INTERPRETING THE NEWS

In the 1946 version of that old political melodrama, "Throw out the Bosses!" Michigan voters will have a choice of two climactic endings on No. 5.

First, election of Kim Sigler, graft-busting crusader, who is the Republican nominee for Governor.

Second, election of Murray D. Van Wagener, former governor who made his reputation on petty larceny and who is now better known as a state legislator.

Each nominee is pledged to purify Lansing. That in itself is a coincidence which makes the forthcoming campaign of novel interest.

At the Democratic state convention in Lansing, Van Wagener pilloried the Republican state administration under Governor Harry F. Kelly as being ridden with graft and corruption. Here is a quotation:

"This period in our history (the three and one-half years) has been marked by one scuttal after another, by inattention and in-fidelity in high public office and by graft and corruption in high administrative offices, and in the halls of the state legislature."

And while Pontiac "Pat" was tossing bricks through Republican windows, he warned voters that "the opposition will certainly drag many a red herring across the trail..."

The same methods of vilification and defamation will be used this time for the very simple reason that attention must be directed from the manner in which the government of our state and one-half years.

The Republican "vilification," of course, would consist of counter-charges of graft and corruption. et al. The late Lieut. Governor Frank Murphy, for example, politician as such a clean sport, you know.

When it comes to throwing out the bosses, Sigler is no amateur. His primary campaign was predicated on a pledge to do just that—clean up Lansing which he depicted as a sorry cesspool of iniquity. In fact, the state convention proceeded to adopt the Sigler program by discarding such staunch Kelly followers as Secretary of State Herman H. Dignan, Auditor General John Morrison and Attorney General John Dethmers. Only D. Hale Brake, state treasurer who bucked the Michigan National bank interests in the legislature, was spared the Sigler axe.

Now it must be conceded, for the sake of the record, that none of the repudiated state officials—Dignan, Morrison and Dethmers—merits the dubious distinction of being a rascal.

But having opposed crusading Kim by virtue of having pledged their support previously to Lieut. Governor Vernon J. Brown, they thereby became candidates for the Sigler ashcan. It's just about as simple as that.

The Van Wagener slate-makers gave the Upper Peninsula two places on the ticket, Thurman B. Hoyle of Menominee was their choice for attorney general, and Marvin L. Cunn of Escanaba for auditor general.

Sigler's advisors mostly members of the state bar, favored lawyers. Only one of the six aspirants—governor, lieutenant governor, attorney general, auditor general, secretary of state and state treasurer—is not an attorney. The single non-attorney is Fred M. Alger Jr., age 39, Grand Haven, General Russell A. Alger of Civil War fame who later served as governor, United States land along Lake Huron, Au Gres to Harrisville, is now selling from $18 to $25 per foot. In eight years, 200 cottages have been built.

Former Governor Russell Chase S. Osborn and his daughter, Stellanora, were due to arrive at Mack Island, St. Mary's River, last Friday, July 12, from their winter home at Poulan, Georgia, better known as "Pessum Poke in Possum Lane."

Michigan miscellany: Lake front land along Lake Huron, Au Gres to Harrisville, is now selling from $18 to $25 per foot. In eight years, 200 cottages have been built.

Captain Charles Kauppa's 55-foot diesel boat, George F. Bagley, Park superintendent, reports that the Belle Isle Camp on the north side has been re-opened for summer tourists. Only the Rock Harbors Lodge was open last summer.

Because of the well-publicized scare of food and accommodations shortages, Michigan tourist travel early in July was 22 per cent below 1941 levels, according to E. S. Matheson, Automobile Club of Michigan.

The canal locks are now open to public inspection at Sault Ste. Marie.

Marquette railroad's new maize and blue diesel streamliners will make three round-trips daily between Grand Rapids and Detroit beginning late in July.

Elmer Jenerou Is Fined For Part In July 4 Vase Theft

Elmer Jenerou, of Manistique, pleaded guilty in justice court Monday to complicity in the theft of two vases from Hugo Marx, Hiawatha township, and was fined $25 and $5 costs and in addition sentenced to a 10-day jail term.

