the dog licensing fees, a proposal submitted to the board two months ago by the Humane Society.

Cline also suggested raising those fees, but the board took no action on the idea.

Eva Burrell assured Board Chairman Merwin White that the problem with loose dogs still is present in the city, even during the winter months.

"I just got a call yesterday," she said. "There is still a big problem in Manistique. It's less now than it was, but it will get worse as spring comes on."

White promised to meet again with Hackney and City Manager John Matthews to discuss the possibility of finding a site for a new building on city property.

In other matters, the board:

-Voted 4-2 to accept the low bid for an audit of county funds. The low bid, for $5,900 by the Escanaba accounting firm of Payment and Schaut, was over $10,000 less than the bid submitted by the local firm of Schneider, Larchie and Haapala.

White and Board Member Ernest Hohlak voted against accepting the low bid, saying the bids should be referred to the finance personnel committee of the board for recommendations. Committee Chairman William Tennyson was absent.

-Heard that a grievance filed against the county by the Fraternal Order of Police, union for the sheriff's deputies, had been denied by a state-appointed arbitrator.

Board Member Rick Pawley told the board that the arbitrator had denied the union's request for $7,500 in pay for deputies at the jail.

County unemployment passes 17 percent

Unemployment in the county continued its rise during November, jumping 2 1/2 percent from October's 14.6 to 17.1 percent.

The November figures were released last week by the Michigan Employment Security Commission (MESC) and represent the most recent local data available. They follow by five weeks release of the statewide jobless rate for November of 11.8 percent. In the U.P., unemployment also increased over 2 percent, to 13.2 percent.

Although jobless figures here typically jump during the winter months, November's unemployment rate continues the trend over 1981 of having about 2 percent more people out of work in the county than in 1980.

According to Bruce Weaver, area analyst for MESC, things are almost certain to get worse when December's figures are available. Those figures will include the annual winter layoff of workers at Inland Lime and Stone Co. in Gulliver, which caused a 10 percent increase during December of 1980.

"I'd expect a fairly large increase" in December, Weaver said, "but how large it's hard to say, since I haven't seen the figures for Inland. I wouldn't be surprised to see an increase close to or comparable to last year, which would push the rate to the mid-20's level."

During November, Weaver said, the number of people with jobs in Schoolcraft County declined by 50 to 3,025. The jobs lost were in the non-manufacturing sectors of the economy here: retail trade, services and construction. At the same time, the number of people in the labor force increased by 50, meaning 100 more county residents were jobless and seeking work in November than in October.

Of the surrounding counties, Mackinac had the largest increase in its unemployment rate, which jumped 9.4 percent in November to 24 percent. Mackinac has the highest jobless rate of any of the state's 83 counties.

Other surrounding counties had the following unemployment rates for November: Alger 16.6, up from 12.2 in October; Delta 9.7 and Luce 15.2.

Guitar man Ray Lund plays his own handiwork

Like many people, Ray Lund of Manistique enjoys picking the guitar and singing as a relaxing hobby.

More remarkable is the fact that the guitars Ray Lund picks he made by hand himself. For the past 24 years, Lund has been making guitars and ukuleles from local materials.

GUITAR MAN Ray Lund crosses his hands made over the past 25 years, along with one of the several guitars.

He has become so adept at his craft that he prefers his instruments to the more expensive store-bought variety.

First of all, Lund's homemade versions are sturdier than factory-made models. "We've dropped them right on the floor. You would think they would break but they don't. They're pretty tough, believe it or not," he said.

Not only are Lund's guitars tough, they have a distinctive sound that is also, well, stronger than your typical mass-produced acoustic guitar.

"When you strum on them strings and feel it vibrate right through your body, you know you've got a good one," Lund said, backing his claim by belting out a tune on one of his guitars.

Virtually all of the materials used in a Lund instrument are obtained locally. Take the guitar he is currently working on, for instance. It has a "sounding board" (the top of the guitar) made from a spruce tree Lund cut from the forest north of Nahma. The sides of the "sound chest," the body of the instrument, are made from locally-cut birds-eye maple and shaped to a mold that Lund also made.

The bottom of the sound chest was from a block of P. early maple. The "purfling," the black-dyed decorative inlay around the edge of the sounding board, came from a block of maple that was headed for the fire box at the paper mill before Lund rescued it. If he had bought the ready-made purfling inlay, it would have cost about $25 a square foot.

Even the bridge and sound nut that the guitar strings will be stretched across are 100 percent

Council studies charter changes

One question city voters will be asked at the April election is whether they want to revamp Manistique's 14-year-old city charter.

The City Council voted in October to put that question on the April 5 ballot. At a work session Tuesday, the council detailed exactly what it would like to see changed in the city's most basic law. It's own pay and hiring of the city manager were among the top concerns.

While the council will not be the authority that actually conducts the charter revision, its suggestions could be considered by the charter revision commission. Members of that nine-member board will also be elected on the April ballot, but if voters turn down the whole idea of a charter revision, the results of the vote for commission members will not apply.

However, in anticipation of approval of a charter revision, the council Tuesday went over part of the 1968 charter and listed what it felt should be changed. Here is a rundown of those suggested changes:

-Pay for City Council members. The charter specifies that council members will be paid $2 a meeting, but that the pay cannot exceed $50 a year if more than 25 meetings are held.

