

Rev. Sigmund Hillmer, in talking to the Lions club Tuesday night about his recent trip to Mexico City, at various times complimented the fact that he was an American. He did this with no intent to disparage our Mexican friends who complained that he was not a true American, but to express his sincere appreciation of the various things which make the United States such a good country in which to live. Benefits which we take for granted as part of our life are not granted to our friends who stand out sharply when they find ourselves without them.

For example, Rev. Hillmer found that he was not interested in buying a new suit in Mexico but that the Mexicans, of course, bought their meat there without a thought or a qualm about its origin. But the man in a Manistique pasture had to long purchased his meat in American butcher shops and then take it to a Mexican butchery and cool, where no flies feast on it and where various cuts of quality meat were displayed in air-conditioned display cases and stored in refrigerated cases. It is just one thing that is different about the United States. Our good stores, well managed, clean, sanitary and courteous to the public.

Tap water in Mexico City was another thing. In any small American town the household or hotel taps would give clear, pure water suitable for any purpose. Tap water in Mexico City was not suitable for drinking, and for part of each day it was shut entirely. Other factors which stood out sharply by comparison was regulation of the smooth roads, the numerous gasoline stations and good eating places along our highways.

Mexico is a beautiful country and a friend of ours, but there the rich life in regal splendor and the poor are very poor indeed. Efforts to correct the conditions, to level out the vast contrasts between the big landowners and the peons, have failed during the past few years, but the nation still has a way to go. Even the poorest American lives far better than the average peon who gets around two dollars monthly for long hours of patient, back-breaking toil. There are many things which level out the average American, on spending some time in Mexico, is happy to be a citizen of the States, but the average peon who gets around two dollars monthly for long hours of patient, back-breaking toil. Most plantings will consist of fingerling brook and rainbow trout. Because the lakes scheduled for plantings have neither inlets nor outlets, trout are unable to reproduce naturally, necessitating stocking each year. Schust, who is in charge of the plantings, has proved to be the most successful means of insuring continuous fishing in trout lakes, he said.

All trout planted in lakes this fall and in streams next season will be in fingerlings which remove them from the stream. Trout fishermen and those checking records will thus be able to determine the proportion of planted fish taken, and this information will assist in evaluating planting practices.

The trout raising station near the Tahquamenon River is being closed for the fall and winter months. The planting station is used during the summer to produce fingerlings brook trout for stocking winter ponds in the eastern portion of the upper peninsula.

association's governing board went on record as favoring it. A vigorous campaign will be waged to win the voters.

This proposal is the outcome of legislative demands made by many of Michigan's leading cities for a split of the Michigan sales tax.

When the state legislators united in revising the big city amendment, publicists, state-wide decided that other interests must be incorporated into the plan. A coalition would break the state ranks.

Once tentative petitions were circulated in leading cities, calling for the amendment to the voters on November 5 of the following year, the amendment to article ten of the state constitution.

By voters on Nov. 5, Michigan public schools will receive approximately $100,000,000 a year in state money. They now get $60,000,000.

The Michigan Education Association has done a neat flip-top on the question. Originally officials complained usually the tax diversification amendment; last week the apportioned to school districts on basis of the primary school census; and in addition annual grants be made school district from general funds in ratio to sales tax revenue of preceding fiscal years but not less than that borne between such grants in fiscal year ending 1946 and the preceding year's revenues.

The amendment would divert one-third of the present tax, or one cent, to the following local governments:

One-half of one cent, or 1/2 of 1 cent, of the present 2-cent tax, would be returned to cities, villages and townships on a per capita basis according to county populations.

The remaining one-half of one cent, or 1/2 of 1 cent, of the tax would be distributed to public school districts on basis of the primary school census, wherever every child, 5 to 19 years old, is counted.

As an added inducement for educators to join hands with city municipalities in the new tax diversion, the amendment was worked out to insure that public schools would continue to receive their regular annual grants "in ratio to sales tax returns of preceding fiscal years but not less than that borne between such grants in fiscal year ending 1946 and the preceding year's such revenue."

This phrasing would do justice to a Philadelphia lawyer, so we made an inquiry at the state department of public instruction as to what it actually meant.

We were informed that continuance of state aid to public schools as computed for the years 1946 and 1947, would be equivalent to 1945 per cent of the sales tax revenue. The new tax diversion, 1/2 of 1 cent, plus the qualifying clause, would freeze into the state constitution for use of the schools a total amount equal to approximately 100 per cent of sales tax revenues.

For years the Michigan Education association has conducted biennial campaigns among legislators for more state aid.

Plendings have been effective, for schools are close to the hearts of the American people and the need for more funds has not been hard to prove.

If proposal No. 2 is carried on Nov. 5, the MEA lobbying will over. The state constitution will guarantee, for years to come, a substantially higher proportion of state aid than the schools have ever received.

