

County to try again on 2 mills for medical care facility

The County Board decided Friday to ask voters in Schoolcraft County once again to approve a property tax increase to fund operation of the county medical care facility.

The millage request will be voted upon at the Aug. 10 primary election. The wording of the request will be exactly the same as one defeated narrowly in a special election Feb. 9. The request will ask voters to pay up to two additional mills in property taxes. 24 percent of those eligible, casting ballots.

The board decided to put the issue on the primary ballot at a special meeting Friday held to beat a tax for three years to help fund operation of the medical care facility. In the February election, the proposal for increased property tax was defeated by 20 votes with 1,541 Tuesday deadline for ballot questions.

After the defeat in February, the board looked at alternatives to higher taxes in operating the facility, including selling it to a private operator. According to Board Member Bill Tenyson, negotiations with owners of the Lakefield Nursing Home, among others, did not lead to a suitable proposal.

In introducing the arrangement to put the millage question on the August ballot, Tenyson said, "I think we better do it to keep the county solvent for the next couple of years."

The money would be used to pay bills the county has been receiving from the state under a complicated funding scheme signed into law last April. Those bills amounted to $163,000 for 1981 and are expected to run about $200,000 a year in the future.

Instead of paying the bills for last year, the county deposited $163,000 in a special account to see if the state would force payment. The money to put in the special account came from the county's 1980 surplus and money left over from the Medical Care Facility's own budget.

While the county continued to receive monthly bills, it was not until this week that County Treasurer Bill Tenyson received a letter demanding payment of the bills within 30 days. Those bills from last year and through April this year were for $246,100. County said he would not pay any money to the state until directed by the County Board. Board members contacted this week said the matter would probably be discussed at this Friday's board meeting. But that the board was shocked that the state was the county for the money.

In anticipation of eventually having to pay the bills, however, the board decided to again ask voters for the millage. Since the proposal specified up to 2 mills in increase property tax, the mill 2 mills was not the best of alternatives are found.

Board Member Lindsay Frenette said at Friday's meeting cost-cutting measures such as combining the hospital and medical care facility into one operation should be investigated. "It's like to see some changes," he said. "Put it under the hospital and combine some of the services and see if we can cut some of the costs. We should be looking to see if we can run it as one operation."

Board Chairman Merwin White agreed that a combination hospital medical care facility might solve some problems but added "with the understanding that we will investigate other things we have that Tuesday deadline to meet to get the millage proposal on the ballot."

In other matters, the board:

- Heard that the state Department of Corrections had ordered that more deputies be hired to act as guards at the county jail.

The order said that the jail must have a security guard at all times on the second floor to watch inmates. Most cells in the jail are on the second floor and the order would require an additional deputy 24 hours a day whenever one of the cells was occupied.

White said the orders came because of new requirements set by the Department of Corrections and that the county would request an exemption. County Prosecutor Bruce Plackowski said "considering everybody in Michigan is getting the same thing and nobody is going to be able

BLOWING, BLOWING.—If you think coaching third base during a Little League game is all glamor and excitement, think again. Sometimes VFW team Saturday morning and brushed up his bubble-blowing prowess to pass the time. Maybe it helped—Schurer's won the game.

Germfask elderly housing site jeopardized by poor soil drainage

The 16-unit elderly housing project planned in Germfask appears to be in jeopardy and may be combined with a larger project planned for Manistiquie.

A report heard Friday by the County Housing Commission indicated that the soil at the site was not suitable for a septic system. That report seemed to come as a surprise to the commission, since working drawings for the project have already been completed and groundbreaking was expected to take place sometime this summer.

The Germfask project is part of senior citizen housing project financed by the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) that includes a 48-unit apartment building in Manistiquie.

The Housing Commission held a special meeting Friday to hear a report from a soil testing firm and decide what action to take. The report said in essence that the planned site for the septic system did not have adequate drainage.

The commission voted Friday to have Mark McCune, sanitarian with the district Health Department, take soil samples from another location on the seven-acre site to see if the soil there was more suitable for a septic system. If it were not, the commission's resolution said, the Germfask site would be scrapped and the entire 64 units would be built in Manistiquie.

McCune took the soil samples Monday and said Tuesday they appeared to be even less suitable for a septic system. That would appear to seal the fate of the Germfask site, according to the resolutions passed by the commission Friday.

However, Commission Chairman Bill Tenyson said Tuesday that he would meet Wednesday with McCune and his boss, James Shifflet, to see if any alternative could be worked out.

One alternative to be discussed, according to Tenyson, was whether sandy soil with adequate drainage could be brought to the site to improve the soil conditions there. "We can't dump this thing without trying every possible resort," Tenyson said. "Germfask needs the housing. If there is a possible chance at all that we can put it there, we would like to do it."

"By Friday, we expect to have it one way or the other," he promised worried out on the system will need HUD approval, however.

Finding a suitable site in Germfask has been an uphill battle by the commission. After getting HUD approval for the project last May, the commission considered a dozen sites before settling on the current location in August of 1981.

The L-shaped parcel of land is currently owned by four separate people, but the commission holds options, for which it paid $400, to purchase the land at a cost of $19,400. The parcel is on the corner on Ten Curves Road and Losey Road in Germfask.

If the decision is made to have the entire 64 units of senior citizen housing at Manistiquie, it would delay the start of the project even longer. Lou Barone of Green Bay, the architect for the $3 million project, said redesigning the Manistiquie complex to accommodate 64 instead of 48 units would cause a delay of at least seven weeks.

The L-shaped parcel of land is currently owned by four separate people, but the commission holds

To join private law firm

Plackowski resigns as prosecutor

Come July 1, Schoolcraft County will lose a prosecuting attorney but gain a new law firm.

In an announcement last week, Prosecuting Attorney Bruce Plackowski said he would step down from his office July 1 to join the Escanaba law firm of Davis, Olsen and Filoramo.

At the same time, Plackowski said, the firm would purchase the firm of Manistiquie attorney Pat Kelly and be re-named Davis, Olsen, Filoramo and Plackowski. Plackowski would work full-time at the new Manistiquie office of the law firm and the rest of the partners would spend time here on a rotating schedule.