Mayor David Vaughan said he felt the low pay discouraged people from running for the city council. Citing the election when he ran for a council seat, where there was no opposition to the three candidates, Vaughan said the low pay is "one reason we don't have any interest."

Council member Bill Hackney called the stingy compensation "a little bit of an insult."

Both Vaughan and Hackney thought that the council itself was not the authority to decide what council members should be paid. They recommended the charter be changed to set up a separate board to establish pay guides for the City Council instead of having a set rate of compensation specified in the charter.

City Attorney Pat Kelly noted that the charter could also be revised to allow the council to set its own pay periodically by ordinance.

-Operation of the city Planning Commission. The charter says that the planning commission must be established by the council. Vaughan had no quarrel with that provision, but noted that nobody seemed to be interested in serving on the planning board. Currently, he said, the nine-member Planning Commission can "never get a quorum" to conduct business.

Vaughan suggested combining the Planning Commission with the city Zoning Appeals Board in a possible charter revision. Kelly said state law might define such a combination as a conflict of interest, but that he would research his matter.

-Hiring of the city manager. The charter currently says the manager serves "at the pleasure of" the council without a contract. Vaughan would like to see it changed so that the city manager would be under contract.

Although the idea of serving at the pleasure of the council is partly to assure easy removal of a manager the council is dissatisfied with, Vaughan said it hadn't worked that way in the past. After one year, the charter now requires a four-fifths vote by the council to fire the city manager. That provision has worked against removal of incompetent managers in the past, Vaughan said.

-Penalties for violation of city ordinances. The current charter provides for a limit to the penalties of a maximum $500 fine and 90 days in jail. The council would like that provision deleted and the penalty left to the discretion of council when it enacts the individual ordinances.

-Council authority over the city treasurer, attorney and assessor. Those three positions are currently under the supervision of the city manager and the council would like to see the charter changed to put them under its direct authority.

Other changes discussed for the charter Tuesday are obvious: deletion of a chapter in it dealing with appointment of council members to the County Board of Supervisors, for example. The Board of Supervisor system in Michigan was abolished several years ago and that charter chapter is obsolete.

CHILLY TOOTSIES are a common affliction for hockey players, and Paul Price's dogs are no exception. Price, of the Peoples State Peewee team, took time out last Sunday to toast his feet at the fair building. One of the Peewee players said really warm feet is to put black pepper in your socks before going out in the cold.

Hentschell, Males head 1982 CBC

Preparations for Manistique's annual fundraising extravaganza, the CBC Radio-Teleton, got underway Tuesday when a reorganizational meeting was held.

General chairman for this year's fund drive is Bill Hentschell, Jr. Vice-chairman is John Males. The radio telethon will again be held on Palm Sunday, April 4, to raise money for the American Cancer Society, the Bay Cliff Health Camp and Crippled Children and Adults (Easter Seals).

Last year's drive continued the tradition that has been established of exceeding the fundraising goal. That goal was $15,000 in 1981, but when all the pledges were counted, over $18,000 had been raised. The chairpersons of the three sub-committees for the drive are as follows: Richard Ketchik for the American Cancer Society, Dorothy Hohlak for the Bay Cliff Health Camp and Jill Carter for Easter Seals. Live coverage of this year's drive will again be provided by WTIO and on cable television channel 9. A complete list of all committee members will be available at the next CBC committee meeting, scheduled for Monday, Feb. 1, at 7 p.m. in the board room in the high school.

The local fund drive has established a statewide reputation for raising money with a minimum of administrative costs. Last year's drive, for example, had only $927 in expenses to raise $18,284.

Rick Demers

Demers promoted

Rick Demers of Manistique has been promoted to the position of loan officer with the 1st National Bank at Manistique. It was announced last week.

Demers, 22, has been with 1st National for four years. He started work as a teller in 1978 and was promoted to management trainer in October of 1980. His promotion to loan officer is effective immediately. In that capacity, Demers will work with bank customers and make decisions for approval of loan applications.

Born and raised in Manistique, Demers lives with his wife Kathy on East U.S. 2. He is a 1977 graduate of Manistique High School.

Films begin at Seney Refuge

A series of weekly wildlife film programs will again be presented at the Seney National Wildlife Refuge beginning on Thursday, Jan. 21, and continuing each Thursday evening through February.

The first winter program will include two films, "Family Life of Birds" and "Greater Sandhill Crane Story".

Programs will begin promptly at 7:30 p.m. in the Visitor Center auditorium.

Phillips is top student

Jamie Phillips, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Phillips of Manistique, has been named Honor Economics Student of the month. Jamie, a senior at Manistique High School, is enrolled in fiscal service. To be eligible for this award, Jamie has maintained a "C" or better grade average, displayed leadership skills, enthusiasm and a positive attitude toward themselves and others.

Jamie's hobbies include boating, swimming, jogging, fishing, and hunting. He has received many boating awards and has been honored as "the best visiting boater." Upon graduation, Jamie would like to enter the carpentry field.

Jamie urges other males to take home economics. He feels that not only has he learned to cook, but he has gained insight into a program that all too many feel, unfortunately, is "for girls only."

