

County Board creates 'animal control agency' to hire dog catcher

At its meeting Tuesday night, the County Board learned that the cooperative city-county animal shelter will be a two-way operation that there will be a roomy unit but that an animal control officer to operate it can be hired.

The county put up the money, about $1,200, to build the pound and the board was told Tuesday that it had been inspected and approved by Bill Kline, a kennel inspector with the state Department of Agriculture. Under an agreement with the city, the county will provide a part-time animal control officer to round up loose dogs and staff the pound while the city will maintain it and pay utilities bills.

However, the board was told Tuesday that a special "animal control agency" must be established by the county before the animal control officer can be hired. County Prosecutor Peter Hollenbeck presented an ordinance creating the agency and it was unanimously passed by the board.

However, Hollenbeck said, there will be a 60-day wait before the agency becomes official and the animal control officer could be hired the waiting period is required in order to send the approved county ordinance to the governor for his approval, Hollenbeck said, and for any objections to be filed by area residents.

In the meantime, Hollenbeck noted, local and state police can impound dogs and process complaints to his office. If the county goes ahead and hires the animal control officer anyway, Hollenbeck said he could not prosecute any complaints brought by the officer. The animal control agency is required by the state "dog law," Hollenbeck said. The state law does not mandate that the county hire a dog warden to enforce the law. But, once the county decides to do so, the law requires creation of the animal control agency before one is hired.

Both the city and county have been bombarded with complaints by residents over the past year about dogs running loose in Manistique and rural areas. After the closing of the city's old dog pound more than two years ago, dogs "picked up" running loose could not be impounded as required in the state law before being destroyed or returned to their owners.

With the recently-completed pound, enforcement of both the state law and city ordinance appears possible for the first time in years. Both prohibit owners of dogs from letting them run loose.

Eva Burrell of the Schoolcraft County Humane Society attended the County Board meeting Tuesday and expressed frustration over the delay in hiring an animal control officer. She said that society had tried to house stray animals but would not act as a pound for problem dogs.

In other matters Tuesday, the County Board: --Voted 4-3 to appoint Dick Forstner of Indian Lake to the county Mental Health Board. Forstner and Grant Harris of Manistique were two candidates nominated for the position. Board Members Merwin White, Ernie Hoholik, Lyle Kotchouk and Bill Tennyson voted for Forstner while Bob Barr, Rick Pawley and Lindsay Frenette voted for Harris. Other applicants for the position were Richard Johnson and Sally Mandrella.

--Denied two grievances from the courthouse employee's union, both grievances were over the use of inmates from the county jail for maintenance work around the courthouse while union employees had been laid off. The board also authorized Personnel Committee Chairman Bill Tennyson to deny a third, similar grievance expected to come before the committee.

--Heard that taxing units in the county lost some $20,000 in property (continued on page 4A)

Council questions overtime for police

Public Safety Director Joe McDonough was grilled by the City Council Tuesday night over the amount of overtime hours his department has logged in the last six months.

The number of overtime hours-1,600 in the past six months-is a drain on the financially-strapped city and prompted Council Member Wally Leggett to ask "isn't there some way we can cut down on the amount of overtime?"

Those overtime hours average out to over five and a half hours a week over the past six months for each of the 11 public safety officers on the city's payroll.

McDonough could not say exactly just how much those 1,600 hours of overtime cost the city. Generally the overtime pay is calculated as 1 1/2 times an officer's base wage, but in some cases double time is paid.

In addition, McDonough noted that officers are paid differing wages depending on their training and length of employment with the city. As an example, however, an officer with over four years' experience in Manistique who has received fire fighting training and is a certified Emergency Medical Technician (EMT) is paid a base wage of $8.05 an hour.

Time-and-a-half pay for such an officer would be $12.07.

McDonough explained that he has little choice in most cases but to allow the overtime.

For example, by far the biggest single chunk of the overtime, 612 hours, was logged by public safety officers serving as ambulance attendants.

Typically, the city has two men on duty during the day, one staffing the desk and one patrolling. If an ambulance call is received from well outside the city limits, at least one man must be called in on overtime pay to assist the patrol officer with the ambulance.

At night, there are two officers in the patrol car and they handle ambulance calls within the city without overtime. For calls outside the city limits, though, two officers must be called in on overtime pay.

Another big chunk of the overtime pay, 213 hours, went to pay a full-in officer for those who call in sick. McDonough said he discouraged officers taking sick leave, but that "when they call in sick, I can't challenge them. It's negotiated in the contract," he said.

Other areas accounting for large amounts of overtime over the last six months were 238 hours for hold day pay, 156 hours for investigation time past regular shifts, 48 hours personal leave; and 46 hours for time in court.

McDonough defended the overtime paid for investigative work. Calling 48 hours a "minimum" for investigation, he said that the best cases are prepared by the responding officer right after a crime is committed.

In other matters Monday, the City Council: --Heard a report from Bob Helwig, director of the Upper Peninsula Travel and Recreation Association (UPTRA). Helwig outlined the association's efforts to promote travel and tourism in the area and requested that the city allocate money for UPTRA in its 1983-84 budget. He noted that the city had appropriated $475 for UPTRA in 1980, but has given no money since then.

