Disorderly teens no bigger problem than usual, school and police officials say

Although there seems to have been a recent rash of incidents involving disorderly teenagers in Manistique, police, school and court officials say fighting and harassment among the teens is no greater than usual.

Several residents have complained over the past few weeks about what they see as increasing rowdiness among high-school-aged teens in Manistique. Police acknowledge the breaking up more than the usual number of fights recently. Two weeks ago a boy was kicked repeatedly in the face during a before-school skirmish in Norden's Foodland parking lot.

Earlier this month, two women walking down Cedar Street were sworn at and chased by a group of five teenaged girls. One of the women, who asked not to be identified, has been accosted by a member of the same group repeatedly since the first incident. "It's to the point I'm scared for my kids," she said.

Manistique Public Safety officials said that there has been a rash of fights among teens lately but didn't see it as evidence of a new problem. "Every year it's the same thing—morning, noon or after school—hostilities build up and fights occur," one public safety officer said. "Kids will be kids. Kids are going to fight. If we break them up they'll go fight somewhere else."

Another city policeman observed, "I don't know why it's doing this—early spring fever, maybe, or a lot of hostility built up, but there do seem to be a lot of fights."

If teenagers are more belligerent these days, it's not a phenomenon that has resulted in more cases for the county probate court. Larry Peterson, juvenile justice worker with the 5th District Probate Court, said the case load there hasn't increased dramatically lately. "I haven't noticed any increase as far as what's come to this office by way of police reports," Peterson said.

High School Principal John Males said the school administration has received complaints over student fighting, but said most of the fights occur off of school property where he has no business intervening.

He said any student caught fighting in school receives an automatic three-to-five day suspension. Repeated offenses may bring a recom-

Schoolcraft County delays action on zoning ordinance

The Schoolcraft County Board Tuesday night again delayed action on adoption of a rural zoning ordinance submitted for its approval by the Planning and Zoning Commission.

The board, citing objections to the draft ordinance as what it felt was a lack of public input on the proposed law postponed action on it until it could again be revised.

Board Member Rick Pawley said that a "completely revised" version of the draft ordinance would be presented by the zoning commission at the board's next meeting. He said that board members would work with the commission to address objections to the original revision.

The new version, presumably more acceptable to the County Board, will also be subject to public hearings before final adoption, the board indicated Tuesday.

"There was a lot of flak generated all of a sudden" over the draft ordinance, Pawley said, that prompted the delay and re-revision. He said the Zoning Commission "didn't think they could get it passed by the board so a few of us will meet with them to work out a rough draft."

"Our idea of what should be in there and their idea of what was in there are quite different," Pawley said.

The ordinance draft was first presented to the board at a meeting earlier this month. The Zoning Commission has been working on a revision of the current ordinance since 1977 and has held its own public hearings, but its efforts got a cool reception from the County Board when the draft was first presented earlier this month.

Board Chairman Marvin White said then "I was not impressed with it. It's another bit of regulatory legislation," Pawley claimed, among other objections, the draft ordinance was too restrictive in defining what gas stations could and could not do. "I don't see a gas station in the county that complies with this ordinance," he said.

Other objections to the draft include the setback and front yard requirements for lake front lots. Bill Bowman of Gulliver was present at Tuesday's meeting and complained that the zoning maps that are part of the ordinance set too much land aside in "rural residential" zones. Such zones have a minimum lot size of five acres. Bowman noted that eventual development could be inhibited in rural residential zones, since the zone forbids subdivision of lots smaller than five acres. He suggested changing the minimum lot size on some of the zoning classifications.

The ordinance, once it is finally adopted, will apply to all of Schoolcraft County except for Manistique. In a related matter the board accepted the resignation of Gene Kee, chairman of the Planning and Zoning Commission. In his place the board appointed Bowman, a registered land surveyor.

In other matters Tuesday, the board:

• Voted 4-3 to appoint Duane McGregor to the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital Board of Trustees. Board Members Ernest Hohlak, Bill Tenison and White voted against McGregor's appointment, voting instead for Bernice Anderson, another candidate nominated.

The board at its last meeting had tabled the decision on appointing a Hospital Board member and it again split in voting whether to make the decision Tuesday. Board members Bob Barr, Lindsey Frenette and Rick Pawley voted to postpone the appointment vote. Barr said "with all the interest shown in this appointment, we should wait until it is listed as an agenda item."

Airport plans fly-in Sunday

The Schoolcraft County Airport is throwing a party Sunday and is looking for a big turnout—both airborne and land locked—to make it a success.

The airport's "fly-in" starts Sunday at 8 a.m. and will feature skydiving exhibitions, hot air balloon rides, airplane rides and more.

According to Lindsey Frenette, chairman of the County Board's Airport Committee and organizer of the event, its purpose is to "promote aviation in Schoolcraft County and introduce pilots to the facilities available at the county airport."

Posters have been sent to airports in the region. Frenette said, inviting pilots to stop in for a look at the local airport, for those of us that don't happen to have our own plane, the fly-in will offer other items of interest. Frenette said.

About 20 exotic planes will be on display Sunday, including an experimental Signet aircraft being constructed by Bucky Burnis of Manistique, a Coast Guard jet helicopter, amphibious airplanes, "ultra-light" powered hang gliders and more.

Besides the fancy hardware, the fly-in will include refreshments, a horseshoe tournament, a performance by the Senior Swingers band and an FAA flight safety seminar for pilots.

The day will kick off at 8 a.m. with breakfast served by the Schoolcraft County 4-H Club. At 10 a. band, the New Country Sound, will play and continue until noon.

The horseshoe tournament will begin at 11 a.m. and at 11:30 4-Hers will begin serving barbecued chicken. The senior citizens band will play at 1 p.m. with the flight safety seminar to begin at 2 p.m.

The New Country band will play again at 3 p.m. Throughout the day, hot air balloon, airplane and horse rides, skydiving demonstrations, and other refreshments will be available.

Hospital raises room rates

Like everything else, the cost of being sick continues to rise. At its meeting last Wednesday, the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital Board of Trustees approved room rate increases averaging 10 percent.

The Hospital Board regularly reviews the room rates and Wednesday's price hike was the second this year, with the last rate increase coming in March.

The rates range from a high of $180 a day for a private room, up from $160, to $100 a day for nursery care for newborn babies, up from $90.