Tim Clark

Clark attains Dean's List

Tim Clark, son of Dr. and Mrs. John M. Clark of Gulliver, has been named to the dean's list at Michigan State University at East Lansing.

A student must have a grade point average of 3.5 out of a maximum 4.0 to be selected for the honor. Clark is a sophomore majoring in business-pre law and plans to study international law after earning his bachelor's degree.

Curtis, No damage was done. Because of bad weather, Sunday services at the Curtis Baptist Church were cancelled Jan. 3 and 10, according to Pastor Larry Niswonger.

A special film on Scotland was shown to observe the New Year and office hour followed. Sue and Heather Pann, of Arizona, visited the Niswongers recently. Heather played several piano solos during services while they were here.

Staff Sergeant Martin A. Niswonger has completed a temporary duty at Barksdale Air Force Base in Shreveport, La. While there, Niswonger attended N.C.O. Leadership School and was graduated on Dec. 17. Following Christmas leave with his parents, Pastor and Mrs. Larry Niswonger of Curtis, he is back on regular duty with the Security Police Division at K.I. Sawyer AFB. The Lakefield Nursing Center reports the following: "On Dec. 15 Peter Rahilly came and gave communion to our residents. "Mrs. Miller from the Salvation Army presented a film and led in Christmas singing on the 16th. She also presented each resident with slippers and goodies. Helen Tunney joined in a tea party on the 18th and brought cookies for the residents. "On the 18th, the residents enjoyed a van ride to Newberry to see the Christmas lights. Dave Grawberg also drove them around the town to see the residential lights. "Garner Loper celebrated her 72nd birthday on the 20th. "Pastor Parks joined us for worship services on Dec. 23. "The residents and staff wish to thank everyone for their donations to make a merrier Christmas. They are as follows: Curtis Baptist Church, West Lakefield Extension Club, Methodist Ladies, Lakefield Town

Board, Hillcrest Farm and the Odd-fellows. "The Lolly's visited and played games with the residents several times during the last of the month. "The staff hosted a New Year's Party for the residents - games were played and refreshments served." "2nd District Court, Harry L. Mr. and Mrs. Carl John Carlson

Watchorn marries Carlson

Crystal Jeanne Watchorn and Carl John Carlson, both of Escanaba, were married Nov. 28, 1981, in a 4 p.m. candlelight ceremony at the Ford River Community Chapel. The Rev. Lowell M. Fox of Cools performed the double-ring ceremony.

Parents of the bridal couple are Mr. and Mrs. Dale Watchorn of Isabella and Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Carlson of Powers.

Vocallist John Watchorn, cousin of the bride, and Gary Watchorn, brother of the bride, and organist Mary Snyder provided music for the ceremony. The bride and groom also sang a selection together.

Laurie McClinchay of Escanaba was maid of honor with Connie Anderson, Linda Fulcher, Sharon Williams and Patti Weber attending as bridesmaids. Larry Benson of Powers was best man and Dale Ray, Doug Motto and Todd Grondine served as groomsmen. Scott Wathorn, nephew of the bride, and Mike Wheeler, cousin of the groom, seated the guests. Brandy Watchorn, niece of the bride, was flower girl and Kevin Anderson was ring bearer.

The bride designed her wedding gown which was made by Lisa Ojanen. The white satin gown featured a Queen Anne neckline with lace applique and seed pearl trim on the bodice, waist and train. She carried a bridal bouquet of mauve, white, pink and purple silk flowers made by Cindy Silkworth.

Her attendants wore long gowns with cap sleeves and V-necklines. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Gladstone Armory.

The bride is a graduate of Big Bay de Noe School and is employed by the Little Friends Day Care Center in Escanaba. The groom is employed as sales representative. The couple will reside at 1600 So. 30th Ave., Lot 99, Escanaba.

At home with Sarah

by Sarah Bignall

Snow-snow - and more snow! It is pretty as a Christmas card when you look out at the trees with their branches heavy with snow. Everything is so white and clean. It is great insulation so therefore is saving on your heating bills and is also good for the perennials in your garden. It keeps the water pipes from freezing. (Yes, you can even think of something good when talking about the weather! This recipe is a "Snowball Cake". It is as pretty as a picture and easy to make. There is No Baking and it will serve 10.

Snowball Cake

- 2 teas. lemon juice
- 2 env. unflavored gelatin
- 1 cup boiling water
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 (20 oz.) can crushed pineapple
- 4 envelopes whipped topping mix
- 1 (10 oz.) angel food cake
- 1 (3% or 1) flaked coconut

Sprinkle gelatin over boiling water. Stir until dissolved. Add sugar, pineapple (whole can, not drained) and lemon juice. Stir well. Refrigerate until slightly thickened. Prepare 2 envelopes of topping mix and mix with gelatin mixture. Tear angel food cake into bite size pieces. Place layer of cake pieces in 2½ quart mold or bowl. Pour layer of gelatin mixture over cake. Repeat until all cake and gelatin mixture is used up. Refrigerate until firm.

Prepare remaining 2 envelopes of topping mix. Unmold cake on serving plate. Frost with topping and cover with coconut. DELICIOUS!