Helwig said that tourism pumped about $15 million into the economy of Schoolcraft County in 1981 and said the prospects for the future appeared bright. The council took no action on Helwig's request. Mayor Bill Hackney said that he had often used UPTRA assistance as mayor. "I was a little bit embarrassed when I found out we were not a member," Hackney said. --Heard a request from a resident to pay an overdue water bill in installments. The resident said he

13 workers laid off

Workers at Inland Lime and Stone Co. in Gulliver have been hit by the current economic recession. Last week they received a double whammy: 13 workers were laid off on temporary layoff and the company announced that supplemental employment benefits paid to them would be reduced and then terminated altogether.

John Hendricks, superintendent at the limestone quarrying operation, said Tuesday that 13 workers were laid off last week as one of a "series of temporary layoffs and callbacks that has continued back and forth" all summer.

Due to the depressed steel industry, orders for the limestone quarried at Gulliver from Inland Steel, Inland Lime and Stone's parent company, have fallen to the lowest level in years.

The depressed level of orders had forced a week-to-week scheduling of layoffs and callbacks, depending on the number of stone-carrying ships scheduled to dock at Port Inland. The number of ships to come to Manistique this year, 81 so far, is down 36 from the 117 at the same time last year. "And last year wasn't much to write home about either," Hendricks said.

The laid-off workers could be called back as soon as next week, Hendricks noted, but added "the number on layoff probably is as high if not higher as this year."

Of greater concern to the workers is the reduction of Supplemental Employment Benefits (SEB) payments by the company. Those payments are made from a fund that has been depleted by the layoff of other Inland Steel workers at the company's steel mill and quarrying operations.

Hendricks said that, by the contract with the United Steelworkers Union, once the fund drops below a certain level, payments are reduced to workers with less than 20 years' (continued on page 4A)

Need $100,000 to cover payrolls Schools to borrow to cover aid delay

An age-old problem confronted the Manistique Area Schools Board of Education at its regular meeting Tuesday night: cash to meet fall payrolls.

According to a report presented to the board by Administrative Assistant Margaret Cain, the district needs to borrow $100,000 against anticipated state aid to be assured of meeting payrolls in December and to pay suppliers.

"Our payrolls are covered for November," said Cain, "but if we don't get our full October state aid we're going to be in trouble."

The state aid, which is usually paid every other month was not paid in October. It is hoped the full payment will be paid in November and then in December.

The resolution to borrow $100,000 was passed unanimously. "With the state record for paying aid, I am not even sure we will be able to sell these bonds," said Cain. "But we sure have to give it a try."

"We are not getting that money now anyway," Cain said. "If we had that tax money now, we would probably not be having to borrow," she added. Wednesday, City Clerk Pat Erickson said she was in favor of the summer school tax collection, now that the delinquent tax surcharge question had been settled. "I've talked to Escanaba and Gladstone and they're not having any problems with it," she said.

C.P.A. Jack Jones presented a review of the audit of the 1981-82 fiscal year to the board. Jones said, "Your records have been very well maintained. This audit has gone more smoothly than most."

There were some more problems according to Jones. One of the problems was a bank account for the yearbook, which is not kept in the name of the school. "Student activity funds, while considered property of the groups, are under the general supervision of the board. It is imperative the account be turned over as soon as possible. "I understand there is no question about misuse of the funds," Jones added. Jones commended the board on the fund equity which will start the current fiscal year. He said the equity was approximately $245,000. "Personally, I think your equity should be at least twice that," he said. "I don't believe you should (continued on page 4A)

Video game room planned for All Seasons' building

Plans are afoot to establish an arcade of video and other games in Manistique and the operator hopes to open as soon as this Saturday.

Dennis Kampainen of St. Ignace said he hopes to have his "fun-rama," as he prefers to call it, operating in the old All-Seasons Sports building on US-2 by Saturday. In any event, he said the arcade should be open for business by the following Saturday.

Kampainen, owner of Veri-Fine Vending in St. Ignace, signed a lease this week to rent the front portion of the All-Seasons building. He said he especially liked the site because it has large picture windows. Aware of the problems attributed to video game rooms in other communities, Kampainen said "we want it to be viewable to the public so they can see what's going on."

He plans to install "at least 9 or 10" video games, another 10 or so pinball machines, a pool table and a ping-pong table to start off. "As they come up with newer games, we'll be adding" to the selection available. Francis Jo Curtis, owner of the building, said that the language of the one-year lease leaves the responsibility for the supervision of the his shoulders." Kampainen also has an option to rent the building a second year. Kampainen said he sees no problem with controlling the youngsters likely to frequent the video games. Other communities have cited problems with drug abuse and rowdiness by the young customers in similar establishments. He said that a similar operation he runs in St. Ignace has been free of those problems. Key to its success is constant adult supervision and strict rules. "We've kicked out kids many times" who violate the rules, which include no intoxication by drugs or alcohol, no roughhousing and restricted cigarette smoking areas. In St. Ignace, "We've had no complaints whatsoever. I check with the

Merchants plan

"Oktoberfest"

The Manistique merchants are planning a downtown "Oktoberfest" celebrating the changing of the seasons festival to be held Friday, Oct. 22. Complete with beer, bratwurst and music, the festival is slated to coincide with Manistique High School's homecoming celebration.