Other rate changes: Detention and isolation rooms now cost $180 a day, up from $160. A semi-private room in the obstetrics ward is $175, up from $155. A regular semi-private room now costs $160, up from $140 and a room in a ward now runs $159 a day.

Babies requiring isolation in the nursery will run up a $100-a-day tab plus the cost of oxygen. If the mother is also a patient at the hospital, if not, the charge is $105.

For out patients requiring short-term use of a room, there is an initial charge of $105 plus $10 an hour up to the full daily room charge.

Emeralds win! Gridders go against Norway Friday after beating Gwinn, 13-7

Ah, victory—sweet victory. The Emeralds' varsity football team got its first taste of that sweet stuff in a long time as it beat the Gwinn Model Townes last Friday at Gwinn, 13-7.

It was the first victory for the Emeralds since 1980 and snapped a 12-game losing streak for both the Emeralds and Coach Jim Hunter.

The team will try to put together its first back-to-back victories in years when it takes on Norway Friday in front of a Parents' Night home crowd. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

Still, Males said the behavior of Norway comes into the contest sporting an identical 1-2 overall record to the Emeralds. Hunter said he feels the winner of Friday's game could be a factor in the Mid-Penninsula Conference race. The loser, well, the loser...

"It makes it a very, very important game for us. We have to win if we want to move up in the conference," Hunter said. "One of our goals is to put us in the upper part of the conference race. If we can manage to keep winning our conference games, we could finish right up there. With a little bit of luck we could end up towards the top," he said.

The key to beating the Knights Friday, according to Hunter, is for the Emerald offensive line to move the ball against a tough Norway defense. "The biggest thing we need to keep improving on is our offensive line. We need to control the ball and we need to score when we put together a good drive," Hunter said. "They've got a real good defensive unit," Hunter said of Norway. "Real scrappy—they don't give up."

MANISTIQUE PUBLIC SAFETY lift a fingerprint from a piece of glass. Peterson is rated as the top fingerprint man in the U.P.

This policeman always gets his print

If you are planning a successful life of crime, don't start in Manistique. Manistique happens to be the home of the top fingerprint man in the U.P.

He is Manistique Public Safety Officer Dave Peterson but don't ask him—he won't tell you about his expertise willingly.

"When asked about the 20 convictions obtained over the last year and a half through fingerprint evidence gathered by him, Peterson modestly demurred. "I've just been lucky," he claimed.

Detective Sgt. Gerald Kotajarvi of the Michigan State Police Crime Lab in Negaunee is not so reticent.

"He's fantastic, an excellent police officer," said Kotajarvi. "It's a real pleasure to get one of his cases. Dave has lifted a fingerprint down to an art," added Kotajarvi. "We use his work as examples at the basic police academy at Northern (Northern Michigan University)."

Lifting a fingerprint is definitely an art.

Fingerprints are left on almost all surfaces with which the human hand comes in contact. Prints can even be found on rough surfaces like a concrete block wall.

At the scene of a crime, a police officer will try to determine what the criminal might have touched while committing the offense. In one case, Peterson said he got an excellent set of fingerprints from a plastic garbage bag left in front of a back door in a burglarized home.

"I suspected the person who broke into the door picked up the bag to move it out of his way as he entered," Peterson said.

To find fingerprints on a surface, police thoroughly dust the area with a magnetized powder. The powder is then brushed off, leaving only the grains which cling to an oil residue left by a person's fingers or hand.

A piece of clear tape is carefully placed on top of the powder pattern—slowly the tape is lifted from the surface with the powder sticking to it in its original pattern. The tape is then placed, sticky side down, on a piece of clear plastic.

If that sounds like a touchy operation, it's because it is. Peterson said the trick to getting a good print is knowing not only where to dust but when to stop brushing off the powder.

Getting a good set of prints is just the beginning to solving a case, according to Peterson. "A good set of prints doesn't mean a thing unless you have a suspect to match them to," said Peterson.

If an investigation leads to a suspect, the suspect is asked for his fingerprints. If they are not already on file, if the person refuses, a warrant for the prints can be obtained from the county prosecutor.

A suspect's prints are taken by rolling his fingers on an inked pad and then rolling them on a white paper fingerprint form. The rolled ink prints and the latent prints lifted at the scene of the crime are sent to the crime lab where experts check to see if the loops and swirls in the prints match.

The officer's work continues even after the crime lab establishes a positive match. For instance, the suspect may have a legitimate reason for his prints being at the scene of the crime.

Peterson said he tries to look for prints in places only the criminal would have touched while committing the offense.

"I got one conviction when the suspect couldn't explain why his prints were inside a cigarette machine, which had been broken into," he recalled. Peterson solved another case with fingerprints lifted from the inside of a plastic wrapper found on the floor of a building that had been burglarized.

Hair and blood samples from the scene are also used to support fingerprint evidence. A saliva test (a cigarette or cigar butts can also be taken).

Peterson wouldn't explain the method, but said even the use of gloves doesn't always stop an offender from getting a good set of prints.

"Fingerprints are the most conclusive evidence in a case," Peterson said. "No two people have the same prints." Peterson has never been challenged in court on one of his cases with a fingerprint match.

"The suspect usually pleads guilty and his attorney tries to plea bargain to a lesser charge," said Peterson.

Peterson, 33, is a 10-year veteran of the Manistique Public Safety Department.

"Dave has an excellent record of solving breakings and enterings," said Manistique Public Safety Department Chief Joe McDonough. "His investigative work is outstanding."

"When asked how he developed his skill, Peterson quietly answered, 'I just want to do the best job of solving crime I can.'"

At home with Sarah

by Sarah Bignall

I was reading an old cookbook, (Boston Cooking School Cook Book by Fannie Farmer, dated 1922-original copyright 1896) that "salads are only valuable for the water and potash salts they contain, but are cooling, refreshing, and assist in stimulating the appetite. The only nutrient value is in the olive oil in the dressing." Can you believe how far we have come over the years. It seems that once upon a time salads meant only lettuce or endive served with an oil dressing.

Since vitamins were discovered, we have learned the real value of salads. As a result, the salad classification has expanded enormously. A salad can be simple relishes, a main course, a dessert course-to cite just a few.

This recipe is a Cherry Salad that can also be a dessert. It must be made a day ahead and is made in more than one stage, but even though it is a little more bother, it is really worth the effort.

