

Room rates too low locally? Tourist council set

Plans are afoot to organize a tourist council to promote the local tourism industry. Manistique's Area Tourist Council, which would complement the activities of the Chamber of Commerce, is being set up by local hotel and motel operators.

A major goal of the council will be to raise the price charged for hotel and motel rooms here. To achieve that, members of the council would not be allowed to display room rates or other prices on signs outside their motels, a practice claimed to have sparked a price war here that has depressed profits and caused Manistique to be blackballed by lodge operators in other parts of the U.P.

An organizational meeting of the council is set for 10 a.m. this Thursday, July 1, at the Ramada Inn. Anyone interested in the council is invited to attend. Officers for the fledgling organization will be nominated and a design for the sign to be displayed by members will be discussed.

According to organizers of the group, anyone concerned with the tourist trade in the area is eligible to join. Other goals of the council include building up an advertising fund to more effectively promote the area, development of training programs for local tourism employees and promotional literature designed specifically for Manistique.

But the most immediate goal, apparently, would be to discourage the practice of local lodging operators displaying rates for their rooms.

According to Dan Schulz, owner of Manistique Motel, posting of rate signs angers operators in places like St. Ignace and Munising because travelers come to expect the low local rates across the region and complain when they run into higher rates. As a result, Schulz claimed, the operators retaliate by directing tourists away from Manistique whenever possible. "Mackinac City, Munising, Escanaba have done it," Schulz said. "They'll tell them not to take US-2, basically to stay off US-2. What it does is hurt the whole town."

Besides the backlash from other lodging operators in other parts of the U.P., Schulz said that the low prices hurt local operators directly by pushing down profits.

Those low prices are a direct result of the posting of rates, said Schulz, who does not post his rates, $28 for two guests. "In my opinion," he said, people who post rates "are more interested in taking a room from their neighbors than making a profit. To keep a room nice you have to make a profit."

Pat McNamara, owner of the Star Motel, posts his rates outside his establishment. He agrees that his profit is slim, but said it would be a lot less if he didn't let travelers see what he charges ($16 for a single). "In fact," he said, if I were to take my rates off, I tell you I'd take a slump in business."

He noted that when he first began posting prices, six years ago, his business went up even though he didn't drop prices to start a "war."

"After we put the prices on, we didn't make a kill, but I'll say it made a big change for us."

"I can't see anywhere I'd gain by taking my prices off. If they want to post their prices, that's OK. I'm not trying to be dirty, I'm just trying to make ends meet," McNamara said. Miriam Warner of the Breakers Motel, part of the Best Western chain, said the price competition has caused a "backlash" from other Best Westerns. "Other communities are recruiting people" around Manistique, she claimed.

W. Pasqua of the Beachcomber agreed. "Motels in other areas refuse to send tourists here because of the low prices. They are sending tourists around us" by controlling the traffic.

New owner takes over at WTIQ

Frances Jo Curtis, who has owned the Deer Path Resort on Indian Lake for the past 16 years, officially took over this week as the new owner of Manistique's radio station, WTIQ. Curtis' corporation, American Peaks Ltd., formed last year for the purpose, closed the sale Friday and took over the station this Monday. The agreement to sell the station was announced in April.

Sale of the station to Curtis from WTIQ Inc. was approved by the federal bankruptcy court in Marquette early last month. Curtis said Tuesday, WTIQ Inc. filed for Chapter XI bankruptcy early last year and approval of the sale was required by the court.

Curtis said any outstanding debts by WTIQ Inc. were that corporation's responsibility and emphasized that the station's call letters were all that remain of the former ownership. "It's a whole new ball game," she noted. Doug Tjapkes, former owner of the station, will have no connection with the new operation, Curtis said.

Curtis said she may change the call letters of the station "if there is any stigma of past performance" remaining in the minds of advertisers and listeners. "It depends on the people who listen," she said.

However, she said she plans no personnel changes immediately, although program director Tim Ahlborn quit Monday to take a job with WJML. No replacement has been decided upon. "I've only had two days," Curtis said, "I want to make the employees happy and make them realize the thing must be a paying proposition."

She said the format at the station would continue to move gradually from country-western to a more mixed "middle of the road" format.

Curtis also owns the former All-Season Sports building in Manistique and held out the possibility that the station may eventually be moved there, but said there were no immediate plans. Her application for a FM station license in Manistique, one of three vying for the license, is still under consideration by the Federal Communications Commission.

Why did she buy the station? "I really like Manistique," she said. "The resort was a job of about 4 1/2 months and I pay dearly on taxes and insurance year. So, when I strike out on retirement, I thought it would be wise to have something year round," Curtis said.

ON ANY WEEKEND, or for that matter, on any weekday, it's easy to find some baseball action around town. This particular game played recently is a Little League affair. Little League winds up its schedule this Friday. Someone told us that it's possible to see the ball hit by the batter running towards first, but their eyes must be sharper than ours.

Over $14,000 more City takes high bid for trash pick-up

After lengthy, sometimes heated discussion at a special meeting last Wednesday, the Manistique City Council reconsidered bids for garbage collection and ended up awarding the three-year contract again to Manistique Rentals—the high bidder by more than $14,000.

The 3-2 vote by the council awarded a three-year contract to Manistique Rentals for $154,646.36. Council members Kathy Warner, Mike Donatelli and David W. Leggett voted to give the contract to the Manistique firm. Council member Wally Leggett and Bill Hackney voted against the award.