The carnival will kick off at 11 a.m. and run until 6:30 p.m. when the homecoming parade will march down Cedar Street. At 7:30 p.m., Manistique will face the Newberry Indians in the homecoming football game.

The local Oktoberfest will be patterned after the traditional German festival held to mark the end of summer and celebrate the changing of the seasons. As part of the festivities, downtown merchants will be decorating their display windows in a fall seasonal motif. "Balles" will be cast by customers to select the best display and the winning merchant will be awarded a plaque.

In addition, there will be concession booths by local civic organizations in the triangle park area across from the post office. The Elks Club will sell beer and the Senior Citizens Center will have bratwurst and polish sausage for sale.

At home with Sarah

by Saran Bignall

Good neighbors are so important and we are very fortunate to have great neighbors all around us. They are people we can count on, people we can share a cup of coffee with; people we can borrow from; and people who are really good friends. But remember, to have good neighbors you must be a good neighbor.

One of my neighbors, Helen Hase, gave me this recipe to share with you. This recipe is for 20 Minute Rolls. They do not really take 20 minutes from start to finish, but they are much quicker than most raised rolls and are relatively easy to make for a raised dough. This dough can be used for dinner rolls, coffee cakes, or sticky buns - or a combination of any or all of these. One recipe will make three or four things.

20 MINUTE ROLLS

- 6 1/2 cups flour
- 1 cup lukewarm milk
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 2 pkg. yeast
- 2 eggs
- 1/2 cup oil
- 1 teas. salt

Mix milk, sugar and yeast in a large bowl. Add salt and 2 cups flour. Beat with mixer for 2 minutes. Add eggs and oil. Beat 1 minute longer. Gradually add remaining 4 1/2 cups flour until dough is formed. Knead a few minutes. Allow dough to rest for 20 minutes. Divide dough into 3 or 4 sections and form into coffee cakes or rolls. Let rise until double.

Bake in greased pans at 375 degrees 20 to 25 minutes.

STICKY BUNS (for above dough)

- 1 stick butter
- 1 cup brown sugar
- 1/2 cup light corn syrup

Melt butter; stir in brown sugar and syrup. Heat, stirring occasionally until sugar is dissolved. Pour into greased pan and place rolls over this. Then raise and proceed as above.

Saran says....to intensify the yellow color in coffee cake and other pastries, add salt to egg yolks.

Food for thought....Instead of pointing a finger, why not hold out a hand?

Third straight state-ranked opponent Emeralds face Mustangs after loss

Players of the week

Tom Cooper Corey Miller Tom Burnis

Tom Cooper was named player of the week for the first time this season by Emerald varsity coach Jim Hunter for his offensive play in the 39-21 defeat at the hands of Iron Mountain Friday. Defensively, Hunter tabbed Tom Burnis and Corey Miller for the weekly honor.

Cooper, a 6-1, 180-pound senior, was cited for his "trap" blocking in the Iron Mountain game. In a trap block, an offensive guard changes position before the snap after the defensive line has set. "It's a difficult block and that's what the biggest part of our offensive game is based on. Cooper did a good job blocking on the traps," Hunter said.

Cooper did well defensively too, racking up 21 points on Hunter's defensive point chart and getting in on 12 tackles.

Miller, a senior, was also in on 12 tackles and led the team on the defensive point chart with 28 points. The 5-11, 165-pound back also snagged an interception.

Burnis, a 5-10, 175-pound senior, has been named three times so far as a player of the week. Against Iron Mountain, he had a fumble recovery, blocked an extra point kick attempt and was in on 13 tackles, getting 24 defensive points.

Hunter said the Emerald defense played well inside against the Mountaineers, but was sporadic. "Overall, our inside people played a pretty good ball game. At times all of them stood out; the problem was we weren't consistent," Hunter said.

Emerald varsity football coach Jim Hunter must be wondering when it will all end—Manistique's grueling schedule of the past few weeks, that is.

The Emeralds will be facing their third state-ranked opponent in as many weeks this Friday when they take on the Mustangs at Iron Mountain starting at 7 p.m. The Mustangs are ranked 15th in the most recent UPI Class C state football rankings after beating Ishpeming last week 12-7.

Last Friday it was the Iron Mountain Mountaineers, second in the state poll, that faced the Emeralds at home, beating them soundly, 31-12, and dropping Manistique to a 1-5 overall record (1-4 in the Mid-Pen Conference). The week before the Emeralds went to Stephenson to take on the eighth-ranked Eagles, falling in an upset bid, 16-14.

Hunter picks Munising, 4-1 in conference play and 5-1 overall, as the second strongest team in the Mid-Pen Conference behind Iron Mountain but nonetheless feels that the Emeralds can upset the Mustangs. The key will be in playing a consistent defensive game.

Against the powerful Mountaineers Friday, Manistique held Iron Mountain scoreless in the first quarter in a display of the kind of defense Hunter would like to see against Munising.

"We did exceptionally well," Hunter said of the defensive performance. "We fumbled the ball two times and they couldn't score. The defense was outstanding."

