INTERPRETING THE NEWS

HOSTER Situated along the shaded shores of Pine Lake, 12 miles north of Kalamazoo and adjacent to this Barry County village is one of the most unique educational institutions for war veterans in the entire United States.

We refer to the Michigan Veterans' Vocational School, operated by the State of Michigan and administered by the College of Education at Kalamazoo.

We arrived at the Pine Lake school, as it is generally called, just as dinner was being served in the long administration building.

Windows of the dining hall overlook the sky-blue waters of Pine Lake. The scene is that of a summer resort rather than a college campus. In front of the main building is a bathing beach. Boats are tied up to a wood pier. A float with diving board is moored in deep water.

After dinner the veterans lounge about. Some go swimming. It is a twilight time for relaxation. A busload of girls from Kalamazoo is due to arrive at 9 p. m. for joke-box dancing and eats.

"And what kind of courses are offered at this bit of paradise? you ask.

Commander H. W. Lawson, director, places emphasis upon vocational training—the teaching of useful trades. These include business education, home appliances repair, machine and architectural drafting, machine shop, printing, radio and electrical repair, and sewing and check repair.

Modern tools are provided for class instruction. The printing department, in which we were personally interested, has a modern typesetting machine and a full line of printing equipment. Kenneth Ross, printing instructor, served in the Canadian Air Force.

We became interested in the story of "Ike" Permelia, a Negro double amputee.

"Ike" served in the Signal Corps for five years. While on combat duty in Germany, he lost both hands. Percy Jones, general hospital equipped him with mechanical fingers, and "Ike" became a student at Pine Lake in February.

One of three Negro veterans out of nearly 100 at Pine Lake, "Ike" is popular with his fellows. He never asks for sympathy, never whimpers. Although he gets $300 a month for his because of his disability, "Ike" wants to live a useful life and do his part. He has plenty of puts.

We admire his courage and his cheerful outlook. He is a real American.

Travel Notes: A "must" in our trailer kitchen pantry is a Charlotte, N.C., smoked lake fish canned by George LaBlanc, Jr.

George distributed samples at the newspaper editors' outing June 26-27. We promptly ordered a case.

The product is lake mullit, or sucker to old-timers. The smoked flavor is similar to tuna or salmon.
As you drive north on US-31 leaving Beulah, is a new industry, featuring delicious frozen piecherries and apple. "Pet-Ritz," on Orchard Hill, is the result of a Beulah cherry pie recipe developed by the mother of Althea Kraker, until recently a co-ed at Michigan State College. Althea earned vacation money selling cherry pies to Beulah tourists. The pies inspired her husband, Petritz, to go into business. Frozen pies, by the truckload, are now delivered to frozen-food dealers and they are really something "out of this world!"

Scenes we witnessed on two succeeding Saturday nights:

Castle Park, exclusive summer colony on Lake Michigan at Holland. A marvelous resort for parents with children and with managed. Meals at ry-green Castle Inn.

Meals at ry-green Castle Inn.
Trained supervisors for youngsters at beach. Horse-back riding, tennis, golf. Dancing on cement circles high above lake. Sons and mothers, daughters and fathers, all join in "grand march." Everyone is happy.

Lighthouse Park, summer trailer colony on Lake Huron at Port Huron. A miniature "city" run by "Harney" Cook, Canadian-born fisherman. Flowers, lawn. Trailer fee, $4.00 week, netted profit in 1947. Pavilion for dancing. Everyone is happy.

It's a good world, and don't forget it.

"Ike" Permelia, of Battle Creek, a World War II veteran who lost both hands in combat, is learning how to operate a typesetting machine at the Michigan Veterans' Vocational School, north of Kalamazoo at Pine Lake. "Ike" wants to be a printer and earn good steady wages. The printing department with training facilities for 50 students is sponsored by the Michigan Press Association, Inc.

County Receiving
$10,263 As Share
Of Weight Tax

Vouchers for the return of the second quarter of 1948 weight tax collections to the counties of the state, amounting to $3,000,287.16, have been prepared and sent to the Auditor General's office for payment, Highway Commissioner Charles M. Zwozga reports.

All of the weight tax money collected by the state is returned to the counties for use on local roads and streets. The counties distribute a portion of this money to the cities and incorporated villages. Schoolcraft county will receive $10,263.07.

The second quarter payment will make a total of $29,824,011.02 collected and returned in weight tax this year, $26,761,223.87 having been returned during the first quarter.

This total for the first two quarters of this year is $5,476,993.27 more than the $24,347,017.76 collected and returned in the first two quarters of 1947.

The increase in weight tax collected this year over the first two quarters of last year is due largely to the fact owners of commercial trucks and trailers were required to buy full-year license plates before March 1, whereas in 1947 they had the option of buying half-year plates which many of them did.

