

FLOTSAM AND JETSAM

It has often been said that the United States has no foreign policy, or that such policy as we do pursue is vacillating and wrong. Actually, however, the United States does have the most enlightened foreign policy that has its roots in the past. The country's foreign policy has its roots in the past, in the decisions that policy has slowly crystallized; it was given expression in the past, in the terms of the Atlantic Charter, and today it is just as full of vitality as it was at the end of the first World War.

American foreign policy is firmly based in the political aspirations of the American people, in the sense of right and wrong in our traditional belief and faith in the common man if he is given a chance to find himself and be free of coercion and domination. That our policy has advanced far in the world does not mean that our international aspirations are far from being met. There are thousands of years of history that have not been universally accepted. This does not mean that the project will be abandoned. The philosophy of the Ten Commandments and the United States should not endeavor to achieve its international policy.

What is our policy? If you've forgotten, here it is as recently phrased by President Truman:

1. We seek no territorial expansion or selfish advantage. We have no plans for aggression against any other state, large or small. We have no objectives which clash with the peaceful aims of any other nation.

2. We believe in the eventual return of sovereign rights and self-government to all peoples who have been deprived of them by force.

3. We shall approve no territorial changes in any friendly pact which are contrary to the wishes of the people concerned.

4. We believe that all peoples who are prepared for self-government should be permitted to choose their own form of government by their own freely expressed choice.

5. By the combined and cooperative action of our war allies, we will seek to bring to all states establish peaceful democratic governments of their own free choice.

6. We shall refuse to recognize any government imposed upon any state by force or by the threat of force. In some cases it may be impossible to prevent forcible imposition of such government, but the United States will not recognize any such government.

COUNSELOR FOR VETS SOUGHT BY LEGION POST

Special Committee Discusses Matter With City Council Thursday

Active promotion of the establishment in Marquette of a veterans' counseling center with employment of a full-time counselor was undertaken today by a special committee representing the Marquette post of the American Legion.

The committee, which is composed of Fred Hahn, chairman; Harvey Quick, E. R. Monroe, Howard Hewitt, Emory Barnes and John H. Pyrie, met Thursday afternoon with members of the Marquette city council this afternoon to discuss financial support for the project, and will confer with the Schoolcraft county board of supervisors at an early date.

Approximately 1,250 Schoolcraft county men entered the armed forces during World War II, and 450 have been discharged to date, the committee revealed. Up to the present time, said Fred Hahn, "the counseling of veterans has been on a voluntary basis by the Schoolcraft Council of Veterans Affairs and the number of interviews have increased to where it is absolutely impossible to take care of the veterans' needs properly. The Legion now desires to receive all the rights and benefits which it is essential that a counselor be employed to take care of these men."

Reports tabulated from 81 of Michigan's veteran counseling centers reveal that 26,777 veterans called at these centers for information, counsel and guidance during the month of November, the committee said. It would be returned to the city council on the 15th of January, when a total of 9,985 veterans seeking their rights and benefits from 83 feels that the Marquette post of the American Legion should be authorized to turn over to the city the amount of $1,000 for the purpose of providing a counselor for the veterans. The Legion plan is to set up a Schoolcraft County veterans' council, composed of a chairman, vice-chairman, secretary, treasurer and three members. This committee would be accountable to the people of the county, and the Schoolcraft County council.

Members of the city council reached no conclusions at Thursday's meeting, but further study will be given the matter. City manager Charles D. Martin said.

GI TOURS IN ANCIENT JAP CAPITAL.—Where Shoguns and emperors of feudal Japan stalked in force splendor through the palaces and pilgrims came to attend festivals and worship Buddha, informals and American soldiers now stroll through the sacred gates of the Imperial Palace at Kyoto and gaze in wonder at its magnificent shrines and temples. Sixth Army troops under General Walter Krueger, after dreary months in the insect-infested jungles of New Guinea and the heat of ravaged Luzon, find themselves walking unmarred pavements and riding street cars in the only large Japanese city untouched by Yankee bombs. Here is the colossal red torii (gate) to the shrine dedicated to Emperor Kammu, founder of Kyoto. American enlisted men are quartered in a public hall to the left hidden by the trees.

Eliminating the Diseased and Aged

"So, they say it can't happen here? Well, it is happening here, and it is happening right now!"
The Country Editor pushed a sheet of galley proofs. The week's newspaper had not gone to press yet. It was after the holiday rush.
"and what are you alarming over this week?" was asked in good humor.
"Just this," he replied with a glint of determination in his eyes. "The last legislature passed a law known as Destructive Insect and Plant Disease Act No. 72, which provides funds to eliminate such trees. Five thousand trees are now being removed each week under the direction of the Bureau of Plant Industry, State Department of Agriculture.

Of the fifteen million fruit trees in Michigan, it is estimated that four million are diseased, insect infested or, because of old age, have outlived their usefulness. In the fruit areas of the state these diseased and neglected trees are now being "quarantined" or "cut out." The last legislature passed a law known as Destructive Insect and Plant Disease Act No. 72, which provides funds to eliminate such trees. Five thousand trees are now being removed each week under the direction of the Bureau of Plant Industry, State Department of Agriculture.

