Heads Farm Group

Lester Richards, of Manistique, was recently elected president of the Michigan Farm Equipment Association in Lansing. He is the first upper peninsula man ever to be named president of the organization.

Extension agricultural economists at Michigan State college, in studying the farm outlook for 1946, conclude that another good farming year is in prospect, but they believe that the time has come to view the future with more caution.

Other predictions included in the specialists' outlook report include: 1—Farm earnings—at an all time high in 1945—are expected to remain fairly high throughout the year. Decreases in income will be offset to some degree by lower taxes, less saving, and probably some spending of reserves.

2—Foreign demand for agricultural products will be reduced after the 1946 harvest. How much is sold before then will depend on how much buying power European nations can raise.

3—Prices of most farm commodities (cattle and lambs excepted) are to be supported at 90 percent of parity at least until the end of 1946. Farmers produce the 25 percent fund since the export prices now stand at 117 percent of parity. Therefore, a drop to the support price would mean a substantial reduction in net farm income.

4—Whether farm cost will hold steady or rise seems to hinge more upon what happens to price controls than any other single factor. A removal of ceilings would certainly result in higher costs for such things as supplies and farm implements.

COUNTY SHARES IN FOREST AREA FUND

Total Of $1,767.33 Local Disbursement Of National Forest Receipts

Schoolcraft county will receive $1,767.33 as its share of the gross receipts from Michigan national forests, according to a recent announcement by Jay H. Price, of Milwaukee, regional forester of the U. S. Forest Service for the north central region.

Twenty-six counties share a total of $39,283, representing a 25 per cent slice of the gross receipts returned to these counties for their school and road funds as is specified by federal law. The acreage of the Ottawa, Upper Michigan and Lower Michigan national forests lying within the 26 counties was the basis for the division of revenue.

Schoolcraft county's share was based on 119,438 acres of forest land within the county.

The Michigan national forest contain a gross area of 5,092,305 acres, of which only 2,197,644 are government owned. Timber sale receipts from the latter contributed the major portion of this revenue.

Land Not Productive Contrary to popular conception, Price said, much of this forest land is not fully productive. When purchased by the Forest Service, most of the land had been heavily cut over and repeatedly burned.

The Michigan national forest of young tree plantations, and another 4,900 acres are so denuded that they are in urgent need of reforestation. The area of merchantable timber is comparatively small, therefore, the return to the counties on forest lands is considered high, according to Price.

Michigan counties have received over $213,000 of their share in the 25 percent fund since the export prices now stand at 117 percent of parity. Therefore, a drop to the support price would mean a substantial reduction in net farm income.

Others Benefit In U. P. Upper peninsula counties benefited from the distribution of the 25 per cent fund are the following:

Alger	109,834 1,825.21
Ontonagon	216,395 6,901.36

TIPS for FARMERS

By JOSEPH L. HEHRMAN County Agricultural Agent

Future Dairy Demands Look Good

Michigan milk prices will hold up well during the first half of 1946 with some what more than a normal seasonal drop during the dairy situation. Even in Detroit, but general weakening of dairy prices seems to be in the last part of the year.

Removal of government regulations limiting sales of milk and increases in retail milk deliveries throughout the nation. This is one of the most encouraging signs in the dairy situation. Even in Detroit, despite the fact that many workers have left since V.J. Day, fluid demand approximates that of a year ago. Present indications are that fluid demand will hold up well during 1946, and may even increase if urban employment is at a high level.

A sharp reduction in government purchases of evaporated milk, cheese and dried milk has taken place. Last year the United States produced about 50 million cases of evaporated milk, compared with 50 million cases before the war. It is now estimated that the equivalent of 20 million cases will need to be diverted into other uses. The increased demand for fluid milk, cream and ice cream probably will absorb most of this cut-back. Some reduction is likely to occur in cheese production. The markets for non-fat dried milk solids and dry whole milk seem more uncertain than the other dairy products, and some reduction in price is expected by mid-year. This reduction may affect the prices of other dairy products, unless butter ceilings are lifted. Dairy supplies are low, and it is expected that butter prices will continue at ceiling levels.

Dairy production payments will stop March 31, 1946, unless special provision is made for extending them beyond this date. During 1945 production payment amounted to 14 percent of total farm net income from milk. Undoubtedly when production payments are removed, corresponding adjustments will be made in price ceilings. Karwocki and Pat Shaw.

...dollars which are accumulated in the treasury at Lansing. There are several new developments of interest.

First, a possibility that county supervisors may join hands with the mayors of financially distressed cities in a coalition at Lansing, arrayed against the state's administration program of priority to state needs.

The supervisors held an annual meeting at the state capital last week, and it is significant that the mayor's appeals for cooperative support received a sympathetic audience with the rural officials. The county treasurers, for example, see no reason why the state treasury shouldn't pay part of their salaries—that is, if the sales tax income is so plentiful a source of revenue.