Kelly, who he said plans to move from Manistiquie sometime in August, has been an attorney here for 10 years.

Plackowski was elected prosecuting attorney in November of 1979 and took office in January of 1980. His term runs until December of 1984.

Exactly how a replacement will be chosen is up to Circuit Court Judge William F. Hood. By law, Hood said Tuesday, the selection of a replacement for Plackowski falls to the circuit court judge.

Whether the appointment by Hood would be effective until the end of Plackowski's term in 1984 or only until the November general election was not clear. The law, according to Hood, says that a vacancy occurring over 150 days before the next general election will be filled at the election. If the "vacancy" by Plackowski begins July 1, Hood's appointee would serve until 1984. But, if the vacancy is interpreted as beginning on the date of Plackowski's resignation announcement, voters would choose a new prosecutor in November, with Hood's appointee serving only in an interim capacity.

At any rate, Hood said he "will certainly be glad to hear from anybody who is interested" in the job, but added he did not know when he would be making an appointment to replace Plackowski.

Plackowski said he decided to resign and join the law firm two weeks ago. "This represents a real good opportunity for me. It pretty much represents the opportunity to continue the quality that has come out of this office" under Kelly, Plackowski said.

In a press release, Plackowski said his decision was not without reservations. "It is with a certain amount of sadness that I am leaving the prosecuting attorney's office. Everyone with whom I have worked has treated me in an extremely professional manner. This is particularly true of the police agencies whom I consider to be top-notch professionals."

"However, I consider the opportunity to acquire Mr. Kelly's law firm as a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity. Its appeal is enhanced by the chance to join with the reputable and competent law firm of Davis, Olsen and Filoramo," Plackowski wrote.

He said he "will try to tie up current cases and will work with my replacement" to ease the transition.

The law firm that Plackowski will be joining was established in 1977 by attorneys Steve Davis and Gary Olsen in Escanaba.

In 1981, John Filoramo, former assistant prosecuting attorney for Delta County, joined as a partner. Greg Rotter, another attorney, works for the firm as an associate.

Kelly said that negotiations between the firm, Plackowski and himself had been going on for the past few weeks, but would not say how much was paid for the law office.

When asked if Davis, Olsen and Filoramo had long been seeking a Manistiquie office or if the decision was a sudden one, Filoramo said "it was a combination of both. It was a good opportunity and our firm has clients over here. It will be more convenient for our clients."

Plackowski said that joining the firm meant a long-term local commitment for him. "I look upon this as a commitment to serve this community in a private capacity. My only regret is that I will not be working with the people with whom I have established a very good and close working relationship as prosecuting attorney," Plackowski noted.

There's a new doctor in town: Dr. Ruben Fabrega began work at the Manistiquie Medical Center last Thursday.

Fabrega, 29, moved to Manistiquie May 29 from New York City where he completed a fellowship with the Memorial Sloan-Kettering Hospital there.

A native of Panama and a Panamanian citizen, Fabrega first heard about Manistiquie through Dr. Luis Mosquera, who started his surgical practice here a year ago. Fabrega said he is second cousin to Mosquera's wife, Matilde, and that his friendship with the Mosqueras was a factor in his decision to come to Manistiquie.

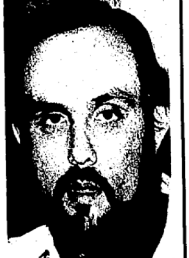

"I have known Dr. Mosquera for a long time. I've worked in the same institutions for as long as I can remember. He is responsible, I guess, for bringing me here," Fabrega said.

He is licensed to practice medicine in both New York and Michigan and is eligible for certification in medical oncology.

Currently living in a rented house on Range Street, Fabrega said that the small-town atmosphere of Manistiquie is a welcome change of pace. "The area is very different than what I'm used to. I've been in two big cities and there is really no time to do anything with my family."

"Everyone here is so friendly. I like the place very much," Fabrega said. He first visited Manistiquie late last November and made the decision then to move here.

Fabrega and his wife, Nanette, have two children: Miguel, 6, who will begin kindergarten in the fall and Gustavo, 3.

After coming to the United States in 1980, Fabrega completed a one-year fellowship in medical oncology at Houston's M.D. Anderson Hospital. He then moved to New York for requestion in 1979, was defeated but ended up getting appointed to the seat anyway when the elected candidate resigned before taking office. He served for a year and chose not to be re-elected in 1980.

Most recently, Steinfield was appointed to fill the vacancy left by the departure of Board Member Mary Nance last year. "I guess I volunteered as much as being elected," he noted. Why does he do it? "I would just like to contribute my time to the betterment of education. I think I have helped in the past and I think the quality of the schools has risen in the past six or seven years."

Veresan, too, has served on the board by appointment. She was appointed in June of 1980 to fill the remainder of the term of Virginia Stark, who resigned. When she ran for election in 1981, she was defeated.

"I'm running because I enjoyed the experience of the year I was appointed and was secretary of the board. I see very little interest by the people and I feel it is a very important job," Veresan said. She is also a candidate for the County Board in the August primary election. She said she feels she can do both jobs if elected.

"I wouldn't run for both if I didn't think I had the time to do them well. I see a need in both places and I don't see much interest in either place."

Reque's last-minute bid as a write-in candidate for the school board was launched Wednesday when a committee to elect him placed an advertisement in the Pioneer-Tribune (see page 4B).

Reque was unavailable for comment Wednesday. He is owner of the Three Mile Supper Club on County Road 442.

In the millage election, voters will decide the fate of a request for an increase in the operational property tax levy of eight-tenths mill. For a house and property worth $40,000, that increase would cost the property owner an additional $16 a year.

The increase would generate an estimated $64,000 in revenue for the school district. According to Superintendent Richard Bonitas, if the millage is approved, it would be the first increase in voted operational millage since 1978.

Currently, the district operates the schools with 19 voted mills and eight allocated mills, for a total of 27.

When the School Board first decided to request the millage increase in 1980, it was facing a $35,000 deficit in its projected budget.