- CHERRY SALAD SUPREME
- 1 (3 oz.) pkg. raspberry gelatin
 - 1 can Cherry Pie Filling
 - 1 (3 oz.) pkg. lemon gelatin
 - 1 (3 oz.) pkg. cream cheese
 - 1/3 cup Mayonnaise
 - 1 cup crushed pineapple
 - 1/2 cup whipping cream or 1 cup Kool Whip
 - 1 cup miniature marshmallows
 - 1/4 cup chopped nuts

Dissolve raspberry gelatin in 1 cup boiling water. Stir in pie filling. Turn into a 9x9 baking dish. (I used a 7x12 size). Chill until partially set. Dissolve lemon gelatin in 1 cup boiling water. Beat together softened cream cheese and mayonnaise. Gradually add lemon gelatin. Stir in UNDRAINED pineapple. Whip cream; fold into lemon mixture. Fold in miniature marshmallows. Spread on top of cherry layer. Sprinkle with chopped nuts. Chill until set, 4 hours or overnight. Makes 12 servings.

Sarah says... when having trouble turning the key in the lock, dip the key in oil, insert in lock and turn several times. This will oil the metal parts inside a door lock.

Food for thought... Praise to a child is as water to a thirsty plant.

4-H News

by Nancy Victorson-Kipling
4-H Extension Agent

The 4-H year is coming to a close, with a new year starting the first week in October. As that new 4-H year begins, it is time to start thinking of new clubs, new activities and getting the old groups back together again.

As that process begins, here's something for you to think about. Something to help make our 4-H program, your 4-H club and your family life even better. The following was written by Joe Waterson, a state program leader from Hawaii, formerly from Michigan. Joe's question is... "Is Your Line Busy?"

"Sometimes when people phone me, I say 'Hello' with my mouth, but my mind is busy. I don't really hear what the other person is saying. I'm too busy thinking about another situation or being very judgemental about what he or she is saying. When I see a person face-to-face, and they start telling me something outwardly, I can look like I'm interested and listening, but inwardly, my mind is wandering or is focused on something else. Once in a while they'll ask me a question to test out whether I'm listening and both of us soon discover that my 'line is busy.'

"Fortunately, my line is not always busy. There have been times when people want to share concerns, and somehow I manage to listen. In most cases, I didn't let the answer to their problem, but my very listening serves as a kind of mirror to help them to see themselves in their situation, and to solve, at least in part, their own problem.

"Unfortunately, most of us have a busy line. Even when we get calls from those who are near and dear to us-sons and daughters, spouses, good friends-we somehow or other take them for granted. Then one day we wonder why they are no longer willing to talk with us and to share with us. We feel left out, hurt and ask, 'How did it happen?' Maybe it's because our 'line is busy.'

"Listening is important to our family and friends and also in our 4-H clubs. As a 4-H leader, taking time to hear what your members are saying by their words and actions will contribute to your effectiveness as a leader. That time spent listening and caring will help build the one on one bond between leader and member that makes 4-H something special."

The voice of Schoolcraft County since 1876.

Zoning Ordinance Time to speak up

Tuesday night's decision by the Schoolcraft County Board to delay adoption of a rural zoning ordinance will hopefully serve notice to anyone interested that an important county issue is in the process of being worked out.

The issue-how future land use in the county will be planned-is important to anyone now owning or who thinks they may someday own land in Schoolcraft County.

A revision of the existing county zoning ordinance has been underway since 1977 and the results of all that work were presented to the board earlier this month by the Planning and Zoning Commission. The draft revision got a cool reception from the board, which decided to hold off approving it until changes could be worked out and more public input encouraged.

Although we can understand the frustration of members of the Planning and Zoning Commission, which has already been through a process of public hearings on the proposed ordinance, we think the County Board made the right move in deciding to go slow and ask people what they think of its provisions.

Some of those provisions are sure to upset some property owners and we encourage residents to examine both the draft ordinance and zoning map in the county clerk's office. As now written, for instance, the proposed zoning ordinance would limit the residential lot size in vast tracts of the county to five acres or more. Perhaps that is desirable, but the land owners that would be prevented from eventually subdividing their property and selling it might not agree.

The point to be made is that the ordinance, in whatever form it is finally adopted, is an important, complex land-use policy that deserves the scrutiny and criticism of everyone affected-before it becomes law.

Members of the County Board will be working with the Planning and Zoning Commission on a re-revision of the ordinance that meets the various objections brought up so far. The new draft will be presented to the County Board at its October meeting and the board may schedule another set of hearings for public comment.

In this election year the board does not want to be accused of pushing through an important land-use policy change that will have important implications for property owners-and voters-in the county. The motivation may be political but the intent is proper and the message clear: if you want to put in your two cents worth on the zoning ordinance, now is the time.

Norris says he accepts things he cannot change

Dear Editor:

I was quite surprised to find a couple of letters to the editor in my mail this week. Perhaps, a few lines here will help to put this matter to rest. Ms. Nelms pretty well said it all as far as Mary Rutherford and the others, who bury their heads, are concerned.

My wife, Linda, is not crippled. Linda is handicapped. While I was using alcohol and drugs and while I was in a center for substance abuse, she showed far more strength, both emotionally and physically, than any man should expect from any woman.

My girls, God bless them, have tolerated living in a community where having both an alcoholic father and a HANDICAPPED mother have created problems all their life.

Now, Mrs. Rutherford? You probably thought I'd never see that letter or that alcohol had stolen my memory, otherwise you'd have known I'd remember a man I grew up with. He died a few years ago, if not as a direct result of alcohol, it must have contributed to his leaving us so soon. Or the rides over the years to a person whose destination was always the bar.

At no time did I, Drunk or Sober, blame my family or my community for my problems and you assume a great deal when you write a statement like that for publication.

A lot of people drink and a lot of those stop before it becomes a problem. Some people control their alcohol intake and are "Social Drinkers." I, along with uncounted others right there in Germsak and Schoolcraft County, abused my body long enough. Now I am a Recovering Alcoholic. I don't drink. I don't use Narcotics, but since I did for so long and could start again with one drink or one joint, I accept myself as an emotional cripple (can you?) and with that acceptance comes the knowledge that "people in glass houses should not throw stones."

I don't know if that's an old adage or not but people helped me to help myself and I didn't question whether they were directed by God or not.

Substance Abuse people, two judges, treatment center staff, people from AA and a few good neighbors all directly helped me and my family-I thank them all. But, I know that the greatest thanks will come from my Sobriety and my return to being a contributing member of my society.