Lieut. Governor Vernon J. Brown, while deploring the trend toward local governmental responsibility, has indicated that the state should either reduce tax or increase its aid to local government. The state's tax study commission has recommended reduction of the 3 per cent sales tax from 3 to 2 1/2 per cent, permitting municipalities to elect to choose to levy 1/2 of 1 per cent on local retail sales.

Second, Governor Kelly is adamant in his insistence that the needs of the state—schools, hospitals, welfare, for example—should have the right of way over increased state aid to local governments.

One cause for the predicament of the administration now finds itself in the fact that the legislature has never established a depreciation fund for public buildings. Once a hospital or school building is constructed, no provision is made for its ultimate replacement.

Corporation practice of providing a depreciation reserve for needed construction is not followed by the State of Michigan. It has been estimated that approximately $5,000,000 annually is needed for public work construction by the state. During the depression the state treasury was running in the red and no public works could be undertaken; now when it is in the black, materials are not available and costs are sky high.

If the state does not set aside money now for these postponed projects, it is expected to do so later on when welfare needs may absorb any surplus in the state treasury needed for public work construction.

Louis N. Nims, commissioner of revenue, reports that property taxes pay 50.6 per cent of the state and local tax bill, computed for the year 1944-45, with the retail sales and use tax bringing in 26.2 per cent. Other sources of revenue include gasoline tax, motor vehicle tax, railroad and public utility taxes, alcoholic beverage taxes, corporation tax and inheritance tax.

The fact that 7,963 units of local government—82 counties, 1,255 townships, 173 cities, 262 incorporated villages and 6,776 school districts—all receive financial support from the State of Michigan is not news to taxpayers.

The entire proceeds of local property taxes are retained for expenditures of local governments. No state tax on property is now levied, the sales tax replacing this form of taxation.

Quoting the statistically-minded Mr. Nims of the department of revenue: "When Michigan consumers dig down into their pockets for their sales tax pennies and contribute a total revenue of nearly one hundred million dollars as running in the red and no public works could be undertaken; now when it is in the black, materials are not available and costs are sky high."

"The Department of Revenue, in charged only with the duty of collecting taxes. The responsibility of determining how the proceeds shall be expended rests upon the chosen representatives of the people—the Legislature. The sales tax revenue is deposited daily in the state treasury where it becomes part of the state general fund. The money can be withdrawn and spent only as authorized by the Legislature in appropriation acts. The sales tax money is not earmarked or dedicated to expenditures for any particular purpose as is true of many of the other state collected taxes.

"Since all of the sales tax goes into the state general fund, it may be assumed that eventually this money is spent for the same purposes as general fund receipts which are not earmarked for specific expenditures. About three-quarters of the total free and undesignated general fund revenue is required to meet appropriations for education, social welfare and health services including state grants-in-aid and other payments for these purposes to local units of government. Consequently most of the sales tax money goes to meet expenditures and state payments for those functions. It should be noted that the strongest and most insistent demands for increased expenditures have been those for larger state appropriations

The police should watch out for boys that make a practice of breaking windows in unoccupied houses. We have heard of several such raids lately.

Mrs. John Wadleigh, on Sunday morning, presented her husband with a bright 10-lb. boy. Mother and son are doing well, and the father is proud of the proudest men that walks our streets. The friends of the family extend their congratulations over this bright event in that family history.

Nervous women will find relief in lead since December 12th, as the result of a broken hip sustained when he was pinned between his own car and another which backed into him, is reported as getting along nicely. There is hope that he may be able to sit up for a short time this week.

Mrs. George Smart, of Arbutus avenue, was very pleasantly surprised on Friday afternoon by some of her friends who came to help her celebrate her birthday. There were four tables of five hundred at which Mrs. Victor Herrick and Mrs. Chester Winters were the prizes. Delicious refreshments were served.

Ten Years Ago

Mrs. B. E. Jones and daughter, Beryl, and Miss Katherine Huffer, are spending the day in Escanaba.

Mrs. Carl Gunnarson, who is a patient at the Shaw hospital, is reported to be getting along favorably. Mrs. Reuben Larson and daughter, who had been visiting at the Gunnarson home since last Thursday, left for their home in Gladstone on Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted McKenzie and daughter, Sherill, of St. Ignace, were week end guests of friends. Roller skating appears to be the fad in every city. When not carried to excess, it is a healthful and pleasant recreation.

Wm. Durso has been unable to work for some time on account of an injury he received at Shingleton recently, as the result of jumping from a car.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Will A. Burdick of Spokane, Wash., a daughter, Jan. 22nd.

Mrs. James Osterholm, who has been on the sick list for several weeks is able to go out again.

J. H. McLellan has closed his candy shop in the Orr block and has again taken up his work as lumber inspector. There are many who regret his departure from the candy business.

Carl G. Ekstrom, who has been in bed since December 12th, as the result of a broken hip sustained when he was pinned between his own car and another which backed into him, is reported as getting along nicely. There is hope that he may be able to sit up for a short time this week.