Hungarian Goulash is a delicious meal that you can make up ahead of time and serve when you are ready to eat. It is especially nice when you are expecting out of town company because it can be prepared ahead and you will be able to spend the time you would be cooking, visiting. Instead you can use an inexpensive cut of meat - stewing beef or chuck roast - and it will be fork tender when you serve it. You can also use a crock pot if you prefer or simmer on top of the stove.

HUNGARIAN GOULASH

Brown: 2 1/2 lbs. cubed beef with 2 chopped onions
dash of garlic powder
Add: 1/4 teas. dry mustard
1 Tbl. paprika
dash pepper

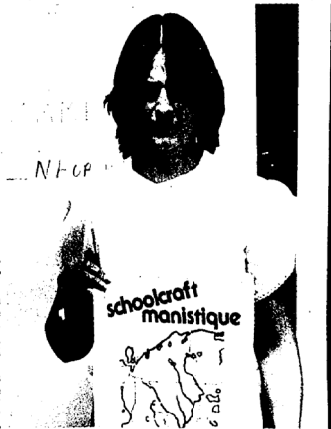

2 teas. salt
1 Tbl. brown sugar
1/4 cup worcestershire sauce
1 teas. vinegar
1/2 cup catsup
2 cups water

Simmer one hour or until meat is very tender. Thicken with cornstarch and water. Serve over cooked broad noodles or rice. Serves 6.

Sarah says...I haven't had to try this yet, but I read recently that Vanilla works much better than tomato juice when your dog gets too friendly with a skunk. Yes, vanilla is very expensive but you don't need to use very much - whereas one or two cans of tomato juice aren't that cheap either. Also, it is easier on the skin.

Be sure to check pets and children after any trip into the woods. Wood ticks are particularly numerous this summer, so be aware!

School Millage Too many questions

Voters in the Manistiquie Area School District will decide two important issues at the district's annual election Monday.

First, they will elect two members of the School Board to four-year terms. Although only two candidates' names will appear on the ballot, the last-minute announcement of a write-in campaign will allow voters to have a choice (see story, page 1A). While we have no preference among the candidates, we commend all of them for their willingness to run and encourage residents to get out and take their pick.

The second issue, of course, is whether voters will increase their property taxes by eight-tenths of a mill for the next four years.

That millage proposal started out in April with the School Board saying it needed half a mill (which would generate about $37,000) to balance its 1982-83 budget and three-tenths of a mill (worth about $27,000) to upgrade the computer science program at the high school.

While we raised several questions, then—never answered—about exactly what the computer millage would be used for, the millage request was clear enough.

That's not true any more. Since the April proposal, estimates of the current year's "fund equity"—money the district expects to receive but not spend this year—have ballooned from $14,000 to over $151,000 in the latest available financial report.

It doesn't take much financial acumen to realize that the $37,000 increase in the fund equity is more than enough to wipe out the projected $35,000 deficit in next year's budget—the deficit that, originally, was the justification for the lion's share of the millage increase request.

So what will the millage revenue be used for, if not to balance the budget? Not to restore many of the items cut last year when voters defeated a millage increase. Those items, such as the athletic program, opening of the swimming pool and a host of student services, are included in the budget that the increased fund equity will help balance.

When the question was raised at the last meeting of the School Board, board members pointed out that the projections, both of the fund equity this year and of next year's budget, were fraught with uncertainties. If the projections do eventually turn out to be accurate, they continued, it was the board's prerogative to then decide what to do with the extra money.

True enough, but we feel the board begged the question. In tough economic times like these, when voters are asked to increase their taxes, we feel it is incumbent on the School Board to say exactly, based on the best possible information, how it plans to spend the money from those taxes. That's especially true when the original goal of part of the tax increase—a balanced budget—appears attainable without the higher taxes.

Until the board is willing to spell out to voters what the increased tax revenue will be spent on, we see no reason to support the millage request.

Dear Editor:

The 1982 C.B.C. Drive closed June 4 after raising over $21,000.00, which was distributed equally to the American Cancer Society, Bay Cliff Health Camp, and Easter Seals-Crippled Children. The people of Manistiquie and Schoolcraft County again demonstrated how they can work together towards a common goal. The combined efforts and generosity of the people of our area helped to make this the most successful C.B.C. Drive to date. I was proud to be a part of it.

Special thanks to WTIO Radio, Manistiquie TV Cable Company, The Manistiquie Pioneer-Tribune and The Daily Press for their cooperation. Many fine local service clubs and organizations also helped us again. Space does not allow us to thank the approximately 200 people who participated in the C.B.C. Drive in some way. On behalf of the C.B.C. Committee, I extend our sincere appreciation.

In these uncertain economic times, the spirit and generosity of the people of Manistiquie and Schoolcraft County is something we can all be proud of.

OOPS! Efforts to dig trenches to get out of hand lat week-end ditch was buried utility when in the area of the little, too close to the side of the municipal downtown parking lot on Shadow Box gift shop building and the east side of Cedar Street got out.

THE SKI HILL in Manistiquie is worth a visit even during the warm weather. A short climb rewards better views available of the local area making it with one of the surroundings.

Fourth of July schedule shaping up

Gentlemen, start your beards—the Paul Bunyan look-alike contest to be judged July 3 is fast approaching.

The schedule of that and many other activities for Manistiquie's Fourth of July celebration is taking shape, according to the committee organizing the festivities. Scheduled for the second and third, the activities will begin Friday afternoon and wind up Saturday night. Here is a tentative list of what will be going on and who to contact if you want to participate or lend a hand:

Friday July 2-9 p.m.: Kiddie Parade from the Manistiquie High School to the marina. Contact Billie Doyle, 6:30 p.m.: water ski demonstration at the marina. Contact Mary Kay Wood.

9 p.m.: Paul Bunyan look-alike contest judging at Pioneer Park. Contact Paul McClelland for details. 10 p.m.: "Venetian Night." A waterborne parade of lighted and decorated boats. To enter, contact Carol Marcella.

Saturday, July 3--7:30 a.m.: Fun Run from Thompson to Lincoln School. Contact Michelle Dougovito to enter. 7:30 a.m.: Republican Party pancake breakfast. Contact Elleen Males, 9:30 a.m.: softball tournament begins. Contact Tom Ellsworth.

