THANKSGIVING UNION SERVICE IS WEDNESDAY

Five Churches Join For Worship; Others Planning Own Services

Pope of the Protestant churches of Manistique will unite for a Thanksgiving service, it was announced this week by the Rev. G. A. Herbert, president of the Manistique Ministerial association. Two other Protestant churches, the Zion Lutheran and St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran, will have their own services, and masses will be at the usual times at St. Francis de Sales Catholic church. The Free Methodist are having revival meetings this week and they, too, will have a Thanksgiving service of their own. The union service will be at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday at the First Baptist church. St. Peter's will have a 7:30 service on Wednesday evening and the Zion Lutherans will worship at 10:30 a. m. Thanksgiving Day. Masses at the Catholic church are at 6:30 and 8:00 o'clock.

A Real Thanksgiving...

Should be more than turkey and trimmings. On this Thanksgiving Day of 1948, every American may well count the blessings he enjoys. As we consider the lengthening shadows cast again over the face of Europe so soon after the holocaust of war, we should humbly give thanks to God that we are free, and that our children will continue to live in freedom.

PARKING METER BIDS APPROVED BY COUNCILMEN

First Step Taken Toward Installation Of Meters In Manistique

The Manistique city council, at a regular meeting Monday evening, took the first step toward the installation of parking meters in Manistique. After discussing the matter the council instructed the city clerk to advertise for bids on parking meters. All bids must be in the hands of the city clerk not later than January 15, 1949. During the past two months two parking meter firms demonstrated meters to the council, each firm through its representative explaining the advantages of a parking meter program as a solution to the problem of parking in congested business areas. Parking meters may be acquired and installed without any cash outlay by the city. Earnings from the meters pay for them. They are usually installed on a trial basis, and may be taken out after a year if they prove unsatisfactory.

Trio Fined For Forced Car Search

Indianapolis Men, Ordered Out Of Automobile At Gunpoint, Complainants

A forced search, at gunpoint, of the car of two Indianapolis, Ind., hunters brought fines of $50 and $5 each for Louis Miner and Sam Stewart, of Detroit, and Jake "Doc" Vatcher, proprietor of the Alhambra camp in the Thunder Lake area last week. The complainants in the case were Lloyd Pruitt and Irvin Small, who reported to state police that they were passing the road leading to the Alhambra camp last Thursday night when they were confronted by a group of armed men who ordered them to stop. Small, who was driving, refused at first but when someone shot over the car he did so. They were then told to get out of the car with the hands above their heads and to hand over the keys to the rear compartment. After a search had been made of the back of the car, the two men were allowed to go, one of the men who accosted them explaining that they had been looking for a stolen rifle.

Council Rejects Hospital Contribution; Fear Action Will Block Township Gifts

Vote Comes As Surprise; City Attorney Says Donation Is Illegal

For the second time in two weeks the Manistique city council has turned thumbs down on a contribution to the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital. Members of the council at a regular meeting Monday evening declared that they could see no way in which the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital would be a "real ally," A. J. Cayia, chairman of the hospital's board of trustees, said Tuesday afternoon. "The city's refusal to approve a contribution is a serious matter. It is a serious matter because any chance we may have had to raise the funds of which we were short. Townships are forced now to do the same thing, and there is no way in which we can go for that seven per cent we lack. As far as I am concerned, the project is definitely finished."

CHORAL CLUB GIVING CHRISTMAS CARDS

Holiday Carols, Other Selections On Program In Auditorium Dec. 12

A varied program of Christmas music will be presented by the Manistique Choral Club on Sunday evening, December 12, at the school auditorium. Several familiar carols will be sung, including "O Come Ye Faithful," "O Little Town of Bethlehem," "Away in a Manger," "Silent Night," "Good King Wenceslas," "Here We Come a-Wailing and a-Dancing," and "The First Nowell" arranged by Roy Ringgold and included in Fred Warner's presentation. Some of the less familiar selections included in the program are "That Child is Mine," an old English carol, "The Sleep of the Child Jesus," an old French noel, "O Come, O Come, Emmanuel," a Russian version, "I Wandered as a Wanderer," an Appalachian carol, "Hark Ye, 'Tis Mary," and "Carol of the Bells," a Ukrainian carol. The selections to be sung from "The Messiah" include "And the Word of the Lord," "Behold the Lamb of God," "Surely He Hath Done Our Gifts," and "Hallelujah."

