UM Dean Suggests New Idea In Latin American Relation

A University of Michigan dean, offers a guiding principle for the friendly development of our relations with Latin America: focus attention upon people, common people, and not upon governments or organizations.

This is the advice of Prof. Hayward Keniston, Dean of the University's School of Literature, Science and the Arts, in the February issue of the Michigan Alumni Quarterly Review.

Dean Keniston, who served as attaché in charge of Cultural Relations in the United States Embassy in Buenos Aires, Argentina, believes that American business has a great contribution to make towards improving the relationship between our country and the Latin American countries.

Answering the question of what our attitude toward military dictatorship should be, Dean Keniston points out that "our record has been a shabby one" governed by expediency. American business, he says, found there was less risk in operating under the "order" of autocracy than in the confusion of a genuine democracy.

Mr. Keniston urges the United States to assume a role of leadership, employing not armed force but persuasion. The Axis rulers have shown, he explains, "how easy it is to inculcate attitudes of hatred and fear in their people. We must set ourselves, to achieve the opposite result, among the peoples of America and the world."

Michigan State Police Have Wide Scope Of Duties In U.P.

Coordinating the activities of 8 the 42nd (Rainbow) division. He state police posts, scattered from Gladstone to L'Anse, over a territory that makes up a third of the land area of Michigan, is a big administrative problem. It's the job of the Eighth district headquarters at Marquette, Michigan, to coordinate the activities of these posts.

Here is centered the invisible tie that binds all these posts together. Here are the district experts who stand ready to help post personnel and local police officers in the investigation of crime, causes of fires, traffic control. Here the papers are accomplished and recorded as assistant district commander July 1945.

The top-kick has been cited for bravery, meritorious service and honorable mention. Married and with two sons, he is making plans to move his family from Battle Creek as soon as possible.

The "nervous system" that binds the posts of the U. P. together, that makes personnel above the posts, is the state police radio one of the specialized services. It is the responsibility of the Radio Engineer John Wilson to keep in repair and in constant operation the transmitters and receivers, not only in the eight posts but in motor vehicles as well. In addition, he must keep personnel in the state police alerted to changed regulations.

Wilson, a civilian employe, came into the department in 1937, worked out of Houghton Lake until June, 1939, then out of East Lansing, and was transferred to Marquette in January, 1942. A resident of Marquette, he is married and has three children.

Fire Investigations
Although most of the fires that occur daily in the Upper Peninsula are traceable to natural causes, occasionally one demands an investigation. Whether the fire has occurred in Menominee, Escanaba, Sault Ste. Marie, elsewhere in the U. P., the services of a trained officer, District Detective Harold Moore, who also is a deputy state fire marshal, are available. He also cooperates with personnel in inspecting theaters, dry cleaning plants, public buildings, activities of equal importance.

Moore enlisted in the state police in October, 1939, and has been on fire marshal work since July 18, 1941. He came to the Eighth district in January, 1944. Cited for meritorious service, he lives in Marquette, is married and has a daughter in grade school.

Crime Specialist
In the field of criminal investigation, the district specialist is Detective Corporal Jack Miller, who received that assignment Nov. 10, 1941. A veteran in state police work, Miller enlisted in 1928. He held assignments in several posts, mostly in the U. P. district. Married, with six children, and a Marquette resident, Miller has been cited for meritorious service by the department.

Most investigations of a criminal nature are carried on by men in the eight posts, but in some cases where there are special problems not usually encountered, or where the investigation will

Robertson Veteran Officer
Capt. Robertson, who has had 20 years of police experience, 21 of them with the state police and in command assignments for 16 years, has been district commander since July 1, 1945. He was assigned to U. P. stations for seven years.

Robertson, district commander; Corporal Richard Arnett, Marquette; Sgt. John Pennala, Newberry; Cpl. Forest H. White, temporary acting commander, St. Ignace; and Sgt. Kenneth White, Manistique. The conferences of post commanders are held monthly, the purpose being to keep up-to-date with laws, regulations and policies laid down by the department headquarters at East Lansing, as well as to set up plans of operation in local enforcement and discuss problems in which post officers can be of assistance to other police agencies or to the communities in which they operate.

Officers in post areas patrolling highways are equipped by knowledge and training in the field of traffic control. It is their duty to keep traffic moving in an orderly fashion, and to warn, advise and assist motorists traveling on the highways. In the field of safety education, the trooper is the contact man with the public.

Here again highway safety takes on a wider scope, and Cpl. Ralph M. Sheehan is available to coordinate activities of local posts with safety programs in the schools and to assist in administration of the operators' and chauffeurs' license law.