It was the second time the council had awarded the bid. It first gave the contract to another local firm, Lavance and Houghton, on June 14 for its bid of $138,000, the lowest of the three received. That vote was also 3-2, with Wilson and Dougovito voting against the award. Also bidding was Peninsula Sanitation of Marquette. Peninsula Sanitation's bid was for $140,000.

The council had to reconsider the bids after it received a letter from Lavance and Houghton asking that it be allowed to withdraw its already-accepted bid. Apparently that request came because of a misunderstanding by Lavance and Houghton about how large a "performance bond" was required to meet the bid specifications. City Attorney Pat Kelly said a one-year bond for the entire value of the contract, $138,000, was required by the specifications ensure its completion. Lavance and Houghton had posted only a $46,000 bond.

The council agreed to allow the firm to withdraw the bid and voted 4-1 that a $6,900 "bid bond" be returned to it. Wilson voted against (continued on page 4A)

Council finally settles rent dispute with phone company

It took as if a long-simmering dispute between the city and General Telephone Company (GTE) is finally resolved. The dispute goes back to 1975 and was over how much rent the company would pay the city for use of some city property as a storage site for telephone poles and cable.

At Monday's City Council meeting, the council agreed to accept a compromise settlement by GTE to pay $5,528 in base rent on the property and vacate the property as soon as possible. That amount represents a monthly rent of $48 a month since the phone company started storing poles on city property in 1975.

In October of last year, the council voted to send a bill to GTE for $100 a month back rent, an offer for the average it paid to rent storage yards, $48. Last month, when the issue was still unresolved, the council directed City Attorney Pat Kelly to evict GTE and begin legal proceedings to collect back rent.

City Manager John Matthews recommended the council accept the GTE offer, "because I don't think we could win in court."

Ironically, in the administration of Rush Cattell the city had originally offered to let the phone company use the land for nothing, since it had constructed a road to get to the site. GTE responded that it needed a

Still no decision on new prosecutor

There has been no decision on who will replace County Prosecutor Bruce Plackowski. Circuit Court Judge William F. Hood, the man who will make the appointment, said Wednesday that he will wait until more applications are received for the position before making a decision.

Plackowski announced last month that he would resign as prosecutor to go into private practice beginning July 1. However, he said Tuesday that he would continue to act as prosecutor until Hood appoints a successor.

Hood said that the law governing appointments of prosecuting attorneys is not clear on how long the appointment will be effective — either until the November election or until Plackowski's elected term would end in December of 1984. Unless the appointment is challenged before the election, Hood said he anticipated it being in effect until 1984.

Only two formal applications have been received so far, Hood said, both from Attorneys in lower Michigan with limited experience. In addition, Hood said a few other attorneys had contacted him informally about the position.

Hood plans to wait "a little while" longer to see if more applications are received for the $26,541 post. "I'd like to have as many options as possible," he noted, in selecting Plackowski's replacement.

Wells' contamination discussed at meeting

Thirty three concerned residents attended a meeting last Thursday to discuss the reason for bacterial contamination of 22 wells in a wide swath along M-94 north of the Indian River.

Although assured by a Department of Natural Resources spokesman that the reason for bacterial contamination of the wells, discovered last year, was not connected to dumping of sludge near the Indian River by Manistique Papers, Inc., most of the discussion Thursday centered on the possible effects of a sludge dump off the Frootwich Road.

"The people present appeared unconvinced by the claim of Dave Williams of the Water Quality Division of the DNR that 'your problems and sludge disposal from Manistique Pulp and Paper are unrelated."

The sludge is a byproduct of the paper mill's own wastewater treatment plant which filters the water from the paper making process. "This material is not hazardous," Williams told the audience, noting that similar byproducts from other mills had been approved by Michigan State University for use as an agricultural soil conditioner.

Williams said that the sludge does contain potentially toxic heavy metals such as mercury, cadmium and lead, but said the elements are strongly bound with clay in the sludge and would not leach out when wet.

"These metals are real resistant to leaching out," Williams said. There is nothing in that material that will percolate into the groundwater, he said. "It's possible to contaminate drinking water, he said.

Furthermore, the surface and groundwater flow from the dump is (continued on page 4A)

Bang-up celebration slated this weekend

A crowded schedule of activities is planned to celebrate the Fourth of July this Friday and Saturday in Manistique. Hot-air balloon rides, a fun run, two parades, food and drink—and don't forget the fireworks—are all on tap.

A complete schedule of events is included on the front page of a special section of this week's paper. To get people in the spirit of the "Pioneer Days" theme of this year's celebration, local merchants will costume their employees in appropriate attire and put up special window displays. In fact, the Fourth of July Committee will present an award to the store with the best costumes and window displays. To cast your vote on the best effort, fill out the "ballot" below and turn it in to the Pioneer-Tribune or WTIQ radio station.

Events will kick off Friday afternoon with the annual "Kiddie Parade" at 5 p.m. starting at the Triangle Park across from the post office. Children up to 12 years old should be at the park before 4:30 p.m. to form groups for judging.

Marchers will be judged in the following categories for the prettiest and most comical: age groups 1-3, 4-6, 7-9, 10-12; marching in groups, in vehicles and with pets. Judging will take place at 4:50 p.m. and each child will receive a prize.

The children will march up Cedar Street, take a right on Main street and finish the parade at the high school stadium.

Other Friday night events include Bingo at the First National Bank parking lot starting at 5 p.m., a water ski demonstration at the Marina at 6:30, a Paul Bunyan contest at the water tower at 9 p.m. and a "Venetian Night" parade of lighted boats in the harbor beginning at 10 p.m. Anyone interested in the Paul Bunyan contest should call Paul McClelland at 341-6639; to be a part of Venetian Night, call Carol Marcella at 341-5529.