Did you know....a large egg has about 80 calories, 60 of which are in the yolk?

Sarah says....when hard boiling eggs to have on hand, stick one or two outer leaves (or skins) from an onion in the water, and the eggs will turn a beautiful golden color and will not effect the taste, even if an egg cracks. You then know at a glance which eggs in the refrigerator are hard boiled - or raw.

Food for thought....even though I'm not to blame, thank you for giving me the credit!

Society of Foresters Card marathon schedules are ready

St. Francis de Sales Court 992 of the National Catholic Society of Foresters gathered Tuesday evening in the library of the Parish Center. Secretary Dorothy Conlin distributed forms for annual activity reports to be filed with the national office.

President Mrs. Donald Hohlok reported that the Manistique Court and the local Council of the Knights of Columbus took care of the December Christmas treats for the school children. Mrs. Paul Dragos presented the auditors report for the recent quarter. Mrs. Hohlok asked Financial Secretary Miss Betty Falcette to compile a listing of twenty-five and fifty-year members who were awarded in 1957 and 1931, so pins may be ordered and subsequently awarded during the April installation of officers.

The current card marathon schedules, organized and printed by Mrs. Lawrence Savoie, Mrs. Ray Ranguette and Mrs. Conrad Jain, were available for this year's participants. Coffee and dessert was served by Mrs. Conlin and Mrs. Jack Phillips. Prizes were given to Mrs. Betty Falcette and Mrs. Melba McKenzie for card sales.

The Foresters will meet next on Tuesday, Feb. 9, when a nominating committee will be appointed to set up a slate of officers for the coming year.

Beat Gladstone Tuesday 63-51

Emeralds go for 9th Friday against Hematites

RANDY PETERSON of the Emeralds' varsity basketball team goes up in the air to act on Friday against the Norway Knights. Peterson had 3 points on the night to contribute to the 72-47 win over Norway. The Emeralds next travel to Islippening this Friday to try and extend their win streak to nine straight. (Gordon Archer photo)

JV's record is now 6-3

The Manistique J.V. basketball team won two of their last three games to raise their record to six wins and three losses. Last Thursday, the J.V.'s defeated Newberry 43 to 29. On Friday night the Emeralds were trounced by Norway 70 to 42, and on Tuesday the J.V.'s beat Gladstone 48 to 43. At Newberry, Manistique jumped out to a 13 to 6 first-quarter lead and kept a comfortable lead throughout the game. Dean Bolt led the Emeralds with 16 points and 16 rebounds. Denny McBurney also scored in double figures as he chipped in with 10 points. Other scorers were Ken Peterson 5 points, Kevin Anderson and Steve Calhoun 4 points each, and Jeff Erickson and Pat Braun with 2 points. Returning home Friday night, the J.V.'s went up against a powerful Norway J.V. team. For three quarters the young Emeralds kept the game close, trailing by 9 points at halftime and threatening to close the gap in the third quarter. The Knights really got going in the fourth quarter as they outscored Manistique 28 to 14 to clinch the victory. Dean Bolt and Ken Peterson scored in double figures for the Emeralds. Bolt had 12 points and Peterson added 10. Other scoring came from Kevin Anderson 6 points, Dave Reid 4 points and Denny McBurney, Jeff Erickson, Steve Calhoun, Steve Collingwood and Pat Braun, all with 2 points. The J.V. team got back on the winning track Tuesday night with a 48 to 43 win over Gladstone. The J.V.'s played a solid game offensively and defensively in picking up their sixth victory. A balanced scoring attack was also a key to the victory. Kevin Anderson with 14 points, Denny McBurney with 13 points and Dean Bolt with 11 points paced the Emeralds. Other scoring came from Ken Peterson and Steve Calhoun with 4 points each and Dave Reid with 2 points. The J.V.'s return to action Friday night at Islippening.

Hockey season opens

The Manistique Pee-wee hockey team suffered a 9-0 shutout at the hands of a Marquette team last Sunday at the County Fair building. The Marquette team, coached by former NMU hockey great Mike Mickey, bagged Pee-wee goalie Phillip Berger with 42 shots on goal during the contest. Berger recorded 33 saves and his Marquette counterpart B. The Pee-wees now have a 1-1 record on the season. Manistique Hockey Association action will resume this Saturday, Jan. 23, at the fair building when three local teams will host Escanaba. The Squirts will face off at 12 noon Saturday, the Pee-wees at 1:30 p.m. and the Bantams at 3 p.m. There is no admission charged to attend the games and anyone interested in watching the action is invited. Two weeks ago, on Jan. 16, Manistique hockey teams traveled to Newberry, where the Bantams came out on the short end of a 10-6 score. Hockey Association elected the following officers for 1982: Tom season after their losing season. Officer 51 to Escanaba Jan. 10. In person, president; Lois Hoholik, secretary and Larry Koski, treasurer.