Sheehan, who has been on safety and traffic work since 1937 and on that assignment in this district since 1939, enlisted in 1931, and served in various posts in the U. P. since that time, except for a year at Flint and White Pigeon. He is a resident of Marquette, is married and has two sons.

Combined Program Held Monday; Tribute Paid To Gordon Hughes
The story of district headquarters is a story of coordination—the work of the eight posts that comprise the district, of the special services with the posts, and of state police activities in the Upper Peninsula with those of the state.

Manistique Rotarians were hosts Monday of last week to members of Boy Scout Troop 461, of which they are sponsors at a combined Boy Scout Week recognition dinner and Lincoln's Birthday program, below during the recent hunting season.

MILK IS YOUR BEST FOOD—TAKE GOOD CARE OF IT—

KEEP IT CLEAN, COOL AND COVERED TO CONSERVE ITS FOOD VALUE . . .

Everyone should realize that milk must be kept clean, covered and cold, preferably in a temperature not higher than 45 degrees.

Take milk off the doorstep as soon as it is delivered and keep it in the coldest part of the refrigerator when it is not exposed to light. The important riboflavin content of milk is lessened by exposure to light.

Always keep milk covered. Milk and dairy products are delicately flavored and readily absorb odors from other foods. For complete safety always use pasteurized milk.

Russ Refuses
The most difficult political refugee problem following World War I was finding homes for displaced Russians. Between 1917 and 1920, 1,500,000 Russians had left their native country and refused to return. These people were eventually settled more or less permanently in 45 countries throughout the world.

Russian Damage in War Is Set at 40 Millions

LONDON—The Moscow radio said that damage to the national economy of the Soviet Union as a result of four years of war with Germany amounted to 697 billion rubles, based on 1941 prices.

The Soviet Monitor in London said the 1941 level of the ruble was 25 to a British pound which would make the damage estimate $40,740,000,000.

10,000 Mines Laid to Defend American Shores

WASHINGTON—To defend U. S. shores against enemy submarines in the early days of the war, the navy laid 10,000 mines in coastal waters.

Casualties to friendly ships totaled 15, the navy said.

All formerly mined areas now are safe for surface vessels, but some still are considered dangerous for anchoring, dredging, trawling and cable laying.

Behind Your Bonds

MISSISSIPPI'S CONTRIBUTION
The U. S. Waterways Experiment Station near Vicksburg, Miss., solves problems arising in the improvement of rivers and harbors throughout the Nation. Over 10,000 women in that state are three and one-half times as many as in any other state. A Pascagoula factory makes beach slipper from wood, and 50 per cent of the Nation's shrimp is caught and shipped there. Their contribution to the National wealth behind scenes is being recognized.

Intoxication Test

The blood test for drunkenness is now generally considered to give an accurate picture of intoxication. The reason is that alcohol tends to disperse itself uniformly in the water of the blood. The alcohol remains unaltered in the body and exerts its effect on the various organs until it is completely oxidized—combined with oxygen—and excreted as carbon dioxide and water. This oxidation process normally takes place at a constant rate, about 10 cubic centimeters of liquor an hour. In discussing this matter of drunken driving, the Journal of the American Medical Association states that all persons harboring 0.18 per cent or more of alcohol in their blood are to be considered "under the influence," since they have lost clearness of intellect and self-control. Laws embodying this interpretation have been passed by Indiana, Maine and New York, and the tests have been admitted as evidence in almost every state of the Union.

Well-Fed Cows Better Breeders

Bang's disease is unquestionably one cause of low calf crops in the southern states, but inadequate winter feeding, over-grazed pastures, and low phosphorus intake on many grazing lands must be held responsible for much low production. Well nourished cows breed more regularly and raise better calves than cows that are half starved part of the year. Experiments show that an expenditure of around $5 per head in concentrates for wintering cows will result in increased returns of over $8 per head in increased calf crop, size of calves. The death loss will also be reduced.

'First Rate' in the Days of Sailing Ships

In the days of sailing ships, most of the cargo was made up of barrels were called "first rates." Those in the "second rate" had 80 or more, "third rates" boasted about 74, and "fourth rates" usually had 56. Though the ships have vanished, the expressions, their saunter meanings, however, live on in our language.

BROKEN HOMES RAISE CRIME RECORD

In an address before the annual meeting of Catholic Youth, J. Edgar Hoover, Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, in discussing the importance of efforts dedicated to good citizenship and toward clean living, said:

"The postwar crime wave which we feared is upon us. It is mounting in intensity. It is growing in severity. It is not isolated. It is nationwide. In fact, other countries report similar experiences. Lawlessness is not inherited; it is acquired—and so is character. Therefore, it is not much more important to build character?"