I feel no resentment or animosity toward Mrs. Rutherford, the Pioneer-Tribune or any of the others who have kept things alive. The Substance Abuse problem is great and its toll in lives, money and families is growing but for me I chose not to Drink or Smoke and to believe that "God grants me the serenity to accept the things I cannot change (media and people) The Courage to change the things I can (myself and that's all) and the Wisdom to know the difference. (And to you Mrs. Rutherford and the others who feel the way you do, may you too gain that Wisdom.)"

I've learned about alcoholism the hard way

Dear Editor:

In reply to the letter to the editor, directed to Mrs. Rutherford, written by Brenda M. Nelms (Pioneer-Tribune, Sept. 16):

I feel I personally hold top priority as to education about alcoholism.

For the benefit of those who believe I was looking for that as an excuse for the wrongdoing of others: you are so wrong.

I know what alcohol can do to your health, for I stood helplessly by and watched a loved one suffer the pain of death from cirrhosis of the liver caused by alcohol.

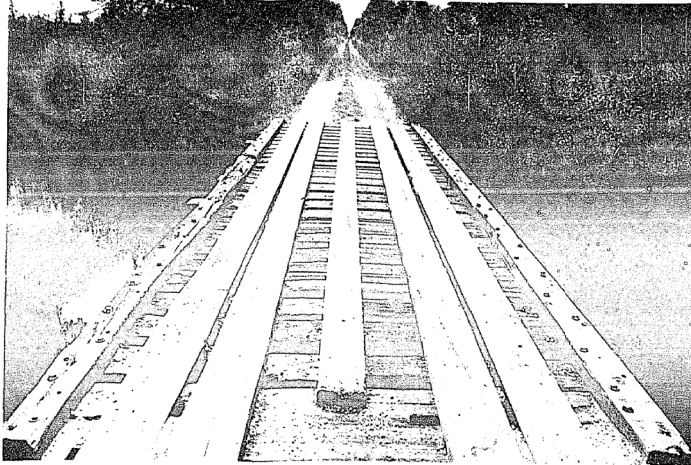

For the record, I am not proud to admit that I also was a near victim of the fatal disease.

I am happy and proud that three years ago I kicked the habit. My health is good and my family is happy that I overcame my problem.

Sure, I could have walked out on my family and closed the door on my

County resolves not to levy Medicare millage

...Committed the county to levying only 5.5 mills in property tax to pay for operation of county government. The Board adopted a resolution under the law "truth in taxation" act that said the county intends to levy the 5.5 mills.

Although that millage levy will generate more money for the county because of increased property values over last year, it also means that no levy for operation of the county Medical Care Facility will be made. At the last meeting of the board, County Treasurer Bill Cowman reported that the levy of up to 2 mills approved by voters in August to help pay the cost of the facility's operation would not be necessary.

Tuesday's resolution guaranteed that the county will not assess millage for the facility this year. Medical Care Facility Administrator Denny Boyd questioned not levying any tax for the facility.

Boyd noted that a scheduled $43,000 payment by the state to the facility had not been made and that others may be delayed. "We might run into a very serious problem" if the state continues to withhold payments, Boyd said.

Cowman said he still believed the Medicare millage unnecessary this year. Noting that the county can withhold its own payments to the state and funnel money to the facility if state payments continue to run late, Cowman said "we don't have to pay them if they don't pay us."

...Heard that completion of a city-county animal shelter was expected next week. Pawley said selection of an animal control officer from 19 applicants was still being studied. To be certified by the state, animal control officers need 100 hours of training, and that training could delay the start of enforcement of animal control laws.

The board tabled action on a motion to raise pet license fees to $5 from the current $2 for neutered animals and $3 for unneutered animals.

...Voted unanimously to submit a revised application for a $10,000 grant to fund a study on the feasibility of a wood-and-trash-burning "district heating" plant that would warm government and commercial buildings in Manistiquie. The initial application had been for $9,000, with the remaining $1,000 to be provided by the county, school district, hospital and city. The revised application raises the local share to $2,000 to be split four ways pending approval of the other local governments.

...Tabbed action on an appointment to the county Mental Health Board until other applications can be reviewed.

...Passed a resolution that will allow the county's Housing Commission to go ahead with the purchase of two sites for housing for the elderly. Housing director Eileen Males said that the purchase of the property in Germsak and Manistiquie would probably be made within the next week or two.

Kids don't 'flunk' here, they are 'retained'

Students in Manistiquie High School is heid and shoulders above that in other school systems. He noted that MHS was praised by its accrediting agency, hospital and city. The revised application raises the local share to $2,000 to be split four ways

...We are proud of the atmosphere that exists in the school and have been commended on the positive school environment by the Bureau of School Services of the University of Michigan.

Besides, Males notes, "people talk in terms of kids and that gives our student body a bad rap. Ninety-five percent of these kids are super. We don't feel we've got the problem-the problem, if there is one, is out there."

Dear Editor:

Not knowing the identity of the reporter who covered the September 13th meeting of the Manistiquie Area Public School Board meeting, I shall address my concern to you.

I was present at that meeting in which retention of elementary children was discussed, and I want to inform your readers that the word "flunk" was not used by anyone during that meeting. I feel it was very unprofessional of your reporter to suggest that fifteen elementary teachers attended the meeting to discuss changing the policy of "flunking" students.

Please inform your reporter that the professional staff is concerned about the present "retention" policy.

THE MOTHER EARTH NEWS

BUILD A SUBTERRANEAN ROOT CELLAR/BUNGALOW

It took two hardworking people-using some shovels, a mattock, an auger to dig the chimney, and a hole saw to smooth the interior-only five days to build the livable, tunnelled combination cave-and-root-cellar we've constructed at MOTHER'S Eco-Village. Furthermore, with six to eight feet of soil "root" providing insulation and protection against cavins, a solar chimney, and an air vent at the threshold, our unique burrow will typically maintain a closed-door temperature of between 45 and 60 degrees year around.

The 6'x7'10" chamber is all but airtight when the door, floor vent, and chimney flaps are closed. When opened, though, the latter two provide the grotto with a continual current of fresh air. You see, a six-inch-diameter ABS plastic pipe-just inside the door-drops down to five feet below the floor vent and then gradually slopes upward to end in an intake that breaks the surface about 25 feet away. This cool pipe works, in conjunction with the solar chimney, by drawing outside air down through the intake into the buried tube, where the air is cooled before it enters the chamber.