10 a.m.: adult parade from Fifth Street to the St. Francis de Sales School begins. Contact Dan Malley to enter or help out. Noon: Church bells ring, downtown flea market, pony rides, concession stands and other activities start. Contact Paul McClelland, 1 p.m.: Canoe races and greased pole climb at the marina. Contact Jerry Renk, 10:15 p.m.: fireworks at Central Park.

PASS THE BUCK: The Fourth of July Committee is trying to raise $3,000 to offset the cost of fireworks and other expenses of this year's celebration. It hopes that everyone in town will chip in a dollar like Phillip Quinn, left, did in giving his buck to committee Chairman Paul McClelland.

Is the town Christmas tree a dying symbol now?

Dear Editor:

A tree was planted in the town center two years ago after two and one half days of excavating with a crew of five and a wrecker on hand—all on taxpayers' money to give the city a festive look year after year at Christmas!

This is fine, providing the tree grows, but a sad sight meets the eye when it turns red and wilts after all that effort and time.

To uproot the tree from where it flourishes could have been done without killing it had a nursery taken over the project. They guarantee results at less expense.

We know the tourists look on our area as a beauty spot and our city each year asks us to fix up, clean up and paint up—to let us all remember the slogan and also save a bit!

In regards to tourists and servicing a long-neglected showpiece, when will the boarded-up windows be removed to let them see a unique hook and ladder rig of our city's fire department's early days? This new, quite-unusual fire apparatus will always be a valued showpiece and to visitors and traveling fire buffs alike, much talked about.

Let's not keep it in a time capsule after the many years it was shown to the public at the River Street Station.

Seniors appreciate gifts

Dear Editor:

I feel there are two institutions in this community that deserve a thank you for the tremendous job they have done in the area of community service.

I would like to thank Manistiquie Papers Incorporated for underwriting the cost of the senior graduation pictures. These pictures are valuable to the seniors as they reflect on their graduation ceremony.

I would also like to thank the First National Bank for providing our graduates with pocket diplomas. Our graduates find these pocket diplomas very useful.

It is indeed heartening to have institutions such as the First National

Millage vote is Monday

Improvement of the high school's computer science program. Details of how the $27,000 generated by that millage would be spent were never spelled out. Bonifas said in the news release only that the money would be "designated for curriculum improvement, with initial emphasis being placed in computer programming. This would specifically be in the areas of staff in-service (training), purchasing of hardware and software and student instruction."

Polls will open Monday at 7 a.m. and close at 8 p.m. The eight polling places in the district are the Thompson, Doyle, Mueller and Germfask Township Halls, and Hiawatha, Fairview, Lincoln and Lakeside Elementary Schools.

The half-mill increase originally intended to eliminate the deficit will now be used, according to a news release by Bonifas, to assist the district in maintaining its financial solvency. Five-tenths of a mill would be utilized in priority areas of instructional and teaching supplies and equipment.

One item not included in the proposed budget is any increase in teachers' or other school workers' pay. If negotiations with unions currently underway result in higher pay rates, the extra cost of the raises would presumably come from the additional millage.

The other three-tenths of a mill was requested by the board for of the building, a task that would take a week to 10 days. Then, if the new floor plan was approved by both the Housing Commission and HUD, another six to eight weeks would be required to develop working drawings.

Also, Barone said, the redesigned Manistiquie complex would have to be enlarged by 18 units instead of 16, since HUD will not approve a four-story building. Additions to the existing three-story design would have to be made in multiples of six units, Barone said.

Barone said he was not optimistic that any compromise could be worked that would allow the Septic system to be incorporated into the Germfask site. "I don't think the conditions there are going to change," he said.

Asked why the soil testing by the consultant was delayed until this spring, Barone said that it could not begin until HUD had approved a "proposal packet" developed by Barone and the Housing Commission. That packet was not approved until early this year, he said, and the soil testing had to wait until the snow had melted and soaked into the ground.

Even if he is forced to redesign the Manistiquie project to take in the Germfask units, Barone said ground-breaking could still take place this year. "It pushes us into starting in October some time, which is terrible in a way," he said.

to comply with it, the chances for getting an exemption were good.

Headed from Tension that the plans, having projects planned by the courts may not be able to build in apartments in Germfask as originally hoped. Past drainage in the soil at the Germfask site created problems with installation of a septic system, Tension said. If not feasible, Tension said that the Germfask project might be combined with a 48-unit complex planned in Manistiquie (see related story).

Approved a contract with Sheriff Lloyd Gray to increase Gray's reimbursement for meals served to inmates at the jail from $1.70 to $1.85. That increase is retroactive to the first of the year.

Voted 6-0 to authorize Manufacturers Bank of Detroit as the paying agent for $550,000 in bonds sold recently by the county. That money, borrowed by the county at an interest rate of 11.85 percent, will fund operation of the county's delinquent tax fund.

Bay College gets logging safety grant

A $27,000 grant from the Michigan Department of Labor was received recently by Bay De Noc Community College. The grant will support a unique logger safety program designed cooperatively by Michigan Technological University and Bay De Noc Community College.

The Logger Safety Training Program provides both institutions and organizations an opportunity to offer safety to the woods workers in power saw and equipment operation. Programs offered during April, May and June in the Upper Peninsula included White Cloud, Shingleton, Munising, Marquette, Central Falls, Baraga, Calumet and Lusher. Programs offered in the Lower Peninsula have included Chgoor, Bayfield, Grayling, West Branch, Harrison, Cass City, Midland, St. Johns, Grand Haven, Manistiquie, Cadillac and Traverse City.

GARDENING... WITH NATURAL PEST CONTROLS!

More people are gardening in this country today than ever before...and more and more of those gardeners are discovering that they don't need chemical pesticides to control the insects that attack their vegetable plants.

There are many natural pest control methods that a wise gardener can use. To name only a few: companion planting, and natural repellents, organic sprays and dusts, insecticides, "good" microbial agents, insect predators and parasites, birds, poultry, small animals, resistant varieties of plants, and lizards and other reptiles. Nature works in wondrous ways...and, in most cases, it's worth trying a few of her "time-tested" bug control ideas before dosing your state food with harsh, wide-spectrum, chlorinated hydrocarbon pesticides.