Activities on Saturday get underway bright and early with the fourth annual "fun run" from Thompson to Manistique. Runners in the 7 1/2-mile jaunt should meet at 7:30 a.m. at the corner of US-1 and M-149 in Thompson.

Registration blanks can be picked up at the Pioneer-Tribune office or at the start of the race. There is a registration fee of $3. Twelve T-shirts will be awarded to the first finishers, with three of the shirts reserved for the first women finishers...Anyone interested is invited to run.

For more information, call Michelle Dougovito after 5 p.m. at 341-2880.

Starting at 9 a.m., hot-air balloon rides will be available in the Triangle Park area. Tickets for the rides will be $5 for adults and $3 for children. The adult parade gets underway at 10 a.m. Anyone interested in marching or having a float in the parade should be at the corner of Fifth Street and M-94 by 9:30 a.m.

At noon, church bells in town will ring, various concessions stands will open and Bingo begins. This year's fireworks display will again be held at the Central Park area beginning at 10:15 p.m.

The voice of Schoolcraft County since 1876.

School's Surplus Here's one good use

We were happy to hear at the School Board's meeting early last month that the latest financial report for the district shows that it is running well in the black for the fiscal year that ended Wednesday.

So much in the black, in fact, that the budget for the new fiscal year is now balanced and even shows a healthy surplus, to the tune of $135,000.

That's good news to voters in the district that rejected a millage increase request that was originally sought to balance the budget. With the surplus, that millage won't be needed.

Even more heartening is that the now-balanced budget for 1982-83 includes many extra-curricular student activities that were cut from the previous year's: items like athletics, debate, opening of the swimming pool, participation in the Community Schools' winter games and student government.

Due to the efforts of a host of volunteers, many student services were continued during the last school year despite the budget cuts. Those volunteers deserve the highest praise for their willingness to work to keep important extra-curricular services running.

A case in point is the Athletic Booster club, which agreed to underwrite the cost of fall, winter and spring sports not covered through gate receipts. The club has already shelled out $11,739.82 to pay the differences for fall and winter sports.

Last week, the district sent in the bill for the spring sports-boys' and girls' track-for another $4,809.91.

We have no doubt that the Booster Club fully intends to pay the bill-it has lived up admirably to its obligations in the past. It would require a considerable fundraising effort, however, since the club has only about $1,000 currently in its treasury.

To us, it would be a nice gesture of appreciation on the part of the School Board to forgive this part of the Club's debt to the district. After all, it was only through the Booster Club's efforts that sports were held during the last school year. The remaining debt of $4,809.91 represents less than four percent of the surplus in the new budget-making the gesture an affordable one for the school district.

Manistique Rentals gets garbage collection contract returning the bid bond, which could have been kept by the city because LaVance and Houghton withdrew after being awarded the contract.

That left the City Council with Manistique Rentals' $154,647 bid and Peninsula Sanitation's $140,000 offer to choose between.

Wilson and Dougovit argued that Manistique Rentals deserved the contract, despite costing $14,647 more, because of the satisfactory work the city has had from the firm in the past.

"Even though there is a substantial difference in price, I still will go with a proven track record" of Manistique Rentals, Dougovit said.

Wilson agreed, saying "The cheapest quote is not always the best." She added "I really think the town would be better served if Manistique Rentals picked up the garbage."

Dougovit asked if anyone had checked with Marquette or Munising, two of the cities that currently contract Peninsula Sanitation for garbage collection. Leggett said he had contacted Marquette "and they seemed satisfied." Munising City Manager David Bass said when contacted by the Pioneer-Tribune Friday that Peninsula Sanitation's performance at Munising over the past six years had "been very good."

Mayor Bill Hackney agreed that Manistique Rentals had done a good job but added that "looking at it from the monetary viewpoint, it does seem sort of half-way senseless" to take the higher bid.

Leggett insisted that the council was obligated to accept the low bid, regardless of the past performance of either bidder.

"I don't think it is this council's duty to prejudice the ability of someone to do the work that they have bid on in good faith. If the council is not going to abide by the generally-accepted rules of bidding, what's the point in going through the process?" Leggett asked.

John Wood, an attorney representing Manistique Rentals, contended that Peninsula Sanitation had not met the specifications for bidding by posting a "letter of credit" instead of the bid bond required.

Is bid process selfish?

Dear Editor:

Although I doubt very much if this letter will be published there are things I need to say:

I should not have been surprised by the results of the bids for garbage collection -- as always, the selfish and greedy win over the honest and hard working. But there is one source of comfort, The final award and rewards will be such as cannot be bought by money and friends on councils--At that time, the greedy and selfish will be judged for what they really are. The Lord knows the heart, so Sunday appearance in church doesn't mean anything.

At least LaVance and Houghton respect which are far better things to have than their dignity and self-interests. But instead they were misrepresented. How it all ties together.

Although at times it seems so unfair at least there's comfort in eliminating all caffeine from my diet. I know there comes a day of final judgement and that will be fair, as weeks. I can honestly say that I have been without pain in my breasts for almost five months. Thanks so much for publishing that article!

National mag. prints letter

Editor's note: The following letter appears in the July issue of Good Housekeeping magazine. Beville said she has already received responses to the letter from women in several states.

