Birth Of An Island

No fit place for man or beast because it's still a hot spot reeking with sulphur fumes and belching forth clouds of steam and smoke, is the brand-new island shown above as pictured in the May issue of Scientific Illustrated, new science magazine. Located in the Pacific 200 miles south of Honolulu, main Japanese island, this volcanic formation has attained a rise of 50 feet since it first appeared in February.

Wheatman Mirror INTERPRETING THE NEWS Facts and comment about the 1946 situation of Happy Days:

The flow of war-time savings into Michigan farm land continues at a fast pace. In fact, the Michigan farm land is now selling at 108 per cent of the 1923 price peak...

If you drive into the country these days, you'll notice the result of this Michigan trend. Many city dwellers are buying country homes and farm land as a hedge against inflation and hard times.

When war dollars go into a farm, the first change is a general improvement of the buildings. Farm barns and houses are repaired and repainted. Fences also are spruced up...

War workers have been seeking to attain security against another depression. Life savings are being invested into a cabin and a plot of land in northern Michigan.

Four Smart Girls' Next Stop Is Japan

TO KEEP THE PEACE in accordance with the Allied plan, thousands of British Commonwealth troops have arrived and are continuing to arrive to take their part in the occupation of Japan...

The land itself is of questionable merit for zoning. In World War I anti-postwar years the value of farm land rose 65 per cent before cracking...

By 1950—just four years away—And yet the man who owns a farm mortgage may be better off 4.7 per cent, while mortgages held than the man who owns a farm...

The federal bureau of agricultural economics tells us that productivity of farm land is now 17.9 per cent higher than in 1929...

two can reasonably expect to find employment on a farm—men at a hired hand. The agricultural population declined during the war...

William J. Rouns, chief editorial writer, Chicago Journal of Commerce, speaking of the subject...

Chester C. Davis, president, Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis, says: "These days and the days ahead are packed with the most explosive elements with which this country's economy has ever been confronted."

Based on all the evidence now at hand, it would seem prudent for farmers and business men...

Six months ago this column pointed out: "Higher labor rates for workers are bound to result in higher prices. That is why many economists forecast more inflation ahead..."

The Truman administration's policy of encouraging higher wages has been a dud. It has been calculated that General Motors employees will have to work nine years and seven weeks before they can get back the wages they lost during the long costly strike against the management last winter...

Since the GM employees got their higher wages, the OPA has granted two raises in the prices of automobiles. A third is anticipated. Higher wages for coal miners will bring only higher prices for everyone...

Although we have more education than any other people, the state of economic literacy among our people is appallingly low. Since our leaders at Washington are confused and terribly inept in explaining their own economic confusion, the situation today is doubly critical...

Will we find at the end of this illusive postwar rainbow, a bigger and better depression as the penalty of our own stupid mismanagement? Will we find the Happy Days of 1946 but a will-of-the-wisp mirage? So it now seems!

Plan Your Budget for an All-Electric Home

EVERYONE dreams of an all-electric home, and it is well within the possibilities of most home owners. The first trickle of a potential flood of electric appliances is now reaching the American public, and the full force of production can be expected in the near future.

BUT NOW IS THE TIME TO PLAN. Only by careful budgeting and vision can most home owners realize their all-electric "dream home". No sacrifice or effort is too great to attain such a goal.

IN PLANNING your modern electric home, be sure that your electric wiring is adequate and safe for the extra loads it will be required to carry. Call an electrician now and have him check your wiring and install new outlets if you need them. The cost will be small.

Pig Loss
 Diseases now claim 37 per cent of America's pig crop before it can reach the market, the American Veterinary Medical association reports. The greatest opportunity for increasing pork output consists in raising to market age a greater percentage of the pigs farrowed.

Among the swine diseases cited as major enemies of meat production were hog cholera, erysipelas, pig scours, anemia and brucellosis.

PLAYING POLITICS
When it comes to placing political considerations above sound, personal opinions, major political parties have almost equal degree of guilt.

President Truman, goaded to anger by the irresponsible leadership of certain labor groups, recently asked congress for restrictive legislation which would prevent walkouts that jeopardized the general welfare of the nation.

Labor throughout the nation was aroused, and Truman was roundly denounced as an enemy of labor. Yet we have seen political leaders of both parties who have advocated just such restrictive legislation immediately rush into print to denounce the President.

Obviously labor has votes, and there is an election coming up.

Perhaps the President's proposed legislation is too restrictive. Legal controls conceived in anger often are. This, however, does not excuse those men—Republicans and Democrats—who have seized this occasion to woo back labor support at the cost of their own expressed convictions. The convictions are still there—but there is an election coming.

TWO OPPOSING CAMPS
Russia has accused the United States and Great Britain of trying to build up an imperialist block at the expense of the Soviet Union.

Britain and America have accused Russia of violating the pledges of the United Nations, and of endeavoring to subjugate and dominate all of continental Europe.

Since the defeat of Germany and Japan the world has already drifted into two opposing, antagonistic groups, both armed to the teeth, both powerful.

Strange how talk on the international scene still sounds like it did in 1910 and again in 1935. Have we, in truth, accomplished so little in planting the seeds of peace during the past thirty-five years?

THE PRUNING KNIFE
During long years while Harold L. Ickes was at the head of the interior department, the government poured billions of dollars into his lap—and he spent it.

Through all those years Ickes was boomed as a sainted hero. No public possibilities escaped his eagle-eyes. He was credited with saving raindrops and making millions of acres of land fertile, where gophers hadn't been able to raise families.

Congress has cut the estimates for the interior department down from $246,765,830 to $174,652,579. The object of the house committee appropriation was to meet the "urgent need for retrenchment in government expenditures." Congressman Johnson, of Oklahoma, insisted that "inefficiency and gross extravagance in certain agencies of the department of interior" must be stopped.

Congress slashed the interior department appropriations because it is convinced that Secretary Krug, who replaced Ickes, will put the department of interior "on a more efficient basis."

Some of the Washington correspondents are continuing to shed crocodile tears over the departure of Harold Ickes.

Baby Trees need care too...

FOREST PROTECTION IS A BIG JOB!

You can make the job easier with only a little effort on your part.

The fire-watcher, in his tower, protects baby trees which will some day produce forest crops for your many needs. Perhaps he guards a tree farm... perhaps a young forest. He knows that baby trees must be watched over as carefully as any young baby.

Every year fire destroys millions of both young and mature trees worth millions of dollars. Most forest fires are caused by people.

Don't be one of the people who cause fires. Break that match between your fingers... Smudge out that cigarette under your heel... Make sure your campfire is out before you leave it.

HELP KEEP OUR FORESTS GROWING!