NORTHWOODS CLUB LEVELLED BY FIRE

Fifty-two Room Resort Hotel Complete Loss; No One Injured

The Great Northwoods club, 52-room resort hotel on Murphy Lake, near Steden, was completely destroyed in a fire of unknown origin which swept the log and frame structure early Thursday evening. Damage was estimated at between $35,000 and $50,000. Deer hunters, who had filled the lodge to capacity, were at a banquet in the main dining room when the fire was discovered at about 7 o'clock. The blaze spread so rapidly that few of them were able to save their luggage and other possessions. The Manistique fire department was summoned to the scene from the nearest telephone—15 miles from the resort—but before firefighters could reach the site the building was destroyed. Cabins surrounding the main lodge were saved. It is believed the fire broke out in the kitchen, but its origin has not been determined. One of the oldest in the vicinity, was owned by Lew W. Cline.

Mrs. Martinson To Be Women's Club Speaker Tuesday

Figures On Cost Of Operation Will Be Studied; Funds Being Sought

The reopening of the Manistique Youth Center was a topic of discussion at the regular meeting of the city council Monday night following the reading of a letter from Mrs. E. T. Lundstrom to the city recreation commission on the subject. Mrs. Lundstrom, writing as chairman of the civic committee of the Manistique Women's Club, requested the recreation board to take what steps it could to obtain funds for reopening the center. The council instructed the recreation commission to prepare a statement of youth center operating costs for presentation at the next council session. The Youth Center, started during the war as a recreation spot for the city's teenage group, proved very popular. Its operation is directed by the Manistique Youth Council, and funds for it were raised by public subscription. Before the recreation was started, the Youth Council acquired title to the old Middlebrook store building on the corner of Deer and North Houghton, and converted it into a center for juvenile recreation, with ping pong tables, a checkered and pool tables, a coker bar and a dance floor. Boy Scouting On Upward Trend In City, Says Sobel

Boy Scouting is on the upward move in Manistique, the Rev. Paul Sobel, Scout commissioner, reported Tuesday. Two troops are already going at a good pace and prospects for the organization of another one are very hopeful, the commissioner said. Troop 461, which is sponsored by the Rotary club, has its full program well underway and Ben Karwowski, Scoutmaster, says initiations are approximately 30 boys on 461's roster, and besides having regular weekly meetings the group plans several out-door activities which will place emphasis on the "out" in Scouting. Troop 462, a newer troop under the sponsorship of the First Baptist Men's Brotherhood, has grown from an original membership of eight boys to 22. John Vierdoner is Scoutmaster and Joe McDonough, whose specialty is as an outdoor door of Scouting, is assistant Scoutmaster.

Plan To Revitalize Cubbing In Motion; Next Meeting Dec. 1

In an effort to revitalize the Cub Scout Pack sponsored by the Men's Club of the First Methodist church, meetings were held in the basement of the Methodist church last Wednesday evening. The meeting was well attended by interested parents who expressed an enthusiastic desire to maintain Cubbing in Manistique. Included in the evening's program were two films "Cubbing in the Home" and "Cubbing in the Community," a talk by Rev. Paul Sobel, Scout commissioner, on "Why We Need Parents in Cubbing," the presentation of the Cubbing program by the district executive, Ed Kot, an appropriate welcome to the representative, the Rev. Mr. Safran, and the introduction of the members. Advertisers are urged to contact the Men's Club of the First Methodist church for more information. Those on the program committee are: William Mueller, Roger Smith, Paul Hanauer, and Robert Richards.

Deer Season Here Still Without Any Shooting Mishaps

No gun accidents have yet occurred here in the current deer hunting season, according to a late report from the Michigan state police. Many hunters in this area have been successful, both local nippers and those from downstate who spent part of the season in hunting camps in the county. Snow this week was an aid to these still in camp. The two-week annual deer hunt will end next Tuesday.

COUNCILMEN DEFER TWO APPOINTMENTS

New Member Of Recreation Commission, New Section Will Be Named

Action on making two appointments was deferred at the regular meeting of the city council Monday night. Mayor Walter Burns said that he was delaying the appointment of a successor to John Nee on the city recreation commission until other members of the council made some recommendations. He suggested, however, that a resident of a nearby township should be given the appointment. Nee, who served on the board for about a year, resigned some time ago when he accepted employment out of the city. Action also was deferred on naming a new section for the city. Several applications for the job have been received, it was stated by Alex Robertson, city clerk and acting city manager. Mayor Burns, the former section, resigned at the meeting of the council two weeks ago. The council also decided to defer action on increasing the fees for weighing on the city scales. The city clerk, however, was instructed to prepare a report showing income and costs for the city scales for presentation at the next meeting.