"If we play defensively the way we did the first half (against Iron Mountain), I think we can stay with" the Mustangs this Friday, Hunter said.

"I feel against them we'll have to score three times to win. If we can contain them and control them and not let them run the ball down our throat the way Norway did, we can win the ball game."

Key to containing the Mustangs will be stopping quarterback Ryan Kelly on the option play Munising has used to devastating effectiveness against its opponents so far this season. "Kelly plays the option as well as anyone. You've got to put one guy on that quarterback and one guy on that pitchback and they both have to do their job or you could wind up giving up a big play," Hunter said.

Against Munising's four-man defensive line, Hunter said the Emeralds will pass more than they did against the Mountaineer's six-man line. Still, he said "our ground game has got to be more consistent than this week" so the tough Munising defense does not force the Emeralds to put the ball in the air.

Where Manistique broke down in Friday's contest was not in the air but in the flats—the defense repeatedly failed to bring down fleet-footed fullback Dan Bianco with only short yardage gains. Bianco scored four touchdowns and ran for a two-point conversion to account for 26 of Iron Mountain's points. Bianco also had several long runs to keep Iron Mountain drives alive.

Manistique could not get to Bianco who had the chance before he broke for long yardage, a fact Hunter saw as crucial to the final outcome. Giving credit to Bianco for his speed, he said that the Emeralds read the Iron Mountain strategy but simply couldn't catch Bianco. "We just missed the tackles on him, which was the story of the ballgame on the flats," Hunter said.

In the first half, it looked as if Manistique might surprise everyone, holding the Mountaineers with an impressive defensive showing and drawing first blood. A short Emerald drive at the end of the first quarter, assisted by two Iron Mountain penalties for first downs, set up a 20-yard scoring strike in the second play of the second quarter from quarterback Mike Godlewski to George Bosanic.

Troy Farley's 2-point conversion run was stopped short at the one-foot line, but Manistique led 6-0.

Iron Mountain came back on the next possession with a Bianco run for 35 yards to the Emerald five. Bianco ran the next play in for the score.

Tom Burnis blocked the Mountaineer's extra point kick.

Manistique was forced to punt. Hunter sacked Popp on the second Iron Mountain play from scrimmage for a 10-yard loss. On the next play, Bianco caught the first of two short screen passes of the evening he was to run for scores, this one for 65 yards. Iron Mountain kicked the extra point to take the lead for good, 13-6.

After interception cut short a brief Emerald drive on the next possession, Iron Mountain scored once more before the end of the half, on a 17-yard Rick Popp-Bianco pass. The kick was good and the Mountaineers led 20-6.

Penalties and a sack ruined Manistique's chances on its first two possessions of the third quarter, giving the ball to Iron Mountain at mid-field. Two quick passes by Popp and the quarterback ran two yards for a touchdown. Bianco ran for the 2-point conversion to put the Mountaineers up 28-6.

After Manistique again punted away to give the Mountaineers good field position, Popp scrambled 40 yards to the Emerald 10, only to be sacked for a 15-yard loss and pushed farther back on a holding penalty. Facing a third-down and 30 situation, Bianco then made his second conversion of a screen pass for a 50-yard touchdown. A 2-point conversion gave Iron Mountain a 36-6 edge.

After that, the Manistique defense again stiffened, holding the Mountaineer second string to a field goal in the fourth quarter to finish their scoring.

Manistique's second touchdown came late in the fourth. The Emeralds put together a series of short runs, capped by a one-yard lunge by

Black Bears drop to 1-5 Broncos trample Big Bay 51-21

A 30-point explosion by the Bark River-Harris Broncos during the first half of Saturday's grid homestand at Crystal Falls, but would still clinch defeat 51-21.

The loss in the Wolverine Conference contest drops the Black Bears' overall record to 1-5. They are winless in conference action, with an 0-3 mark.

The Black Bears were unable to answer with any points of their own during the first two stanzas of Saturday's game as the Broncos' Jim Ledford tossed two touchdown passes for 75 yards and scored on a couple of quarterback sneaks to open up what turned out to be an insurmountable 30-0 lead at halftime.

Big Bay coach Jeff Pierce said it was the BR-H passing attack that did it in the Black Bears. "They were able to move the ball on the run but also came up with big plays in the air and that killed us," he said.

Given a better performance from his charges on pass defense, Pierce said he feels the Black Bears can upset the highly-ranked Rapid River Rockets in home action this Saturday. Game time is 1:30 p.m. Rapid River lost its first game last week to Crystal Falls, but would still clinch the Wolverine Conference title with a win over Big Bay Saturday.

"We think we can play against them. They don't have a real strong running attack—they like to throw the ball. We're a passing team ourselves and we are fairly strong normally against the pass," Pierce said.

After opening up the 30-0 lead in the first half, Bark-River-Harris struck again in the third quarter yet another touchdown pass from Ledford to Mark Heim, giving the Broncos a 38-0 edge.

Big Bay answered with three straight scores, but it was too little, too late. The first strike came on a 22-yard pass from Black Bear quarterback Rich Ranguette to Steve Annelin. Jamie Hartwick kicked an extra point and the Bronco lead was cut to 38-7.