Several months ago you sent me a copy of the article "The Breast Disease That Kills Cancer" published in the Better Women section of your August 1980 issue. The article was about the effect that caffeine has on fibrocystic breasts. I wanted you to know how much that article has helped me. I have had very painful breasts a week before my period for a few years. Gradually the condition got worse--reaching the point where there were few days, if any, that I did not have pain. I mentioned what I had read in your article to my doctor, but he more or less laughed it off as myth. So I decided, on my own, to eliminate all caffeine from my diet. I noticed a difference in only a few weeks. I can honestly say that I have been without pain in my breasts for almost five months. Thanks so much for publishing that article!

"I'd say GTE has been reasonable in view of the haphazard and slipshod way" the lease arrangements had been handled originally.

In other matters, the council Monday:

Adopted a final amended general fund budget for the fiscal year that ended Wednesday. That final budget to wrap up the fiscal year absorbed a deficit from the 1980-81 fiscal year of $19,975 that showed up in the annual audit, according to City Treasurer Pat Erickson. Picking up that deficit accounted for most of the increase in expenditures in the amended budget from $1,112,101 to $1,138,058, Erickson said.

Issued a carnival permit for the County Fair scheduled for Aug. 27, 28 and 29.

Approved a bid by Ron Patrick for $150 to purchase two lots of city property on Alger Ave. Patrick's was the only bid received for the property.

Designated Mayor Bill Hackney as a delegate to the Michigan Municipal League convention held at Mackinac Island on Sept. 16, 17 and 18. Matthews was designated as alternate delegate.

Discussed changing the charges for storage of corpses until the winter months in the vault at Lakeview Cemetery. Requested by the trustees of the Ethel Brown estate, which supports the cemetery's operation, the change would raise charges from the current $35 enough to pay the costs involved. Since any hike in the charges would require a change in city ordinance, the matter was tabled.

Voted to take bids on construction of a retaining wall, planters and landscaping at the cemetery. The cost of the work, estimated at $14,000, will be paid by the Brown estate.

Requested that Matthews gather receipts documenting how federal grant money was spent at the Fifth Street ball diamond. Council Member Mike Dougovit said the city's claim that $15,000 had been spent was questioned by many residents.

NATURE'S OWN SUNTAN PRODUCTS

Most of us are aware that overexposure to the sun's ultraviolet rays is potentially dangerous...and that a gradual tanning routine - as the summer season progresses - is the only commonsense approach to sunbathing.

It's less well-known, however, that you can augment your body's natural sun protection systems if you increase your consumption of C and B vitamins, all of which are depleted when your body is regularly exposed to solar rays. Summer's delicious harvests of fresh cantaloupe, strawberries, tomatoes, green peppers, broccoli, and collards are simply made-as do citrus fruits in the case of excellent sources of vitamin C. Foods rich in B vitamins include eggs, liver, poultry, wheat germ, unrefined cereals, milk, bananas, tuna, salmon, spinach, peas and dried brewer's yeast.

Other natural protective aids are readily (and economically) available from your kitchen, bathroom cupboard, pharmacy, or health food store. (NOTE: As with all sun-care products, it's best to avoid the area around the eyes when applying any of the following preparations.)

Sesame is the polysaturated nut oil "which most fully absorbs the ultraviolet rays of the sun," according to herbalist and natural beauty expert, Dian Dincin Buchman. In The Complete Herbal Guide to Natural Beauty, Dian suggests applying sesame seed oil as a tanning aid. (V/hca swimming, you'll have to reapply the lotion each time you come out of the water...as it will wash off and leave you unprotected.)

Ms. Buchman also mentions that a combination of sesame oil, anhydrous lanolin, and water can be used as an effective tanning cream. Simply melt 1/4 cup of the lanolin in the top of a double boiler, then immediately blend in 1/4 cup of sesame oil and 3/4 cup of water. This mixture can be refrigerated in a clean, labeled container.

Another natural sun remedy consists of peeling and mashing one large cucumber...straining the liquid through cheesecloth...then adding 1 teaspoon each of inexpensive rose water and glycerin, both of which you can probably buy at your local pharmacy.

Virginia Castleton, in her Calendar Book of Natural Beauty, describes a milky suntan cream which can be soothing and helpful while soaking up oil of Sol's energy. First, drop a handful of fresh mint leaves in a blender containing a couple of tablespoons of water and 1/2 cup of egg yolk...and 1 tablespoon each of wheat germ oil and lemon juice. You might want to put in a drop of peppermint oil for extra fragrance before blending the ingredients. Once again, keep this suntan lotion refrigerated.

When all of your precautions fail and you get a whole of a sunburn, there are still many effective home remedies that can bring you relief. Some folks find that if they break open vitamin E capsules and apply the oil to the skin, the burn will often disappear overnight (the vitamin packaged in ointment form offers similar results). Or you might try applying sunflower, safflower, or cottonseed oil, all of which are rich in the healing nutrient.

Herbalist and natural beauty experts also recommend compresses made with either black tea, comfrey leaf or root tea -- or the juice of a grated raw potato -- for the treatment of painful sunburns. You can dilute apple cider vinegar with water and pat it on the burned area or use it in a compress, too. A cloth or bandage that's kept saturated with witch hazel, or with equal parts of vinegar and olive oil, can also be beneficial.

towards the Manistique river. Even if the metals leached out, it's not going to go into your drinking water."

Williams said that only one well had been tested for metal contamination and that it showed zinc and copper present within safe drinking water standards.

The contamination that has been discovered in the area wells is totally different in nature than any possible mineral contamination, he said. "You're trying to associate two completely different things," Williams said.

According to Mark McCune, sanitation with the District Health Department, the problem is bacterial contamination caused by a combination of factors.