The larger "animated bug catches" more than earn their keep around the vegetable patch. Geese, chickens, toads, snakes, birds, skunks, and other small feathered, scaled, and furry friends will constantly patrol the garden...if we let them.

For instance, a single house wren will feed 500 spiders and caterpillars to its young during one summer afternoon...a swallow can devour 1,000 leaf hoppers in 12 hours...a Baltimore Oriole can consume 17 hairy caterpillars a minute...and a brown thrasher can eat over 6,000 insects a day!

Many insect pests are surprisingly fastidious eaters and are repelled by any plant other than those they prefer to devour. You can help protect your vegetables, then, by interplanting them with boragae, lavender, sage, parsley, dill, and other aromatic herbs. Marigolds seem especially distasteful to large numbers of bugs...so set out a goodly number of these flowers among your produce plantings.

Don't stop there, though...send your youngsters out to collect ladybugs and lace-wings to live in your garden! Adult ladybugs and the larvae of lacewings have a voracious appetite for aphids, mealybugs, cottony-cushion scales, white flies, spider mites, and some thrips. But how can you handle the pesky little sucking and slugs-wet-weather critters that can cut your seedlings off before the plants even get a good start? Just remember that the slimy raiders are basically night operators—they like to hide during the day—and give them handy places to creep into: old grapefruit hulls placed round side up, perhaps, or little "caves" made of broken scraps of shingle. Then, every morning, make the rounds of these traps and destroy (or at least deport) the troublesome gastropods that have oozed their way under the collectors.

And don't forget that snails (the ones with shells) and slugs (the ones without) LOVE beer! Bury a few saucers or lids so that their uppers edges are flush with the ground surface, and fill the containers half full of beer in the evening. By the following dawn, the receptacles will be as packed with drunken bodies as the doorways of any big city's sidewalk row. And if the lids contain no slugs or snails...then your garden doesn't either. You've already caught 'em.

Although much is made of the insect-eating ability of the praying mantis, few of its champions mention that this predator devours almost as many beneficial bugs as bad. At worst, however, the praying mantis is probably marginally beneficial in the "good versus bad" insect battle and—since it is a rather noble creature to have in the garden—should be protected. Just don't expect an egg case or two of mantises to exert any outstanding biological pest control in your vegetable patch.

School Budget Hearing

THE MANISTIQUE AREA SCHOOLS WILL HOLD THEIR 1982-83 BUDGET HEARING JUNE 15, 1982 IN THE BOARD ROOM OF THE JUNIOR-SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING. BUDGETS MAY BE PICKED UP IN THE ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICE AFTER JUNE 10, 1982.

NOTICE

The Schoolcraft County Mental Health Board is requesting bids for an Adult Activity Center in the Germfask area. Working plans, in addition to sealed bids, will be accepted on May 7 until July 7, 1982. The bids will be open at the Mental Health Board meeting on June 12, 1982.

The criteria that must be considered is as follows: (1) We need approximately 110 sq. ft. per person of useable space. We should plan on 20 people a day, which would figure to be about 2,200 sq. ft. of useable space.

Useable space is minus hallway areas, bathrooms, storage, furnace rooms and exits.

(2) The space should be barrier free as outlined in the Federal Code Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973.

Examples would be exits with ramps for the handicapped and a barrier free bathroom for wheelchairs.

(3) There should be adequate parking for staff.

(4) Two bathrooms

(5) The most important criteria is that the building meet the State fire code standards.

Bass season opener nets good fishing

Here's a rundown on fishing conditions in the area as of last week:

WALLEYE-Fishermen are doing quite well on walleye in Frenchman (average 20") and Carp Lakes, and fairly well in Brevort Lake (16-17"). Mikolonia, Big and South Manistiquette Lakes have also been producing fair catches of walleye. Fishermen are picking up a few walleye in the St. Marys River up from Neeshish. Earlier in the week success was excellent in the St. Marys River between Munusong and DeTour. Some nice walleye were caught at Raber off Mike's Landing. Some large walleye have been caught in the Manistiquette River (no big summer).

DNR REPORT

by Carol Schmidt
Newberry DNR Office

NORTHERN PIKE-Still hitting in Prentiss Bay between Cedarville and DeTour. A number of 22-23 inch pike were hooked in Brevort Lake on artificial lures or minnows over the weekend. On Bale de Wasal fishermen were having fairly good success on pike, and Gulliver Lake was pretty good. No reports of tiger muskie as yet from this lake, but some dandies should come out of there this summer. Some northerners were taken in Millecoquin Lake and success in Muskallonge Lake was excellent.

BASS-Officer Al Kendall of Manistiquette reported a good bass opener in his area; Colwell, Clear, Steubas, East, McKeever, Little Bass and Triangle Lakes all produced nice bass. Brevort Lake, Mackinac County, and East Lake, Mackinac County were other good spots. A few smallmouth were taken in Prentiss Bay. Some bass are already on the beds in the shallows, others should be soon.

PERCH-Hot spot this week was Emerson Bay; good catches, some jumbos, mostly on worms. Quite a few perch caught in the Dollerville Flooding above the dam, for the most part small. McDonald Lake has been good for perch; also Kiks and Twin. Perch fishing real slow at Les Cheneaux.

BLUEGILLS, PANFISH-Fishermen lucked out on bluegills and pumpkinseed in the lakes in the Steuben area, and local fishermen were getting bluegills in Twin and Kiks Lakes.

Summer basketball begins Monday

A summer basketball program for area fifth and sixth graders will begin on Monday, June 14, in the high school gymnasium. Manistiquette Emerald Coach Seb Rubick will conduct the five-week program of instruction, assisted by members of last year's varsity and junior varsity basketball teams.

Boys and girls who were in either the fifth or sixth grade in the school year just completed are eligible for the program. There will be a fee of $10 charged to participants.

Interested players do not need to pre-register for the program and should meet at the high school gym Monday morning. The session for fifth graders will start at 8:30 a.m. and the session for sixth graders begins at 10:30 a.m. Both classes will meet Mondays and Wednesdays for five weeks.