Following are the amounts to be distributed to the various appropriated counties in second quarter weight tax returns:

Table with 2 columns: County, Amounts. Lists counties like Alger, Baraga, Chippewa, Delta, Dickinson, Emmet, Genesee, Houghton, Iron, Keweenaw, Mackinac, Marquette, Menominee, Ontonagon, Schoolcraft with their respective amounts.

FROM Atlantic to Pacific, it's simply terrific.

Not in a generation — maybe not in two — has any single improvement in automobiles caused the talk or met the instant approval that has greeted this new drive.

You see the reason in your first five minutes behind a Dynaflow wheel.

You sense that this is not merely an improvement on old ways, but a whole new system of transferring power from your engine to the rear wheels.

For the first time, oil does everything — replaces the friction clutch, eliminates the usual forward gears, even actuates the mechanism by which you change from Driving range to emergency Low and Reverse.

You feel the result in new smoothness that's like riding a mighty tide of flowing oil.

You move from standstill to road speed in one smooth unbroken sweep of power, quick and effortless in getaway and instantly responsive at speed.

You stop by pressing the foot-brake — go again by feeding gas.
Once you've set the selector lever, you need not touch it again in normal driving until you're ready to park or back up.

You'll say so too — once you

UNIVERSITY TO LOAN PRINTS TO SCHOOLS

Reproductions of Great Paintings To Be Available During Coming Year

Reproductions of great paintings will be loaned by the University of Michigan to rural and village schools throughout the state during the coming school year.

Success of a loan project in the Saginaw area during the past school year has prompted a much expanded program by the University's Extension Service and the Museum of Art.

One hundred reproductions of some of the world's finest paintings have been purchased and are now on display until the middle of August in the Museum of Art, located in Alumni Memorial hall on the campus.

Ernest J. Somp, director of the extension service has issued a special invitation to members of the Michigan Rural Teachers association and other rural teachers to view the reproductions between August 9 and 12.

At the same time, Michael Church, director of the university's extension center at Saginaw and originator of the idea of loaning prints to the smaller schools, will preview movies dealing with art subjects.

Church, working with the Museum of Art last winter, started a program of loaning a few of the Museum's paintings to schools in the Saginaw area. Interest of the pupils, plus the fact that the paintings received such excellent care while on loan, prompted the expansion of the idea.

One third of the 100 reproductions to be loaned out on a weekly basis are the works of the old masters, another third are by modern European artists and another third are American paintings.

The service agency which will handle the actual shipment of the reproductions to the schools will be the Audio-Visual Education Center of the university, at 131 North Hall.

Baptist Women's House Party Here Is Big Success

The women's "house party" of the Marquette Association of Michigan Baptists held last Wednesday and Thursday at Sunset beach was a distinct success and plans are being made to hold it again next year.

It was reported this week by the Rev. William Schober, pastor of the local First Baptist church. The affair was directed by Mrs. Sam Penstey and Mrs. Harry Penstey.

State officers who spoke at the sessions were Mrs. F. E. Scott, president of the Women's Missionary society; Mrs. W. H. Bryson, who spoke on White Cross work; Mrs. R. W. Ackley, in charge of literature and Miss Mary Kato, literature missionary with the Girls' Memorial Christian Center. All are from Detroit.

Four churches were represented at the two-day meeting—Sunset Beach, Kingsford, Marquette and Manistique.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Eck are the parents of a son, weighing seven pounds and 13 ounces, born last Thursday at the Shaw hospital. The baby has been named David Arthur.

Fred G. Stevenson, consultant in leadership training, encountered many requests for such a "pocket primer" while he was conducting Extension Service classes in Ann Arbor, Bay City, Flint, Grand Rapids, Jackson, Port Huron, Pontiac, Tawas and Ponton last winter.

The 40-page booklet has a conveniently thumb indexed by subject matter for quick reference. Inquiries should be addressed to Fred G. Stevenson, 107 Haven Hall, University of Michigan.

Polio Research Reveals Humans Carry Disease

Present evidence indicates humans being the main transmitters of polio, according to research at the University of Michigan's School of Public Health.

But three researchers, Dr. Thomas Francis, who is chairman of the Department of Epidemiology, and Drs. Gordon C. Brown and Lawrence R. Fenner, admit that the seasonal occurrence of epidemics readily suggests other ways in which the disease could be spread.

"One cannot rule out weather conditions, animals and insects," Dr. Francis asserted acting as spokesman for the trio. "But there is more evidence that men, women and children are the main reservoir and participants in the transmission of the disease."

"Although polio virus has been found on flies, the number of times it has been found is small," Dr. Francis pointed out. The doctors have found it is possible for flies to pick up the virus from infected human excreta and that the virus could be recovered from the flies for several hours afterwards.

But those flies were blowflies, prevalent in areas containing refuse, the researchers point out, with evidence to date not seriously incriminating the housefly, at least in the northern states.