Early in the fourth quarter, a halfback pass from Corey Potvin to Brian LaVigne was good for another touchdown and a faked kick was run in by Mark Knoph for a 2-point conversion.

The final Big Bay score came on a 10-yard pass from Ranguette to Annelin. The extra point attempt was blocked and Big Bay trailed 38-21.

"We think we can play against them. They don't have a real strong running attack—they like to throw the ball. We're a passing team ourselves and we are fairly strong normally against the pass," Pierce said.

After being trounced by Iron Mountain 65-0 last Thursday, coach Jim Hubbard's junior varsity grid-ers will host Munising tonight with the kickoff scheduled for 7 p.m.

The young Emerald J.V. squad will be after their first win of the season after dropping the first 6.

Against the Mountaineers, the Emeralds managed only a net 69 yards rushing and 10 yards passing. Leading ball carrier was Jim Springer who had 43 yards on 13 carries. Manistique led the ball three times

In the closing moments of the game, the Broncos tacked on two more scores: a 42-yard run by Mike Urbanic and an 8-yard run at the final buzzer by Todd Kositzke to make the final tally 51-21.

"We think we can play against them. They don't have a real strong running attack—they like to throw the ball. We're a passing team ourselves and we are fairly strong normally against the pass," Pierce said.

Two losses at home drop girls to 3-7

BARB CALHOUN LINES UP a shot in the varsity girls' basketball team's 58-36 loss to Ishpeming last Thursday. Tuesday, the girls dropped another one to the Munising Mustangs and will travel to Negaunee tonight. (Mary Krusic photo)

Rebounding was again the key to the girls' basketball team's problems Tuesday night as the Emeralds dropped to 3-7 on the season with a loss to the Munising Mustangs. The final score was 46-32. It was the girls' fifth straight loss as they were defeated Thursday by Ishpeming, 58-36.

Manistique came out hot in the first quarter, hitting shots from the outside. Shelly Lashich scored six of her ten points in this period as the Emeralds took a 14-10 lead.

By the end of the second quarter, Munising's height advantage was beginning to take its toll on the Emeralds. Manistique was outscored 13-6 to put Munising on top at the half 23-20.

Manistique could manage only two points in the third quarter, those points being scored by Julie Carlson. Munising came up with 8 points to widen its lead in the third quarter 31-22.

In the fourth quarter, Munising made 15 points, five of those at the freethrow line as Manistique was called for eight foul penalties. Barb Desjardien scored eight of Manistique's 11 points in the quarter but it wasn't enough to bring home the win. At the final buzzer Munising was on top 46-32.

Scorers for Manistique included Desjardien 14, Lashich 10, Julie Carlson 4 and Julie Larson 2.

The Manistique J.V.'s suffered their second loss in a row at the hands of the Mustangs 43-29.

Manistique shot 17 percent from the floor as compared to 25 percent for Munising. The Emeralds made seven of 17 free throws for 41 percent while the Mustangs connected on nine of 21 for 43 percent.

Manistique was outscored 63-53. High rebounders for the Emeralds were Stacey Zellar with 15, Zellar added 7, Mary Brulla 4 and Amy Klarich 2.

The Emeralds will meet Negaunee in a conference game at Negaunee on Thursday. Game time is 7 p.m. for the varsity and the J.V.'s at 5:20.

The J.V.'s also met defeat at the hands of the Hematites. The final score was 49-33. Manistique scorers included Mary Brulla 9, Stacey Zellar 6, Amy Klarich 6, Cathy Paquin 5, Amy Kraatz 3 and Gerri Paquin 2.

Fishing book is available

"Facts About Treaty Fishing", a two-page brochure which answers commonly asked questions about the ten-year-old Indian treaty fishing controversy, is available to the public.

Developed under a grant from the U.S. Interior Department through the Grand Traverse Band of Ottawa-Chippewa Indians, the brochure is part of a Community Education Project of Michigan Indian Legal Services.

Project Director Nancy Kida explained, "We believe the public has not gotten the full story about treaty fishing rights. Misinformation has been circulating for such a long time that many people now believe these rumors."

Sharptail grouse management needed to preserve habitat

Gregg Stoll, Wildlife Habitat Biologist at Manistique, tells about the history of sharptail grouse in the Upper Peninsula.

The sharptail grouse is a popular game bird found in many areas in North America and common in the east end of the Upper Peninsula. Five sub-species are found in North America. The Michigan birds would be the same sub-species found in Ontario, Wisconsin and Manitoba. Originally it was thought that sharptail grouse were not native to the Upper Peninsula and had moved in following logging and fires. Evidence now indicates they were probably always present but in very low numbers and lived around bogs and marsh areas.

The first official record of sharptail grouse in Michigan was from Isle Royale in 1888. Reports from missionaries living with Indians on the mainland indicate the presence of sharptail there also. The earliest official report was from Eben in 1914 (Ontonagon County). The birds were expanding into newly created habitat and by the early twenties were found in most of Gogebic, Iron, Ontonagon and Keweenaw Counties.

The many fires that raged across the Upper Peninsula from 1920 to 1927 undoubtedly created new habitat and hastened their spread. By 1942 their numbers had increased to where they were found across the entire peninsula. Trapping by Department of Conservation personnel in the thirties and release in new areas probably helped them expand and by 1952 sharptail grouse were most numerous in the east half of the Upper Peninsula.