Between now and November the voters will have to make up their minds about several things.

One is whether the schools should have more money. Here we believe the MEA will be on firm ground. Allen Shoerfield, one of the best writers of the Detroit News, recently made a detailed study of the Michigan school problem. The MEA liked it so well that they obtained permission to reproduce the series of ten articles in a booklet which has been given wide circulation.

After interviewing scores of Michigan educators, Shoerfield came to the conclusion that public education was facing "complete collapse." Teachers are underpaid; quality of teaching staff has been deteriorating. The 15-cent mill tax limitation amendment, added to the constitution in 1932, has become a strait-jacket. Most school buildings are imperatively needed.

The other topic for consideration is whether state services such as welfare, colleges, prisons and hospitals must be curtailed if one-third of the 2-cent sales tax is to be diverted, and also whether new and added tax levies must be imposed in 1947 if state services are continued.

The $70,000,000 veterans' home proposal No. 3 on the ballot would be paid off in taxes.

If this question of new and added taxes cannot be satisfactorily answered, then the veterans' bonds and the school aid issue are due for a head-on collision in the minds of Michigan voters before Nov. 5. Voters are apt to be very about authorizing both—the veterans' bonds and more school aid—if they are convinced that increased taxes are inevitable.

AN IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT TO EVERYONE WHO WANTS Fine Silverware

GOOD NEWS! You won't have to postpone buying your silverware because of price inflation. The International Silver Company has just advised us that they contemplate NO PRICE INCREASES on their famous, nationally advertised brands in 1946.

They believe, as we do, that fine silverware should be kept within the reach of everyone; and in spite of mounting costs they are determined to keep prices down. Just for the record, that's OUR policy too.

Mary Herbert Bride Of Robert Klagstad In Ceremony Today

Ann Arbor, where the groom is a student at the University of Michigan, will be the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Klagstad, when the marriage took place at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Klagstad, of Wisconsin. His fraternity is Delta Kappa Epsilon. For the past several summers he has been coming to an Indian Lake resort with his parents, who are former well-known residents of Manistique.

The bride was married by the Rev. William W. Harvey, pastor of the Presbyterian Church of the Redemptor, in the presence of a small group of immediate family members, which included their parents, their grandmothers, Mrs. D. N. McLeod, of Newberry and Mrs. Hans Klagstad, of Detroit; the bride's aunt, Mrs. Corn Sherman and Miss Nettie McLeod, of Newberry, and her cousin, Miss Catherine Sherman, of Newberry.

The fiancee in the Herbert living room, before which they stood for the ceremony, was flanked with cedar bouquets and gladioli in deep fall tones and on the mantle were eight arranged candelabra holding tall white tapers. Fall flowers were arranged about the room and the pathway, down which the bride walked with her father, was wound with pine and cedar branches.

Two Attendants, Miss Katharine Hughes, of Manistique, was bridesmaid, and the bride's father was best man.

The bride wore a street length dress of toast-colored duvety, cut in simple lines, and a corsage of gardenias. Miss Hughes wore green wool crepe and her flowers were also gardenias. For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Herbert chose a blue and white crepe, and Mrs. Klagstad, mother of the bridegroom, wore beige with brown.

tion with the following committee in charge: Gus Nyo, chairman; Henning Mattson, R. Matchmaki, Ewald Nelson, Harry Ahlstrom, Rudolph Larson and Rev. G. A. Herbert.

A special program for which Rev. Herbert was master of ceremonies, was the feature of the celebration, and refreshments and a social hour followed. Garden flowers decorated the church altar and parlors and a three-tiered wedding cake was the table centerpiece. Mrs. Nessman was attended in a white satin wedding gown for the occasion.

Several out of town guests attended. The program was as follows: Prelude, Mrs. Harry Ahlstrom "Serenade" Schubert "Lohengrin" Rudolf Chorus "My Hope is Built on Nothing Less" Hymn No. 424, "My Hope is Built on Nothing Less" Invocation, Pastor G. A. Herbert Anthem, "The King of Love My Shepherd Is" H. R. Shelley

RETAIL MERCHANTS ORGANIZE

The first step toward adopting an organized retail program in Manistique was taken at the court house Wednesday night when approximately 25 merchants met and formed a retail association, to function under the retail division of the chamber of commerce.

Officers were elected and a board of directors named. The board of directors, convening briefly after the group meeting, agreed to hold its first formal meeting next Monday night at which various problems facing retail merchants will be studied and a report prepared for presentation to the full group the following week.

Manistique has never fully capitalized on its unique geographical location as the only major retail center between Escanaba and Sault Ste. Marie. Most of the effort toward this end has been put forward by individual merchants, not by the group as a whole. Only through organization can this be accomplished.