"A high rate of polio already has been reported in Texas, North Carolina, California and the Northwest," Dr. Francis said. He joined with his research colleagues in suggesting that the following simple health rules be followed: Don't get over-tired or chilled, avoid crowds, be as clean as possible, and see your doctor at once if you do not feel well."

Litigation In Holbein Estate Matter Ended

The estates of George E. and Mary L. Holbein, subject of considerable litigation in probate and circuit courts during recent months, have now been settled, records of the probate court reveal.

A controversy in the Mary L. Holbein estate, valued at about $12,400, (including the family residence on Range street), arose when Erma McAllister, Elizabeth Jones and Mildred Rine, nieces of Mrs. Holbein residing in Ohio, presented a claim against her estate for $4,840.65 based on an alleged contract made in 1927 between Mrs. Holbein and her two brothers, George and Henry Reidinger.

Mrs. Erroll B. Abell, daughter of the Holbeins who now resides in Manistique, opposed the claim and appealed the probate court decision to circuit court. Following a hearing in circuit court in June, Circuit Judge Herbert Rannels returned the claim to the probate court under a settlement whereby the three Ohio nieces signed over the interest in the Mary L. Holbein estate to Mrs. Abell for $5,830.74. This sum has now been paid.

The probate court later entered an order awarding Mrs. Abell the entire balance of her mother's estate. This order also released the family home, previously willed to Mrs. Abell by her father, and the contents including the library, furniture and antiques of the late George E. Holbein, a former publisher of the Pioneer-Tribune. It also gave all other property, both real and personal, owned by Mrs. Holbein, to Mrs. Abell.

Mrs. Abell revealed this week that the litigation in the Holbein estate ending over a period of 90 years, also embraces the several estates of the Reidinger family in Ohio. A number of highly technical legal questions stemming from the old German custom of making outright grants of real estate through inheritance to male members of the family arose. Women beneficiaries received only life interest, and upon their death this interest reverted to the male lineage.

All of the attorneys of Manistique and law firms in Ravenna, Ohio, Detroit and Chicago were involved in the Holbein estate litigation.

Over $20,000 In Premiums To Be Given At U. P. Fair

More than $20,000 will be offered in premiums for exhibitors at the Upper Peninsula State Fair in Escanaba Aug. 17-22, Harold P. Lindsay, secretary-manager, has announced.

A total of $17,356 was offered in premiums and prizes at the U. P. State Fair in 1933, and these have been increased this year by additions to several exhibit departments.

A new classification has been added in the fair cattle department for four-year-olds so that these cows, no longer will be required to compete with older animals.

In addition the double entry plan has been instituted for the first time this year. Under this system an exhibitor may enter two heads of cattle in the same classification and qualify for two prizes in that classification. The only requirement is that there must be competition in the class to qualify for more than one award.

The horse, sheep and swine departments at the fair this year have been opened to unrestricted competition. Dairy and beef cattle, however, will continue to be restricted to upper peninsula entries.

Increased awards also are offered in the horse pulling contests and special provisions are being made for the exhibiting of county 4-H club herds.

CHATHAM STATION PROGRAM READY

Open House Will Be Held At Annual Farmers' Roundup On Friday

Everything is in readiness for the annual "open house" at the Chatham Experiment Station where the annual Farmers' Roundup will be held on Friday, August 6. J. C. Wells, Jr., superintendent of the station, believes farmers and homemakers will find a full day of interesting activity for them.

Starting at 10:00 a. m. (EST) there will be tours of the experimental plots, the garden and the orchard. The poultry and dairy animals will be available for inspection.

Regular station employees, county agricultural agents in the Upper Peninsula and officials from Michigan State college at East Lansing will be available to help explain demonstrations at the station.

At noon the visitors may enjoy their picnic lunches in the shade of the station orchard. Free milk and coffee will be available. Camp Shaw will be open and meals for a limited number of people will be available there.

The speaking program immediately after lunch includes short talks by H. J. Gramlich, general agent for the C. & N. Ry., Chicago; V. R. Gardner, director, Agricultural Experiment Station, Michigan State College; and Dr. C. M. Hardin, associate director. Following the speaking program there will be short demonstrations of the hay chopper and blower, the home-made sprayer for weed killing chemicals, and the home made sprayer for grasshopper bait.

Superintendent Wells points out one new project at the round-up this year, that for forestry. A tree falling and cutting demonstration with a one-man and two-man power saws will be given both in the morning and afternoon. Roy Skog, extension forester, and Bruce Spike will handle the equipment in the same way that has proved popular in demonstrations in the counties.

This farm-made low-volume spray attachment was made at Upper Peninsula Agricultural Experiment Station at Houghton. It will be exhibited at the Farmers' Round-Up on Friday. About 100 men can spray nine acres in less than two hours, using only 250 lbs. of water with this equipment made at a cost of near $75. Michigan State college officials from East Lansing and county agricultural agents in the Upper Peninsula are aiding with the annual field which is expected to bring 1,500 farm people to the Chatham station.