The chimney itself is well casing that's been painted black to absorb solar energy-projects four feet above the ground, and draws cool air from the cave into its sun-heated metal lining. The warming air travels up the chimney, the pressure inside the cave lowers, and more ground-cooled air flows through the buried pipe into the cave to re-establish atmospheric pressure equilibrium within the chamber... thus creating an effective and natural ventilation system that operates at no cost to you.

The ground tube also helps keep the cave nice and dry, since-at the lowest point in the pipe-there's a "T" which allows any moisture that has condensed along the line to drain away.

A prospective cave dweller needs to be absolutely sure that the soil he or she has chosen to dig into is of a composition that will permit safe tunneling. The ceiling of the burrow will likely have to be at least four feet below the surface to guarantee that the work will take place in the dense subsoil that makes excavating such a passage feasible. Our subterranean shelter was dug out of heavily weathered and decomposed (yet very sound) rock that was 30 to 35 percent clay.

A perfectly arched ceiling must be maintained during all phases of the construction process. This can be accomplished by using a pattern, made from either lumber or rebar, shaped to match the proposed arch of the chamber. To form the initial curve, we simply placed our pattern against the side of a cutaway hill...etched its outline into the soil...removed the guide...and then dug out the doorway with shovels. After every half-foot or so of forward progress, the pattern was moved back into position to help us maintain the shape of the ceiling walk. Painstaking accuracy is required because the structural integrity of the entire cave is based on attaining an arch that is not at all tilted or lopsided. Obviously, it's crucial to get it right the first time!

In order to help maintain the correct curve and provide a dust-free interior, it's best to protect the sculpted walls and ceiling with metal lath and a plaster composed of one part portland cement and four parts excavated dirt. The smooth surface this produces won't flake or chip off, and you may finish it in any way that you like.

Closing Wickholm Park won't help our tourism

Dear Editor:

I hope Hannah Mason and myself aren't the only ones concerned about Wickholm Park in the Green School area.

It is one of the busiest rest areas in Schoolcraft County, right on Highway 2.

As everyone knows, they are fixing it between M-77 and Gulliver. They are getting ready to blacktop it and there is no way fixed to even allow drivers into that park.

Please do not let them close it. As a SELLS guide, I know that people from all over the world stop there. Last year we had 9,600 and this year, because it was closed down, we talked to 4,722.

If you want the tourists to stay in this area including Manistiquie, then get off of your duffs and help do something. It is up to the people, plus our State representatives. Better check the blueprints and see if that is included. If not, get on the ball before it is too late.

Schoolcraft County does not have enough rest areas anyway. Everyone who stopped at Wickholm Park said what a beautiful rest area it was. Some have been coming for years and that's their favorite one.

They shut it down a month ago when people were just starting their vacations. Mr. Varnum, will you please help?

Here are just a few different places people were from: Germany, Greece, New Zealand, Israel, Japan, Guam, Switzerland, Sweden and the Netherlands. Alaska had quite a few. People need a place to stop and go to the toilets and rest. This park has been here for years and it would be a shame to let them close it forever. It is too far between rest areas now. Please help to keep this open and do not let them shut it off.

Also, you motel owners who had guts enough to post your prices, the people really liked that. Most of them didn't have much money so said it gave them a choice of where to spend the night. Some said they stopped in other areas and walked in. $40.00 per night for two. They walked out and drove on where rooms were cheaper or stayed in their cars. I hope you too will get behind keeping Wickholm Park open; it benefits you also. It keeps people here longer as there are a lot of beautiful things to see and do in Schoolcraft County.

Please don't wait till too late.

Jamie Hider

gets award

The United States Achievement Academy announced recently that Jamie Hider has been named a 1982 United States National Award winner in physical education. This award is a prestigious honor very few students can ever hope to attain. In fact, the Academy recognizes less than 5 percent of all American high school students. Hider is one of several local students to receive the award. Hider, who attends Manistique High School, was nominated for this National award by the late Helen Michelson, a former physical education teacher at the school. Hider will appear in the United States Achievement Academy official yearbook, published nationally.

The Academy selects USAA winners upon the exclusive recommendation of teachers, coaches, counselors or other school sponsors and upon the Standards for Selection set forth by the Academy. The criteria for selection are a student's academic performance, interest and aptitude, leadership qualities, responsibility, enthusiasm, motivation to learn and improve, citizenship, attitude and cooperative spirit, dependability, and recommendation from a teacher or director.

Hider is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hider.

Insect damage may dull fall colors

DNR REPORT
by Carol Schmidt
Newberry DNR Office

The fall colors are underway in northwestern Marquette County and are expected to peak there the last week of September. The southern part of the District should not be far behind with peak color expected around the first week in October and possibly later in southern Menominee County.

Insect activity will have an adverse impact on colors in most areas again this year. White birch in much of the District was attacked by the birch leaf miner early in the summer and caused birch leaves to turn brown. Later in the summer, the birch skeletonizer hit the birch leaves causing more browning and premature leaf fall. It isn't expected that these two insects alone will kill any trees but they won't contribute much to the color scene. The aspen leaf blotch miner has been doing similar damage to the aspens (poppies) with the same results.

Wednesday, September 15 marked the opening of the hunting season of ruffed grouse, woodcock, and squirrel. The grouse prospects do not look good. Summer county by DNR employees indicate the birds could be down by as much as a third when compared to the previous two years. Squirrel and woodcock hunters should do better. Woodcock populations seem to be good this year and squirrel populations have been slowly but surely rising over the past few years.

Hunters are reminded of the hunter orange rule - you may not hunt game with firearms during daylight hours from Sept. 15 through March 31 on lands open to public hunting unless you wear either a vest, jacket, or cap of a highly visible hunter fluorescent, blaze, or flame orange color. EXCEPTION: This law does not cover sportsmen hunting waterfowl from a blind or boat or those hunting bobcat, crow, or wild turkey. The "orange" rules does not apply to bow and arrow hunters.