According to a slide presentation given at the meeting, the presence of cracked limestone bedrock that has poor filtering qualities near the surface close to the contaminated wells is part of the problem. Add to that old or improperly constructed wells that act as a conduit for contaminated surface water to reach the groundwater supply, and even new wells near contaminated wells may themselves become tainted.

McCune's presentation said that 97 wells in the area had been sampled. Of those 22 were found to have bacterial contamination. Fourteen of those were constructed before formal regulations concerning proper construction went into effect in 1965 and were likely to be infiltrated by surface water. Of the seven wells contaminated, five were close enough to abandoned wells to raise suspicions that they had been tainted by an improperly abandoned well.

He encouraged anyone knowing of wells that have been abandoned and not plugged to contact the health department.

It was apparently on that basis that Vaughan cast his deciding vote awarding the contract to Manistique Rentals. Although he didn't comment during the discussion, he said after the vote that "I feel Manistique Rentals met every spec by providing the bid bond and I don't believe the letter of credit did."

The St. Ignace Area Tourist Council, denied that motel operators in his area ever attempted to steer tourist traffic away from Manistique because of the relatively low room rates.

He acknowledged that prices here are low, but said he has never heard travelers complain through St. Ignace that the rates there are too high after seeing the low Manistique rates. Still, he noted that the habit

Manistique operators have of posting their room rates tends to create "a shopping war" with artificially low rates.

"When people talk about posting prices they point to Manistique and look what happened there. Everybody knows that that's a problem out here. It just doesn't help the local motel operator in any way, shape or form," Deck said.

Request for bids

The City of Manistique requests bids for improving the west side of the area between Steuben Street and the Cemetery fence, which includes the area from the entrance gate south towards the Cherry Hill Apartment Complex. This will include using timbers to crib up the slope to prevent erosion of soil, decorative planters, and ground cover.

Specifications can be picked up at the City Hall during normal working hours.

Bids must be submitted to the City Manager's office no later than 11:00 A.M. on Tuesday, July 13, 1982.

The City reserves the right to accept or reject any or all bids as deemed in the best interest of the City. Jcl

Tracing the Bruce Millar-Reg Ruggles connection

Memories Jack Orr

Mr. Millar must have been happy with that crop of spuds, and proud enough of it to get Mr. Braut out there to take a picture of it. Little did he know at the time that it would someday be a part of our resident history.

As you may know this is sort of a footnote to a nationally known column which was recently chastised by some of our newspaper subscribers about the counts for repeating old columns without first telling her readers that the material had previously appeared. With that in mind, although the war may last several years yet, I'm about to ask your indulgence. To round out this subject and tie some loose ends together and to refresh your memory, I'd like to repeat some stuff I've already used.

First you may recall that two years ago a letter was found which had been written in 1917 and then concealed in the door framing of the milk house at the Pines. Of course this was when the Pines was a producing farm and the writer, who addressed his letter "To You, at Any Time" had no idea when the letter would be discovered, nor by whom not even whether it would ever be read at all. The letter follows:

"How time does fly! Here I am writing this on Thursday July 19, 1917 and today is (meaning when the letter may be discovered) . . . well, it may be 1920 . . . who knows?"

"Kid and Otto Kraus have been the masons on the milkhouse, while C.R. Millar, Bryan Lewis, H.C.L. Jackson, Perry Millar and myself have been busy assistants."

"Perry and I have been trying to convince Dad all Spring that we did not have enough cement blocks on hand to complete the building, so yesterday I took R.R. Ruggles' Ford car, 'Anna Louise' and hauled for us a series of letters that several loads from George Dorman's residence on Lakeside. I wonder if

Henry is still making Tim Luzzey's. "During the week with Otto and I have had several heated arguments upon the war. Of course they think Germans are going to win and I KNOW SHE IS NOT! She cannot understand the war may last several years yet."

"Bryan Lewis has quit using tobacco because his girl says it stinks her lips. I suppose Bryan is a contented granddaddy by now."

"H.C.L. Jackson, managing editor of the Ann Arbor daily for next year, came up from Detroit July 2, to work on the farm with me. Along with his other accomplishments "Jack" is a good farmer and probably to be found in Who's Who at the present time. Just now he is in love with Margaret Cooley of Ann Arbor."

"Helen Millar will enter high school in the Fall. Gera celebrates her tenth birthday next month. Mother and grandfather are well. The styles for women this year show 1917 and today is (meaning when the letter may be discovered) . . . well, it may be 1920 . . . who knows?"

"I'm getting rabid so I shall quit now."

"Good luck to all."

settlers whose family was the first to establish a farm homestead in this area in 1879. One of Reg's letters included the following paragraph:

"I would like to remember Bruce Millar, Brad's oldest son. He now lives in Christminster, St. Croix Island of the Virgin group. He and his wife Mary and son Doug are in the real estate business."

Now to round out this story, you may recall that the Ruggles farm was just past the Pines and near the bluff overlooking Lake Michigan. Reg later moved up to the Newberry area, date unknown. His old home stood up there still stands, abandoned, on the north side of M-28.

We now have additional evidence that the Millars and Ruggles were well acquainted. The photo we are using this week is a postcard addressed to Mr. Reg Ruggles; the message is as follows:

"Manistique, Aug. 29, 1918. "Dear Reg: Went to Newberry Sunday, everything OK up there. Am writing to tell you that your wheat is cut and in the barn down here. So don't worry."

"With best, from "Chat"

The newberry reference was to Reg's farm up there. "Chat" Millar's full name was Chauncey R. Millar; no doubt he found the nickname less of a mouthful for his friends and neighbors.