In the following thirty years, populations in the western U.P. have drastically declined to where they are no longer hunted and exist only as remnant flocks. This has occurred because of changes in the land. Suppression of fires and massive planting programs resulted in openings being revegetated much faster than natural processes would allow. As the openings grew up, both the prairie chicken and sharptail grouse numbers declined drastically.

The situation on the east end is different and sharptail grouse are still found in huntable numbers. Fire suppression and planting programs reduced the openings, however, areas still remain that produce sharptail. Suitable habitat has been reduced on state and federal lands by a quarter of a million acres through planting programs and natural revegetation from fire suppression resulted in an equal loss.

Protection of some openings from planting and habitat work has stabilized declining sharptail numbers. This habitat loss resulted also in the extinction of the prairie chicken from the U.P. and has contributed to the reduction of many other animal populations, such as deer, that require openings as part of their habitat. Expanded habitat work is necessary to ensure the long term survival of sharptail grouse as a huntable species and prevent them from going the way of the prairie chicken. Habitat requirements will be looked at in a future article.

DNR REPORT

By Carol Schmidt
Newberry DNR Office

There were lots of geese available for waterfowl hunters on opening day Oct. 2. Some good areas were Brimley, Dafer, Pickford, Rudyard, Barbeau, Black Creek Floodplain. Limits were bagged at the north end of Indian Lake, Kennedy Lake, and the buckwheat fields near Cooks. At Kennedy Lake 10 geese hunters limited out in half an hour opening morning. 9 limit catches of ducks (mallards, wood ducks and blue winged teal) were checked at Dollarville Flooding, but hunters were down 50 percent from last year. At Munuscong there were more hunters than last year and the kill per hunter was better. Duck numbers were about the same, but geese were up. Fair numbers of local ducks were available elsewhere in the district in the small ponds and potholes. Flight ducks are expected in another week or so. Ruffed grouse are marginal; it looks like sharptail numbers have held up better than ruffed grouse. In the sharptail areas there were more hunters this year; most were seeing birds and getting in some shooting.

TROUT, SALMON-Chinook fishermen are still landing big fish in the Soo area. Coho jacks and some adult fish are being taken at the mouth of Pentills Creek. Some king (chinook) and coho salmon and steelhead have been caught in Manistique River at US 2 bridge. Some large chinook were caught at the mouth of the Carp River and in Moran Bay, St. Ignace. There are still chinook and pinks in the Blind Sucker. Some of the fish here are a little darker, but officers said they had seen no sign of deterioration as yet. The brown trout are in at Port Inland-a boat is needed to fish here because of private property.

PERCH-Biting good at Drummond Island in Maxton and Scotts Bays. They are hitting night crawlers and minnows from daylight to dark, according to Officer Carlson. Some nice perch are also being taken around Green Island in the Straits of Mackinac. Perch are also biting in the Les Cheneaux Islands in Hessel and Cedarville Bays. Perch fishing in St. Marys River is fair between 6 and 12 Mile Roads. Jumbos were caught in the Dollarville Flooding just up from the dam.

NORTHERN PIKE-Hitting in the Dollarville Flooding and the Cedarville-Hessel area.

WALLEYE-Fishermen were having good success in Carp Lake. Some nice walleye were taken, and several dandies were lost.

BASS-Twin Lakes was producing some good sized largemouth.

OUR HIGH SCHOOL BAND, at the U.P. annual festival in its regular 1935. A 35-member outfit and look.

A meal on the Soo Line was an event worth experiencing

The locale of the band photo is easily identified by the Hoyer's Ten Room sign in the background; Hoyer's was the place to go in those days. I was a member of the band a few years before this and obviously had come a long way in the meantime. I don't know if Wayne Martin was still the director in 1935, but better economic times there prevailed and the band was one of the beneficiaries. Of the students seen here I can identify Brother Bob on the snare drum, and I think I see Willie Fagan on the big sax, and Far Anderson and Bill Reardon on trumpet. Some of the others look familiar but I can't hang tags on them. Maybe someone can give me some clues and also tell us something about the festival. How about it, Bill?

Took a little ride the other day with Tom Vaughan and as we approached the Tannery Location he recalled the days when families on Lakeside brought the family cow out to pasture in these parts. It was Tom's job to take Bossy out before school and bring her back at supper time; a real-life cowboy. Just one of the chores kids performed when the dairy was in the back yard, quite close to the woodpile, which also needed attention. A slang expression in common use then, "Till the cows come home," meant that the event under discussion was going to be late and maybe never, because sometimes the cows came home long after dark. There were probably several kids from the same neighborhood out rounding up cattle at the same time and kids will be kids. I bet many a cow became a pony for the roundup, much to her surprise and discomfort. (Sour milk for supper).