TROUT, SALMON-Anglers are getting cold and chinook in East Grand Marais Bay and trolling off the breakwall, using yellow tad pollies. Chinook fishing has been real good off the power plant in the Soo. Fishermen are getting them in 20-22 feet of water using J-plugs, and flutter spoons. Fish from 12 to 19 pounds are being caught; the leader in the salmon derby weighed in at 25 1/2 lbs. Anglers are fishing all the way down to Six Mile Road but the salmon concentrations are right below the plant in the first rock cut near Sugar Island ferry crossing and down near Six Mile Point. The fish are biting best before 9 A.M. and after 6 P.M. in the evening. Most of the boats checked Saturday did have salmon. Some salmon are being caught in Carp River and by trolling off the mouth. Steelhead fishing is picking up off the Two Hearted. Pink salmon are coming into the Two Hearted and Blind Sucker. Brook trout fishing has been good north of Seney on the Fox River system and in the small trout ponds off Lake-shore Drive adjacent to Whitefish Bay. Splake have been hitting in Highbanks Lake.

WALLEY-Fishing is picking up in Manistique Lakes, but it is still mediocre at best. The leader in the walleye jamboree is a 5 lb. walleye taken in North Manistique (Round) Lake. A few walleye are being caught at night below Edison Soo by trolling rapala.

PERCH-Fairly decent catches (25-30 of 8-9 inch perch are being taken in Hessel Bay. A few perch are being caught in Baie de Wasal. MEMONINEE-The prevailing offshore wind has aided the menominee fishermen off the Two Hearted Rivers and Blind Sucker. NORTHERN PIKE, MUSKEL-LUNGE-A 32 pound musky was taken in Cedarville Bay.

Emeralds to try for two Friday for parents

SETTING UP A PASS. Emerald quarterback Jamie Hider fades back from the line during a play at Model Towers. The win broke a practice Tuesday. Hider quarter-back during last Friday's 13-7 win by the Emeralds over the Gwinn team. The win broke a 12-game losing streak and gives the Emeralds a 1-2 record going into Friday's home game at 7:30 p.m. against the Norway Knights.

Offensively they aren't real fast, but they will control the ball on you if you're not careful."

In the long-sought win against Gwinn, Hunter said the decisive change in Emerald play was in the defensive unit—despite the fact that the offense scored its first points of the season against the Model Towers. Defensively, the Emeralds held Gwinn to 171 yards, 47 of which came on a single long Model Tower run. "We have an outstanding game if we give up 150 yards or less, so we had a real good game. Take that one long run away and you're right down where you should be," Hunter said.

The defense was not helped by an offense that turned the ball over to Gwinn four times, but Hunter was still pleased that the Emeralds managed to score twice, control the ball more and with the improved blocking on running plays. "We had 221 yards rushing and that's more than we've had total yards rushing and passing this season," Hunter noted.

The victory over Gwinn started like many of the Emeralds' recent losses: the Model Towers took an early lead when they scored on their second possession of the game.

Manistique had fumbled the ball at mid-field to give Gwinn the ball. On third down and short, Gwinn tailback Dennis Norman broke that 47-yard run and was saved from scoring only by an open-field tackle by Mark Hoholik. The Emeralds put together a goal-line stand of sorts but couldn't hold off Gwinn, which eventually scored on another Norman run. The extra point was good and Gwinn led 7-0.

After fumbling the ball away again, Manistique managed to hold a Gwinn drive to a couple of first downs before taking a punt on the 19-yard line and putting together an 81-yard scoring drive of its own.

The 14-play drive was aided by a pass interference call that gave Manistique a needed first down, an 11-yard run by Dan Lemrand and a third-down, 14-yard run by Hoholik. With 53 seconds left in the half and no time outs remaining, Hoholik ran in for the score from five yards out.

The extra point attempt failed, and Manistique trailed 7-6 at halftime.

In the first possession of the half, Manistique tried to put together another drive only to be foiled by yet another fumble. Gwinn then turned the ball back to the Emeralds at mid-field after four incomplete passes.

Another scoring drive, 51 yards, relied heavily on the ball carrying of Troy Farley and Hoholik. Hoholik punched in for the score from four yards out with 1:50 left in the third quarter. George Bosanic's kick was good for a 13-7 Emerald lead to end the scoring.

A Doug Mickelson interception at the two-yard line with 14 seconds left to play put an end to Gwinn's final threat of the game after the Model Towers had passed for a 40-yard drive.

Overall, Manistique had 31 yards passing, 221 yards rushing 16 first downs. Gwinn had 113 yards rushing, 60 yards passing and eight first downs.

Sports

Players of the Week

Mark Hoholik Tom Burns Dan Lemrand

Three varsity players were chosen as players of the week by Emerald Coach Jim Hunter after Manistique posted its first victory, 13-7, this season against Gwinn last Friday.

Running back Mark Hoholik was the offensive player of the week and defensive linemen Tom Burns and Dan Lemrand were tabbed as defensive standouts by Hunter.

Hoholik, besides scoring both Emerald touchdowns, racked up over 100 yards rushing for the first time in his career, rushing for 125 yards in 21 carries. "He's been lugging the ball a lot for us and doing a good job at it," Hunter said.

Hunter cited right tackle Denny McBurney and right end George Bosanic for the blocking that figured in Hoholik's success. Also praised were Lemrand, who had 25 yards rushing in six carries, and relief quarterback Jamie Hider, who filled in for injured Mike Godlewski. Defensively, Hunter said Lemrand was also effective. He was in on 15 tackles and amassed 28 points on Hunter's defensive chart. Burns did better than that, racking up 31 defensive points on the chart—more than any Emerald this year—and was in on 16 tackles. Hunter also cited Larry Leny, who had five solo tackles and was in on six more, and Don Quinn, who was in on 11 tackles.

J.V. loss to Gwinn drops record to 0-3

by Gordon Archer

Manistique's junior varsity football squad dropped their third game by losing to Gwinn 36-14 last Thursday. The J.V.'s will take their 0-3 record to Norway Saturday.

Again, it was the second quarter which spelled trouble for the Emeralds. The Model Towers scored twice while holding the Emeralds scoreless from four yards out. The two-point conversion was good as Tim Henry ran in from three yards out. Gwinn was held scoreless in the first quarter which ended with Manistique leading 8-0.

Offensively and defensively, the Emeralds were led by Tim Henry who rushed for 50 yards on 14 carries and was involved in 19 defensive tackles. Other leading rushers for the Emeralds were Nedeau, 29 yards on 11 carries and Jim Springer, 20

City Police

A Manistique boy was hospitalized last week for injuries received when a pick-up truck hit him on Cedar St.

Manistique Public Safety Officers said Alfred Baker, 12, was talking with a group of boys on the sidewalk on Cedar St. with his back to the road. Suddenly he turned left and stepped into the street in front of a truck driven by John E. Bredlow. Baker was knocked down.