The Emeralds varsity basketball squad rolled to its eighth straight victory with a 63-51 win over Gladstone Tuesday night, setting the scene for Friday's clash with the winless Islippening Hematites. Game time Friday at Islippening is 8 p.m. On Tuesday, because of a schedule change, Manistique will face Westwood at home, instead of on Feb. 2. The Emeralds were busy last weekend, too, stretching their streak with wins numbers six and seven over Newberry and Norway. A truly weird finish at Newberry Thursday saw Manistique squeak by the Indians 50-48, and the Emeralds handily defeated the Knights at home Friday 72-47. The Emeralds now have an 8-1 record overall and a 6-1 record in the Mid-Peninsula Conference, second only to undefeated Iron Mountain. Their play over the weekend boosted them up a notch in the U.P. Sportswriters and Sportscasters Association poll to third place behind Menominee and the Mountaineers. Tuesday's victory over the Gladstone Braves was described by Rubick as a solid team effort, featuring crisp passing and a balanced scoring attack. Although Manistique eventually opened up a 20-point lead over the Braves in the final period, the first quarter saw the Emeralds trailing before tying the score at 10 apiece going into the second quarter. In the second, the Emeralds worked smoothly on offense, outscoring Gladstone 20-10 and scoring the last 8 points of the half. It was more of the same after halftime, with the Emeralds widening their lead to 20-10 by the end of the first quarter. In the second quarter, the Emeralds led all scorers with 23 points and 13 rebounds, followed by Jim Bauman's 14 scoring for the Emeralds. Rubick 6, Clement 4, Nedeau 4, MacPhail 2, Hinkson 2. In Tuesday's contest against the Gladstone Braves, the freshmen brought their season record to 4-1 with a 58-46 victory. Center Jim Bauman turned in his best performance of the year, blocking 7 shots, grabbing 14 rebounds and scoring 12 points. Ed Clement

That was as close as the Knights were to get for the rest of the contest. By halftime, Manistique had a comfy 18-point cushion, letting the territory under the basket and pick away from the outside with jump shots. "We took what the defense gives you," Rubick said of his outside-shoot strategy. "You take your time and you take the outside shots—hopefully they will go in." Although most didn't—Manistique shot 47 percent from the field against the Knights, sinking 31 of 66 attempts—Norway's attempt 27 percent from the field gave the Emeralds the edge in offense. In the third period, the Knights managed to outscore Manistique 14-10 to pull within 14 at the start of the first quarter. Rubick waited until he had a 20-point lead with only 2:38 left in the game before pulling his first-string squad. The subs proved well, taking on another 9 guards while holding Norway to only four. Scoring for Manistique were Burin 18, Turan 12, Godlewski 8, Mills 8, Provo 6, Bosanic 4, Dan Mickelson 4, Doug Mickelson 3, Peterson 3, Cooper, Mills and Danilo 2. Score by quarters: Manistique: 10 20 20 13-63 Gladstone: 10 10 13 18-51

Freshmen go to 4-1 with victories

The freshmen basketball squad netted two wins over the past week over Gladstone and Mid-Peninsula. The freshmen had little trouble handling the Mid-Pen freshmen team Friday night as they rolled to an easy 59-19 victory. The Emeralds put 15 points on the board before Mid-Pen scored. Manistique's starting lineup of Archer, Burin, Bauman, Clement and Nedeau proved to be too strong, big and quick for the small Mid-Pen five. When it became obvious that the Emeralds had the game in hand, Coach Mike Oas used his reserves much of the second and fourth quarters. Dave Mills came off the bench, scoring 4 points and hauling down seven rebounds. Dave Archer led all scorers with 23 points and 13 rebounds, followed by Jim Bauman's 14 scoring for the Emeralds. Rubick 6, Clement 4, Nedeau 4, MacPhail 2, Hinkson 2. In Tuesday's contest against the Gladstone Braves, the freshmen brought their season record to 4-1 with a 58-46 victory. Center Jim Bauman turned in his best performance of the year, blocking 7 shots, grabbing 14 rebounds and scoring 12 points. Ed Clement seconds left in a game that saw the Emeralds behind 35-30 going into the fourth period. Manistique had a razor-thin 48-46 edge. Newberry's Dale Immel was at the line to attempt to tie the game. Rubick called time out just before Immel's first shot so "make him think about it," as he put it. Immel hit his first shot anyway to put the Indians within a point. Rubick again called the scoring table to call another time out until Immel tied the game with his second shot—he could send in two of his best shooters, Dan Mickelson and Randy Patz. He missed that shot, but center Ken Mills had stepped out from the lane and Immel was given a second chance. This time he made the game-tying shot and the roar from the first crowd drowned out the horn that would have stopped the game so Mickelson and Patz could come on court. The clock was running and Mills received the ball from the sidelines. He passed it Mike Godlewski, who sank a desperation 35-footer to bring apparently win the game as time expired. This point, however, the missed time out was discovered by the officials on court and the clock and score were reset to four seconds left and 48-48. This time around, Newberry deflected the pass in from the sidelines and Manistique took the ball in again, 48 seconds and three-quarters of the court away from overtime. "I've never seen or heard of anything like that," Rubick said of the game. "The game was close from the beginning, with the Emeralds down at the half by 18 to 35. They were tough," Rubick said of Newberry. "They played well and we played well. We just weren't shooting." Manistique shot only 32 percent from the field in the first half and 42 percent over the entire game. In an appropriate footnote to a strange game, all of Manistique's 50 points came from 25 baskets; the only Emerald free throw the entire game was missed. Free-throw percentage was zero. "The first time in my eight years we haven't made a free throw," Rubick commented. Burin led Manistique's scoring with 18, 10 of those in the fourth period to help set up the bizarre finale. Turan and Godlewski also had double figures for the Emeralds, hitting 13 apiece. Other scorers for Manistique: Mickelson 4 and Mickelson 2. Score by quarters: Manistique: 8 8 14 20-50 Newberry: 12 6 17 13-48

ALMOST EVERY TIME we mention the old Legion Cottage in Memories, someone asks for details about its appearance and location.