According to Rubick, the program will include an hour's drill on the various fundamentals of basketball followed by an hour of scrimmage games.

Summer rec. program kicks off June 21

OK, armchair athletes, here is your chance to quit spectating and get some exercise: The Manistiquette City Recreation Department has set the schedule for its summer program of sports and activities.

According to Recreation Director Rick Larson, the following programs will begin on Monday, June 21:

RECREATION BALL: This is a multiple sport program consisting of T-Ball (beginning baseball), basketball, touch football, soccer, track and field and other activities. It is for boys and girls, ages 6, 7, and 8. The location will be at Central Field (on US-2), and the program will be held Monday through Friday from 10:30 a.m. to 12 noon.

BASEBALL: This program is for boys and girls 9, 10, 11, and 12 years old. The program will be held at the Water Tower Field (behind the hospital) Monday through Friday from 12:30 p.m. to 2:30 p.m.

ARTS & CRAFTS: This activity is open to boys and girls ages 8 and up and will be held in the old Coast Guard building on Range Street from 9 a.m. to 12 noon on Monday through Friday.

SWIMMING PROGRAM: Time and location will be announced at a later date.

TENNIS LEAGUE: Anyone 16 years and older interested in playing in a tennis league this summer should contact the recreation director.

OUTDOOR SUMMER BASKETBALL: Anyone interested in playing in an outdoor summer league on Monday and Wednesday evenings should contact the recreation director. Minimum age requirement is 17.

The only programs which require pre-registration are the Tennis and Basketball Leagues.

If there are any questions concerning these programs, call Larson at 341-5991.

Electric co-op to meet Wed.

The annual meeting for members of Alger Delta Cooperative Electric Association is scheduled for 12:30 p.m. at the Gladstone Armory on June 16.

The members will approve various reports and affirm the election of three directors. District Meetings were held in May and Clifford Hayward was re-elected in the Southeast Menominee County; Arvo Kallio was re-elected in the was re-elected in the Grand Marais area, and Charles Barkovich was re-elected in the Harvey-Deerton area.

Musical entertainment will be provided by Lynn Miller of Escanaba, Michigan.

Light bulbs will be given to members attending the meeting, and numerous prizes will be awarded as well as a grand prize.

Refreshments will be served at the close of the meeting.

Trout, salmon, steelhead running in the streams

Grand Marais area-Hurricane, Mosquito, 7-Mile, Sable, Main Sucker. Some big rainbow have been caught at the mouth of the Two Hearted (some fishermen using golden Closs). The upper Carp has been good for both brooks and rainbow. Fishermen trolling for coho in Lake Superior off Grand Marais are getting more lake trout than coho.

WHITEFISH, MENOMINEE-The whitefish have come in at Grand Marais (strong northwest blow required). Menominee are still hitting intermittently (early morning best) at Blind Sucker and Two Hearted Rivers.

OBSCURED BY DANDELIONS and high grass, the dugout at the baseball field by the county fair building is barely visible over the tops of the weeds in this picture. need of a trim.

Register now for Munising run

Runners from Canada and several midwestern states will challenge a grueling 11 mile course at the Seventh Annual Pictured Rocks Road Race on June 27 at 8 a.m. in Munising.

The race is the largest of its kind in the Upper Peninsula and is co-sponsored by Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Michigan, the Alger Chamber of Commerce and the North Country Track Club. At last year's event 268 runners finished the race.

The race course takes runners through downtown Munising. While it is run mostly on flat pavement, there are some hilly portions and sandy paths. There will be one, two and three mile fun runs for beginning joggers and those not ready for an 11 mile trek. The races will benefit the Bay Cliff Health Camp located near Marquette.

"We are expecting a turnout of about 300," said Norma Harger, race director. "The current record is held by a Canadian runner—Larry Brown—but we are expecting it to be broken this year because we are drawing top caliber runners from throughout the central states."

Brown's records 58:25.4 time was set in 1979, when he edged Jim Drew of Greer, Wis., Wisconsin, from the top spot. Eunice Carlson of Houghton set the record for female runners in 1979 also with a time of 1:12.42.

Harger noted the race has become part of an activity-oriented vacation for an increasing number of scuba divers who travel to Manistique to explore shipwrecks in Lake Superior.

Over 100 awards will be given to the top male and female runners. All who finish will receive a customized bath towel. First through third place winners will receive engraved plaques and fourth and fifth place winners will receive medals. There are 12 age divisions for the 11 mile race. A corporate division encourages runners affiliated with an organization or business to form teams and compete.

To register for the Pictured Rocks Road Race, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to North Country Track Club, R #1, Box 901, Manistique, Michigan 49862. Entry blanks are also available from the Alger Chamber of Commerce, and at area sporting goods stores. The registration fee for the 11 mile race is $6.00. Deadline for entries is June 19. The late registration fee is $12.00. No registration is required for the one, two and three mile fun runs.

On Saturday evening before the race, there will be a free spaghetti dinner for all entrants. Those not participating in the race may attend the dinner for a modest charge.

For additional information, contact Norma Harger at the North Country Track Club (906) 387-3387.

CODE 1657 COUPON EXPIRES 6-12-82

THIS OLD PHOTO, taken in 1888, is of a meeting in the old Weston Co. planing mill. The site is now the paper mill parking lot and before and during the Goodville plant. See this week's Memories for more to this.

Booze or Bible-which has had the greatest effect here?

The occasion for this week's photograph was an evangelistic meeting conducted by the Rev. E.B. Boody, assisted by Rev. Fowler of the First Baptist Church. Manistique has a long tradition of church meetings, and even today hardly a week goes by without a visiting evangelistic team entertaining one of the local congregations.

I suspect the motivating force in the Old Days had to do with the influence of Demon Rum, which became a problem after the establishment of the Flatiron Block and before the enforcement of the 18th Amendment. The timber barons and mill management were instrumental in the establishment of the early churches and no doubt encouraged a moral life for the employees of their various operations in the area; it was simply good for business. It is doubtful that this influence had any lasting effect; if you had to say which of two influences—the church or alcohol—has had the greatest and most lasting effect on morality in Manistique, the selection should be easy.