He was taken by ambulance to Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital for treatment. The accident happened at 8:20 a.m. on Thursday.

Baker was released from the hospital this week. No citations were issued in the accident.

Police said a car driven by Lisa A. Brulla hit the rear end of a car driven by Michael A. Gronback of Germfask on Thursday at 3 p.m. on Arbutus. According to police reports, both vehicles were stopped at a stop sign when Brulla thought the Gronback vehicle was moving. She then started her vehicle and hit him.

There were no fire calls last week. Five ambulance calls were made for a yearly total of 200 calls.

Many students still get Social Security

As a new school year begins, many students aged 18 to 22 are still eligible for monthly social Security checks. Although legislation in 1981 will gradually phase out benefits for those in college, about 620,000 students currently can count on these payments, compared with 759,000 a year ago.

About 80 percent of these student beneficiaries attend college or other post secondary schools. Their continued eligibility is based on the fact that they were receiving checks when the law changed in August 1981 and they were in college before May 1982. Payments will continue until they finish school, reach age 22, or April 1985—whichever is first.

Most of the remaining 20 percent attend high school. Their checks will be paid for all months they attend school full time up to age 19. Under certain circumstances, payments may continue a few additional months. The only newly eligible students over 18 are those in high school.

If you are a college student, your checks were stopped for the summer months even though you may have attended summer school. Payments will resume with the September check (due in early October) provided you plan to return to the classroom. However, the amount you receive generally will be 25 percent less than it was last spring.

As a student beneficiary, you will receive a "Beginning-of-School-Year Report" during the early weeks of the fall term. This form asks about school attendance, your activity, etc. Complete the top two-thirds of the form and ask your school registrar or other official to certify your attendance at the bottom and return it to Social Security. If it is not returned promptly, your benefits may be stopped.

Did you have a summer job or will you have part-time earnings for 1982? If so, remember your benefits may be affected if you earn over $4,440 for the year. In general, 51 in benefits will be withheld for each $2 you earn over $4,440. Even earnings for months you are not entitled to benefits count toward the limit.

More information about student benefits can be obtained from one of the Social Security representatives who are at the courthouse in Manistique on the first and third Wednesday of the month from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. Most Social Security business can be handled by telephone. The toll free number is 1-800-562-4820.

State Police

One woman was killed and another critically injured in a one car accident on CR 437 on Sunday at 1:35 p.m.

Michigan State Police said a vehicle driven by Dorothy Maynard, 61, went off of the roadway and hit a pine tree. A passenger in the car, Yvonne Erickson, 66, was pronounced dead on arrival at Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital.

Maynard, who was critically injured, was taken by ambulance to Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital and later transferred to Marquette General North.

The accident is still under investigation.

Four juveniles were remanded to Delta County Juvenile Court after they were discovered inside the Peninsula Food and Beverage Store after the store was closed.

The four allegedly gained entry by way of a vent in the back of the store. They have been connected with several other breaking and enterings in the area.

The case remains under investigation.

William E. Wegener of Gulliver was cited for failure to yield the right of way following a two car accident at the intersection of US-2 and CR432. Police said a car driven by John C. Gilpen of Ann Arbor was eastbound on US-2, when Wegener drove his vehicle from CR432 onto US-2 hitting Gilpen.

Police cited Rose M. Beaudre of Garden for violation of the basic speed law after her vehicle hit a parked car in the Village of Garden. The accident happened on Saturday.

THE NATURALS, 1982 style, have been selected after auditions by director Keith Polkinghorne. Members of Manistique High School's

Naturals' album available soon

That album recorded last spring by Manistique High School's performing group, The Naturals, should be available soon, according to director Keith Polkinghorne.

Polkinghorne said the album, featuring songs and highlights from the group's annual "Spectacular" in April, should be available in about a week. In addition to the selections from the Spectacular, the album will include two studio cuts recorded over the summer.

Polkinghorne said production of the album was delayed because of summer vacations at the recording company. Copies of the album will be available only to those who have already submitted orders. "Unfortunately, there will be no extra copies available this year, because of budget limitations," Polkinghorne said. Announcements will be made about where and when copies of the album can be picked up.

Polkinghorne also said that the 1982-83 version of the musical group has been selected after auditions by students earlier this month. Four new faces, three freshmen and a sophomore, were added to The Naturals after the auditions, Polkinghorne said. They are Tami Funderberg, a freshman who will sing and play keyboards; Bob Mercer, a freshman who will sing and play guitar, drums and bass; Molly Studinger, a freshman who will sing and play guitar; and sophomore David Mills, who will sing and play guitar in the group.

Also new this year, Polkinghorne said, will be the talents of a professional arranger to enhance the group's performance. Laurence Henry, faculty member at Millersville State University in Pennsylvania, will arrange an entire show set for the Spectacular, Polkinghorne said.

Returning this year to the group are the following students: Steve

Senev to observe hunting & fishing day

The public is invited to attend National Hunting and Fishing Day activities at the Senev National Wildlife Refuge on Saturday, Sept. 25, from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Events will be held in the Refuge Visitor Center and will include: movies, displays of rods and reels, firearms, antlers and traps; demonstrations on cartridge reloading, fly tying and arrow making.

Increasing sport fishing will also give refuge personnel an opportunity to collect biological data.

Fishing is open during daylight hours. The use of boats or canoes is prohibited; fishing is restricted to the banks and wading near the main shoreline. All State fishing regulations apply except that there is no size limit on pike.

Hard to believe the whole month of September is just about gone. Where does the time go?

But look on the bright side—we've already planned the activities for October.

Heritage Potluck: This potluck will be held Oct. 4, starting at 5 p.m. The dish you bring to pass should reflect your heritage. We will have cards and bingo to follow. Bingo ladies, please bring a prize. Also everyone remember to bring their own place setting. If you plan on attending, please sign up in the office so we know how many to set up for.

Harvest Potluck: To be held here at the Center Oct. 16 starting at 5 p.m. Make a dish to pass and "think fall" as you do. Please bring your own table setting and we'll have cards and bingo to follow. Please sign up in the office or give us a call at 341-5100.

Halloween Costume Party: Start thinking about who you would like to be for Halloween and then get your costume ready for the party, because this is one party you're not going to want to miss. We've got lots of spooky ideas and the evening will be loads of fun. There will be prizes for costumes, good old fashion Halloween games and lots of good food. Tickets are on sale now for $4. The witching hour begins at 8 p.m. So make plans to attend. We're asking everyone to come in costume. If you need any ideas or help let us know.