Toward the end of his long life Reg lived in a retirement home in Traverse City. We have just learned that his legal guardian during those years was Jim Goldthorpe, of Helmer. Jim has read our material and thought this photo would add to our knowledge of a couple of our pioneer families. Thanks, Jim, for thinking of us.

IN RECENT COLUMNS we have mentioned the Pines picnic area and horse ring, and traced some of the history of this scenic spot. This photo, taken during World War I, is one of the potato crops harvested there when it was the Millar farm. (Goldthorpe photo).

Curtis again plans 5th of July party

The Curtis Independence Day Celebration will again be held July 5 sponsored by the Lions Club, assisted by the Portage Township Ambulance Service, The Portage Township Fire Department, The Curtis Ladies Aid, The Manistique Lakes Area Association and Portage Township.

The "World's Champion" turtle race at 12:30 p.m. will again be a main attraction this year, with the owner of the fastest turtle netting $200 for his trouble. Lawrence Tuttle is in charge of the race, which last year attracted over 70 contestants.

The celebration will start with a parade at 11 a.m. Participants should meet on the Sandtown Road near the dump from 10 to 10:30 a.m.

Bill Kelly will be in charge of the parade, which will feature floats, Little Miss Manistique Lakes, The Walking Lion, the Newberry High School Band and other marching units, a clown and Hank Chisholm. "The One Man Band." Prizes will be given for the best floats.

The Chicken barbecue will take place at the west end of town beginning at noon and Mark Lowery is in charge of the barbecue.

Jim Curran will be in charge of the beer stand and the girls' baseball team will man the pop stand.

Ed Tunney will dispense the cotton candy, while Birch Stamper and Harry Norton will supervise the hamburg, hot dog and french fries concession.

Vern Sidlinker will supervise the duck pond and Ken Wolf will be in charge of the ring toss, the firemen will supervise the Dunk Tank and the Curtis Ladies Aid will sell popcorn.

The Little Miss Manistique Lakes Contest, which already has more than 20 entrants will be under the direction of Les Walstrom.

A fireworks display supervised by Leon Norman will be set off at dusk on the north shore of South Manistique Lake.

Ed Pickell's general chairman for the celebration assisted by George Gime. The Curtis Volunteer Fire Department had no calls since last week while the Volunteer Ambulance Service had seven calls.

The Curtis Historical Society met last Thursday morning at the Historical Society Building next to the Curtis Town Hall. The group decided to have some posters printed and to get out membership renewal slips at $1 each on $10 per business.

The Museum will be open on Monday afternoons by Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Painter, on Tuesdays, Mrs. John Houseman and Alice Morrison, on Wednesdays Frances Lewis and on Thursdays by Mrs. James Curran. The hours will be from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m.

Clifford A. Lewis, president, presided at the meeting.

The Lakeland Nursing Center is now under the direction of Applewood Manor, Inc. owned and operated by Peter and Judy Costa of Lakeland. Watch for the Applewood float in the Curtis Parade.

The residents at the nursing home really enjoyed a puppet show that was put on Saturday, June 19, by Chris Strom of Oakville, Ontario.

Seney Mennonites came in the home for a service on Sunday, June 20.

The North Star Baptist group came in on Monday, June 21, for their monthly birthday party. A cake, ice cream, cards and gifts were part of the celebration.

Historical museum is now open

At the regular meeting of the Schoolcraft County Historical Society Monday at the courthouse it was announced that the Emogene Herbert Museum and the log cabin in the park next to the old water tower are now open daily - 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. seven days a week.

Several improvements and display cases built by George "Tex" Meron have been added to the log cabin. Also, with the help of Caroline Stoll, Mae McDermott, Norma Johnson, Sally Satterlind, Alex Meron and Ed Doyle many improvements that enhance the exhibiting of the historic artifacts have taken place.

David Grover and Linda Burkholder along with the addition of two SELLs volunteers and other volunteers will staff the park.

New members in the Historical Society are Allie McDonough, Katharine Bellville, Mary O'Brien and Mrs. Jim Curran.

Sunday, Aug. 1 will be designated

"Museum Sunday" at Pioneer Park followed by a 3 p.m. picnic in the park. Anyone wanting to take part is asked to bring a basket lunch. Coffee and punch will be furnished. All residents and guests in Schoolcraft County are urged to attend.

The log cabin will be wired for electricity so displays will be made more visible. Additional lumbering tools have been added and an antique spinning wheel is arriving from Lansing to be added to the collection.

There will be a special meeting of the society on July 12 at 7 p.m. at the courthouse to complete the constitution rewriting and to hold the annual election of officers. The public is invited.

Sally Satterlind presented a picturesque report on "We Tripped in Wisconsin" where Alex Meron presented a genealogical talk at Stephenson Public Library. Pictures of the Peshigo Fire Museum were also shown.

Starving Artists to again sponsor free demonstration

This July and August the "Starving Artists" organization of Gulliver will again present demonstrations on the grounds of the old Deerfield Resort on Gulliver Lake.

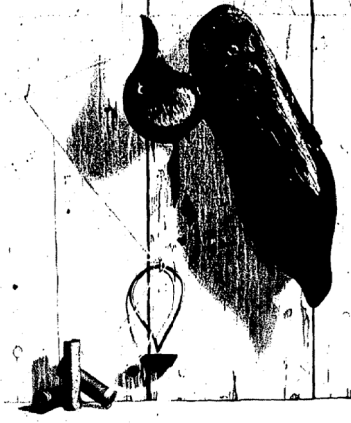

Each Thursday, a free demonstration by an artist will be scheduled at 1 p.m. on the lawn or under protected cover if needed at Old Deerfield.