THE LESSON OF CENTURIES

The editor of a New Jersey paper writes, "I am 100 per cent in favor of private enterprise and opposed to socialism. However, several of my readers have asked me the question, 'What are we going to do to make a living?' They say that manufacturing industries and business offices will not hire them because they are over 30 years old, and that several industries will not take on any people who are over 35 years old."

This editor asks what can be done to correct such a situation, and says: "How can we fight the isms if industry and business encourage a background that creates votes for them?"

The persons who have asked this editor to give them an answer to this question start off on the assumption that socialism can do what industry and business cannot do, and that therefore it is desirable as a substitute for any current shortcomings in business.

The record over the centuries has been that government is not a good provider. When given monopolistic power, it always becomes an oppressor.

If industry is refusing to hire older people and that several industries will not take on any people who are over 35 years old, this editor asks what can be done to correct such a situation, and says: "How can we fight the isms if industry and business encourage a background that creates votes for them?"

Jap Supreme Commander's Swords Come in a Box

13,000 JAPS HAD BEEN KILLED by Admiral Moushabetz's South East Asia Command at the time of the Jap Surrender. Gen. Terachi, Jap Supreme Commander in that theater, pleaded to be excused surrendering his sword because he was stricken with paralysis. The British Admiral granted this plea, but said that the Jap Field Marshal was to make formal surrender as soon as he was able. Time passed, but Moushabetz stuck to his order, and Terachi is pictured here as, with the help of an aide-camp (left), he bowed low and handed over to the Allied Supreme Commander two swords complete with their scabbards. High-ranking officers of the Allied Command in which they 83 in a hundred were from the British Commonwealth of Nations, witnessed the ceremony held in Saigon, French Indo-China.

Used Jefferson Plan

The buildings of the University of Virginia were laid out according to a plan drawn up by Thomas Jefferson. The plan was based on the principles of symmetry and balance, and it has become a model for many other university buildings. The Jefferson Plan is a classic example of neoclassical architecture, and it has inspired generations of architects and planners. The plan is still used today as a guide for the design of new university buildings.

DAUN WILL ASSIST LOCAL TAXPAYERS

Internal Revenue Man Coming to Manistique In February And March

Gordon T. Daun, deputy collector for the Internal Revenue Service of the Treasury Department, will be at the Manistique post office from Thursday, Feb. 7 through Saturday, Feb. 9, and from Monday, March 4 through Friday, March 8, to assist taxpayers in filing their 1945 income tax returns. He will be available for interviews on those days from 9:00 a. m. to 5:00 p. m.

Everyone who has received a gross income of $500 or more during 1945 is required to file a return, either by use of the withholding tax receipt received from the employer, or on the regular combined Form No. 1040. Those who have received less than $500 and had withholdings taken out of their wages should file a return regardless, since that is the only way they can receive refunds, Daun explained.

Information relative to particular taxpayers problems and income tax blanks can be secured by contacting Mr. Daun when he comes to Manistique or by letter at the division office in Marquette.

Mr. James C. Wood has returned from New York City where he spent the past three weeks.

BAN ORDERED ON PINBALL GAMES

Liquor Commission Announces All Gaming Devices Must Be Removed

The Michigan liquor control commission in a recent bulletin to liquor licensees has ordered the removal of all pinball and slot machines and all other gaming apparatus from the premises of beer, wine and liquor vendors. The orders were received by Schoolcraft county licensees last week.

Here in other localities, there is a similar order of the commission in the interpretation of the order, particularly in relationship to the ban on pinball machines. Clarification of the order is sought to determine whether the pinball machines may be left in the premises if they are played for amusement only.

The letter from the liquor control commission follows in part: "It is the policy of the commission that pinball machines or any gaming machines or apparatus whereby the one who plays stands to win or lose money, trade checks, prizes, merchandise or any consideration, having free games shall be prohibited from the licensee's premises."

The sweeping order apparently applies to all licensees, clubs included, inasmuch as no exceptions were listed. It was noted that specific mention was made of "free games" as one of the considerations banning pinball machines from premises of liquor licensees.

In the letter disclosing the ban on pinball and slot machines, the commission also advised that the liquor control commission has materially strengthened its enforcement division, and is requesting the cooperation of all licensees in the strict observance of all provisions of the liquor law and the rules and regulations of the commission.

The commission advised that the provisions shall apply to the following violations committed on and after Feb. 1, 1946:

"Any licensee found guilty of selling or serving alcoholic beverages to a person under 21 years of age or of allowing a person under 21 years of age to consume alcoholic beverages upon the licensed premises, shall be subject to a penalty of not less than 30 days suspension of license for first offense; not less than 60 days of license for the second offense, and revocation of license for the third offense."

"Any licensee found guilty of selling or serving spirits on Sunday shall be subject to a penalty ranging from a fine of $300 to revocation of license."