BANQUET FOR ELKS SONGS CANCELLED

Remodeling Program Not Far Enough Advanced To Permit Serving

The banquet for the Elks initiation program on Wednesday evening, December 1, has been cancelled. It was announced Tuesday by Don McPhail, exalted ruler of the lodge. Cancellation of the banquet was necessary because the remodeling program will not be enough advanced to permit serving. The dinner had been scheduled for 6:30 o'clock. The regular initiation program and lodge inspection by District Deputy George Hawke, of Marquette, will be held, however. The initiation meeting is scheduled for about 8 o'clock. The largest class in the history of the lodge, 12 in number, will be initiated. All candidates for initiation are requested to be at the Temple at 7:30 o'clock. Sobel's exalted ruler of the lodge will preside at the initiation.

"God's Invasion Army" Will Conduct Meetings In City

"Like a mighty army moves on, members of this Army, all the church of God" is more than just a line of a well-known hymn but the theme of a new religious movement, the "God's Invasion Army" which will arrive in Manistique Monday evening for a week's stay. To them it is a reality. Hailing from large and small cities, towns and villages as well as from the rural areas in this country and in Canada, the young people have offered one year of their lives in full-time Christian work. Their headquarters here will be at the Bethel Baptist church. Conscious of the youth problem in the nation and the breakdown of moral standards, usual of a resort, one of the members of the "God's Invasion Army" made up of young people from all walks of life, are deeply concerned with conditions today. Making Sacrifice. "It is the youth of the nation, that we must sacrifice in order to save and defend our country," they believe. "We are willing to sacrifice our time to bring peace and order to the world instead of destruction." They will be in Manistique Monday evening for a week's stay. FARMERS URGED TO SEND IN BALLOTS

Privilege Of Voting Should Be Used In Naming Committee, Says Stauffer

Through the committee election system, all farmers have a voice in the administration of the national farm programs for agricultural conservation, price support, commodity loans, crop insurance, etc. It was emphasized Thursday by Norman Stauffer, chairman of the Schoolcraft County AAA committee, in urging farmers to vote in committee elections. "The voice farmers have in their vote in the committee elections and all Schoolcraft county farmers who are eligible are urged to vote in the committee elections for committee members and for delegate candidates to the county AAA convention," Stauffer said. The county convention for 1948 will be held at the county convention. Ballots have now been mailed

DEBATERS WIN FOUR IN FIRST TOURNEY

High School Teams Compete In Preliminary Event At Jshpening

Manistique high school debaters won four out of five debates in a preliminary tournament at Jshpening Saturday. It was the first place in the tournament. Ten schools competed out of an original 14 entries, a snowstorm prevented four of them from reaching Manistique's affirmative team composed of Joan Sheehan and Margo Viergreen, two debaters who last week, and the negative team, whose members are Lael Richards and Dan Van Eyck, won both their debates. The subject for debate this year is "It is our duty to support the United Nations be revised now into a federal world government." The next preliminary tournament will be at Kingsport on Dec. 11. Finals are at Marquette Jan. 6 and 7.

Cayia Is Speaker At Lions Meeting

A. J. Cayia, chairman of the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital board of trustees, whose project has been a leading factor in its progress to date, was to speak on the present status of the hospital at Tuesday night's meeting of the Lions club. Because all sources of funds for the hospital have been exhausted, and $40,000 still is needed, indications were the picture was not so rosy as the Lions would like to be optimistic. Sobel will be an optimistic one.

Married And Orchestra To Play At Elks Ball

Television on the Farm

Buck Child's home has become much more popular ever since he got that television set—one of the few sets in our town, outside of Andy's Garden Tavern.

Not only do the kids stay home nights, but the neighbors drop in to see whatever's being televised. And Buck and the missus always make them welcome, with a mellow glass of beer or ale (with cider and cookies for the youngsters).

While I guess everyone admits that television still has far to go, it's not hard to see that it will some day be as much a part of American home and farm life as the temperate glass of beer that Buck serves, and the hospitality that goes with it.

And from where I sit, anything that adds to gracious living in America—brings folks together for temperate, quiet entertainment—is a boon to this home-loving land of ours. (We're thinking of buying a television set ourselves!)

Four Buildings Of Detroit Arsenal Still Standing

Four buildings of the Detroit Arsenal which once furnished war supplies for the United States to fight Indians in the Northwest still stand in Dearborn.