In addition to the task of exploiting more fully the city's retail possibilities, there are the problems of more unified opening and closing hours, holiday observances, Christmas street decorations, solicitations, besides various others which may arise from time to time. Here again the only satisfactory answers can be found in group discussion and planned action.

There is much work ahead for the retail division of the chamber. It will not solve all problems and its decisions will not pass without criticism. In the main, however, it should accomplish much good for retail merchandising in Manistique.

RUSSIAN CLAIMS GROW BIGGER

The Soviet international force has grown so ludicrous that it would be amusing if it were not loaded with so many tragic possibilities.

Russia put up a big claim for Italian colonies in Africa in order to gain real aims in the Balkans. Russia howls for the ejection of British troops from Greece—not to help Greece but to help the Soviets get in and take charge. Russia provokes little Yugoslavia to defy the United States with insulting tongue—not to help Yugoslavia but to test how far patient old Uncle Sam can be pushed. Russia belabors Spain and wants France eliminated—not to help Spain but to help the Soviets round out her block of satellite states. The Soviet government and press rant unceasingly about the imperialist, fascist aims of the United States and Britain, and holds herself up as the only "true democracy where real freedom exists." The Russians loudly, by press and radio, take full credit for the defeat of Germany and Japan, stating that while the Red army was doing this the weak allied troops were still nibbling impotently at the enemies' outer bastions.

Is it any wonder that the people of the world are growing sick and disgusted with Russian tactics, that they are even reaching a point where they are ready to deny legitimate Russian claims?

If the Soviets had set out deliberately to lose friends and spread mistrust of herself, she could not have done better. She has, in less than a year, brought herself to a point where no other people place any reliance on her word or her intent.

Report Of U. S. Employment Office Shows Rapid Return To Jobs

Returning World War II veterans are rapidly becoming re-adjusted to civilian life in Schoolcraft county, according to a recent report of the U. S. Employment Office. The report follows:
 "When first discharged, veterans are usually in need of money benefits. Readjustment allowances provided for in the G. I. Bill of Rights gives the veteran a breathing space, during which time he can look for a suitable job."
 "Readjustment allowances have been a great factor in rehabilitating the veterans. The majority of returning veterans found a need for this money for varying periods of time before finding suitable work."
 "Of the total number of returning veterans, 61.5 per cent made use of readjustment allowances when first discharged, needing money to tide them over their period of unemployment while searching for a job. The other veterans apparently returned to jobs which were waiting for them or returned to school."
 "Veterans have not abused their privileges under readjust-

BONUS IS OFFERED FOR PINE CONES

Carl Makel, District Conservation Department Forester, Buyer Here

Driving to reestablish production at the state's pine nursery, now seriously depleted because seedling was suspended in wartime, the conservation department's forestry division is offering a substantial bonus for collection of red and white pine cones.

The forestry division is particularly anxious to harvest the current good crop of white pine cones in the upper peninsula, a crop that must be harvested before the end of September. Five cents a pound will be paid enterprising boys and other white residents who bring the cones in good condition to district foresters at nine northern peninsula collection points, and northern Lower Michigan district foresters are in the market also. Some 1,500 bundles of white pine cones will be bought, if they can be obtained.

Ten cents a pound will be paid for red pine cones, which are more difficult to obtain because the seed crop is more widely scattered. Carl Makel, district forester with headquarters at Manistique, will be the cone buyer in this area.

Color and specific gravity show cone maturity. Rippe white pine cones are yellowish green with brown scale tips and when freshly picked three out of five will float in insect oil. Rippe red pine cones are deep purple with brown scale tips and three out of five of them will float in kerosene. Cones collected should be delivered promptly and kept from heating (and so spoiling or opening) by setting them out, rather than piling in heaps. No attempt should be made to remove the seed.

Resident Of Manistique Nearly 50 Years Stricken Monday Afternoon

John Vernon Coffey, 59, resident of Manistique since 1897, died suddenly Monday at his radio shop, 227 Oak street, following a brief illness. Mr. Coffey was found dead by Philip Sharkey, of Manistique, at 1:45 p. m. It is believed that he had passed away about two hours previously after suffering a stroke.

Born in Fairport, Michigan, on Dec. 25, 1887, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Coffey, Mr. Coffey had lived here continuously since he was 10 years old. He had been engaged in radio work for the past 25 years, and prior to that time was employed by a local garage.

During the first world war, Mr. Coffey served a year and a half as a naval officer at the Great Lakes, Ill., naval station. He was a member of the Manistique post of the American Legion.

Survivors are two daughters, Miss Peggy Coffey, of Chicago, and Miss Mary Alice Coffey, of Manistique; and one son, John, an army sergeant, now enroute to the United States from Seoul, Korea, where he has served for the past one and one-half