This is about the best photo we've come across, showing the whole building. See this week's Memories for some details.

Recalling Legion cottage, old radio and 1st lighthouse

Memories Jack Orr

The Legion Cottage was located on Maple Street on property now part of the new high school complex. As I recall, it consisted, in part, of the old home-ec building, the use of which was discontinued when the Junior High addition to the school building was completed, which included new home-ec facilities.

The old building contained rooms for meetings... As I recall we used to have H-Y meetings there... and this also became a part of the new Legion facility. The front part, seen here in my photo, was mostly new and was very tastefully decorated in knotty pine and had some very nice hardwood furniture. The building was used by organizations other than the Legion and was finally lost to fire.

While cruising through town the other day with the radio on, the station we had identified itself as KDKA. Remember? This was one of the very first stations when radio became the national pastime back in the early Twenties; Pittsburgh, wasn't it? (There was one other New York station I meant to mention but the call letters escape me now. Another sign of advancing age.)

I recall going over to the Westside Drug Store, then located in what later became Northern Woodens, to hear the Dempsey - Tunney fight on their radio. They sold RCA sets and had very good reception, everything considered. We were "ear-witness" spectators that night to the famous fight. There couldn't have been too many sets in town at the time; we had one at home, spread over a couple of card tables, but we didn't have the power to bring in the fight.

Bruce Lindsay of the Mead Paper Co. brought this little item in; it appears to be a report to the President, made after a scouting trip to this territory before Michigan became a state.

"The surveyors who went to survey Michigan territory have been obliged to suspend their operations until the country shall be sufficiently frozen as to bear man and beast. It is low wet land, with a thick growth of underbrush. Swamps are found interspersed throughout the whole country. The whole territory will not be worth the expense of surveying it. I think the President should stop any further work and abandon the territory. Michigan is largely an uninhabitable swamp."

Edward Tiffin
Surveyor General
November 30, 1815

Looks to me like Mr. Tiffin paid some Indians to show him the U.P. and they very wisely showed him the places that would ensure a lack of interest by the federal government. Probably took him out into the Haymeadow marshes in mosquito season, and came back down to Lake Michigan via the Manistique River when the deer flies were hungry.

During World War I, when "Francis Mack" M Namara was fourteen years old, he worked in a lumber camp on the High Rollways operated by Julius Phillips. Francis' job was to take a horse-drawn stone boat and load it with hot food for the "jack" lunch in the woods. Martha Schubring was the cook and a darn good one. The men always got good hot food at noon and this means that Julius must have run a good camp.

Hardwood logs were floated down the river with the help of "floaters;" these were pine or cedar logs and three of them were interspersed into a raft of nine hardwood logs to keep them on the surface for the ride to the mill. The raft was tied at the ends with cross-sticks to keep the logs together. Francis remembers Sid Grace very well. (We've mentioned Sid off and on in Memories: one of the early lumberjacks.) He says Sid was just a little guy but real strong; he could handle a tie-cut like it was a toothpick.

One time I saw a photo of this part of Lakeside and the only buildings standing at the time were the Coast Guard building and our house. Word had come to me that the present breakwater was built in 1915, and the lighthouse and light-keepers residence went up the following year. The first keeper was Capt. C.E. Costlet, who died in 1919. He was followed by Walter Ottesen and I went to school with some of his kids. Seems like yesterday.

Short or long tax form? Here's some advice from IRS

While the IRS encourages as many taxpayers as possible to use the simpler 1040A form, there will be millions of taxpayers who will find it to their advantage to itemize deductions on the 1040 form.

Generally, you will benefit from itemizing deductions if you paid interest and taxes on a home you own, had unusually large uninsured medical and dental expenses during the year, made large contributions to qualified charitable organizations, or had major uninsured casualty losses. What this means is that you will probably have itemized deductions totalling more than the zero bracket amount appropriate to your filing status.

Taxpayers who itemize deductions reduce their adjusted gross income by their excess itemized deductions. Excess itemized deductions are the amount, by which total itemized deductions exceed the zero bracket amount. For example, a married couple filing jointly, with itemized deductions of $5,500, would subtract their zero bracket amount of $3,400 from the $5,500 in order to determine their excess itemized deductions of $2,100.

Although adjusted gross income is reduced by only the excess itemized deductions, all deductions are allowed. This is because the zero bracket amount is incorporated into the Tax Tables and the Tax Rate Schedules.

Itemized deductions are nonbusiness deductions. If you itemize your deductions, you must file Form 1040 and fill in Schedule A (Form 1040). Schedule A provides space for listing deductible medical and dental expenses, charitable contributions, taxes, interest paid, casualty or theft losses, and miscellaneous items such as union dues.