Each week's program is an hour-long how-to session with a practicing artist designed to offer both technical help and philosophical insight that will appeal to a variety of interests.

Emily Schofield's small water color studio/gallery will also be open to roundout the afternoon.

Lunch is available prior to the program.

Henson painting selected for well-known exhibit

Local artist Don Henson has been chosen for the second year in a row to exhibit a painting at a prestigious art show in Wasau, Wis.

Henson said this week that his painting, "In LaFave's Shed" had been selected for exhibition in the Leigh Yawkey Woodson Art Museum 1962 Bird Art Exhibition. The exhibition will feature the work of bird artists from all over the world and is considered to be one of the most important exhibitions of its kind.

Last year, Henson's "David's Day" was chosen for the show and an exciting world tour of selected paintings from it.

Both "David's Day" and "In LaFave's Shed" are acrylic paintings of decoys done in a highly-detailed style called "short focus still life" to describe the photographic attention to detail in them. Henson, however, said "the photographic illusion is not really valid to me" since the three-dimensional illusion of depth he achieves is not possible in any photograph.

The exhibition, which will run from Sept. 11 to Oct. 24, selected the paintings to be shown from nearly 400 entries. Of those, 100 will be exhibited.

Henson was educated at Southern Illinois University.

Senior Citizens

by Diane McClelland

What a perfect day Sunday was for an old-fashioned ice cream social. And believe me, we made the most of it.

All the pies and cakes were just beautiful. I heard many, many comments on how good everything tasted. There was no doubt in my mind because the best cooks in town came from the Center.

Without the help of so many people we could never have made a profit of $340.00. Isn't that great!

I would like to express special thanks to the Senior Citizens League and their Director, Luane Kaupila. You certainly add that extra sparkle that makes everyone want to tap their feet and sing along.

A special treat was the performance of the U.P. Beats. We really appreciated John Stapleton, Bob Sands, Carl Wegner and Dave Bloom giving of their time and talent to make our social so complete.

I also want to express my sincere thanks to Connie, Nona and Pam. We could never have all the activities here at the Center without these girls. They are so willing to give of their time. Thanks girls, you're really special.

I would also like to thank everyone for baked goods, ingredients for the ice cream, a money donation or helping at the social. We couldn't do it without you!

Hattie Winter

Hattie Winter celebrates 100th birthday in Garden

Hattie Winter, who will be 100 years old on July 1, celebrated the occasion Sunday in Garden. Father Arnold Thompson, a cousin of Mrs. Winter, presided at a Eucharistic Liturgy of Thanksgiving, assisted by the Rev. T. Poisson, pastor of St. John's, and Rev. C. Dishaw of Escanaba.

Great-grandsons Buzzy, James and Alexis Winter assisted at the liturgy. Scripture, prayers and reflections were read by daughter Meta Bernier, granddaughter Marlene Winter-Johnson, and grandsons Joe and Jim Winter. Music was provided by son-in-law Edward Thompson and Catherine Ansell. Approximately 250 people attended the reception at St. John's Parish Hall following the liturgy. People in the Schoolcraft county area should be aware of the times they should contact Social Security. Knowing when to contact Social Security is important. Not doing so could mean a permanent loss of benefits. Or, it could mean an unnecessary delay.

The times to contact Social Security are:

- When a person is applying for a number in plenty of time, since it may take about six weeks to get a number after the necessary evidence has been supplied.
- Whenever a family member dies, to determine if survivor benefits are payable.
- If a person becomes disabled, to find out if disability benefits can be paid.
- When a person plans to retire.

Eagles surprise everyone in local slowpitch tourney

Local teams took top honors in the men's slowpitch softball tournament held in Manistique last weekend. Freddie's Bar went undefeated in the 10-team Class D field, running up a 5-0 tourney record to take first place in that class.

The Eagles Club, in what tournament Doug "Hawk" Trask described as an "unbelievable" performance, surprised everyone and upset the 10-team Class E field and took top honors in the tournament. According to Erickson, it was the first time in six years of the locally-sponsored softball tournament that all 15 teams in the Manistique league completed off the 15. However, only the top teams to take first place at all in the standings.

In Class D, the Paul Bunyan Restaurant team from Newberry came in second and Fraser's Inn from Nubia was a close third. In Class E, Lynn's Automotive from Newberry finished second behind the Eagles Club and the Independents from Germfask came in third place.

The only other out-of-town team to complete Sten's Oldtimers, did not place in the tourney.

The big story, however, was Freddie's 5-1 performance to take first place in Class E. To say the team's an underdog would be putting it mildly. In regular play this season, the Eagles have won only two games and have languished in the lower half of the Division II standings in the local league.

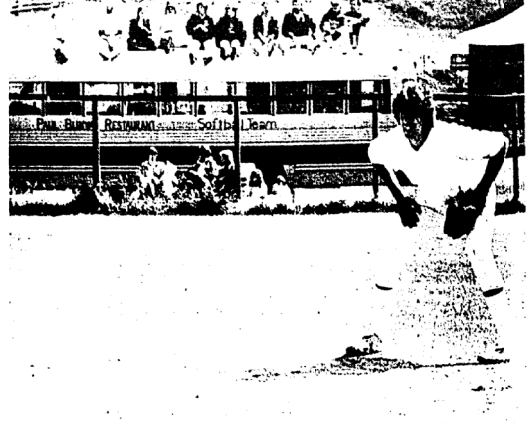

Last season, the team failed to win a single regular season game. "The amazing Eagles," Erickson quipped, "Unbelievable."