Bill Mueller tells me there used to be a tavern, built of materials donated by the Miller Lumber Co., on the property behind the old city hall and now Norden's parking lot. This building was used by the various churches for visiting evangelistic teams. Since this structure predates my recollection it probably became extinct about the time of the First World War.

My interest in amateur photography (which you may have noticed) prompts the following observations on our photo this week.

I am continually amazed at the ability of the old-time cameramen, considering the primitive state of the art and the limited tools available for the practice of this craft. Even today, with our electronic technology and precise manufacturing techniques, photography is sometimes a chancy business; and when you rely on artificial lighting, even in consideration of our fast lenses and films, events can sometimes prove that Murphy's Law is in charge.

I believe the photo of that crowd of men in the planing mill was assisted by a flash technique, which in those days meant you had a small T-baz with a shallow trench for a highly flammable powder (magnesium, I believe) which provided the light, and the photographer had to synchronize this flash, by hand, with his camera lens. And all this was preceded by having to coat a glass plate with the light-sensitive silver compound, also hand, to make the negative. As you can see, the faces of the men in the foreground are slightly over-exposed, and the light from the flash has extended far to the rear of this large room. Truly remarkable that a photo this good could be made at all under the circumstances, and last this long. Many an oil painting made during this same era are in far worse condition.

The following letter has been received:

"Dear Memories: I have spent so much time in Manistique I feel it's my 'hometown.' I remember so many who played in the band as they, as well as yourself, were part of the 'summer gang.'"

"I read the enclosed obituary and noticed that Mr. Kennedy was at The Soo, and also Manistique. It would be interesting to research his involvement there. Mr. Kennedy was quite a gentleman."

Best regards,
Joshua Oden, MD
Chicago"

The following is excerpted from Dr. Oden's enclosure: "Ardis 'Mike' Kennedy, 89, former news executive of the Chicago Tribune and corporate officer of the Tribune Co. died Friday in Fort Lauderdale. He began his newspaper career in 1913 as a reporter for The Evening News in The Soo. From there he went to Columbia School of Journalism. He was an aviator in the U.S. Army Air Corps during World War I, after which he returned to Michigan to become editor of a weekly newspaper in Manistique. The Kennedy name has been mentioned in our column as one of our early local aviators. Anyone interested in more details regarding his career after he left here may contact me.

Thanks, Josh, for the note and interested footnote to Manistique's history.

Our recent column on Bill Vassau and his "graduation exercises" has excited some comment, including the question of some readers as to why I called him Bill Vassau Vincent. How come the apparent confusion in names? Bill's family name is Vincent, which of course is French in origin and was pronounced in the French way in the early days.

If you don't know the French language and pronunciation to the real closest approximation to the real pronunciation of Vincent is to hold your nose and say "Vassau," with a little accent on the last syllable. In some cases, the Anglicized version has replaced the original Vincent; so actually both are really the same name.

This little explanation of a confusing subject no doubt adds to the confusion but there is no extra charge for this. Any time I can add to an already murky situation by introducing additional cloudy material... well, happy to do so. Names are my specialty. And there are some I can't repeat in a Family Newspaper. (In fact I have been called some). See you next week, hope I.

Senior Citizens

By Jerry Slepner

Friday night was the grand finale of the Thursday Cabbage Players. We all grooved out on the dance at the senior center and we're all looking forward to next October.

Here's how it all turned out. There's everyone is surprised that Dick Kargmeier got first place. He got 147 points for twenty cards in the 100-point above board play. He was brought me a game whistler because I can measure my whist. Charlie Blum had a first year player. He was in the top 100 every week but he ended up in second place.

Helen Neal won third. She thought Charlie, Roy and Russ for second place all season and for three weeks was on the number one slot.

Jack Neal has tried to beat Helen at cribbage for two years. He was only 115 points behind her and is in tenth place.

Russ Braut played a pretty even game all year in fourth most of the time, but slipped into first place on October 22. Of course, that was before Duke joined us Feb. 15. Bob Hewitt was next in the top, until he went to Florida on vacation. He seldom forgot to kid Frank and Bun about his hair.

Ed Jorgenson was our champion player in our big tournament, but got some lousy hands in regular play and is in seventh place.

Frank Provo was first place winner for three seasons, but this last half (in spite of practicing every morning) he got a game of 59 and finished in eight place. He helped me set up the tables for cribbage, which I appreciated. He called me the "Cribbage Man".

Bob Grogan was the ninth place holder. We will miss him and his stories about his wife.

George Kernigan is a good guy too. He along with everyone else helps me count my points when I fill in.

Vivian Avunen and Edith Holmstrom joined us in February. Vivian sat in the same chair at the same table for 30 years. She was the first to get that place was reserved for her. She had a single game of 142 and takes 11th place.

I think Edith was a little shy when she joined us, but she proved she knew the game and is in 12th place.

Don Hastings is in 13th place. He missed quite a few games. I hope it wasn't because we gals didn't act fast enough when he wanted to be Richard Dawson and kiss us. Pretty good aim in life for an 84-year-old who has been married for 50 years!

The winner of the May Timepiece Game (Whitefish dinner with salad set from the Estabop) was Helen Balog of Gulliver. Congratulations, Helen!

Memorials were given to the center in the name of Versal Courtness by Doris Courtness; in the name of York Anderson by Paul and Diane McClelland; in the name of Lillian Lancour by the family of Ray Lancour; in the name of George Brunet by Sally Brunet; in the name of Esther Zook by Viola Kehmire; in the name of York Anderson by "Captain Bill"; but has been sold to Mr. and Mrs. Jim Curran and will operate under the name of "The Mill."

Schoolcraft not alone in reducing board size

When the County Reapportionment Commission decided to reduce the size of the Schoolcraft County Board from seven members to five earlier this year, it joined six of the 15 Upper Peninsula counties in cutting the number of County Commissioners.

According to a survey by the Upper Peninsula Commission for Area Progress, UPAP, the number of county commissioners in the U.P. will drop from 114 to 85 when the reapportionment plans take effect next Jan. 1.

Reapportionment plans in seven counties reduced the number of seats on the county board, seven counties remained the same and one county added a district, according to Robert E. Olsen, UPAP executive director.