Jenerou, sought by police since July 5 surrendered to local authorities early Monday and was immediately arraigned before Justice of the Peace W. G. Stephens.

Involved with Jenerou in the theft, which occurred about midnight July 4, were three companions, Harold Pizzala, William Sheldon and Fritz Archambault, all of whom pleaded guilty upon arraignment in justice court last week. Pizzala, Sheldon and Archambault were each fined $10 and costs. A more severe sentence was imposed upon Jenerou because he evaded arrest.

FOR HOME CANNING PEACHES

U. S. No. 1 PRESTONE 2.13 BOX.....

TO PREVENT DARKENING OF PEACHES
After paring peaches, dip into a mild vinegar and salt solution made by adding 2 tablespoons salt and 2 tablespoons vinegar to one gallon water. Drain fruit thoroughly before proceeding.

HOW TO STRETCH YOUR CANNING SUGAR RATION:
Ordinarily you would figure one pound of sugar for each four pounds of fruit you put in. But you may vary this four-to-one canning ratio somewhat, according to the fruit you can. Sour fruits demand more than average sugar, while very juicy and sweet fruits, like peaches, take less.

USE SYRUP OR HONEY:
A light-colored, mild-flavored syrup can be used in place of some of the sugar called for in the recipe. For instance, instead of using a full cup of sugar, use only 2/3 cup and 1/3 cup of syrup. To extend your sugar ration with honey, use from 1/3 to 1/2 cup of honey, the rest sugar. But remember that various types of honey have different flavors, requiring more or less sugar. The taste of fruit combined with honey is different from fruit and sugar. Make sure your family likes that taste before you substitute honey for sugar.

CANNING WITHOUT SUGAR:
The Department of Agriculture states that some sweet fruits, like peaches, may be canned with a very small amount of sugar, contributes nothing to the "keeping" qualities of the fruit. Fruits canned without sugar are excellent in pies and puddings. Unsweetened canned fruits can be sweetened and thickened by a mixture of sugar and flour. In that way you can have more sugar to fill your canning needs.

SERVE WITH FRESH PEACHES
Serve Peaches with shortcake, Ice Cream, sliced in pies. There are dozens of different ways to enjoy these delicious peaches before or after they are canned. Come in for your supply today. Prices are modest.

We Really Like To Please People

Of course the inch-deep carpet and the extra porters are a little impractical, but we want you to know that we are doing everything possible to make your trip with Greyhound a thoroughly pleasurable travel experience.

Sometimes, though, conditions beyond our control lead to temporary inconveniences for our passengers. Reconversion difficulties, for instance, have held up delivery of repair parts, keeping many, much-needed buses in the shop. Delivery of new buses ordered months ago has likewise been delayed.

In addition, we're now seeing the greatest vacation travel rush in history. Millions of people are off to their favorite vacation points—and most of them travel during the weekend. That's why we suggest that, if possible, you plan to travel during the middle of the week. If you check with your Greyhound agent he can suggest departure dates and schedules that will make it easier for us to give you the kind of courteous, convenient service we both like best.

THE SACRED CHURCH
(By Harley H. Stump)
To him that stands afar and sees my dome
With a cold and scientific attitude;
Who sees my walls, my rooms
where the idle meet;
Who hears my organ with a skeptical air,
And scoffs at him who labors for his Lord,
I am an edifice upon the sand.
But stranger, this is not all true

of me,
And does not picture what I really am.
I am the sanctuary, true, divine,
Granted by God who dwells above,
My walls are not raised on shifting sand,
But they are founded on the rock called Christ.
God's servants stand within the pulpit there
And speak a message that is near his heart,
Which grew from out the love of Christ.
My organ peals out tones above the earth,
Which reach beyond the realm of human mind;
Like souls to souls and hearts to beating hearts,
And earthly life to greater life beyond.

Artist August Klagstad Writes Reminiscences About Early Days Here

By August Klagstad
 The Klagstad-Halvorsen Family History.