If you itemize, you should keep a record of your deductible items, including cancelled checks and receipts. This will verify your expenses should the Internal Revenue Service examine your return. It will also help you determine whether your itemized deductions are greater than your zero bracket amount.

Taxpayers who itemize can take advantage of many deductible expenses.

Here's a brief explanation from the IRS of some types of deductions available:

Charitable Contributions
Generally, you may deduct contributions you paid to any qualified organization established and operated exclusively for charitable, religious, educational, scientific, or literary purposes, or for the prevention of cruelty to children or animals; to fraternal organizations if the contributions are used for charitable purposes; to veterans' organizations; or governmental agencies if you use the gifts exclusively for public purposes.

This means that you may deduct your contributions to most religious organizations, a community fund, Boy Scouts, the YMCA, the Red Cross, the American Cancer Society, CARE, Veterans of Foreign Wars, etc. You may not deduct contributions to civic leagues or chambers of commerce.

If you donate property other than money, you must base your deduction on the fair market value of the property, that is, the amount you could reasonably charge if you were selling the property.

Bear in mind that a contribution is only a contribution at the time of its delivery. Pledges are not contributions until you make payment. Also, if a contribution results in a personal benefit, all or part of it may not be deductible. For example, if you buy a $50 ticket for a church benefit and receive a meal at the function worth $15, you can only claim $35 as a charitable contribution.

Medical Expenses
You may deduct the medical expenses you paid during the year, to the extent that they exceed three percent of your adjusted gross income. If you were reimbursed by insurance or otherwise, that amount must be subtracted from your medical expenses.

Payments for the diagnosis, cure, prevention, or treatment of a physical or mental illness are deductible as are payments for the purpose of affecting any structure or function of the body.

In general, deductible medical expenses include your payments to doctors, dentists, psychiatrists, etc.; payments to hospitals for service, laboratory fees, x-rays, etc.; and payments for eyeglasses, hearing aids and parts, dentures, crutches, etc.

What is not allowed are things such as a trip to "get away from it all," even if advised by a doctor, health club dues, maternity clothes, or diaper service.

Expenses for transportation that are essential to medical care—such as getting to and from a doctor's office—may be included in medical expenses. These include taxi, bus, train, or plane fares.

If you use your car, you may deduct the actual out-of-pocket expenses, such as gas and oil, or nine cents for each mile you use your car for this purpose. You may deduct parking fees and tolls in addition to your actual operating expenses or deducting nine cents a mile. You must, of course, keep track of such expenses.

You may also include as part of your medical expenses, subject to the three percent limitation, your payments for medicines and drugs that are more than one percent of your adjusted gross income. You may include the cost of medicines and drugs whether or not prescriptions are required to obtain them.

There is only one exception to the three percent limitation on medical expenses. You may deduct, without that limitation, one-half of what you paid for medical insurance during the year, or $150, whichever is less. The rest of the payment for medical insurance may be included with your other medical expenses subject to the three percent limitation.

The interest you paid during the year on a debt for which you are legally responsible is deductible. This includes such debts as a car loan, a bank loan, an educational loan, or a mortgage on your home.

However, if in 1981 you prepaid interest allocable to any period after 1981, you can only deduct the amount of interest allocable to 1981 on your 1981 return.

If you buy such things as clothing, a radio or TV set, furniture or household appliances on an installment plan or a budget charge account or credit card that list a finance charge, you may treat the finance charge payment as interest.

In general, the IRS says that interest deductions must meet the following tests: the interest must result from an actual debtor-creditor relationship; the interest must be based on a valid obligation to pay a fixed sum of money, and the debt must be one for which you are legally liable.

Taxes
The following state or local taxes that you paid during the year are deductible: income tax (including tax withheld or paid as estimated tax during the year), real property tax, personal property tax, general sales tax, and contributions to certain state disability benefit funds.

Remember, the tax on certain major purchases—car, motorcycle, motorhome, truck, boat, plane, mobile home, or materials purchased to build a new home—can be deducted in addition to the sales tax table amount. Personal property taxes assessed by some states, especially on cars, may be deductible if they are based on the value of the personal property and are imposed annually.

The 1981 Optional State Sales Tax Tables are a convenient reference for determining the amount you may be able to deduct for those taxes. Generally, no federal taxes are deductible on your federal income tax return.

Miscellaneous Deductions
These deductions include such items as union dues, the cost of safety equipment, tools, and supplies used in your job, including professional and trade journals, and expenses incurred in seeking new employment in the same trade or business. Job hunting expenses are not deductible if you're seeking employment in a new field of work.

Under the category of miscellaneous deductions you can also deduct the rent on your safety deposit box if you keep income-producing items in it, such as stocks and bonds. Taxpayers who hire someone to prepare their tax returns can also deduct the fee paid to the preparer. Also, beginning in 1981, certain adoption expenses may also be deductible.

Hulla assigned to Texas air base

Airman Bryon M. Hulla, son of Raymond M. Hulla of Manistique, has been assigned to Sheppard Air Force Base, Texas, after completing Air Force basic training.