hargain for. The government would decide everything. It would underwrite full employment for all. "Under the threat of national expropriation by our enemies in war, our government recently increased its control of our economic life. It became the largest landowner and the greatest owner of manufacturing plants in the country. "It is a bit strange that war abolished unemployment, that war eliminated the margin of profit, that war abolished the Roosevelt administration had consistently failed to do—provide jobs for everyone. We abolished one serious evil, unemployment, by turning to another and worse one, war. "Now, faced with the prospect of a planned society in which the worker's wage and the stockholder's profit would be fixed by governmental decree, I am willing to concede that we should continue to have planned intervention by business enterprise. But I would like to have regulation by an impartial referee and not arbitrary control by an economic dictator."
The Country Editor paused for a moment.
"and don't forget one thing more," he added. "Small business does not have the profit reserves which the big corporations possess. Small business cannot pay labor the wage scales possible through mass production economies. If government fixes wages for big business on ability-to-pay, small business will be gradually strangled and finally eliminated. The margin of profit is small enough as it is—especially for a country newspaper, as you will see."
"as I see it, the new doctrine of ability-to-pay, as a yardstick of how much labor can get, is an open door to state socialisms and the end of our competitive system of free enterprise."
The Country Editor spoke with finality, and then smiled.
"I'm thankful for one thing, though," he added. Congress is in session at Washington. You see, the President's plan is still a plan. It hasn't become a law yet."

Likens Dimes Drive to War on Axis

Chief of Staff Dwight D. Eisenhower endorses the March of Dimes conducted January 14-31 by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis as a "fighting tribute" to the memory of Franklin D. Roosevelt. Said General of the Army Eisenhower: "There will be no question of the response from every American who understands the urgency of the appeal. In our country infantile paralysis remains as one of the scourges that we must strive to eliminate, and I am certain that the fighting services and all veterans and civilians will unite in helping to defeat this enemy just as they did in gaining the victory over the Axis in the field."

PEARL HARBOR QUIZ GROWING TITRESOME

The nation is growing a little sick of the Pearl Harbor investigation. The war is over, and the perpetrators of the foul deed at Pearl Harbor are thoroughly defeated.

Since the investigation started, the public has witnessed a drama of blame-passing and official "white washing." News dispatches record that only one official has admitted that he might have erred.

More and more the American people, or at least many of them, are convinced that the blame for Pearl Harbor is fairly widely distributed among the officials in authority at that time—that no single individual is solely to blame.

More 30 Percent Demands: The threatened strike in the meat packing industry is the first big ominous by-product of the vast General Motors tie-up.

There is little doubt that the demands of General Motors workers, the steelworkers and now the meat packers for a 30 percent wage increase are only the beginning.

And all this is to be done without increasing the cost of living! When the prices of meat and farm products start skyrocketing the country will learn how ruthlessly and unhesitatingly the laws of economics can operate.

OUR DEMOCRACY

by Ray

Progress Through Research

INVENTIVE GENIUS HAS ALWAYS BEEN HIGHLY VALUED IN AMERICA, BUT IN THE EARLY DAYS OF OUR COUNTRY THE SCIENTIST AND INVENTOR-- WHILE ACCOMPLISHING GREAT THINGS-- OFTEN WORKED AGAINST GREAT OBSTACLES-- POVERTY, LACK OF EQUIPMENT AND TECHNICAL LIBRARY FACILITIES.

Today-- THROUGH ORGANIZED RESEARCH-- WORKING TOGETHER IN MODERN LABORATORIES-- OUR MEN OF GENIUS HAVE THEIR OPPORTUNITIES MULTIPLIED MANY FOLD-- CONTRIBUTING IN EVER INCREASING MEASURE TO THE ADVANCEMENT OF OUR DEMOCRACY.

Celebration Of New Year's Jan. 1 Began In 452 B. C.

The celebration of New Years on January 1 began in 452 B. C. and therefore, contrary to logical reasoning had nothing whatsoever to do with the birth of Christ.

The ancient Roman calendar began in, and with, the month of March; there were ten months, the last six of which were named Quintilis, Sextilis, September, October, November, and December-- or, the Fifth, Sixth, Seventh, Eighth, Ninth and Tenth months respectively.

Caesar's astronomers and calendar experts fixed the calendar year at 365 days-- and because they estimated the solar year as 365 1/4 days-- an extra day was to be added every fourth year.

Actually, the earth goes around the sun in 365 days, 5 hours, 48 minutes, and 46 seconds; and by 1824 D. the Julian calendar was 10 days behind the sun.

In order to prevent repetition of the sun running away from the calendar and vice versa, Pope Gregory XIII decreed that a leap year should be omitted now and then; hence only those years divisible by four-- exclusive of years numbering the centuries-- should have 366 days, and the century-marking years shall be leap years only if divisible by four after the eighths have been omitted.

The Gregorian calendar has been officially adopted in most countries of the civilized world, however many creeds and peoples still celebrate their religious and traditional festivals in accordance with ancient calendars.

Pre-Christian Romans inaugurated the new year by offering sacrifices to the gods, exchanging greetings and bestowing gifts. During the early Christian centuries, New Year's festivities persisted and became so boisterous that the faithful were forbidden to participate therein.

After December 25 had been established as the day of nativity, the church made January 1 a religious festival honoring the circumcision of Jesus; the day being that observed in the Roman church since 477, and in the Anglican church since 1549.

Mr. and Mrs. Gauthier, who has been receiving treatment at Percy Jones hospital in St. Clair County, his bride, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Durst, of Detroit, was a nurse's assistant at Percy Jones before her release from the service.

Brothers Arrested On Assault Charge

Jack and Leonard Sharkey, brothers, were given suspended jail sentences of 30 days when they pleaded guilty in justice court Saturday morning to a charge of assault.

Under the terms of the sentence, Leonard Sharkey was ordered to take residence away from his mother's home, Jack Sharkey, who has been here on leave, has returned to his navy base.