The salmon question was quite a problem. The members of the lumber company and church people fought against saloons being established in town. The company owned the entire village with the exception of one residence; consequently no saloon keeper could get away with the town as a whole. Whiskey boats would come from the lake near the shore. Then, there were lively parties on the lake shores and on the boats. But when the saloon was discovered there was "fire" in the air. The saloon was not to be had on those boats. The saloon was wild parties. The whiskey sellers were arrested and were preferred for selling liquor to Indians. A lawyer, not far from his entory from Escanaba, had been hired to defend the whiskey sellers. Amos Hill, the son of the Pease, had assembled a jury and appointed a prosecuting attorney. While they were waiting for the noted attorney, the clerk came into the room and told the judge and people not to be afraid of this noted lawyer. He is nothing but a bag of tricks. But his powerful oratory set free the members of the jury and the prisoner. He said he would "stick it out" till freezes over before he'd "quit." The residence not needed by the company was sold, then a grocery store and other business—started this property.

One of the outstanding events in Manistique was the appearance of the first negro, George Washington Bowers. Most of the inhabitants had never seen a negro before. People would rush out of their houses to see this curiosity. He realized his importance and would give them a show by the finest strut and cake roll possible. He was the essence of raffishness and everything he did was graceful. My work in the mill was close to his and I often noted his movements. He handed these slabs and edgings with ease and skill, especially if there were visitors in the mill. He was at the cutting end of the edging when the feeder noticed him putting on an act, the boards would fall faster and faster, much to pleasure with Prince Albert coat, silk top hat and cane. When the first band was organized, he managed to become a member and was assigned to the big bass. When he put his uniform on, he said "Oh, if my folks could see me now." He was a striking figure in his uniform, carried himself well as he had gone through military exercises in Norway. In church, he had the job of pumping the organ which was located in the gallery, back of the audience. He took his job seriously, but when the sermon was on, he often took a nap. "We can excuse him, because sermons in those days were long. I know of one, lasting one hour."

Another interesting character was a Mr. Cole. We nicknamed him "Old King Cole," but instead of his bow, he had his mouth full of chewing tobacco. He could tell some big stories and he would emphasize the main point in his story by spitting out his wad into a large can used for that purpose. Of course, he lived alone. It was in a small shack that could be carried away. On Halloween, the "Cutups" of the town planned to carry "King Cole" and his shack over to the front of the store. But he awoke before they got him to the store, so he and his shack were dropped in the middle of the street and the culprits ran away.

Jail Population Shows Increase

Who said Manistique was a law abiding community? Records for the month of June show that the average daily incarceration total was 12, and during several months early this year it was higher than that—a daily prisoner average of 17.
The figures are from the Michigan Sheriff's Association.

Treasury Uses Cash
For Debt Reduction

Cuts in Federal debt, the first in years, are being made from large reserves of cash built up through Treasury over-borrowing, rather than from a surplus of government income over expenditures.
The redemption of more than $10,000,000,000 in national debt this year, dropping the debt total to around $295,000,000,000, merely has drawn upon Treasury bank balances.
The Treasury made a practice of carrying extraordinarily large reserves of cash during the height of war spending and borrowing. With Friday and on Sunday evening, July 28, there will be no evening service Sunday, July 21.
A joint picnic of the Bethel Baptist church and the Calvary Baptist church of Escanaba will be held Sunday at Pioneer Trail park in Escanaba. The Rev. Ericson will be the speaker.

Flotsam And Jetsam

falsely accused of treason and convicted by a court which was mockery of human justice. Those who believed as Mihalovich did and there must be many that sands in Yugoslavia—have been destroyed by Soviet brutality. The memory of the martyr Mihalovich will burn fiercely in the hearts of Yugoslav patriots in the years to come, and communism will probably pay a terrible price for this act of colossal stupidity.
Enjoy the woodland areas to the utmost—and leave them in the same condition you found them—growing and green—beautiful, entrancing. Stamp out woodcut fires.
The U. S. Forest Service estimates there are still 2 1/2 million acres of land in the National Forests in need of planting.