If anyone has a few extra pieces of wood that they don't know what to do with, we could use you. We could use our fireplace more often if we had the wood. (Hint-Hint)

Memorials were given to the Center in the name of Hazel Drevdahl by Lauritz Drevdahl; in the name of Arthur Drevdahl by Lauritz Drevdahl; in the name of Mary Kralk by Christine Lindstrom and in the name of William Vincent by Sherman and Bernice Dewey.

A postage donation to supplement the cost of the Newsletter came from Clarence and Marie Henderson.

"Grandma's Attic" donations came from: Paul and Charlotte Deagos, Lorna Mitchell, Nancy Verran, Billie Doyle, Betty DeSautel and Vera Nancy of Flint.

Carl Leonard gave a donation of hunk boots to the Center.

Francis Swagart gave lots and lots of egg cartons for our craft class and Mrs. Alex Meron gave a nice donation of bingo prizes.

Pat and Ellen Rosebush gave a "giant" Hungarian squash to the Center.

We wish to thank each and everyone of you for your kindness and generosity.

Jimmy Greenings go to: Ida Carlson, Jim Hoholik, Gladys Hoover, Lorraine Ranguette, Viola Steele, September 24; William Hill, September 26; James Lucas, Verne Martin, Ona Stewart, Norma Swagart, September 27; Ditta McNamara, September 28; Mabel Moreau, September 29; Sherman Dewey, John Dyer, Peg Hestichan, Jane Jasmin, Hazel Joslin, Rose Patrick, Mary Rasmussen and Mike Schultz, September 30.

Don't forget to take time and wish these people a "Happy Birthday!"

St. Rita's Circle plans cookout

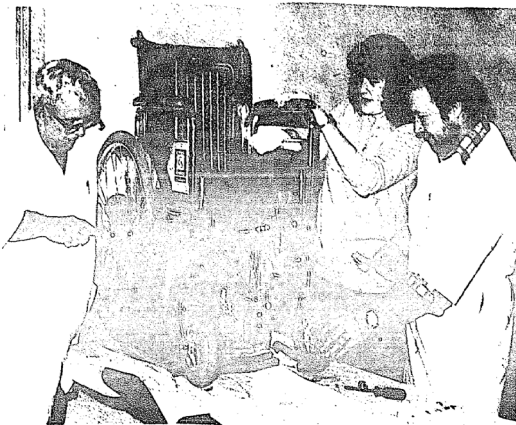

St. Rita's Circle will have a cookout on Tuesday, Sept. 28, at 6:15 p.m. at the Cayla cottage on Indian Lake. Each member is asked to bring their own meat to cook.

Hostesses are Roma Cayin, Addie McNally, Jean Hawn and Honey Brunat.

Agency gets $31,000 grant

The Menominee-Delta-Schoolcraft Community Action Agency has been awarded a grant from the United States ACTION Agency, according to Congressman Bob Davis.

The grant of $31,000 will be used for the agency's Retired Senior Volunteer Program, in which seniors volunteer as aides in areas such as hospitals, school libraries, and disabled students facilities. Currently, 175 seniors are involved in this, the only Retired Senior Volunteer Program in the Upper Peninsula.

A WHEELCHAIR REPAIR clinic was sponsored last Thursday by the Schoolcraft County Easter Seals Society which refurbished the wheelchairs for handicapped residents of the area. The Easter Seals Society supplies the spare parts for the chairs and Wright and Filippis of Marquette donate mechanics time. Pictured here are job seeker (left) and Calvin Barton of Wright and Filippis and Jill Carter of the Easter Seals Society while working on a chair.

Sept. birthday party at Medical Facility

Fine arts performances returned to the Schoolcraft Medical Care Facility last week to honor the September birthdays of nine residents. Carl Olson, accomplished violinist, presented a half-hour program, playing sets of college fight songs, waltzes, foxtrots, ballads and hymns. He was accompanied on the piano by pianist Mrs. George Wah-Berry, Ellen Beach and Charlotte Carden, of Muskegon, Michigan.

Six sun hats were added to the supply that is being accumulated for summer outings by Mary Farmer.

The next birthday party at the facility will be held on October 20 and the entertainment will be a performance by the Bell Ringers from the First Baptist Church under the direction of the Rev. Jay Martin.

Any interested persons wishing to help with the birthday parties can call 341-5720 for further information.

Fayette's St. Peter's Church blessed by Bishop Schmitt

By Eleanor LaBarte

"Our Help is in the name of the Lord." With these words Bishop Mark F. Schmitt blessed the church, bell tower and Marian shrine at St. Peter's The Fisherman Parish in Fayette last Sunday.

The church was built in 1974 with the first Mass held on Christmas Eve by Father Tim Desrochers. New additions have gradually been added: the Marian Shrine from the old church property was installed four years ago. Last week, the bell from the old St. Peter's church was hung in the bell tower and Father Tom Poisson, pastor, used the occasion to have the blessings. Residents of Fayette gathered for the celebration of Mass at noon, followed by a potluck dinner at the parish hall. It was an opportunity for the parishioners to get acquainted with the Bishop.

The original St. Peter's Church was destroyed by fire on Jan. 16, 1972.

25 area delegates to attend conference in Rhinelander

Jehovah's Witnesses from the Manistique area will attend a Christian assembly this weekend in Rhinelander, Wis. The two-day gathering begins Saturday morning, Sept. 25, in the senior high school.

John Bredlau of Manistique, local Witness spokesman, said, "The theme for the conference, 'Making the Truth Manifest in Our Lives,' will be highlighted by talks, skits and actual experiences. Jehovah's Witnesses realize clearly from the Bible that true Christians not only need to speak the truth about God, but they need to live it everyday as well. Our convention will help all in attendance to appreciate this even more."

The Manistique congregation will be represented by twenty-five delegates, according to Bredlau. Weekend meetings at the local Kingdom Hall will be cancelled because of the assembly.

The featured speaker on the program will be Daniel Gorman of Brooklyn, New York. He will deliver the principal address of the conference Sunday on the subject, "How Does the Truth Affect Your Life?"

The discourse emphasize the motivating power the truth about God can have as explained in the Bible.

Upwards of 1,500 persons from 19 Upper Michigan and Northeastern Wisconsin congregations are expected for the event, sponsored by the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society of New York.