"View with me, if you will, the passing parade of crime. It presents a sordid spectacle. Out of each 1,000 marching in this endless parade, 521 have marched before to a prior arrest, and 210 are under 21 years of age. More persons aged 17 are arrested than in any other age group. Of each 1,000 murderers, 140 are under 21 years of age; of every 1,000 robbers, 560 are under 21; of burglars, 510; of thieves, 340; of arsonists, 250; of 1,000 car thieves, 630 are under 21; and of 1,000 rapists, 820 are under 21 years of age."

"In the background of each of these youths lies a story of shocking neglect. Boys and girls are being deprived of the care and guidance necessary to the proper formation of their characters. Their lawlessness has its roots in every instance in broken homes, in homes where mothers and fathers, because of their neglect, misunderstanding or irresponsibility, had failed in their primary obligation."

OPEN YOUR EYES

Few people today have any conception of the important part the Bible teachings played in the business progress of the United States or the creation of our government. America was founded on man's consciousness of God, man's daily labor and the fruits therefrom.

All over the world, during the past two decades, political teachings which aggrandized an individual, have taken the place of Bible teachings. Equality, freedom and religious liberty have been lost in nations which glorified individuals rather than principles.

In our own country, strong factions are seeking to tie our future progress to all-powerful government. Peoples are losing sight of the fact that America was not built on this basis, but was built upon a Constitution that embodies the teachings of the Bible.

It is high time that we came to our senses and, instead of aping foreign governments that criticize our country but turn to it for men and money to settle their everlasting quarrels and poverty, renewed our respect for the spirit that breathes behind our own Constitution, based on ideals which have given us liberty and blessings beyond those enjoyed by all other peoples.

And don't let any foreign or domestic politician try to tell you he has a system under which government will do for the individual what the individual cannot do for himself if he keeps government his servant rather than his master.

OUR DEMOCRACY—by Ray Great Presidents Equally Revered

Let, in our Democracy, it was possible for both men to rise to leadership and to attain the highest office to our land.
This Month We Honor Both

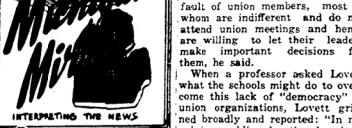

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Bird's-Eye View of America

A fellow took an aerial photograph of our town, and it makes the place look like Utopia.
Folks argued that the new firehouse would never look well beside the old Town Hall. But they harmonize perfectly from the air. One side of the railroad tracks looks as good as the other. All the different landmarks blend in nicely with surroundings.
From where I sit, there's a lesson to that photograph. A community's made up of different elements—people as well as landmarks. Some vote one way, some another; some enjoy a glass of beer and other don't. You might think there was a lot of reason for friction.

But it's all in your point of view. Get up high enough—see the little discords blend together into what we call America—a free, harmonious land. The differences only look big to people who see them from too close!

Joe Marsh

"Michigan industrial workers are receiving today an average of 15 cents more per hour than Michigan gets in other adjacent Mid-West states. Michigan's 1946 wage increase was 15 percent, while other states were responsible for 10 percent of the entire nation's war armament output, manufacturing must get production and union contracts must be enforced."

John L. Lovett, manager of the Manufacturers' Association, was speaking. His audience was a group of 200 college professors and instructors.

Brusque and straight-forward in action, Lovett is a realist in the world of industrial relations. A graduate of the University of Kansas, he served as legislative correspondent of the Chicago Tribune and Springfield, Illinois.

For the past 27 years he has been employed by Michigan manufacturers, has been as a manager and outspoken in warning them of their faults as he has been in denouncing labor's irresponsibility and restrictions on production, where he believes they exist.

Historically, the American management-labor movement, said Lovett, is about as frank and open as any other in the world.

Around a quarter of a century ago American industry underwent a significant change. Whereas most industries had been managed by their owners, a wave of mergers brought an era where many industries were directed by professional managers, most of whom had no ownership in the business.

This swing of the pendulum led to unrest among employees and finally to enactment by Congress of a series of laws, all designed to protect the worker from the Watson-Parker act in 1935 to the Byrnes anti-strike breaking act in 1947.

Labor's new powers have caused the pendulum to swing to the other extreme. Management's reaction to this was the General Motors strike, said Lovett, was not prompted by the publicized 30 per cent wage increase demand but by a deliberate strategy of the international board of the U. A. W. C. I. O. to assure a long, costly strike which would leave the rank-and-file union member "doctored" due to unwillingness to lead or join a threatened insurrection, against re-election of the present U. A. W. officers at the forthcoming convention next month at Atlantic City.