During the six weeks at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas, the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special training in human relations.

In addition, airman who complete basic training earn credits toward an associate degree in applied science through the Community College of the Air Force.

The airman will now receive specialized instruction in the accounting and finance field.

His wife, Chris, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hackney of Manistique.

He is a 1978 graduate of Manistique High School.

Protect your pet from the cold

In view of the fact that several pets have frozen to death in the area recently, the Humane Society of Schoolcraft County would like to remind pet owners to take proper care of dogs and cats during severe cold weather.

Even though animals have fur coats, they are warm blooded and can easily freeze. Older pets as well as puppies and kittens are most susceptible to the cold weather. Because cats' ears are paper thin, they can readily suffer frostbite when exposed to sub-freezing temperatures.

Even when outdoor shelter is provided, it may be difficult for an animal to warm the space efficiently with his own body heat.

The Humane Society recommends bringing dogs and cats indoors when extremely cold weather hits. Let your pet out to relieve himself and then permit him to return to the house.

NOW, Being a Non-Smoker Can Do More than Just Improve Your Health

It Can Reduce Your Homeowners Insurance Rates By 10%. Too!

We've known for years that not smoking was a good idea for health reasons, and now, it's a good idea for homeowners' insurance reasons, too. Citizens Insurance Company of America is offering a 10% discount on homeowners' insurance for non-smoking households.

All you have to do to qualify is to verify that you are residing in your home has smoked for the past year, or your Citizens homeowners' premium is reduced by 10%. It's that simple.

The New Tax-Deferred Individual Retirement Accounts-IRAs.

It's nice to have someone take care of you. But it's even nicer to feel confident that you can take care of yourself. Especially when you retire.

To start building that confidence, talk to the professionals at our FULL SERVICE BANK about setting up a tax-deferred individual Retirement Account (IRA).

Starting in 1982, IRAs became available to almost everyone (even individuals already covered by a company pension).

With the new IRAs, you as an individual may deposit up to $2,000 a year.

We'll even help you set up a convenient payment schedule. Letting you make your deposits by the week, by the month, or whatever suits you best.

You then deduct the annual investment from your taxable income. And pay no federal taxes on the interest until you start withdrawing funds (minimum age: 59½).

Then, when you retire, you'll probably be in a lower tax bracket, able to hold on to the lion's share of your nest egg.

For complete details about the new IRAs, talk to the professionals at our FULL SERVICE BANK today. Then you won't have to worry about social insecurity tomorrow.

	$800 INVESTMENT	$1,000 INVESTMENT	$2,000 INVESTMENT
at end of each year for 30 years	$15,000	$30,000	$60,000
Total Investment After 30 Years	$135,146	$270,292	$540,585

Note: This chart is intended to be an example of how regular deposits into an IRA can grow into a substantial sum. This is not a guarantee of interest rates or financial results.

WE'VE GOT THE ANSWERS.

By Diane McClelland

Is this weather ever going to break? Hard to get your car motor in gear. Let alone your own motor. Wouldn't it be nice to go out and not wade in snow knee high? Oh well, warmer days are ahead. Remember last July when it was 95 degrees in the shade and we wished for some cooler weather? Surprise! Your wish came true, it's here!

I don't know about you, but I think I have a case of cabin fever. I'm tired of staying inside. I need something new and different to do. But in this weather it's more comfortable to stay where it's warm.

So what I decided to do was make a list of things to do for everyting. I even made a second list to make sure I haven't forgotten anything on the first list of all the projects that I have started and never completed. Good idea, right? Here's what I came up with:

(1.) Finish the alphabet for my sister. I started this alphabet six years ago for a house-warming present.

(2.) Answer letters from friends. If I can find them and the pages haven't yellowed. I better sign my last name so they remember who I am.

(3.) Balance my checkbook. No need to say more.

(4.) Clean out closets. I guess I can get rid of my son's baby clothes. They don't fit anymore.

I thought this should keep me busy for awhile. I decided to start at the top and work my way down:

(1.) I dug out the unfinished alphabet. Looked big enough to me. I can put it over her lap. One job done.

(2.) Called my friends. So much better than a letter. Two down.

(3.) Haven't heard from the bank. Must be okay. One to go.

(4.) You never know when your going to need baby clothes or any of the other treasures that are in closets. Better hang on to everything.

I sure feel a lot better knowing that I got so much accomplished this weekend!

Just two reminders: January 27, Lane Dawson from the Marquette Bus Service will be here at 12:30 p.m., discussing trips offered to senior citizen's.

January 29 - Attorney Pat Kelly will be speaking on Will and Estate Planning at 12:30 p.m.

Mrs. Down was born in Kalkaska County near Fire Lake on Jan. 14, 1892 and was married at Kingsley, Mich., in 1917. The Downes lived at Fire Lake for 12 years after leaving the U.F. before moving to Flint in 1976.

Mrs. Down was guest of honor at a party with her family on Sunday. She has three children, seven grandchildren, 14 great-grandchildren and 7 great-great grandchildren.

Asked what she saw as the greatest change in society during her 90 years, Mrs. Down cited a "loss of a sense of values." As for the secret to her longevity, she replied "keep going - don't let little pains, aches and disappointments get you down."