BREAKING UP a possible double play in action during the men's slowpitch softball tournament this weekend. Left: Mike Provo's slide into the Newberry second base. Local teams took top honors in the tourney.

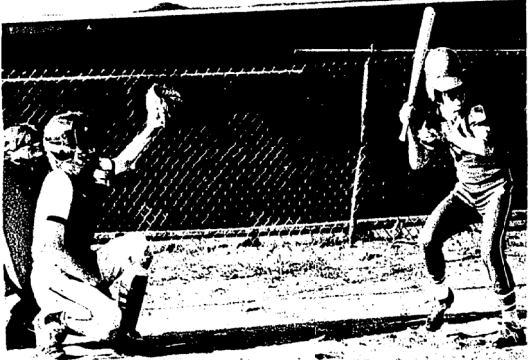

WAITING FOR A THROW The unidentified runner is from the same too late in a game last Saturday. Local team, which lost the contest to Jim Maxwell, catcher for the 26-15 National Guard Little League team.

THE PEANUT GALLERY seating for the Paul Bunyan Restaurant team from Newberry in the men's slowpitch softball tournament played this weekend had some rather unconventional seating. Still, they may have had some of the best seats in the house.

Germfask kids enter steer show

Twelve members of the Germfask 4-H Beef Club have pre-entered the Junior Steer Show and Sale slated for Wednesday, Aug. 18, at the Upper Peninsula State Fair, Escanaba. "A total of 121 juniors entered prior to the February 15, 1982 deadline," stated Fair Manager Richard Osterlander.

The 1982 fair will mark the 30th Market Livestock Sale. Junior beef steer entries must attain a Fall-time weight of 800 pounds to be eligible for the show.

The average selling price of last year's 89 steer entries was $387 with an average weight of 1048 pounds at the auction. The 1981 grand champion steer sold at the top price of $2.45 per pound, and was owned by Sherri Smith of Germfask.

Germfask 4-H Beef Club entries include: Tom Gagnon, March Gagnon, Donna Gagnon, Garret Kopek, Scott Troxler, Todd Troxler, Brad Troxler, Heather Ross, Susie Macaulay, Alan Macaulay, Kurt Steinfeldt, Sherri Smith.

WAITING TO PITCH in action Softball league is Becky Larson of recently in the High School Girls Myra's Kitchen.

Low score for the day was Ann Stevens' 46.

A birdie on number 4 was made by Julie Hoholik. Chip ins were made by K. Ehn on number 7, G. Davidson on number 3, N. Archambeau on number 3, V. Rodgers on number 5, A. Broderton on number 1 and L. Einerman on number 8.

Five tables of bridge were played. Winners were Mary Leonard, Bonnie LaMuth, Sandy Phillion, Jean Schuster, Frances Cockram, Marge Inman and Madge Jenerou.

Guests for the evening were Kathy Stanley, Debbie Males, Sandy Phillion and Mary Moffat.

Local Guard is tops

The local unit of the National Guard, the 1146th Engineering Detachment based in Manistique, must have pretty good vittles.

According to Staff Sergeant Fitz Ehrhardt, the detachment beat out 13 other companies during recent annual training exercises to win an award for the best field kitchen of the 46th Engineer Group of the Guard.

The detachment won the "Cannery Award" for the best dining facility in the group during field exercises held at Camp Grayling from June 12 to 26. The exercises included the Manistique detachment with his 77 people along with 12 other companies from three battalions representing 1,600 guardsmen, Ehrhardt said.

The award is given based on the quality of the food served at the dining facility, along with the cleanliness, organization and adherence to regulations of the field kitchen.

Winning the award qualifies the local detachment to compete at higher levels in a competition that may lead eventually to its recognition as having the best dining facility in the entire U.S. Army and National Guard. The next step in the competition won't take place until April of 1983, Ehrhardt said.

RIDING TOGS ABOUNDED at the 4-H Horse Council horse show held this weekend at the Pines arena. The show was the first of two scheduled for this summer, with the other set for July 25. Here, Lynn Priskorn and Mary Weber work out their mounts during the show.

Three named to Tech's list

Three Manistique students are among the 908 to be placed on the dean's list at Michigan Technological University for the spring quarter. Theresa L. Barr, a freshman in business administration, Joan M. Hawn, a junior in chemical engineering and Jeffrey A. Larson, a senior in chemical engineering, received the honor.

To be placed on the list, students must earn at least a 3.5 grade point average, with 4.0 being straight A's.

Seven net NMU honors

Seven area students were among the 1,227 students at Northern Michigan University named to the Dean's List for the recently concluded winter semester, according to NMU Registrar Harry Rajala.

The five Manistique students on the list are Thomas J. McManus, James M. Redeker, Michele R. Rockwood, Bernard Ruth and Alicia M. Smith.

Also named as honor students were Marsha Cheney of Gulliver and Rosemary L. Miller of Garden.

Histulka heads Ferris honors

Four Manistique students were among the 1,900 named to the academic honors list for the recently completed Spring quarter at Ferris State College. Donald A. Priska, vice-president for academic affairs, announced last week.

Heading the list of local honor students at Ferris is Kathleen J. Histulka, who was among only 161 students at the college who earned all A grades. Other local students to earn a 3.25 grade-point average (4.0 is straight A's) and qualify for the list are Sally Carlton, Conrad R. Larson and Susanne Williamson.