When making the morning toast I almost invariably am reminded of ordering toast on the Soo Line diner in the Good Old Days. Table settings on the train were a thing of beauty; the linen was immaculate; there was a real linen napkin, almost big enough to be a table cloth; the flatware was heavy and gleaming clean; the service was friendly and prompt; there was usually a flower on the table. AND it was a joy to behold the adroit maneuverings of the waiter as he balanced a tray against the wave-like motion of the train. The secret was to "go with the pitch" as they say in baseball lingo. I a rather insignificant error in quoting Mrs. Dayton's "jingle." The first word can't be ALL, because as Mattson could have told you, the lines on the staff are EGBDF. I suppose that explains why you messed up your duet. I was doing about the same thing in Connecticut (1923), but at least I remember the scale.

Boating safety and piloting course planned locally

Interested in safe boating? Want to learn more about piloting and navigation around Lake Michigan? The local Coast Guard Auxiliary is again planning to sponsor a boating safety and seamanship course and is looking for people interested in attending.

Hank DeSautel, public education officer for the local auxiliary chapter, said that dates and meeting times for the class would be set once he knows how many people will attend the sessions. To register for the course, call DeSautel anytime at 341-6876.

The class will meet once a week for eight or ten weeks, DeSautel said. Instruction will be free; there will be an $8 charge for books and materials.

People completing the course will be eligible to join the local chapter, or "flotilla" of the Coast Guard Auxiliary. The local flotilla was reorganized this February. Besides the public instruction courses, the flotilla also provides free courtesy examinations of boats and assistance to the Coast Guard on search and rescue missions as well as regular safety patrols of area waters.

The auxiliary is a national volunteer organization and is not part of the Coast Guard proper. There is no obligation to join the auxiliary by partial absorption for my musical sin. Every Good Boy Does Finely means the identical thing, in English, as All Good Boys Do Finely. The word Every means All, and All means Every, according to my Webster's. But I'll grant you that A on the piano is quite different from E, and I stand corrected (grudgingly).

Thanks for the letter, Howard. Next time I write about music I'll get it checked out first by the resident expert. (I wonder why she didn't give me the business on my gaffe? Maybe she doesn't read my stuff).

Lady Moose plan dinner

The Manistique Women of the Moose, Chapter 1665, will hold a smorgasbord at the Manistique Moose Lodge on Sunday, Oct. 17, from 2 until 6 p.m. The charge for the all-you-can-eat meal will be $4 for adults; 12 and under $2 and preschool, free. The dinner is open to the public.

Kick your vices with self-hypnosis class here

Diets often don't work for permanent weight loss. As soon as the diet is abandoned, those unwanted pounds come back.

Giving up cigarettes with the "willpower" method usually doesn't result in a permanent non-smoker. The grouchiness, nervousness, and stress eventually force the "willpower stopper" back to cigarettes.

Dieters and smokers can lose those excess pounds and give up cigarettes easier than they think with hypnosis. Accomplishing these things is the point of $35 "Self Psych" hypnosis sessions being offered by Manistique Community Schools on Oct. 27. The 6 p.m. stop smoking session and 8:30 p.m. weight control session will be at Manistique High School on Cedar Street. To register, call the community schools office at 341-2195.

In the past three years, more than 35,000 people have attended Self Psych seminars, which have been conducted for 84 Michigan school districts, 74 local American Lung affiliates in 11 states, and in 13 cities for the Texas Public Health Association. A follow-up survey indicates that two out of three smokers do stop smoking, and dieters have reported weight losses ranging from five pounds to an all-time high of 259 pounds.

Hypnosis makes stopping smoking and losing weight easy, according to David Rowe, clinical hypnotist for Self Psych, Inc., who will conduct the sessions designed to change negative subconscious programming that keeps people hooked to cigarettes or excessive eating.

"Dieters and smokers know what they should do to stop their bad habits, but they just don't feel like doing it," he said. "Hypnosis helps them make the attitude change they need to succeed in their goals."

Rowe hypnotizes clinic participants four times in a two-hour session to prompt the "reprogramming" and participants receive a mid-session money-back offer. A hypnotic conditioning cassette tape for reinforcement of the suggestions at home is also supplied.

Rowe explained that hypnosis is an altered state of consciousness. "Hypnosis technically bypasses the conscious mind," he said. "The subconscious mind accepts suggestions literally. If I suggest that candy, cake, and ice cream are no longer appealing, the hypnotized person will be reluctant to eat them..."

How long the suggestions sticks with the person depends upon the individual. Listening to the cassette tape reinforces the suggestions and helps them become a natural part of the person's permanent attitude.

Trained in hypnosis by Dr. Paul Adams and hypnotherapist Jim Hoke, nationally known behavior counselor and self-help expert, Rowe is a member of the Michigan Society of Ethical Hypnotists and the Mental Health Association in Michigan.

Hospital receives 3-year accreditation

The Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital received notice last week that it had been accredited by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals (JCAH) for a three-year period.

H.B. Purdy, administrator at Schoolcraft Memorial, said he was notified of the approval last Monday. The three-year accreditation is the maximum approved by JCAH, Purdy said. Over the past year, the hospital had only received a one-year certificate of accreditation, with JCAH citing various problems that needed to be corrected.

After an inspection by an outside team of a doctor, nurse and hospital administrator last July, Purdy said JCAH determined that the problems cited in earlier reports had been solved. The local hospital's accreditation was then upgraded from one year to the maximum three-year period.

"Our department heads and staff did an excellent job of preparing the hospital and working out the problems," Purdy said.