Finished in 1877, the arsenal was in use until 1872, according to information in the Michigan Historical Collections at the University of Michigan.

The arsenal was located on the road to Chicago and close to the Rouge River for convenience of transportation. The 12-foot high, 20-inch thick walls of the arsenal depot enclosed 11 brick buildings about a central square. Each wall was 360 feet long.

Bricks for the walls and buildings were made by hand on what was known as the Dort farm. They were carried up the Rouge River on a scow and landed at an old dock located about one-half mile west of the present River Rouge bridge on Michigan Avenue.

Started Land Boom Construction of the arsenal touched off the first land boom in that immediate area as speculators reasoned that an important city would rise about it.

The commandant's headquarters is one of the buildings still standing. In excellent condition, it is at the corner of Monroe and Michigan Avenues and now is used as Dearborn Police Precinct station number two. The place where the old arsenal walls joined the headquarters can be seen on the southwest and southeast corners of the building.

The former sutler's shop or commissary, the arsenal magazine and a building where cannon and cartridges were stored are the other buildings remaining. The sutler's shop is on the northeast corner of Garrison and Monroe streets. The magazine where powder and shells were kept, is on Brady street near Garrison. Now a private residence, its walls are three to four feet thick. The last building is a florist's shop.

Trained Soldiers During the Civil War soldiers were recruited and trained at the arsenal. After the war a few soldiers were stationed there for guard duty and to work the 235 acre arsenal farm nearby.

As the frontier rapidly moved westward, need for the arsenal quickly diminished. Its commandant, Major W. Todd, received orders in 1872 to end all activity there. In 1877 much of the property was sold at public auction and from time to time other parcels were sold or deeded to the local government.

The commandant's headquarters was the last arsenal property to be disposed of. In 1910 it was sold to Dearborn for $250. Believing that this 111-year-old building can best serve the community as a historical museum, the Dearborn Historical Commission now is endeavoring to acquire it for that purpose.

Liquid Gas Danger

You can expect a fire or explosion if you haven't adopted vital safety precautions in using liquidified gas for heating and cooking process, according to University of Wyoming. Because the liquidified gases such as butane, propane or mixtures of them are heavier than air, they build up critically dangerous amounts if a leak occurs. Such accumulations develop particularly in small, poorly ventilated areas—a pit for the floor-urnance type of heating unit under a house that has no basement, for example. Being heavier than air, this liquidified gas settles under and around the burner, and the burner itself, a spark or a lighted match may set off an explosion and start a fire. Floor furnaces are satisfactory in houses with basements where gas leaks can be detected before the entire basement becomes filled.

STORY TO BE TOLD AN AMERICAN CHILD

A LONG, LONG time ago, in a land way across the Atlantic Ocean, there were some people called the Pilgrims.

These people lived under a wicked king who wouldn't let them do what they wanted to do. They wanted to worship God in their own way, and he wouldn't let them.

So they got together in each other's houses, and they locked the doors, and they talked—so that no one outside would hear them—about what they ought to do. And they decided to sail in a ship to the other side of the world.

They decided to sail to America. After many weeks on the ocean, they arrived on strange shores. The woods were all about them and not even the promise of food. Yet they got down on their knees and thanked God that they were safe.

The men went into the woods and cut down trees and built homes. Some of them were killed by the Indians. So they set up guards to protect them from the Indians while they planted seeds for food for their wives and their children and themselves to eat.

Then the winter came, and it got cold, and many of them got sick and died. But the others carried on. And in the spring they planted again. All the time they had to fight off the Indians to protect themselves.

That year, when the harvest was in, they all got together and knelt on their knees and thanked God for being so good to them. They had their troubles, but at least they had their freedom—and that was why they thanked God. For they felt that nothing was better than freedom—and nothing is.

It's been a long time since the Pilgrims first came here. But every fall we still have Thanksgiving. For no matter what happens—whether we have war, or sickness, or trouble of any kind—just like the Pilgrims, we can still do what we want to do here in America. We still have freedom.

And that's why we have Thanksgiving here in America. Nobody anywhere else in the world has Thanksgiving. For nobody anywhere else in the world has quite what we have here in America.

Some day maybe everywhere in the world they'll have Thanksgiving. Because maybe some day, everywhere else in the world, they'll have what we have here in America.

So let's all of us, right now, not only thank God for what we have, but pray to Him that everybody, everywhere else in the world, can some day be just as lucky as we are.

Don't you think we ought to?