He said the 30 per cent wage demand was merely "window dressing." (Ed U. A. W. C. O. details may be assumed.)
Newsman of the U. A. W. C. I. O. organization has handicapped its officers in lack of experience in collective bargaining. Lovett's experience of A. F. L. leaders whom he said, "know how to bargain" with employers.

(It has been estimated that 2-5,000,000 AF of L members have received pay increases since 1943 averaging 15 per cent or more, a big majority of these were obtained without resort to costly strikes.—Source: Research Institute of America.)

Another factor: The UAW board's lack of discipline over local unions and hence inability to live up to its contracts.
Lovett declared that many labor unions, especially those having contracts with the government, were controlled by their officers through a handful of delegates and followers mask in the traditional manner of

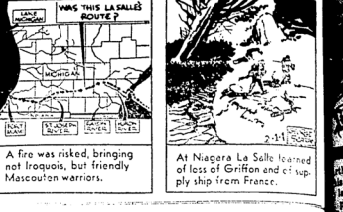

CORN AND COTTON LAND

Besides its wealth of forest products, Michigan is important for its output of corn, cotton, hay and other crops. Cotton and tobacco alone provide about 20 per cent of the state's income from crops. Dairy cattle are prospering with milk and manufacturing. The state's agriculture generally is doing well, with a surplus of corn and cotton. Behind all these stands the

Motorists Have Narrow Escape

Lawrence J. Brown, River Road, narrowly escaped serious injury when his car was struck by the wheel and axle of a passenger train on Monday.
The car was struck by the train at the crossing but failed to clear the tracks. Both he and his companion, Miss Fay Roschbach of Gulliver, received face cuts and bruises.
Also occurring Feb. 9, was a collision on U.S. 2 east of Manistique near Joseph Carlson's Pine resort of cars driven by Harold Smith, of Gulliver, and Cecelia Smith. Local police said that he did not see Carlson signal to turn into the driveway and attempted to pass the car. Both cars were damaged but neither of the motorists was hurt.

Ship's Anchor
The longer the length of anchor chain let out by a ship, the more securely she is held. Each section of chain is called a shot, and the bit where the chain rests is called a locker. Thus "another shot in her locker" means she still has a reserve to use as a last resort. The saying has become part of our language ashore.

U.S. Navy Recruiter Tells Navy's Plan For Reenlistments

L. K. Sprinkel, navy chief recruiter's aide who was in Manistique Wednesday to interview applicants for the navy, has announced a revision of the naval reenlistment program. This allows a man discharged from the regular navy or the U. S. Naval Reserve to enlist in the regular navy in the rating in which he was discharged.

In effect, Sprinkel said, this means that any man enlisting in the regular navy within ninety days of the date of his discharge, will retain his previous rating with all pay and allowances to which he was entitled on the date of his separation.

"This program will last, under the present policies, only until May 20, 1946, and thereafter, after February 19, 1946, the time in which a man will have to effect his enlistment will diminish," Sprinkel said. "As an incentive to complete his enlistment within thirty days from date of separation each man will be granted thirty days leave. This leave will not count as annual leave, and every man will be entitled to an additional thirty days leave a year. Men taking advantage of the reenlistment opportunity after thirty days but before ninety days will not be granted leave and will be transferred to the nearest recruiting ship or station for assignment. A re-enlistment bonus of fifty dollars for each year of active service will be granted to all men re-enlisting."

Every man whether re-enlisting or coming into the navy for the first time will be entitled to all benefits of their GI Bill, providing his enlistment is effected before October, 1946, the recruiter explained.

Sprinkel will make regular visits to Manistique to interview men interested in entering the naval service.

Founders Week Observed Here By Food Chain

The originator of the modern chain store will be honored here this week by the A&P Food Stores.

Local observance of Founder's Week, announced by T. G. Adams, unit head for the company in this area, will pay tribute to George Huntington Hartford who, in 1859, opened the first red-fronted store in what is now the world's most extensive system of food distribution.

"Mr. Hartford founded more than a grocery business," Mr. T. G. Adams said. "He fathered a principle of mass distribution which in its 86-year history has not only helped establish a high standard of living for American wage-earners but has also provided industry as a whole with a blueprint for public service."

"All of the company's facilities are now being directed toward improving and quality and variety of foods. During the war, consumers were hoarding of substitutes for scarce items but, with the return of peace, they have become highly selective in their purchases and their