Marquette County will lose the most, seven commissioners, while Alger will have four less. Dickinson, Houghton, Menominee and Schoolcraft counties will each have two commissioners less. In addition, Ontonagon County dropped one district.

The reduction in the number of districts plus the changes in boundaries mean some incumbent commissioners will be pined against each other.

Following is a rundown of incumbent commissioners who now live in the same district:

Schoolcraft County-District 4: Robert Barr and Lyle M. Kotchison; District 5, Ernest S. Hoholik and Richard Pawley. (Schoolcraft County dropped two commission seats for a current total of five.) Two incumbent commissioners will be pined against each other.

Alger County-District 1: Kenneth J. M. Peterson and Davis Siler; District 2, Joseph R. Burke and Meri B. St. Martin; and District 5, Arthur Swain and Albert (Bernie) Hill. (The number of districts in Alger County was reduced from nine to five.)

Chippewa County-Robert Boke and Bernard Labrie. (The number of districts in Chippewa County remained at seven with one district now without an incumbent commissioner.)

Dickinson County-District 2: Joseph Nera and C. Wendell Sanders; and District 4, Paul Garrett and Vernon Sorenson. (Dickinson County reduced its districts from seven to five.)

Houghton County-District 1: W. Clarence Dwyer and James P. Bouchee; District 3, Chester M. Guidotti and John Stimac. (Houghton County dropped from seven county board seats to five.)

Luce County-District 1: Mary Jo Herrick and L.J. Wood. (Luce County stayed at five districts and now has a district in which no incumbent commissioner lives.)

Marquette County-District 1: Sally May and Ruby Chatham; District 2, Elaine Juddick and Robert P. LaMere; District 3, Edwin H. Villeneuve and Burle V. LaPin; District 4, Clyde Steele and Joseph O. Racine; District 5, John (Pat) Farrell, Neil Carlson and Timothy Lowe. (Marquette County now has five board seats down from twelve.)

Muskegon County-District 6: Lloyd Benson and Albert Werhahn. (Menominee County's board now has seven seats, compared to the previous nine, with one vacancy.)

Ontonagon County-District 4: Dennis L. Eriksson and Daniel Piper. (Ontonagon County reduced its seats from six to five.)

Other counties will see less change. Baraga County remains the same with six districts. Gogebic, Benzie and Delta, Mackinac and Keweenaw Counties with five commissioners each.

Income tax hike may cause smaller unemployment checks

Unemployment checks for many of the 300,000 now receiving jobless benefits in Michigan will contain slightly less money starting this week, S. Martin Taylor, director of the Michigan Employment Security Commission (MESC), warned today.

The reduction in jobless benefits stems from the recent hike in Michigan's income tax rate, which lowered workers' after-tax earnings.

Taylor explained that MESC uses workers' after-tax earnings in determining how much they will receive in jobless benefits, and changes in state and federal income tax rates and social security tax rates do affect after-tax earnings.

By law the MESC must adjust its unemployment benefit rate tables whenever the state or federal tax rates change. The tax hike reduced after-tax earnings and, consequently, reduced unemployment benefit rates.

While some claimants will not lose any benefits, others could have their benefits reduced by up to $3.00 per week.

Taylor said the change in benefit rates will begin showing up with unemployment checks issued during the week beginning June 1. Currently, MESC is paying jobless benefits to over 300,000 individuals statewide. Taylor said his agency will have to review and recalculate the benefit rates for all 300,000 claimants a time-consuming process that must be done whenever federal or state withholding schedules change causing after-tax earnings, and ultimately jobless benefit levels, to go either up or down.

Benefit rates last changed in October 1981 when the federal income tax rate declined and in January 1982 when the social security tax climbed. During the coming months, MESC foresees at least two more benefit rate changes. In July the federal income tax rate will drop and in October the temporary state income tax rate increase will end.

How to increase summer paycheck

Over 17 million people across the country are expected to work at least part of the summer in an effort to get the most from their summer paychecks. To maximize their income, workers should take home pay by not having taxes withheld unnecessarily. The Department of Labor's Summer Jobs for Youth program allows low-earning students to work full-time during the summer months. If students may have to work with the nation's more than 1 million un-

Census survey here to study birth rates

How many children do married women expect to have within the next five years? Will they average the same number as in the recent past? Answers to these questions will help indicate the future growth and composition of the Nation's population, data vital to planners both in government and private business. Robert G. McWilliam, Director of the Bureau's Regional Office in Detroit, announced this week that information on child care, number of children, and birth expectations of American women will be collected during the week of June 14-19, from a sample of households in this area. The Bureau for the U.S. Department should claim yourself exempt on the Employer's Withholding Allowance Certificate Form W-4. For example, if you can work the minimum wage of $3.35 an hour. If you work 40 hours a week for the 13 weeks of summer, your earnings will be only $1,742 and you will not be subject to income tax. Students who work in industries where tips and overtime add a substantial amount to income should be careful. Remember, when estimating your summer earnings, to include any tips you anticipate since they are taxable income. You can only claim yourself exempt, however, if you did not owe taxes last year, you received a full refund of taxes paid, and you don't expect to owe taxes this year. Students who earn more than $3,300 and were active in the intramural program and winter carnival. Following graduation, he hopes to continue his education at L.S.S.C. where he hopes to receive his bachelor of science degree.

When counting your summer paycheck, don't forget about state taxes. If you take a job out of state, be sure to understand the state tax laws that affect you as a non-resident. In calculating your summer earnings, don't ignore their effect on your dependency on your parents. If you earn $1,100 and the total cost of your support is $6,000, you provide more than half your own support and your parents can't claim a $1,000 exemption for you as a dependent. If they're in the 50 percent tax bracket, your extra $100 of income costs them $500 in after-tax dollars.

PERSONALS

Perhaps you seek a lively and
Or sat quietly in a chair
Perhaps you sent a floral spray.
If so we saw it there
Perhaps you spoke the kindest words.
As any friend could say,
Perhaps you were not there at all
Just thought of us that day.
Whatever you did to console our hearts.
We thank you as much whatever the part.