JCAH is not a state-run agency, but a private, not-for-profit organization. Seventy-five percent of the country's hospitals participate in JCAH accrediting programs, Purdy said.

25 CHILDREN were unharmed when this Manistique Area Schools bus drove into a ditch on LaPorte Road near Blaney Park last Thursday. The bus, on its run from Manistique to Gernfask, was driven by Paul Drossart, who also escaped injury. Apparently the bus slipped on some loose gravel on the road and went onto the soft shoulder, ending up precariously tipped at a 45-degree angle. (Barb Leffler photo)

Newberry hospital offers diet program

The Helen Newberry Joy Hospital in Newberry has designed a no-nonsense program of diet and exercise that takes a healthy, effective approach to permanent weight loss. The key word here is "permanent". Unlike the popular diets that seem to be making the rounds today, the hospital's program is designed to help you keep weight off through a permanent change in the way you eat and exercise.

Many diets, if they are not based on a complete change of dietary life style, do not achieve a permanent return to normal weight. Temporary diets, followed by a return to previous weight-gaining eating patterns, are obviously guaranteed to fail. For any weight-conscious person, episodes of weight loss immediately followed by the return of the pounds lost are indeed frustrating and demoralizing experiences. Though futile, these temporary diets can also be physically disastrous: Gout, kidney failure, diabetes, heart attacks, strokes, and even death have been caused by high-protein diets, the most popular form of reducing diet in use today.

The hospital is offering a six-week course on diet and exercise that stresses better body management, both physically and mentally. Beginning Oct. 18, you will be able to learn the finer points of weight control in a program that is run by hospital personnel and tailored to each individual's own needs. On Monday and Wednesday evenings at 7 p.m., participants will meet with the hospital's dietician and physical therapist to discuss common weight problems and how these problems can be corrected. After discussion and evaluation of student's progress, an exercise period will take place. This is an aerobic exercise session that utilizes the most effective exercises you can do for weight loss. Aerobic, as the name might suggest, means exercises that cause the need for additional oxygen to produce the extra energy you're using. This results not only in improved functioning of the cardiovascular system, but also in greater rates of weight loss because of the increased calorie expenditure and the gradual growth in metabolically active, lean body tissue. All the while you'll be able to burn calories and lose weight faster thanks to regular exercise. For more information, call 293-5181.

No-nonsense weight control.

If you really want to lose weight, do it right at Helen Newberry Joy Hospital.

No lads, gimmicks or outlandish promises, just no-nonsense, professional, individually tailored diet and exercise instruction that'll yield maximum results.

You'll spend six weeks learning how to totally revamp your eating and exercise habits through better body management.

It's an education that stresses both the physical and mental aspects of weight control without the use of drugs, drinks or strenuous exercise.

That's the beauty of it. You'll be able to apply what you learn in class at home for continuing weight control.

Effective, no-nonsense instruction and exercise that'll shed those pounds, strengthen your body and mind, but won't leave you gasping for breath.

To be the best you can be, call today, 293-5181. No kidding, you'll love this program.

Retired teachers see slide show

A travelogue, "Headin' North," by Mrs. Wesley Orr, Jr., was presented to members of the Schoolcraft County Chapter of the Retired School Personnel Association at a meeting on Saturday, Oct. 9, at the Fireside Inn. The slide show recounted her trip to Norway, Finland, Sweden and Scotland.

School enrollment is topic of census survey

Russell Swinson

Army Pvt. Russell B. Swinson, son of John L. and Jackie K. Swinson of Curtis, has completed one station unit training (OSUT) at the U.S. Army Infantry School, Fort Benning, Ga.

OSUT is a 12-week period which combines basic combat training and advanced individual training.

The training included weapons qualifications, squad tactics, patrolling, landmine warfare, field communications and combat operations. Completion of this course qualifies the soldier as a light-weapons infantryman and as an indirect-fire crewman.

Soldiers were taught to perform any of the duties in a rifle or mortar squad.

He is a 1982 graduate of Newberry High School, Mich.

Randall W. Knuth

Randall Knuth

Airman First Class Randall W. Knuth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Knuth, recently completed his Air Force basic training at Lackland AFB in Texas. He will be attending the Air Force Training Center for Security Specialist. Randy will be cross-trained after three years as an electronic computer system specialist.

A sample of households in this area will be included in an annual survey on education to be taken the week of Oct. 18-23 by the Bureau of the Census.

Robert G. McWilliam, Director of the Bureau's Regional Office in Detroit, said that interviewers will visit homes to obtain information about current school enrollment at all levels from nursery school through college. This information helps measure current trends in education and helps determine the need for additional or expanded educational facilities. The questions on education will supplement those asked regularly in the monthly survey on employment and unemployment conducted nationwide by the bureau for the U.S. Department of Labor.

Results of the monthly employment survey provide current data on conditions in the labor force, prime indicators of the economic health of the country. For example, in August, the survey indicated that of the 110.6 million men and women in the civilian labor force, 99.8 million were employed. The nation's unemployment rate was 9.8 percent, the same as in July but higher than the rate of 9.5 percent in May and June. Information supplied by individuals participating in the survey is kept strictly confidential by law and the results are used only to compile statistical totals.