Freedom is everybody's job

INTERPRETS THE NEWS

LANSING—Michigan's divided house in state government is going to play in an election before a second new controversy in 1949. While Governor-Elect G. Mennen Williams has reportedly maintained he could get along with the Republican legislature better than did Kim Sigler, the fact remains that Williams and the legislature will be miles apart on some issues. Here are a few of them, as indicated by campaign statements of the Democratic governor-elect.

Outright repeal of the Donine-Tripp labor relations act which requires a majority vote of all employees in an election before a strike can be called. The authors of this measure—Senator G. Woodworth Donine of Vandalia and Senator Harold D. Tripp of Allegan—were re-elected by their respective districts.

Increase in unemployment compensation. The payments were adjusted by the legislature in 1947. A further increase is proposed by Williams.

Increase in old age and mothers' pension. The badly inflated dollar with its lowered purchasing power is causing hardships among pensioners. The legislature's attitude on this issue may be influenced, in part, by the prospective state deficit under the 1946 sales tax amendment.

Public housing by municipalities through bond issues retired by rents.

Fair employment practices act modeled after the New York law which was intended to outlaw racial or religious discrimination in private employment.

Billing program to alleviate overcrowding in mental institutions. Such a program was inaugurated by Governor Harry F. Kelly. Again how is Michigan to finance these improvements, conceded by everyone to be badly needed?

Williams insisted that Michigan lacks a "long range" program of highway improvement, and that tourists who traveled over dusty roads "would never return to Michigan." This criticism points to a Democratic effort to wrest the state highway department from Republican control at the 1949 spring election. It also revivies the 1948 issue of whether the gasoline tax should be boosted to make possible new roads.

If the Nov. 23 majority vote for a constitutional convention meets legal tests, the door would be opened to overhauling of the state's taxation system with the possibility of a state income tax, sealed to "soak the rich." The new problems are many.

Buy Christmas Seals

The age-old attempt of children to catch a glimpse of Santa Claus on Christmas Eve inspired the picture on the 1948 Christmas Seals which will be arriving in thousands of homes throughout Schoolcraft county in late November, according to Theodore J. Worle, executive secretary, Michigan Tuberculosis Association.

This year's Seal features a small blond-haired boy in red flannel pajamas, sitting on the floor, hands clasped about his knees, and gazing into a blazing fireplace over which three empty stockings hang.

Burry Bart, of South Kent, Connecticut, well-known American artist and illustrator, painted the picture after he had watched his young nephew hurry silently down stairs one Christmas Eve and set up his vigil near the fireplace.

Conserving Land and Life

"When we have learned to conserve the land and, in our use of it, handle every unit and every parcel in accordance with its capacity for use, we shall have contributed most fully to the benefit of our nation's wildlife. For when all is said and done, it is a home that wildlife needs above all else: a place to feed, hide, raise its young, sleep, play and seek shelter. The way we manage the land determines whether wildlife shall have a place. When we have accumulated land conservation, we shall have gone a long way toward achieving wildlife conservation." — E. H. Grauman in the Land and Wildlife.

Thanks to many people for many things

THIS IS THE SEASON OF THANKSGIVING . . .

And there is much for which we can all be thankful in this great country of ours.

Certainly we are thankful for a bountiful harvest of grain and corn, for a high level of production and employment, for a standard of living that is the envy of the world.

Most of all, perhaps, we are grateful for our American heritage . . . freedom of opportunity, freedom of choice, freedom to think and worship according to our own beliefs.

We Feel as a Chevrolet dealer it is an appropriate time to convey our sincere appreciation to the people of this community for their loyalty, patience and understanding.

For Despite Chevrolet's production of more cars and trucks during 1948 than any other manufacturer there is still a long "waiting list" for America's most-wanted cars and trucks.

Chevrolet is doing everything within its power to maintain and increase production. Meantime, we would like to express our thanks . . .

Thanks to Buyers and Prospective Buyers of New Chevrolets for your generous recognition of the honest value built into this first-choice car in the low-priced field. More people have bought Chevrolet cars and trucks, during the eighteen-year period from 1931 to date, than have bought the cars and trucks of any other manufacturer.

Thanks to Those Who Are Waiting for Orders to be Filled for your patience and understanding. You can be sure we are doing our best to treat all customers fairly . . . doing our best to speed the day when we can give you the good news, "Your waiting days are over!"

Thanks to Service Customers for the opportunity to keep your present cars in safe driving condition. We have tried to serve you well, and appreciate your patronage.

Thanks to all whose friendship and favor have helped maintain Chevrolet's leadership . . .

Thanks for your patronage which has made
